brought on by excessive taxation?"

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of April 8 - 15

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - Although you dislike taking a back seat, it is the best thing you can do right now - let friends go to bat for you.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - As you begin to talk about your ideas, you'll realize that you haven't thought everything through to a successful conclusion.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - The opposition is strong this week and can stop you in your tracks. They don't know you have plenty of reserve ammunition.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - Educators, lawyers, clergymen can clear up any problems you've been having with your career or reputation. Let them help you.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - It's best not to start anything new this month since plans will not work out the way you expect. Stick to tried and true routine.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - You may find yourself having to go back over the same route but it may give you a chance to make corrections and this time you'll succeed.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - What's happening now may feel a bit familiar since you've been this route before but now your position is improved.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - You can expect some trouble with [or perhaps over] the car this week but friends will come to your rescue.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - If you have thoroughly investigated the possibilities, and are willing to wait for profits, you can go ahead and gamble now.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - The initiative is yours but don't be fooled by circumstances - your usual thoroughness is much needed during this period.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - Your background activities can begin to pay off in a small way now. Expect slow, steady growth of any investments.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - This is the best you've felt in a long time and you can even afford to spend a little money on some social life.

Peas porridge hot, peas porridge cold....
Merrick, New York.

No doubt about it, my vote would go for the hot. Hot food is generally more satisfying than cold. And, if you are a big eater who belongs to the same clean plate club as I, you might elect to pass over the sandwich menu for lunch and elect a hot entree.
I find that when I have a hot lunch, it lasts longer. It takes a longer time until my stomach notifies me of its impending starvation.

Re-education is the key to successful dieting, but acknowledging certain facts of life which can be a boon to the dieter is a big help. Peas porridge in a bowl? I can eat it right out of the pot!

EASTER SUNDAY SERVICES

Churches To Mark Easter With Sunrise, Traditional Services

By RUTH WAINWRIGHT

The first of four early morning Easter services in Quincy will begin at 4:45 a.m. with youth groups of Bethany Congregational Church participating at the eastern end of Long Island.

The service will feature contemporary music by the young people, and a message by Rev. Arthur Curtis, associate minister. The group will return to Bethany Church for refreshments.

Pilgrim Fellowship members of Union Congregational Church in Wollaston and First Church of Squantum will combine with Glad Tidings Church of Quincy for a sunrise service scheduled for 5:15 a.m. on Long Island. Music will be by "The New Trend" from Glad Tidings.

In case of inclement weather, the service will be held in Curley Hall at Long Island Hospital.

The South Shore Evangelical Ministers' Association is sponsoring an Easter Sunrise service at 6:30 a.m. in Faxon Park. Rev. George Douglas of the Granite Church of the Nazarene will conduct the service. The message will be by Rev. Stephen Bradley of First Baptist Church in Braintree. A trumpet trio from Quincy High School will perform. In case of inclement weather, the service will be in Fort Square Presbyterian Church where Rev. Walter Rakston is pastor.

The Pilgrim Fellowship of Houghs Neck Congregational Church will conduct a 7 a.m. worship at Great Hill on Sea Ave., returning to the church for breakfast.

In Catholic churches, traditional Easter masses will be celebrated at the usual Sunday hours.

However, parishioners may fulfill their Easter obligations by attending the Holy Saturday evening service. Holy Saturday's revised ritual is shorter, simpler and clearer, recapitulating all of Lent, Easter and the Church year in a single service.

Services in other Quincy churches:

St. Chrysostom's

Easter Eve at 5 p.m. there will be lighting of the Paschal Candle and a service of Holy Baptism.

Easter Sunday services open with a 7 a.m. Festival of the Holy Eucharist and singing of hymns. Festival of the Holy Eucharist will be at 9 and 11 a.m., conducted by Rev. William D. Underhill, rector, with music by two choirs. There will be a sitter for infants.

Atlantic United Methodist

"What Does the Resurrection Mean to You?" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Robert E. Bosdorff, minister, at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship.

"Jesus Christ is Risen" by Parsonage will be the anthem by the newly formed Children's Choir, directed by Mrs. Bosdorff and Mrs. Donald R. Moulton, organist and choir director.

Chancel Church anthems will be "Lord of the Dance" adapted by Carter, and "Hallelujah!" by Handel.

Church School and Youth Fellowship meetings are omitted.

Most Blessed Sacrament

Good Friday the church will be opened at 9 a.m. with Stations of the cross at 3 p.m. The main liturgical service will be at 7:30 p.m. with Holy Communion distributed. Rev. James P. Hart, pastor, and Rev. Garrett J. Barry will officiate. Confessions will be heard until 5 p.m.

One Mass only at 7:30 p.m. is scheduled for Holy Saturday. Confessions will be heard from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. only.

Easter Masses will follow the usual schedule at 7:30, 9, 10:15 and 11:30 a.m.

My Trip To The Trailside Museum

Today I went to Trailside Museum. I saw a porcupine named Ouch. There was a nine year old screech owl named Hercules and there is a striped skunk and a cottontail rabbit. Near by was a glass cage with a rattle snake inside. And then we went outside. Outside we saw some red foxes. Then we went and saw Charlie the raccoon. We went on and saw some deer. Every winter the antlers fall off. We went to the pool where the otters live. Some people kill the otters and use their skins for coats. Then it was time to go home.

The Castle

Once upon a time there was a man. The man liked to build sand castles. Once the man built a great big castle. And the next day there was a big hurricane. The castle didn't brake. But the mountain did. A big rock came down very fast and it almost hit the man. The man ran very fast and then the rock fell in the water. That was the end of the hurricane. But the man was fine. So he went on building sand castles and the man his wife and children lived happily ever after! The End.

A Tall Tale Of Tides

Why do tides come low, and high? Well, I think that in the Atlantic Ocean it's a tug of war between the eastern and western shores. Each shore pulls at the water. But how come it goes in, and out? After one side has it, they are tired. That means that the shore that had low tide makes it high tide while the other shore is resting. So tides go in fair rotation.

Her Boss: 'An Amazing Ability'

Winifred Jarvelin South Shore Secretary Of The Year

Winifred E. Jarvelin, CPS, of 162 King Philip St., South Weymouth, has been named Secretary of the Year for the Quincy-South Shore Chapter of the National Secretaries Association [International].

Mrs. Jarvelin has been executive secretary to James D. Asher, president and treasurer of Television and Radio Broadcasting Corp., Quincy, and its subsidiaries, which include radio station WJDA.

In endorsing the Chapter's selection, Mrs. Jarvelin's boss said:

"I not only commend the Chapter for their recommendation but also take pleasure in giving my own unequivocal recommendation for an executive secretary who deserves national recognition."

"She not only performs her duties promptly, efficiently, and most cheerfully with punctual, dedicated work habits and perfect neatness and accuracy in her responsibilities, but also has an amazing ability to keep the pending file on schedule."

Prior to going to WJDA, Mrs. Jarvelin was executive secretary and administrative assistant to William J. Martin, Jr. and Harry E. Finley at South Shore National Bank in Quincy. In the past Mrs. Jarvelin worked for Monitor Controller Corp. of Braintree and Sears, Roebuck and Company in Quincy.

She is a Weymouth High School graduate, attended Burdett Business College in Boston, and has taken courses sponsored by the South Shore Chapter of The National Secretaries Association [International] and the South Shore National Bank.

Mrs. Jarvelin was a charter member and charter president

Mrs. Winifred Jarvelin of the South Shore Chapter NSA from January, 1955 through June, 1956.

Following a period of inactivity, she was reinstated as a Chapter member in May, 1969. She has participated on the Chapter and Division levels as member and chairman of many important committees.

Mrs. Jarvelin sat for the Certified Professional Secretaries examination sponsored by the NSA and passed the extremely difficult examination on her first attempt. The two-day six-part examination consists of Human Relations, Secretarial Skills, Secretarial Procedures, Business Administration, Business Law and Accounting.

An active NSA member, Mrs. Jarvelin has spoken before the Andover Institute of Business, Future Business Leaders, Quincy Rotary Club, Taunton Rotary Club and Quincy Kiwanis Club.

She assisted in the formation of NSA Chapters in Plymouth and in Dedham, and has contributed hours of typing for Chapter civic affairs projects.

On April 13 at Walsh's Restaurant, North Quincy, Mrs. Jarvelin will be honored at a dinner by the South Shore Chapter NSA.

On April 24 as the South

Shore Chapter's candidate, Mrs. Jarvelin will take part in the contest for Secretary of the Year sponsored by the Massachusetts-Maine-New Hampshire-Vermont Division. This consists of an oral examination before three judges. The successful Division candidate will become candidate for the Northeast District.

While Mrs. Jarvelin will be honored by the South Shore Chapter NSA, April 13, ALL secretaries will be honored during Secretaries Week, April 18 to 24, a week established by the National Association.

Interested secretaries may contact Miss Eleanor Fusoni, CPS, President of the South Shore Chapter, at 42 Washington St., Milton, or Miss Grace L. Giunchiglia of 83 Edinboro Rd., Quincy, membership chairman.

Chamber Asks Business To Back 'Walk For Development'

The Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce through Bernard C. Moore, executive secretary, today announced its support of the May 9 Quincy Walk for Development.

All business people in Quincy are being urged by the Chamber to consider some support of the Walk, preferably by pledging funds as sponsors of one or more of the young Walkers.

Goal for this year's Walk is $50,000.

Last year some $11,000 of the $26,000 realized, or 42.5% was distributed in Quincy. Of the $11,000, some $9,700 went to a pre-school kindergarten in South-West Quincy at Trinity Lutheran Church attended by 28 three and four-year old children and headed by Mrs. Gail Kimmell.

Approximately $1,948 went to the Head-Start Program under Dave Ezickson, attended during the summer by some 220 children, with parents participating in Friday activities.

This year interested Quincy citizens as well as heads of agencies are being asked to suggest where the money earmarked for local use may be used to best advantage. Suggestions may be given to Claire Powers, a Quincy High School junior, who is one of the four coordinators of the May 9 Walk.

Other coordinators are Gerald Swalnick, a Quincy High School Senior; Jeanne Gillis, North Quincy High Senior, and Joyce Randall, North Quincy High Junior.

Last year funds from the Walk were also used for improvements in Liberia and Togo, sponsored by the Unitarian-Universalist Service

Headquarters for the Walk for Development is at 5 Booth St., South Quincy. Telephone numbers there are 472-4496 and 472-4497.

This year a changed system of collecting funds after the Walk is expected to increase the amount realized. One person in each school where students participate will be named treasurer, and will collect the funds to be turned over to the central treasurer.

Louis C. Arienti Seeks School Committee Seat

Louis C. Arienti of 22 Barry St., West Quincy, today announced his candidacy for the School Committee.

A resident of Quincy for 26 years, he is an educator, a graduate of Providence College, where he received his Bachelors Degree, and of Boston State College, where he received his Masters Degree in education.

Arienti is a Guidance Counselor in the Brockton School system, and has been actively involved in educational negotiations in that city.

He is a member of the National Educational Association, the Massachusetts Teachers Association, the Brockton Educational Association, Plymouth County Educational Association, Massachusetts School Counselors

Association, the Greater Boston Guidance Association, the St. Moritz Improvement Association of West Quincy and the Quincy Lodge of Elks. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of Bay State Water Proofing Inc. of Quincy.

Arienti said he has decided to become a candidate because he feels "that an open and lengthy discussion of the issues is vitally important to the taxpayers of our city."

David Bergman President S.S. Debate League

David R. Bergman, English teacher and debating team coach at North Quincy High School has been elected president of the South Shore Debate League for

He said he favors the City Council's position on the hot lunch program for elementary schools, and feels that the over crowded conditions at North Quincy High School must receive top priority by the School Committee.

He also believes that the new Vocational School could be and should be utilized to a greater extent than it has been, by both the student body and the community at large.

this school year.

The South Shore Debate League is comprised of teams from the towns of Cohasset, Hingham, Sharon, Whitman, Hanson, Kingston, Halifax, Weymouth, Braintree, Quincy and Stoughton.

Fathers, Mothers Speak Out On Lunch Issue

School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon has received a letter from a group of parents in Germantown regarding their stand on the school lunch program.

It reads: "We, the fathers and mothers of Germantown, wish to advise you of our position relative to the Snug Harbor Pilot Lunch Program. Our basic reason for contacting you at this time is that we feel that we, the less vocal majority, have not been properly heard with all the confusion over the Lunch Program.

"The basic organization of the elementary school system has been for years that of a two-session day. If, due to extenuating circumstances, it becomes necessary for a few individuals to send their children for a one-day session, this should be the exception rather than the rule.

"It is not our intention to completely rule-out the whole idea of school lunches since there may be individual cases where they are justifiable. But there is no substitute, in our minds, for the warmth of a mother's love, home and attention to bolster their spirits in the middle of, what seems to the children, a long day.

"It is our understanding, that laws are made according to the will of the majority of the people served. Any law or statute that does not fulfill this obligation is, indeed, wrong and should be repealed. It has become apparent through the news media that the School Lunch and Breakfast Laws passed by the Legislature, fell within this category. This mandatory law is not just.

"The feeding and caring for our less fortunate has long been and should be primarily a social service rather than an educational problem. There is no doubt that a hungry child will have difficulty learning. The remedy for this responsibility rests primarily on the parents or guardians of the children effected, with support from social agencies where necessary. To change a neighborhood school by adding lunch-room facilities would not obviate the problem.

"When parents who desire their children to return home for lunch, as well as, qualified educators of elementary school children, voice their opinion in opposition to a program such as this, we would question the need, advisability and the basic reasoning behind the whole lunch program as it is set up now.

"It is our understanding and belief that there are no children suffering from malnutrition attending Snug Harbor School. Perhaps, what is needed is a medical evaluation of the children to ascertain once and for all, if there is a basic need for this program. Why hasn't a study of this nature been made?

Should this survey prove a genuine need, some sort of a reasonable approach to the problem could be worked out on a city-wide basis involving both social and educational agencies.

"We hope the learned members of the School Committee of the City of Quincy, do realize that they are the representatives of all of the people of Quincy. We ask that you listen to our voices as you have to those of the more vocal minority and perform the function of your office in accordance with the wishes of the majority of the citizens of Quincy.

"We firmly believe that harmony within all the governing bodies of the City of Quincy should exist at all times. Therefore, we trust that the honorable members of the School Committee and the City Council will get together and arrive at a just solution to the problem at hand.

The letter is signed by Mary E. Duress, Secretary to the "Fathers and Mothers Committee of Greater Germantown".

Traffic Supervisor Sought

Request for study of the need for a school traffic supervisor at the intersection of Granite, Kidder and Gordon Streets was referred to the traffic commission by the Quincy City Council at Monday's meeting.

Councillor John F. Koegler, in introducing the resolve, cited a letter from Morrie Hibbard, principal of the John Hancock School representing the Hancock Mothers' Club.

"School patrols are on duty at this intersection but the parents and I feel it is a responsibility better handled by a traffic supervisor," Hibbard wrote.

"We are initiating this letter now as a preventive procedure. Hopefully a traffic supervisor will be placed at this dangerous intersection before an accident causes injury or worse to a pupil of the school."

MEDICAL COST OF AIR POLLUTION

A 50% reduction in air pollution in major urban areas would produce, in terms of decreased illness and death, an annual saving of 2,080 million dollars, according to an ambitious study by medical researchers at Carnegie-Mellon University. Hundreds of medical studies were examined to arrive at the relation between air pollution and disease.

There is a "quantitative association between air pollution and the rate of disease and death in bronchitis, pneumonia and lung cancer", reports the study. It is estimated that 25% of these diseases could be avoided by halving air pollution.

Because there is "suggestive" evidence connecting deaths from all types of cancer and cardiovascular disease with air pollution, 15 and 10% savings respectively in these areas were assumed. Costs were estimated on the basis of direct medical expenses and loss of earnings due to illness and premature death.

Money is meaningless without good health. Donald H. Strong To Be Honored

Donald H. Strong, executive director of the Quincy Council on Aging, will be honored today [Thursday] at a "send-off" party at the Hollow at 1 p.m.

Strong, director of the Council for the past 17 months, is leaving to accept the position of coordinator of the Offices of Services to the Elderly in the state Department of Community Affairs.

Strong, 53, a 1930 graduate of Eastern Nazarene College with a degree in religion and philosophy, served as full-time pastor in a number of New England churches for 28 years. He worked at Columbia Point for a year before accepting his Quincy position.

The party on Thursday is being arranged by the Federation of Senior Citizens and the Council on Aging with Mrs. Mary MacLean and Mrs. Rebecca Wolf in charge of arrangements.

'It's Little Things That Count'

As I stood in the Garden of Gethsemane...some of the old olive trees, the guide said, were over 2,000 years old. They were gnarled...knotted and twisted and I wondered if it was under this one...or that one that Jesus knelt on that night before his execution.

Of all the sights in old Jerusalem none are more authentic than the Mount of Olives. The simplicity...quietness...away from the gaudiness and bizarre atmosphere of the city enables one to see why Jesus would "go yonder to pray." On the airplane into Jerusalem from Bierut I said to a lady seated across from me..."Why are you going to Jerusalem?" Her big brown eyes became misty as she replied..."I'm going to walk in the steps of Jesus." I didn't feel that in the city...I did in Gethsemane.

The little prayers that Jesus prayed in the Garden seem very real to me..."Father, let this cup pass from me." The burden weighed so heavily upon Jesus' heart that night...of betrayal...human suffering...injustice...oppression. That's what happens to one who cares...one who loves...the "cup" of love isn't always easy and pleasant. I think of the many overflowing "cups" of people I see from week to week...people hurt by marriage conflict...by a son or daughter who has rejected the home...people who have recently lost jobs...people weighed down with fears and guilt. I pray with them and for them..."Father let this cup pass...if it be possible."

The little Garden there reminded me of the passing of time...and how the little pleasures of life may be so easily missed. I see men daily who are weighed down with the responsibilities of profession and business...successful and contributing to society. But with unhappy wives at home...because as one wife said..."There is nothing of him left over for me." How quickly our children are grown and gone. The little yard games...the little conversations...the little fun times at the hamburger stand...will all be over so soon. Enjoy them now...it's later than you think. "I just can't talk with my 16-year-old son"...a father says. Probably not...unless he started talking with him when he was two...or three...when he was a little boy...interested in plastic boats...and tinkler toys...and teeter totters...and learning ways to love.

The little pleasure of a man and his wife walking into their own yard together...spying the little buds on the trees...pointing with excitement at signs of tulips they planted last Fall...discussing what they will do this Spring to beautify their grounds...such little things are what makes for great companionship. "It's the little things that count."

The little Garden with the old olive trees reminded me of the stability of life...the regular coming of springtime...the constancy of the seasons...nature's intention for steady growth...development...fulfillment of persons. These are real things we can count on...they never fail. Our role is to feel the constancy of the upward tug of life with all its possibilities. There's a stable...steady flow of life. If we resist...fight against the forward movement within ourselves the result will probably be depression and fatigue. If we join the steady flow of life we grow more stable...believe in ourselves...seek self-improvement...feel surges of new life...know the "tug" of life's fulfillment. Perhaps more than we fully accept...we are "masters of our fates...captains of our souls."

"It's the little things that count."

I've given up that the world can be saved by the wars of the militarists...or by the building of the SST...or the anti-ballistic missile screen. But I haven't given up on each individual person who can feel power in his/her own heart in little prayers...little pleasures...little tugs of life...when they flow with the forward movement of divine intention.

Presidents Green But Could Click

A year ago Coach Bob Basiliere led his Quincy baseball team into the Eastern Mass. Tourney for the third time in four years.

This year Bob has little experience, many question marks and he says, "we are building character."

However, don't count the Presidents out because Basiliere has done a lot with very little experience in past years.

Quincy opens April 12th and Basiliere has only one veteran pitcher on the squad.

Last spring Bob didn't know what to expect with all his starting pitchers of the previous year graduated.

But Paul Whelton came along to become one of the top pitchers in the Greater Boston League and sophomore Jimmy Walker, a southpaw, turned out to be probably the best relief pitcher in the league.

Whelton is not playing this year, leaving Walker as the sole returnee.

"Jimmy did a remarkable job in relief last year and also did well in a few starting assignments," Basiliere said. "He'll be a regular starter this year and I expect big things from him."

Quincy does have one other experienced pitcher but he didn't play last year. Steve Sullivan, another lefty, excelled two years ago as a sophomore but did not play baseball last spring. He played with Morrisette Legion last summer and he could be a valuable addition this season. A good batter, he will play in the outfield when not pitching.

The only other veterans returning with Walker are first baseman Bill Maver, second baseman Russ McDonald and shortstop Pete Lucier, all consistent performers who will give the Presidents three-quarters of a good infield.

Bob Sacchetti has seen service as a catcher and Bob Driscoll, Joe Sterling and Bob Brill are promising pitchers.

Basiliere will be depending upon several graduates of Bud Mosher's junior varsity including Dennis Marvelle, Bobby Malvesti, Dave Drew, Ed Panaschi, Connie Driscoll, Dan Spencer and Bob French.

"We have good potential but it will take a few scrimmages before I'll know where we stand," the veteran coach added.

Basiliere is disappointed in the lack of interest shown by the boys in baseball. He had 45 report for the squad, far less than North Quincy.

"I don't blame the boys too much as the baseball team gets no recognition," Bob said. "We made the tourney three of the past four years but no notice was made of it. Football and basketball have their 'booster clubs" and there should be one for baseball. Actually, we are the 'poor relations' when it comes to getting any recognition."

Mosher will continue to coach the jayvees, with whom he has done a fine job.

A year ago Quincy finished in second place in the Greater Boston League with a 10-4 record and was 11-4 overall. The Presidents' usually strong defense collapsed in the opening round of the tourney and they lost to Boston College High, 6-4.

Pitching Big Question Mark For Raiders

When North Quincy's baseball team opens its season April 19 at Chelsea, Coach Charlie Bunker will have a good nucleus of veterans but feels his pitching again is a big question mark.

"A lot depends upon our pitching," Bunker said. "Last year we had an experienced pitcher in Craig Bogosian who had starred as a junior but failed to win a game as a senior. Before him we had Gary McGrath, a successful pitcher who now is in pro ball but he, too, failed to win a game as a senior."

"Scott Manson is our number one pitcher who did a fine job for us last year. If he doesn't have the same senior problems of the other two, we should do all right."

"Dave Murphy, who also pitched some fine ball for us last year, is the number two man and I am banking on him for some wins."

Behind that pair of veterans, the North skipper has Peter Joyce, Bob McKay and Bob Torino, up from Jack Bowes' junior varsity team, and sophomore Bob Hirtle. All the Raider hurlers are right-handers.

Bunker has several capable catchers, headed by veterans Tony Kelly and Dave Nelson, and he expects big things from Bob Morton. Paul Cunniff also looks good.

Jim Driscoll, who started over the last half of last season, has the inside track on first base but is being pushed by Mike Conroy, a sophomore, and Dan Zink, who will start in the outfield when he doesn't play first.

At second base, starter Tim Flynn is back and is battling Joe Marini and Kevin Jago to hold his job.

Tony Alibandi has returned to his shortstop job and Rich Bion is giving him a fight for the position.

Another starter, Jack Flaherty, is back at third base and a newcomer, Reggie Sondifer, is also trying for the spot.

Zink, Bob Graham and Tom Burke are all experienced outfielders. Ed Monahan played jayvee ball and saw some varsity service, while Jim Sarruda, John Alberti and Richie Carroll are up from the jayvees.

"We had a fine turnout of 70 but it was proven the past couple of years that quantity isn't everything," Bunker said. "We had only a 6-8 Greater Boston League record last year but won four out of five non-league games for an overall 10-9 mark."

Speaking of his pitching, Charlie said "We have four or five boys with good potential but they must prove themselves. All could have good seasons but our pitching disappointed me the past two years and I just hope some of them will come through with big years."

Bunker sees Flynn, Flaherty, Zink, Driscoll and Sarruda as the key batters, but admits all the starters can hit.

Registrations Open For Marathon

Registrations are now being accepted for the April 19 Patriots' Day marathon sponsored annually by the Houghs Neck Legion Post.

This year for the first time, sprinters' age requirements have been lowered to a minimum 18 years. Cash prizes will be awarded, and there will be a steamed clam feed at the Post Home for all entrants at the close of the race.

Entrants to be eligible must live in the area from Post Island Rd. to the end of Houghs Neck. They may sign up at the Post Home, 1116 Sea St., at any time up to the opening of the marathon April 19 at 2 p.m. Marathon route will be announced at that time.

Ray LaRue and Past Commander Paul McKeon are chairmen for the meet, assisted by Commander Ernest Fitzgibbon.

With Pete Varney It's Education First, Baseball Second

Pete Varney of North Quincy was one of the outstanding schoolboy catchers in New England.

After graduating from North Quincy High school, Varney was given close scrutiny by several major league scouts and passed up a number of bonus offers.

One night he tried out for the then Kansas City Athletics at Fenway Park and played a tattoo on the left field wall. Scout Billy Enos of Cohasset offered Pete a huge bonus but he refused, saying he wanted to complete his college education at Harvard.

Varney, now a senior, is the starting catcher for Harvard this spring. During the past few years he has been drafted five times by major league teams but stuck to his intention of completing his Harvard education.

"I feel Pete is the best catcher I've ever coached at Harvard and is one of the top catchers in the country," said Harvard Coach Loyal Park. "He is not just a big guy who sits behind the plate, he has developed into the complete catcher."

"He has learned how to handle pitchers and attack hitters. We expect him to get a lot out of our pitchers this season."

Strangely enough, this will be the first year the big senior has started the season at his regular position.

As a sophomore Varney, because of his speed and adaptability, played in right field and at first base. Last spring he played first most of the year, then caught in several games near the end of the season.

"We always felt Pete was our best catcher but we also felt that we were stronger with him at first," Park added. "We needed his bat in the lineup but we also needed the other catcher's bat as well. Pete was the more versatile so we moved him."

While in high school Pete starred for the Hearst Sandlot team which attracted many big league scouts.

Last year the 6-3, 240-pounder made the College Baseball All-America team as first baseman, proving his versatility. "This was the team picked by the pro scouts and is the team that really means something," Park pointed out.

He had one of the finest seasons in Harvard's history, which goes almost back to the Civil War.

He set new records for the most runs batted in a game with nine against Washington and Lee, runs batted in for a season, 37; home runs in a season, 10; extra base hits in a season, with six doubles, one triple and 10 home runs. He has a career batting average of .376, hitting .375 last spring in sparking the Crimson to a 24-7 record.

"Pete is probably in the finest shape I've seen him," the Harvard coach said. "He always works hard and is always in good shape, but this year he's been working particularly hard and I expect another great year from him."

Maver, Baker Making Plans For College

Two outstanding Quincy and North Quincy High three-sport stars have just about decided on their colleges.

Bill Maver, of Quincy, an all-scholastic end in football, an excellent basketball player and veteran first baseman in baseball, plans to go to the U. of Connecticut with a number of other Quincy area athletes.

Ken Baker of North Quincy, a fine end in football, co-captain of basketball and an outstanding dashman and weightman in track, will enter Curry College in Milton. It is reported other Raiders are also interested in Curry.

Not every woman celebrates her 80th birthday in a bowling alley.

But Mrs. William Mitchell of 3 Clement Terrace, North Quincy, found a surprise birthday cake ready for her when she showed up at Wollaston Boulevard Bowladrome for her regular Monday morning competition with the Marstonites Bowling League.

Mrs. Mitchell ["May", to the girls] has missed only one Monday during her five years with the Marstonites of First Baptist Church of Wollaston, a four-team league with members from 39 to 80 years old.

She has an average of 81, and while she found the surprise party "very exciting", she was right on target in her first string on Monday - bowled 81!

"I'm so thrilled to pieces I could sit down and cry," she commented. "It was a wonderful thing to do and I'm very happy about it."

Mrs. Mitchell has a number of other things to be happy about, too - a husband, two sons, one daughter, 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

They all think she's quite a gal.

Pike Sparkles In All-Star Game

Bob Pike, captain of the Quincy High basketball team during the past season, played outstanding defense for the Massachusetts all-star team which placed third in last weekend's Capitol District Tourney in Albany, N.Y.

The Mass. team turned in an excellent first round performance but bowed to tourney champ New York State, 111-105, then walloped Rhode Island, 99-76, in the consolation game. The big New Yorkers romped over Connecticut, 107-87, in the title game.

"Bobby played tremendous defense and rebounded well in both games," said Quincy Coach Marty Finnegan, who attended the two-day tourney. "He didn't get the ball much as it was pretty much of a guard-controlled offense. But he and another Greater Boston League star, Billy Noel of Revere, looked very good."

"I feel the Massachusetts team was the best in the tourney and with just a couple of breaks, could have won. I told Jack Lehané [Brookton coach] that he did a wonderful job with the team, considering the few practices it had."

Conroy Attends Football Clinic

Quincy Football Coach Hank Conroy recently attended the 24th annual National Football Clinic at Convention Hall, Atlantic City, N.J.

More than 1,200 coaches were at the three-day event including Ed Beck of Braintree, Dick McPherson of Weymouth North, Bob Teahan of Whitman-Hanson and Jim Cotter of Boston College High.

As usual, an outstanding group of college coaches were on the clinic staff and Conroy was especially impressed with John McKay of Southern California.

"He was tremendous," Hank said. "He really knows how to put over his points."

"I feel if I can learn something from this clinic that I can put across to my high school players, it makes it all worth while, and I believe I did learn some important things from the outstanding coaches."

In addition to McKay, other clinicians were Woody Hayes of Ohio State, Ed Andros of Oregon State, Bob Devaney of U. of Nebraska, Lou McCullough of Ohio State and Vince Gibson of Kansas State.

Also, Frank Kush of Arizona State, Joe Paterno of Penn State, Bob Blackman, long-time Dartmouth coach now at the U. of Illinois, who had several of his players with him, and Paul Uram of Butler, Pa., high school, the only high school coach on the staff.

Leone Puts Accent On Participation

Quincy Expanding Intramural Sports

Since Carl Leone took over as Coordinator of Athletics for the Quincy schools, he has moved rapidly to expand the intramural and interscholastic sports program in the many schools.

Instead of concentrating on the so-called major sports, Carl is trying to see that more boys and girls take part in athletics.

In the past two years interscholastic sports for girls of Quincy and North Quincy High Schools were finally introduced. At present the girls of both schools have interscholastic basketball, softball, tennis and gymnastics.

Girls intramural field hockey will begin next fall and Quincy High will have intramural track and field for girls this spring.

"We have found there is real interest in track and field by the girls," Leone explained. "We are going to keep it on an intramural level this year and then see what we can do in other years, both at Quincy and North. The interest shown by the girls has been fantastic."

Girl's track has grown steadily and now is a part of the interscholastic schedules of many high schools and junior high schools in other parts of Massachusetts.

Last spring several girls formed a team at Central Junior High in Quincy.

Wrestling is now run on an intramural basis in the high schools and next year there will be junior varsity soccer at Quincy and North.

"Next year the boys' gymnastics at Quincy High will be held on an interscholastic level and we hope to go interscholastic in wrestling in the near future. Wrestling is a winter sport in numerous high schools now. Right now we are happy with the intramural program."

Peter Gallagher, a teacher at Quincy High School has been appointed as gymnastics coach, but found little interest among the boys.

"We definitely must hike interest among the boys," Peter said. "North Quincy has had a strong gym team for several years and I would like to get a varsity team at Quincy and probably join the Suburban League, to which North belongs. But we have a long way to go."

Gallagher, incidentally, is active in soccer. He conducts a successful soccer program at Snug Harbor, manages and plays for the Quincy Rangers in the summer and has worked with Quincy Coach Ron Martin in conducting soccer schools.

"The newly instituted programs have been well received and more are in the offing," Leone went on. "When we start something new we try to start with the junior high schools or high schools and use that as a pilot program. Then, if the pilot program works out, we broaden it to include more schools."

"We feel that most of the so-called major sports have stood the test of time and would like to make inroads, interscholastically, with the so-called minor sports such as gymnastics and wrestling and other lifelong sports as golf and volleyball on an intramural level."

"We have made the biggest strides in girls' sports because there were greater strides to be made there, but we hope to broaden the scope of our athletic program even more in the future."

Quincy Has Good Chance To Win Munroe MacLean Trophy

Quincy High has an excellent chance to win the annual Greater Boston League all-sports trophy [Munroe MacLean Trophy] this year.

Going into the spring season, the Presidents lead in the trophy race with 28 points, five points ahead of Malden, Medford has 21, Revere 19½ and North Quincy 17½.

Points are given in relation to the number of teams competing in a given sport: For instance, with eight members, eight points are given for first place, seven for second place, etc.

Quincy picked up 16 points with first places in football and hockey and additional points for basketball and cross country put it in front.

The Presidents are among the top favorites for the spring track title and, despite a lack of veterans, the baseball team is expected to finish well up in the standings. It appears they are in a fine position to win the trophy won a year ago by Malden and Medford, each with 34 points. Quincy was fourth with 31 and North Quincy fifth with 28.

North Quincy, although it can't win the trophy, should add plenty of points in spring track and baseball. Both teams are loaded with veterans and should do well.

Sweeney's, UCT Pace Youth Hockey

In Quincy Youth Hockey Sweeney's has the Bantam lead, with a 9-4-6 record, after edging Farina's 9-3-7 standing.

In the Pee Wees, United Commercial Travelers continues to set a red hot pace with 16 wins and only one loss.

Sweeney defeated Cox 4-1 in the recent skirmish. Goals were by Dennis Lynch from Pete Raymer, Rob Henderson from John Ryan, John Ryan from Mike Norton, and Pete Reymer from Rob Henderson and John Ryan. Scoring for Cox was Billy Speranzo.

Davis defeated Farina's 7-30. Scoring for Davis were Frankie Guest from Paul Jackmauh and Bobbie Morse, Joe Butts from Doug King and Bobbie Morse, Frankie Guest from Ed MacDonald and Mike McAuley, Mike Hornbrook from Al Lancione, Mike Hornbrook from Doug King and Joe Butts, Frankie Guest (hat trick), and Rick Avery. Farina's goals were by Mark Hurley, Paul Cattaneo and Paul O'Donnell, all unassisted.

In the PeeWees, Morrisette defeated Wollaston 5-3. Goals for Morrisette were by John Yaxter, two; Joe McConville, Dan Higgins and John Fair. Assists were by Joe McConville, Paul Radzik, John Fair, Dan Higgins, Mark Kelly and Brian Watts. Goals for Wollaston were by Bill Doherty, Rich Dorney and Rich Meehan, with assists by John Kelly, Gary Kearney and Paul McGrath.

Maguire's defeated Crestview 3-1. Mike Pitts scored for Maguire, and Rich Troy sank two goals, with Sean Dennis credited with an assist. David Hurley scored for Crestview.

UCT blanked Hannon 3-0. Goals were by Mark Rooney, Paul Messina and Brian Jolley. Credited with assists were Bob Hayes, Brian Norton, John Norton, Rick Carnali and Rick Smith.

Sinatra Will Be Back

Honors continue coming author ERICH SEGAL's illustrious way. He has been chosen to preside on this years grand jury of the CANNES FILM FESTIVAL. This recognition never before given an American novelist or screenwriter... After much contract haggling GLENDA JACKSON has agreed to star in "ISABELLA OF SPAIN" for producer SAMUEL BRONSTON. The film is slated for a summer shooting in Spain, natch... How come the re-release of "LAWRENCE OF ARABIA" is being hailed as DAVID LEAN's most fascinating work? For the curious, LEAN produced the picture in conjunction with SAM SPIEGEL, who, rarely if ever, gets any recognition...

Don't place any money on FRANK SINATRA staying permanently retired. ALA SINATRA's ego is too swelled to go long without public adulation. Going a step further, I would have to say that his "announcement" was a publicity gimmick to create interest in a planned "comeback" two years hence... In case you've forgotten, his last turn before the cameras, "DIRTY DINGUS MAGEE", was a colossal flop. By retiring, SINATRA places himself out of the embarrassing situation of not being offered a worthwhile script. In two years both the public and producers will have forgotten his "MAGEE" debacle, at which time he will make his comeback amongst reams of publicity and clicking cameras... Nice going FRANK! You didn't fool us for a minute...

New York University continues to be an educational pacesetter in entertainment technology. Next fall it's School of the Arts will offer a course in circus techniques... And while on the subject of the Circus, MAUDIE LOU [FLIP] FLIPPIN is the only female Clown in the business today... EDDIE FISHER is digging around for a good movie script in the hope a solid film under his belt will re-launch his "hit-bottomed" career... GLENN FORD and producer JOE E. LEVINE have come to terms and will soon start shooting the period western "DEATH WATCH"... Going back a few years, film censors in Stockholm [Sweden] put the axe to a DONALD DUCK cartoon because of its violence. Today the same board allowed the violent excess "SOLDIER BLUE" in the country without nary a cut...

QUOTE, UNQUOTE: Actress SARAH MILES espousing the virtues of the Academy Awards: "The American Oscar is the only acting award that carries any weight"... I wonder if she let GEORGE C. SCOTT in on that little tidbit of info?... Remember PAMELA TIFFIN? She is now in Denmark filming an Italian comedy... BARBARA PARKINS was a last minute cast addition to "HOUSE UNDER THE TREES" now lensing in Paris... CAROL WHITE picks up where she left off two years ago with work on "SOMETHING BIG". When she first hit the international scene, the British actress was given a "can't miss" tag. Since then she hasn't hit the bullseye. Maybe the DEAN MARTIN starrer will vault Miss WHITE's career back in orbit... JERRY LEWIS makes a rare cameo appearance in ROBERT BENOYOUN's surrealistic "PARIS DOES NOT EXIST". And, oh yes, in France Mssr. LEWIS is recognized as a prestige comic...

"DAKTARI" fans may be interested in knowing that the American television series is the first made in the U.S.A. production now showing on Russian television... A tip of the hat to MIKE DOUGLAS for continued excellence on his afternoon syndicated Talk Show. And wouldn't he make a digestible MERV GRIFFIN replacement?... And an even bigger tip of the hat to CBS-TV for cancelling old corn on the cob, LAWRENCE WELK... With the elimination of WELK, CBS-TV could be well on the way to viewing respectability... "GET CARTER" will attract only MICHAEL CAINE fans, as the film is a repulsive exhibition of violence at its most tasteless...

"SKI BUM" could have been an enjoyable motion picture if ZALMAN KING were not its featured actor. As an actor that boy just cries over every line, and that can get to you in a stuffy movie house... ROBERTY RYAN does a creditable job in the action-western "LAWMAN"... Filmways is close to annexing National General Pictures as a distribution division... WILL GEER is remarkably adept in the role of a Dixie medic in the SIDNEY POITIER starrer, "BROTHER JOHN". Too bad POITIER doesn't handle his assignment quite as well. Character actor GEER overshadows him when they appear in the same scenes... "Making It" doesn't artistically, and surely will not at the box office. The picture was made prior to the advent of "LOVE STORY", and is sure to offend those who have a higher regard for love, than mere boy-meets-girl bed jumping...

Whatever became of screenwriter STEWART STERN? In 1962 his "THE OUTSIDER" was one of the ten best film scripts of the year. Too bad Hollywood allows its' budding giants to drift into oblivion... DEREK SANDERSON's Saturday niter would make for better viewing if its' egotistical host was not so wrapped up with himself... LAURENCE HARVEY has wrapped up Panama filming of "WE THE PEOPLE"... Some picture titles speak for their X-rated selves. Case in point, "ADULTERY FOR FUN AND PROFIT"...

Drawings, specifications and contract documents are available to bidder at the said office of the Norfolk County Commissioners, Court House, Dedham, Massachusetts, on or after March 29, 1971, upon deposit of a regular check payable to the County of Norfolk in the amount of twenty-five ($25.00) dollars per set. Deposits will be held in escrow and returned to bidders upon the return of the bidding documents in good condition within ten (10) days after the receipt of the bids.

The drawings, specifications and contract documents may be seen without charge at the office of the Norfolk County Commissioners, Court House, Dedham, Massachusetts.

Every bid shall be accompanied by a certified check or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by a responsible bank or trust company in the amount of Twenty-Five Hundred ($2,500.00) dollars payable to the County of Norfolk.

No deposits shall be returned in accordance with the same terms as are enumerated in General Laws, Chapter 149, Section 44B.

Attention is called to the fact that minimum wages are established for the project and are contained in the Contract Documents. The attention of all bidders is directed to General Laws Chapter 149, as amended.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays excluded, after the date set for the opening of the bids. The Norfolk County Commissioners reserve the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all bids if it be in the public interest to do so.

A Performance Bond, by a company authorized to do business in Massachusetts and satisfactory to the Norfolk County Commissioners, in the amount of 100% of the contract price will be required of the successful bidder. Said bond shall be in accordance with General Laws, Chapter 149, Section 29 as amended.

All bids must be clearly marked on the outside "Bid for Construction and Completion of Additional Parking Area, Rear of Norfolk County Registry of Deeds".

Six Ward, Two At-Large?

May 10 Hearing On Proposed 8-Member School Committee

A public hearing to determine civic interest in having school committee members elected by wards will be held May 10 at 8 p.m. in the City Council Chambers.

City Council President Arthur H. Tobin set the date at Monday's City Council meeting following introduction of an order by Ward 2 Councillor Clifford H. Marshall.

Marshall is seeking an amendment to the Constitution providing that members of the school committee be elected by wards in the same manner as ward councillors in Quincy, with two members to be elected at large, making an eight-member total.

This act would be subject to acceptance by the voters of Quincy.

A previously introduced order by Marshall called for only six members to be elected by wards. The two at-large members were added to provide a committee of eight, with the Mayor making a ninth member.

Both Council President Tobin and Councillor George B. McDonald said they favored the earlier order by Marshall calling for six school committee members.

At the suggestion of Councillor John J. Quinn, the public hearing was scheduled.

The League of Women Voters, PTA's and civic groups throughout the City will be urged to voice their opinions on the "drastic change of policy," Quinn declared.

Council To Determine If Third Pathologist Necessary

The Quincy City Council's Oversight Committee will confer with Quincy City Hospital officials Saturday at 9 a.m. to learn if a third pathologist is essential.

The question was raised at Monday's Council meeting when a transfer of $35,775 was requested to re-establish the positions of associate pathologist and assistant pathologist.

Refusal of one pathologist to consent to a contract was cited by City Auditor Alexander Smith as a reason for the request.

Councillor Edward Graham

heads the Oversight Committee, with Councillor Clifford Marshall as vice-chairman. Other Councillors visiting the Hospital will be George B. McDonald, J. Vincent Smyth, Walter Hannon, John Quinn and Albert Barilaro, along with City Solicitor Harry Pavan.

Quincy Man Appointed N.H. Police Chief

A 32-year old West Quincy man will become police chief in Hancock, N.H. April 12.

Bruce E. Skinner of 144 Connell St., a patrolman with the Milton Police Department the past eight years, said he is looking forward to his new job as "a wonderful career opportunity".

Hancock, located in the southwestern part of New Hampshire, has a year-round population of 1,000 and double that during the summer.

Skinner will be heading up a four-man police department in a 36-square mile community.

A former Milton resident, Skinner attended schools there and is now studying law enforcement at Northeastern University Saturdays seeking a degree.

He worked four years as a Norfolk County Superior Court officer.

He is married to the former Ginny Blacklock of Quincy. The couple have two children, Robert, 6, and Bonnie, 4.

Friends and associates honored Mr. and Mrs. Skinner at a recent testimonial dinner at Dutton's, Quincy.

Among those attending were Rep.-City Councillor Walter J. Hannon and members of the Milton, Randolph, Walpole, Medway police departments, and Norfolk Superior Court Officers.

The dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelley of Milton and Mr. and Mrs. John Smyth of Randolph.

Pubs, Nightlife, People Make 'Yank' Hate To Leave Ireland

[Editor's Note: Frances Vaughn of 64 Conant Rd., North Quincy, serving as a Quincy Sun correspondent, reports today from Edinburgh, Scotland.]

By FRANCES VAUGHN
Quincy Sun Correspondent

DUBLIN - Renowned for Irish coffee, sweepstake tickets and its 40 shades of green, Ireland is the ideal country for the exhausted traveller to visit.

Dublin, the country's capital, has a complete line of tourist attractions such as Trinity College, the National Library and Phoenix Park, but the tourist is not rushed through them at record-setting paces while listening to the rapidly-fired monologue of a guide.

Nightlife is far from dull even though there are no nightclubs. Many pubs have an adjoining restaurant; and when the pub closes at 11, the crowd flows into the restaurant to enjoy food and more drink, and to listen to the songs and music of an Irish balladeer.

Breath-taking adventures occur at O'Donoghue's, which is strictly a pub. Providing there's enough arm room to move a bow, Irish fiddlers play until closing time. If there is a waitress, she's disguised as a cloud of smoke or has been stamped to death by an Irish jigger. From all appearances, the requirements for drinking are the ability to hold a glass and to be able to reach the bar to pay for it.

Tourists who want to see Ireland's other highlights can take bus tours leaving from Dublin which go all over southern Ireland, or they can rent a car. Daily rates begin at $7.50 and many car agencies do not have a mileage charge.

The American driver will encounter problems on Ireland's uncluttered country roads. Since the steering wheel is on the right-hand side of the car leaving the bulk to the driver's left, it is easy for the driver to misjudge distance between his vehicle and those parked along the roadside.

While making a right turn, the driver may tend to drift over to the right of the road. With oncoming vehicles approaching, it's either a great day for the Irish mechanic or the drivers' reflexes. Left turns are no problem unless, of course, there's a fellow American coming around the corner from the opposite direction.

It may be a long way to Tipperary, but it's even farther to Cork from Dublin. The driver with no sense of direction who miscalculates driving time by several hours has nothing to worry about. At the present time, it doesn't get dark until close to 9 p.m.; and even though the walking Irishman's "half mile" registers closer to six, people are very pleasant about giving directions. Not one will neglect to say, "Good luck to you on your journey."

Those with relatives in Ireland will find themselves being treated like non-English royalty. Not only does the entire household rush about doing chores to ensure the "Yanks" comfort, but the whole community comes to the rescue when car difficulties are encountered.

Clonakilty Bay, County Cork, has a beautiful but treacherously rocky coastline. Green farm pastures end where the beach begins. Since the temperature rarely drops below freezing in winter, flowers and forsythia are already blooming in farm yards.

Upon arrival back in Dublin on a Saturday, it's advisable to take a bus or taxi because the streets are so congested with traffic. The busline is unique in that it provides two public services--inexpensive transportation and curbside cleaning. Unlike the sardine-can style MBTA, a passenger is not allowed on a bus unless there is a seat available for him.

With cab fares as inexpensive as they are, it's hard to believe the drivers are rich. According to the caustic comments of one Dublin cabdriver, after overhearing private conversation, Ireland's farmers are shrewd, cute, calculating and hiding money in their socks, while the farmer prefers to have you believe he is at poverty's door and not particularly bright.

"The gang from Cork is the worst of the lot."

Later, it was learned from an unbiased American and long-time resident of Shannon that the strong resentment between city dwellers and farm people stems from the fact that farmers represent 25 percent of Ireland's population.

As a result, they have a large vote; and Prime Minister Joseph Lynch is from Cork, which is farm country. Like any other politician he sees that his home country reaps the benefits of his administration.

Despite their differences of opinion, the Irish are a friendly people. You can't help but regret leaving a country where another friendlier cab driver takes you to Shannon Airport and tries to give you change from a tip.

The cancerous spread of drugs use among youngsters comes even as a shocker to Dist. Atty. George G. Burke who has been fighting an intensive anti-narcotics battle since taking office.

He has fought it at the college, high school and junior high school levels. And now...

The other day, John MacDougal of his Drug Education Bureau, was addressing a fourth grade class. He was telling the youngsters about the evils of drugs and how some little boys get started on it by first sniffing model airplane glue.

MacDougal was describing the harm of sniffing glue when one of the boys suddenly reached into his desk, brought out a bottle of it and handed it to MacDougal.

"I didn't know," the youngster said. "I won't do it again."

WHAT DOES a mayor do when he's invited to dinner by the man who may be opposing him for mayor this year? That knotty problem of political etiquette faces Mayor McIntyre who is among those invited to the May 18 testimonial dinner for School Committee Vice-Chairman James F. McCormick at Valle's.

McCormick, as an announced candidate for mayor, will oppose McIntyre if he decides to run for a fourth term or any candidate McIntyre might back for the chief executive's job.

If the mayor turns up, he no doubt will be called upon to say a few words -- at least to bring the greetings of the city to his school committee colleague. And political observers will be tuned in on every word.

Ah, politics! Never a dull moment.

CITY COUNCIL President Arthur Tobin insists that was no Summit Meeting at City Hall last week. Says he, Councillor Walter Hannon and Mayor McIntyre were merely discussing city business.

Tobin says he, himself, has made no specific political plans for this year. And, as far as he knows, McIntyre hasn't either.

THE SAFEST time to drive a car in Quincy apparently is between 4 a.m. and 6 a.m. during the month of April.

At least that's the way it was during 1970, according to figures compiled by the Quincy Police Department Traffic Bureau headed by Capt. Roy Cavicchi.

April had the fewest--81--collisions in the city last year. December was tops with 168 and November runnerup with 139.

Six collisions last year occurred between 4 a.m. and 6 a.m. Most dangerous hours were from 2 to 4 p.m. when there were 74 accidents. Next dangerous hours were 6-8 p.m. when there were 62.

OVER THERE: Darlene D'Olimpio, of South Walnut St., who lived with a Japanese family as an AFSS exchange student from Quincy High, was guest speaker the other day at the Quincy Rotary Club meeting and told of a few of her experiences.

She happened to be in Japan during the first U.S. moon walk and was treated as a hero. She recalled how the typical Japanese father helps his children with their studies each night.

And, she really fractured the Rotarians with a description of the Japanese baseball player who--after striking out--bows to the umpire.

MILESTONE: School Committee Vice-Chairman James McCormick and his bride, the former Nancy McNally, marked their 35th wedding anniversary the other night with a family dinner at Minot's Light Inn, Scituate.

LOOK for Atty. William Delahunt to make it official within the next few days. He definitely will run for the Ward 5 City Council seat now held by Walter Hannon.

Delahunt, in his first attempt two years ago, came within something like 43 votes of unseating the veteran Hannon.

HERE'S ONE: Paul Harold of Riverside Ave., Adams Shore, has a friend who as a youngster took note of the "No Parking MDC" signs along Quincy Shore Drive.

And for years, the friend thought the "MDC" stood for Mayor Della Chiesa. Because, Della Chiesa was mayor so long, the friend had grown up with him as the only mayor he knew, and had made a deep impression on him.

TYPO TERROR DEPT: In the Daily Hampshire Gazette [Northampton, Mass.]: But if you are typical you are, as B claims, scared about the climb in your loving costs month after month.

Quincy Observes 'Irish Freedom Week'

This week, April 11-17, the Easter Sunday uprising in Dublin, has been proclaimed by Mayor James R. McIntyre as "Irish Freedom Week in Quincy."

The Celtic Cultural Society, Inc., at whose request Mayor McIntyre proclaimed the tribute to the Irish Patriots, will hold a dance Friday at the Brookline Street Hotel, 1200 Beacon St., to benefit the National Graves Association of Dublin, Ireland. Dancing will be to music of Frank Carr and the Exiles, with entertainment by Rita O'Shea's Step Dancers and Virginia Morgan, soloist.

The National Graves Association was founded in 1926 to locate and rebury the bodies of Irish Patriots who gave their lives during the Easter Uprising of 1916.

Would 'Reduce Tension, Student Unrest'

'Open Campus' Asked For Quincy High, Voc-Tech

A proposed five-week trial "Open Campus Program" was placed before the Quincy School Committee last night for its consideration.

Proponents said the program affecting students at Quincy High School and Quincy Vocational Technical School would "reduce tension and student unrest".

Plans call for the five-week trial period of "released-study" or "open campus" to begin this spring. Then, after proper evaluation, it would be instituted on a permanent basis in the 1971 fall term.

The proposed program was prepared by an Open Campus Advisory Committee consisting of some 16 members, three students each from the sophomore, junior and senior high school classes; three teachers; three parents, administrators, guidance counselors, representatives of the Police Department, Thomas Crane Public Library, YMCA and business community.

It was presented by Bernard C. Moore, a member of the Open Campus Advisory Committee and secretary of the Merchants Division of the Quincy South-Shore Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Ralph Kolodny, a parent, and Theodore Elliott of the Quincy High School faculty are co-chairmen.

Features of the program which would involve some 300 students during each assigned study period include:

- A broader range of educational opportunities available to students through mini-courses in areas of special interest to students.

- Seminars, lectures and discussion series in the auditorium.

- Greater use of Thomas Crane Library and Quincy YMCA by students during the day.

- Greater participation in Work-Study Programs.

- Expansion of Elementary Tutorial Program by high school students.

- Additional periods of gym, industrial arts, science labs, music, art or languages.

- Greater involvement in community service projects.

- Quiet study areas.

- Leaving the school building or premises.

Parental consent and written permission is necessary for students of the 10th, 11th and 12th grades to participate.

Students with a major U in conduct could not participate.

Programs are planned to acquaint students with their responsibility in the community.

A student lounge will be set up in Quincy High School cafeteria area to alleviate overcrowding in the school or business center.

Quiet, supervised study periods will be available for students desiring them.

Students will be free to eat inside or outside the building, but encouraged to eat in the student lounge or Voc-Tech Cafeteria.

Attendance is to be taken in every class and in custodial study hall -- no attendance in student lounge.

Disciplinary guidelines are to be set up and a judiciary committee of student and faculty will decide on dismissal cases.

A Student Patrol Organization comprised of school organizations and teams will be created to supervise lounge areas and keep the school area clean.

After the trial spring program, reaction to the Open Campus will be gathered from the public, students, teachers and parents. Academic achievement, tardiness and disciplinary problems will be analyzed.

The Open Campus Advisory Committee feels that its proposed program will reduce tension and student unrest, while alleviating overcrowded building conditions, and it will provide for a more efficient use of trained faculty time.

School Committee action on the program is expected at the April 28 meeting.

Nomination Papers Available On May 3

Nomination papers for this fall's city election will be available May 3, announces City Clerk John M. Gillis.

The preliminary election, he said, will be held Sept. 21 and the final election Nov. 2.

Deadline for filing nomination papers will be 5 p.m. on Aug. 23.

Contests in the election will be for mayor, ward council, council at-large and school committee.

Koegler Seeks Bleachers For Faxon Park Ball Field

Ward 3 Councillor John F. Koegler seeks to have temporary bleachers installed for the spring and summer at the Faxon Park ball field.

Koegler has sent a letter to Richard J. Koch, executive secretary of Quincy Park-Recreation Board asking him to "give every consideration to this request".

In his letter, Koegler noted: "I have had requests over the years to have bleachers installed at the ball field in Faxon Park. As you know, during the spring and summer months, several leagues use this field for baseball. The parents have complained that there is no area to sit and watch the games.

"Is it possible to have temporary bleachers installed during the spring and summer months as it would be greatly appreciated by the parents and youngsters."

They're Off For England!

34 Cranch Area Pupils Due To Land In Dublin Today

Thirty-four excited pupils and seven adults [also excited] from the Cranch School area were scheduled to leave last night aboard Irish Air Lines Flight 116 on the first leg of their two-week's overseas visit to England.

This morning, they were due to arrive at Dublin, Ireland for a four-hour stop before continuing on to Heathrow, with arrival scheduled at 6:30 a.m. at Leigh-on-Sea.

Most of the students are returning a visit to the 24 West Leigh Junior School pupils who were their guests for two weeks last year. All are past or present students of Miss Mary Murdock, either as an exchange teacher at West Leigh, or as third and fourth grade teacher at Cranch School.

Miss Murdock and her group are bringing with them tapes -- messages from children unable to make the trip to their British friends. The tapes are for recording impressions by the Quincy students of the trip and events as they happen -- and to set up a tape exchange next year between the two schools.

Presented to West Leigh Junior School will be the books, "John Adams and the American Revolution" and "John Adams' Town" [a book on Old Braintree].

There is also a painting of the Adams' cottages by amateur artist Robert DelVecchio, whose son Peter DelVecchio is a member of the Cranch School entourage.

In England, students and adults will be guests of English parents who, in addition to the planned schedule, are arranging free time outings for the Quincy visitors.

The full schedule calls for an official welcome on Saturday by the Mayor and Mayors of the Civic Centre. There will be a trip to the Children's Theatre, to the Houses of Parliament and Westminster on Patriots' Day, to the Ford Factory at Dagenham, the Tower of London, a River Trip to Greenwich, tour of Essex Countryside and Cambridge

The return here is scheduled for April 28 with a 3:45 p.m. arrival at Logan Airport.

Along with Miss Murdock, adults making the trip are principal Frank D'Andrea and his wife; Mrs. Eda Flate, Mrs. Elena Magnell and Mrs. Judith Gorin, parents; and Miss Janet Wrigley of Cranch faculty.

Students include:

Nancy Allen, James Baker, Enid Braveman, David Calabro, David Casey, Paula Church, Peter DelVecchio, Jean Doran, Debra Flate, John Flate.

Denise Quintiliani, Elizabeth Raimondi, Gwendolyn Raimondi, Elizabeth Rice, Caren Smith, Eric Sparman, Mark Stranberg, Brian Taylor.

Smyth Asks Cleanup At Moswetuset Hummock

Councillor J. Vincent Smyth is asking the Metropolitan District Commission to clean up the debris left by its employees at Quincy's historic Moswetuset Hummock.

The Moswetuset Indians, from whom Massachusetts derived its name, made the hummock their headquarters.

In a letter to Commissioner John Sears, Smyth wrote:

"The Metropolitan District Commission's Sewer construction from Newland St., Squantum, to Quincy Shore Drive was completed in the fall of 1970.

"This important project necessitated the removal and replacement of earth at the approach to Moswetuset Hummock, which is located off the East Squantum St. causeway.

"The City of Quincy is planning to elevate the low areas of the causeway and resurface the entire street during the summer months.

"The Hummock is a favorite spot both for Quincy citizens and residents from the surrounding towns and cities during the year.

"Your office is respectfully requested to improve and beautify the entrance to the Hummock by cleaning the area of debris."

Moswetuset Hummock, one of Quincy's oldest historic sites, was the seat of Chicatabat, Sachem of the Moswetuset, or Massachusetts tribe of Indians. It was from this tribe the Commonwealth got its name.

The bill for taking of this land by the MDC was signed in 1930. At that time a sign was erected to mark the historical significance of the hummock.

In 1961 the North Quincy Knights of Columbus sought to buy the site for construction of a new meeting place and public recreation area. This was successfully opposed by the Quincy Historical Society and interested residents from Squantum, and it has remained a natural landmark.

"We are having a fence fixed on the causeway by the City of Quincy and Boston Edison," Smyth noted. "We would like this area beautified."

"The marsh has been restored to its former appearance, and with the City planning to elevate the causeway, we are trying to upgrade the whole area into Squantum. Where it is under jurisdiction of the MDC they should spend a little time and money, because the assessment is high enough. The place is visited not only by Quincy people but from other places as well. It wouldn't take but a few days with a labor crew and proper equipment in there to move the earth and at the same time clean up the entry to the hummocks."

Faded Footprints

I walk alone, the abandoned street,
The tapered road, where all would meet.

But it's later now and the road has changed,

To see it like this seems rather strange.

This same narrow lane was our passage in youth,

Not merely a street, but a footpath to truth.

A place to talk and be with a friend.

Yet, this was a road, and not a dead end.

And like all roads it led to another,

A connecting link we soon would discover.

And so it happened, the shifting of walks,

We all set out and encountered new blocks.

And now I've come back, hoping to find,

One of my friends that lingered behind.

But it is without luck, these alien faces,

Time has swept by, erasing all traces.

If Only

All winter long the flowers sleep

Their beauty hid in embryo

Each tiny form somehow complete,

Secure and snug beneath the snow.

Come Spring!...and in the warming ground

The life's miracle begins anew...

Winter departs without a sound,

And soon the Crocus comes to view.

Then do men know deep in their soul

The truth each flower testifies:

That if God's will were made man's goal

This earth would be a Paradise.

Cotton's in the Swim

IN FAVOR—The two-piece bikini—still itty-bitty and polka-dotted—remains a favored swim fashion. This season it wears its polka dots patchwork-style in an all-cotton design by Sea Fashions of California.

DEMURE—Pinafore-styling makes for a young look in dotted cotton. Eyelet lace ruffles set off the bra top and apron skirt. It's a Sea Fashions of California design.

SUPER STRIPES—Boldly striped cotton denim shapes a new-looking sportcoat for spring-summer '71. By Peters Sportswear, the coat is styled with extra wide lapels and patch pockets that coincide with the striped pattern.

MINI-GEOMETRIC—Reflecting the trend to surface interest in menswear fabrics is this cotton whipcord sportcoat in shades of blue. With traditional two-button tailoring and flap pockets, it's by Linett, Ltd.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Line up some of your many friends to help you next week since what they do for you now can affect your entire future.

It's In To Be Thin By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

Welcome sweet springtime - we greet you with fat...

If dieting has a season at all, it would have to be the spring. At this time of the month the voice of the turtle dove is accompanied by frantic, desperate determined dieters making their frontal attack on their all-over fat.

After months of stuffing goodies down the hatch into willing stomachs, fear strikes with the coming of spring. For at this time the ally of the overweight - the fashionable cover-up of the plump - the friend indeed to the fat - the winter coat - is banished for the duration.

Okay, let's take it the way it is. Choose your weapons. Pick up your fork and knife and diet like a lady. Follow your diet without substitution and without skipping and the figure you wish for will be yours, and you'll be as gay as all the flowers in May - tra-la.

If you have any questions regarding dieting, or wish a copy of our free fish folder, please write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York.

Come, Let Us Reason Together

By Dr. William F. Knox
Personal Counselor

'Love Yourself'

A few days ago my younger boy printed a note...put it in a white envelope...gave it to his mother. It read..."I love you mommy...Do you feel all right? We all love you. Love...David...Paul [his brother]...Daddy...0 0 0 0 X X X X X" [Those mean hugs and kisses.]

Love for this little fellow is a way of life. He loves himself without even being aware of it...so there exudes from him love for his whole family. Since he loves he assumes others love too...and without hesitation signs our names to his love note to his mother.

There has been a big hoax pawned off on people...that it's wrong to love oneself...that it is selfish...shows conceit...is egotistical. True love of oneself is not only desirable...it is necessary to a healthy personality...in fact, unless one loves himself/herself one can't love another person...and further...only in the degree that one loves oneself can one love others.

Many people are suffering from depression...fatigue...fridity...impotency...feelings of inadequacy in both their work and relationships. As one man said recently..."I just seem to have lost my grip on life...I don't seem to believe in myself anymore." That was just another way of saying..."I don't love myself." Negative feelings toward oneself...lack of love for oneself...anger turned against oneself results in depression and other conditions which bog one down in life. Restoring love for self is necessary to new life.

What is it to love oneself? The same thing as to love other people...care for...respect...trust...acceptance of one's strengths and weaknesses...honesty with oneself...meeting one's needs...knowing oneself...making growth opportunities available...forgiveness of oneself. Love of self is a very practical matter. When a man is careless and negligent about his driving so as to endanger others and himself...it may be that his problem is that he doesn't love himself.

When a woman allows herself to get fat and ugly...shows little interest in proper care of her home...fails to show affection and love for her husband...it may be that she didn't learn proper eating and home-making habits...nor how to show love to a man...but it is more likely that she just doesn't love herself enough.

When a boy is doing poorly in school...seems to have no motivation...no interest in sports...music...art...or the other opportunities of personal growth...it may be that the boy's problem is not low intelligence...but that he hasn't learned to love himself.

When a girl turns away from her regular friends and drops into company which destroys her femininity and goals for life...may even run away from home...it is not necessarily that hers was a poor home...it may be that she just hasn't learned to love herself.

Basic to any kind of fulfillment in life is loving oneself. Before a mother can love her children...she must first love herself. Before a man can be a real man in loving his wife...he must first love himself. Before a woman can be a real woman in loving her man...she must first love herself. Before a father can love his children...he must first love himself. Unless one loves himself/herself one falls into a servant role with others.

Do not be confused...self-love and selfishness are opposites. The selfish person loves himself too little...not too much. He's just snatching out of life whatever and however he can because he's finding himself so unhappy...so anxious...so fearful...so frustrated...so his selfish actions are outward symptoms of his inward feelings of failure to love himself/herself. These people haven't learned to love themselves...so he does things to "make brownie points" with people...or acts selfishly...not in self love. Often they feel like martyrs...servants...used.

Why do people not love themselves? The main reason is that they grew up with a mother and father that didn't love themselves or each other...so there was no example of how to love oneself. Parents ridden with hidden hostility to life...slaves to rules...codes...conventions...always hellbent on making their children "good"...create in their children feelings of anxiety...guilt...tenseness...fear of disapproval...rather than feelings of love. Such children do not feel loved...so they don't learn to love themselves. They in turn become saturated with the same negativism toward themselves...toward life as their parents had.

Love...poets write about it. Preachers preach sermons about it. Singers sing songs about it. The greatest poem...or sermon or song about love is one life that loves...a little boy that assumes it...a little girl...one mature man...one lovely woman...people who love themselves.

YOU'RE SOMEONE WORTH KNOWING

More than you — or others — may realize. Wouldn't you like to discover the worth, the usefulness and happiness that are rightly yours.

Many people are learning that knowledge of their God-given selfhood makes this possible. And more. It opens up new capacities. It heals.

Jessica Pickett, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will explain the healing power of seeing your true self in her talk, "You're Someone Worth Knowing."

You and your friends are all welcome.

Rent an Electric Water Heater for $2.50 a month and enjoy lots and lots of hot water

Today every modern home needs a good supply of hot water. And the only way to make sure you have all that you need is with an electric water heater. An old-fashioned "off the furnace" type water heater simply can't keep up with today's modern living.

Electric water heaters are flameless. Operate independently of your furnace so you can install one anywhere. Generous installation allowance and free maintenance.

New Electric Underground Network For Area

350-Room Motor Hotel Next In State Street South

A 350-room high-rise motor hotel will be part of the next major phase of the multi-million dollar State Street South complex in North Quincy.

This was disclosed Tuesday by officials during a progress report conference at which it was announced that negotiations were virtually completed for the second phase.

The motor hotel, operated by the Dunfee Family Corporation, a New England-based hotel chain, will have a restaurant, swimming pool and Health Club facilities.

Already under construction is an 880,000-plus square foot structure, the focal point of which is a centralized operations and computer center for Boston's State Street Bank.

At the same time, Massachusetts Electric Co. disclosed that huge, dual service underground electric lines and a new low-profile sub-station will be constructed for the State Street South complex.

The new facilities, said John N. Dwyer, executive vice-president State Street South Corporation and John I. Ahern, president Massachusetts Electric Co., will eventually affect the entire Neponset River Basin area.

George B. Rockwell, president of the State Street Boston Financial Corporation, said the new hotel will occupy a four and a half acre site fronting on Newport Ave. extension. The original master plans for the complex, which is an integrated civic, business and residential facility, called for a major hotel, he pointed out.

Rockwell said less than one-fourth of the land area will actually be occupied by the hotel with the balance of the property to be used for landscaping and parking.

The full service facility will contain several restaurants, cocktail lounges, an enclosed swimming pool, health club and function rooms. Plans allow for expansion to 500 rooms in the future.

In addition to the regular daytime patronage the new hotel is expected to service the expanding demands of local businesses and industry throughout the entire South Shore area. It will be one of the largest in the vicinity.

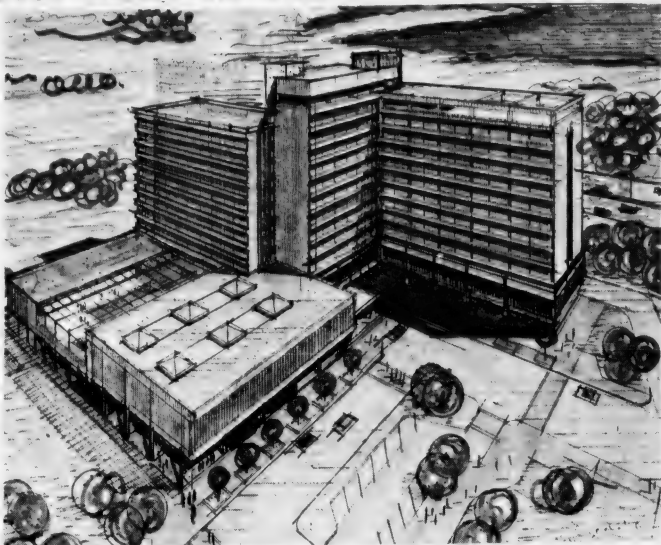

State Street South officials also pointed out the new unit is expected to generate considerable convention and business meeting activity. Recently completed studies also indicated a heavy demand for rooms due to Boston convention overflow as well as seasonal tourist traffic.

The progress report on current construction activities in North Quincy indicated that steel has started to rise on the computer and operations center. Construction crews are also working on the nearby four-story building for the Northeastern offices of Kemper Insurance Company.

It is estimated there will be more than 4,000 persons employed at State Street South which is scheduled for completion in 1973.

The Mass. Electric network will feed the 80-acre civic, business and residential project. The dual service system will insure a high level of electric reliability to protect the bank's computers housed at the new operations center now under construction.

Massachusetts Electric will design and build the new ARTIST'S conception of 350-room High Rise Motor Hotel proposed for the State Street South complex in North Quincy. It will occupy its own 4.5 acre site and will be one of the largest on the South Shore. Hotel's towers are flanked by a low rise wing containing restaurants, cocktail lounges, function and meeting rooms and swimming pool and health club.

substation to harmonize with project buildings and surrounding landscape. As proposed, the two 115,000-volt transmission lines, the largest underground lines presently in use in the northeast, will bring power from the Edgar generating station in North Weymouth to the North Quincy site.

All of the incoming electric transmission lines as well as those feeding the project will be underground.

The new sub-station will not only supply the power needs of the State Street South complex, but will boost the overall service reliability for the entire North Quincy area.

The reliability of electrical service was a key engineering problem for State Street due to the large demand of the bank of computers to be located there.

State Street is currently leasing office space in several locations in Boston which will be consolidated by the move.

Until the recent proposal by Mass. Electric, the bank had initially planned to generate its own electricity at the North Quincy site.

"We were impressed," Dwyer said, "by the commitments presented by Massachusetts Electric and also their record of service in the area. Their reliability coupled with their growing generating capacity - already under construction - convinced us that they could meet our critical demand for uninterrupted power."

Survival, Inc. Names Cambridge Man Coordinator Of Training

Survival, Inc., the comprehensive youth problems and drug abuse organization serving the South Shore area, announces that Charles L. Robinson, 28, of Green Street, Cambridge, has joined its staff as coordinator of training and operations.

Robinson will:

- Coordinate various segments of the rehabilitation program with emphasis on quality of service, uniformity of treatment, recording procedures and level of staff training.

- Program evaluation of both total and individual components.

- Serve as therapeutic supervisor of case counsellors.

- Function as liaison with the South Shore Mental Health Center and other community organizations.

Robinson, who received his doctorate degree in clinical psychology at the University of South Carolina in January 1971 and completed his undergraduate work at the University of Wisconsin, interned at the South Shore Mental Health Center in Quincy during 1969-70.

During this time, he was involved in a school consultation program, devised an evaluative procedure for assessing the results of innovative teaching programs in the high school and developed an outcome assessment program for the Title I summer program. He also conducted a week-long community police workshop program for police cadets.

As an undergraduate, he worked as interaction rater on a project conducted by Dr. Carl Rogers on the outcome of Rogierian therapy with schizophrenic patients. He also engaged in independent research along with Dr. Vernon Allen on conformity behavior.

Presently, he is employed as a psychology instructor at Emerson College in Boston and donates his free time to working with young adults at the Cambridgeport Problems Center.

Drug Council To Meet April 20

South Shore residents are invited to attend an organizational meeting of the Parents Coordinating Drug Council April 20 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Munson, 54 Andrews Rd., Quincy.

Purpose of the new council, which was first proposed by Dr. Charles Djerf, president of the board of Survival, Inc., will be "to equip members for service in the community, to further the educational, philanthropic and social lives of its members, and to cooperate with Survival, Inc."

The election of officers and members of a board of directors will take place during the meeting.

Unchaperoned Dating, Lib Movement Fascinates Colombian Senorita

You can read all you want to about a foreign country but it will never mean as much as actually living there for a while.

This in substance is the thought of Senorita Maria Eugenia Munevar who recently returned to her Colombia, South America homeland after spending the past several weeks as a teacher's aide in the Quincy public schools.

To Maria, her stay with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Silverstein of 399 Adams St. and her visits to most of Quincy's 30 schools was an enriching experience and more often than not, an eye-opening one.

Her comment on a contemporary problems class which she attended at Quincy High School:

"It is really great for people to be able to talk about the problems of other countries as they can learn how to avoid similar problems coming up in their own countries."

And, for a 21-year old girl from a country where unchaperoned dating is frowned upon, Maria found the American method of dating, "where you go out with them alone," a "very interesting experience."

Then, too, Maria found Quincy's co-educational schools somewhat disconcerting as she is used to being in an all-girl school.

Maria said she thought that students could study better in all-girl or all-boy schools as they would not be distracted by members of the opposite sex.

Two days of each week Maria spent in the city she took classes at Quincy High School which included journalism, contemporary problems, college secretarial, English, and American Studies.

On the other three days of the school week, Maria spent in foreign language classes throughout the city, telling students of her country and its customs.

In addition, Maria, who teaches guitar, Colombian music and folk dancing in her homeland, danced and sang for Quincy students on several occasions.

When asked about her feelings on the women's liberation movement in the U. S., Maria replied:

"I don't think I would like to be just like a man. I think that a girl has to be feminine. I wouldn't like to feel that I was more than my husband, but we [women] have to have a little more freedom. It is stupid to have to stay home and just be housewives all our lives."

Maria plans to return to Quincy this summer after a brief stay in a Minnesota public school system and to return to South America next January.

Her visit to Quincy was under the sponsorship of the Amity Institute of Del Mar, California, which conducts teacher aide programs for the purpose of improving foreign language instruction and international understanding.

Another Amity Institute aide, Miss Catherine Prud'Homme will be arriving in Quincy shortly to work with French classes in the school system. She will be staying with the Robert Spillane family at 3 Eaton Rd.

James F. McCormick To Be Honored At May 18 Testimonial Dinner

School Committee Vice-Chairman James F. McCormick, Sr., will be honored at a testimonial dinner May 18 at Valle's, Brintree.

Co-Chairmen Frank McNally and Robert Rice said the dinner is being given in honor of McCormick's "many years of service to the citizens of Quincy."

McCormick, a mayoralty candidate this year, has been a member of the School Committee since February, 1959 when he was appointed to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Paul Duffy.

He has been re-elected since and is now vice-chairman, also serving in that capacity in 1966-1967.

McCormick has been chairman of the Quincy Park-Recreation Board for the past four years and is chairman of the Mayor's Youth Committee.

He is the only announced candidate for mayor to date.

Ticket chairman for the dinner is Gabriel Spanley of 17 Mount Vernon St. Tickets may be obtained from him, or from McNally or Rice.

Music for the event will be by Baron Hugo and his orchestra.

Quincy District Court Clerk Dennis F. Ryan will be

Invited guests include Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, Sen. Edward Brooke, Congressman James A. Burke, Mayor James R. McIntyre, former Mayor Amelio Della Chiesa, School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, Richard J. Koch, executive secretary Quincy Park-Recreation Board, William F. Ryan, city recreation director, School Committee-woman Alice Mitchell, Maurice Daly, assistant superintendent of Vocational Education and Rev. A. Paul Gallivan, former curate at Sacred Heart Church, North Quincy, now pastor of St. Michael's, Avon.

Montero of 31 Sargent St., Germantown; Executive Director Clement A. O'Brien of the Quincy Housing Authority; Atty. Robert Canavan of 1359 Hancock St.; Donald Strong of Quincy Council on Aging; Police Lt. William Daley; and Planning Director Geoffrey Davidson.

Paul C. Ekholm Stationed At Alameda

Navy Petty Officer Third Class Paul C. Ekholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Ekholm of 47

Three Spring Concerts By Students Tonight

Three spring concerts this evening at 7:30 p.m. are among musical performances scheduled this week by groups of the Music Education Department of the Quincy public schools, headed by Ivar O. Nelson, director.

At Atlantic Junior High School, the concert will include orchestra selections directed by Irvin Pinkofsky; band, by Frank Rull; and vocal groups, directed by Marie Mullen and Marion Clancy.

At Central Junior High School, Bernard Goldstein will direct the orchestra and band;

Catherine Carnabucci and Jeanne Hogan will lead vocal groups.

Broad Meadows Junior High School will feature instrumental numbers led by Richard Striano; Frank Bono will direct vocal selections; Eileen Maxner, the choral group; and Bryna Goodman, orchestra.

Tuesday the choir and madrigal singers of Central Junior High School, directed by Catherine Carnabucci presented a concert at the Senior Citizens Center, 1000 Southern Artery.

Junior Programs Listed For Library Week

Four programs for the Thomas Crane Junior Library in the main building on Washington St. are announced for National Library Week, April 18-24, by Mrs. Frances Hines, supervisor of children's services.

National Library Week coincides with school vacation in Quincy.

Under direction of Miss Pamela Roberts, children's librarian, April 20 will be "Comic Book Swap Day". Young friends may meet at the library any time during the day to exchange comic books with others.

On April 22 at 10 a.m. there will be a film program and story hour with pre-school and primary grades invited.

There will be an art exhibit and program April 23 at 10 a.m. Certificates and prizes will be awarded to boys and girls contributing to the April art exhibit now on display in the Junior Library.

On April 24 at 10 a.m. there will be a special folk song and dance fest for all ages.

Koch Suggests Peat Bog Site For Conservation Education Center

A Conservation Education Center in Montclair has been suggested by Richard J. Koch, executive secretary to the Quincy Park and Recreation Board, in a letter to William Sweet of the Norfolk County Agricultural School.

Koch suggests a peat bog situated between Hobart, Belmont, Sherman and Harvard Sts., recently zoned "open space" by the Quincy Planning Department and City Council as the site.

"It has a potential for an excellent wildlife sanctuary in the midst of an extensive and sprawling residential area," Koch notes. "The proposed Conservation Education Center would be a heritage for future generations to visit and enjoy as a natural wildlife area that existed previous to a thriving metropolis."

Volunteer efforts of adults and young are clearing the dried grass, underbrush and rubbish that causes a fire hazard.

Rev. William Underhill of St. Chrysostom's Church and Pardon W. Cornell, Regional Resource Development and Nursery Specialist, are assisting the Quincy Park Department in this project, Koch adds.

Over 100 Senior Citizens Would Like To Run City For A Day

More than 100 Senior Citizens have already indicated their interest in taking over the reins of city government for a day on Friday, May 7, proclaimed Senior Citizens Government Day by Mayor James R. McIntyre.

This is believed to be a "first" in the State of Massachusetts and is the first of several events being planned by the Quincy Council on Aging in observance of Senior Citizens Month during May.

All senior citizens interested in participating in Government Day are asked to register by Friday, April 30, with the Quincy Council on Aging Office in the John F. Kennedy Health Center, 1120 Hancock St.

If they are members of Senior Citizens Clubs, they may register with their club president. Application forms have been distributed to clubs throughout the city, according to Marion Andrews, assistant director of the Council on Aging.

Selections for the various municipal offices throughout the city will be drawn prior to the Quincy City Council meeting May 3, at 7 p.m., in the Council Chambers at City Hall.

Any senior citizen of Quincy 60 years and older is invited to register for the event. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Andrews at the Council on Aging Office.

Other activities planned for the month of May will include the Fourth Annual May Festival at the Quincy Armory May 12 and a dinner dance at the Armory May 21. Details of both events will be announced.

HYPERACTIVITY AND LEARNING

Young school children are being given prescription drugs to help them with their school work. These are not "memory" drugs, nor are they aimed at increasing a child's native ability [no drug has been found for this]. Rather, this treatment is for restless, abnormally hyperactive youngsters who find it difficult to keep up with their studies because of their abnormal restlessness.

The medications prescribed are to improve the child's behavior and enable him to benefit from the schoolwork. Various drugs are used, including stimulants and sedatives. Curiously, it has been found that some overactive children become less restive when given a stimulant. No child should be given medication for this purpose unless his medical history is known and then, only under medical supervision.

Money is meaningless without good health. So, even if you're a sick millionaire, have your chauffeur drive you to NABORHOOD REXALL PHARMACY, 406 Hancock St., No. Quincy or call PR 3-6426 for fast, prescription service. You can also pay your electric or telephone bills or use our notary public service. Hospital equipment and supplies for rent or sale. Retires After Long Career

Woodward Honored By 'Y' Swim Team At Banquet

Retiring coach Al Woodward was honored by the Quincy Y Swim Team at its banquet at the YMCA Monday, held to celebrate a successful season.

George Ramsden, executive director, was principal speaker, while Carl Porter, physical director, presented awards. Other speakers were Frank Rull, AAU secretary, and Mae Jackson, co-coaches of the Quincy girls swim team.

In gratitude for his many years of directing the A and B groups, Woodward was presented with mementoes by team members depicting highlights of his career as coach. Under his tutelage, many of his swimmers have gone on to set outstanding marks in college. In the recently concluded 1970-71 competition Woodward's B team compiled an undefeated record against other strong Y teams making up the Eastern Massachusetts District League.

Class C and D coach John Gauthier, who now becomes head coach for all groups, also had a season of accomplishment with his swimmers. Headed by his son, Jack Gauthier, who in class D broke existing records in all events in which he competed, coach Gauthier's teams achieved:

A new record by Class D medley relay team of Tom Clancy, Jack Gauthier, Joe Lamb and John Connolly, with Clancy and young Gauthier going all season without a defeat.

set a new record of 112 points. Billy Ebsary and Pete Ghizari were unbeaten in their specialties.

Spike Cooney of the B group set a new record in the 160 yard individual medley on his way to an undefeated season, and Mark Mariani swept all the 50, 60 and 100-yard freestyle events in which he competed.

The complete roster includes: Class A: Don Esterberg, Jack Foley, Leonard Forbes, Dave Goodrich, Rich Kelly, Jim Maguire, Paul Murphy, Jeff Walker and Stephen Pike.

Over 250 Attend Koch Club Termites, Seniors Banquet

The Koch Club Termites and Seniors held their annual girls bowling banquet at Sacred Heart School Cafeteria in North Quincy with more than 250 parents and children attending.

It was the seventh banquet for the Termites and second for the Seniors.

For the Termites, trophies were awarded to Marie Nestor's team who won the second half as well as the roll-off against Jeanne McSweeney's team, who won the first half by two pins. Marie's team included Peggy Kelliher, Debbie Panto and Nancy Westgate, while Jeanne's team members are Joanne Ruane, Jean Tabak and Mary Welch.

High average honors went to Antoinette Alibrandi with 91.2. Susan Ball followed with 84.3. Gail Gattorna's 342 high three was tops for the season, followed by Regina Chetwynd with 301.

Helena Lawlor with 118 had high single while Jeanne McSweeney tied for second high single with 112. High team three of 1031 was scored by Captain Debbie Alessi, Carol Sears, Pauline Grabowski and Kim DiBona, while second high of 1015 was run up by Captain Linda Hicks, Regina Chetwynd, Carolyn Cody and Linda Penzo.

Awards for a 368 high team single went to Captain Helena Lawlor, Carol Flynn, Pamela Drandorff and Nancy Pasquariello, followed by second high team single of 351 scored by Captain Gail Gattorna, Brenda Welch, Anne Butler and Carol Johnson.

Perfect attendance gifts went to Mary Cooney, Marianne Spring, Peggy Kelliher, Marie Nestor, Sharon Cobban, Helena Lawlor, Karen Pasquariello, Patty Naughton, Debbie Alessi, Susan Ball, Robin Menz, Mary Welch, Jeanne McSweeney and Colleen McGuire.

Girls in Grades 4 through 6 bowl on Tuesday afternoon at 1 p.m. at Wollaston Boulevard Bowladrome. Bowling resumes in September when school starts.

Trophies and gifts were awarded top teams and players in the Seniors division.

Pat Monahan's team won the second half, also defeating Nancy Muldowney's team in the roll-off. Other members of Pat's team are Maureen Nestor, Jane Chetwynd and Carol Falzone. Nancy's team members are Barbara Welch, Susan Kane and Patty Batts.

Joanne Flynn's 95.8 average was high for the season, with Denise Beresiewicz in second place with 95.5. High three award went to Carol Morris for 346; high single to Judy Abbruzzese with 125.

High team three of 1136 was rolled by Captain Judy Flynn, Lena Pulco, Susan Batts and Maureen Sullivan, while second high team three of 1123 was scored by Captain Laurie DiCarlo, Jeanne Rathgeb, Debra Norton and Helen Fatseas.

Award for high team single of 396 went to Capt. Joanne Flynn, Mary Ellen Troy, Marion Rideout and Nancy Barresi, while second high team single of 389 was scored by Captain Tricia Newcomb, Melissa Walsh, Susan Koch and Roseann Milano.

Perfect attendance gifts went to Carol Falzone, Jane Chetwynd, Lena Pulco, Melissa Walsh, Helen Fatseas, Debra Norton, Chris Hicks, Saralee Cobban and Barbara Ciardi.

Girls in grade 7 and up bowl Saturdays at 10:30 a.m. at Wollaston Boulevard Bowladrome. Bowling will resume in September when school starts.

Quincy Belts B.C.

Quincy High's baseball team, opened the season Monday with an impressive 11-5 win over Boston College High.

The Presidents will play at Boston Latin Friday, lift the lid on its Greater Boston League season Monday at 10 a.m. against Somerville at Adams Field and Wednesday will meet North Quincy at Adams, also at 10. They hosted Abp. Williams yesterday.

Meanwhile, North Quincy, which looked good in several practice games, swings into action Monday at Chelsea in a 10 a.m. GBI game.

"Our hitting was little short of amazing," Quincy Coach Bob Basiliere said following Monday's win. "I didn't expect it. Our defense, especially by infielders Russ MacDonald, Mike Marville and Artie Boyle was outstanding and the pitching was adequate. MacDonald played one of the finest games I've ever seen by a high school second baseman."

The play of Marville and Boyle was especially satisfying as neither was scheduled to play but got their chance when two players were in-eligible.

Quincy, trailing, 4-3, exploded for six runs in the third inning to clinch the decision.

Steve Sullivan had three hits, Joe Orlando, Bill Mayer and Marville two each, MacDonald, Boyle and Ed Panaschi one apiece.

Hall Impressed

Quincy Track Team Best In 10 Years?

By TOM SULLIVAN

The best Quincy High school track team in more than 10 years.

That is how Coach Tom Hall rates the Presidents' current spring edition.

"I don't want to sound too confident but I honestly feel that way," he said. "We have depth at every position, a lot of seasoned veterans and some newcomers who are looking sensational."

Last spring Quincy had its best season in years, losing only the final meet of the year to rival North Quincy, the undefeated Greater Boston League champion.

Quincy opened today against Malden at the Medford track and Hall expected to do well in every event.

Although there are experienced performers in most events, a newcomer, John Provost, one of the Presidents' outstanding football players last fall, has been getting most of Hall's raves.

"This kid is unbelievable," he lauded. "He is a natural who, I think, could be a standout in any sport he tried [Football Coach Hank Conroy said the same thing]."

"We had a practice meet with Weymouth South [Quincy romped, 84-47, despite the absence of some top scorers], and John tried the triple jump for the first time. All he did was beat the figure set by Kevin Lugelle, who holds the school record. With a bit of experience, there is no telling how well he will do. [The triple jump is a new event in the league this season]."

"Then he tried the hurdles. He had never even seen a hurdle before but, despite hesitating before each hurdle, he was barely nipped. When he learns not to hesitate, he should really be something."

Another newcomer making Hall extremely happy is Art Giannotti, who was beating out veteran Rich Menchi in the javelin during practice.

"This boy looks awfully good," Hall said. "I couldn't believe the distance he was getting. He will give us some depth in this event as we have several other fine boys."

Actually, despite a lot of veterans, Hall has a young team with a number of excellent looking sophomores.

In the 100-yard dash the Presidents have two fine sophomores, Ray Lawyer, who excelled in winter track, and Ed Burke, and Steve McCarthy, a junior who is running for the first time. He was a brilliant running back for the undefeated football team.

In the 220 veteran Fred

Antoon leads the way. Last year he lost only to North Quincy's sensational Paul Affsa. Mike Gilcoyne, a winter trackman, and sophomore Bob Spillane, whose brother Joe holds the school's 440 mark, are behind him.

Two other fine veterans, Pete Daley and Joe Goguen, are the top quarter-milers with Frank Haley also looking good.

Veteran Jim Dubois leads the half milers and two good looking sophs, Marty Swinko and Mark MacLeod came along fast and should be good scorers.

There are no worries in the mile with Bobby Ciano back. The standout junior turned in a 4:31 in practice, a fine effort for so early in the year. Paul Wahlberg, another veteran, is behind Bobby.

Bobby's brother, Peter, a fine sophomore who shone in winter track, is the best of the two-milers with another experienced runner, Brian Feeney, right behind him.

Bobby McDermott and Dave Coull, junior veterans, are set in the high hurdles and joining Provost in the lows is still another veteran, Kevin Eggersheim.

Hall has several promising high jumpers including Johnny Johnson, a winter star, McDermott, Coull and Eggersheim.

Goguen, who placed in the state meet the past two years and who lost only to North's Affsa last spring, is the best of the long jumpers, while Dubois and Daley also look good. Daley is trying the event for the first time.

Working with Provost in the triple jump are McCarthy, a big surprise, and Antoon.

Quincy looks strong in the weights with Frank Aldoupolis and two sophs, Frank Guido and John Bessant, in the discs, reliable Jim Buchianeri, Dave Omar and Roberto Volpini in the shot put and Bob Gallo and Dennis Satterthwaite joining Menchi and Giannotti in the javelin.

It was expected Lawyer, Goguen, Antoon and Daley would make up the relay team today, but Hall was working with several other good runners in order to get some depth in case any of the top runners were sidelined.

"These look very good and I expect another excellent season," Hall admitted. "I want to thank the YMCA for letting us use its track until Veterans Stadium was ready. This helped us immensely."

All league meets are scheduled for Hormel Stadium in Medford except those on May 14 which will be run in Quincy.

Gentry Optimistic

Several Outstanding North Harriers Back

Last spring the North Quincy track team was undefeated Greater Boston League champion, walloping rival Quincy, also unbeaten at the time, in the final meet to clinch the title.

Veteran Coach Bob Gentry lost some outstanding performers including the sensational Paul Affsa, but has several outstanding veterans back.

When North opened its season against Everett today at Medford, Gentry had experienced boys in most events and expected to be especially strong in the weights.

"We have our top weightmen back and should do well in all the weight events," Gentry said.

Lee Davis is the top discus thrower, followed by John Graceffa, John Panarelli and Ken Zinitti.

In the shot put Panarelli is the top man, holding the school record and he should be one of the best in the league. Steve Leet is the number two man and Joe Morrissey number three.

Jim deVarennes, Ken Baker, Panarelli and Bill Morgan are all excellent in the javelin and Panarelli placed first in the state meet last year in this event.

North also appears to have strength in the running events but may not have the depth in some that it has in the weights.

Kevin Henry, who holds the school record, heads the two-milers and in a recent practice meet did 9:54, outstanding time for so early in the season. Dick Malloy, a sophomore, is behind Henry.

Matt Clancy and Paul Bonoli are strong milers but Gentry was a bit concerned about the half mile. Sophomore Bob McCormick was looking best but behind him there were question marks.

Jeff Strungis is a fine quarter-miler and is joined by Jim Hurley and another good looking sophomore, Glenn Mullen.

In the 220 Baker is the top man and Danny Coughlin, a fine sophomore, has looked good.

Greg King leads the 100-yard dashmen with another sophomore hope, Dave Ashmanskas behind him.

George McCall, Steve Little and Jack Reynolds are excellent high hurdlers and Gentry plans to use two of them in this event and use the other in the half mile. It is the same story in the low hurdles with Lee Davis, unbeaten last spring, deVarennes and Vin Cameron looking good. Gentry plans to shift one of them to another event and at present it looks like Cameron.

"I consider Reynolds one of the finest all-around performers on our squad," Gentry said. "I may use him in any one of several events, depending upon the circumstances."

Dave Mahoney leads the high jumpers, with McCall, Little and Reynolds on fine prospects, while Coughlin is the best looking long jumper. Gentry is working to get some depth in this event. The same is true in the triple jump, a new event in the GBL this season, with Paul Lippens carrying the load. Gentry is also trying to find some depth here.

Davis, Strungis, Reynolds and Baker loom as the top relay runners, although several other boys are looking good and may see action in the relay.

"We had about 50 turn out and with so many good looking prospects, I am able to juggle a bit," Gentry said. "We should have another good season but will have to struggle to go unbeaten again."

Boosters Club To Honor Quincy Basketball Squad

The Quincy High school basketball squad will be honored April 24, at 7 p.m. by the Quincy Presidents Basketball Boosters Club at the Vo-Tech school cafeteria, announces Anthony Malvesti, president.

The dinner will be highlighted by the presentation of several awards. Principal speaker will be Northeastern U. Coach Dick Dukeshire.

Invited guests will include Rev. Elden Zuern, Quincy Point Congregational Church and Mrs. Zuern; Mayor and Mrs. James McIntyre, Supt. of Schools and Mrs. Lawrence Crodon, Quincy High Principal and Mrs. Lloyd Creighton, Athletic Coordinator and Mrs. Carl Leone, Mrs. Ann Coughlin, sponsor of the John Coughlin Memorial Award; Coach and Mrs. Martin Finnegan, Assistant Coach Mike Greenlaw and Past Club Presidents Guido Pettinelli and Theodore DeChristofaro and their wives.

Awards will include those to the Most Valuable Player, Players Award voted by the players, outstanding achievement, accomplishment and sportsmanship awards. There will be awards to the junior varsity players as well.

The John Coughlin Memorial Award will go to the player with outstanding desire.

The Dr. Joseph Broderick Memorial Award will go to the Most Improved Player and the Michael C. Finnegan Award to the player voted for outstanding achievement.

The committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Donohue, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pike, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Iovanna, Mr. and Mrs. Armando Reggianini, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Bertrand and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Long, the ticket chairman.

Smith Pessimistic About ENC Chances

Eastern Nazarene College has had some fine baseball teams the past four years but Coach Jim Smith is pessimistic about this spring's prospects.

The Crusaders opened with a 10-inning 2-2 tie with Southeastern Mass. University, and yesterday was to meet one of three new opponents, Framingham State. Other new foes are St. Francis of Biddeford, Me., and Roger Williams of Providence. Three double-headers are on the schedule, against Nassau on April 20, Barrington April 24 and King's College May 15.

"I would have to say we'll be weak this year with a lot of question marks," Smith said. "We have some good pitchers and will be strong in the outfield but the rest of the picture bothers me. We are weak in the infield and the hitting worries me."

ENC is inexperienced with only three starters from last year's team.

The Crusaders received a bad break when Ron Bradley, last year's starting catcher and an outstanding player, had to give up baseball in order to have two knee operations. He played throughout a brilliant basketball season with bad knees which slowed him down and made it an extremely painful though successful season.

"I hate to lose a year of baseball but feel my future will be in basketball and I must have the operations," Bradley said. "I hope to play some kind of basketball after I graduate." He has another year to go in which to set more ENC records.

Trying to fill his shoes behind the plate are Senior Ken Mingleddorff and Sophomore Don Jordan of Braintree. Smith rates Mingleddorff of New Bedford the better defensive catcher and Jordan the better hitter. The Braintree player will also see action at third base.

Topping the pitchers is 6-5 Dan Willis, a fine freshman with a good fast ball. Behind him are Southpaw Bill Whitman, another freshman, and Howard Gugins, still another frosh from Maine. However, Gugins rates as number four behind Doug Sorenson, the shortstop and one of the best hitters. Don Fads and Weymouth's John Milly, a sophomore, both outfielders, will also do some pitching.

Two of the three veterans are Sorenson, the starting shortstop, and Dave Keene, the second baseman. The other is Don Kaufmann, a regular outfielder last year.

Davidson, who was an outstanding pitcher before hurting his arm, is a 6-5, 220-pound power hitter and, like Gardiner, hits from the left side.

Eads, a brilliant basketball player, Kauffmann and Milly make up the starting outfield.

Other members of the ENC squad are Scott Willy of Weymouth, an outfield letterman; Dan Krumm, an infielder; Rich Tanco, an infielder and Steve Yerdon, Club. There will be 54 classes for English, Western ponies, hunters and jumpers. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded.

Further information may be obtained from calling the school at 843-3453.

QJC Defeats Aero Tech, 6-3

Quincy Junior College opened its third season of baseball Monday and Coach Dave Burke hopes to make the Mass. Junior College League playoffs for the second year in a row.

In Monday's opener QJC defeated East Coast Aero Tech, 6-3, in its only non-league game of the season.

Justin McCarthy pitched five innings and Bob Paster the last two, holding the losers to three hits. Each showed fine control as McCarthy walked one and Paster failed to issue a pass.

John Stevens drove in two runs with a line single, Jimmy Broderick had a long triple and Paster a double.

"I was pleased with the pitching in particular," Coach Dave Burke said. "The defense was also strong and the hitting was adequate."

Quincy just missed the playoffs in its baseball debut two years ago but last season finished second in its division to make the post-season series.

Yesterday the Collejons opened their league season against Graham, today host Chamberlayne in a 3 o'clock game at O'Rourke Field, Monday faces Newbury at O'Rourke at 10 a.m. and next Thursday meets Newbury at 3:30 at Allison Park, Newton.

"We have only two returnees from last year but I was pleased with our performances, especially the hitting, in practice games with North Quincy and Milton High schools," Burke said. "We scored a lot of runs but so did the other teams and it depends upon how our pitching comes along."

The QJC coach feels a lot rests on how fast three ex-servicemen, pitcher Justin McCarthy, second baseman Charlie Sullivan and outfielder Charlie Moore get into shape. Each was recently discharged from the service.

McCarthy, from Boston Tech, North Quincy's Bob Paster, Ned Tobin of Catholic Memorial and John Murphy from Boston English are the pitchers. All except Murphy are right-handers.

Tom Piscatelli of North Quincy and Paster will do the catching. Paster was an outstanding catcher for North Quincy High.

John Stevens from Quincy High is the first baseman, Sullivan from Quincy and Curt Howe from Hyde Park are taking care of the second base job, North Quincy's Jim Broderick, co-captain and one of the two veterans, is again the shortstop, and Jim Donovan from North Quincy and Joe Corrigan from Boston Tech share the third base chores.

The outfielders are Moore from Brockton High, Gary Timlin co-captain and the other veteran, and John Hart from English. Some of the pitchers will play in the outfield if needed.

"All the pitchers have shown promise, although a bit wild, and I think they will come along all right," Burke said. "It looks as though we will hit well with Broderick, Stevens and Timlin looking like the best bets."

Salvucci Crusaders' New Backfield Coach

Gay Salvucci, one of Quincy High's all-time backfield greats, has been named backfield coach at Holy Cross College.

He will work under the Crusaders' new head coach, former Boston College star Eddie Doherty.

Salvucci was fired as head coach at American International College following the 1970 season after 15 years.

Despite an unimpressive 52-78-5 record at AIC, Salvucci produced some fine teams and developed some of the top players in New England, including several from Quincy.

Salvucci is a former All-New England halfback and in 1952 was named to the Little All-American team while playing at AIC.

Pike, Cairns Named To GBL All-Star Team

Bob Pike, Quincy High basketball captain, and Tom Cairns, 6-7 junior center at North Quincy, were named to the Greater Boston League all-star hoop team.

Pike, a 6-3 forward who played last weekend in the annual Capitol Tourney in Albany, N.Y., averaged 23 points a game for the Presidents and was the team's top rebounder and one of the best defensive players. He was just nipped by Lou Caprio for the Munroe MacLean Sportsmanship Trophy.

Cairns, who averaged 16 points a game, was the outstanding rebounder for the Raiders.

Trailside Museum Open School Vacation

The Trailside Museum in the Blue Hills will be open during school vacation from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. starting April 19th.

In cooperation with the Earth Week activities, Bob Stanhope, Director of the Museum, is offering free admission to anyone who brings 25 bottles or cans to the museum.

The Trailside Museum, located on Canton Ave. just north of Route 128, offers an interesting look at the flora and fauna of the Blue Hills, with ecological, zoological and biological exhibits, as well as many wild animals, such as owls, weasels, porcupines and snakes, all indigenous to the Blue Hills region of Massachusetts.

A visit to the Trailside Museum can be both recreational and educational and affords the family an opportunity to spend time in a relaxed atmosphere while enjoying the experience of becoming acquainted with the natural history of the Blue Hills.

Jimmy Durante Stage Biography In Works

Director ROMAIN GARY is one person who firmly believes in "covering" all the artistic angles. His next picture, "KILL", is being shot in two versions—one with nude scenes, and the other with the girls clothed. Or as GARY so astutely puts it "By filming two versions we are assured that the needs of the Catholic and non-Catholic countries will be catered to"... And no GARY is not "getting" religion. He just feels that in the long run the two version concept will pay off in more dollars. After all, an "erotic" motion picture isn't worth the price of admission if half of the footage doesn't get past the censors... "THE MEPHISTO WALTZ" world premiered in Boston to a first three day capacity business. Which doesn't say much for the public's taste. The flit stinks...

As often as not it takes that one film to rocket an actor into the elite star category. And thespian HYWEL BENNETT just may have his ticket to Olympus in "PERCY". The film has crowds queuing at the box office, and is giving English critics fits trying to come up with enough superlatives for BENNETT's spellbinding acting and the overall excellence of the production... "PERCY" will be making the American scene in a few short months... RAY MILLAND was in Paris for the "LOVE STORY" premiere... RAQUEL WELCH has been signed for the title role in "A POPE CALLED JOAN". Please no nude scenes!... ROBERT QUARRY has paced a two picture a year, five year deal with American International Pictures. The 25 year veteran of film, television and Broadway was offered the lucrative setup after his "COUNT YORGA, VAMPIRE" clicked handsomely at the box office. And yes, a sequel to "YORGA" is in the works...

Danish film whiz JENS JORGEN THORSEN is putting the final touches on his next project, "LIFE OF CHRIST". THORSEN is best remembered for his award winning classic "QUIET DAYS IN CLICHY"... BERNARDO BERTOLUCCI comes into his own as a director with his absorbing and perceptively powerful "THE CONFORMIST"... DANNY and MARLO THOMAS are mulling over plans which will involve them in a family picture project. With their respective television "family" audiences numbering in the millions, they should have no problem packing them in through the turnstiles... DENNIS HOPPER's next starrer, "THE AMERICAN DREAMER" will premiere on an estimated 30 major college campuses throughout the land...

As forecast in this column a few months back, DIANA ROSS will make her film debut this year. The vehicle planned for her by Motown Productions is "THE LADY SINGS THE BLUES". The motion picture is based on the life, times and struggles of bygone superstar BILLIE HOLIDAY... The stage biography of JIMMY DURANTE is in the planning stage... While scores of American actors are taking up residence in England so as to avoid the Uncle Sam tax bite, PETER SELLERS does an about face and flees to Ireland to avoid the English tax bite... Though he has been advised to the contrary, JAMES MASON is going ahead with his plans to make "THE TEMPEST"... STEPHEN BOYD's career and money are tied up in the action-western "CATLOW". As the star and producer BOYD needs a hit to salvage a slipping career and the bundles of invested money involved...

Character actor BRUCE DERN gets a chance to do his thing as the lead heavy in the JOHN WAYNE starred "THE COWBOYS"... Remember JOSEPH KAUFMANN? The early sixties rock singer screen debuts in "JUD"... CARLO PONTI has purchased the film rights of the off-Broadway comedy "THE HOUSE OF BLUE LEAVES"... To get a proper idea of the worsening plight of the major picture studios, one only has to gaze at the indebtedness of UNITED ARTISTS CORP. which exceeds $170 million... Entertainer DANNY KALEIKINI was selected the "Outstanding Hawaiian of the Year" by the State Assn. of Hawaiian Civic Clubs... MICHAEL J. POLLARD must find the character actor groove a rough road to hack. The 1968 best supporting actor nominee hasn't had a solid film under his belt since, and in the past 9 months hasn't had so much as a script offer.

Some actors are never satisfied. MIKE CONNORS is doing the groan bit because his "MANNIX" chores are preventing him from pursuing a motion picture career. Before "MANNIX" came along, CONNORS was going nowhere in films. Why he wants to go back to this media is beyond this viewers comprehension. Every year more and more name stars are flocking to television... JENNIFER JONES returns to the screen in the Canada bound "HELLE". The picture will be directed by ROGER VADIM sometime in the summer. With "HELLE" Miss JONES may decide to stay out of retirement—we hope. She has always been a too talented an actress to allow her skills to be wasted with inactivity... GORE VIDAL will direct and script "THE CITY AND THE PILLAR" in the latter part of the

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS*NOTICE OF REQUEST FOR HIGHWAY DESIGN APPROVAL*MEDFIELD - ROUTE 27

A submission is being made to the Chief Engineer of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works for approval of the basic design for the relocation and reconstruction of a section of Auto Route 27 in the Town of Medfield.

The project consists of the construction of a two lane highway with paved shoulders from a point on Hospital Road, approximately 1,600 feet east of the Charles River and extending in a southeasterly direction on new location to a point on Spring Street, approximately 700 feet southeast of Main Street.

The design submitted is similar to that shown at the public hearing held in the Medfield Town Hall on October 28, 1970.

Plans as well as other information submitted in support of the request for approval will be available for viewing by any interested person in Room 605, 100 Nashua Street, Boston, Massachusetts from 9:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. Mondays through Fridays.

Kennedy Optimistic Over Quincy's $2.2 Million Code Funds

Despite an expected allocation of only $4 million of HUD funds in the entire New England area, Quincy's request for $2,210,851 for code enforcement will receive "full consideration," Mayor James R. McIntyre has been informed by Senator Edward M. Kennedy.

Senator Kennedy, who telegraphed the Department of Housing and Urban Development regarding Quincy's status, writes:

"Although the allocation of only $4 million for the New England Region presents a bleak picture - particularly since the funding requests are over $36 million -- I do think it encouraging that HUD expects to give Quincy full consideration as may be necessary for operational requirements."

A letter from Regional Administrator James J. Barry to Kennedy noted that 31 applications were on hand or expected from New England localities for Code Enforcement type projects.

He wrote:

"We are especially interested in seeing that cities with on-going code enforcement programs, such as Quincy, remain operational where code enforcement needs exist. Consequently, we expect to give Quincy full consideration as may be necessary for operational requirements from FY [Fiscal Year] 71 funds when these are made available to the region."

Congressman James A. Burke [D-Milton] meanwhile announced he has contacted the Assistant Secretary of HUD stressing the urgency behind the pending application.

The application for $2,210,851 was submitted June 24, 1970. Ever since the initial six-month period went by with no approval or disapproval forthcoming, Burke said he has been in constant contact with HUD on the matter.

Replies of the Agency to date have indicated the Administration is holding back $200,000,000 worth of funds appropriated by Congress for urban renewal.

The Congressman accused the Agency of going against the wishes of Congress which was recognizing the critical need for funds facing the cities across the nation when it arrived at the appropriation figure last year.

Burke said he was hopeful there was substance to recent indications in the press that the Administration may be reconsidering its decision to impound funds in view of the increasing criticism both in and out of Congress.

He went on to say that there were numbers of worthwhile projects which deserved immediate funding rather than postponement, for a program which may never be approved, such as revenue sharing.

in pollution, will be a great source in controlling the pollution of our beaches and shore-line.

The Health Department noted that:

"The shore-line and beaches are a great asset to the people of Quincy and they are not being fully utilized - due to the unsightly and unhealthy conditions created by the careless disposal of debris, and also, due to material washed ashore during storms and high tides."

"We are all aware of the problems caused by polluting our waters. The Quincy Health Department feels that citizen participation, and involvement

"We are enlisting the aid of residents and neighborhood organizations to assist us in this project."

The Park Department and the Public Works Department will supply city trucks and drivers for the two clean-up dates, to haul the debris to the city landfill dump.

"The success of this project depends upon the volunteer assistance we receive from residents of Quincy," the Health Department said.

Volunteers are asked to call 773-1380, Ext. 225 or 227 - for information concerning time and place to report.

Isn't There Something He Could Do for the Country?

Quincy High School Teacher Uses Black's Creek As 'Sea Lab'

"Project Sea Lab" is the somewhat unusual teaching method employed by Charles H. MacLaughlin, science and biology teacher at Quincy High School since 1965.

For the past six years, MacLaughlin has used Black's Creek as a "lab" for performing tests on the elements and showing his students marine life in the marshes.

Last year MacLaughlin, a member of the Quincy Education Association, learned about the availability of a former U.S. patrol boat used during World War II. It occurred to him that taking students into Quincy Bay would be an excellent way of learning first hand about marine life and the pollution level of the bay.

The Quincy School Committee voted to pay for a day's "schooling" on the high seas for many of the biology students.

"My purpose in using the large craft is to get the students involved, picking up various types of marine life that fish feed on and live on top of the water", said Mr. MacLaughlin.

Samples were taken by the students, and back in the classrooms, pollution tests were performed by use of microscopes.

Up to the present, MacLaughlin has found the giving of first hand knowledge of the environment to the student important, interesting and rewarding. He hopes, and the student both hopes also, that funds will be secured for additional trips.

Traveling with youth is not new for MacLaughlin.

This year, with School Committee approval, he and his wife completed an April 1-4 educational trip to Washington, D.C. with 34 high school students.

TB Assn. Urges Support For Anti-Pollution Bill

Dr. Donald A. Martin, President of the Norfolk County-Norfolk Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association urges public support of House Bill 5233 on citizen right of action against public nuisances.

Purpose is to minimize damage to the environment.

The legislature would allow 10 individuals or an organization to institute a suit to enforce statutes and regulations affecting natural resources. Provision for posting a $500 bond assures the seriousness and responsibility of the plaintiff. The court can order abatement of pollution to the lowest level attainable without causing prohibitive cost.

New anti-pollution regulations have been instituted and health officials need citizen support to do their jobs, the association said.

Dr. Martin notes that citizens concerned about the environment can take positive action by informing their senators that they wish this bill as it now stands to be passed.

Further information on this bill and on other environmental action is available from the Association at 326-4081.

Ward 3 Councillor John Koegler reportedly has the strong inside track on the newly created $11,000 city forestry director post.

The money will be available by City Council appropriation May 1.

Big question right now seems to be when Mayor McIntyre will make the appointment.

If it is made anytime before the coming city election and Koegler is the one, he will have to resign from the council, leaving the seat wide open.

But, if it is made as early as May 1 or shortly after, there is a possibility a fill-in Ward 3 councillor could be named to serve until the end of this year.

This, if done, would give the fill-in the edge in the city election.

MEANWHILE, along Checkerboard Square [alias City Hall], insiders are offering to bet you that McIntyre will not seek re-election.

They think that before all the moves are completed, Ward 5 Councillor Walter Hannon will be running for mayor and City Council President Arthur Tobin for His Honor's senate seat.

HARD TO BELIEVE it, but former Mayor Thomas Burgin celebrated his 69th birthday the other day. He looks fiftyish.

And there are still a lot of folks around Quincy who fondly remember him as "The Boy Mayor". That was in 1935 when he was elected at the age of 33.

Actually, he was the third youngest mayor in Quincy's history. Youngest: Russell A. Sears, 27, and Charles Francis Adams, 29. Mayor McIntyre is the fourth youngest, taking over at 35 in 1966.

Burgin, Amelio Della Chiesa are now Quincy's only two living former mayors. And Burgin is the only one of the two still living here. Della Chiesa is now a Pembroke resident.

ALSO MARKING a milestone are Rep. and Mrs. Joseph Brett. Celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner at Sherry's. Sharing the event with them were their daughter Barbara, her husband, George Richardson, and four grandchildren Billy, Laurie, Karen and Linda.

Which reminds me that Joe's wife, Ruth, fondly refers to him as "My Brett and butter".

HOW MUCH do you think Quincy's worth? Well, in 1970 it was $210,433,250 or almost $5 million more than the year before. That is the total value, reports Assessors Chairman Elmer Fagerlund, of buildings, land and tangible personal property in the city.

MAY BE A new face in the Ward 5 political picture. Warren A. Powers, aide to Dist. Atty. George Burke, reportedly is thinking about making a bid for the Ward 5 City Council seat.

Powers, who graduates from Suffolk Law School next month, played a key role in Burke's smashing run for district attorney and for City Council prior to that.

DID YOU KNOW that James [Pete] Ricciuti, the Mayor's executive right arm, was a pretty good second baseman with the West Quincy Pals some years back? And, he's pretty good today at political fielding.

QUINCY'S average year-round temperature is 67.5 degrees. It's what! Well it is in Quincy, Fla. George Wagner of North Quincy sends back a brochure highlighting the Florida city's features. Founded in 1823, it's one of Florida's oldest cities. Known as the "Shade Tobacco Capital" because it produces a multi-million dollar crop of cigar wrapper tobacco. Also has 20,000 head of beef cattle. Plus peach orchards. And is now expanding industrially.

Has a population of 8,870 with an appointed city manager and five elected city commissioners.

Tobin Recommends Marion Andrews As Council On Aging Director

Marion Andrews, assistant director of the Quincy Council on Aging, is being recommended by City Council President Arthur H. Tobin to succeed Donald H. Strong, executive director.

Strong, director for the past 17 months, has accepted the position of coordinator of the Offices of Services to the Elderly in the new State Department of Community Affairs.

Tobin said he has written Mayor James R. McIntyre recommending Mrs. Andrews for the $12,000 a year position.

"I think that Mrs. Andrews has earned the position," Tobin told the Quincy Sun.

"She has served as assistant to two executive directors (John Sheehan and Mr. Strong)," Tobin said. "She has won the trust of Quincy senior citizens. She is capable, dedicated and sincere. I do not think that we have to go outside the city to fill this vacancy."

If appointed, Mrs. Andrews would be the second woman department head in the city's history. The first was Mrs. Hattiemay Thomas, City Clerk back in the 1940's.

"I am also recommending that the position be taken out of Civil Service," Tobin added.

Mrs. Andrews, a resident of 85 East Elm Ave., Wollaston, has lived in Quincy most of her life. She is a Braintree High School graduate.

She has been married 31 years to Ralph Andrews, and they have two children and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Andrews was news correspondent for The Patriot

Ledger for 16 years before becoming assistant to the director of the Council on Aging four years ago when the program was begun in Quincy by Mayor McIntyre.

Some eight years ago she became the only woman named for non-sectarian activities as "Woman of the Year" by the North Quincy Knights of Columbus.

Since joining the Council on Aging, Mrs. Andrews has been instrumental in assisting the organization of some 15 Senior Citizens groups in different areas of Quincy, and is now engaged in organization of a 16th group at St. Mary's parish in West Quincy. She has had charge of the annual May Festival, Senior Citizens' banquets and dances, as well as other activities.

well as teenagers to attend and help plan the day's events.

Each year more than 2,000 children participate in the July 4th activities at Welcome Young Playground. Success of the program is a joint effort of City and State Representatives, local merchants and interested residents.

Persons unable to attend but who would like to help or offer suggestions may call Mrs. Beverly Reinhardt at 773-2959.

Quincy has 16,502 residents 60 years of age and older, according to the official U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, 1970 report.

That is slightly under 19% of Quincy's total population of 87,966.

Of these 6,450 males and 10,052 females, an active group of some 200 attending the Senior Citizens conference held here last fall completed a questionnaire for this year's White House Conference on Aging.

Of these 58 were working full-time, and 150 part-time. An additional 20 would like full-time employment, and 35 part-time.

But — 120 do not always have enough money to make ends meet, and 157 can't buy the "little extras."

Nearly three times as many of the senior citizens said they found their lives at this point satisfactory and worthwhile as compared to those who did not.

The questions were:

● Do you sometimes feel that you are just not wanted? "No," replied 140. "Yes," said 50.

● Do you sometimes feel that you have nothing to live for? "Yes," replied 134. "No," 54 responded.

There were 124 who had no trouble getting from home to church, shopping or visiting friends — 24 because of no nearby public transportation, 26 because of insufficient money to pay fares.

Where does the money come from? Social Security provides 171 with income, followed by employee pensions — only 10 are dependent on relatives.

How much money? Of the 200 polled, 17 receive less than $100 a month; 84, from $100 to $199; 45 from $200 to $299; 18 from $300 to $399 and 22 $400 or more.

Only nine of those polled spend more than $400 a month, while 23 spend less than $100. The majority, 125, spend between $100 and $299 per month.

Further, three of those replying had no education — and at the opposite end of the line there were 12 college graduates.

Regardless of financial resources or education, the poll indicates that 177 are happy where they live, 178 cook for themselves and while 101 eat alone, 95 have someone to eat with and 42 more would like to have.

That leads up to the place of the senior center in community life. There were 149 who replied that they went to a senior center — 48 who would like to go, and only 9 not interested. — That's a pretty good percentage, 197 out of 200!

"We know there is a definite need for spare time recreation activities among senior citizens," says Mrs. Marion Andrews, assistant director of the Quincy Council on Aging.

"This is proven by the fact that they support all social activities that we run. Also, any trip that the Recreation Department sponsors is very well attended.

"In social activities," she noted, "since we first started there four years ago, we have tripled the amount of people that turn out. The first Nite Out in 1967 at North Quincy High School, 125 senior citizens turned out — we had a dinner and entertainment. At that time we were told that senior citizens don't come out at night.

"In 1971 for the upcoming dinner dance in May, we fully expect at least 400 people."

Further attesting to their hardiness, Mrs. Andrews comments that the mid-February "Hearts and Flowers" dance — in the middle of winter at night — drew more than 300 active participants.

"There were 1,600 people at the Senior Citizens' May Festival last year," Mrs. Andrews enumerates — this year we expect to double that!"

The Quincy Recreation Department also finds a good response not only for trips, but for rallies like that of Suffolk Downs [four busses are being readied for the April 23 trip], and for theatre parties.

Fifteen Senior Citizens Clubs are now going at full pace — another is planned for St. Mary's parish. Membership ranges up to 85 and 110 in larger groups.

WHO'S WHO IN EYE TREATMENT

OPHTHALMOLOGIST: A medical doctor who specializes in the diagnosis and treatment of defects and diseases of the eyes.

As a physician, he may perform surgery or prescribe other types of treatment including eye glasses.

OCULIST: A seldom used term for ophthalmologist.

OPTOMETRIST: A person trained to find and measure the degree of near sightedness, far sightedness, astigmatism etc. He is not an M.D. He does not treat infections or perform surgery or diagnose illnesses from their effects on the eyes. He may use glasses, prisms, or exercises to compensate for eye defects.

OPTICIAN: A skilled technician who supplies and fits glasses on the prescription of a physician. He does not examine eyes. He is trained to make the necessary facial measurements, make glasses and to adapt them to the patient, following the physician's authorization.

Quincy Hospital Auxiliary Plans Several May Events

May activities of the Quincy City Hospital Auxiliary were outlined at a recent executive board meeting.

Mrs. Jacob Carp presided, while Mrs. Gerald Antonelli was hostess at a coffee hour preceding the meeting.

Reservations for the May 3 luncheon-bridge at St. Chrysostom's Church should be turned in as soon as possible to Mrs. M. Edward Webby, chairman.

On May 4 the Auxiliary will be represented at the Massachusetts Hospital meeting at the Sheraton-Hyannis by Mrs. Frank Rimmer, Mrs. Carp, Mrs. Ralph Manthorne, Mrs. James McCormick, Sr., Mrs. Webby and Mrs. Chester Weedon.

During Hospital Week, which begins May 9, the Auxiliary will have its Annual Pink Tea on May 12 as part of the hospital program. The next board meeting will be held that day at the hospital.

Mrs. Z. Cranston Smith, chairman, presented a check for $3,500 to the Auxiliary from the Cherry Gift Shop.

Mrs. Rimmer announced a memorial plaque for Frank A. Corbo and a donation to the Memorial Fund for Dr. E. Murray Britton.

Poet's Corner

What I Want

I want to ask, so I can know,
A place to think, where I can go.

I want to say, just what I feel,
Living in life, learning it's real.
I want to do, what I feel right,
To tackle the odds, with powerful might.

I want to have faith, in my beliefs,
Withstanding life's challenging griefs.

I want to love, marry one day,
Listen to friends, and hear what they say.

I want to help, the ones deprived,

To restore their hope, see them revived.

I want to give, myself forget,
To be content, if even in debt.

I want to take time, also to dream,
Ne'er to rush, as a rapid stream.

I want to act, not merely speak,

To search for truth, something to seek.

I want to be free, never chained down,

Be able to smile, avoiding a frown.

To respect the rights, others believe,

I want to be strong, when I must leave.

Closer to light, in order to see,
I want to live, not only be.

Thought For Food

Cutting beef round steak in thin strips reduces cooking time. The strips can be dredged in seasoned flour, as are pieces or cubes of steak, and browned before being included in your favorite round steak recipe. Braise until strips are tender.

One-dish meals can be simple and nutritious. Combine meat with potatoes and vegetable, cooked rice, or macaroni. Add canned condensed soup or gravy. Cook on top of range or in the oven.

Instead of garlic on your French bread, try a mixture of butter, brown sugar and grated orange or lemon rind.

The proteins in enriched breads and cereal become more useful for bodybuilding when they are served in the same meal—with foods in the meat group—or with milk. For example, corn flakes and milk, a cheese sandwich, spaghetti with meat balls.

CARTOON ON CANVAS—Comic-strip art continues into spring in a zippy little all-weather jacket of cotton canvas. In primary colors with black and white, it's by Weather Tamer.

DEMURELY DARING—The long and short of spring's fashion story are combined in this outfit worn by Maid of Cotton Pat Perry. A demure, ankle-length dress of ecru-colored cotton leno tops short shorts of cotton duck in the same shade. By Donovan-Galvani of Dallas.

Go Italian, Make Gnocchi

Italians are famous for their flavorful foods and among the most famous is Gnocchi. They have various types, some seasoned with cheese and margarine, others with rich sauces including a tomato base sauce with sweet or hot sausages. The recipe here may be a main dish, a side dish or served as an appetizer depending on the size of the serving.

Gnocchi Parmesan

- | | |
|----------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 1 1/4 cups cream enriched farina | 1 cup grated Parmesan cheese |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 2 eggs, well beaten |
| 1 quart milk | Margarine for topping |
| 1/2 cup Mazola margarine | Grated Parmesan cheese for topping |

Mix farina and salt in 3-quart saucepan. Gradually stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to boil and boils 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in 1/2 cup margarine, 1 cup cheese and eggs, blending well after each addition. Spread mixture in a greased 13 1/2 x 8 1/2 x 1 1/2-inch baking dish. Chill about 1 hour or until firm. Cut into 2-inch squares. Place desired number of squares on lightly greased baking sheet about 1-inch apart. Brush each square with margarine and sprinkle with cheese. Bake in 400°F. (hot) oven 15 minutes or until lightly browned around edge. Garnish with bits of pimiento, olive anchovies or parsley. Makes 24 squares or 60 appetizer size.

Note: Gnocchi mixture can be covered and refrigerated or frozen several days.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - You can give your affairs a good forward push by acting with courage and dignity. Enthusiasm is felt now as responsibilities begin lifting.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Try to improve your social and financial position so you can take advantage of a sudden opportunity that is coming your way soon.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - Nothing seems to be going right and this hasn't improved your disposition. Settle down and take it easy. Things start improving soon.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - You should be feeling more optimistic as your social and domestic affairs improve. Some of your desires are fulfilled now, giving needed lift.

VIRGO [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - A domestic blow-up this week will serve to clear the air and relieve some of the frustrations but don't let it get out of hand.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - The friendship you make now, wonderful as it seems, probably won't last more than a week - so act accordingly.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - Being generous and calm will help overcome the difficulties that have been plaguing you lately - some things just can't be hurried.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - With a little care mistakes can be avoided. Fortune is smiling in your direction so put your best foot forward.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - Some of the aggravation plaguing you was caused by poor planning. Keep your emotions under wraps until your thoughts clear up.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - The intrigue going on around you causes worry and upsets. Avoid being too critical, try to ride the storm out calmly.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Hasty action or speech could cause unnecessary anxiety to some one you love so get the facts straight before you act.

It's In To Be Thin By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

What is "good?"

A philosophical question which has puzzled philosophers through the ages. "Good" is often thought of by the dieter as abstinence from goodie-land - the world of cakes, cookies and candy.

This is not really good enough for anybody who has five or more pounds to lose. For this kind of problem, a definite program is needed. It may not seem fair that the penalty of doing without a chocolate bon-bon should not in itself be rewarded by an instant weight loss of three pounds, but the facts speak for themselves - it just does not work that way. "Good" in a dieting sense means a well balanced program. "Good" means eating a protein and a carbohydrate at every meal. "Good" means weighing your food, not yourself. "Good" means taking care of yourself.

A "good" program yields good results. Good luck.

If you have any questions regarding dieting, or wish a copy of our free fish folder, please write me in care of The Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Ave., Merrick, New York.

Adams Birthplaces Open For 75th Season

The Adams Birthplaces on Franklin St. opened to the public this week for their 75th season.

The cottages will be open to visitors daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., until Sept. 30, except Mondays when they will be closed unless Monday is a holiday.

Admission for adults is 50-cents for one house and 75-cents for two houses. Accompanied children are admitted free.

In 1970 more than 6,000 visitors registered at the little red houses, coming from 37 states, six Canadian provinces, and 30 foreign countries.

The houses are presented as the simple farm homes in which the second and sixth Presidents of the United States were born and grew up so that visitors may gain a better understanding of the two great Americans.

Continuing as hostesses this year will be Mrs. Florence Gamins, in charge of the John Adams birthplace; Mrs. John B. Ames, at the John Quincy Adams birthplace; and Miss Edith Cameron, Mrs. John J. Manning and Mrs. Howard Miller as assisting hostesses.

The houses are owned and maintained by the city of Quincy under direction of City Historian William C. Edwards. Contents are owned and the houses are open to the public by the Quincy Historical Society. Mrs. Bradford E. Gale is chairman of the Society's house committee in charge of the operation.

The Adams family still owned the old homesteads in 1897 when Charles Francis Adams II had them restored and readied for opening to the public.

The Quincy Historical Society established operations in the John Quincy Adams Birthplace and has continued there for the entire 75 years.

The John Adams Birthplace was opened to the public by the Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, which operated it until 1951 when it, too, was taken over for operation by the Quincy Historical Society.

The two properties were deeded to the City of Quincy by the Adams family in 1940. The houses are designated as National Historic Landmarks by the United States Department of the Interior.

Supreme Knight Keynote Speaker At North K. Of C. Golden Jubilee

John W. McDevitt, Supreme Knight of the Knights of Columbus, will be guest speaker when the North Quincy K. of C. observes its 50th anniversary at a dinner-dance Sunday at the Surf Ballroom in Nantasket.

In observance of the 50th anniversary, Mayor James R. McIntyre has proclaimed Saturday as "North Quincy Council 2259, Knights of Columbus Day."

The proclamation notes that the North Quincy Council was instituted April 24, 1921 with 158 charter members, and now has approximately 750 members in the Quincy area.

The Mayor cited the Council for its aid to Quincy residents "in times of tragedy and need through contributions of blood, food and clothing to fire and storm victims, funds to those in need, and in many other ways."

District Deputy Harold Esdale is chairman of the 50th anniversary event which will open with a social hour from 6 to 7 p.m. followed by a dinner and dancing.

The ticket committee includes Paul Crowley, Forest Mason, Frank Dorney and John Sullivan, Sr.

A history of the Council has been written by Past Grand Knight John Burke.

Charles J. Graham is the present Grand Knight.

McDevitt, former Waltham school superintendent and former chairman of the Massachusetts State Board of Education, received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Boston College.

In 1956 he was elected to the K. of C. board of directors and upon being chosen deputy supreme knight in 1960, joined the international headquarters staff in New Haven. He was elected supreme knight in February, 1964, heading the fraternal benefit society of 1,200,000 Catholic men.

McDevitt has received a number of honorary degrees for his contributions to education and his role as outstanding Catholic lay leader. In 1965 Pope Paul VI named him a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Gregory the Great, and in 1968 he was raised to the rank of Knight of the Grand Cross, highest in the order.

Also present at the head table will be Superior Court Judge Frank Tomasello, who is also a past State Deputy.

Mission Of Christian Healing Opens Sunday At Christ Church

Rev. Alfred W. Price, D.D. will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing at Christ Episcopal Church, 12 Quincy Ave., from Sunday through Tuesday.

The mission is sponsored by the South Shore Council of Churches and Christ Church and is open to all, regardless of church affiliation.

Evening services on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will be at 7:45 p.m. Morning services on Monday and Tuesday will be at 11 a.m.

During each service there will be an opportunity for individuals to come forward and receive special prayers and the Laying-on-of-hands.

Dr. Price, who conducted a similar mission at Bethany Congregational Church in 1967, is serving his 26th year as rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in downtown Philadelphia. Regular healing services are held there each week which draw people from all parts of the country.

Dr. Price holds degrees from the University of Pennsylvania, Harvard Divinity School and Webster College. He has studied at Oxford University in England, and at the New York School of Social Work. At Episcopal Theological Seminary in Cambridge, he was a classmate of Rev. Chester A. Porteus, rector of Christ Church.

During World War I he served with the Marine Corps and is National Chaplain of the Military Order of the Purple Heart. At the invitation of the U.S. Air Force, he toured Air Force installations in Germany conducting missions for members of the Armed Forces and visiting hospitals.

Louis Steinberg President Beth Israel Brotherhood

Louis Steinberg was installed as President of Beth Israel Brotherhood, Quincy Point, in ceremonies at the sanctuary conducted by Rabbi Jacob Mann.

Other officers installed were: Morton Arons, first vice-president; Henry Gretskey, second vice-president; Abraham Levine, secretary; Herbert Rubin, financial secretary; and Irving Isaacson, publicity chairman.

Hyman Asnes, Israel Schwartz, Saul Kurlansky, Gustavus Robinson and Emanuel Kaplan were installed as the board of directors.

A breakfast followed the ceremonies. At the head table were Rabbi and Mrs. Mann, Jack Klaver, president of the Synagogue, and Mrs. Klaver; Mrs. Henry Lapon, president of Beth Israel's Women's Council, and Mr. Lapon; Mr. Steinberg, President of the Brotherhood, and Mrs. Steinberg.

Sunday at 7:15 p.m. there will be a ceremony of re-dedication of the Beth Israel Synagogue, Quincy Point.

Nickerson Post Holds Memorial Service At First Church

Sunday, for the first time, members of Robert I. Nickerson Legion Post held a Memorial Observance at First Church of Squantum. Services were led by Rev. Ernest H. Hayhow, pastor.

This was the beginning of an arrangement whereby annual Memorial services will be held alternately at First Church of Squantum and Star of the Sea Church.

As a part of the service, the "Prisoner of War Prayer" of the American Legion was recited in unison by the congregation.

A breakfast followed at the Post home on Moon Island Rd., Squantum. Councillors J. Vincent Smyth and John J. Quinn with Rep. Joseph E. Brett were among officials attending, along with State and National Legion officers including Department Vice-Commander Robert Leo Eng of Quincy.

PRISONER OF WAR PRAYER

"Lord, shelter the prisoners of war in Indochina.

Open the hearts and minds of their captors that they may be restored to their homes and loved ones.

Each assumed the burdens of war according to his beliefs and those of his nation.

These tasks brought him hazard, pain and prison - too often the lot of the warrior.

But Lord, these burdens so heavy are carried by so few. Save for your command, these few might be forgotten.

They must not be forgotten.

O God, in whom we trust, humbly we ask you to lift their burdens; give them sustenance and strike the shackles that deny them freedom."

Come, Let Us Reason Together

By Dr. William F. Knox
Personal Counselor

'Rolling On Square Wheels'

"I've been fighting every inch of the way"...said the attractive young wife..."I just can't seem to accept life...I feel like an odd ball...I bottle things up within me...I can't trust anyone...especially my husband...I don't even have any confidence in myself."

Perhaps what this woman is saying many people feel...just haven't voiced it. So many people feel like "born losers"...rather than being success prone...rather than flowing with the main stream of life...of natural achievement...personal growth and fulfillment These people make everything so difficult...all of their relationships are strained...especially their marriages...decisions are difficult to make...if there is more than one way to do something these people will find the hardest way. They are personally miserable most of the time and always find someone to blame for their misery. They just seem to roll on square wheels.

Some people are depressed much of the time. Many express these symptoms..."I feel so tired all the time"...I have difficulty getting to sleep at night"...I feel so alone"...I feel miserable and blue"...I get irritated by my family and friends"...I feel shaky...jittery"...Life seems so hopeless with nothing to look forward to." These are common complaints of people who do not feel that they are moving in the main stream of life. They're rolling on square wheels.

Some people in addition to depression suffer from paranoid feelings...feeling that "people are watching me all the time"...they talk about me"...they're trying to harm me"...some people hate me"...I can't trust anybody." Certainly these people have a hard time in the main stream of life. They're rolling on square wheels.

Many people perceive things that are not real...normal tastes have become distorted...shapes change..."I hear odd voices in my head"...all these are distortions of the senses.

You say..."Those are some of the ways I feel much of the time...what's wrong with me." In varying degrees many people are afflicted with some of these symptoms. If they are severe they can render a person unable to work...unable to relate to a husband or wife...unable to experience normal growth and fulfillment in the main stream of life.

It may be that such a person is so compulsively fixated on something that they are "off-balance" on everything else. Some scientists are thought to be "very odd" because nothing is important to them but their scientific pursuit...so they neglect their bodies...proper eating...normal living relationships. A compulsion about a sport...or reading...or clothes...or cats...or cars...things can become abnormal and distort life and prevent the fullness in the main stream of life.

It may be that a person is suffering from a chemical imbalance within his/her body. Some research seems to point to the fact that we get an over-abundance of calories and an under-supply of needed vitamins...that this vitamin deficiency may contribute to a psychological drag...make one feel that one is rolling on square wheels...that this chemical problem affects adversely the way we think...the way our senses react...the way we see...hear...smell...taste...feel...trust...love.

Now...if you know your chemistry is balance okay and you still have some of these symptoms...chances are you have an attitude problem...your attitude toward life...toward men...women...children...work...play. Inevitably there is a cosmic intention toward progress...toward development...toward health...toward achievement...toward love. But when we think negatively energy is wasted...time is wasted...a drag is placed on our movement in the main stream of life...we roll on square wheels.

Why are you depressed? Why are you paranoid? Why are you distorted in your perceptions? Is the answer...Your odd hang-ups? Your unbalanced chemistry? Or your unbalanced thinking? Whatever it is you don't have to go on that way...now there is hope for happiness for you in life's main stream.

You too can stop rolling on square wheels.

Romanul Brothers, Choir Featured

Quincy Symphony Orchestra To Mark A 'First' April 28

The Quincy Symphony Orchestra will mark a "first" at its third concert of the season April 28 when it features the Concert Choir of Quincy High School and the three Romanul brothers as soloists.

The performance will be at 8:30 p.m. at Quincy High School auditorium and is open to the public without charge.

Prof. Robert E. Brown will direct the Quincy Symphony Orchestra. Gale Harrison is director of the Quincy High School Concert Choir.

Victor, Michael and Myron Romanul will perform the Beethoven Concerto in C Major, Op. 56 for violin, cello and piano. A fourth brother, Alexander Romanul, 9, is also a violinist with the Quincy Symphony Orchestra. They are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. Flavill C. A. Romanul of Brookline and grandsons of Stella Roman, former leading soprano at La Scala of Milan and the Metropolitan Opera of New York.

Victor Romanul, 11, began his study of violin when he was six. The pupil of Alfred Kripps, assistant concert master of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, he has played several chamber music concerts with his brothers. This is his first appearance with the Quincy Symphony Orchestra.

Michael Romanul, 14, began to read and write music when he was four. He studied first the piano, then cello, and for the past few years has been the pupil of Martin Hoeherman, assistant principal cellist of Boston Symphony.

In 1970, Michael won the Harry Dubbs Memorial Award as Outstanding Young Musician of the Year in Brookline and performed the Kabalevsky Cello Concerto No. 1 with the Youth Concerts Orchestra. He composes music and sometimes performs his own works.

Myron Romanul, 16, began the formal study of piano when he was five. He made his debut as soloist with members of Boston

Concert Choir under Mrs. Harrison will sing the Missa Brevis in honor of St. Joannis de Deo by Joseph Haydn. Featured will be Miss Lewann Carter, soprano soloist, 1970 graduate of North Quincy High School, and a music student at Eastern Nazarene College.

Orchestra and choir will combine to perform "Battle Hymn of the Republic" arranged by Peter J. Wilhousky.

The program will open with "Academic Festival Overture, Op. 80" by Johannes Brahms, played by the Quincy Symphony Orchestra.

Seven From Quincy To Perform With Orchestra

Seven young people from Quincy are members of the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra which will present a concert on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Boston's Jordan Hall.

Playing in the 117-member orchestra conducted by Walter Eisenberg will be Eileen McBourne, a member of the senior orchestra; Joanne Ahola, Jeffrey Dill, Rodney Dill, Darlene Harding, Alex Randall and Mark Roseland, junior orchestra members.

Saturday's concert is the 13th annual major fund-raising event for the group which includes students from some 70 Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire communities.

Carmen Ungar To Paint Model At Exhibit Tonight

Carmen Ungar, art librarian at the Thomas Crane Public Library, will demonstrate portrait painting in oil at the main hall gallery tonight at 8 p.m.

A model will be chosen from the audience and will be given the portrait to keep. The work will take an hour or slightly more.

Included in Miss Ungar's art training are eight years under Margaret Fitzhugh Browne, portrait painter.

Consumer News

By Robert H. Quinn
Attorney General

[This is another column prepared by Attorney General Robert H. Quinn to explain the state consumer laws.]

A housewife returns from the supermarket, opens a carton, and pours out a stream of sour milk. A housepainter returns from the hardware store, prys open a can, and stirs a stick through coagulated, useless enamel. A high school student strolls out of the spa, tears the paper from a bakery snack, and sinks his teeth into a dried-out donut.

All three of these consumers have paid out money for spoiled or worthless products -- perishables that outlived their usefulness before they ever left the store shelves.

NO GOOD

Complaints of spoiled or useless purchases are frequently reported to the Consumer Protection Division of my office. Consumers object that the store should not have had the merchandise on sale. And they complain that they had no way of knowing whether the packaged products were good or stale.

Even the most careful consumer has no way of distinguishing between a box of freshly baked crackers and a package that may be several years old.

DATE ON BOX

Because every consumer should have the right to know whether a package has aged, I have filed a bill that would require the dating of perishable commodities.

If this bill is adopted, the law would require every perishable product to carry data informing the consumer of the date after which the product can no longer be guaranteed useful. This date would be carefully determined, and it would be printed in a conspicuous position on the box.

FULL DISCLOSURE

Many of the Massachusetts consumer laws have been passed to ensure that the consumer will be fully informed before he makes his purchase. The truth-in-lending law requires lending companies to tell the consumer ahead of time how much interest he will be charged for a loan -- both the percentage rate and the dollar cost.

The consumer protection act requires a clear statement of time and liability conditions on advertised guarantees. Another law requires the front page of door-to-door sales contracts to carry a statement informing the consumer that he has the right to cancel that contract within three days if he changes his mind.

Advance precaution is one of the most important aspects of careful buying. Every consumer deserves the right to be fully informed about a product before he decides to buy. A consumer who can see the age of a carton he selects from a shelf does not run the risk of crying over spoiled milk.

If you have questions about these laws or if you have a consumer complaint, contact the Consumer Protection Division of my office at the State House.

Romp Over Malden, Everett

Quincy, North In Fast Track Start

North Quincy and Quincy track teams dominated the Greater Boston League last spring and indications are they may do the same this year.

A year ago the teams went into their annual meet, the last on the league schedule, undefeated. North rolled to an impressive win.

The league opened its 1971 season last week and it was the same old story as Quincy, with, in Coach Tom Hall's words, "the best team in 10 years," romped over Malden, 84-47, and Bob Gentry's North squad breezed past Everett, 80½-50½.

The league rested this week due to school vacation but will resume next Tuesday at Medford with Quincy facing Revere and North taking on Somerville. Thursday it will be Quincy vs. Somerville and North vs. Revere, also at Medford.

Saturday both local squads will compete in the annual state relays, Quincy in the Class A event at Brockton, North in the Class B competition in Andover.

The weather conditions last week were extremely poor for a track meet but there were several fine individual performances.

Taking top honors for Quincy was John Provost, outstanding back in football, trying track for the first time. John, who had turned in brilliant efforts in a practice meet with Weymouth North in the triple jump and low hurdles, won both events with impressive showings in the league opener.

Provost turned in the day's best effort in the triple jump, winning with a leap of 40 feet, 10½ inches, a league record. His time in the low hurdles was a fine 23.2 seconds.

"This boy is amazing and is a natural athlete," Hall said. "I think he could star in any sport he tried. He should set some more records this year."

Quincy's other winners were Ray Lawyer in the 100, Fred Antoon, 440; Joe Goguen, 880; Bobby Ciano, mile; Johnny Johnson, high jump; Rich Menchi, javelin; Dave Coull, high hurdles, and the relay team of Bobby McDermott, Ciano, Lawyer and Antoon.

Second places were taken by Steve McCarthy, 100; Johnson, 220; Pete Daly, 440; Jim Buchianeri, shot put; Goguen, long jump; Brian Feeney, two-mile; Wayne Richards, discus; Kevin Eggersheim, low hurdles; McDermott, high hurdles and Jim Dubois, triple jump.

Placing third were Mike Gilcoine, 220; Bob Spillane, 440; Mark MacLeod, 880; Paul Walberg, mile and Roberto Volpini, shot put.

As expected North proved strongest in the weights, as predicted by Gentry.

Three Raiders extended unbeaten streaks which started last year. Kevin Henry won the two-mile, Lee Davis the low hurdles and John Panarelli the discus. Henry won in 10:22 as he beat everyone [the two-mile is run with those from all eight schools competing, the winner decided on best time]. Davis' winning time was 22.2 seconds and Panarelli's winning distance 115 feet.

North swept the weight events with Steve Leet winning the shot, Jim deVarennes the javelin and Panarelli the discus. "All these boys were with us last year and I figured the weights would be our strongest events," Gentry said. "We still must find some depth in our running events, but we should be all set in the field events."

North's other winners were Jack Reynolds, 220; Jeff Strungis, 440; Paul Bonoli, 880; Matt Clancy, mile; Steve Little, triple jump [his 37 feet, 5½ inches was second only to Provost]; and the relay team of George McCall, Reynolds, Henry and Danny Coughlin.

Taking seconds were Greg King, 100; Coughlin, 220; Bob McCormick, 880; Coughlin, long jump and McCall, high jump.

Third places were taken by Dave Ashmansas, 100; Cuniff, mile; John Graceffa, shot put; Reynolds, high jump; Ken Ziniti, discus; Little, high hurdles and Dick Malloy, two-mile.

In a non-league meet prior to the league opening, North's weakness in the running events was noticeable as it lost to Abp. Williams, with some of the area's top runners, 74-57. The Raiders again dominated the weight events and the other field events.

Furnace Brook Women Bowlers Hold Banquet

Furnace Brook Bowling Group of the Furnace Brook Golf Club held their annual bowling banquet recently at Sherry's.

The winning team included Captain Mrs. Harold Sager, Miss Sharon Sager, Mrs. Charles Kusser, Mrs. Mary Hambo and Mrs. Martin Kusser, a family group.

Runners up were Captain Linda DeBane, Marie Coyne, Mrs. Dolph Aimola, Mrs. Benjamin Brownell.

Officers are Mrs. Anthony

Spinello, chairman; Mrs. John Wilson, secretary and Marie Corayer, treasurer.

Mrs. Harold Sager with 318 had high three for the season; Mrs. Linda DeBane with 124 had high single and high average of 95.

Planning the banquet were Mrs. Hambo, chairman; Mrs. Hugo Mardin, secretary; and Miss Corayer, treasurer, with the assistance of Mrs. Spinello.

Bowling resumes in September.

North Netmen Defeat Bishops

A year ago North Quincy's tennis team had a 9-2 record and for the first time qualified for the state tournament.

Despite the graduation of four standouts, Steve Stasiak, Jim Machado, Peter Danis and Tom Quinn, Coach Bill Willoughby's Raiders are off to another fast start.

North defeated Abp. Williams and Brookline and is idle until Wednesday when it plays at Weymouth North. Thursday it will play at Quincy.

"We had a fine turnout of 21 and, although the squad appears as strong as last year's, we have a much tougher schedule," Willoughby explained.

Returning lettermen are Kevin McGinley, Tom Bellana, Tom O'Malley, Gary Calhoun and Phil Swann.

Newcomers include David Duval, Bert Bray, Roger Parratt and Larry Dyer.

In a 5-0 sweep over Williams, McGinley, O'Malley and Bellana swept the singles while Calhoun teamed with Parratt and Duval teamed with Swann to win both doubles.

Pat Connolly (Age 13) Rolls 154 In State Competition

Thirteen year old Patrick J. Connolly of 16 Gordon St., North Quincy, rolled an incredible 154 single string to top all entries in both the Junior and Senior divisions of the annual State Championships being held at Fairway Sports World, Natick, Mass., last Saturday.

Pat, a member of the Quincy Bowling Little Loop Junior team, had strings of 154, 92 and 98 for a 344 total.

Other members of the team rolled as follows: Paul Smith, 239, Mike McBride, 268, Dick Kelly, 277 and Bruce Perry, #81 for a total team score of 1,409 which had them in fourth place after the first day of competition. Leading Junior total to date is 1,464.

The Little loop senior team, ages 14 through 16, competing against boys much older rolled a fine 1,591 and should be among the top 10.

Fifteen year old Paul Peckham, individual high average scorer of the Little Loop for the past two years, led the senior team with a 351 followed by 14 year old Dick Magnarelli, 341, Mike Durkin, 309, Mike Martinielli, 296 and Dick Hirtle, 294. The team rolled strings of 516, 529 and 546.

Of the 300 books bowled by both the juniors and seniors there were only two foul line violations called by the officials. "This in itself" said Joe Gildea, president of the Little Loop, "is a moral victory as most youngsters today are prone to overlook that little black line."

The league now in its 17th year has won two state junior championships and placed highly every year. Gildea is high in his praise of the youngsters and especially the men who contribute 27 Saturday mornings every year to make the program a success. The directors are: James Carey, Stanley Kowalski, John Gundel, Max Zides, Dick Morrissey and John Mullaney.

Sponsors who make the Little Loop possible are:

Quincy Elks, Wollaston Lobster Co., Hennessy Plumbing Supply, Bryan Post VFW, Dick Morrissey Club, D.A. Geo. G. Burke, Local 513, AFL-CIO, Mayor McIntyre, Atlantic Fuel Oil Co., Montclair Men's Club, Wollaston Blvd. Bowladrome, Lodge 1451 Machinists AFL-CIO, Hutchinson Oil Co., Rep. Joseph E. Brett.

Three Quincy Tourney Winners

Three Quincy residents are among the winners of the Massachusetts Bay March of Dimes Candlepin Bowling tournament drawing.

They are: Robert E. Pettengill of 74 Bennington St., South Quincy, who receives a dinner for two at Sherry's in Quincy.

Dorothy Welch of 19 Bass St., Wollaston, recipient of dinner for two at The Cathay House.

Eugene Murray of 55 Dixwell Ave., Quincy Center, winner of dinners for two at the China Garden in Raynham.

Wollaston Man Remains Loyal To Bruised Bruins

You'd have to say that Howard Tattire of 29 Beach St., Wollaston, is a loyal Bruins fan.

On Monday morning, the day after the world [and Canadians] fell on the Bruins, Tattire dropped in to see his friend, Richard Newcomb, who owns the Mug 'n Muffin on Beale St.

Newcomb for months has been selling a special Bruins' cookie [patterned after their insignia] and it has sold like the proverbial hot cake.

On Monday morning, however, they weren't moving at all. The Bruins' image had been tarnished.

But the cookies were fresh and Tattire bought the remaining three dozen - at a discount price.

And, he's sending one to each of the Bruins to help sweeten their suddenly sour world.

"It was just a bad series," says Tattire who, with his wife, Cinda [principal of Woodward School] and four children, Howie, Jr., Alyssa, 8, Marla, 7, and Ryan, 5, make up a loyal rooting section.

"We still think the Bruins are the greatest team."

Pete Laing Wins HN Marathon

Pete Laing, 18, former Quincy High School track star, outdistanced a field of 25 entrants including three women to win the annual Patriots' Day marathon of the Houghs Neck Legion Post.

Women who entered the Houghs Neck classic for the first time were Lois Murphy of 135 Sea Ave., who sprinted across the finish line at the Post Home paced by husband Bill Murphy; Anna Back of 260 Winthrop St. and Virginia Kamb of 80 Bayview Ave. All work out daily at the Nut Island Pumping Station course.

And the three girls completed the more than a mile run which included a rugged uphill loop around Great Hill before return to the starting line at the Post Home.

Robert M. Perchard, 29, of 175 Rhoda St. was in second place, followed by Stan Picarski, 34, of Hawthorne St.

Other marathoners were John Hirtle of 1099 Sea St., Thomas Crowley of 73 Spring St., Ted Meyer of 119 Lenox St., Gary Keefe of 45 Bay View Ave., Tom Gibbons of 46 Wall St., Jim Ryan of 46 Macy St., Ray LaRue of 63 Crosby St., Mike Orseno of 89 Post Island Rd., Brian Litke of 59 Manet Ave.

John Picarski of 868 Sea St., Bob Craig of Ratchford St., James Quigley of 99 Stoughton St., John Bogan of 882 Sea St., Mike Kenney of 35 Weymouth St., Jim Goldrick of 218 Rock Island Rd., Steve Picarski of 105 Edgewater Dr., Peter Finlay of 6 Hood St., and Jimmy Steen of 47 Sea Ave.

Ray LaRue and Paul McKeon were marathon chairmen. Commander Ernest Fitzgibbon checked runners en route from the Post's antique fire truck manned by Past Commander Paul Shaw.

Sweeney's , UCT Still Setting Sizzling Youth Hockey Pace

In Quincy Youth Hockey action, Sweeney's continues to lead the Bantams with an 11-4-6 record, while United Commercial Travelers is firmly entrenched in first place in the Pee Wees division with an 28-0-1 record.

In their last game, Sweeney's defeated second place Farina 5-4, bringing to 63 their total goals for the season as against Farina's 53. Goals for Sweeney were by Pete Raymer from Mike Norton; John Ryan from Rob Henderson; John Connolly from Johnnie Norton, John Ryan from Mike Norton and Pete Raymer, and Gerry McEleny from Fred Murray and Dennis Lynch.

Farina's goals were by Pat Barry from Paul Lynch and Bob McCulley. Joe Gillan assisted.

In the Pee Wees division, Hannon defeated Keohane 5-2. Hannon's goals were by Jack Cavanaugh, Dan Cronin, Jack Malloy, Jack Cronin and Paul Barry. Credited with assists were Brian Bertoni and Rich Ahola, two each; Jack Cronin, Billy Allen, Steve Cronin and Jerry Cronin. Jack McHugh and Jim Kelley scored for Keohane, with assists by Tim MacLean, John Forsy and Hugh MacDermott.

Morissette blanked Maguires 1-0, with John Fair assisted by Mark Kelly scoring the lone goal. Crestview defeated Wollaston 4-2. Dave Perdios scored twice for Crestview, Paul Connolly and Stevie Clinton, one each, with assists by Dave Hurley and Bob Peters. Wollaston's goals were by Rich Meehan and Bill Doherty with assist by John Kelly.

UCT topped Davis 3-1, with goals by Paul Messina, Rick Carnali, and Brian Jolley. Assisting were Neal Sullivan, Bob Hayes and Rick Smith. Ed Santry, assisted by Dave Peters and Andy Rogantino, scored for Davis.

Quincy Legion Appoints Needham Pitching Coach

Barry Needham, former Randolph High pitching sensation whose four successive no-hitters attracted scouts from all major league teams, has been appointed pitching coach for Quincy Legion team for the 1971 season.

Announcement was made by Past Cmr. Paul McLaughlin, who is athletic director.

Needham was signed by the then Kansas City Athletics but a sore arm ended a promising pro career.

Doug Fleming will continue as head coach and other appointments include Cmr. James Hewitt, team manager; Joseph Lawler, treasurer, and Past Cmr. Robert Leo Eng, public relations.

A city-wide tag day program has been approved and will be held April 30 and May 1 to financially aid the youth program.

QJC Seeks Fourth Win Today

The Quincy Junior College baseball team today seeks its fourth win in five games when it plays Newbury Jr. College at Newton.

Friday QJC hosts Burdette in a 3:30 game at O'Rourke Field, Monday is home to Newton at 3:30 at O'Rourke and next Thursday will be host to Wentworth at 3:30, also at O'Rourke.

Monday the Collejons hiked their record to 3-1 with an 11-5 win over Newbury at O'Rourke.

Justin McCarthy started and went six good innings to pick up his third win in a row. He gave up only four hits. Ned Tobin pitched the seventh and gave up two home runs.

QJC had 12 hits, with Tobin and Jim Broderick collecting two apiece.

In its previous game Quincy nipped Chamberlayne, 2-1, as McCarthy, the winner against Aereo Tech in the season's opener, pitched a two-hitter.

QJC scored both runs in the fourth when Gary Timlin walked, scored on Broderick's hit and Broderick scored on John Stevens' squeeze bunt.

McCarthy, recently discharged from the service, struck out seven and didn't give up a walk.

QJC had suffered its first loss, 3-1, to Graham, with Timlin's home run the lone Quincy run.

Eastern Lawn Bowling Matches Here In August

Bowlers from Canada, California and Florida are expected to compete in the Eastern Division Lawn Bowling Championship Matches to be held in Milton and Quincy in August.

Early plans for the competition were made by the general committee of Quincy, Milton and Boston Lawn Bowling Clubs Sunday at John F. Kennedy Health Center in Quincy.

Headquarters will be at the Sheraton Motor Inn, North Quincy, with five days of championship play on both Quincy and Milton greens.

Local women plan to entertain the visiting women for the first week in August with bus trips and luncheons.

Albert Cline is general chairman. Co-chairmen include Samuel Oldershaw, president of Quincy Bowling Green Club; Dave Dakers, president of Milton Bowling Green Club; and Stanley Haigh, president of Boston Bowling Green Club.

Thomas Howard is secretary and treasurer of the event, with Richard J. Koch in charge of publicity.

St. Coletta Ice Skating Show May 2

The annual Braintree St. Coletta Day School ice skating show will be held Sunday, May 2, at 2 p.m. in Ridge Arena, Braintree.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There is no admission charge and no solicitation will be made. The show is a means for the children at the school to say "thank you" to all of the people who have remembered them during the year.

The 1971 program is based on well-known fairy tales. Fifty of the multiple-handicapped students at St. Coletta's will appear in 15 production numbers.

In various scenes, Mother Goose, Miss Muffet and a moon-struck cow will greet the audience. Humpty Dumpty will fall from a wall, and the Old Lady with so many children will have an eight-foot high shoe for a home. Alice in Wonderland will join Snow White admiring a pie full of blackbirds.

By request, two of last year's most popular performances will be repeated - the all-star hockey game and a Modern Fairy Tale from Laugh-In.

North Delayed In Season Start

Quincy Building More Than Character

At the start of the Quincy High baseball season Coach Bob Basiliere said, "we are building character this year."

However, they must be building a lot more than character as the Presidents went into yesterday's game with North Quincy boasting a 3-0 record.

Monday Quincy pushed home a run in the bottom of the ninth to nip defending Greater Boston League champion Somerville, 2-1, in the league opener for both teams at Adams Field.

Friday, the Presidents host Chelsea at Adams Field at 10 a.m., Monday play at Medford at 3:15 and will be idle next Wednesday.

Meanwhile, North Quincy, with a 4-1 record in practice games, had its scheduled opener Monday at Chelsea postponed to Tuesday afternoon. The Raiders faced Quincy yesterday, Friday play at Medford at 10 o'clock, Saturday host Boston Latin at 10 in a non-league game and Monday will be home to Malden at 3:15.

Monday's Quincy-Somerville game was typical of the close and exciting games for which the rivals have become noted. It was featured by outstanding pitching and defensive play.

Billy Maver opened the ninth for Quincy with a single. Mike Fahey, outstanding Somerville pitcher, threw too late to second on a bunt and everyone was safe. Here Bob Collins, fireballing right-hander replaced the classy southpaw and retired the first two men he faced. However, Quincy pulled a double steal and Dennis Marvelle was ordered passed intentionally. Junior catcher Ed Panaschi lined the first pitch over second to drive in Maver with the clincher.

Quincy had scored in the opening inning when Russ MacDonald singled, stole second and scored on Maver's single.

Somerville tied the count in the fifth inning on a misjudged fly with two outs.

Sophomore Mike Marvelle started on the Quincy mound and went five innings. When he walked the first batter in the sixth, Basiliere brought in southpaw Jimmy Walker, appearing in relief for the third game in a row. He pitched hitless ball the rest of the way to pick up the win.

Marvelle allowed all four Somerville hits, struck out five and walked one. Walker struck out two and didn't issue a walk.

Maver had two hits, MacDonald, Mike Marvelle [double], Dennis Marvelle and Panaschi one each.

"Our defense was superb again and we had no errors," a pleased Basiliere said. "Marvelle and Walker pitched well. Marvelle had thrown 78 pitches and I decided he had enough. He is only a sophomore and had worked awfully hard."

Last week Quincy followed up its opening day romp over B.C. High with a 4-2 win over Abp. Williams as the defense again made the difference.

The Presidents had only four hits but alert baserunning sparked the victory.

MacDonald, a real hustler, scored the first run in the opening inning when he was hit by a pitch, stole second and scored all the way from second on an error at first base.

In the third, Mike Orlando walked and MacDonald reached on an error. They pulled a double steal and both scored on a passed ball.

Quincy added a run in the eighth when Bob Malvesti's squeeze bunt scored Maver.

Williams scored both its runs in the sixth inning. Starter Bob Driscoll, who looked sharp for five innings, ran out of gas and gave away to Bob French. Walker again came in to put out the fire and blank the Bishops the rest of the way.

Artie Boyle had two hits for the Presidents, while Maver and Malvesti had the others.

Last Friday's scheduled non-league game with Boston Latin was cancelled.

Bud Mosher's Quincy Junior Varsity edged Somerville, 3-2, in eight innings Monday to make its record 2-1. John Ford doubled in the eighth and with the bases loaded, Jon Caron brought in the winning run with a suicide squeeze bunt. Scott Broome started pitching and was relieved by Ford.

The Jayvees, nipped by B.C. High, 5-4, on a dropped fly in their opener, walloped Abp. Williams, 12-0, as sophomore right-hander Bobby Lane pitched a no-hitter. He struck out seven and walked three.

West Quincy Pals, Granite City Teams To Hold Reunion

West Quincy Pals and Granite City Ice baseball clubs combine for their first reunion banquet at Morrisette Post home, April 28.

James J. Ricciuti, former second baseman and now executive secretary to Mayor James R. McIntyre, will be master of ceremonies.

Honored guest will be Rev. Joseph D. Segadelli, pastor of St. Isidore's parish in Stow, former curate at St. Mary's parish, West Quincy.

Other head table guests will be Hobie Robinson, past president of the Park League; Bill Enos, major league baseball scout; Sam Mele of the Red Sox; George McCall, former Park League coach; Orie Carella, coach of Granite City Champs of the Park League for three straight years; Guido Pettito, first coach of the West Quincy Pals.

Fans will recall the team that included: Bruno Sansotini, Philip DiBona and John Baldassini, catchers; Fred DeCoste, Paul Segadelli, Fred Taylor, Paul Paluzzi, Al Goodhue, James MacDonald, pitchers.

Bruno Carloni and George Hoyle, first base; James Ricciuti, Gino Pettito, Lawrence Ready, second base; Wally Mills, Ray Cattaneo and John Richter, shortstop; Warren Birch, Nick Malvesti and John Cattaneo, third base; Ed Murphy, Mike Fanichuck, Ed Gallagher, Art Shea, Mario Sansatime, John Malvesti, Tony Malvesti and Lawrence Malvesti, outfielders.

Granite City Ice baseball club won the Park League championships three straight years, earning them the right to keep the Park League cup. Hobie Robinson was its leader.

Among those attending will be Ted Rouillard, Charlie Bird, Berna Pellegrini, Pete Smith, Joe Pettito, Thomas Curtis, Eddie Giorgio.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Bruno Carloni at 472-7762; John Baldassini at 472-7163 or Gino Pettito at 773-5848.

Cattaneo Wins Quincy Hockey Most Valuable Player Award

Co-Captain Bob Cattaneo was the big winner at the recent awards dinner given the Quincy High hockey team by the Friends of Quincy Hockey.

Bob, named to most all-scholastic teams, was named the team's Most Valuable Player [selected by his teammates], and received the Friends of Quincy Hockey scholarship award.

Ed Wiedemann was the high scorer for the Presidents' Greater Boston League champions, Al Colby was named the Most Improved Player, Ken Kearney received the seventh player award and Tom O'Malley of North Quincy was selected as the most worthy opponent of the Presidents.

Cattaneo, Wiedemann, Artie Boyle and Steve Kleimola were named to the GBL all-star team and Boyle and Richie Patten were announced as next year's co-captains.

The seventh player award will become an annual trophy. It is named the Roscoe O. Sylvia Memorial Trophy in honor of the late father of Quincy Coach Bob Sylvia and assistant Coach Jim Sylvia.

'Where Is Britain Going?' UN Council Topic April 29

"Where is Britain Going?" is the topic of the seventh lecture sponsored this year by the United Nations Council of the South Shore to be held April 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall of the Church of the Presidents, Quincy Sq.

Speaker will be Geoffrey Godsell, Overseas News Editor of the Christian Science Monitor, himself a Briton.

Godsell who appears on television, has had wide experience. From Cambridge University he went into the Royal Navy where he saw active duty during World War II on convoy escorts. Later he served as liaison officer with the Italians, and was attached to the British delegation which drafted the Peace Treaty with Italy in 1946.

He worked for the British Broadcasting Corporation, and then served as the Monitor's Middle East Correspondent from 1956 - 1958. He was so well liked by the Arabs that, unlike most British journalists, his passport was not revoked during the Suez invasion. In 1958 he came to Boston as Assistant Overseas News Editor and has stayed with the Monitor since. His talk will be followed by a question period.

The lecture is free but there is a charge for the catered dinner preceding it at 6:30 p.m. Those wishing to make reservations for the dinner should call Miss Lena Foster, 17 Overlook Rd., or Miss Vera Call, 1000 Southern Artery, both Quincy, before April 26.

There are a limited number of dinner reservations available to students at a reduced rate.

Julius LaRosa Now A Disc-Jockey

ALEX DE RENZY, the producer who gave us that hardcore film footage "CENSORSHIP IN DENMARK", is now in Vietnam lensing what could prove to be a mixed trash bag without precedent. The tentative title of his work is "SEX IN SAIGON"... If the film is as sexually provocative as all reports indicate it to be, RENZY's latest outing could enrage American families even more in the chant to bring the boys home. What RENZY is filming is more than an X-rated stagaganza, but a political indictment against the social morals and political jurisprudence of the Saigon government as well... TIMOTHY DALTON is being given serious consideration for the role of Armand Duval in the AIP remake of "CAMILLE". The 1936 MGM version made a star of ROBERT TAYLOR and could do the same for DALTON provided he talks himself into the role...

VINCENT PRICE [remember him?] returns to the horror spook scene in the soon-to-be-released "DR. PHIBES". The film is slated for a May 19th world premiere in the style of a 1930 Hollywood opening night. And natch' the site chosen is Hollywood's own Pantage Theatre... Singer JOHNNY RIVERS will soon debut as a motion picture producer through his New Age Productions. RIVERS first project is "THE AWAKENING", a film which emphasizes the positive values of today's Aquarian Age youth... The picture is budgeted at $500,000, a neat trick in itself considering RIVERS plans to lens on 50 separate international locales... Newspaper owned radio and television stations are getting the FCC once over. The FCC feels that too much communicative power centered and controlled by one outlet is detrimental to the public good. They have my vote...

JULIUS LA ROSA, now deejaying for New York's WNEW, is hunting around for a suitable film script worthy of his acting skills... Don't waste your money on "WATERLOO". If New York audiences are any indication the ROD STEIGER starrer is far and away the stinkeroo of the year... And oh yes, "WATERLOO" is one of those big budgeted monsters which smart producers said would "never be made again". The quote goes back all of three years, which only illustrates how dumb "smart" producers really are... BJORN ANDRESEN may have a difficult time living down his "DEATH IN VENICE" motion picture debut press publicity. Unfortunately for him, because his performance is memorable, ANDRESEN is being billed as "the world's most beautiful boy"... "P.I.G." is a WARHOHL satire on the women's liberation movement, or as the title indicates, Politically Involved Girls...

QUOTE, UNQUOTE: Actor JAMES MASON verbally jabbing the shortcomings of the British film industry: "The British industry has been ultimately destroyed by monopolistic theatre chains". MASON went on to elaborate, "Now that the U.S. is pulling out, no British pictures are made anymore for the British public. We have the actors, but owing to the monopolistic situation, films are being made by American companies instead of English ones"... MASON shouldn't feel so badly. The stamp of Americana is ingrained, unfortunately, on most foreign film products... A tip of the ole' beret to CHRIS SCHENKEL, named this year's "Sportscaster of the Year". This is the fourth time SCHENKEL has been awarded this highest honor of the broadcasting industry... PIERRE SCHOENDORFFER makes his American debut in HOWARD HAWKS' "NOW, MR. GUS". The flick concerns the zany adventures of a globetrotting geologist searching for petroleum deposits...

Mexican motion pictures are having a difficult time selling north of the border. They aren't sexy enough. Seems the Motion Picture Board of Mexico is very censor prone, and demand and get the highest quality of entertainment on film... After all' too much contract griping BERT FREED has stepped into "EVEL KNEIVEL" which is now lensing on locale in far off Butte, Montana... The Museum of Modern Art [N.Y.C.] will honor veteran director FRANK CAPRA on June 24... CHUCK CONNORS fans will get a chance to see their hero in "THE DESERTER"... To this critic's knowledge the first film on record to feature Black cowboys was the 1938 edition "BRONZE BUCKEROO"... Signs of the Times: The Maryland State House of Delegates recently voted to eliminate $68,819 from the budget of the state board of censors. They feel the board is "inoperative" due to U.S. Supreme Court rulings...

France isn't the only country with a BARDOT to boast about. BABETTE BARDOT is the U.S.A.'s contribution to the big dimension scene. You can judge for yourself when our Miss BARDOT film debuts at the end of the year. A sexploitation threat to RAQUEL WELCH, she definitely is... YUL BRYNNER and MARK LESTER are topeast in the remake of "TREASURE ISLAND"... JULIE CHRISTIE will sign shortly for the lead in "BURY ME IN MY BOOTS", a true story based on the life and works of SALLY TRENT, the teenager who left home to help the derelicts of London... Flipping back the pages of time a few years, the late MARILYN MONROE got to her film start in a minor role of the 1947 "DON'T BOTHER TO KNOCK".

Stephen C. Rose Graduates From Naval Training Unit

Navy Airman Apprentice Stephen C. Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Rose of 212 Federal Ave., Quincy, has graduated from the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit, Memphis.

He will attend one of the Navy's Class "A" schools of the Marshall Plan Gets Favorable Reaction

Ward Elected School Committee Gains Support

City Councillor Clifford H. Marshall reports early support and favorable reaction to his proposed eight-member elected school committee.

Marshall, who hopes to get the plan on the Nov. 2 city election ballot as a referendum, proposes that:

- Six members of the School Committee be elected by wards, the same as ward councillors are.
- Two be elected at-large.

- The Mayor continue as chairman of the School Committee by virtue of office, making an odd number total membership to eliminate voting deadlocks.

Marshall, Ward 2 Councillor and State Representative said he has received a letter supporting the plan from Robert F. Denvir, Jr., president of the Houghs Neck Community Council.

Endorsement has also been received, he said, from the Community Action Council headed by Earle MacLeod and from the Ward 2 Civic Association, Keith McElman.

president.

City Council President Arthur H. Tobin has set the date of May 10 at 8 p.m. in the City Council Chambers for a public hearing to obtain public opinion.

Marshall is seeking an amendment to the Constitution permitting his ward-at-large school committee lineup.

If approved by the City Council, Marshall said, the amendment would be entered in the legislature as a late filed bill, and then come back to Quincy to be placed on the ballot in November.

At the present time, he noted, there are three school committee members from Ward 4 (Paul C. Kelly, Charles T. Sweeney and Francis Anselmo); two from Ward 5 (James F. McCormick, Sr. and Mrs. Alice Mitchell); and one from Ward 6 (Miss Ruth Scanlan).

"This means there are three wards in the city without anyone serving on the school committee," Marshall pointed out. "This includes maybe half of the voting population of the city - and the school budget represents about 50% of the tax rate. It would seem we would be better represented by ward-by-ward election of the school committee with two at-large members and the Mayor."

Mayor James R. McIntyre, Marshall says, favors a six-member committee elected by wards, and two at large. "He feels that just six members would not be advisable. There should be two members at large to give it over-all scope," Marshall said.

"I haven't heard any objections," Marshall said. "As a matter of fact, I think that more and more people have the opinion that it wouldn't be such a bad idea."

Marshall feels that there is a lack of communication between citizens and school committee members from other wards.

"People are feeling frustrated about schools, yet it is a major portion of the environment," Marshall commented.

"Government must be kept responsible to the will of the people and it must have an organizational structure designed to maintain the democratic processes through a system which ensures checks and balances but without resulting in a stalemate," Marshall continued.

"People will talk with someone they know," Marshall commented.

The May 10 hearing was set at the suggestion of Councillor John J. Quinn.

Marshall originally proposed a six-member school committee elected by wards. Present number, all elected at large, is six.

Councillor George B. McDonald and Tobin have said they favor the original proposal of six members elected by wards.

Shillito Calls Mount Vernon A 'Versatile Tool Of Freedom'

The Mount Vernon, a 13,700-ton dock landing ship, was christened Saturday by Mrs. Barry J. Shillito, wife of the Assistant Secretary of Defense, at the Quincy Shipbuilding Division of General Dynamics.

The 562-foot vessel, third of four such ships to be built at Quincy, was floated out at high tide in the afternoon.

In the principal address, Secretary Shillito termed the ship "an important part of the Navy-Marine Corps team, one of the most versatile tools of freedom in the world . . . with the ability to meet any emergency from showing the flag to participating in an invasion."

In paying tribute to the men who built and will serve the Mount Vernon, Shillito stressed the ship's versatility, as shown by her ability to launch helicopters, amphibious vehicles and landing craft; serve as a dry dock for repairs for smaller vessels; provide essential logistic support from her holds and assist in the care of the wounded through her own medical facilities.

"But the greatest role of this ship," he stressed, "is that of insuring peace that envisions a community of nations, free to govern themselves internally, yet mutually respecting and cooperating with each other externally."

In his remarks, David S. Lewis, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of General

Dynamics, said that since General Dynamics acquired the yard in 1964, the Navy had been the best customer.

"We hope that we will be able to continue this fine relationship," he added, "and also build more commercial ships, such as the Lykes Seabees, for both peacetime and military seafit purposes."

In his introduction of guests Lloyd Bergeson, general manager of the Quincy Shipbuilding Division, noted that the last five Navy ships delivered by the Quincy yard had received "high praise" from the U.S. Navy Official Trial Board. He promised Navy officials that the Mount Vernon will continue this record of excellence.

Vermont Academy Receives $52,000 Bequest From Wollaston Man

Vermont Academy in Saxtons River, Vt., has received a bequest of $52,000 from the estate of Herbert F. Barry of Wollaston.

The gift, one of a series that the school has recently received, was announced by Laurence G. Leavitt, Headmaster emeritus and chairman of the school's bequest program.

Mr. Barry, a native of Saxtons River and a member of the Academy class of 1896, resided for much of his life in Wollaston, where he was a stock broker. Prior to moving to Wollaston, he worked briefly at the Citizen National Bank in Newport, New Hampshire.

Michael Choukas, Jr., Headmaster of Vermont Academy, announced that the funds received in the Barry bequest will be added to the school's endowment fund. The yearly income will be contributed to the Alumni Fund, used to support the day-to-day operations of the school. Vermont Academy is a boy's independent secondary school founded in 1876. Its principle educational aim is to prepare students for college in a changing society. The school has a current enrollment of 172 boarding students from all over the U.S. and from several foreign countries. In addition, there are 15 day students. Vermont Academy offers over 60 different courses and a broad spectrum of extracurricular programs and athletics.

More Clancy Family Talent

Mother Of 11 Finds Teaching 'A Real Exciting Experience'

Mrs. Marion V. Clancy, music teacher at Atlantic Junior High School and a member of the Quincy Education Association, is believed to be the only mother of 11 children filling a full-time teaching position in the City.

Mrs. Clancy, educated at the old Washington School, Quincy Point Junior High School, Quincy High School and Sacred Heart in Weymouth, Regis College and Bridgewater State College, began her teaching career several years ago as a substitute at Sterling Junior High School.

Because of her ability, she was asked to apply for full-time employment.

With her family well grown up, Mrs. Clancy found her new work "a real exciting experience for me," and she relates to her friends her regret at not joining the teaching profession earlier in life.

"The Clancy Family" known to thousands of New Englanders, are blessed with unusual vocal ability. James Clancy, head of the house and a plumbing inspector, is the tenor, while Mrs. Clancy, a soprano, joins with many of her children in singing engagements on television and radio, as well as before private organizations.

"The Clancy Family" have also appeared at Symphony Hall, Jordan Hall and Gardner Museum in Boston. Following a Christmas Eve tradition, again this year for the ninth year will be appearing at Longwood Towers, Brookline.

In addition to her family and teaching responsibilities, versatile Mrs. Clancy is organist at St. James Church in Boston, and has also been organist at St. Mary's Church in West Quincy and Most Blessed Sacrament Church in Houghs Neck.

Her most recent accomplishment was as director of the two-night production "Swinging High" at Atlantic Junior High School.

In addition to her husband, James, the family includes Mrs. Mary Ellen Kelley, Joseph, John, Michael, Matthew, Julie, Steven, Eileen, Martha and Christopher, as well as Mrs. Peggy Lavery of Florida.

Taft, Roosevelt Here Same Day In Campaign 'Whistle Stops'

By PAUL HAROLD

Fifty-nine years ago today - just one day prior to the Presidential primary election, both President William H. Taft and former President, Theodore Roosevelt made visits to Quincy in a last minute effort to gain delegate support.

It was April 29, 1912. Employing the then popular campaign device of a "whistle stop", the candidates were in the city for probably less than 30 minutes. Taft's reception was well planned and organized. In contrast, Roosevelt's visit came as somewhat of a surprise to most of the city.

To insure that a large crowd would greet the President, flyers, banners and bands announced his 2 p.m. visit. At 11:30 a.m. the Wollaston band left Atlantic station while the Finnish band was instructed to march from West Quincy to Quincy Sq. at noon.

Mayor Eugene R. Stone and Admiral Bowles of the Fore River Co. went to Brockton to accompany Taft to Quincy. As their train entered the station, a salute of 21 blows of the train's whistle was sounded. The band played "Hail to the Chief" and whistles at granite yards throughout the city shrieked a welcome. Thousands gathered in the depot area to hear his 10 minute speech, interrupting him a number of times with "deafening cheers".

Teddy Roosevelt was also returning that afternoon from campaigning in Brockton and a re-shuffling of his schedule provided for a stop in Quincy. His special train could not be sidetracked at the Square, so the ex-President alighted at the Quincy Adams station and drove through South Quincy in an open car.

He had planned to address a rally at Alpha Hall [corner of Hancock St. and Cottage Ave.] but the crowd was so small that he proceeded on to the Square where he addressed the crowd from his car.

It was reported that his audience was less than responsive and had to be prodded into cheering by members of the local T R Club.

enthusiasm for Taft, however, was short lived as evidenced by the November election. Returns showed him with only 28% of the city's vote as compared with 39% for Roosevelt and 33% for Woodrow Wilson. Throughout the nation Taft placed third and the split in the Republican Party [Bull Moose] allowed for a Wilson victory.

Taft's visit of 1912 was of particular significance because he was the first President since Grant to visit Quincy as President. To the dismay of Mayor Stone and certainly to the students, school could not be cancelled for this historic event. School Superintendent Barbour was out of town for the day and the necessary arrangements for cancellation of classes were impossible.

William Howard Taft as a guest of the Women's Club made a second visit to Quincy April 5, 1917, one month before U.S. entry into World War I. His campaign this time was for military preparedness on the part of the U.S. A rally at the Quincy Music Hall highlighted his visit.

Sargent, Dwight Ask Support In Government Reorganization

Editor, Quincy Sun:

Since 1969, we have been working to develop a reorganization plan designed to bring order to our present chaotic and unwieldy system of state government.

This plan takes effect April 30. Three months ago we submitted a budget to finance reorganization. To date no action has been taken by the Legislature.

This inaction jeopardizes all that we have done to make this government work more effectively. We need your help and support - and the support of your readers.

We urge every citizen who cares about this government, who wants it streamlined and modernized, who knows it must be more efficient, effective and economical, to help us now.

We urge you all to write letters, make phone calls, make personal visits to the members of the House - and demand immediate action on the reorganization. The future of state government depends on the reorganization.

Many Improvements Here But--

Dr. Gale Sees Quincy As 'The Reluctant City' In Facing Responsibility To Blacks, Own Youth

[Editor's Note: Rev. Bradford E. Gale, minister of historic United First Parish Church [Unitarian-Universalist] the past 13 years, leaves Quincy today to become Director of Deferred Giving, Division of Promotion and Finance at international headquarters, Unitarian Universalist Association, 25 Beacon St., Boston]

The Quincy Sun invited him to reflect on his years here--what he has seen, what he would like to see. His candid observations follow.]

By REV. BRADFORD E. GALE

Retiring Minister
United First Parish Church

It is a pleasure to react briefly to your invitation to reflect on the past 13 years of my ministry at historic First Parish Church in Quincy Square.

From the window of my study at the church in Quincy Square I have been privileged to witness some of the more significant happenings in the life of Quincy for a decade or more of meaningful change, and I have tried to lead this historic parish into some meaningful role in the accomplishment of this change.

The Stone Temple of the Church of Presidents obviously presides architecturally over the heart of the city. As a unique building recently recognized by the U.S. Department of the Interior as an Historic Landmark, it has been the symbol for the past 145 years of an historic and religious mood at the very core of our modern commercial activity as a community, and it has made "the spirit of this City" one with abiding spiritual overtones.

This has been the responsibility of this congregation for over a third of millennium, and I am very sorry to leave this important charge as the most recent in a long line of Puritan parsons through the generations. My years in this city have been deeply satisfying and fulfilling. Quincy is a fine city, and if the present plans of its leadership come to eventual fruition without too drastic modification, Quincy can be a much more significant city in the future.

The progress toward physical improvement is visible everywhere as the new "Silver Strip" from School Street Bridge to the Neponset testifies.

When I came to Quincy in 1958, in spite of signs of growing post-war recession, the most glaring aspect of which was the shutting down of the railroad, I sensed a civic dynamism which I felt could eventually meet the challenge of change, and in many respects I have not been disappointed.

The commercial, industrial and environmental improvements have been obvious - especially in the disappearance of the open, burning dumps behind the city.

But in many respects Quincy is still "Reluctant City." It changes slowly and in some instances unwillingly.

One of the greatest challenges in the immediate future will be the return of an old one muffed several years ago much to Quincy's detriment nationally. We refused as a community to confront the changes necessary to discharge our responsibility as a community toward the blacks of the Greater Boston area who work here and want to live here.

The return of the railroad this summer will give us a second chance missed several years ago when the Fair Housing Committee of this city attempted to break insidious race prejudice here in the form of America's brand of apartheid - de facto exclusion.

And it was a sorry night for us as a community at Furnace Brook School when a prominent black realtor from Boston asserted that he would no longer recommend that blacks seek housing in Quincy because the community did not welcome them there. We wouldn't even experiment with Metco to help relieve the explosive ghetto conditions just across the Neponset.

Quincy has also been reluctant to really face up to the real needs of its youth in this sorry time of agony of heart and soul in America due to the war. It doesn't seem to even want to listen to them. Today's youth are this city's biggest challenge because they won't buy material progress at the cost of moral deterioration.

And in spite of all that has been done to close the gap between profession and performance by such outstanding community leaders as Dr. Djerf and his Survival Group, by the Fair Housing and Human Rights Committees, by the Committee for Participation Politics, by the Council of Concern, by the enlightened leadership in both the police and school departments, and by those in many other community civic associations and agencies, this city still lacks genuine citizen's concern for the support of those programs and projects necessary to meet the full challenge of public welfare, housing, health and peace.

I remember well the great Day of the October Moratorium for Peace two years ago when hundreds of youth of the city demonstrated for Peace on the steps of this old Parish Church, and spilled out into the street and Square. Very few adults and parents came to listen and support, and not a single person came to join in from City Hall right across the street. The superintendent of schools was the only major city official who came to listen and to speak. Reluctant City? I remember too that Quincy was initially reluctant to even admit that it had a poverty problem.

I would, however, like to just briefly mention, another area of outstanding improvement which I think has happened here in the last 13 years, in spite of much obvious reluctance in other areas.

The ecumenical movement which has been sweeping the world has been felt here in Quincy to a marked degree between the city's religious communities and especially the clergy. We are all now worshipping in each other's churches and the clergy are preaching in each other's churches.

Thirteen years ago the local Clerical Association was wholly Protestant, not even the rabbis were members. They still aren't. But the Clerical Association is now a significant fellowship of priests and ministers from the various faiths, and in addition, and quite uniquely to Quincy, the Council of Social Concern is a united effort of ministers, priests, and rabbi together.

And I have the feeling that this kind of moral leadership effectively extended is the best kind of ecumenism. With this kind of moral awakening Quincy can be made to be less reluctant about the basic moral concerns of society in the future. And this will be real progress.

We must never forget that cities are first and foremost for people - for the welfare, happiness, health, and safety of people.

Right here ought to be the growing edge for Quincy and I'm sorry I'm not going to be around to help further it along with all those alert and awake people whom I have gotten to know and like in this fine city.

Loyalty Day Ceremonies, Parade Here Sunday

Loyalty Day will be observed Sunday in a program sponsored in Quincy by the George F. Bryan VFW Post.

Ceremonies will take place at 1:30 p.m. at City Hall, followed by a parade through Quincy Square to the Bryan Post Home at 24 Broad St.

Russell Guppy, chairman and A. Warren Steward, co-chairman, are in charge of the event, in conjunction with Massachusetts Department Loyalty Day Chairman Henry Chiminello, VFS, and by other patriot organizations.

Opposition to a parking lot opposite the John Quincy Adams national historical site has been sent by, via petitions, a group of 11 Quincy Citizens Association members to Ward 1 Councillor Edward S. Graham.

The group is petitioning the Mayor and City Council to rezone the land at the southwesterly corner of Presidents Lane and Adams St., directly opposite the Adams Historical Site, from Residence

C to Open Space, "so as to forever preserve this open space for all generations to enjoy."

Petitioners, headed by Laurence J. Curtin, president of the Quincy Citizens Association, and Miss Dorothy C. Kelly, secretary, include Doris Slattery, Joseph A. Slattery, Alfred E. Peterson, Dora V. MacDonald, Peter F. MacDonald, Edna M. Gilmore, Joseph N. Gildea, John B. Powers, and William W. Lyons.

Hannon Not To Seek Re-Election, Hints He May Run For Mayor

City Councillor Walter J. Hannon today announced he will not seek re-election to the Ward 5 seat and broadly hinted he may be a mayoralty contender this fall.

Hannon's announcement confirms reports he would give up the Ward 5 seat and at the same time flames speculation he will run for mayor.

Hannon, who has served Wollaston as ward councillor for eight years and is also a state representative hinted at his political plans with this comment:

"My decision not to run for re-election does not in any way mean that I am leaving political life; only that I feel it is time to move along and possibly seek higher office."

The "higher office", political observers will interpret to mean the mayor's job.

Observers will also see in Hannon's statement, another signal that Mayor McIntyre will not seek a fourth term this year.

Hannon, they figure, will run for mayor against already announced contender, School Committee Vice-Chairman James F. McCormick, Sr.

Hannon's complete statement follows:

"I have served for eight years on the City Council and have represented the greater Wollaston area with great pride and self-satisfaction and wish to thank the people for the confidence placed in me for these years and trust that I have fulfilled my obligations to them and to the City.

"I am making this announcement early so that as many as possible can formulate their plans to run for the council seat this fall.

"As Ward 5 Councillor, I have tried to face up to each and every problem that has confronted our ward and city and made my decisions in the best interests of Quincy.

"My decision not to run for re-election does not in any way mean that I am leaving political life; only that I feel it is time to move along and possibly seek higher office."

Quincy Receives $441,000 Water, Sewer Grant

Mrs. Alice Sylvaro Honored By HN Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Alice Sylvaro of 12 Rock Island Rd., Houghs Neck, a 50-year member of the American Legion Auxiliary, was presented a Life Membership by the Houghs Neck Unit on Sunday.

Mrs. Willard Timcoe, Houghs Neck Auxiliary president, made the presentation at a tea honoring Mrs. Sylvaro at the Post Home.

Mrs. Sylvaro was 22 years old when she joined the Auxiliary to William Harris Post in Cambridge, a Post limited to U.S. Post Office employees and their families. Her husband, the late Joseph Sylvaro, helped to organize that post.

When the couple moved to Quincy 45 years ago, Mrs. Sylvaro transferred her membership to Quincy Post Unit No. 95, where she later became president.

Moving to Rock Island Rd 43 years ago to the home she still occupies, Mrs. Sylvaro helped organize the first Houghs Neck Auxiliary after World War II.

"I knew everyone of those girls in that first Auxiliary," recalls Mrs. Sylvaro, "and when they finally had to disband, I had to take the charter back to the State House. I felt terrible."

Mrs. Sylvaro then transferred her membership to Morrisette Auxiliary where she was a member for about a year.

The Houghs Neck Auxiliary, twice reorganized since its original charter, is now active under Mrs. Timcoe and her officers.

Mrs. Sylvaro is also a past president of the Past Presidents Parlee and a past Chapeaux of the 8 and 40.

Confined to her home for the past seven years following a fall, Mrs. Sylvaro, who walks with the aid of a crutch, promises, "I'm going to attend every meeting from now on!"

CHARITY BALL - Mrs. James Pansullo of Quincy, prize chairman for the April 30 Charity Ball of the Junior Guild of the Infant Savior, is shown with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cosgrove of 150 Samoset Ave., Merrymount, who plan to attend. The ball benefits the Catholic Charitable Bureau of Boston, Inc. The ball will be at the Chateau de Ville, Framingham.

HOME KIDNEY MACHINES

Ten years ago, setting up an artificial kidney machine was a chore for a hospital medical team and cost a minimum of ten thousand dollars a year. Today, a patient can run his own artificial kidney machine at home with the help of just one other person. The cost, after paying for the machine and training, can be under 1,000 dollars a year.

The machine takes over the function of the body's kidneys, washing impurities out of the blood. A person can live with only one kidney, but when both fail, only an artificial kidney or a transplant can maintain life.

Unfortunately, there aren't enough kidney machines to go around and they are still quite expensive. But there has been tremendous progress in this field which each year is allowing more and more kidney victims to live otherwise healthy lives rather than be resigned to unquestionable death.

Money is meaningless without good health. So, even if you're a sick millionaire, have your chauffeur drive you to NABORHOOD REXALL PHARMACY, 406 Hancock St., No. Quincy or call PR 3-6426 for fast, prescription service. You can also pay your electric or telephone bills or use our notary public service. Hospital equipment and supplies for rent or sale. Prescription tax and insurance records kept plus 24 hour emergency service in North Quincy. Open 7 days a week from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Earth Day

How we've abused you,
Mother Earth,
Through careless, reckless,
wanton years!
Like spoiled, self-centered juveniles,
We've marred and vandalized this sphere.

How we must ake ourselves to task,
To heal the land that we have preyed,
Imploring wisdom to redeem
The stewardship that we've betrayed.

How great must be our sacrifice,
How true must be our discipline,
How chastening must be the price
To expiate our grievous sin!

Quickly let us join forces
now, Exhort, correct and catechize,
And in the depths of our remorse,
Humbly let us apologize.
Priscilla Laveagga

Buried Treasures

There once was a place where I could find,
Myself alone with peace of mind.
Pondering things to deliberate,
Debating which ones to speculate.

A separate site of solitude, Detached from the maze I'd try to elude.
Night would arrive in a blanket of black,
Surrounding the woods and covering my back.

Solely alone apart from the land,
Of the rapid pace life seems to demand.
Collecting my thoughts and living at ease,
Observing the shadows reflected on trees.

Yet, that has all passed, the woods are bare,
Homes have deleted the thoughts formed there.
I frequently think of that unknown place,
But some things in life you just have to face.

DOG COLLARED—Woman's Lib won't like this interpretation, but dog collars are what the gals are calling their latest fashion accessory "must," and Cathy Accessories, Inc. believes in telling it like it is. The Thousand Oaks, California, manufacturer has come up with a whole kennel full of them (without the leash). Priced from $1.25 to $5 in leading drug and department stores, they are made in braids, lace, velvet, and leather shag with grommets (pictured) or wood beads; some with buckles, even.

SHEER POWER—Cotton lace turns up for resort and spring in fragile but seaworthy styles. Here an open front lace cage screens bra and trunks lined in solid-colored cotton. By Sea Fashions of California.

THE LEGGY LOOK—White Stag chooses cotton terry in a new "seersucker" version to bring back a great fashion look of the Thirties. It's a long varsity beach jacket covering the briefest of shorts.

Sparkling Party Punch

Sparkling Party Punch is a refreshing way to quench a lot of small-fry thirsts. It's a great party beverage which has super taste appeal as well as supplying Vitamin C. The delicious flavor comes from a combination of Tang Instant Breakfast Drink, pineapple juice, and a carbonated soft drink. Served in a more sophisticated setting, this punch is also at home at showers, club meetings, and other grown-up gatherings.

Sparkling Party Punch

1 cup orange-flavored instant breakfast drink
1 1/2 cups pineapple juice
1 bottle (28 fl. oz.) ginger ale or club soda
Cracked ice or ice cubes

In a 2-quart punch bowl, combine instant breakfast drink with pineapple juice and ginger ale, stirring until completely dissolved. Add ice. Garnish with mint leaves, if desired. Makes about 5 1/2 cups plus ice or 10 to 12 servings.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of April 29 - May 6

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - Setting your house in order could save you time and money. A separation from a loved one this week causes an emotional upset.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - Getting along with others is much easier now. Financial as well as social and domestic affairs begin to show an improvement.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Keep an eye open for the unexpected this week - it can bring you an opportunity to improve your social and financial standing.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - Something you don't expect could catch you napping and cause an emotional or financial upset at home or on the job.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - The need for an unplanned business trip could be emotionally upsetting but in the long run you benefit from it.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Your ideas may be terrific but pushing them forward at this time will cause you needless worry and confusion. Better to wait.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - What's happening now should not come as a complete surprise but you may not be as prepared for it as you should have been.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - This is a very trying week. Don't let rash actions or emotional outbursts jeopardize your plans for the future.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - The windfall you have been looking for could come from an unexpected source and brings with it some unforeseen trouble.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - A sudden change in career matters upsets everyone involved and causes a lot of worry - but this may be your big chance!

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - An opportunity to travel could prove to be exciting. Buy what is needed without being extravagant. Good time for study.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Your restless feelings could cause you to act or speak out of turn. Better cool it - especially if you have legal problems.

It's In To Be Thin By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

Choices, choices everywhere! Back in the days when Scarlet O'Hara dwelled in the halls of Tara, no more than 900 items were available on the market-place. It remained for the cook of the house to conjure up the sweets of the day. Cookies were not available for the opening of a box, cakes were made with love and effort. Candy making called for a party - or it may have been the other way around. In either case, it was a sometime thing. It was not easy to be fat around the time of the civil war; unfortunately, it is now. Progress does not satisfy all needs.

However, if your market is anything like mine, you won't find anybody urging you to take home the goodie packs. You may think that the cookies are calling you, you may think that the fudge cake has your name on it, or that the candy was made with you in mind. But it is not truly so.

Remember this advice. Remember to follow your shopping list exactly. Remember Scarlet's 18 inch waist.

If you have any questions regarding dieting, or wish a copy of our free fish folder, please write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York.

Alfred Kaufman Honored At Surprise Birthday Party

Alfred Kaufman of 179 Presidents Lane, proprietor of Kaufman's Lamp & Gift Shop at 1592 Hancock St., learned the nice way on Sunday that woman can keep a secret.

He was the happy guest of a surprise party noting "the best birthday I ever had" - his 55th, attended by some 20 friends and relatives. Some had just returned from West Palm Beach and Switzerland.

Planning the event were his wife, Rosalind, and daughters, Nancy and Cheryl. Completing the quintet of women who can keep a surprise a secret were his daughter, Barbara Green, who telephoned him from Virginia and his two-year old granddaughter, Jennifer Green, who made it a really great day by phone.

The timing was right, too. Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman leave this next weekend for a trip to Rome.

Marion Ambrose Exhibit At Weekend Antique Show

Three To Close Doors Parishioners Of Four Churches To Worship At St. Chrysostom's Sunday

On Sunday, for what is believed to be the first time in Quincy, three North Quincy churches will close their doors and parishioners will all worship together with members of a fourth church.

Joining together at St. Chrysostom's Church, Hancock and Linden Sts., in two identical services at 9:15 and 11 a.m. will be ministers and congregations of Atlantic United Methodist Church, Union Congregational Church of Wollaston and First Church of Squantum.

Holy Communion will be celebrated using the liturgy proposed by the Consultation on Church Union [COCU].

Rev. Stuart Haskins of Union Congregational Church will be the preacher at both services. At 9:15 a.m. St. Chrysostom's choir will provide music, and at the 11 a.m. worship, the choir of Atlantic United Methodist Church will sing.

Ministers of all churches will take part in conducting the service and in serving Communion. These include also Rev. William D. Underhill of St. Chrysostom's, Rev. Ernest Haywood of First Church of Squantum, and Rev. Robert Bosdorf of Atlantic UM Church.

All youngsters attending services who do not remain for Communion will be able to view a Disney film, "Beaver Valley". There will be child care provided during both services.

A coffee hour will follow the 9:15 a.m. worship.

The unusual event is sponsored by the Inter-Church Council.

"We have done this twice before," Rev. Underhill notes. "On Ash Wednesday last year, and on Ascension Day, but not on a Sunday morning. This is quite a departure when three churches 'shut up shop' and we all get together."

Territorial Revivalist Conducting Meetings At Salvation Army Temple

Lt.-Colonel B. Barton McIntyre, Territorial Revivalist for the Salvation Army, is conducting meetings at the Quincy Salvation Army Temple, 150 Granite St., led by Major William Bessant.

Tonight, Friday and Saturday the meetings will be at 7:30 p.m., and on Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. A Fellowship Hour will follow the Sunday evening service. The public is invited.

Lt.-Colonel McIntyre, who holds a bachelor of theology degree from Malone College in Canton, Ohio, has studied also at the College of the City of New York, Oberlin University, the Shaufler School of Social Sciences and Cleveland Bible College.

LT.-COLONEL MCINTYRE

Commissioned a Salvation Army officer in June, 1931, Lt.-Colonel McIntyre was for 12 years corps officer of The Salvation Army's Harlem Temple Corps and executive director of the Red Shield Center there. Prior to his present position, he was Divisional Secretary for Metropolitan New York, supervising 30 corps.

He is married to the former Lt. Mildred Bowen, and they have two sons.

Former Quincy Man To Be Installed Pastor First Baptist Church, Boston

Rev. J. Walter Sillen, former Quincy resident, newly called as pastor of the historic First Baptist Church, Commonwealth Ave., Back Bay, will be installed Sunday at 11 a.m.

Rev. Sillen, a resident of Quincy for more than 20 years during his early life, is a graduate of Quincy High School. He received his degrees from Gordon College in Beverly, Andover Newton Theological Seminary, and his master's degree from Brown University.

Rev. Sillen has served as pastor of First Baptist Church at Columbus, Ohio, as pastor of the First Calvary Baptist Church at Lawrence for 11 years, and most recently as a member of the executive staff of the Ministers and Missionaries Board.

Participating in the ceremonies will be Rev. H.

Edward Whitaker of Natick, New England area representative of the Ministers and Missionaries Benefit Board of the 6,600 church American Baptist Convention; Rev. Ellis J. Holt of Framingham, executive director of the American Baptist Churches of Massachusetts; Richard H. Rilee and Mrs. Wilbur Wyatt of the Back Bay Church.

Rev., Mrs. James Kimmell To Hold Open House Sunday

Rev. James Kimmell, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, and Mrs. Kimmell will hold Open House at the new parsonage Sunday immediately following the 10 a.m. service.

The new parsonage is located at 97 Gilbert St., South Quincy, across the street from Trinity Lutheran Church.

Plans are to extend facilities of the church into the former parsonage which is attached to the church building. A library and young people are planned for the first floor, and the second floor will be used for seminar and church school meetings.

The basement of the former parsonage will be decorated by the young people and used for youth activities.

Quincy Churches, Synagogues Asked To Publicize Survival Inc. May 2

All Quincy churches and synagogues are being asked to mention Survival, Inc. from the pulpit on Sunday, May 2, by directors of the South Shore Council of Churches, headed by Dr. James P. Cameron, president.

This is a part of the program for "Support Survival Month" proclaimed by Mayor McIntyre for May, 1971.

"Drug abuse and its consequences can reach each and all," McIntyre noted in his proclamation. "It is my firm belief and also those knowledgeable in this area, that we must join together in a supreme effort to control and to rid our community of this dreaded evil."

Survival, Inc., a self-help organization, has added to its staff Patricia Browne, R.N., a Navy nurse for nine years, who will be program nurse supervisor.

Other staff members are Paul Benoit of North Quincy, administrative counselor; Steve DeMaggio of Quincy, associate manager of the Walk-In Center; Ellen Harrison, counselor and James Manganiello, counselor-in-charge of the Opiate Redirection Center.

James Johnson, counselor of the Non-Opiate Redirection Center; Fran Maligno of Quincy, secretary to the coordinator; Irene O'Sullivan of Quincy, public affairs coordinator; Charles Robinson, counselor-in-charge of the non-opiate redirection center.

John Rodman, manager of the Walk-In Center and James Weydt, manager of the Survival Hotline. Dr. Ronald Rosso is coordinator of the program.

Dr. Charles Djerf is president of Survival, Inc.

32 Departments To Be Headed By Seniors On May 7

Thirty-two departments of Quincy's municipal government will be headed by Senior Citizens on May 7, proclaimed "Senior Citizens Government Day" by Mayor James R. McIntyre.

City Council President Arthur H. Tobin is completing arrangements for selection of the "Department Heads" preceding the first order of business at the May 3 City Council meeting.

"In cooperation with Mayor McIntyre and Mrs. Marion Andrews, executive director of the Council on Aging, I have made arrangements to have 32 department heads and also City Councillors and the Mayor to be present at the next City Council meeting on Monday evening, May 3," Tobin said.

"At 7:30 p.m. we will have a job drawing on the floor of the Council, and Senior Citizens will be selected for the department they will be in charge of for that Day."

Positions to be filled start at the top. There will be one-day replacements for Mayor of Quincy; the nine City Councillors; executive secretary to the Mayor; City Auditor; City Clerk; City Treasurer; City Solicitor; Health Commissioner, Park Commissioner, Recreation Director.

Public Works Commissioner, Civilian Defense Director, Fire Chief, Police Chief, Superintendent of Schools, Director of the Housing Authority, Superintendent of Maintenance Housing, Purchasing Agent, Conservation Commission, Fire Alarm Superintendent, Building Inspector.

Wire Inspector, Plumbing Inspector, Hospital Director, Personnel Director, Librarian, City Historian, Cemetery Superintendent, Veterans Service Director, Planning Director, City Engineer, North Quincy Improvement Association.

Even Mrs. Andrews will relinquish her new post for a day—an executive director for the Council on Aging will be among those assigned to some lucky Senior Citizen.

Friday is the deadline for Senior Citizens interested in holding office to register at the Quincy Council on Aging Office, 1120 Hancock St.

Navy Seaman Apprentice Richard A. Plant, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Plant of 22 Station St., West Quincy, is attending the Naval Communications School at the Communications Training Center, Pensacola, Fla.

He is a 1969 graduate of Don Bosco Technical High School, Boston, and attended Quincy Junior College.

"I'd rather watch TV than go to the bank. That's my problem."

Friend, you've got one of the most serious savings problems of all. With your kind of problem, all we can really do is put up offices all over the area south and west of Boston and hope to hit pretty close to you and your TV set. So that's just what we've done.

While others have been trying to get across a friendly image, we've been solving your savings problems.

Adams Shore Library Lists Color Contest Winners

Winners have been announced for the Color Contest conducted by Adams Shore Branch of the Thomas Crane Public Library as a part of National Book Week.

Pictures of more than 40 children were on display for a week, with the winner chosen by votes placed in an official ballot box by adults and children.

Paula Morrison, a second grader at Snug Harbor School, was judged the winner, with Jean Donahue of grade 5, the runner-up. Jeffrey Bouffard was the pre-school winner.

Other events of the week were a "favorite game" program in which children brought their games and shared with others, while the library provided games and puzzles enjoyed by a large group.

More than 60 children attended an afternoon variety program featuring stories, sketches and a skit. "Cleaner Family Fun" was presented by Patricia Murray, Annemarie Murray and Robert Lavigne of the Drama-in-the-round group.

All programs were directed by Mrs. Blanche Eckert, children's librarian.

City Receives $446 In Copper Case

Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn announces that the city of Quincy has received $446, as fourth payment in the settlement of an anti-trust suit for price-fixing against 10 copper piping company.

The remainder of the city's share will be paid in installments by 1972.

Checks were mailed to approximately 85 cities and towns and 35 housing authorities in the state who share in the total settlement of $500,000.

The anti-trust suit against the copper and brass producing companies was brought by Massachusetts and various other states and public agencies in 1967 in the U.S. District Court in Philadelphia.

Three Department Heads Named

Three department heads have been named by Mayor McIntyre.

Mrs. Marion Andrews was named executive director of the Quincy Council on Aging. Assistant director for the past four years, she succeeds Donald R. Strong who has been appointed coordinator of the State Office of Service to the Elderly.

Public Works Commissioner John M. Browne was appointed Director of Plant Facilities for Quincy Schools. Browne, commissioner since 1967, succeeds Rudolph Lofgren, recently retired.

City Engineer Edward Leone will fill the position of Browne as Acting Commissioner of Public Works until a permanent selection is made.

Victor F. Coletti, an assistant in the engineering department, has become acting city engineer.

Broad Meadows Junior Information Night May 3

Parents of student entering Broad Meadows Junior High School in the fall are being invited to an informational program May 3 at 8 p.m.

Administration and guidance staff will acquaint parents with the school, and after the general session, small groups will have an opportunity to talk directly with school representatives.

This is the first of a series of programs planned to make the shift to junior high as smooth as possible for this year's sixth graders.

Ted V. Norkus, Jr. in Marine Pvt. Ted V. Norkus, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted V. Norkus, Sr., of 11 Hughes St.,

On May 6 and May 7, sixth grade students at elementary schools feeding into Broad Meadows will visit the school, meeting in small groups with grade seven teachers.

Students will receive a brief preview of next year's courses, visit a few of the work areas, and have a chance to meet boys and girls from neighboring schools in an informal talk session.

Emphasis on the year's program is to personalize by allowing for exchange of dialogue, according to David P. Tenney, principal.

Marine Corps Supply Quincy, is now serving at the Marine Corps Supply Center in Barstow, Calif.

'March Against Dystrophy' To Be Held Saturday

A 10-mile "March Against Dystrophy" takes place Saturday starting at West Boundary Rd and Dedham Parkway in Stony Brook Reservation.

Young people from the area, who have registered in advance and obtained at least five pledges of 10 cents per mile for each mile walked, will participate in the march sponsored by the Greater Boston Youth Council. Funds raised will help support the Greater Boston Chapter's Camp Pablo for dystrophy patients and two patient clinics at New England Medical Center and Boston University Hospital.

Come, Let Us Reason Together

By Dr. William F. Knox
Personal Counselor

A frequent question which people ask the counselor is this: "How long will it take to solve our marriage problem?" I usually reply... "that depends upon you... I'll do my best to lead you to a higher level of happiness... but I can't go any faster than you're willing to go." It depends on several factors how long it takes.

One factor is the willingness of both partners to get the problem in focus... "we don't know what's the matter... but we're just not happy." The first task for this couple was to find the cause of their unhappiness. When the hidden resentments surfaced it was discovered that for 13 years the man was holding an unrevealed grudge because his wife's mother had chosen his best man at their wedding. When forgiveness was expressed the resentment was washed out and the wall between them vanished. We must find the cause before it can be treated.

Another factor in therapy is a willingness to unlearn what one has "always thought was right." This is especially true in the area of sexuality. When I say sexuality I mean the total relationship between a husband and wife... the appeal qualities like personal hygiene... ways we speak to each other... the clothes which please the other, which I think is more important than pleasing the Madison Avenue stylists... real masculinity in a man... real femininity in a woman... and each being proud to be a man/woman... uninhibited in expressing manliness and womanliness. Now for some ideas learned early in life [always thought to be right] must be unlearned before one can adjust to a new and healthier sexuality. Therapy can't get off the ground until one is willing to unlearn patterns which don't work.

Then... one must be willing to apply the new learning of more workable ideas. "What shall I do when the bill collectors call?" ask many wives whose husbands are irresponsible in their handling of the family budget... "I just worry all the time because he doesn't pay the bills." Many men were so spoiled by indulgent parents who gave them everything they wanted when they wanted it that now that they are adults do not know how to live within their income. But they can learn. The Therapeutic man will look at the mimeograph budget sheet handed him by the counselor and say... "I've never had a budget... but what we've been doing doesn't work... we'll try this." The untherapeutic man will say... "it won't work... I work on commissions and I never know how much I'll earn in a year." Notice his negativism... he isn't willing to apply new ideas of family financing. He is untherapeutic.

Incidentally... I often say to wives who are disturbed by the bill collector's calls... "Just say... you'll have to speak with my husband... that's his department and I couldn't care less." The motive of the bill collector is to disturb you so that you'll disturb the husband so that he'll pay the bill. It's fine for a wife to write the checks... but she can't write them if there's no money in the bank. Let Mr. Husband worry about it... that's his department.

When we find a person who is defensive in the counseling session... seeks to deny his part in the conflict by evasion... minimizing his weakness... or denying it altogether... or who takes a hard line of "I've always done it this way and I always expect to do it this way" or throws up a moralistic smoke screen for his human frailty... I see quickly that this person is fighting the therapy. He's afraid of exposure of his weakness... afraid he'll be found out... more likely he won't even see the counselor.

The law of readiness must be invoked... when he/she is ready therapy can begin. You may be able to hurry it up a little by creating some crisis... but until the time is ripe the off-ender may keep right on offending.

FOR YOUR COMMENTS: Call Dr. Knox at 326-5990, or 545-5947, or write him at 628 High Street, Dedham, Mass. 02026

Consumer News

By Robert H. Quinn
Attorney General

[This is another "Consumer News" column prepared by Attorney General Robert H. Quinn to inform Massachusetts residents about the state consumer laws.]

"I, John Homeowner, agree to pay to ABC Bank, in or within 5 years, the sum of $10,000 plus 5% interest, in monthly payments of $100, due on the first day of every month."

There is a tricky pitfall in this simple mortgage note. Just over a year ago, 350 Boston homeowners who had signed notes similar to this came to my office with a common problem.

All of them had financed their homes with mortgages from the same bank, and all of them had just been notified that their mortgage interest rates were being increased. They estimated that the rate increases would cost them cumulatively over $500,000.

TIME'S UP

The problem with the mortgage note is that the $100 monthly payments will not fully repay the bank within the 5 years specified. The $100 monthly payments for 5 years add up to only $6,000. At the end of the five years, the homeowner will still owe the bank $4,000 plus the cost of the interest.

Since he has agreed to pay the bank within five years, John Homeowner is obligated to pay the remaining $4,000 plus interest in a lump sum -- unless the bank agrees to extend the payment time.

The Boston bank had allowed the 350 homeowners to continue making monthly payments. But on the condition that they would be charged more interest than the percent specified in the original, now expired, note.

Many of the homeowners could not afford the increased cost.

MUST TELL

The Consumer Protection Division arranged a settlement between that bank and the homeowners. Then my office took steps to ensure that other homeowners would not find themselves in similar dilemmas.

An emergency bill I sponsored as a result of that episode has become a new law covering mortgage disclosures. This year, under this law, mortgage applications are required to inform the consumer IN LARGE TYPE whether the interest rate is subject to change. If the rate may be altered, the application must tell the possible increase rates.

This year, to extend this protection, I am proposing that banks should be prohibited from writing mortgage notes with time and payment specifications that don't coincide. If this new bill passes, mortgage contracts will have to specify required monthly payments that are large enough to pay back the mortgage within the time specified in the note. John Homeowner will know, before he signs, how much he will pay and for how long.

Consumers with questions about these laws or with complaints should contact the Consumer Protection Division of my office at the State House in Boston.

Atty. William Delahunt Ward 5 Council Candidate

Atty. William D. Delahunt of 33 Elmwood Park, Wollaston, today announced his candidacy for the Ward 5 City Council seat.

In the last municipal election, Delahunt was nominated from a field of seven candidates in the primary election, and came within 43 votes of winning in the final election.

The 29-year old attorney is a life-long resident of Wollaston, a graduate of Thayer Academy, Middlebury College and Boston College Law School. He has taken graduate courses in taxation at Boston University Law School. He is vice-president of Thayer Academy Alumni Association.

A former assistant clerk of the Superior Court, Delahunt is associated in private law practice with Atty. Paul A. M. Hunt, and is legal counsel to the Quincy Police Department.

He is a member of the American, Massachusetts and Norfolk County Bar Associations, and the Norfolk County Prosecutors Association.

Delahunt was the 1970 Ward Five Chairman and is the 1971 Special Gifts Chairman of the Quincy Cancer Crusade. He is also a director of the newly formed South Shore Cancer unit.

A member of the United States Coast Guard Reserve, Delahunt is active in various local fraternal organizations.

Tin Cans To Be Collected For Reclamation May 1-8

"A chance for everyone to help" in Conservation Week is the opportunity offered May 1-8 by the pick-up of tin cans for reclamation purposes sponsored by the Quincy Conservation Commission, according to Mrs. Frank E. Yeomans, chairman.

Food cans should be washed and paper labels removed, she said. All cans should be flattened [cut off top and bottom and step on the can]. Where it is not possible to remove tops and bottoms, the cans should be crushed as well as possible.

Large bins at each of six fire stations [with the exception of Central Fire Station at 40 Quincy Ave.] are being installed by the Public Works Department with the cooperation of Fire Chief Edward F. Barry and his department.

With the cooperation of every household in Quincy, this collection can help with the serious problem of solid waste disposal through recycling, Mrs. Yeomans said.

This will reduce the amount of material accumulating in the city dumps, and also save the rapidly dwindling natural minerals, she pointed out.

Renowned Irish actress SIOBHAN MCKENNA will be in the Hub May 2 to receive the Gold Medal of the Eire Society of Boston. The gifted and highly versatile thespian, now doing a one-woman show in New York, "HERE ARE THE LADIES", follows in the tradition of some very heavy talent. Previous award winners include war historian CORNELIUS RYAN, director JOHN FORD, and politician EUGENE MCCARTHY... Thus far Miss MCKENNA has no immediate films on tap. However with the growing recognition she is now garnering, it shouldn't be too long in the future that she will make her American motion picture debut... After Warmup

Quincy Girls Track Team Takes On Attleboro Today

Quincy High school's first girls' track team competed in a track and field championship meet last week at Veterans Stadium in a warmup for today's opening meet with Attleboro at the Stadium.

The all-around championship meet, directed by Quincy Coach Pete Gallagher, was held on three days with four events each day.

Points were awarded to the first 10 finishers in each event with 20 points for first place, 18 for second, 16 for third, and so on down the line.

The winner was Karen Fruzetti with 214 points, followed by Kathy Ilaqua and Linda Robinson, 202 each; Debbie Spillane, 120; Sarah Kane, 60; Betsy Witt, 56; Joan White, 36; Ann Rudolph, 32; Jean Macchi, 18 and Yvette Shaw, 10.

Trophies went to Miss Fruzetti, a senior, and the Misses Ilaqua, Robinson and Spillane, all sophomores.

Miss Fruzetti also won a gold medal trophy for most first place finishes as she won all field events, discus, high jump, javelin, shot put and long jump.

Although the girls did not approach any state records, they turned in some fine performances and with a little more experience should come close to some of the state marks.

On the first day Miss Robinson won the 440 in 1:15.7, followed by Miss Ilaqua, Miss Fruzetti, Miss Witt, Miss Spillane, Miss White and Miss Rudolph.

Miss Ilaqua won the 50-yard dash in 7.2 seconds, followed by the Misses Robinson, Fruzetti, Spillane, Witt, White and Rudolph.

Miss Ilaqua won the 220 in 33 seconds, followed by Misses Robinson, Fruzetti, Spillane, Witt, Rudolph and White.

Miss Fruzetti took her first win in the discus with a toss of 75 feet, 5 inches, followed by Misses Witt, Robinson, Ilaqua, Spillane, Shaw and Rudolph.

On the second day Miss Spillane was the winner of the 100 in 13.7 seconds, followed by Misses Fruzetti, Robinson and Ilaqua.

Miss Fruzetti won the high jump with a leap of 4 feet, 4 inches, followed by Misses Robinson, Spillane and Ilaqua.

The javelin also was won by Miss Fruzetti with a toss of 87 feet, 6 inches, followed by Misses Macchi, Ilaqua, Kane, Spillane and Robinson.

Miss Spillane captured the 880 in 3 minutes, 26 seconds, followed by the Misses Fruzetti, Kane, Robinson and Ilaqua.

On the final day Friday, Miss Ilaqua was the winner of the 50-yard hurdles in 8.8 seconds, followed by Misses Robinson, Fruzetti and Kane.

Miss Fruzetti won the shot put with a toss of 29 feet, 3½ inches, followed by the Misses Robinson, Ilaqua and Kane.

Miss Fruzetti also took first in the long jump with a winning leap of 13 feet, ¼ inch, followed by Misses Ilaqua, Robinson and Kane.

Winner of the mile was Miss Robinson in 7 minutes, 51 seconds, followed by Misses Kane, Ilaqua and Fruzetti.

Today's meet with Attleboro is the first of four outside meets definitely scheduled. Two more are in the offing. The next meet will be at Attleboro May 13. Canton will visit Veterans Stadium on May 25.

QJC Off To Best Start In Three Years

The Quincy Junior College baseball team, off to its best start in its three-year history, faces a big test today when it meets Wentworth at O'Rourke Field.

Saturday morning at 10 a.m. QJC will host Franklin at O'Rourke and Tuesday will entertain Bryant and Stratton at 4 p.m. also at O'Rourke.

Monday Dave Burke's Collejons won a big one, handing Newton Junior College its first defeat, 3-1, at O'Rourke. Newton took a 4-0 record into the game.

The win gave QJC a 6-1 overall record, 4-1 in the Mass. Junior College League.

"We have received outstanding pitching from Justin McCarthy [a Marine veteran] and Bob Paster of North Quincy," Burke said. "We have hit well in most games and the defense has been excellent. I expect Wentworth, one of the strongest teams in the league, to give us all we can handle."

Paster pitched a four-hitter Monday for his second straight win after losing his first game, despite a fine performance. He struck out nine and walked only one.

Quincy had only three hits [Ned Tobin, Jim Broderick and John Stevens] but made them count.

Last Friday QJC bombed Burdette, 13-0, as McCarthy turned in his fourth successive win without a loss.

In their previous game the Collejons also clouted Newbury, 13-0, in a game called after five innings. In this game they scored in every inning, capped by five runs in the fifth.

Paster held Newbury to two hits while his mates pounded out 12. Broderick had four for four, and Joe Corrigan was three for three including a home run. Tom Piscatelli and Stevens had two each, one of Stevens' being a double.

"I have been particularly pleased with the control displayed by our pitchers," Burke said. "They have averaged only about one walk a game."

Montclair Wins First St. Hockey Tournery

The Montclair School Center has won the first street hockey tournament sponsored by the Quincy Park-Recreation Department under the direction of William F. Ryan.

Montclair, coached by Rick Cobban, a sophomore at Boston State College, spurred to a 4-1 lead and then withstood late game pressure by Fore River to win 4-3.

Fore River, coached by Frank Brillo, pulled their goal tender, Darrell DeCristofaro, and peppered Montclair with several fine shots only to have Lenny Picot, Montclair net tender, come up with a big save each time.

Scoring star of the game was Karl Stenn, who performed the hat trick with 3 goals.

Finals were held at Shea Rink through cooperation of the Metropolitan District Commission and the MDC's supervisor of Recreation, Jim Whalen.

Because of the successful season, Ryan is considering an additional Street Hockey division for next year. Six teams throughout the city entered the playoffs, and the entire program reached close to 1,000 boys.

Trophies were awarded to Montclair with the Fore River team receiving second place ribbons.

North Golf Team Defeats Quincy

North Quincy's golf team, champion of the Mass. Coast League the past two years, rebounded from an opening day 6-3 loss to Boston Latin to breeze past rival Quincy, 7½-½.

Today, Jack Donahue's North team plays Hyde Park at George Wright course and Monday is home to Boston Tech at Wollaston.

Quincy, under new coach

Warren Paglari, hosts Boston English Friday at Furnace Brook and Tuesday plays Latin at George Wright.

North's squad includes Wayne Fick, Jeff Burrell, Jack O'Leary, Mike Tracy, Russ Henriksen and Joe Tighe.

Quincy's players include Eric Lohwasser, Don Connolly, Ken Pike, Al Amorilla, Gary Morrissey and Paul DiFrederico.

New Yoga Classes Start At YMCA

New classes in Yoga began yesterday at the Quincy YMCA and will continue for eight weeks.

Mrs. Berta Nota is instructor for classes which are held on Wednesday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. and 10:45 to 11:45 a.m.

Raiders Seek Sixth Straight At Everett

The North Quincy High baseball team, sparked by fine pitching and the torrid hitting of outfielder Tom Burke, will take a 5-0 record 14-0 in the Greater Boston League [to Friday's league game at Everett.

Monday the Raiders host league co-leader Revere, also unbeaten in a 3:15 game at Adams Field and next Wednesday will play at Somerville.

Charlie Bunker's high flying North team, off to its best start in years, made Malden its fifth straight victim Monday, 7-0, as Bob McKay became the Raiders' first pitcher to go all the way. He held Malden to six hits, struck out seven and walked four.

North scored twice in the second, once in the third and put the game out of reach with two in the seventh and three in the eighth.

Burke, who has hit well all year long, had three singles and two runs batted in and Jack Flaherty, also batting well, had a long double. The Raiders played errorless ball.

"Everything has been falling into place," said Bunker, who hopes to make the Eastern Mass. Tourney for the first time. "We have been averaging 10 hits a game, playing strong defense and getting good pitching."

Last week was one of the most successful ever enjoyed by a North team as it played and won four games.

Saturday, after winning their first three league games, the Raiders pounced on previously unbeaten Boston Latin, 11-4, in a non-league game which ended Latin's six-game win streak.

The highlight of the game was a tremendous home run clout by North's Jim Driscoll. The lanky first baseman smashed a ball over the left center field fence which carried more than 380 feet. He is believed to be the first schoolboy player since Harvard star Pete Varney, who performed the feat while a catcher at North.

North exploded for six runs in the first inning and that was the game. The Raiders collected 12 hits.

Burke drove in five runs with two towering triples and a double.

Dave Murphy started pitching for North but gave way to Richie Carroll in the fourth. Murphy was overpowering for three innings but ran into control trouble in the fourth.

The day before the Raiders came from behind for the third game in a row to top Medford, 7-4, to hike their league mark to 3-0.

Medford took a 2-0 first inning lead on its home field but North came back with two in the third, three in the fourth and single runs in the next two innings.

Scott Manson starred in relief for the third successive game and earned his first win. Murphy was the starter.

Driscoll sparked the attack with a single, double and triple, scoring once and driving in two runs. Joe Marini and Tim Flynn had two hits apiece. North again had 12 hits.

The previous game was a big one for North as it handed Quincy its first loss in four games, 8-2, as Manson rescued starter and winner McKay. The Raiders had only five hits but took advantage of nine walks and several errors by the usually sure-fisted Presidents.

McKay and Manson held Quincy to three hits as North overcame a 2-1 deficit with three runs in each of the sixth and seventh innings.

Three of the five hits were doubles by Marini, Flynn and Burke.

North had opened its season with a 7-3 victory at Chelsea as Carroll, the starter and winner, was saved by the dependable Manson.

The Raiders trailed, 1-0, after six innings but came alive with three runs in the seventh, one in the eighth and three in the ninth.

Flaherty's bases loaded triple in the sixth gave North all the runs it needed.

Flaherty had a triple and single, Dave Nelson and Driscoll two singles each to lead the offense.

Carroll, a converted junior outfielder, was making his first varsity start and did well before tiring in the seventh.

Jack Bowes' North junior varsity team met its first defeat Monday, 8-3, at the hands of Malden after winning three and tying one.

Quincy Hopes To Snap 3-Game Losing Streak

Quincy's baseball team, after winning its first three games, has fallen on hard times and Friday will try to snap a three-game losing streak when it hosts unbeaten Greater Boston League co-leader Revere in a 3:15 game at Adams Field.

Monday Bob Basiliere's Presidents will play at Malden and next Wednesday will be home to Everett.

The Presidents were held to three hits and bowed to Medford, 4-1, Monday at Medford.

Steve Sullivan, the starting pitcher, walked five batters in the second inning when Medford scored three runs and Southpaw Jimmy Walker took over and turned in another standout relief job. He gave up Medford's only two hits, struck out seven and walked three the rest of the way, giving up an unearned run.

Quincy scored in the sixth and had a good chance with the bases loaded and no outs but could score only the one run.

"Our defense which was superb in the first three games has fallen apart and was largely responsible for the three losses," Basiliere said. "Also, the pitching has been very spotty with Walker's excellent relief pitching the only bright spot."

The Presidents' troubles began last week. After nipping Somerville, 2-1, for their third straight win, first in the league, they were handed their first loss by high flying North Quincy, 8-2.

The game was a fine pitchers' duel between North's Bob McKay and Quincy's Bob Brill for five innings as the Raiders led only 1-0.

Quincy scored both runs in the sixth but North scored three in the sixth, three in the seventh and one in the eighth.

After playing near-perfect defensive ball in its first three games, the Presidents collapsed in the field and the pitchers were wild, giving up nine walks. Walker, who had appeared in every game in relief, took over for Brill, the loser. Bob French also pitched.

"We were just lousy, that's all there is to it," said a disappointed Basiliere. "Our defense fell apart for the first time and the wildness of our pitchers certainly didn't help."

Quincy was held to three hits, doubles by Ed Panasci and Mike Marvelle and a single by Sullivan.

That defeat must have taken something out of the Quincy squad, because it dropped its next game last Friday to Chelsea, 8-5.

The Presidents exploded for a 4-0 lead in the first inning but four pitchers, Bob Driscoll, French, Marvelle and Walker couldn't hold the Red Devils.

Quincy had nine hits including two each by Russ MacDonald, Sullivan and Pete Lucier.

Bud Mosher's Quincy Junior varsity bounced back from a 4-0 deficit to tie Medford, Monday, 4-4, thanks to a brilliant bit of relief pitching by Jerry Bugden.

He took over in the first inning and pitched 6 2/3 innings of no-hit, no-run ball. The tie gave the jayvees a 2-2 record.

Crusaders Riding Four-Win Wave

Coach Jim Smith of the Eastern Nazarene College baseball team didn't expect much this spring but, after a slow start, the Crusaders suddenly came to life and four straight wins last week evened their record at 4-4-1.

ENC tied its first game with Southeastern Mass, then dropped four straight decisions.

Saturday the Crusaders swept a doubleheader from Barrington, their third and fourth wins in a row.

Bill Whitman went the route in the first game, winnings, 6-4, as he allowed four hits, struck out eight and walked three. ENC also had only four hits with Dave Keene's two-run single sparking the win.

In the nightcap Doug Sorenson blanked Barrington, 5-0, on three hits. He fanned six and walked two. Pacing the attack in this game was Dan Krumm with a triple and single.

In its previous game ENC blanked St. Francis College of Maine, 5-0 behind the two-hit pitching of freshman Howie Goggin, who struck out nine and didn't issue a base on balls.

The Crusaders had seven hits, all by different players and Don Fads' double was the only extra base hit.

Earlier ENC had edged Framingham State, 5-4, in 10 innings for its first win as it scored four times in the seventh to overcome a 3-0 deficit.

Successive singles by Bill Whitman, John Milley and Ken Mingleddorf accounted for the winning run in the 10th after State had tied it with a run in the ninth.

Freshman Don Willis pitched all the way for ENC. The Crusaders had 11 hits, including two apiece by Sorenson, Whitman, Milley and Mingleddorf.

Sealed proposals for furniture and accessories for the new District Courthouse of East Norfolk, Chestnut Street, Quincy, Massachusetts will be received at the office of the County Commissioners, Second Floor, Norfolk County Courthouse, High Street, Dedham, Massachusetts until 12 noon, E.D.T., Tuesday, May 18, 1971, and then publicly opened and read aloud.

Bidding documents may be obtained at the office of Joseph A. Donahue Architect, Adams Building, 1354 Hancock Street, Quincy, Massachusetts on or after Tuesday, May 4, 1971, by depositing a Certified Check in the sum of fifty ($50.00) dollars, payable to Norfolk County for each set of documents. The full amount of the plan deposit will be refunded to all bidders returning plans and specifications in good condition within ten (10) days after the date of Bid opening.

Bids for the project are subject to the provisions of Sections 44A to 44L, inclusive, Chapter 149, G.L. [Ter. Ed.] and Section 39M Chapter 30, of The General Laws, as amended.

Bid Security

Each bid shall be accompanied by cash or a Certified Check on, or a Treasurer's or a Cashier's check issued by a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the County of Norfolk in the amount of $2,000.00. Attention is also called to the minimum wage rates to be paid on the work as determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries under the provisions of The General Laws, Chapter 149, Sections 26 to 270 inclusive as amended.

The right is reserved to waive any informalities in or to reject any or all bids, if it be in the public interest to do so.

Political observers are convinced that McIntyre will not seek a fourth-term and that Ricciuti, the mayor's executive right arm will move to the newly created post.

McCauley, who is treasurer of the five-member Housing Authority and the only one to vote against the new job today

A Fortnight In England

Quincy Youngsters 'Treated Like Royalty'

By MARY MURDOCK
Cranch School Teacher

[Following is the first in a series of articles telling of the experiences of 34 youngsters from the Cranch School area during a two-week visit to Leigh-on-Sea, Essex, England. The articles are being written especially for the Quincy Sun by Miss Mary Murdock, a member of the Cranch School faculty who helped arrange the trip and served as one of the chaperones.]

At about 7 p.m. on Wednesday, April 14, a crowd of 34 excited children began to gather with their families and friends at Logan International Airport.

The children, students and former students of Cranch School in Quincy, along with their seven adult chaperones, were preparing to embark on a fortnight's adventure in England. I was one of the lucky chaperones.

Children and adults were planning to stay at homes of families of West Leigh Junior School in Leigh-on-Sea, Essex, England, a community 35 miles east of London. Last year Cranch families entertained a group of 29 West Leigh children and adults who spent two weeks visiting Quincy.

The Irish Intermation 707 bearing our group took off just after 9 p.m., its scheduled departure time. It was a smooth flight and an exciting experience, especially as it was the first time most of the children had flown. After our steak dinner, the lights were dimmed and we tried to rest.

Before we knew it, it was morning and the plane was touching down in Ireland. Irish Airlines provided us with a whirlwind tour of Dublin, including a visit to Dublin Zoo where we had lunch.

At 2 p.m. we were back in the air, headed for London. After another smooth flight we landed at Heathrow Airport outside London at 3 p.m. Frank Keevil, headmaster of West Leigh School, Miss Margaret Russell, a West Leigh teacher who taught at Cranch on exchange three years ago, plus Frank Rushbrook and Jack Negus, friends who helped us throughout our stay, were there to greet us as we stepped off the plane. How good they looked to us! A representative of Western Union was there also to aid us in sending home a safe arrival telegram.

There was a flurry of activity as we claimed our baggage and piled it up on small carts to be taken through British customs. When the dust settled, it was discovered that Neal Gorin, 14, was missing his suitcase. Reports had to be made while we piled the rest of the children and the luggage onto the waiting luxury bus.

The most outstanding feature of our trip was the people -- their warmth, generosity and hospitality. We were treated like royalty from the moment we arrived. This was true of everyone we met, not just those connected with the trip.

An example of this was the Western Union representative. He lived near the airport and offered to bring Neal's suitcase to him in Leigh when it was found, a distance of almost 100 miles. Three days later, when the missing bag was found he did just that.

Exhausted from hours of travel, most of the children soon fell sound asleep on the bus. There were only a few alert enough to get their first exciting view of London that day as we passed through the city on our way to Leigh.

Everyone came to, however, as we approached West Leigh School. The first thing we noticed was the large American flag flying from the flag pole. Mayor James McIntyre had presented that flag to our English visitors last spring.

Next, we noticed the throngs of people waving banners, signs and flags. As our weary band spilled off the bus, they were claimed by welcoming English families.

We filed into the school where the corridors were filled with pictures and stories the English schoolchildren had made to welcome us. The children of class 9, who are 8 and 9 years old, each gave their teacher, Mrs. Mariam Jones, two pennies to buy candy for the American children. The candy was waiting for us in a big Easter basket.

It was now 7:30 p.m. April 15, more than 18 hours since we met at Logan Airport.

The next morning was for sleeping in. After lunch, Americans and English children met at the school to take a double decker bus to Southend Pier, the longest pleasure pier in the world. We visited the life boat at the end of the pier.

Since the pier is 1 1/3 miles long, we took the electric train to the end of the pier and back. The children had a marvelous time getting to know each other as they amassed their fortunes in the Penny Arcade. The friendships they made that day have lasted a lot longer than the money they made.

Friday night we all attended a play called "The Magic Box" at the Southend Youth Centre. The star of the show was Nicholas Cheeseman, a delightful young man of 15. Nicholas who has more poise and personality than most adults, is a member of the family who hosted Miss Janet Wrigley, a Cranch teacher.

Saturday morning we toured the Civic Centre in Southend, seat of local government.

From there we went to nearby Porters, the 15th century civic house and mayor's parlor. Porters was a residence until 1932 when it was purchased by the Corporation -- the local government of Southend.

Mayor Scholfield and his wife, the mayoresses were at Porters to greet us. We were served coffee, coke and cakes as we had a chance to talk to the mayor, mayoresses and other dignitaries. Our group was then divided in half. The mayor took one group on a guided tour while the mayoresses took the other group. We found out that Disraeli had stayed at Porters. And, what most captured our imaginations were the priest hole above the fireplace and the circular stairway, designed as a defense against attacking enemy. The mayor and mayoresses are a warm charming couple who made the history of Porters come alive for us.

At noon we returned to the school ready for a free weekend with our English families. On Monday morning we would have a great deal to talk about, exchanging stories of our weekend's activities.

The guess around City Hall is still a $10-to-$15 tax hike this year. Current rate: $132.20.

At the way Quincy's rate has been zooming the past few years, a $200 rate doesn't seem to be far away.

And, even if revaluation is implemented this year, and the rate drops, it will soon be back up again.

As long as politicians preach economy and practice what they please, the taxpayer is going to get belted.

MEANWHILE, at Checkerboard Square, you may soon need a scorecard to keep track of who's being moved where as more "Musical Chairs" are ready to be played.

MAYOR McIntyre reportedly has until July 1 to accept that $40,000 senate counsel post.

RIGHT NOW the mayoralty race this year looks like a two-man battle: School Committee Vice-Chairman James McCormick and Ward 5 Councillor Walter Hannon.

McCormick's hat is already in the ring. Hannon's is expected to be tossed in shortly.

Former Councillor Richard Barry who had indicated a few months ago he would run, reportedly is now "not interested".

Councillor John Quinn, who was always considered a potential candidate, apparently has changed his mind according to close sources.

But, they think he may go for McIntyre's senate seat when the latter gives that up. So, it's possible to see Quinn and City Council President Arthur Tobin squaring off in 1972 for Senate.

IS WALTER HANNON already off and campaigning for mayor? Political observers wondered when he turned up the other night at the Sgt. Grenham Youth Center basketball banquet, to represent Mayor McIntyre.

Houghs Neck would seem to be an unusual place for a Ward 5 councillor to be representing McIntyre. You'd think somebody like Ward 1 Councillor Edward Graham would be doing the honors.

IN CASE you like to keep track of such things, Quincy collected a total of $28,729.601 in taxes and betterments during 1970, reports City Tax Collector-Treasurer David Houston. Up $4.1 million over the year before.

AULD LANG SYNE: Nearly 200 turned out the other night for the third annual reunion of the Braintree White Sox. Among them, former Quincy opponents

Tom Dowd, the Boston Red Sox former traveling secretary and Hal Goodnough, good-will ambassador for the New York Mets were the featured speakers. Quincy baseball figures present included: Steve White, Walter Forbush, Ike Whittum Buz Groucutt, Bob Greenhalgh, Ted Rouillard, George O'Rourke, Dan Lubarsky, Charlie Bird, Pete Smith, Fran Osborne, George McCall.

Oldest White Sox players attending were Wolf Levangie, Wally Forbush and John Riley who started playing with the Sox in 1905, 1913 and 1920 respectively.

Reunion committee comprised Vin Kiernan, Leon Barton, Frank Basile, Art Sarney and Herb Boardman.

And the White Sox hit a couple of "nice-gesture" home runs: Out of the dinner proceeds will come a $300 scholarship and a $100 donation to the Jimmy Fund in the name of late Patriot Ledger sports writer Lin Raymond who virtually grew up with the Sox.

To Help Hungry, Pick Up Litter, Too

5,000 Expected In 26-Mile Quincy Walk Sunday

DOESN'T HURT a bit, smiles Patricia Conlan of 70 Holmes St., seventh grade student at Atlantic Junior High as Mrs. Emma Evans, R.N., administers tetanus and diphtheria booster shots. More than 1,000 students in Quincy school system are receiving the booster shots with parents consent.

Sunday at 7 a.m. an estimated 5,000 participants will leave Veterans Memorial Stadium on Hancock St. in Quincy's third annual Walk for Development.

The 26-mile route, with 12 checkpoints, will end also at Veterans Stadium and can be completed in from 4 to 12 hours.

To encourage more adult participation, an adult finish line at Merrymount School [12.2 miles] has been laid out by Jeanne Gillis, one of the four student coordinators. Others are Claire Powers, Joyce Randall and Gerald Swalnick.

This year walkers will be picking up litter along the route, and Walk organizers are asking people along the way to put out trash barrels to make this effort successful.

Citizen help is being sought also to stamp cards at checkpoints, to drive their own cars as "Toe" trucks to return exhausted walkers to the Stadium, to make sandwiches on Saturday at Walk headquarters and to sponsor walkers for each mile of the route they complete.

During last year's Walk, band-aids, cold drinks, hoses and foot powder offered to walkers along the route provided welcome relief.

Professional services of the Rescue Squad and Auxiliary Police Force ensure the safety of Walkers.

In past years the Quincy Walk has financially supported Project Head-Start, aided establishment of a nutritional center for Quincy mothers, and a pre-school kindergarten in South-West Quincy, as well as benefited agricultural centers in Togo and Liberia who teach new, productive methods to native farmers.

This year, along with more than 300 towns and cities nation-wide, Quincy is cooperating with the American Freedom from Hunger Foundation by holding its Walk on International Walk Day.

As in the past, each walker will be responsible for soliciting sponsors who pledge a certain amount of money for every mile completed by the walker, and for collecting these pledges after the Walk.

Further information may be obtained by calling Walk Headquarters at 5 Booth St., South Quincy, at 472-4496.

McCormick, Eight Others Have Papers In Circulation

At least nine candidates including mayoralty contender James F. McCormick, Sr. have nomination papers in circulation this week.

The nine who had obtained the papers by mid week at the City Hall election department include:

- Fred J. Prezioso, 34 Roberts St. South Quincy, Ward 3 City Council.
- Thomas E. Wood, 81 Kemper St. School Committee.
- Atty. William D. Delahunt,

33 Elmwood Park, Wollaston, Ward 5, City Council.

● Samuel R. Meyer, 15 Clive St., North Quincy, Ward 6 City Council.

● Adeline Pompeo, 15 Watson Rd, Quincy Point, City Council at-large.

● Paul J. Riordan 60 Bunker Hill Lane, West Quincy, School Committee.

● Domenic L. D'Arcangelo, 125 Sagamore St., North Quincy, School Committee.

● J. Thomas Mullaney, 115

Standish Ave., Wollaston, School Committee.

McCormick who lives at 100 Reservoir Rd, Wollaston and is vice-chairman of the School Committee, was the first candidate to pick up his papers when they became available Monday.

Deadline for filing the papers will be 5 p.m. on Aug. 23.

The preliminary election will be held Sept. 21 and the final election Nov. 2.

Tobin Seeks Revaluation Delay

City Council President Arthur H. Tobin, in a move unanimously endorsed by the entire council is asking Mayor McIntyre to seek another court delay in implementing 100 per cent revaluation in the city.

Tobin pointed out that the City has appealed and received extensions previously from the court.

He said implementation would mean an increase of $100 to $200 in taxes to the home owner and called it "a serious threat to us all."

Tobin blamed business interests for the rejection of an amendment to the constitution permitting local governments to set different tax rates for commercial and private property.

Following a "seconding" of his resolution by Councilors Walter Hannon, Clifford Marshall, Albert Barilaro, John Quinn and George McDonald it was voted to make the request to the Mayor "unanimous".

Buczko To Address Adas Shalom May 12

State Auditor Thaddeus Buczko, will speak May 12 at the 6:30 p.m. annual dinner of Adas Shalom Temple, Adams St.

William S. Ash is chairman for the event, the 17th annual "Meet Your Neighbor Night" of the Temple.

FIRST to obtain nomination papers this week as they became available at City Hall was School Committee Vice-Chairman James F. McCormick, Sr., who is running for mayor. Nomination papers for mayor, city council and school committee must be filed by Aug. 23 for Sept. 21 preliminary election.

Poet's Corner

Do Not Fold, Bend Or Mutilate

Where is one to find the courage
For the new push-button age,
Where find heart when each of us is Just a dot upon a page?

When identities are submerged,
Pigeon holed and analyzed;
When we're all reduced to digits,
And we're all computerized?

When we've all been scored and indexed,
And been pastured in the yard,
And each person's fond attributes
Are just holes upon a card?

When we're all recorded neatly
In the realms of logistics,
And no room is left for valor
Lest it bulge the prim statistics?

When we've all be triplicated,
Duly graded, and to start
And been coldly tabulated
And placed on the master chart.

Where will human souls aspire
Down the long and endless aisles,
Where the cards are all collected
With their holes, for miles and miles?

Priscilla Laveaga Belmont

What Is Despair?

A man shot and killed on a foreign street,
Receiving nothing but his life's receipt.

Felled by a bullet, a minister prays,
For an end to war and its violent ways.

Human beings killing, numbering more,
Fighting for what, on a distant shore?

To take someone's life, while nations collide,
To kill your brother, is it justified?

And what does it prove to eliminate?

When what man should do is communicate.

Not until one has acquired the cup,

A determined nation never gives up.

Until it does men's blood will shed,
A growing list of wounded and dead.

And then one asks, will there ever be peace?

With diffident hopes the doubts have increased.

Rick Kenney, Braintree

FOLKLORE—By varying fabric and trim, two different looks are created from the same pattern. Flower-sprigged cotton calico (left) takes on country-girl flavor with a braid and rick rack border on bodice and skirt. At right, striped cotton gets ultra-feminine treatment with Venice lace and butterfly ruffling trim. The skirt border is made from a wide strip of the fabric outlined with lace. All trims by Wm. E. Wright & Sons. Pattern is McCall's No. 2639.

Hot Submarine Sandwiches Made In Covered Barbecue Kettle

The tasty submarine sandwich has gone under cover to become a not-so-secret agent in making summertime picnics much talked about affairs. Cooperating in this culinary coup is the covered barbecue kettle which bathes the sandwich in reflected heat to bake and bring out its hidden flavors. Here's how it's done.

Undercover Submarines

- | | |
|---|-----------------------|
| 1 Loaf Vienna bread | 6 Thin slices tomato |
| 12 Salami slices | 1 Sweet green pepper, |
| 6 Mozzarella or Provolone cheese slices | thinly sliced or |
| 6 Baked ham slices | chopped |
| 6 American cheese slices | Butter or margarine |

Cut loaf of bread in half and slice portions lengthwise. Spread halves with butter or margarine. On the bottom half of each place a layer of three salami slices, one of Mozzarella or Provolone cheese, a second layer of salami, then three baked ham slices followed by three American cheese slices. Top with three slices of tomato and finally the sliced or chopped pepper.

Put the stacked halves of the sandwiches on sheets of aluminum foil and place them in the center of the covered kettle grill which has the coals stacked to the sides for indirect cooking. Bake for five minutes, then set the top halves of the sandwiches on the grill with the butter side up. Continue baking for seven minutes or until these halves are well toasted. Remove the sandwiches from the grill, put the two halves together and serve. Serves two hearty appetites.

"AND STAY OUT"

By G. G. G.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of May 6 - 13

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - You can use this quiet period to make any necessary adjustments caused by recent events. Your budget may need attention.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - Your calm frame of mind allows you to take a clear, objective view of what's going on and to turn events to your advantage.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - If you have been doing your homework, everything is now going your way. Choose your direction and make hay while the sun shines.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - You are "champing at the bit" because of your hemmed-in feeling. Getting up tight won't help - better to sit this one out.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - Don't rush around stirring up the dust, let someone else carry the workload while you improve your social standing by talking with friends.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Look after your health problems and try not to worry so much. Dig in and consolidate your financial position this week.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - You will be better off if you let someone else carry the ball for a while. Action on your part only causes distress.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - If you must act now, be careful you don't upset the applecart. Hang onto your money and don't be over generous with friends.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - The money you spend at this time could strain the budget so be realistic and don't let sentiment blind you.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - It's a good time for you to spend some money on plumbing, wiring, or other hidden improvements in your home.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - The work load is heavy but action and change is what you have been looking for, so make the most of this period.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Your affairs seem rather involved and action should be limited unless you can see clearly which way you are going.

Historical Society To Restore Seven Art Objects

Quincy Historical Society has undertaken the restoration of seven art objects in its collection as a significant project toward future display, announces H. Hobart Holly, president.

The project is made possible through partial financial assistance from the Council on Arts and Humanities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts through funds appropriated by the Massachusetts legislature.

This is part of a continuing effort by the Society to put its possessions in order for display in a planned museum and library building which it hopes will materialize in the near future.

Special professional skills are involved in restoration of the seven art objects. These include an 18th century export porcelain bowl with an important local historical connection, in damaged condition when given to the Society.

There are also six oil portraits of the 1820-40 period to be cleaned and repaired. These are of the Newcomb, Saville and Spear families in Quincy, and the Rev. Peter Whitney of First Parish Church.

One picture has in the background a representation of the then-new Stone Temple in Quincy Square. Another has a background scene of local granite quarrying, one of the earliest depictions of this Quincy industry.

Gaumont, Curtis Art Exhibits At Main, N. Quincy Libraries

Exhibits for the North Quincy Branch and the main hall gallery of Thomas Crane Public Library during May are announced by Mrs. Carmen Ungar, art librarian.

At North Quincy, paintings [mostly oil] by Mrs. Audrey Gaumont of Foxboro will be on display. Mrs. Gaumont began her professional career at age 14, was a member of the Boston Junior Art League and attended classes at Boston Art Museum.

She has worked as a free lance greeting-card artist and for the past four years has taught art in the Foxboro Adult Education program as well as small classes in her home.

Roger W. Curtis of Gloucester will exhibit his paintings in the main hall gallery. Mr. Curtis specializes in seascapes done in oil. He attended Boston University, the Museum School and took courses under the University Extension program.

Active in many art organizations, he is past president of the North Shore Art Association and its present president.

Nite Owls Planning Active Programs During May

May, proclaimed Senior Citizens' Month, will include a full program for Quincy Nite Owls with all senior citizens invited to its events, announces Ted Johnson, president.

Square dancing will continue on May 7, 13 [a change of date], 21 and 28 at 8 p.m. with a regular dance on May 15.

Nite Owls will participate in the May 12 Festival at the Armory and the May 21 dinner-dance.

Tentative plans have been made for an Appreciation Nite at the Drop-In Center with city councillors and local state representatives and their wives invited. This is to include a New England boiled dinner, entertainment and general dancing.

Also under discussion is an old fashioned lawn party on Drop-In Center grounds. This would include refreshments and entertainment. Tickets should be available soon.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Jessie Stewart at the Drop-In Center, telephone 479-3230.

Three Major Events Planned For 'Senior Citizens Month'

May, proclaimed "Senior Citizens Month in Quincy" by Mayor McIntyre, will be marked by three major events sponsored by the Quincy Council on Aging.

May 7 will find the Senior Citizens taking over duties of 32 municipal offices for a first-hand look at city government in action.

On May 12, the fourth annual May Festival will be held at Quincy Armory from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. The public is invited to view exhibits by city and state agencies dealing in services to the elderly as well as items offered by sale by the 16 clubs of the Quincy Federation of Senior Citizens.

The program starting at 1:30 p.m. will feature music by the Quincy High School Stage Band directed by Anthony Ferrante, school music director; presentation of Quincy Council on Aging Appreciation Awards; special prize awards and table decorations' awards.

Three awards, the Mayor's Prize, Quincy City Council Prize and Quincy Council on Aging

Prize will be presented winning decorated tables created by clubs of the Federation. Judges will be Mrs. Louise Brabazon, secretary to Mayor McIntyre; Mrs. Arthur Tobin, wife of the City Council President; Mrs. Mary Johnson of Radio Station WJDA; Donald C. Wilder, editor of the Patriot Ledger; and Henry W. Bosworth, publisher-editor of the Quincy Sun.

On May 21 the second annual Blossom Time Dinner Dance will climax the month's observance. This will be held at the Quincy Armory with a 6 p.m. social hour followed by a catered dinner and dancing until 11 p.m. to Ray Coleman and his orchestra. Prizes will be awarded and special dances featured. Tickets for the dinner dance may be obtained from the Quincy Council on Aging office.

Mayor McIntyre is Honorary chairman of all the events. Arrangements are under direction of Mrs. Marion Andrews, executive director of the Quincy Council on Aging.

Quincy Education Assn. Annual Banquet May 25

The Quincy Education Association will hold its annual banquet May 25 at Valle's Steak House, Braintree, announces Robert V. Garner, president.

For the first time, the banquet which opens with a 6:30 p.m. social hour, will have three co-chairmen. They are Mrs. Eleanor M. Callahan, Mrs. Maries G. McDevitt and Miss M. Patricia Smith, all teachers at Snug Harbor School.

Among invited guests are Mayor and Mrs. James R. McIntyre, School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon and Mrs. Creedon, and the entire School Committee headed by Vice Chairman James F. McCormick, Sr. and Mrs. McCormick.

The annual meeting of the QEA is scheduled for May 6 at 3:30 p.m. in Quincy High School auditorium.

Weymouth. John Zampine will preside.

All Grange members are welcome.

Blue Hills Masters To Meet On May 17

Blue Hills Masters and Lecturers Association will meet May 17 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Cole of 18 Greenwood Ave., East

"A FAMILY AFFAIR"—The 35th wedding anniversary of Rep. and Mrs. Joseph E. Brett [the former Ruth Fowler] was noted with a family dinner party at Sherry's. Grandchildren sharing the pleasure are Karen Richardson, 8, William Richardson, 10; Linda Richardson, 6½; and Laurie Richardson, 9; all children of Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson, [the former Barbara Brett] [Photo by Gunter]

Senior Citizens To Honor Marion Andrews

Quincy Senior Citizens will honor Mrs. Marion Andrews, executive director of the Quincy Council on Aging at their second annual Blossom Time Dinner Dance Friday, May 21, at the Quincy Armory.

Mrs. Andrews was recently appointed executive director of the Quincy Council on Aging by Mayor McIntyre after serving as assistant director since the program began more than four years ago. The appointment makes Mrs. Andrews the first woman to head a city department during Mayor McIntyre's administration.

Arrangements for the testimonial are headed by Mrs. Ann Gaffey, Secretary of the Quincy Council on Aging, Clarence Metcalf, also a member of the Council on Aging; Theodore J. Fleming and Mrs. Florence Gately, both of the Council on Aging office staff. Serving on the general committee are:

Arthur Ciampa, Chairman of the Quincy Council on Aging, and members of the Council, Presidents of Quincy Senior Citizens Clubs; Mrs. Alice Levins, Bethany Congregational Church Senior Citizens Club; Mrs. Mary MacLean, Golden Fellowship Club of Wollaston; Mrs. Elizabeth Morey, Houghs Neck Senior Citizens; Mrs. Mary Delorey, Quincy Point Senior Citizens; Charles G. McGarry, Germantown Senior Citizens; Mrs. Mary Whalen, St. Ann's Senior Citizens; Rev. Irving Fletcher, Quincy Center Senior Citizens.

Charles Edgerly, North Quincy Senior Citizens; John McCarthy, National Association of Retired Federal Employees; James Beattie, Martensen Street Associates; John Maki, Southwest Quincy; Theodore Johnson, Nite Owls; Mrs. William Wolf, Adult Club, Jewish Community Center; Mrs. Charlotte Pollack, Older Adults, Jewish Community Center; Mr. Metcalf, Quincy Chapter Retired Fire and Police Association.

A social hour will be held at 6 p.m.; dinner at 6:30 and dancing to 11 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from Mr. Fleming at the Council on Aging office or any president of Senior Citizens Club. Reservation deadline will be May 17.

Merrymount Assn. New Officers Introduced

New officers and chairmen of the Merrymount Association, headed by Arthur Boyle of 35 Agawam Rd, president, were introduced at the recent general meeting.

Robert Clarke is vice president; Mrs. Marge Gibbons, treasurer; and Mrs. Marilyn Flynn, secretary.

John Connolly, retiring president who was presented with a plaque; Joseph Cuniff, Bernard Coleman, Steven Needel, Simon Tutunjian and James Sullivan are members of the board of directors.

Mrs. Humberto C. Neves, publicity chairman; Mrs. Tutunjian, Mrs. Henry R. Previte and Mrs. Sullivan, hospitality chairmen; Mr. Cuniff, Merrymount Beach chairman; Richard Blake, Chickatabot Beach chairman; Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Paul Hussey and Mrs. Boyle, membership committee.

Mr. Boyle thanked members who helped clean the beaches, and announced a second cleaning on Sunday from noon to 4 p.m.

An Aug. 28 clam bake was announced by Mr. Clarke, chairman.

John Molloy announced that on May 6 at 6 p.m. at Perkins Field, there will be a sign-up of mini-league baseball players from 5 to 8 years of age. May 7 at 6 p.m. girls from 6 to 14 years may sign up for softball.

The next general meeting will be held May 25 at Our Lady of Good Council lower hall at 8 p.m. At that time the July 4th chairman will be announced, along with a committee to re-write the by-laws. The Board meeting will be on May 11.

Granite Grange Notes 49th Anniversary

Granite City Grange observed its 49th anniversary Monday in Senior Citizens Drop-In Center.

Candles on a birthday cake were lit by charter member Mrs. Sadie DeAngelo, a 49-year Grange member, and past masters Mrs. Rose Drohan, Robert G. Berry, Mrs. Florence Becker, Mrs. Frances Jewers, Mrs. Mary Berry and Mrs. Lillian Wall, present master.

Homeowners, Businesses Urged To Apply For Low Cost Flood Insurance

Homeowners and businesses with flooding problems are being urged by Planning Director Geoffrey Davidson to take advantage of low cost Federal Flood insurance.

Since June 19, 1970 when Quincy homes and small businesses became eligible for this low cost insurance, only 26 residents and eight small businesses have invested in it.

"I urge all homeowners and businesses who have experienced or may experience any problem with flooding, especially in the coming spring months, to immediately contact their own present fire and casualty insurance agent or broker," Davidson emphasizes.

The program, established through the National Flood Insurance Administration makes low cost flood insurance available to property owners by means of a federal subsidy.

On The Screen By Vincent Puleo

GREGORY PECK and General Electric's Tomorrow Entertainment subsidiary are close to inking a $40 million, three-film deal... And no, G.E. isn't the only major American company financing motion pictures. Quaker Oats, believe it or not, spent a nifty $2.7 million on the production of "WILLIE WONKA AND THE CHOCOLATE FACTORY"... "COLD TURKEY" is doing brisk business at the all important box office. The DICK VAN DYKE satire may be an indication of more and better G-rated things to come. We hope!... STANLEY KUBRICK hasn't been resting on his "COOL: A SPACE ODYSSEY" laurels the past two years. His long absence from the screen was due in large part to "A CLOCKWORK ORANGE". The picture shows promise of being as unique as its title so indicates...

JANE RUSSELL makes her Broadway debut May 10 in HAROLD PRINCE's "COMPANY". She will be succeeding ELAINE STRITCH who is exiting the New York stage scene for the greener film scene of the West Coast... As for Miss RUSSELL, "COMPANY" could prove the gateway to a new and flourishing career gone caput through mismanagement and the wrong public image. If she wasn't pushed on the public as a sex symbol only, her talents as an actress would have been more than obvious... "COMPANY" will tax her energies like no other production she has been affiliated with. How Miss RUSSELL faces up to the challenge will determine her future destiny on the stage, and in film...

"HOA BINH" ran away with the London Film Festival's "Outstanding Film of the Year" award. The motion picture is slated for an American release sometime in the early fall... "SUMMER OF '42" could prove to be the most talked about film of the year if it lives up to the reputation of the book. As a novel, "42" more than held its own on the New York Times prestigious top 10 best seller list... And while on the subject of books, MASTERS and JOHNSON's "THE COUPLE" is being readied for production as a motion picture... JACK PALANCE goes back to his bad guy role with the soon-to-be-shot, "CHATO'S LAND". And yes, PALANCE is another actor who has yet to live down his screen image... Two Boston television stations are dickering for the right to extravaganza "MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY" on the home tube. Hope the winner can afford the price tag for this expensive piece of merchandise...

Male mannequin FRANK GIFFORD put his best foot forward in snaring the much sought after ABC Sportscasting post. Football foot that is. As an announcer GIFFORD is wooden, and sounds like a programmed robot. Then again TV has never been geared to showcasing talent... SEAN CONNERY is being considered for Golf's highest accolade-namely, membership in the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrew (Scotland). In CONNERY's case 10 years makes a big difference. In '61 he wasn't a "big" enough name to qualify playing on those hallowed greens... LIBERACE is still searching for the "right" role. Good luck!... Those wondering how accomplished an actress MARIA CALLAS really is, can judge for themselves with "MEDEA"... "SHINBONE ALLEY", a beautifully composed and directed children's film musical, is also recommended for adults...

After squirming through the long, drawn out "DENNIS HOPPER AS THE AMERICAN DREAMER", I came away with the sickening impression that the features' no talent "star" is neurotically involved with himself. Where does that X-rated reject from B-movie land get the nerve to film a Tower of Babel to himself? What has he ever done? And please, do not mention "EASY RIDER". One flic does not make an actor, or rather motorcycle rider, a star... HOPPER's following of social and intellectual castoffs will undoubtedly wallow in the negated charisma of their ego-inflated man prodigy, and will surely spend many sleepless early morns dissecting the tangible benefits to be gained from "AMERICAN DREAMER". As for myself I have still to shed the nightmarish affects of that personality spoof...

If anything good is to be said about said flic, it is that the producers, LAWRENCE SCHILLER and L. M. CARSON, had the intelligence to media premiere it on 30 college campuses at the outrageously low price of $1.50. They must have known before hand that nobody in these inflation dollar days would shell out $3 for a self perpetuating ego trip. And besides, college frosh are more easily impressed with what appears on the screen than their elders... Please never again...

Violence reaches a new pinnacle of sadism with the spaghetti oater, "TODAY WE KILL...TOMORROW WE DIE!" This one makes the earlier CLINT EASTWOOD versions look tame by comparison... Did you catch that JANE FONDA piece in a recent major magazine? Makes you wonder if the Joan of Arc of the 20th century is rebelling for "Causes", or just old fashioned "Publicity"... SAMMY DAVIS, JR. has signed for an upcoming Movie-Of-The-Week, "THE TRACKERS"...

Quincy Hospital To Honor 35 For 26,500 Volunteer Hours

At Quincy City Hospital's Recognition Night on May 13 at 6:30 p.m. at Atlantic Junior High School, 35 volunteer service pins, representing over 26,500 hours of service, and a scholarship will be awarded.

Miss Maureen McEachern a second year student at Quincy Hospital School of Nursing and a former volunteer, will receive from Miss Emma Hassan, Director of Volunteer Services, the first of three $100 scholarships to be presented this year. Miss McEachern is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. McEachern of 201 Safford St., Wollaston.

Mayor McIntyre will present 5,000-hour service pins to Mrs. Betty Keith, Mrs. Eva Balcom and Mrs. Ruth Allabough. Pins will be awarded also to Mrs. Emily Asklund, 2,500 hours; Martin Cooper, 2,815 hours; Mrs. Lillian Smith and Mrs. Margaret Miller, each with 1,000 hours will also receive lamps.

Junior Volunteers Diane Brabazon and Donna Rossi will be presented with 500-hour service pins.

Other Senior Volunteers to receive 100-hour pins are Mrs. Mary Hickey with 145 hours of service; Mrs. Dorothea Chovonella, 244; Mrs. Alice Strausbaugh, 121; Mrs. Luisa Reardon, 101; Mrs. Charlotte

Pollock, 104; Mrs. Cynthia Qualey, 105; Mrs. Betty Woodbridge, 102; and Mrs. Gloria Tribble, 95.

Juniors receiving 100-hour pins will be Cheryl Bodner with 216 service hours; Elaine Dash, 100; Ann Durkin, 98; Janet Floren, 114; Kathy Garity, 186; Jeanne Grazer, 107; Marsha Gullage, 120; Marianne Hurley, 106; Patty Sullivan, 98; and Elaine Veasey, 106.

Ruth Jones, 112; Susan Kirby, 115; Debbie Mattson, 106; Mary Ellen Morrissey, 140; Marie O'Connell, 95; Adele O'Connor, 100; Alice Proulx, 106; Patty Sullivan, 98; and Elaine Veasey, 106.

Senior Volunteers who have received their pins in recent months and who will be recognized are Mrs. Gertrude Drago, 500 hours; Mrs. Catherine O'Connor, 3,000; Mrs. Celia Swinimer, 1,000; Mrs. Pearl Quint, 2,500 and Mrs. Christine Giardino, 2,000.

The Volunteer Services Department, headed by Miss Hassan, is open seven days a week from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Last year 115 Junior and 45 Senior Volunteers recorded close to 34,000 hours of volunteer work. Juniors are from 15 to 18 years of age; Seniors are over 18. Both groups receive training before assuming their duties. Juniors serve after school hours during the week, with double shifts on the weekend.

Senior Volunteers, always on call when needed, have assignments in various departments of the hospital at regular hours.

In expressing appreciation for her volunteers, Miss Hassan said: "Looking back over the past 10 years there are many pleasant memories, all reminders of the happiness and satisfaction I have derived by working with such a dependable and wonderful group of people of all ages. The exuberance of youth is an inspiration to those of us who need their vitality. The experience of the mature is equally as great."

Miss Paula Geso, R.N., a former volunteer and now a staff nurse at Quincy City Hospital, will give the main address.

Guests will be Quincy Hospital Director Harlan Paine, Jr.; Miss Constance Lundy, assistant; Mrs. Frances LaMontagne, director of nursing; Edward V. Cronin, chairman of the Board of Managers; Mrs. Jacob Carp, Women's Auxiliary president; Mrs. Z. Cranston Smith, gift shop chairman; Mrs. Walter G. Lee, past director of volunteer services.

Mrs. Sadie Sylvester Mrs. Beth Graff and Mrs. Ann Lewis will be escorts; Mrs. Emily Asklund, Mrs. Leona Bailey, Mrs. Margaret Miller, Mrs. Nancy McCormick and Mrs. Rita Kenney, ushers; Mrs. Jane Dow, accompanist Entertainment will be by Miss Ann Warren, pantomimic.

Nicastro Candidate For School Committee

Dean Paul Nicastro of 45 Edison St., Quincy Point, today announced his candidacy for election to the Quincy School Committee, and pledged to work for "quality education for our children, at the least expense to the taxpayers of Quincy."

Nicastro, who earned his A.B. degree from Harvard College with highest honors, is on the full-time teaching faculty of Boston College High School where he is instructor in classics.

He served as research and legal assistant to Mayor McIntyre.

In his announcement, Nicastro said:

"The hard-pressed taxpayers of Quincy deserve school committee members who will initiate programs to cut costs and stem the swell-tide of school department budgeting.

"Overcrowding, for instance could be substantially relieved at the secondary level if we would introduce co-operative work education through school agreements with business and industry, and, at the same time, expand the work-study programs at our high schools, as has been recently recommended by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon. Innovations like these would free considerable classroom space."

Nicastro added that:

"Renovation of existing structures to meet new uses and rental, rather than outright ownership of new facilities, would do much to reduce municipal construction and maintenance costs to the taxpayer. In planning for future plant expansion, these avenues should be studied along with the erection of new buildings."

Nicastro also stressed the "need to increase the involvement of our students in programs of occupational education at all levels on a comprehensive basis."

In this way, we will better serve the student who does not pursue advanced instruction in academic subjects and Quincy will qualify for more state reimbursements. At the same time the enhancement of academic and liberal arts schooling should be a constant goal.

"When the taxpayer of Quincy elects his new school committee this year I know he will vote for quality education fiscal prudence and accountability - aims that I shall pursue most vigorously."

A lifelong resident of Quincy, Mr. Nicastro ranked first as valedictorian in his graduating class at Boston College High School before going on to Harvard, where he was elected to the national honor society of Phi Beta Kappa, and, as a summa cum laude graduate, was invited to be Latin Orator at the annual commencement exercises of Harvard University in 1969.

110 Area Residents Oppose Opiate Center

Opposition to the Granite St. Opiate Center of Survival Inc. was recorded by 110 area residents in a petition submitted by Councillor John Koegele to the Quincy City Council on Monday night.

The center is located at 274-276 Granite St. in one of the houses being taken down for construction of the new Lincoln-Hancock School.

Objectors noted that the Center was "almost in the John Hancock School yard." They also contend that:

- It is in violation of Residence B zoning.
- The vote of 20-5 [taken by the South-West Community Council] did not include votes of residents in the immediate area.

- There is an increase of crime in the area
- The communication was referred to the Mayor's Office.

McCauley Criticizes New $17,500 Housing Post As 'Taxpayers' Waste'

In the long run, taxpayers will pay for this job."

The $17,500 job was approved by a 3-1 vote Monday night at a Housing Authority meeting during which a $498,240 budget was approved.

Voting for the $17,500 job were Rev. Peter V. Corea chairman; Lawrence Butler assistant treasurer and Hugo Saluti.

Constanzo Pagnano, vice-chairman, was absent. At the meeting, he said also:

- Increased the salary of Executive Director Clement A. O'Brien from $14,000 to $18,000.

- Created the job of administrative secretary at a salary of $8,500.

- Created the job of a $9,500 project manager for the new 275-unit housing facility now under construction off Bicknell

St.

- Increased the salary of John Kelliher, Leased Housing administrator, from $12,500 to $15,500.

- Hiked the salary of Frank Terranova, Superintendent of Maintenance, from $13,000 to $16,500.

McCauley voted against creating the job of project manager for the new Germantown facility and was joined by Butler.

But the vote was to "strike" the job from the budget and thus lost on the 2-2 deadlock.

A project manager was created several months ago for the Constanzo Pagnano Towers on the site of the old Washington School in Quincy Point.

"I don't think we need a full time manager in each project," McCauley declared. "There is no real justification for it. We have maintenance men and we have

Mr. Terranova to oversee them."

McCauley said he could see creating the job of administrative secretary because of mounting clerical work.

He said he also has no objection to creating new jobs in the laboring and maintenance forces "because we have increased our housing units by 300 in the past year."

He said also he thought the pay raises were "in order" because of the responsibilities of the present executives.

"But I don't think there is a need for any more executive positions at this time," he declared.

McCauley, former City Councillor from Ward 1, was appointed to the Housing Authority by Gov. Sargent.

The four other appointees are those of Mayor McIntyre.

The terms are for five years each.

MBTA Alerting Youngsters Of 'Third Rail' Dangers

The MBTA has begun a safety presentation in Quincy public and private schools to acquaint students with the hazards of the third rail it plans to energize by May 24 from Andrews Station to Victory Rd, North Quincy.

William E. Ryan, general superintendent for safety and Richard Tarbuck, manager of accident prevention and training for the MBTA have prepared a 20 minute slide show depicting how the third rail on a track line powers a train and what the 600 volts it carries can do to a person who comes in contact with it.

Ryan and Tarbuck, aided by Quincy Police Safety Officer Guido Pettinelli plan to deliver their presentation to all of the city's 30 public and five parochial schools by the end of this month.

In the slide showing, the MBTA warns that while the entire length of its track is fenced in, sometimes breaks in the fencing do occur and children might be tempted to walk across the tracks where they could be seriously injured either by the live third rail or an oncoming train.

The third rail in the Victory Rd area is to be energized so that MBTA crews can have some on-site training and testing of equipment before the line goes into actual operation, Ryan said. A showing of the slides will be made available to any organization upon request

Residential Cancer Crusade Now Being Completed

The house-to-house phase of the Quincy Cancer Crusade is now being completed, according to residential chairman Paul C. Kelly.

Crusaders who have not turned in their kits are requested to make returns to treasurer

John Farmer, Hancock Bank, Quincy Center. All workers are urged by Kelly to complete their assignments as soon as possible in order to complete tabulations.

Kits may also be returned through the following ward chairmen: Thomas Brownell, 15

Quincy Education Assn. Annual Meeting Today

The Quincy Education Association holds its annual meeting today at 2:45 p.m. in Quincy High School auditorium with Robert V. Garner presiding.

The agenda will include a proposed budget increase, a hike in annual dues, and the site of new QEA headquarters in an office of the Quincy Savings Bank building in Quincy Square.

Mrs. Louise Schofield's resignation as QEA president-elect has been accepted with deep regret by the executive board.

Ten retirees from the Quincy School system will be honored at the May 25 social at Valle's in Braintree. They are former principals Laurence J. Hanlon, John A. Evans, Beltrando Brini and Mrs. Joan R. Parkes; former assistant principals Martin H. Casey and Donald E. MacDonald; assistant Supt. of Schools Rudolph A. Lofgren; and Mrs. Eleanor Evans, Jessie M. Cummings and Mrs. Mary T. MacDonald, teachers.

Names Of 10 Residents Drawn For Jury Duty

Ten jurors for the criminal session of Norfolk County Supreme Court were drawn by Ward 5 Councillor Walter Hannon at Monday's City Council meeting.

They are:

Bertha Gibney of 90 Faxon Rd, Richard Campbell of 27 Winthrop St., Elaine M. Moore of 106 Highland Ave., John O'Connell of 49 Glover Ave., and Mary D. Barry of 102 Glover Ave.

Peter Federico of 88 Brook St., Thomas Foley of 11 Spruce St., Paul E. Rouleau of 260 Rock Island Rd., Dorothy L.

Willard School Choir To Sing At Statler Hilton Hotel Concert

The 68-member Willard School Choir directed by Miss Eda Antonellis of the Quincy Music Department will make their concert debut Friday at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Boston.

They will perform at the Eighth Annual Conference of Massachusetts School Counselors Association at the invitation of Carter Caudle, Central Junior High counselor, who is program chairman for the conference.

This is the first time an elementary school choir has been invited to sing at the conference. Their repertoire will include, "Poor Tom", "Blow, Ye Winds", "With Sound of Pipe and Flute and Drum", "Streets of Laredo", "The Handsome Butcher", "The Marvelous Toy", and "I've Been Workin' on the Railroad with Partner Songs".

The fifth and sixth grade students were chosen from a group of more than 100 who auditioned for Miss Antonellis in September, 1970.

May 25 at 7:30 p.m. the choir will have a joint concert with the Willard School Band and Willard School Orchestra.

At Christmas, the choir was one of many singing at Quincy nursing homes.

Book Fair At Quincy School

Today and Friday are final days of the week-long Book Fair sponsored by the Quincy School Room Mothers Association in observance of National Library Week.

Some 250 books on display in the school auditorium are viewed each day between 9:30 a.m. and noon by students from primary through sixth grade.

Tuesday afternoon an open house was held for parents.

Purpose of the Fair is to encourage students' interest in reading and to help build home libraries. Proceeds will be used by the Room Mothers Association for the purchase of curtains for the school's media center. The group during the year has conducted four cake sales and a candy sale to aid its fund-raising project.

Mrs. Bruce Gordon, heading the Room Mothers Association is Book Fair chairman. Assisting are Mrs. Paul Goldberg, Mrs. Jean Walsh, Mrs. Mavis Thayer, Mrs. Ellen Hemphill, Mrs. Delia McTighe, Mrs. Jay Potter, Mrs. Margaret Anastas and Mrs. Max Sandberg.

North Quincy Band Returns From Maine Exchange Concert

The North Quincy High school band with Carl Leone, director, returned Sunday from Winthrop, Me. completing the first half of their Exchange Concert with Winthrop High School Band.

Members were housed in homes of students in the Winthrop Band.

Each band performed alone as well as in combination, with one piece featuring Majorettes from both bands.

The second half of the Exchange Concert will be held May 22 at 8 p.m. in North Quincy High School auditorium. More information concerning the advance sale of tickets may be obtained by calling North Quincy High School, 479-5800, Extension 28.

Rev. Kimmell To Discuss Work With Deaf At Women Fellowship Day

Rev. James Kimmell, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, will discuss his work with the deaf at the May 7 Fellowship Day program of Church Women United in Quincy at Wollaston Congregational Church, Winthrop and Lincoln Aves.

Rev. Kimmell, pastor in Quincy for little more than a year, is a graduate of Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, Pa., where he received his bachelor of divinity degree in systematic theology. He has also a master's degree in counseling from Boston University.

Rev. Kimmell received training in deaf work in Lancaster and Gallandet College, the only college for the deaf in the world. He began a Pilot Deaf Vacation School for the Lutheran Church in America while in Pennsylvania, and later taught the psychology of deafness and use of manual communication at Gettysburg College and Lutheran Theological Seminary.

Presently Director of Protestant religious training at the Boston School for the Deaf in Randolph, Rev. Kimmell conducts services in the language of signs at Trinity Lutheran Church the third Sunday of every month at 2:30 p.m.

Rev. Kimmell's talk and a worship service will follow a 12:30 p.m. dessert and coffee hour. Reservations for this should be made no later than May 5 with Miss Lydia Randall at 472-5238.

Mrs. Harry Maki is chairman of Christian Social Relations, in charge of the May Fellowship Day program. Theme for the day is "Enlarge the Place of Your Tent," with an emphasis on the family in the new era.

A welcome will be given by Mrs. H. Wallace Sylvester, president of Church Women United, and by Mrs. Charles Collins and Mrs. William J. Longridge, co-presidents of the Women's Union at Wollaston Congregational Church. Mrs. John R. Smith of First United Presbyterian Church will lead devotions and meditations.

Mrs. Carol Whittaker will be soloist, and Mrs. Edna Nicoll, organist. Ushers will be Mrs. Lloyd Martin, Mrs. Howard Willard, Mrs. Foster Cleveland and Mrs. Frank Willis. Mrs. Wilbert Cox and Mrs. Kenneth Yoerger will be registrars.

Laws On Divorce, Separation, Subject At Quincy Point Church

"How should Massachusetts laws on divorce, separation, child custody and support be improved?"

These problems are the subject of an open meeting May 18 at Quincy Point Congregational Church to which area residents who have experienced the Massachusetts divorce system are invited to give their ideas.

The "hearing" is the first of a series to be held across the state by the Massachusetts Advisory Council on Home and Family, headed by Mrs. Marie W. Kargman. Two sessions are planned on May 18, from 2:30-5 p.m. [with child care], and from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Each session will be divided into two parts. Those attending will meet first in small groups with qualified discussion leaders so that all ideas and recommendations can be stated. Later, the most common concerns and recommendations will be discussed in a general meeting.

The Council, created by the legislature in 1966, has been studying present laws and meeting with professionals on marital problems. It is now asking the people directly affected how the system can be improved.

Permanent Peace Can Be Achieved Christian Science Lesson Sermon

Permanent peace can be achieved, according to the Bible Lesson-Sermon to be read Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 20 Greenleaf St. at the 10:45 a.m. service.

"God fashions all things after

His own likeness. Life is reflected in existence, Truth in truthfulness, God in goodness, which impart their own peace and permanence." This citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is from the Lesson-Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man".

Words of the Apostle Paul to be read are: "Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things where with one may edify another."

Come, Let Us Reason Together

By Dr. William F. Knox
Personal Counselor

The trouble with most sick marriages is that the partners don't seem to know what each other wants...one refuses to find out what the other's needs are...and resists giving those needs when found out. Resistance to meeting a partner's needs may be an indication of the measure of love...maybe of one's inability to love at all.

Five needs loom large to me in the marriage relationship if it is to bring happiness to each partner. You might wish to check your own marriage happiness by these five "musts".

1. Communication. You can't second-guess a partner no matter how long you've lived together. Failure to talk results in misunderstandings...loneliness...hostility...and so does the failure to listen. Talk about daily human interest events...talk about problems...plans for the future...possible improvements to your home...even a new home...new job...new car...dream all the dreams you want to...but TALK. Have fun talking together. Marriage Must No. 1.

2. Forgive. Hurts...oversights...neglects...affairs...all will have to be forgiven and forgotten if there is to be happiness. I care not what has happened between you...treat each such provocation as a temporary illness...not as a cause for punishment of the partner. But look behind the breach for the cause...the cause may rest with the "innocent" partner...if there ever is such a partner. Forgive and forget. Seek the assistance of your counselor if you can't manage to forgive by yourself. Marriage Must No. 2.

3. Sex. "Next to hunger the most powerful of human instincts is sex," wrote the late Dr. Peter Marshall, Chaplain of the U.S. Senate... "Sex will either be the nicest thing in your life...or it will be the nastiest." He left no in-between ground. Your sexual feelings and attitude depend on your background and conditioning toward sex. If yours was negative conditioning...it's probably the nastiest. If yours was positive...you're sure sex is the nicest thing in your life. I'm waiting to see how the present generation fares 20 years from now...better or worse...for the freedom of our times about sex. Past generations...and ours haven't handled this part of marriage very well. With our inhibitions...sexual inadequacies...frigidity and impotency...sex has been the source of much marital unhappiness. There are two purposes for sex...reproduction and pleasure. Take pleasure away and there wouldn't be much reproduction. When a couple is ready to cease reproducing then the only remaining purpose is pleasure. One who doesn't find pleasure in sex is probably a maladjusted person...and probably isn't contributing much that really counts to the happiness of the marriage. Marriage Must No. 3.

4. Resolve. I observe that many couples are having trouble because they refuse to resolve differences...seem afraid of commitments. They made a marriage alter commitment to each other...but that was just the beginning...every day year after year new adjustments and commitments have to be made to meet the changing circumstances. Love means we are versatile...we learn...we are free to change our minds...to find better solutions. Without "resolving" conflicts as they arise there'll probably be a lot of unhappiness...a lot of misery. Marriage Must No. 4.

5. Companionship. I left this to the last...but it probably should really be first...because I still see no justification for marriage except companionship...a constancy of partnership which isn't possible unless a man and woman live together. The companionable marriage preserves some of the romance it first knew. It means these people have fun together...they like each other...they don't compete with each other...they help each other...they accept each other...they are lovers in the true sense...they are friends. Marriage Must No. 1-2-3-4-5.

These five seem to me to be "musts" to a happy marriage...you can add to the list according to your own needs...but I doubt that you can be happy in marriage without these five. By the way...don't depend too much upon your partner unless you are happy yourself...these five "musts" probably won't work...because the real source of happiness comes from within oneself. It's a state of mind.

St. John's Holy Name Society Communion Breakfast May 23

St. John's Holy Name Society will hold its annual family Communion breakfast Sunday May 23 at Coral Gables, North Weymouth immediately following the 8:30 a.m. Mass to be celebrated in St. John's Church.

Rev. Lawrence J. Poetz, Director of the Miramar Retreat House in Duxbury, will be the guest speaker at the breakfast.

Holy name members and their families will attend Mass and receive Communion as a group at the church.

Fulvio Berrini is general chairman. He is being assisted by Jack Buonopane, president; Harry Fified, vice-president; Richard Calderara, treasurer; John Noonan, secretary; Joseph Ciccolo, George Moscardelli, Fred Fostello and Arthur Davidson.

John J. Milling On USS Lexington

Navy Seaman John J. Milling, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Milling of 30 French St., North Quincy, has reported for duty aboard the training aircraft carrier USS Lexington at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

He is a 1968 graduate of South Boston High, Boston.

Southwest Community Council Approves Opiate Redirection Center

The Southwest Community Council is in favor of Survival, Inc. opening an opiate redirection center at 274-276 Granite St., Quincy.

By a vote of 20-to-5, members of the council made up of residents in the area voiced approval of plans of Survival to place the facility in their neighborhood. The city-owned three family house will be used as an evaluation center for drug addicted young people.

"Survival can now use these city-granted facilities on Granite Street to temporarily house an opiate redirection center," said Dr. Ronald G. Rosso, Coordinator of Survival Inc. "Survival's opiate redirection center is intended to receive, evaluate, initiate therapy and direct opiate abusers into different types of long term treatment like a therapeutic community or methodone maintenance," he said.

"It is painful reality," he continued, "that we have had to turn heroin users away from our program in spite of the fact that we have a trained staff of ex-addicts and mental health professionals and fully-equipped facilities at 60 South St., for evaluation and treatment of addicts because the situation in Quincy did not allow us to treat opiate abusers. Public apathy and opposition had until now prevented us from operating our opiate redirection center.

"Though these temporary quarters will allow some services to South Shore abusers almost immediately," he continued, "this operation must be limited. Live in facilities will not be immediately available. This decision was due partly to Survival's acceptance of Mr. Joseph Ricci's resignation."

"Mr. Ricci had been waiting for over two months to function as the resident director of Survival's opiate redirection center." "He has been attracted within this last month to direct a more permanent therapeutic community in Maine.

"Mr. Ricci is a well-trained specialist in the rehabilitation of addicts in a therapeutic community. It is difficult to lose his services; however, it has been unfair and wasteful to prohibit him from using his expertise in that one specific area where it is so effective."

"Survival would like to thank Dr. Alfred Mahoney, Director of Public Health, as well as Mayor McIntyre for their efforts in obtaining this facility for Survival."

Clerical Assn. Backs Survival, Inc.

"The concern and interest of the clergymen of Quincy with regard to the problem of drug abuse in this city," is expressed by Rev. Robert H. Blute, President of the Quincy Clerical Association.

"We desire to lend our support to Dr. Charles Djerf (President of Survival Inc.) and the city-wide campaign to aid Survival Inc.," he said.

Mr. Blute noted the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs recently disclosed that 130 persons had died from an overdose of heroin in the state of Massachusetts during the years 1969 to 1970.

"Survival, Inc., aims at preventing such tragic loss of human life and richly deserves a generous share of our gifts of money, time, and concern," he said.

CHILDREN AND NOSEBLEEDS

Nosebleeds are common in childhood but rare in infancy. They may occur more often in the winter months when the heating systems cause the air to be dry in the home. They occur frequently at night when the child rubs or picks his nose during sleep. Excess blood loss is rarely a concern.

The most common cause is dryness of the mucous membranes and, often, an associated small ulcer area. Frequently, this condition can be corrected simply by improving humidification in the home. Also helpful is the application of white petroleum jelly to the inside of the nostrils to prevent dryness.

The most common method used to stop a nosebleed is to apply a cold, wet towel over the face and nose and back of the neck with the head tilted back. If bleeding is severe or prolonged, by all means, call a physician.

John J. McDougall Elected President Massachusetts Drug Advisory Council

John J. McDougall of 95 Fayette St., North Quincy, has been unanimously elected President of the Massachusetts Drug Advisory Council.

McDougall has been working in the field of drug education for the past five years, presently serving under Norfolk County, Dist. Atty. George G. Burke, in the division of Drug Abuse, Prevention, and Education.

Burke's drug program first of its kind in the Commonwealth, was established in 1967.

The five-man drug education team of which McDougall is a member, recently extended a school program beyond the junior and senior high school level to the elementary schools, grades four, five, and six.

Currently, "the team" is working in classroom sessions with the children of Avery, Quincy, Ames, Greenleaf, and Dexter schools in the Dedham District, and in South and Crowley elementary schools in Avon.

McDougall was part of District Attorney Burke's team invited by the Government of the Virgin Islands to survey the drug scene there and suggest an effective educational program for their school systems. The District Attorney's Office of Drug Abuse, Prevention, and Education works full time with young people of school age, their parents, and their teachers, coordinating the efforts of interested groups and individuals.

As President of the Massachusetts Drug Advisory Council McDougall will devote his energies to the organization of civic, religious, and community organizations, desirous of implementing preventative, viable alternatives to drugs for the youth of their communities, and in propagating sound educational curriculum for school systems throughout the Commonwealth.

Raiders Host Chelsea, Quincy At Somerville

North Quincy's baseball team, which hoped Tuesday to hold its Greater Boston League lead when it faced strong Revere, yesterday played at Somerville, Friday will be home to Chelsea at Adams Field as the second half of the league season starts. On Monday the Raiders will face Quincy at Adams Field and next Wednesday will host Medford.

Meanwhile Quincy, which snapped a three-game losing streak against Revere last week, played at Malden Tuesday, hosted Everett yesterday, plays at Somerville Friday, meets North Quincy Monday and goes to Chelsea Wednesday.

The North-Revere and Quincy-Malden games were scheduled for Monday but were rained out.

Charles Bunker's North team following five wins in a row, four in the league, suffered its first defeat last Saturday to Everett, 6-4, in a loss which will be hard to forget.

"It is hard to believe how we lost this one," Bunker said.

"Everett scored all six runs in the second inning and not one of them was earned. Two very costly errors let in runs and we should have been out of the inning without a run.

"Scott Manson, starting his first game after several outstanding relief jobs, shut them out the rest of the way and turned in as fine a game as we have received all year. It was a shame he had to lose it.

A misplay on a double play ball started things off, a wild throw to the plate with the bases loaded allowed two to score and the clincher was a pop fly grand slam home run which barely made the fence in very short center field.

North was held to five hits including a two-run double by Dan Zink, a triple by Jack Flaherty and hits by Jim Saruda and Tim Flynn, who hit the ball hard all day but right at the fielders.

Quincy remained in the battle for at least second place with a big 6-2 win over Revere as Bob Brill and Jim Walker held the Patriots to seven hits.

Quincy had played brilliant defense in winning its first three games but it then fell apart, leading to three straight losses.

The tables were reversed against Revere as Quincy's defense again sparkled while Revere threw the ball around, leading to five Quincy runs in the fifth to break a scoreless tie.

"Today we played good defense with just one error and Brill did a fine job as he gave up three hits, struck out seven and walked three," Coach Bob Basiliere said. "I removed Bob in the eighth as he had thrown 131 pitches and Walker is one of the better relievers in the league.

"This is getting to be quite a race. I feel North Quincy has an excellent chance to win the title but four or five teams have a chance to at least finish second and earn a tourney berth and I think we still have a chance."

Against Revere Steve Sullivan singled with the bases loaded, Bill Maver and Pete Lucier had two hits apiece.

UCT, Sweeney Winners In Youth Hockey Playoffs

In Quincy Youth Hockey playoffs at Weymouth, the Pee Wee champion United Commercial Travelers defeated Wollaston 3-1 while Sweeney, topping the Bantams, blanked Cox 3-0.

Accounting for UCT's goals were Paul Messina, 2, and Mark Linnane. Assists were by Frank Robinson, John Norton and Mark Rooney. John Kelly assisted scored for Wollaston.

Davis won over Morrisette 5-1, with goals by Ed Santry, Pat O'Regan, Paul Lindenfelzer and Rob Carmody [2]. Credited with assists were Rick O'Connell, Paul Lindenfelzer and Pat O'Regan [2]. John Fair scored from Mark Kelly for Morrisette's goal.

Maguire defeated Crestview 4-2. Doug MacDonald scored twice for Maguire; Frank McGinnis and Dave Lewis, one each, with assists by James Maibach, Mike Pitts and Ken Halloran. Crestview's goals were by David Hurley and Donald Pedias. Assists were by Paul Hurley, Stevie Clinton, Ralph Palmer and Peter Cattaneo.

Hannon scored 5 to Keohane's 2. Goals for Hannon were made by Jack Cronin [2], Steve Cronin, Dan Cronin and Paul Barry with assists by Brian Bertoni, Steve Cronin, Paul O'Brien, Tommy Heffernan and Gerry DeLuca. Leo Doyle and Jim Kelly scored for Keohane, with help of John Fury and Leo Doyle.

Sweeney's 3-0 shutout of Cox saw goals by John Ryan from Mike Norton and Rob Henderson, John Norton unassisted, and Gerry McEleney from Fred Murray and John Norton.

Grenham Center Honors Basketball Teams At Banquet

The Sgt. Grenham Youth Center held its first basketball banquet Saturday at Fellowship Hall in the Houghs Neck Congregational Church with some 70 parents and players attending.

The two Youth Center teams were sponsored by Most Blessed Sacrament Church to play in the David and Goliath Leagues of the YMCA.

Individual trophies were awarded by the Youth Center, and Division and Play-Off team trophies by the YMCA to the senior team. The team had a 10-1 record, won the division championship and play-off in the David League, defeating Christ Church 39-32 to win the South Shore Division Play-Off.

Coached by Joe Amyouny, team members are Jim McInnis, Joe Picard, Charlie McCormack, Bob Brill, Rich Cotter, John Ryan, Jack Clarke and Paul Vachon.

Also receiving trophies were the junior team winners of the Goliath Division and runners-up in the play-offs when they were defeated by First Congregational Church of Randolph.

Team members, coached by Gary Keefe, are Jim Ridlen, Brian Picard, John Picard, Bruce Hodges, Ed O'Neil, Mike Guarniere, Dave Munroe, Tim Dunn and Jeff Little.

Presentations were made by the coaches and Dave McMillan, of the Youth Center Advisory Board. Leo Kelly, Advisory Board president, was master of ceremonies.

Guest speaker was Larry Eisenhower of the Boston Patriots, who commented on a "member of a losing team speaking to champions." He spoke on his younger days in football.

Other guests of honor were Rep.-Councillor Walter Hannon, Rev. Peter V. Corea, who led devotions; and Rev. Garrett Barry of Most Blessed Sacrament Church, who also spoke.

Mike Catrambone and Harold Little were chefs for the dinner. Girls from the Youth Center assisting with decorations and as waitresses were Nancy Dyer, Janice Cassidy, Susan Craig, Eileen Green, Marian Campbell, Teresa Iacovino, Janet Amyouny, Mary Ann Amyouny, Rain Drohan and Joanne Ross, along with Mrs. Joseph Amyouny.

Eastern Nazarene Meets Babson

The Eastern Nazarene College baseball team which made a great comeback after going winless [a tie and four losses] in its first five games, yesterday faced Roger Williams, and today is home to Babson at 3 o'clock. On Friday the Crusaders at Southeastern Mass. at 3, Tuesday hosts U. of Maine, Portland branch, at 3 and Wednesday is home to New Hampshire, also at 3.

Last Saturday ENC split a doubleheader with Husson to make its record 7-5-1. The loss in the second game snapped a six-game winning streak.

In the first game ENC won,

3-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Doug Sorenson. He struck out four and walked two.

The Crusaders had only four hits, including Sorenson's triple. ENC bowed, 4-0, in the second game as it was held to two hits. Dan Willis pitched a five-hitter but Husson scored three runs in the fourth to clinch things.

In their previous game the Crusaders had walloped Roger Williams, 9-4, with Willis giving up only four hits. ENC had 10, including a triple and single by Sorenson, a double and single by Don Eads and two singles by Willis.

Willis is the team's top pitcher with a 3-2 record and a fine 1.15 earned run average. He has a strong arm but has shown a tendency to tire after five or six innings.

Sorenson is the leading batter with a .352 average and has four triples and a home run. He also is the number two pitcher with a 2-2 record and a 1.25 ERA.

The only area players on the squad are John Milly and Scott Willy, both sophomore outfielders from Weymouth. Milly is the starting right fielder and Willy a reserve.

In Track

Quincy Faces Somerville Test, Raiders Take On Revere

Quincy's high-powered track team, with two impressive wins in the Greater Boston League in as many starts, faces one of its biggest tests today when it meets Somerville at Medford. The meet was rained out a week ago.

North Quincy, defending champion which was upset by Somerville last week, squares off against Revere.

Tuesday the league held its meets for the only time this year at Quincy Veterans Memorial Stadium with Quincy facing Everett and North taking on Chelsea.

Next Tuesday at Medford Quincy will oppose Chelsea and North takes on Medford.

Last week Tom Hall's Quincy team romped over Revere, 80-51, to make its league mark 2-0 following an easy practice win over Weymouth South.

Bobby Clano won the mile in 4:33.7 to keep alive an unbeaten streak which covers two years in both track and cross country.

John Provost, running track this year for the first time, again won the triple jump at 41 feet, 6 inches, and was just edged in the low hurdles.

Quincy swept the 220 with Fred Antoon winning, followed by Pete Daley and Gerry McCall.

Other winners for the Presidents were Joe Goguen in the 440, Brian Feeney in the 880, Jim Buccianeri in the shot put, Rich Menchi in the javelin, Wayne Richards in the discus and the relay team of Ray Lawyer, Goguen, Daley and Antoon.

Mrs. John Aramo Wins At Furnace Brook

Mrs. John Aramo with a low gross of 28 was top player in the Furnace Brook Golf Club Women's Tuesday Tournament. Mrs. Thomas Mulroy, Mrs. Dolph Aimola and Mrs. Fred Lutfy tied for low net. Mrs. Joseph DiFederico had second gross, and Mrs. Richard Harrison, second net.

Central Should Hold Own In League

Mike Casali has compiled an enviable record as coach of Central Junior High's baseball, basketball and football teams during his 13-year tenure. He has had particularly outstanding success in basketball, in which he has led his teams to 10 city championships.

Mike expects this spring's baseball team to hold its own in the city league and is confident it will be up with the league leaders.

"We have some very promising boys and, as usual, the interest is high," Casali said. "The athletes here have always shown a good deal of determination, a major factor in our success and this year's baseball team is no exception."

Central opened its season Tuesday against Point. Today it hosts Broad Meadows at Perkins Field and next Thursday will face Atlantic-North at Adams Field.

"Although I am cautiously optimistic, the league is strong and several of the teams are going to be tough," Casali concluded. "I expect to have trouble with every team."

QJC Shooting For Tourney Berth

The Quincy Junior College baseball team's chances of winning its division championship in the Mass. Junior College League were dimmed last week but Dave Burke's club is still hoping for at least a second place spot and a berth in the league playoffs.

Tuesday the Collejuns hosted Bryant and Stratton, Friday will play Newton Jr. College at Allison Park, Newton, in a 3:30 game and Monday will wind up the regular season against undefeated Wentworth at 3:30 at Connelly Park in Roxbury.

QJC dropped a 3-2 heartbreaker last week to Wentworth but bounced back Saturday to blank Franklin, 5-0. Going into Tuesday's game with Bryant and Stratton the team had a 7-2 overall record and 5-2 league mark.

Saturday, Bob Paster of North Quincy had a no-hitter for five innings and gave Franklin only one hit.

Jim Broderick of North Quincy, one of the Collejuns' top batters, and Gary Timlin each drove in two runs and Jim Donovan drove in the other.

Against Wentworth the Quincy club fell behind, 3-0, in the first inning and just missed pulling it out in the final inning.

"Justin McCarthy pitched another fine game but we made four errors and they set up a couple of runs," Burke said. "He and Paster have won all our games. This loss hurts our title chances but we play Wentworth again and we still have a chance."

McCarthy, dropping his first division after four wins, gave up only four hits, struck out two and walked one. Two hits, two errors and the one walk accounted for Wentworth's three first inning runs.

QJC scored once in the third when Ned Tobin walked, and scored on Broderick's hit. In the seventh Tobin walked, as did Tom Piscatelli and Timlin's hit brought Tobin home. However, Timlin and Piscatelli were left stranded and QJC lost by one.

The Quincy squad this year includes three veterans of the Vietnam war, McCarthy, second baseman Charles Sullivan and outfielder Charlie Moore.

Condos Figures Big In Bowdoin Plans

Chuck Condos, former Quincy High star who was a high scoring forward the past winter for the strong Bowdoin College freshman hockey teams, figures prominently in next year's varsity plans.

Condos was one of the players mentioned by Coach Sid Watson in lining up next season's varsity team. The 1970-71 team won the ECAC Division II title in March with an overall 19-4-1 and 16-2 Division II record.

"If several of the past year's freshmen produce in the manner I think they can, we could have another fine year," said Watson, the National College Division Coach of the Year for two years in a row. "One of those who could help us immensely is Condos, who had a fine freshman year."

Merged Quincy Softball League To Open Season On May 10

The Quincy Softball League, a merger of the Merchants and Acme Leagues, opens its season May 10 at 7 p.m. at Rotary Field.

The League now consists of a North and a South Division, each with 10 teams. All 20 teams will play a 28-game slate. Mayor McIntyre will officially throw out the first ball, assisted by Richard J. Koch, executive director of the Quincy Park and Recreation Association. Honored guests will include councillors from each ward in the city, and Quincy YMCA Director George Ramsden.

Wayne Gauthier, League president, will open the ceremonies assisted by George Callarusso, North Division Commissioner and Jerry Cullen, South Division Commissioner, and League treasurer Al Sarruda.

Opening games will be between last year's champs and co-champs of both leagues. The Burke Club will play the Alumni in the first game, while A. & J. Movers will compete with Beau's Place in the second.

North Division teams include Alumni Cafe, Sagamore Grille, Burke Club, Steve's Place, Barry's Deli, Deaf Club, China Lido, Wells Grille, Dee Dees, South Shore National Bank.

In the South Division are Furnace Lounge, Jolly Roger, Bersani Bros. Louis' Cafe, Mr. Kelly's, A. & J. Movers, Joe's Holbrau, Bocce Club, Beau's Place and Pete's Lounge.

North Golf Team Prospects 'Good'

North Quincy's golf team won the Mass. Coast League championship the past two years and, despite an opening day loss, veteran coach Jack Donahue feels the Raiders have a good chance to repeat this season.

"Prospects look good. In Captain Wayne Fick we have one of the finest players in the state," Donahue said. "We have two other veterans, Mike Tracey and Jeff Burrell and other fine players are Tim O'Leary, Joe Tighe, Bruce Henriksen, Dave Kenney, Joe Barkas and Bob Meehan.

"In all, we have about 20 to 25 boys playing every Monday at Wollaston, our home course. This is the 39th year North Quincy has been given the privilege of using the course and we appreciate the fine treatment we have always received."

Following a 6-3 loss to Boston Latin, North breezed over Quincy, 7½-½, and Boston English, 8-1.

Monday North played Boston

Tech at Wollaston and next Monday will host Hyde Park.

In addition to 10 league matches, home and home matches with Quincy, Tech, Latin, English and Hyde Park, the Raiders have non-league matches with Braintree, Hingham and Weymouth.

Beach, Shoreline Clean-Up Begins Here On Saturday

The Quincy Health Department's clean-up program for beaches, shore-line and inland areas of Quincy opens Saturday and will be continued May 15.

Residents, neighborhood organizations, civic and church groups, Boy Scouts and others interested are being asked to volunteer their services. Volunteers may report Saturday at 8:30 a.m. at various points. The success of this project depends upon these groups, says Arthur J. Perette, sanitary inspector.

The four areas covered by the program are:
*Group 1 - Avalon and Mound St. beaches and other sections of Ward 2. Volunteers report at Avalon Beach.
*Group 2 - Germantown area.
*Group 3 - Adams Shore and Houghs Neck areas. Groups 2 and 3 will assemble at the corner of Sea and Palmer Sts.

*Group 4 - Squantum area. Volunteers meet at Myles Standish School East Squantum St.

The city will supply trucks from the Department of Public Works and Park Department.

Refreshments will be served to all participating.

Two Junior Highs Continue Tin Can Collections

Tin can collections in Quincy will be continued by two junior high schools announces Mrs. Frank Yeomans, chairman of the Quincy Conservation Committee.

The week-long pick-up of cans for reclamation purposes closes Saturday when the large red bins at six of Quincy's fire stations will be carted away by the M & C Company of Dorchester, under contract to the city for trash removal. Arrangements were made through Public Works Commissioner John M. Browne.

Central Junior High through its Project Score directed by Raymond Whitehouse, and Broad Meadows Junior High School students under Charles Hickey will continue the reclamation project.

"This will be an ongoing program" says Mrs. Yeomans. "There has been a great deal of interest. People have been calling and asking whether we are going to continue and saying how wonderful the idea is, and they are delighted that it is being done in Quincy. The Wollaston Garden Club has asked all members to call friends. There has been a very good response."

On Tuesday, Mrs. Yeomans and Mrs. Paul Perito of the Conservation Commission discussed with Win Bettinson on Radio Station WJDA's Community Spotlight program "Good Environmental Housekeeping" for every member of the family.

Quincy High Pops Concert Scheduled For May 12

The annual Pops Concert of Quincy High School Music Department will be held May 12 at 8 p.m. in the girls' gymnasium.

Music in a light vein will be played by the school band and orchestra. The Concert Choir, Mixed Glee Club, Girls' Glee Club and Male Glee Club will sing popular songs from "Love Story" and other film hits.

The program will conclude with selections by the Stage Band.

Decorations and refreshments are being handled by the Choral Department.

All seats are reserved and may be purchased through the Music Department, headed by Ivar O. Nelson. Gale Harrison has charge of arrangements.

S.S. Committee For Young Child Holds Organizational Meeting Today

The South Shore Committee for the Young Child will hold an organizational meeting today [Thursday] at 3:30 p.m. at the South Shore Mental Health Center, 77 Parkway, announces Mrs. Roberta B.

Manton.

The meeting is being held in connection with the "Week of the Young Child", May 16 to 22, during which the National Association for the Education of Young Children will attempt to focus attention in developing programs designed for young children.

Persons interested in attending the meeting should contact Michael Howard, Director of the Living and Learning School in Braintree.

Quincy Coast Guardsman Takes Part In Rescues

Coast Guard Seaman Bruce H. Walker, son of Mrs. Martha A. Walker of 294 Water St., Quincy, assisted in answering two distress calls from disabled vessels while serving aboard the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba off the North Carolina Coast.

Escanaba acted as "On Scene Commander" when the tanker

Texaco Oklahoma broke in half, 100 miles east of Cape Hatteras.

Along with Navy, Air Force and merchant ships in the area, Walker's ship covered a 60,000 square mile area in a extensive search for survivors. The search lasted a week and 13 men were rescued.

While enroute to her homeport of New Bedford,

Escanaba received another distress call from the fishing vessel Mister Lobster which stated - "We are sinking."

Escanaba rushed to the scene, lowered two small boats and her crewmen rescued three men and a dog. Damage control teams tried to control flooding of the vessel without success.

Joseph Katz Hopes He Enjoys It

80-Year-Old 'Non-Politician' Takes Over As Mayor Friday

By RUTH WAINWRIGHT

"I was never a politician," says Joseph Katz of 58 Belmont St., North Quincy, chosen Mayor for Friday's Senior Citizens Government Day, a "first for Quincy."

"I hope I am going to enjoy it," he adds.

Mr. Katz, who admits to being "close to 80," has two sons, four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

"Let's hope by the end of the day we will have all our municipal problems solved," commented McIntyre, at Monday's Council meeting as he drew the name of Mr. Katz from among those of 273 applicants, 53 men and 220 women. A total of 52 city offices will be filled.

Lucy Brophy of 185 Manet Ave., Houghs Neck, will be President of the City Council; Pearl Peachy and Ralph Morelli, councillors-at-large.

Other Councillors will be Mary Lambert, Ward 1; Esther Smullen, Ward 2; William Fortman, Ward 3; Sadie Gold, Ward 4; Grace Mellyn, [24 Bay View Ave.], Ward 5; Julia Crowley, Ward 6.

Roger E. Perkins will be City Auditor; John Harmon, City Clerk; Margaret Cahill, City Treasurer; Helen Shea, Health Commissioner; Alice McLaughlin, Park Commissioner; Anna Morrill, Recreation Director; Bertha Sproul, Public Works Commissioner.

Ethel Kneeland will hold down the position of City Solicitor while her husband, Foster Kneeland, is Civil Defense Director. Catherine Johndro will take the place of Marion Andrews, Director of the Council on Aging, who originated the idea of Senior Citizens Government Day.

Etta Free will replace the Fire Chief; Annie Clancy, the Police Chief; Benjamin Steidman, School Superintendent; Marion A. Kinsman, Housing Authority Director; William H. Golden, Purchasing Agent; George L. Collier, Fire Alarm Superintendent.

Mabel Garland, Building Inspector; Blanche Consolazio, Wire Inspector; Mary Ramsden, Plumbing Inspector; Richard Miller, Mayor's executive secretary; Charles Vierkant, Superintendent of Maintenance for Quincy Housing Authority; Kay Powers, Personnel Director; Ann Mitchell, Library Director; Leona Roger, Historian; Nicholas J. Mina, Cemetery Superintendent; Jane Henry, Veterans' Services Director; Mrs. Margaret Whittaker, Planning Director; Joseph Brennan, City Engineer; Mrs. Grace Mellyn [95 Martensen St.], Superintendent of Buildings; Sadie Julius, North Quincy Improvement Director.

Hazel Carter, Hospital Director; her husband, Nick Carter, Conservation Commissioner; Henrietta Helfan, Code Enforcement; Jessie Taylor, Kay McNeil and Mrs. Walter Jonah, Board of Assessors; Lena Clark and Lester Glasser, Health Inspectors.

Two appointive positions named by City Council President

Arthur H. Tobin went to Charles McGarry, earlier crowned "King" of the Senior Citizens, who was made Clerk of the City Council for the day; and Shirley Bryant, retired member of the Forestry Department promoted to head that department.

Senior Citizen officials will report to the City Council Chambers tomorrow at 9 a.m., when department heads will provide transportation for their official offices for the day.

At 1 p.m. all will be guests of Mayor McIntyre, along with City Councillors at a luncheon at Quincy Vocational-Technical School.

A simulated City Council meeting is planned for the afternoon.

Quincy Hospital Plans Special Events During May 10-16 Observance

Quincy City Hospital from May 10-16 will hold a series of open discussions, films, displays and tours in recognition of National Hospital Week.

"Your Hospital Cares" is the theme for a series of public educational programs May 10, 11 and 12 from 7 to 9 p.m. These will include talks by Milton Wolk, coordinator of alcoholic division for the State Department of Public Health; Alwyn Marston, Weymouth Schools Health Coordinator; Miss Ruth Johnson of Norfolk County Public Health Department's respiratory division.

Mrs. Elsie Sullivan, faculty nutritionist of Quincy City Hospital School of Nursing, and staff members Dr. Wendell B. Thrower, thoracic surgeon discussing cancer of the lungs, and Dr. Leonard Bornstein, internal medicine, discussing prevention of heart disease.

On May 10 a Senior Citizens' Tour is scheduled for 2-4 p.m.; May 11, 1-2 p.m. Student Nurse scholarship luncheon; May 12 2-4 p.m., pink tea of Quincy City Hospital Women's Auxiliary; May 13, 3-5 p.m., pre-teens' tour; and May 16, 2-4 p.m. Open House.

The committee planning the program includes Mrs. Frances LaMontagne, Director of Hospital School of Nursing; Mrs. Harriet Seguin, Director of In-Service Education and Mrs. Gertrude Barr, assistant; also Miss Constance Lundy, assistant Director of Quincy City Hospital, and Mrs. Janet Dufresne.

Lt. Comdr. Robert S. Cutler Takes Part In Tanker Rescue

Coast Guard Lt. Comdr. Robert S. Cutler, husband of the former Miss Dorothy L. Robbins of 30 Lakeside Ave., Quincy, has returned to Wilmington, N.C., after a 46-day Atlantic Ocean patrol aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Mendota.

During the patrol he participated in the search for the tanker Texas Oklahoma from which 13 men were rescued and rendered medical assistance to two other merchant ships at sea.

Housing Authority Squabble Continues

2,000 More Housing Units For City Seen 'Doubtful'

Prospects of building 2,000 additional public housing units in Quincy appear "doubtful", according to Francis X. McCauley, treasurer of the Quincy Housing Authority.

"Lack of available land will make this a physical impossibility I'm quite sure," McCauley said.

He said that even if it could be done it would not justify the creation of the now controversial $17,500 assistant administrator post voted by the Housing Authority board May 3.

McCauley, the only board member present to vote against the job, said today:

"How can we justify that job now for something that might happen or might not happen sometime in the future?"

McCauley, former City Councilor, will make an attempt to kill the job.

"I will move at our next meeting May 26 that the board reconsider and eliminate the job. It is an unnecessary job and a waste of taxpayers' money," he declared.

Earlier this week, Dr. Peter V. Corea, chairman of the Housing Authority board, reported that the Housing Authority is discussing the possibility of building 2,000 more units.

Of these, he said, 1,000 would be for low income families and 1,000 for the elderly.

Some of the tenants, he said, might eventually be able to purchase them.

"On the 1,000 units of low-income housing, the idea on this is that instead of building another 'Riverview', we build single family units on scattered lots around the City," McCauley said.

"The problem is that there aren't enough lots around the city. A construction firm working with us found a little land in Germantown that he could build a couple of garden types -- but it will be far short of 1,000 units because there isn't that much land in Quincy."

With regard to the housing for the elderly, McCauley said,

"We [the Housing Authority] have already approved housing for the aging in the Clay St. section of Wollaston. We are committed to 200 units down there; 100 in West Quincy has been approved by the Board.

"Three hundred units will leave us in good shape -- 700 more? I don't know. My own opinion is that with the units we have now there has to be a point when you stop building these things. You can't keep on building them forever, because of the scarcity of available land in the City, it just isn't practical."

"It isn't that we don't want to do it. It is just not practical to assume that we can have 1,000 more."

"Dr. Corea is correct when he says we have discussed low income housing units. We advertised for builders to come in and find lots and build for us, but we haven't heard from them."

"Dr. Peter Corea is talking 1,000 units for the elderly and 1,000 units for low income, to get them into existence, that is looking far into the future. I don't think you will ever see 1,000 more units of low income housing."

"At this particular time, I don't see there is any need for any increase in the executive department," said McCauley referring to the recently created post of $17,500 assistant administrator created last week by the Quincy Housing Authority.

"It will be quite a few years before the goal is reached, if it ever is reached."

Clement A. O'Brien, Housing Authority executive director told the Quincy Sun that there

$5,000 In Pay Raises For Housing Legal Counsel Termed 'Unwarranted'

A $5,000 pay raise within three months to the Quincy Housing Authority's part-time legal counsel was termed "unwarranted."

The comment came from Francis X. McCauley, board treasurer, who favored $2,000 of the hike but opposed the $3,000 additional granted to Atty. Paul A. M. Hunt brother-in-law of Mayor James R. McIntyre.

Hunt originally retained at a fee of $2,500 was granted a $2,000 increase in March.

On May 3, the board voted him another $3,000 increase effective July 1, bringing the total retainer fee to $7,500.

Dr. Peter Corea, Housing Authority chairman, earlier this week, was quoted in the local daily press as saying, "The only reason for giving any increase is the amount of work involved."

He said he had been in consultation with Atty. Hunt every day last week over authority problems.

"If you're going to ask a man to do that kind of work you better pay him," he was quoted.

McCauley told the Quincy Sun:

"We gave him a $2,000 raise in March based on his increased duties. But I don't think his duties have increased that much to warrant another $3,000 raise so quickly."

"That's a lot of pay raise for a part time job."

Fund Started For W. Quincy Family Left Homeless By Fire

West Quincy neighbors and friends have started a fund to help aid a family of five left homeless by fire early Sunday.

Richard Plant, his wife and three children were completely burned out -- lost everything but what they were wearing -- when the blaze gutted their home at 22 Station St.

"It will have to be entirely rebuilt," a spokesman said.

A group of West Quincy neighbors, headed by Rev. John McMahon, pastor of St. Mary's Church, as honorary chairman, are spearheading a drive for $5,000 to tide them over to purchase clothing, to help in any way they can.

Mr. and Mrs. Plant have three children at home: Joseph Plant, 14, a seventh grade student at St. Mary's School; Mary, 17; and Lawrence, 15. An older son, Richard Plant, is serving in Florida with the Navy. Their pet dog perished in the fire.

Aiding the drive are William Brabazon, Arthur Fay, Charles Blaser, Paul Curry, Edward Grogan, Fred Aimola and Andy Sferuzzza.

Checks made payable to the Richard Plant Fund may be sent to Hancock Bank, Hancock St., Quincy.

Dr. Creedon Gives Views On Parochial Schools State Aid

State aid to parochial schools will end their religious orientation leaving behind a public school operating in a building owned by the Catholic Church, contends Quincy Supt. of Schools Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon.

If the state does subsidize parochial schools it will also have to impose entrance, hiring and curriculum requirements that will, in effect, make them nothing more than public schools, Dr. Creedon suggests.

A case in point would occur if the state said it would pay the salaries of new teachers and individual parochial school wants to hire, he said.

Once this is done, "then will not the state determine not only the academic credentials of the teachers to be hired but do the actual hiring so that teachers are hired consistent with existing Civil Rights legislation", he asks?

The same argument would also apply for parochial enrollment practices, Dr. Creedon believes.

If a parochial school was subsidized by the state it then follows that the school must follow the requirements of existing Civil Rights legislation and it would of necessity be required to hire any person whose teaching credentials were in order, Dr. Creedon said.

Consequently, the state-aided parochial school would increasingly find itself staffed by non-Catholics as well as enrolling an ever-growing number of young people from other religious faiths, Dr. Creedon said.

However, "without substantial financial aid from the state it is clear that Catholic lay people can no longer support a school system which now enrolls close to 14 percent of the young people of public school age in Massachusetts."

"The consolidation of parochial schools would result in the establishment of enrollment criteria which, in effect, would give rise to an elitist school system and would thus make it more difficult for the state to channel tax monies into schools."

The net result of the state subsidizing parochial schools will be the end of the traditional concept of a Catholic parochial school as it is known today, Dr. Creedon said.

Dr. Creedon bases his conclusions on the findings of a special legislative committee, of which he is a member, studying state aid to parochial schools. The Quincy Supt. is also a member of the Archdiocesan School Board of the Archdiocese of Boston.

Stop the music!

The musical chairs at Checkerboard Sq. suddenly have whirled to a virtual standstill. The slowdown started last Thursday.

Mayor McIntyre reportedly was just about ready to announce he would not seek a fourth term.

Councillor Walter Hannon was preparing his announcement he would run for mayor. He was picking out the place and appropriate time to make it official.

Then, the Speculation Corps was buzzing that McIntyre would make another announcement: He would resign his Senate seat and accept the $40,000 Senate counsel post he can have for the asking.

Then, according to observers, Council President Arthur Tobin would announce he was running for McIntyre's Senate seat.

Now, all the moves seem to be at a standstill. For today, anyway.

And, the latest is that His Honor is now wavering. He might just run for a fourth term. Some of the business people in town reportedly are putting the pressure on him to "go one more time."

So, stop the music professor! Everyone right now would like to "sit one out".

MEANWHILE, insiders say not to count Councillor John Quinn out of this year's mayoralty race.

Quinn, mentioned here as a possible Senate contender, reportedly was in a political huddle the other night. Subject was not the senate—but the mayor's job.

INSIDERS also report that School Committee Vice-Chairman James McCormick, the only announced candidate for mayor so far, is going to run on a full-time mayor platform.

If elected, he will be a full-time chief executive—giving a full day to city business. He'll make an official announcement shortly on that point.

FORMER Mayor Amelio Della Chiesa who in 1959 administered the first oath of office to McCormick as a school committee member, won't be able to attend the latter's friendship dinner next Tuesday at Valle's.

Della Chiesa and his wife, Evelyn [Blondie as he affectionately calls her] will be touring Sweden at the time.

VETERAN Quincy police detective Warren Corbett retires May 28 after a distinguished 33-year career. He will join the South Shore National Bank security force.

Warren, who has chased "rubber check" artists for close to 20 of those 33 years, has this advice for those who accept checks: be sure you know who is giving the check to you.

WELL, you've got to say that Ronald Reagan is a real inspiration. Maybe you, too, can become a millionaire and not pay an income tax. [Aw, give it a try.]

EMMA HASSAN, director of volunteers at Quincy City Hospital, has passed the Civil Service examination, making the job permanent for her.

THAT 1950 yellow, black-top, Hudson convertible seen around town belongs to Fred Probenz, the popular salesman at South Shore Television & Appliance. And, it's not for sale. He's already turned down offers of $1,000 and more.

Has 120,000 miles on it but it's in good shape and everywhere Freddie goes, somebody wants to buy it from him. They even leave notes on it saying: "If you'd like to sell, call me at . . ."

"It handles like a baby carriage," he says. "And it's my baby".

TYPO TERROR DEPT: From the Wildwood [N.J.] Leader: Floods can be prevented by putting big dames in the river.

SMILE DEPT: From "The Insider" published by inmates at the Norfolk County House of Correction:

The little boy had been bad all day and was sent to bed without his supper. "Be sure to say your prayers," his mother said, "and ask God to make you a good boy."

The boy did as he was told. "Dear God," he mumbled, "try to make me a good boy, but if you can't don't worry, because I'm having a lot of fun the way I am."

Students Reminded To Obtain SS Number For Summer Jobs

Students are reminded of the importance of having a social security number when applying for summer employment.

Frank G. Culkin, social security district manager in Quincy, pointed out that an employer needs a record of each worker's social security number so that he can report the wages paid to each individual's social security account and pay the taxes due.

The earnings credited to a worker's social security account, he pointed out, are the basis for determining the amount of benefits payable to him and his family when he retires - or earlier, if he should die or become disabled.

If the employer does not have a worker's social security number when he sends in his first report after a worker is hired, he must file an additional report when he does get it. To avoid extra reports, some employers have adopted the practice of withholding wages until the worker supplies his number. A few have decided to refuse employment if the job applicant does not have his social security number with him.

Culkin advised students to call or write the social security office as early as possible if they do not have social security numbers.

"By getting the number early, you will save your future employer time and avoid the risk of being turned down for a job," he said.

The social security office is located at 1431 Hancock St., Quincy Center. The telephone number is 471-3500.

Letters to the Editor

How Can Public Authorities Throw Taxpayers' Money Around?

Editor, Quincy Sun:

Will you kindly inform this reader: Who is paying those salaries of the Quincy Housing Authority?

$17,500 for an assistant [unnecessary according to one member], $8,500 for an administrative secretary, $9,500 for a project manager, $15,500 for a Leased Housing administrative, $16,500 for a Supt. of Maintenance. Does the Quincy taxpayer get soaked for all this nonsense?

With the unemployment situation such as it is have our peers any conscience at all? How can public authorities throw the taxpayers' money around when they must realize that the very tenants of their authorities had to sell their own homes because of high taxes?

Is this capitalism or socialism? We are so proud to be known as capitalists but gradually everything is being built, created or supported by government authorities. The more who work for the government the closer we come to socialism - do our peers realize that or do they care? I would think that the Housing Authority could easily find some Quincy resident worthy of these generous salaries!

The Welfare Mess: Fact And Myth

How bad is the so-called "Welfare Mess?"

Is the system being strangled by fraud, deceit, red tape, immorality?

Is it a real "gray train" for the lazy who prefer collecting a financial handout rather than going to work?

Does it need a complete reform overhaul?

Is it a mess, really?

The Massachusetts League of Women Voters has completed a two-year study of public welfare and has reached some conclusions regarding its effectiveness—or lack of it.

Their conclusion:

•Current welfare allowances are not sufficient to enable those families receiving public assistance to sustain a decent level of living.

•The welfare system desperately needs change—but change generated by information and sympathy.

Not ignorance and fear

The League, thus supports sufficient increases to provide welfare recipients with a more adequate budget.

And is sending copies of its study facts to all legislators in Massachusetts to help bring about the changes it feels are needed.

Why has the LWV come to these conclusions when the majority of taxpayers in Massachusetts seem to feel that the welfare system is rife with fraud and immorality?

"One reason," says Mrs. David B. Coletti president of the Quincy League of Women Voters, "may be that the League was able to learn the facts which exploded the myths now clouding the welfare issue."

Mrs. Coletti, Mrs. John Gougian, welfare study chairman and Mrs. Albert Benzaquin public relations chairman, of the Quincy LWV have compiled the so-called "facts and myths".

The Quincy Sun, as a public service, begins today the first in a series of articles disclosing these facts and myths.

But first, a question: Who is eligible for public assistance in Massachusetts?

ANSWER: Those whose incomes are inadequate to allow them to subsist at a minimal level. In Massachusetts these amounts are determined by the Department of Public Welfare:

*To be eligible for Old Age Assistance [O.A.A.] Disability Assistance [D.A.] or Aid to Families with Dependent Children [A.F.D.C.] savings must not be more than $500 for a single person or $1,000 for a family.

To be eligible for General Relief savings must be less than $50 for a single person or $150 for a family.

Now the myths and facts as compiled by the LWV:

MYTH: Welfare is loaded with able-bodied men who won't take a job.

FACT: Eighty-six per cent of those on welfare are dependent children, the aged and disabled. Fourteen per cent are adult heads of households—one per cent male, 13 per cent female.

MYTH: Welfare costs are rising because recipients are demanding more money.

FACT: Welfare costs are rising because of:

High unemployment

*Increased public awareness of the availability of welfare benefits.

*Tremendous increases in the cost of living.

*In February, 1971 the unemployment rate in Massachusetts [7.3%] greatly exceeded the national average [6.6%]. A great part of this is due to cutbacks in defense spending and closing of shoe and textile industries. In spite of the fact that unemployment in Massachusetts is higher than elsewhere in the country, a comparison by the Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare of national percentage increases of A.F.D.C. caseloads between October 1969 and October 1970 show that increases in Massachusetts [26.2%] were less than the national average [30.2%].

MYTH: Welfare costs comprise one-half of the state budget.

FACT: Welfare is more nearly one-fourth the state budget, which is still a large amount. However many people don't realize that about one-half of the welfare budget is reimbursed by the federal government and goes into the General Fund as revenue. It does not go back to the Dept. of Public Welfare.

MYTH: Our welfare rolls are being swollen by blacks migrating from the South for welfare benefits.

FACT: There is no evidence at all that black people or rural poor people in general have migrated to the North to get on welfare. In the Dept. of Public Welfare's 1969 Standard Profile of A.F.D.C., 65% of the mothers on Aid to Families with Dependent Children had been born in Massachusetts, 11% had come from the South but 60% of this Southern group had lived in Massachusetts for nine years or more. The remaining mothers had come from other New England states and 35 other states.

Interestingly, statistics show that people migrated from the rural South to the urban North for jobs, not for welfare. Most of this migration took place in the 1950's - a period of prosperity and high employment. At that time the welfare rolls rose only about 17% nationally. This migration slowed down during the period from 1960-1968. At the same time there was a 108% increase in welfare caseloads.

Of further interest is the fact that nationally 55% of recipients are white, 39% black and 6% American Indian. In a 1969 Massachusetts study 80% of recipients were white and 20% were black.

MYTH: All families on welfare are large with many illegitimate children.

FACT: The Standard Profile of A.F.D.C. in Massachusetts in 1969 showed that most families on A.F.D.C. were small, had no illegitimate children and that the length of time on welfare was less than two years.

NOTE: 71% of A.F.D.C. families have three or less children, 4% of A.F.D.C. families have seven or more children. 70% have NO illegitimate children. 18% have ONE illegitimate child. Of course, this means that those welfare recipients who have more than one illegitimate child comprise 12% of the total. [They do seem to receive more than 12% of the attention.] Two-thirds of the children on A.F.D.C. are under 12. The median length of time on A.F.D.C. was 1 year 12 mos. 60% of those on A.F.D.C. were first-time applicants.

Illegitimacy is a particularly vicious attack on the poor, because it generates the sense of "undeserving poor". It is not known whether welfare recipients are more or less promiscuous than affluent people. However illegitimate behavior of the affluent is more easily concealed by quick marriages, abortions and contraceptives, while the poor's illegitimate babies are recorded for public condemnation. Very few people consider illegitimacy the sole measure of morality.

MYTH: Welfare encourages laziness because you can live better on welfare than you can if you get a job.

FACT: The current assistance allowance for a family of four in Massachusetts is $2,305.00 BELOW the December, 1970 Bureau of Labor Statistics minimum level of living - [$6,960 minus medical costs of $563.70 = $6,396.24.]

MYTH: Any time a welfare recipient needs money for bills the Welfare Dept. pays for it.

FACT: Not true. However there are some supplements made to the basic budget in certain cases.

For families whose rent exceeds the budgeted allowance, up to $25 additional per month is permitted. High rents are usually due to lack of housing which is not the fault of recipients.

Special diets, [bland diet for ulcer, low sodium] are approved up to $30 per month with physician's written request.

Back rent and utility bills, or replacement of furniture must be requested from regional committees set up under the flat grant. Before the request is made to these committees, the approval of the social worker and two other supervisors must be obtained.

Staining Tinges

Give me a chance to catch my breath,
And live my life, that is, what's left.
Avoiding the smoke and polluting air,
Those poisonous fumes of which I'm aware.

Give me a chance, man, to stay alive,
To rub out the stains, and merely survive.
Doomed and condemned is the indication,
If man continues contamination.

But is it time, or are we too late,
To make right the wrongs we violate?
I don't know, I'm really not sure,
What had been clean now is impure.

So it's time we took heed, and decided to care,
Time to start working, and become aware.
Of a collapsing world that's crumbling fast,
To replace the globe with one that will last.
Rick Kenney, Braintree

Girls In No Rush To Rock Cradles

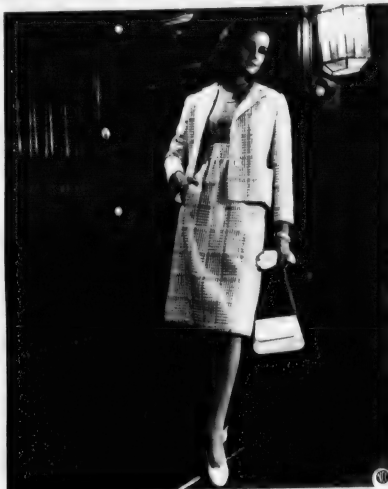

If you think most of today's girls get wild ideas about love and marriage when they go off to college, you might be wrong.

For according to a national survey on college campuses, most girls stand by society's "old-fashioned" ideas on such subjects. They still say, "True freedom comes from marriage, and marriage is less complicated than the other choices you have if you love someone."

Even after marriage, our college girls expect to work, to postpone pregnancy and to get much more help from their husbands than their mothers get from theirs. "Why burden yourself with job, house, bills, children?" asks the typical girl. These brides-to-be plan to wait three or four years before having a baby.

"Our college girl is frank and knowledgeable about contraception," the Glamour Magazine survey reports, "and all the contraceptives she would choose among are the ones she is in charge of, not the man. She is overwhelmingly in favor of the pill. Next in her order of preference are the diaphragm and the I.U.D. The condom—the male contraceptive—is an 'also-ran'—even the rhythm system ranks higher."

Blue-Ribbon Chicken

The "cordon bleu" or "blue ribbon" is a French cookery term that refers to dishes of special excellence... and that describes the recipe that follows. It's great for weekends when we have time to play gourmet cook for family or guests. To make Chicken Cordon Bleu begin by sprinkling the chicken breasts with pepper and Ac'cent... the latter to bring out all the delicate flavor of chicken. The pieces are sprinkled with shredded cheese, folded over thin ham slices, and breaded. Ac'cent goes into the seasoned bread crumbs, too, to blend all the flavors. Sauté the chicken pieces until golden-brown and serve with cream sauce. Accompany the dish with mushrooms, tomatoes stuffed with peas, hot butter rolls... and there you have a blue-ribbon dish to add cheer to the whole weekend.

Chicken Cordon Bleu

- | | |
|--|-------------------------------|
| 4 small whole chicken breasts, boned and skinned | 4 thin slices prosciutto ham |
| 1/4 teaspoon pepper, divided | 1/2 teaspoon dried leaf thyme |
| 1 teaspoon Ac'cent, divided | 1/4 teaspoon salt |
| 1 1/2 cups shredded Swiss cheese | 3/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs |
| | 2 eggs, beaten |
| | 3 tablespoons butter |

Pound chicken breasts on both sides with wooden mallet to flatten. Sprinkle on inner side with 1/4 teaspoon pepper and 1/4 teaspoon Ac'cent. Sprinkle shredded cheese over both halves of inner surface. Place a slice of prosciutto over cheese on one side. Carefully fold opposite side with cheese over ham and fasten breast halves together with food picks or skewer. Mix remaining 1/4 teaspoon pepper and 1/4 teaspoon Ac'cent, thyme and salt with bread crumbs. Dip chicken breasts in crumbs, then in beaten eggs, and in crumbs again. Melt butter in large skillet. Cook chicken breasts over low heat 10 minutes, until golden brown; turn and cook until browned on the other side, 8 to 10 minutes. Add additional butter if needed. Serve with cream sauce. YIELD: 4 servings.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of May 13-20

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - You can seek out and consolidate some good connections now; this is the time to further your plans for the future.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - If you can keep from quarreling with others, your affairs should go well. Opportunities are all around you so choose wisely.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Beware of forming an ardent attachment, it won't last long but it could involve you in some upsetting gossip or intrigue.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - If your health is good and your constitution is strong, all signals say go. Reap those rewards that have been with-held lately.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - Extra care will be needed to avoid quarrels and excessive spending. The actions of your partner may also try your patience.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Some of your hopes and wishes are beginning to bear fruit and this may be one of the last chances you'll have to improve your position.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - You are apt to feel that you've been left out of the action but your turn will come, so use this period for study.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - Think things over, hurried action at this time gets you no place. Keep affairs on an impersonal level and guard against scandal.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - Your desire for action is being fulfilled but don't waste energy by going off in all directions at one time.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - By combining courage and discretion, you can coax, rather than force, social or financial success to your doorstep.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - Being self-assertive is fine up to a point. Use some of that excessive energy to run a few of your own errands for a change.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Short trips and conferences with the right people help you advance the plans you have for the future. Affairs of the heart also go well.

It's In To Be Thin By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

Just in case you always wanted to know, midnight is the witching-snitching hour for dieters. It's also the cut-off of the diet day.

What does this mean? It means that if you forgot to eat everything you are entitled to, you can't sneak down for that shiny red apple you left sitting on the kitchen table. No using up tomorrow what you forgot or didn't want today. No "saving" up of calories from one day to another, or from one meal to another either, for that matter.

Your body is not a savings bank against which you should store unused calories - your weight loss will be better and you will feel better if you spend your calories wisely each day on a well-balanced eating plan.

So, don't set aside any calories from today towards a future "rainy day." Doesn't pay. In the diet game, there are no rainchecks.

If you have any questions regarding dieting, or wish a copy of our free fish folder, please write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York.

George Burke Emcee For Marion Andrews Dinner May 21

Norfolk County Dist. Atty. George G. Burke will be master of ceremonies for the Quincy Senior Citizens' testimonial to Mrs. Marion Andrews May 21 at the second annual Blossom Time dinner dance at the Quincy Armory.

There will be a 6 p.m. social hour and a 6:30 p.m. catered dinner followed by dancing from 8 to 11 p.m.

Mrs. Andrews has been appointed by Mayor McIntyre executive director of the Quincy Council on Aging. She is the first woman department head named during Mayor McIntyre's administration, and has served as assistant to the director of the Council since it began more than four years ago.

Invited dinner guests include Mayor and Mrs. McIntyre, Mrs. William F. McIntyre, the Mayor's mother; Arthur Ciampa, chairman of the Quincy Council on Aging; and Mrs. Ciampa; and Rev. Thomas V. Daily, secretary to Archbishop Medeiros.

Tickets can be purchased from committee members, Mrs. Ann Gaffey, Council on Aging, secretary; Clarence Metcalf, a Council member; Theodore J. Fleming or Mrs. Florence Gately of the Council staff at the Kennedy Health Center, 1120 Hancock St.

Presidents of Quincy Senior Citizens' Clubs also have tickets.

NQHS Class Of 1956 To Hold 15th Reunion June 12

The North Quincy High School Class of 1956 will hold its 15th anniversary reunion June 12 at 6 p.m. at the South Shore Country Club, Hingham.

Members of the reunion committee include Alfred Sweeney, chairman; Nancy Reilly, Carol Ayer, Donald Porter, Marjorie Reardon, Allen Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Shovelton and Nancy Spargo.

Anyone wishing further information should contact Mr. Sweeney at 15 Amherst St., Braintree.

HN Community Council To Note 'Senior Citizens' Night'

'Senior Citizens' Night' will be observed by the Houghs Neck Community Council on May 18 at 8 p.m. at the Houghs Neck Legion Hall. Robert F. Denvir, Jr. will preside.

Opportunities and assistance available to Senior Citizens will be discussed by Mrs. Marion Andrews, executive director of the Quincy Council on Aging, and Russell O'Connell, director of the Quincy Community Action Program.

Transportation will be provided by calling Mrs. Edward Radcliffe, advisor to the Houghs Neck Senior Citizens Club, Mr. Denvir or any officer or board member of the community council.

Francis X. McCauley, nominating committee chairman, will report nominations for officer for 1971-72.

Mrs. Victor Lasky Retires As Carney Volunteer Director

Mrs. Victor Lasky, the former S. Agnes Slavin, a member of the Quincy Business and Professional Women's Club, retired May 1 as Director of Volunteer Services at Carney Hospital in Dorchester.

Mrs. Lasky began her career 22 years ago at the "old Carney" in South Boston, where she began coordinating plans for a volunteer service in the new Carney. In 1953 when the hospital moved to Dorchester, there were 50 volunteers. Today there are more than 260.

Mrs. Lasky organized and served as the first president of the Massachusetts Association of Directors of Hospital Volunteer Services and the New England Association, Directors of Hospital Volunteer Services.

Health High-Lights

LONDON BEATS SMOG

In 1952, four thousand people died from respiratory diseases when a great smog swept over London. As a result, the English passed the "Clean Air Act" - a comprehensive anti-air pollution law. Some 75 percent of London's homes were restricted to burning smokeless fuel. Now Londoners have 50 percent more winter sunshine than they did ten years ago and the city has not had a bad smog since 1962.

They also have less Bronchitis which has been called "Englishman's disease" killing fifteen times more Englishmen than Americans or Norwegians. A survey of bronchitis patients in London showed that every time the level of airborne smoke went up, their health declined. Patients now show a pattern of fewer and milder attacks as they breathe healthier and cleaner air. Let's hope we can learn from London's example.

Money is meaningless without good health. So, even if you're a sick millionaire, have your chauffeur drive you to NABORHOOD REXALL PHARMACY, 406 Hancock St., No. Quincy or call PR 3-6426 for fast, prescription service. You can also pay your electric or telephone bills or use our notary public service. Hospital equipment and supplies for rent or sale. Big Ben, Westminster Abbey, Crown Jewels And --Hot Pants--Among Trip's Many Attractions

[This is the second in a series of articles telling of the experiences of 34 youngsters from the Cranch School area during a two-week visit to Leigh-on-Sea, Essex, England. The articles are being written especially for the Quincy Sun by Miss Mary Murdock, a member of the Cranch School faculty who helped arrange the trip and served as one of the chaperones.]

By MARY MURDOCK
Cranch School Teacher

The noisy chatter grew as our group assembled at West Leigh School, England on Monday morning [April 19]. Everyone was bursting with news of weekend activities with his English family.

Stories were exchanged about the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace, visits to Safari Park where the lions come right up to your car, football [soccer] matches, Windsor Castle, ruins of a Roman temple in Lullingstone, Canterbury, cream teas, cockles, boat rides, brass rubbing, swimming, etc.

Denise Quintiliani and Lisa Horion were the envy of the girls as they arrived in their hot pants outfits. Before the end of the trip, most of the girls would buy themselves hot pants. These are now being sported around Quincy.

By now our children were fully indoctrinated in the British way of life. They were thinking in pounds and pence rather than dollars and cents. They were eating cockles and fish and chips as well as clotted cream -- and enjoying it. They even could tell what was intended when they were offered tea, something I never figured out during the year I lived in England.

Did they mean a cup of tea, tea plus cakes, tea and sandwiches, or a five course meal? And then there are cream teas and high teas --. The children now had a working knowledge of English vocabulary and expressions. They knew that spending a penny had nothing to do with a shopping expedition.

On our Patriots Day we headed for the Houses of Parliament and Westminster Abbey in London. English history began to come alive as we walked through the House of Lords and House of Commons and listened to stories of the traditions connected to them and incidents which had occurred there. We saw statues and pictures connected with English history -- days of Cromwell, the beheading of King Charles, King Henry VIII, and his many wives, various monarchs and their times. Our English ties were underlined as we studied the large picture of a group of pilgrims leaving on a ship called the Mayflower. There was some confusion as our guide pointed out the mailboxes for the M.P.'s. When one of the children asked why the "Military Police" picked up their mail in the Houses of Parliament, the guide straightened everything out by explaining that these M.P.'s are Members of Parliament.

We finished our tour in time to hear Big Ben in the Clock Tower strike 12 noon. This also reminded us of our hunger, so we walked across to the Scallop Restaurant for a delicious lunch.

After lunch we walked to Westminster Abbey, a fascinating and inspiring cathedral. As we quietly entered the Abbey, we heard the beautiful voices of a choir. We were so surprised to hear later that the choir was from the University of Massachusetts. A vicar was then kind enough to take us on a tour. It was so interesting to see where such well-known people as Charles Dickens were buried. We had a wonderful time finding familiar names throughout the Abbey. We noted another American tie with the memorial to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It was a tired group that arrived back at West Leigh about 6:30.

Tuesday was a free day for the children. There wasn't a wasted minute as their families endeavored to show them as much of England as possible in the brief time we had.

The adults were invited to a luncheon at the College of Technology in Southend as guests of the Education Committee of Southend. The College of Technology is similar to our Vocational-Technical School, apparently. The meal was prepared and served by students. It was excellent. We also enjoyed the pleasant opportunity it provided to talk with the education officials and administrators of Southend-on-Sea.

Wednesday afternoon we toured the Ford factory in Dagenham. It was interesting to watch the development of an automobile from molten steel to the finished product. Ford provided us with a lovely tea [this time meaning tea and cakes]. After the tour, we returned home in time for tea [supper].

Thursday we pursued individual interests. Thursday the adults, plus the English adults with whom they were staying, met for a gala evening at Oscar's, a Leigh restaurant which is very heavy on character. We had an excellent meal, then enjoyed ourselves thoroughly while singing American songs and old English pub songs such as "It's a Bit of a Ruin that Cromwell Knocked About a Bit" and "Down at the Old Bull and Bush".

Friday morning at 7:15, with eyes half open, we left for London. The weather, up to this point had been beautiful, sunny, mild and no rain. Friday made up for that. It poured all day. We arrived at the Tower of London early and were given a private showing of the Crown Jewels. What a magnificent display! Larry Player and Dean Prescott discussed the possibility of a Great Jewel Robbery, but to my knowledge, they left the Crown Wealth intact. We then met the Yeoman Gaoier, Mr. Belson, who had made our visit there possible. He showed us the ancient ceremonial ax which he carries for special occasions. He explained how at one time a prisoner was signalled innocent or guilty by the way that ax was held.

Yeoman Warder Thomas then took us on a tour of the Tower of London. He proved to be a wonderful guide, telling us many fascinating stories about the Tower and the many people who had lived there at one time or another, voluntarily or otherwise. History again came alive as he showed us where several people, including two of Henry VIII's wives, lost their heads. We saw where various famous people had been imprisoned and where the two boy princes had been murdered.

We saw all kinds of armor, including Henry VIII's and special armor for an elephant. There was also a large display of firearms and tortures once used. The imagination can really run wild at the Tower of London. It was reluctantly that we said good-bye to Hector, one of the Tower ravens, and left the Tower of London.

Because of the rain we had to eat our picnic lunch in the bus, but nothing seemed to bother this group.

After lunch we took a boat trip down the Thames to Greenwich. Several of the children preferred to sit on the open deck in the rain rather than in the enclosed lower deck. It really didn't matter. We were all drenched before the day was over. We toured the ship Cutty Sark in Greenwich, then walked around Gypsy Moth IV, Sir Francis Chichester's boat.

We had planned to visit the observatory in Greenwich to see the official Greenwich Mean Time Clock and step in two hemispheres at one time where the Prime Meridian is marked. Because of the rain, this was made optional. We were told that it was a three minute walk. Several of us set out and finally reached our destination 20 minutes later, thoroughly waterlogged. After that, we refused to trust the English estimate of time. We maintain that it was worth the walk, however.

On the bus ride home, we sang Happy Birthday to Denise Quintiliani and enjoyed chocolate birthday biscuits [cookies] to mark her 12th birthday.

When we arrived at school, we separated to dry out and enjoy our various weekend activities.

[Another article and photos will appear in next week's Quincy Sun].

Bethany Pledges $500 To Survival

Bethany Congregational Church, has pledged $500 to Survival, Inc. the Rev. John D. Banks announces.

We feel it is "part of our commitment to community services," said the Rev. Banks. He said the church has had several meetings on drug problems and is quite concerned with drug abuse in Quincy, and that he has personally referred persons with drug problems to the Survival organization for further help.

"We're glad to have Survival to refer them to," he said.

Survival is currently seeking $250,000 in private donations to carry on its work in combatting drug abuse and youth problems in the South Shore-Norfolk County area. The services of Survival include a 24-hour "hot line", a walk-in center, professional counselling services, outpatient care, educational equipment, outreach workers and a forthcoming methadone maintenance program and inpatient facilities.

Mayor-Sen. James R. McIntyre has proclaimed May "Support Survival Month".

Come, Let Us Reason Together

By Dr. William F. Knox
Personal Counselor

'Give What's Needed When Needed'

I once knew a woman who was always taking in stray cats. At one time she had 14. Her husband didn't like this at all. The sad part was that he got very little of her consideration and warmth...she gave affection freely and liberally to these strange cats, but any one of the 14 got more affection than he did. Hers were misdirected feelings.

When he complained she reminded him that she brought in his paper from the yard each morning...wrote a letter to his invalid sister each week...did his laundry...cooked sauerkraut and hot dogs for him each Saturday night. She added to her list of things she did for him from time to time, all of which she insisted proved her love for him. "But"...he would say, "Those aren't what I need, I need you...your womanly warmth...not the things you do." Their problem was that she utterly refused to love him as he needed to be loved. So the things she did...though fine in themselves...and though he appreciated them, missed the point...were wasted because they didn't meet the man's needs. They were just "brownie points". The causes for such attitudes are usually found in the background. Unless one learns a better way of life only misery is in store.

One man complained, "My wife shows much affection to me...always hanging around my neck...while the laundry is piled up in the bath tub...the dust balls are like dark ping-pong balls under the bed...closets and drawers are a mess...meals are irregular and never attractive or tasty." All her warm kittenish acts of love aren't meeting her husband's needs. He feels repulsed by the conditions in his own home, and has great difficulty feeling warm and loving toward her. His needs are not being met, so he's turned off.

I tried recently to persuade a woman in counseling to accept her husband as he is...pointing out his aggressiveness in business...his good provisions for her and the children...his high character and integrity...church officer and Lodge leader. She shot back at me, "Dr. Knox...that's all very fine for you to say...I'm not against business...church...not lodge, but I don't get much warm loving affection from any of them. I need a man." She went on to say that unless he began to meet her needs for warm love, she would do whatever she had to do to get it. He had his choice. When he saw that he had ignored his wife's needs he changed immediately...and became one of the warmest and most loving husbands I know.

A good wife is a woman who meets her husband's needs. A good husband is a man who meets his wife's needs. Most marital quarrels, fights, lingering conflicts are due to the refusal of one husband to meet the other's needs when they occur. Some women call this being a "puppet"..."doormat"..."used"...when in reality these women are rejecting their own womanhood by refusing to know...and to meet their husband's needs. Good wives/husbands consider it a privilege to meet the partner's needs. Refusal is rejection and never makes them happy...on the contrary...often makes them depressed...hard, negative...critical...resentful of each other.

Usually...the happiness of a marriage depends upon the homemaker...the woman. She sets the tone by unselfish giving of herself...by meeting the needs of that man who she loves as her husband...being his partner in true companionship without trying to control the situation and make her husband's needs wait for her timing. Some needs won't wait...her refusal means she may miss the opportunity to meet them. If a man fails to respond to a wife who seeks to meet his needs as they arise, then he doesn't deserve a loving woman at all...all he wants is a maid servant.

If you're not meeting your partner's needs as they arise you're missing the boat. Don't assume that because your treating your man as your mother treated your father that that's good enough. Don't assume that because you're treating your wife as your father treated your mother that that's good enough. Don't assume that you know how to meet your husband's/wife's needs...because every man and every woman is different.

Then...how can you know? How can you avoid missing an opportunity to meet your partner's needs? Not really too difficult...just ask him/her...tell him/her of your needs. Human needs shouldn't be a deep dark secret between companions. If he/she knows...and still won't...you have a problem.

FOR YOUR COMMENTS: Call Dr. Knox at 326-5990, or 545-5947, or write him at 628 High Street, Dedham Mass. 02026

Charles G. Peterson Becomes 9th President Quincy Co-operative Bank

Heslip E. Sutherland who has served as President and Chief Executive Officer of The Quincy Co-operative Bank for the past 15 years is retiring from that office to be succeeded by Charles G. Peterson, Vice President of the bank for the past year and a half.

Mr. Peterson becomes ninth President of the bank.

Mr. Sutherland has been elected to the office of Chairman of the Board and will serve the Bank not only in that capacity but also as General Counsel, a position he held prior to becoming President.

Mr. Peterson has many years of banking experience, having been a Vice President of the Norfolk County Trust Company for several years before coming to the Quincy Co-operative Bank.

During these years he has completed special courses in banking at the Williams College School of Banking, with the American Institute of Banking, at Northeastern University and at Boston University, and with the Graduate School of Bank Public Relations at Northwestern University.

Active in many civic affairs, currently he is serving as President of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce, his all around training and experience make him admirably qualified for his new position of responsibility.

Mr. Peterson is married to the former Florence P. Libertine and with his two children resides at 215 Governors Rd in Quincy. A native of Quincy, Mr. Peterson retired from military service as a Lieutenant Colonel in the U.S. Army Reserves.

are presently 1,155 public housing units in the city. He broke them down thusly:

Housing for the elderly: 45 in Snug Harbor Court, 75 in Louis George Village, 150 Sawyer Towers, 156 Pagnano Towers, 275 under construction in Germantown for a total 701.

Low Income Housing: 400 family units in Snug Harbor, 180 in Riverview, 36 in West Acres for a total 454.

Total Housing - 1,155.

Creation of the Post was disclosed last Thursday in the Quincy Sun.

The vote, which took place the Monday before, had gone unreported until then.

McCauley, the only board member present to vote against the $17,500 job told the Quincy Sun then:

"This job is not necessary. It is a waste of taxpayers' money. Taxpayers have to make up the difference between rental income and operating expenses. In the long run, taxpayers will pay for this job."

The Quincy Sun also reported that speculation around City Hall was that James J. Ricciuti, executive secretary to Mayor James R. McIntyre was in line for the appointment.

The following day the local daily press, reported that Housing Authority officials "denied speculation" that the $17,500 job and a newly created $8,500 administrative secretary post would be filled by McIntyre aides.

But there was no outright denial.

10 Firefighters To Be Honored At Annual Ball Friday

Ten Quincy firefighters will be honored for outstanding actions during the past year as a feature of the 85th annual ball of the Quincy Firemen's Relief Association tomorrow evening at the Neighborhood Club.

Quincy Meets Everett, Raiders Host Chelsea

The North Quincy baseball team, which went back into sole possession of first place in the Greater Boston League with a big win over Revere Saturday, hoped to top Quincy for the second time Tuesday, hosted Medford Wednesday and plays at Malden Friday.

The Raiders will meet Abp. Williams in a non-league game Saturday at 10 a.m. and next Wednesday is home to Everett.

Quincy, following the North game Tuesday [the game was postponed Monday due to wet grounds], played at Chelsea Wednesday, hosts Medford Friday and plays at Revere next Wednesday.

Charlie Bunker's North team following five wins in a row, faltered and dropped successive decisions to Everett and Somerville but bounced back to win two squeakers, 3-2 over Chelsea and 1-0 over Revere. The Raiders had dropped into a top GBL tie with Revere but the thrilling Saturday win returned them to the top rung by themselves.

The win over Revere came on Jimmy Sarrada's unearned run in the fifth inning as North's Scott Manson and Revere's Doug Hittinger, last summer's MVP in the Hearst Sandlot program, hooked up in one of the year's better pitching duels.

Manson, who had suffered his only loss against Everett on six unearned runs, turned in a tremendous game as he struck out seven Patriots and did not issue a walk.

"Scott has been brilliant for us all year," Bunker said. "He has been unbelievable in relief and should have won his previous start against Everett."

North had scored twice in the bottom of the eighth to nip Chelsea after giving the Red Devils two unearned runs in the fourth.

Bob McKay went all the way to up his record to 3-0 as he scattered five hits, struck out five and walked three.

The Raiders scored three runs in the ninth against Somerville but it wasn't enough, as the Highlanders had overcome an early 2-1 deficit to pull ahead, 7-2.

Tom Burke had a triple and single, Dan Zink two doubles and Sarrada a home run for North.

Bob Basiliere's Quincy team has only three league wins but two were over defending champion Somerville and the other over Revere.

Last week Quincy scored four runs in the third and two in the eighth to tip Somerville for the second time, 6-3, with Bob Driscoll's relief pitching playing a major role in the win. He took over for Mike Marvelle.

"This was a good win and we really needed it because we haven't been playing well of late," Basiliere said. "We played very well, made no errors and had 12 hits. But the key was Driscoll's excellent six-inning relief pitching."

Steve Sullivan continued his strong batting with three hits. Artie Boyle also had three, Peter Lucier and Mike Orlando two each.

Jon Caron, just up from the jayvees, drove in two runs and Boyle, who only recently moved into the starting lineup, drove in two with his three hits.

In their previous game the Presidents blew a 5-0 lead and bowed to Malden, 11-9. Both the pitching and defense fell apart and spoiled some fine performances.

Sullivan had what Basiliere called "his finest game in high school" as he pounded out a triple, double and single, pitched two tie innings in relief, threw out a runner at the plate and nailed another with a great throw to the cutoff man. Others having good games were Russ McDonald, Bill Mayer and Orlando, each with two hits.

Earlier, Quincy had lost to Everett, 4-2, despite a fine effort by Lucier, who scored one run and drove in the other.

Bob Brill pitched well but had control problems as he fanned 11 batters, and walked seven in six innings. He gave up three hits. Quincy was held to five hits.

North Quincy Tennis Team Seeks 6th Against B.C.

Coach Bill Willoughby's North Quincy tennis team continues to roll merrily and three wins and a loss last week gave the Raiders a 5-2 record.

North is home to B.C. High Friday and the next match isn't scheduled until May 21, also against B.C. High at the Eaglets' courts.

North blanked Malden, 5-0, last Friday as Kevin McGinley, Tom O'Malley and Tom BeHenna swept the singles. In doubles Roger Parrott and Gary Calhoun won the first match and Dave Duval and Bert Bray won the second.

Earlier the Raiders had topped Abp. Williams, 4½-½, with the second doubles rained out after each team had won a set.

McGinley, O'Malley and Duval swept the singles and Calhoun and Parrott won the first doubles match. Bray and Phil Swan split the second doubles sets.

The Raiders broke even in two matches against Weymouth North, losing the first, 3-2, but winning the second, a replay of a postponed match, 3½-1½.

St. Ann's Basketball Team Honored at Annual Banquet

St. Ann's School basketball team celebrated a season of 12 games won and three lost at a banquet Friday night attended by parents, players and cheerleaders.

Team members, coached by Thomas Giannino are Paul Doherty, Lawrence Lannan, Brian McNamara, William Schmidt, Thomas Cooney, Michael McAuley, Francis McHugh, John Desmond, Brian Gilfeather, Mark Murphy, Richard Wilson, Peter Fallon, Michael Halloran, Charles McLean, Stephen Roche and Joseph Psota.

Cheerleaders include Ellen Crandell, Janice Gagnon, Susan Jay, Eileen Sullivan, Rita Bellotti, Nancy Fay, Patricia Habel, Carol Hagan, Kathleen MacKay, Maureen McGowan, Patricia Phelan, Regina Seaver, Darlene Mazzio, Theresa Conroy and Kathleen Donelan.

10 Teams In Furnace Brook Women's Pinehurst Tourney

Ten teams of four each took part in the Furnace Brook Women's Golf Club Pinehurst Tournament opening day.

Winning team with score of 41 for nine holes, included Sandi Duane, captain, Esther Aimola, Marie Corayer and Jennie Luffy.

In second place, with 42, were Marion O'Connor, captain; Ellie Mulroy, Helen Kelly and Connie Harrison, while third place score of 44 was held by Mary Morrissey, captain; Kay O'Leary, Barbara Spinello and Blanche Morton.

Other captains were Mrs. John Whitman, Miss Ginie McCann, Mrs. John Eramo, Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Harold Sager, Miss Joe Hincley and Mrs. Patrick Baillie.

A welcome was given by Mrs. Gene Doherty and Mrs. Paul O'Leary, chairman. Mrs. Dennis Morrissey, chairman of the Women Golfers, introduced new members. All golfers received a prize following a dinner.

Dolph Aimola acted as starter, while Furnace Brook Golf Club men provided a cheering section.

Killilea Ends Coaching Career

John Killilea, a former Quincy High basketball great who later stood out for Boston University, last week officially ended a brilliant schoolboy coaching career.

Killilea announced his retirement as Melrose High coach after nine successful years there, thus ending an 18-year coaching career which saw him compile an enviable 314-91 record.

John, who will remain on the Melrose faculty and who admitted it was a difficult decision to make, coached at Pemetic High in Southwest Harbor, Me.; Mission High of Roxbury, Old Town, Me., and Silver Lake Regional High before going to Melrose.

He put Melrose on the basketball map despite the fact it had been a hockey school for years. During his nine years there his teams won three Middlesex League titles and were runners-up five times.

He won three state championships, two in Maine, three sectional crowns and 12 league titles.

Killilea scouts for the Milwaukee Bucks and also is on the staff of the Sam Jones Basketball School during the summer.

The former Quincy flash took his Class C Silver Lake team into Class A of the Tech Tourney and the Lakers won one game, then lost in the second round.

Quincy Girls Track Team Meets Attleboro

Rained out of its first scheduled meet, Quincy High's first girls' track team is scheduled for its first interscholastic competition today against Attleboro.

The Quincy girls, coached by Peter Gallagher, will host Hingham at 10 a.m. Saturday at Quincy Veterans' Stadium, will compete in the Falmouth Invitational meet May 22, host Canton May 25, appear in the state meet May 31 at Blue Hills Regional High School in Canton, entertain Attleboro June 3 and host the Quincy Public Schools Junior and Senior High meet June 5.

Quincy Girls Eye Another Good Year On Diamond

Quincy High's first girls' softball team last year was undefeated and, despite the loss of several starters, the First Ladies, under coach Mary Pratt, veteran coach and player, broke even in their first two games.

They clobbered North Quincy, 24-12, but two errors in the seventh inning cost them a 6-5 decision to Brookline. Quincy had a 5-4 edge going into the seventh inning (final regulation inning) but two errors enabled Brookline to tie and the visitors went on to win in the ninth inning.

Quincy played Hingham Tuesday, plays at Malden today and next Tuesday will play at Hingham.

Mary admitted her concern about replacing last year's outstanding battery, pitcher Regina Pestelli who won nearly all the games, and catcher Patricia Thomas.

"It is going to be quite a job to replace Regina and Patricia, who perhaps were more instrumental than any other players in our having an unbeaten season," Mary said.

Debbie Congdon, a sophomore, and Debbie Brichta, a senior, will share the pitching chores this year and Patricia Doyle, another senior, will be our starting catcher. She possesses a strong throwing arm and should help with her bat but, like so many of this year's players, she lacks experience, having played mostly in the outfield. She will be backed up by Maureen Donovan, a senior playing for the first time.

Quincy's starting infield has Sophomore Betsy Witt at first, Patricia Healy at second and veterans Karen Fruzzetti at short and Lois MacLean at third. Other infielders are Nancy Cappadona and Sara Kane.

"I expect Karen and Lois to desire the brunt of our offensive strength, since both hit consistently last year," Miss Pratt pointed out.

Outfield starters are Sue Curley, Jean Macchi and Gail Carella, backed up by Elaine Bergman, Sheena Giggey and Aila Juonen.

In the season's opener Miss Congdon, pitching in her first varsity game, got the win and also helped with some excellent fielding. She, Miss Fruzzetti and Miss Witt led the attack with three hits each. Misses Fruzzetti and Witt had home runs.

Against Brookline Miss Fruzzetti and Miss Congdon paced the attack with three hits each.

"We definitely have some players with much potential but whether or not they will exhibit a desire to work up to their potential remains to be seen," said the popular coach, who has a wealth of experience as a player and coach and formerly starred in the Girls' All-American League in the midwest.

"Most high school girls' teams have shown me a great deal of offensive prowess but their defensive play leaves much to be desired," she continued. "We have a number of girls with strong throwing arms and who are well skilled in fielding a ball. If they can use these skills to advantage, we should win our share of games."

"But the name of the game is desire and hard work and this is evident on most every level of athletic competition. Too often players are anxious to accept the fruits and rewards of victory, and yet on the other hand they are often remiss to give out with the effort that is needed to gain these rewards. This may sound too philosophical but it is what I think athletics is all about."

Mary knows whereof she speaks. There was never a more determined player with more desire than she when she was excelling as a player and she hasn't changed as a coach.

She concluded, "Overall I think the girls in Quincy are making great strides in varsity sports. Over the last three years basketball, gymnastics, softball, tennis and track have been introduced into the varsity phase of the girls' physical education program. Much credit is due to the efforts of the coordinators and coaches who have done much to encourage the growth of the program."

Mary is a physical education instructor in the school system.

QJC Still Hopes For Tournament Berth

Quincy Junior College baseball team wound up its season in disappointing fashion as it dropped its last three games but Coach Dave Burke still had slim hopes of making second place and a berth in the Mass. Junior League playoffs.

Quincy was nipped for the second time by Wentworth, 5-4, Monday to finish with a 5-5 league record and 7-5 overall mark.

Bob Paster of North Quincy pitched. Quincy's John Stevens had two hits and drove in two runs and Jim Donovan of North Quincy also drove in two.

In its previous game Quincy had lost to Newton Junior College, 8-3, and earlier had dropped a 3-1 decision to Bryant and Stratton.

Against Bryant and Stratton the Collegians had a 1-0 lead after five innings but B & S tied it in the sixth and won it with two runs in the seventh and final inning.

Jud McCarthy lost despite another fine pitching performance. Joe Corrigan and North Quincy's Jim Broderick had all the Quincy hits, two apiece.

"Our chances of making the playoffs are slim but there are several other league games this week, so who knows?" said Burke.

St. John's CYO League Presents Awards At Banquet

St. John's CYO Bowling League held an awards banquet at Sherry's Restaurant recently.

Peter Berrini with a 101 average and Jean Macchi with 90 had high averages; Paul Spargo's 354 and Jean Macchi's 309 topped three-string high.

Peter Berrini also topped high single with 131 and Cindy Salty with 119.

High team three of 1,337 was held by Team 3. Members were Peter DiBona, Jim Smith, Nancy Ross, Debbie Quintiliani and Laurie DeCoste.

Team 8, with a high single of 467, included Steve Valozz, Steve Canale, Joanne Maze, Ginny Ciccola and Steve Thibault.

Paul Spargo with 97.4 and Colleen Boedecker with 83.2 were holders of second place averages; while Terry Palmer with 96.6 and Barbara Halter with 81 had third place.

Mark Gillis was presented a special appreciation trophy for keeping the league record.

Rev. Joseph F. Connolly is spiritual advisor to the group.

Alice MacDonald Joins Recreation Dept. Staff

Miss Alice MacDonald has joined the staff of the Quincy Recreation Department, announces Director William F. Ryan.

Miss MacDonald, graduating in June from Northeastern University with a Recreation Education major, plans to work in the field of community recreation.

She has had background experience with the Brick Town, N.J. Recreation Department, at Mackey and Bancroft Schools in South Boston, at Crocheted Mountain Rehabilitation Center, N.H., at Fairfield Hills Hospital for the Mentally Ill in Connecticut, and Cambridge Infirmary for the Aged.

Miss MacDonald is the fourth Northeastern student to choose Quincy Recreation Department for field work experience.

Night Owls To Square Dance

Quincy's Nite Owls will have an evening of square dancing tonight starting at 8 p.m. at the Drop-In Center, 24 High School Ave. Tom Feeley will be caller. There will be instructions for beginners, and refreshments.

Ballroom dancing with orchestra is scheduled for Saturday at the Drop-In Center from 8 to 11 p.m.

Both activities are open to all senior citizens.

In Track

Quincy, North In Action Today

The Greater Boston League track meets scheduled last week at Quincy Veterans Memorial Stadium but rained out, have been rescheduled for today with unbeaten Quincy meeting Everett and North hosting Chelsea.

These are the only GBL meets scheduled for Quincy.

Tuesday at Medford Quincy met Chelsea and North took on Medford.

Next Tuesday at Medford it will be Quincy vs. Medford and North vs. Malden and next Thursday, in the final scheduled league meets, Quincy and North collide in their annual clash.

Tom Hall's Quincy powerhouse passed a major hurdle last week with a 71-60 win over strong Somerville as Bobby Ciano, extending a two-year unbeaten streak, setting a league record in the mile with a 4:25 effort.

John Provost, running track this season for the first time, also remained unbeaten for the year as he won the triple jump and also won his second low hurdles race in three tries.

Ray Lawyer was a double winner in the 100 and long jump, the first time the sophomore had tried the long jump.

Other Quincy winners were Fred Antoon in the 440, Joe Goguen, 880; Jim Buchinieri shot put; Brian Feeney, two-mile, and the relay team of Lawyer, Goguen, Pete Daley and Antoon.

Bob Gentry's North team unbeaten league champion a year ago, went down to its second defeat in a row 78-53, to Revere, as five top North scorers were out of action with injuries or illness.

"If we get everyone together we still can surprise some teams," the veteran coach said.

Highlight of the meet for the Raiders was Kevin Henry's second successive record-breaking performance in the two-mile. Two weeks ago he had broken the school and league marks with a 9:49 effort and last week did the distance in 9:42.9. Henry is unbeaten.

John Panarelli also remained unbeaten for two years in the javelin and Lee Davis again was a double winner. He won the discus and, running the 220 instead of the low hurdles, he also won that event. Lee is unbeaten for two years in the hurdles.

Jim deVarennes had a win all but clinched in the low hurdles but fell on the last hurdle and was edged out.

Provost, Richards, Picarski Entering H.C. In Fall

John Provost and Wayne Richards, outstanding backs for Quincy High's Greater Boston League and Eastern Mass. Class A football champions last fall, and Steve Picarski, who excelled for the Presidents' 1969 GBL co-champs, will enter Holy Cross in the fall.

Provost was one of the finest runners in the GBL and Richards one of the outstanding punters as well as a fine runner Picarski, who attended prep school last fall, was one of Quincy's finest defensive backs as well as a fine runner.

The three Quincy stars will be working under another former Quincy all-time great, Gay Salvucci recently appointed an assistant coach at the Cross.

Spotlight On Junior High Sports

Point Track Team Hampered By Small School Enrollment

Quincy Point Junior High school is the smallest in the city-wide league and a lack of depth hurts it in most sports.

The current track team, with a 1-1 record, has only three ninth graders and lacks experience.

"We had some good eighth graders last year but most of them are playing baseball this spring," said Coach Larry Keough. "When you have such a small enrollment as we have, you are really hurt when you lose several experienced boys."

Ninth graders on the squad are Bill Bowniss, Tom Malvarosa and Fred Norkus.

Seventh grade members are Steven Infascelli, Dan Johnson, Mike Carloni, Dwight Anderson, Shawn Dwyer, Leo Barron, Jerry Dubois, Tony Spadorica, Bob Silva, Dennis Connor, Dave

Barrett and Bob Varrasso.

Point opened with a win over Sterling but lost last week to Broad Meadows. Yesterday it met Atlantic-North and next Wednesday will face Central.

"Norkus and Bownies have done a good job as have Johnson, Cortese, Farmer and Cristina of the eighth grade," Keough said.

The Point coach also lauded the efforts of seventh graders Infascelli, Barron, Anderson, Carloni and Dwyer.

ENC In Streaks

The Eastern Nazarene College baseball team has been playing in streaks, both good and bad, this spring.

The Crusaders were winless in their first five games [0-4-1], then won six in a row but, after a win and a loss, dropped their last three for a 7-8-1 record.

They hosted U. of Maine [Portland Division] Tuesday, entertained New Hampshire yesterday and Saturday wind up the season with a double header at Kings College beginning at noon.

The latest game was a 9-3 loss to Southeastern Mass at Dartmouth.

SMU scored seven runs in the first four innings and was never in trouble.

ENC was held to three hits, a triple by Don Eads and singles by Bill Whitman and Rich Tanco. Dan Willis and John Milley did the pitching.

The Crusaders lost to Babson, 6-2, as Doug Sorenson, the club's top batter, had two hits and Chuck Gardner, Don Kauffman, Whitman and Dave Keen had one each. Whitman pitched all the way, losing a seven-hitter.

Earlier the team had dropped an 8-5 decision to Roger Williams, which pounded out 10 hits including two triples and three doubles.

ENC had eight hits including Sorenson's triple and double, two singles by Kauffman, a double and single by Jeff Davidson, and singles by Don Jordan and Howie Googins.

Sylvia's Camelot Day Camp Opens June 22

Quincy High Hockey Coach Bob Sylvia announces that his Camelot Country Day School in Hanover will open its third season June 22 and run through Aug. 31.

"I believe this camp [at 192 Center Street off Rte. 139] has proven itself to the communities and the people we have served for the past two seasons," Sylvia said.

"This summer we are enlarging our hockey program as well as our horseback riding. Add to this our swimming program and I believe you are not going to be able to find a better educational and recreational experience for children."

The former Boston University hockey captain is proud of his staff which includes Bud Mosher, Quincy High assistant football and baseball coach; Gene Macomber, Quincy High assistant football coach and head coach of winter track; Jack Scanlan, Quincy junior varsity hockey coach; Jack Raymer, assistant coach of Quincy Junior College baseball; Rick Hutchins, a hockey veteran; Jim Sylvia, Bob's brother a Boston State College hockey star, and Linda Berry, who heads up the swimming program.

"This is a fine professional staff and professional instruction is the key to our success," Sylvia added. "Any camp can get high school students to come and work but they, too, must be guided. Another feature which makes our program unique is the hockey part of our curriculum. We take the kids skating weekly to Weymouth Skating Club where we teach hockey and figure skating."

"We also invite the parents down to the club to watch and join their children and camp staff in a "Camelot Family Skate."

Other activities include street hockey, archery, riflery, softball, baseball arts and crafts, tether ball, remedial reading, volleyball, basketball and varied games.

"We highlight instruction in these areas by the use of our video tape outfit," Sylvia explained. "This gives the child an opportunity to learn by watching himself in action."

Better Things Ahead Seen For Quincy Girls Tennis Club

Although the Quincy girls lost the first two matches of their second varsity tennis season, Coach Bob Sylvia sees better things ahead.

Bob, the varsity hockey coach who last year was named as interim coach until a qualified woman coach could be found, was appointed again this spring and says, "These girls are just beginning to learn and are improving all the time. If attitude and desire mean anything, we should start winning our share of matches. But it is going to take time."

Quincy dropped its first two matches to North Quincy and Weymouth South.

Jane Rickson is the First Ladies' captain and top player, according to Sylvia. "She worked hard on her game and has improved in many areas," he said.

"Debbie Mottar and Sheri Tripp were also with us last year and are improving in each match."

The other girls who make up the Quincy squad are Jeanne O'Neil Beverly, Mariano, Kerry Ducey, Beth Gamache, Patti Sines, Carmel Bredin and Marion Colman.

The Quincy team plays at Malden today, goes to Weymouth Friday and plays at Hingham Tuesday.

Morrisette Baseball Tryouts On Weekend

Tryouts for Morrisette Post baseball team will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. and Sunday at 1 p.m. at O'Rourke Field, West Quincy, announces Manager Nick Malvesti.

Boys born on or after Aug. 1, 1952 [under 19 years] are eligible to play. Any Quincy boy may try out, regardless of where he attends school.

Low Gross Foursome Tie

Furnace Brook Golf Club's Scotch Foursome opened its first night tournament with a low gross tie by Hal and Audrey Sager and Mary and Denny Morrissey.

Rena and Bob Roche had low net; George and Rena Hodges, second net; Esther and Dolph Aimola, Ellie and Tom Mulroy, Dot and Matt Smith and Edna Phels and Chandler Robbins, four-way tie for third net; Marie Corayer and Quentin McCaffrey and Alice Pagnano and Ski Ciriati tie for fourth net.

Red Sox Open Home Stand Against Baltimore Friday

The approaching Red Sox home stand which begins Friday night should be one of the best in years at Fenway Park.

Following a Jimmy Fund exhibition tonight against the Montreal Expos, the Sox host the world champion Baltimore Orioles Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, which will be the annual Cape Cod Day.

Detroit comes in for Monday and Tuesday night games, the Yankees Wednesday and Thursday nights. Following a weekend four-game series at Baltimore, the Sox will be home to Ted Williams' Washington Senators for four, then face Dick Williams' High flying Oakland Athletics for three weekend contests.

Kansas City will be in for a Memorial Day doubleheader and a night game Tuesday, June 1. The Sox go to New York for two, then wind up at Fenway with three games against Tony Conigliaro and the California Angels.

When the Sox again hit the road on June 7, it should be pretty well established just how they stand as pennant contenders.

'Send A Quincy Kid To Camp' Community Action Fund Theme

"Send A Quincy Kid to Camp" is the goal of this year's drive for campership funds by the Quincy Community Action Organization, Inc.

The non-profit corporation headed by Earle P. MacLeod, president, was created to provide opportunity for low income individuals and groups in Quincy.

Last year more than $5,000 was raised to send 351 neighborhood children between the ages of 6 and 14 to camp.

All donations, tax deductible, may be sent to Mrs. Betty Straughn, chairman of the 1971 Campership Drive, or William R. Schales, director of the Germantown Service Center at 9 Bicknell St. Checks should be made payable to the Campership Committee.

Time Catches Up To Holden

Oscar snubber GEORGE C. SCOTT does a "PATTON" about face with a Bogie, tough guy characterization in the forthcoming summer release, "THE LAST RUN". And of course SCOTT acts as if he were tailor-made for the role. As if there's any role he couldn't fit into!... You'll hardly recognize WILLIAM HOLDEN in the "WILD ROVERS". Old man age has finally caught up with the 1953 Best Actor of the Year. And you say you have a difficult time selecting a sure money winner? Don't feel so badly. So does 20TH CENTURY-FOX. Of 33 feature motion pictures released during the 1969-70 period, a total of 24 are mired deeply in the red. It's going to take them years to rebound from that theatrical disaster...

PETER O'TOOLE and SOPHIA LOREN each inked a lucrative two-picture deal with United Artists. Their first mutual effort will be "MAN OF LA MANCHA"... WOODY ALLEN scores a comic bullseye with his second motion picture, "BANANAS". It's 82 minutes of rollicking laughter and political satire presented in an incisive, and at the same time, inoffensive manner. A film for everyone with a little used tickle bone... STROTHER MARTIN comes up a loser with "THE BROTHERHOOD OF SATAN". It isn't so much his acting that is at fault, it is the material involved. Why MARTIN allowed himself to be talked into accepting a role in this ineptly, unmeaningful horror picture is beyond my imagination. During the past three years MARTIN has established himself as one of filmdoms most cherished character actors. A starring role in a nonsensical B-grade piece of trash doesn't make any sense...

HARRY GUARDINO moves up a notch in status with a co-starring role opposite CLINT EASTWOOD in "DIRTY HARRY". If the film clicks with the fans, GUARDINO could be on the move to better and bigger things [we hope]... "LAWRENCE OF ARABIA" is doing bravura business in Germany. Some years ago SHIRLEY BASSEY was receiving much fanfare over a proposed Cinema career. Well that was some years ago and we have still to see her perform on the big screen. The Istanbul [Turkey] production of "HAIR" was performed more discreetly than its Manhattan counterpart. No nude scenes, Turkish law requires that g-strings be used for any and all pelvic gyrations. Such is life...

GLENN COWAN, the long hair ping ponger who helped pierce the bamboo curtain with his quick wits and breezy exuberance, has been signed for a projected television Talk Show. He along with JOHN GARFIELD JR., son of the late actor, will co-host a magazine formatted show dealing with fashion, young ideas, and sports celebrities. And COWAN isn't the only one capitalizing on the ping pong invasion. CARL FOREMAN is in the vanguard of American producers who want to crash the mainland and make motion pictures... "VLADMIR AND ROSA" is another JEAN-LUC GODARD anti-American hatchet job. GODARD is one of the most two faced filmmakers in the business today. He has made a fortune catering to the cinema taste of the radical left, while pocketing the difference in American currency. He should be banned...

Director WILLIAM WYLER was doctor ordered to rest six months to a year and forget his "40 CARATS" production... Whatever became of leading man JOHN GAVIN? Hasn't been seen on the screen for years. After his "SPARTACUS" success, I for one thought he was just near the film pinnacle of super star status. Just goes to show you can't pick them all... VAN HEFLIN was talked out of retirement with a fat contract and even fatter part in "THE REVENGERS"... "THE PRIESTS WIFE" is meeting with ho-hum success at the box office. Which is the way an inferior acted, scripted and directed film should be met. Recommended for children of all ages without reservations: "TALES OF BEATRIX POTTER". It's reassuring to know that they still make pictures that children can take their parents to, without having to blush.

MAYORALTY CANDIDATE -- Mrs. Rita Anderson of 2 Shawmut Pl., West Quincy, with three of her four children Donald, Karen and Brian.

'Better For A Woman To Run'

28-Year Old Mother Tosses Bonnet Into Mayoralty Ring

By RUTH WAINWRIGHT

A 28-year-old West Quincy mother of four has tossed her bonnet into this year's mayoralty ring because, she believes "it would be better for a woman to run the city."

Mrs. Rita M. Anderson of 2 Shawmut Pl., took out her nomination papers this week and is believed to be the first woman in Quincy history to seek the city's chief executive job.

And, her husband, James is "all for it," she says. "He thinks it's a good idea to have a woman mayor."

"And with taxes going up," she adds, "it's the mother who has to figure out where the money to pay for them is coming from—the husband doesn't get a raise to meet it. She has to find ways to save money."

The woman's talent for economy and saving could be put to good use in city government, Mrs. Anderson insists.

"Some of the departments could be eliminated, and some could be combined," she feels. "Then there are some departments that might use more money. The Police and Fire Departments are wonderful.

"I don't know that I could lower the tax rate," she admits, "but perhaps I could hold it where it is."

Referring to a recent news story, Mrs. Anderson noted: "The Planning Board admitted they were about 40 years behind the times. I agree with that. Anyone who has to drive through Quincy Square has a hard time finding a parking space. It will be worse when the MBTA comes here."

Mrs. Anderson is not optimistic about her chances of sitting in the mayor's chair next year.

"But maybe by putting my name on the ballot I can draw attention to these ideas that I have," she confides. "Perhaps someone better known who has these views will run, and will draw out more women and younger voters."

"Most people are apathetic," Mrs. Anderson, an eight-year Quincy resident, claims. "Quincy is a nice city, but I think it could be better."

She thinks she can help make it better.

'No Hanky-Panky Or Scullduggery' But--

Tobin Warns Council Could Be 'Raked' On $1 Land Sale

City Council President Arthur Tobin told council colleagues this week they could be "raked" through the newspapers if a parcel of city-owned land due to be sold for $1 turns out to be worth up to $500,000.

He requested City Solicitor Harry Pavan for a ruling in writing as to whether the present council is bound by a 1966 agreement with the John J. Duane Co. of Quincy.

In an oral opinion, Pavan said the agreement was "binding." Breach of the contract could result in a suit he warned.

Under that agreement the Duane Company conducted a sanitary landfill disposal program at the Hardwick quarry hole on Granite St. for $37,000.

In exchange, the city is to transfer a 14-acre parcel of nearby land to the Duane Company for $1.

Tobin called attention to the present hassle over job creations in the Quincy Housing Authority without specifically identifying them, which he said he did not think "merit discussing."

He said there is "no hanky-panky or scullduggery" involved in the land agreement but warned colleagues:

"Where three newspapers have been banging away at certain things about the Quincy Housing Authority which I don't even think merit discussing, people's names being dragged through the front pages of the press, I can visualize the names of every member of this council being raked through the paper."

"There is nothing wrong in what is being done, but if the City conveys land for $1, and the new landowner sells it for a quarter or a half million dollars, they will think every councillor has been approached by someone."

"Before I intend to vote on this, I would like to have a ruling from the City Solicitor in writing stating whether this City Council is bound by an agreement entered into by past City Councils. Then I will be very happy to tell my colleagues that I will vote on this issue. There is no hanky-panky or scullduggery here."

Seven More Take Out Papers

Seven more candidates had taken out nomination papers by midweek, including a first woman candidate for Mayor.

They are:

- Donald J. Riley of 11 Arnold Road, Ward 6, City Council.
- Warren A. Powers of 3

Grandview Terrace, Ward 5 City Council.

● Rita M. Anderson of 2 Shawmut Pl., Mayor.

● Dennis E. Harrington, Jr. of 211 Billings St., Ward 6, City Council.

● Richard W. Corner of 113

Nightingale Ave., Ward 3, City Council.

● Paul C. Kelly of 93 Ames St., I present School Committee member, Councillor-at-large.

● Louis Caruso of 32 Sextant Circle, Ward 1, City Council.

'No Fix' Parking Public Hearing To Be Set

Councillor George B. McDonald, chairman of the council's Public Safety Committee, will hold a public hearing on acceptance of the so-called "no-fix parking tag law," he says.

The date will be announced later.

A request sent by Mayor McIntyre to the City Council on Monday called for acceptance of Chapter 90, Section 20C of the Massachusetts General Laws, as amended.

This section provides for parking violations, tags, appearance, fine, failure to appear, etc.

The Council members voted to refer the matter to the Committee on Public Safety.

Sunbeams

By HENRY BOSWORTH

Councillor Walter Hannon is expected to make it official a week from today: he's running for mayor.

Hannon is hosting a luncheon May 27 at 12:30 p.m. at the Quincy Neighborhood Club. Invitations have been sent out to a number of prominent people—Republican, Democrat and Independent.

The invitations merely say:

"You are cordially invited to be the guest of State Representative and City Councillor Walter J. Hannon at a luncheon, on Thursday, the twenty-seventh of May nineteen hundred and seventy-one at twelve-thirty o'clock in the afternoon Quincy Neighborhood Club, 27 Glendale Road, Quincy, Massachusetts."

He obviously isn't getting together with a few friends just to kill an afternoon. Or to repeat an earlier announcement he won't seek re-election to the Ward 5 seat.

We've reported here several times in the past couple of months that he will run for mayor.

By May 27—just after High Noon—it should all be pretty much official.

MEANWHILE, back at Checkerboard Square the big question still is: will Mayor McIntyre run again?

He's reported right now to be doing some "hard thinking". Until a week or so ago, insiders would bet you he would not seek a fourth term.

Those in the know had it figured Hannon would run for mayor and Council President Arthur Tobin for McIntyre's Senate seat.

According to them McIntyre would announce he would not run for mayor and was resigning his Senate seat to take the $40,000 Senate counsel post he has been rumored for.

Now things seem to be a little complicated.

Latest word is that McIntyre can have the $40,000 job and remain on as mayor if he wants.

If so, it would mean that Hannon [and School Committeeman James McCormick.] would be running against McIntyre instead of for an open seat.

Which leads to one more question: Could it be, some observers are now wondering, that Hannon will announce he's running for the Senate instead of for mayor.

There's more doing on the Quincy political front right now than on a TV soap opera.

IS there another move in the works? A municipal department head, according to speculation, could soon find himself reading the "Help Wanted" ads. Observers say he may be moved out and someone who was going somewhere else not long ago, may be moving in.

★★★

STILL STIRRING THE POT: Richard W. Corner of Nightingale Ave., South Quincy, has nomination papers out for the Ward 3 council seat. Corner, who made an impressive run a couple years ago, has since become the son-in-law of James [Pete] Ricciuti, the mayor's executive secretary.

WHICH REMINDS US: That newly created $11,000 city forestry job still hasn't been filled. That's the one Ward 3 Councillor John Koegler has been mentioned in line for.

★★★

LOOKS like two of Dist. Atty. George Burke's aides will be seeking City Council seats this year.

Warren Powers, 30, of Grandview Terrace, Wollaston, officially announced his candidacy today for the Ward 5 seat, confirming an earlier report here.

And, Atty. Dennis Harrington, 29, of Billings St., North Quincy has nomination papers out for the Ward 6 seat.

TWO MORE of the Quincy Police Department's "Old Guard" will soon be calling it a career. Sgt. William Dillon of the Liquor Squad will retire Aug. 1 and Patrolman Bruno Guidici, July 20. Dillon has been in the department 39 years and Guidici 38 years.

CAN YOU HELP? The Quincy Sweet Adelines are looking for a new "home". The East Methodist Church building in Braintree where they have held their meetings has been sold and the gals won't be able to use it anymore.

The Adelines, a non-profit organization spend many hours during a year entertaining at charitable functions.

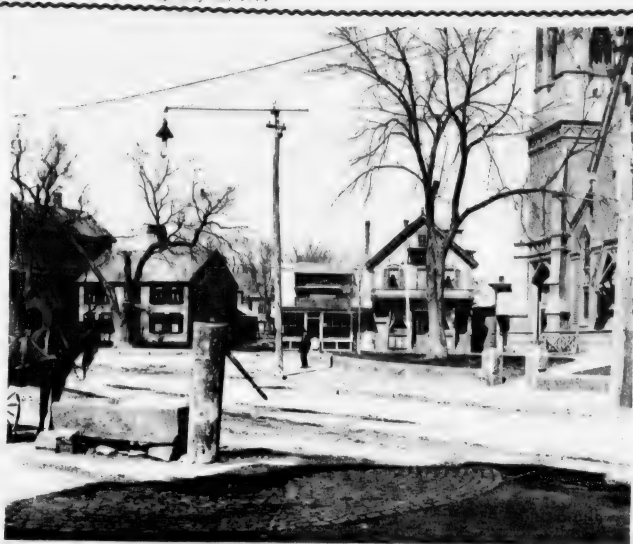

All they need is the use of a building once a week, Wednesday evenings.

If you have a place, they can use, contact Mrs. Edna Nitzsche of Scituate, president, at 545-3740.

Quincy, Yesterday

Quincy Fast Growing City Just Before Turn Of The Century

By PAUL HAROLD

Quincy, just before the turn of the century was one of the fastest growing cities in Massachusetts, but you wouldn't guess that from above photo of the Hancock and Granite St. intersection.

In the foreground is the Town Pump, located at the head of Granite St. from 1837 to 1898. It was finally removed because of an epidemic of "glanders" among horses from such public fountains.

As can be seen from the buildings in the background, Quincy Square at that time was a mixture of residential and business properties.

It was even a common practice for the town Postmaster to operate the post office from his home. The building at the extreme left [present site of the Quincy Savings Bank] contained such a "post office."

The house to the right belonged to a prominent dentist, Dr. Charles S. French. It was built in 1790 by George Mears, one of the Germans who originally settled at Germantown. Dr. French bought it in 1853, and it was demolished in 1904 when Maple Pl. was extended through from Washington St. to Hancock.

Next to it on Chestnut St. was the Frank F. Crane Furniture Store and the Quincy Cafe, owned by John Wales and famous for its ice creams and sherberts - long before Howard Johnson.

The building on the far right was the Bethany Church [organized in 1832 as the Evangelical Congregational]. It was raised in 1928 to make way for the Granite Trust Company tower, now the South Shore National Bank. The new church on Coddington St. incorporated the stained glass windows of the original church in the Spear St. chapel.

Dwight Warns Against Government Control

'Newspaper's Obligation To Publish A Full, Accurate Account Of The News'

Lt. Gov. Donald R. Dwight warns that the greatest threat newspapers face is not from those who would be censors, but those who would make newspapers a regulated industry.

In a speech at the New England Associated Press News Executives Association Spring Meeting, Dwight noted that the failure to distinguish between newspapers and the licensed media is leading to a general acceptance that newspapers are, or should be, a public utility.

"Newspapers are not public utilities. The acceptance of the view that they are utilities leads to but one outcome - government control," he declared.

The Lieutenant Governor pointed out that this nation is more than fortunate, it is blessed that newspapers are free to operate outside government control.

"No other business in this world is so free from government restraint. May it ever be thus," he said.

A former newspaper executive, himself, he said it is a newspaper's obligation to publish a full and accurate account of the news and to comment on the events of the day with vigor and purpose, irrespective of the popularity of the opinions or of the consequent fury thundering from places of high authority.

"I am wholly committed to a free and open press in this nation, just as I am committed to a free and open system of government, the two are inextricably entwined.

"I also believe that the press and government must serve no master but the public interest.

"If we try to impose government control of newspapers in any form, it will be the end of a free and open system of government. We will certainly not be furthering the public interest by making newspapers a public utility, subject to the same limitations as licensed, regulated utilities," Dwight continued.

He warned the wire service executives that "there are inherent differences between newspapers and licensed media that you must state and restate again. The educational effort neglected because of the security that newspapers have felt for generations, must begin with clarity and sureness of purpose. Without such effort newspapers themselves will contribute to this worst of all worlds.

•A Sun Sidewalk Survey

'Ward' Elected School Committee Favored

By FRANCES VAUGHN

A Quincy Sun sidewalk survey indicates that Quincy residents willing to be "counted" among 150 asked apparently favor election of the school committee by wards.

An inquiring reporter stationed in front of City Hall, asked passers-by from Quincy, "Are you in favor of a school committee elected by wards, and why?"

Responses in favor outnumbered those against but interestingly many declined comment and others said "they knew or heard nothing about it." Others had "to catch a bus" or said they were "too busy."

Replies to the question:

MRS. JOHN ULAN, 53 Upland Rd, housewife: "I think everyone would be better represented if there were one man from each ward on the school committee."

MISS KATHY COLETTA, 96 Gardiner Rd, a junior at Quincy High School: "I never really gave the idea that much thought. I think it would be more democratic if each ward had a school committee member. It would be better, because every ward would have someone well informed about its problems."

YRJO MATSON, 40 Saville Ave., semi retired lawyer: "It should remain at large, because a committeeman will take care of the whole city. If we elect them by wards, a man will disregard the rest of the city while concentrating on his own ward."

KEN BLACKMAN, 138 Old Colony Ave., downtown store employee: "Yes, I think one member should come from each ward. I suppose a man would work hardest for his own ward, but I don't think he would neglect other school problems."

MRS. JOHN FERGUSON, 41 Graham St, mother: "I think there should be a school committee member from each ward. Ward 2 is completely left out of it. My daughter goes to Quincy Point Junior High and she recently won an award because her classmates voted her the best writer on the school paper for 1970-1971. The award was just sent to the school and then handed to my daughter. I think if it had been someone from Atlantic, there would have been more recognition because that area has a school committee member."

Citizens who answered the question, but wished to remain anonymous included: A woman in her early 20's: "I think it would be more fair to have a school committee member from each ward."

A middle-aged man: "The answer to that is simple. Different men from different areas means you get different opinions. There should be a school committee member elected from each ward."

An elderly woman: "It should remain at large. When you get politicians in the school system, it makes a mess of the kids and the schools."

During a four-hour period, approximately 200 persons were approached with the question. About 50 were non-residents, so they legitimately had no immediate interest in the question.

At least 25 said, "I have to catch a bus"; and an equal number replied, "I'm in a hurry", or "I'm too busy".

About 10 were new residents, having moved to Quincy as long ago as last September and as recently as last week. Their replies were the same: "I don't think I'm qualified to answer the question."

At least a dozen walked by without acknowledging they had been spoken to.

One woman reported, "I have no interest because I have no children."

Several citizens frankly admitted, "I don't know anything about it," or "I don't know enough about it."

"I haven't had a chance to think it over," was a frequent response.

One woman replied, "I don't know much about political business." Another conceded, "I don't want to get involved in politics."

Several flatly stated, "I don't like to answer questions."

One man, confided his great great grandmother scooped tea from Boston Harbor the day after the Boston Tea Party.

It seems apparent from the small number of replies that the majority of concerned citizens are in favor of a school committee elected by wards.

Five From Quincy In NATO 'Dawn Patrol 71'

Five Quincy men are participating with the Navy in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization [Nato] training exercise "Dawn Patrol 71" in the Mediterranean Sea.

The five are:

Petty officer third class Stephen A. Barthel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Barthel of 180 Davis St., Wollaston, and Airman Apprentice Donald W. Comis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. Comis, Jr., of 318 Quarry St., West Quincy, both aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Forrestal.

Petty officer second class Robert R. Deforest, husband of the former Miss Karen A. Bennett of 18 Casco St., Houghs Neck, aboard the replenishment oiler USS Milwaukee.

Petty officer second class Albert W. Harwood, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Harwood of 78 Sheldon St., West Quincy with Reconnaissance Attack Squadron Seven.

Petty officer second class Robert Smelcer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Bergstrom of 961 Sea St., Houghs Neck, aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Sampson.

The exercise involves more than 60 ships, ranging in size from aircraft carriers to fast patrol boats, and 300 aircraft from the U.S., Greece, Italy, Turkey and the United Kingdom.

During the exercise, the combined NATO force will perform simulated wartime air strikes, anti-submarine warfare tactics, air defense, surveillance, and amphibious operations.

"Dawn Patrol 71" is designed to test the skills of ships crews and evaluate the reliability of their equipment.

Tobin suggested that a special group study the matter to find out if the contract is in order, and pointed out that he was not a member of the City Council when the contract was entered into.

If there is a legitimate contractual relationship, Tobin said, he felt the city might be sued if it did not live up to the agreement.

"If the committee finds everything is now in order, the land properly developed could broaden the tax base and bring new revenue into the treasury," he said.

Ward 4 Councillor Albert R. Barilaro said he had requested a playground in the area, and that he had met with City Engineer Edward Leone and Richard Koch, executive secretary of the Park-Recreation Board to lay out plans.

"The Duane land was laid out," Barilaro said. "Part of that is going to come right in the place where we planned to have this small kiddie playground, and this must be discussed before any contract with Duane is made. We should ask Duane to release part of it. I am very much in favor of having a playground there, and I'm very sorry to see that part of it is on Duane land."

Ward 2 Councillor Clifford H. Marshall, stating that he was a member of the Council at the time the agreement was made, said he understood that:

"At the time the agreement was accepted, there was no binding agreement to have any future Council sell that land for $1. I made a point of asking the City Solicitor if this would bind future City Councils and I believe he said, 'No, legally, but perhaps morally, it would.' I had no intention of releasing land for $1."

Ward 5 Councillor Walter J. Hannon pointed out that the "quarry had reached a point of crisis where we had to do something. It had to have some sort of sanitary fill. Nothing was really being done."

"Duane asked $37,000 to fill the dump with sanitary land fill. The next bidder was $250,000 or $280,000. Naturally, we were interested in the $37,000, which was why we went into the contract."

"I see nothing wrong in the action that was taken at that time. If this agreement is worked out and Duane receives land for $1, there may be someone who will say the councillors were paid off. At the time I thought we did very, very well," Hannon added.

City Solicitor Pavan said he would like to look at the contract before giving any decision.

Asked by Tobin if the contract entered into by a former City Council was binding on the present Council, Pavan replied, "The agreement of the Council binds the City. Yes, it is a contract. Breach of the contract would place the City in litigation. It is a legal, binding contract."

Barilaro questioned why, if the contract was to fill Hardwick quarry, the land to be conveyed was about 150-yards away.

"Because it was in the contract," Pavan replied.

A motion by Councillor George McDonald was passed that the Committee on Dumping consider the question in detail at a special meeting.

As Tobin Sees It:

Housing Authority Situation

Doesn't 'Merit Discussing'

City Council President Arthur Tobin doesn't think the Quincy Housing Authority situation even "merits discussing."

"Creation of a $17,500 assistant administrator post and two other jobs-two of which reportedly were to be filled by Mayor McIntyre aides-was disclosed by the Quincy Sun May 6.

Since then, other articles have appeared in The Patriot Ledger and The Boston Globe.

At this week's City Council meeting, Tobin brought the matter up in warning council colleagues that sale of a parcel of City owned land for $1 to the John J. Duane Co. could result in them being "raked" through the newspapers.

Said he:

Council Commends Quincy Youth For Walk

Quincy youth taking part in the recent Walk for Development received a unanimous commendation Monday from members of the Quincy City Council.

Councillor J. Vincent Smyth

in presenting a resolve noted:

"This undertaking, under adverse weather conditions and their disbursement of the revenue for true corporal works of mercy is a motive of the highest and purest desire."

"The human beings affected by their determination echo our pride in their quest for a better standard of living for the underprivileged in the United States and foreign nations."

The Mind Blowing Trip

Sitting in the corner all alone, no where to turn too.

Don't have a point of view, knowing not what to do.

Rebellious little soul trying desperately to get the head all in one piece.

The hauntings of your little trip don't ever cease.

Tripping drugs are your habit, they'll do these things.

A little kid taking a trip with the family has lost pieces to his puzzle.

Like you losing pieces to your puzzle that fit your head together.

The kid finds the missing pieces with some help in the back seat of the car.

In reality he lost these, unlike you in the little world you created in your trip.

Now's the time to face reality, you thought your tip was really neat? No way.

Like you blew your bread,
along with your mind.

With what evers left of it,
May your mind rest in Peace.

Getting Bigger

Farms are getting larger. The average farm in the United States in 1969 was 377 acres, a one third increase over 1959 farms.

Mercury Finders

Using new techniques, hydrolo-

People Make Litter

Things don't make litter—people make litter. Cleaning up litter from the streets of America's cities last year cost an estimated 300 million tax dollars.

Way To Spray

Spray painting is a quick and easy way to add new verve to articles that can be placed in an open space. When painting, don't cause dripping and running by holding the can too close to the surface. Remember, paint very thin, wet coats and allow adequate drying time between each coat for best results.

Handy Herbs

It's handy to have a pinch of fresh chives, parsley or dill at herbs, will give your kitchen a professional air, and add a marvelous decorative note as well.

Turkey For Spring

by Martha Logan

Spring is the time for change and menus are not excluded.
The family will welcome your efforts to vary daily and special occasion meals. For a dinner party sometime soon you will be a winning hostess if you serve tender, juicy deep basted breast of turkey along with crunchy almond stuffing, spiced peaches and a green vegetable.

The whole turkey breast, deep basted to assure juiciness and tenderness, is fresh frozen and may be stored in the home freezer. To cook, thaw in the wrapper on a tray in the refrigerator. Place the thawed roast on a rack in a shallow open pan. Brush with melted fat. Roast in a 325 degree oven to an internal temperature of 170°F, as indicated by a roast meat thermometer. Roasting schedules are on the wrappers of the Deep Basted Swift's Premium Breast of Young Turkeys which range in weight from 2 to 8 pounds.

Prepare the stuffing as usual with seasoned bread cubes and make it crunchy by adding toasted sliced almonds. For convenience, bake the stuffing in an uncovered casserole in the 325 degree oven right along with the turkey.

Week of May 20 - 27

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - You may have to accept the help that's offered even though you feel you could get the job done on your own.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - Your prospects are brighter than they have been in a long time, just watch out for accidents and don't spend too much.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Taking drastic measures before you know the facts could cause trouble. Don't listen to the gossip or indulge in intrigue.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - The unexpected offer you receive may look good on the surface but be sure this is where your happiness lies before accepting.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - This is your week to be in the limelight. Your partner and friends join in the activities and help to make it exciting.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - This is not the time to coast on past merit - put forth your best efforts because the planets are in a "go" position.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - Unless your plans were well laid out in advance, the sudden move you make this week could cause unnecessary strife.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - Your actions are causing unnecessary domestic trouble. Temper outbursts make matters worse so give in a little and keep peace.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - The ideas you have could surprise even you - put them to constructive use and bask in the limelight for a change.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - Even though you have the best of intentions, speaking up at this time causes hurt feelings. You could be in error.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - Don't let your feelings interfere with the work load you are carrying. A philosophical outlook helps advance your cause.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - False accusations could cause a break down in communications so get the facts - it will give you the upper hand.

Evangelistic Basketball Team At Ft. Square United Presbyterian

Ft. Square United Presbyterian Church, 16 Pleasant St., South Quincy, will sponsor a program by an evangelistic basketball team from Barrington College, Barrington, R.I. May 23, at 7 p.m. The public is invited.

Contributions received at the program will be used to help defray expenses of the "Venture for Victory" basketball team which will tour the Orient this June for Christian evangelism.

The "Venture for Victory" combines basketball playing with active witness for Christ. Participants play some of the leading teams in the nations they visit. During half-time, a gospel message is presented to the players.

The team from Barrington College selected for the Orient tour includes Director of Athletics Jack Augustine, Richard Clarkson of Grimes, Iowa; David Horner of Swansea, Massachusetts; and Daryl Lane of Williamsburg, Indiana.

Each player and coach must raise his own support of $1,500 per person. The program is sponsored by The Overseas Crusaders Mission which follows up with a Bible study course.

The program was begun and organized in 1951 by Madame Chiang Kai-Shek who felt that basketball might be a way to bring the Christian message to the people of Taiwan where thousands turn out for the sport. The people of the Orient love basketball and large crowds flock to see the American teams play.

This will be the second year that Coach Augustine has participated. In 1968 he was chosen to coach the Chinese Air Force team in Taiwan.

Barrington College is a co-educational, Christian college of arts and sciences with a strong athletic department. It offers 22 majors to over 600 students. The college is located in the town of Barrington on Narragansett Bay

'Soul And Body' Bible Lesson-Sermon At First Church Of Christ Sunday

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Bible Lesson-Sermon Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 20 Greenleaf St., at 10:45 a.m.

One of the Scriptural verses is from Psalms: "In the multitude of my thoughts within me thy comforts delight my soul."

A related passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states:

"Unless the harmony and immortality of man are becoming more apparent, we are not gaining the true idea of God; and the body will reflect what governs it, whether it be Truth or error, understanding or belief, Spirit or matter. Therefore 'acquaint now thyself with Him, and be at peace.'"

First Baptist Observes Youth Sunday

Youth Sunday was observed this past week at First Baptist Church of Wollaston with members of the Senior High Department leading the worship under direction of Vernon C. Saunders, teacher.

The sermon, "The Christian Message for My Day," was given by Janet Morgan, Linda Plummer and Ruth Randall.

Other young people taking part were Susan E. Chase, Wendy E. Huke, Nancy Whitman, David G. Mahn, and Jeffrey A. Randall.

Graduates from the Senior

High Department were Thomas Browne, Janet Morgan, Robert Pineo, Linda Plummer, Ruth Randall, Paul Ricciardi, Karen Rieman and Charles Sherman.

Graduating from schools of higher education are Marcia Plummer, Christine Smith and William Vogel.

'Peace In A War-Wearied World' Challenge Of Hour, Says Buczko

"The challenge of this hour and time is the accomplishment of peace in a war-weary world," State Auditor Thaddeus Buczko, guest speaker, said at an Inter-Faith Dinner held last week at Adas Shalom Temple.

"The will of Divine Providence has placed upon America the heavy responsibility of leadership," Buczko continued.

"The challenge of this hour is peace. By peace I mean harmony within our own nation as well as the end of wars and totalitarian systems. America has been given the heavy responsibility of leadership. Before we may expect the world to follow this leadership, we must exercise it amongst ourselves," said Buczko.

"We must bring together all our resources to solve the problems which beset America. We must prove by example that through peaceful and democratic means a high level of material equality and mutual happiness can be achieved, that denial of individual rights through brute force is not a means for achieving the ideals shared by all people of whatever race or nation."

William S. Ash was chairman for the event, the 17th annual "Meet Your Neighbor Night" of the Temple.

Rabbi Samuel Periman is spiritual leader.

Evangelist Conducting Crusade At Glad Tidings Church

Evangelist Harold Davis is conducting a five-day crusade at Glad Tidings Church, 138 Washington St., scheduled to close on Sunday.

Services, held nightly at 7:30 p.m., will close with a dramatized presentation of "Sunrise at Midnight" on Sunday at 7 p.m.

Rev. Davis, known for his Biblical dramas, recently was the first to present a religious dramatization through the Kenya Broadcasting Corporation in East Africa.

Rev. William F. McPherson is pastor of Glad Tidings Church.

Protestant Bureau Director Union Speaker

Robert Taylor, director of the Protestant Social Service Bureau, will speak about work of the organization on Sunday at Union Congregational Church, Rawson Rd and Beach St.

His talk at 11:30 a.m. will follow the 10:15 a.m. morning worship conducted by Rev. Stuart C. Haskins, pastor.

'The Marital Power Struggle'

There's a kind of marriage which is little more than a marital power struggle between an adult male and an adult female. Living for superficial appearances...they lack depth in relationship...have little concern for meeting each other's needs...are usually unhappy people. They continually vie for control.

Some time ago a well dressed business man sat in my office. Said he... "Doctor...no two people could ask for more than we have...but we're just not happy together. I really don't know what's wrong...I love my wife...but she's destroying me...is that possible? He waited for me to answer.

"That's very possible"...I said..."but what do you mean by love?" "Well...maybe it isn't love any more. My wife seems always to compete with me...always resists my suggestions...always changes whatever I say in some way. If I say for example..."The tide will be high at noon tomorrow"...she's likely to say..."Not at noon...the tide-table says 11:58." She just can't seem to accept me or trust me. She doubts my judgment...is critical of my decisions...disagrees with everything I say. It's almost as though she's been trained to be sharp in detecting the opportunity to catch inaccuracies in me...to win out over me." "Maybe she was"...I said.

I learned later that his wife had had just such conditioning as she was growing up. Her mother was a domineering...manipulating woman. This man's wife as a little girl saw her mother do to her father just what she was now doing to her husband. The difference was that her husband was a strong man. He wouldn't accept it. He struggled in competitive activity all day in his business.

The last thing he wanted was a marital power struggle when he got home at night. He could not be manipulated...he would not be controlled. Since his wife had been conditioned by watching her mother control...belittle...submerge her father...she knew no other way to relate to a man. Fortunately...she was willing to learn...and became a very warm...cooperative...helpful...loving wife to this man. But not until she had made his life miserable for several years when finally he put his foot down and insisted on professional help.

Near the end of the counseling he said gratefully..."There was always that ripple of hope...thank God I hung on." Too often these situations go to the point of no return.

The symptoms of the domineering mother are classic...she's possessive...using such phrases as "my budget"... "my mortgage"... "my bills"... "my children." She is jealous of her "rights". She smothers her children...indulging them on one hand while she is over-bearing to the point that they can't even decide the color of socks they wear to school. She complains she's tired...is often depressed...isn't sexually fulfilled...over praises her children...controls people with good deeds. If her husband disagrees with her she insults him...or pouts like a spoiled child.

Her husband can't be a partner to her...to get along with her he has to let her have her way...she controls him as she does her children. Some people say he's "henpecked".

Such husbands serve one purpose...he brings home a paycheck...but it's too small...and she let's him know it. She's the Queen...and if husband tries to be King you can be sure that a marital power struggle will take shape. She brooks no competitors to her control. So...you see no strong man can live happily with the domineering woman. It inevitably turns into a marital power struggle.

I hope none of my readers are engaged in a marital power struggle...because it always results in awful misery...destruction to health...stifled development of children...impossibility of happiness. So...what is the solution for the marital power struggle?

1. A disclaiming of the childhood conditioning of domineering womanhood.
2. A determination to learn the art of loving.
3. A recognition that a happy marriage relationship cannot be based on a competitive...resisting...manipulating struggle with each other.

I like the marriage ritual because it doesn't provide for a marital power struggle..."Wilt thou have this man/woman to be thy wedded husband/wife...to live together in the holy estate of matrimony? Wilt thou love him/her...comfort...honor and keep him/her in sickness and in health...and forsaking all others keep thee only unto him/her as long as ye both shall live?"

I've never yet heard either a woman or a man say..."I won't."

Joseph R. Harold of 31 Riverside Ave., Quincy, has been installed Service Officer for the Boston Chapter 10, Disabled American Veterans. The Chapter, which includes 1,750 members, will celebrate its 50th anniversary with a banquet to be held on Sunday, May 23, at the Wonderland Ballroom, Revere.

Judge James Lawton To Speak At Service Clubs Memorial Program

Plymouth County Probate Judge James R. Lawton, will be principal speaker at the annual Memorial Program of four Quincy service clubs May 24 at Quincy YMCA at a noon luncheon meeting.

Quincy Rotary, Lions, Probud and Kiwanis members will attend along with representatives of several veterans' organizations, with Quincy Kiwanis Club again host for the joint meeting. James Stearns is chairman of arrangements.

Judge Lawton began his political career in Brockton in 1947 when he was elected in 1953 and served to 1962 as state representative. He was chairman of the Commission to Redistrict the Legislative, Council and Congressional seats in Massachusetts.

Defeated in the 1962 Democratic primary for attorney general, Lawton was chosen by Gov. Endicott Peabody as his Legislative Secretary. In May, 1963, Peabody appointed Lawton the seventh Registrar of Motor Vehicles in Massachusetts history.

JUDGE JAMES R. LAWTON

In October, 1964, Judge Lawton was appointed by Peabody to his present position at Plymouth County Probate Court.

Judge Lawton served in Europe with the 513th Parachute Regiment of the 17th Airborne Division and was wounded in March, 1945 during the final airborne invasion there. He holds the Bronze Star and Purple Heart. He was Commander of Chapter 76, DAV, in 1954, and since 1946 has been a member of Post 1046 VFW and Post 33 of the American Legion.

Judge Lawton has been cited on numerous occasions for his activities in elective public office as well as during his term as Registrar of Motor Vehicles.

Mrs. Nelson Saphir Speaks On 'Save Our Shores'

Mrs. Nelson Saphir of 921 East Squantum St., North Quincy, project chairman of Save Our Shores, spoke recently to more than 60 Boston teachers at an in-service social studies workshop.

The workshop was held under sponsorship of Associate Superintendent Marian Fahey and conducted by George Murphy, assistant director of staff development, assisted by Dr. Joseph P. Abbott of 38 Spaulding St., Quincy Point, principal of the John F. Kennedy School.

Mrs. Saphir spoke and showed slides of changes, both right and wrong, being made to Boston Harbor, Carson Beach, Quincy Bay, and Hingham Harbor, down to Hull.

The workshop explores levels and approaches to social studies for elementary school children.

The Big Plant

ONCE there was a boy who planted a seed. One day it grew and grew till it was as big as him and he was 25 feet tall. He called the forest man and he said to cut it down. He did but the plant kept on growing. He called the forest man again and he said, "I'll be right over." He stood by the plant and it grew as big as the forest man. He was 30 feet tall. The forest man said "If you want this plant smaller, you will have to find someone smaller than you to take care of it. Then it will stay small."

Trailside Museum

We left the school building at 9:30 eastern time. The three third grades went. All three of the third grades went on one bus. It was a short trip. When we got there we first saw a couple of buttons you press. Then we saw a map of blue hills. Then we saw something like a movie screen. Then we saw a bee nest. We saw lots of dead insects, an Indian camp with glass over it, and lots of birds. There was a big fish tank with one cat fish, a big owl and a baby squirrel and two baby rabbits and a big skunk. Then there were two rattle snakes, also lots of other snakes. Then the guide put on two shows, one on an owl and the other a porpine. Then we went outside, and saw a deer and racoon and owl.

Our Camping Trip

I like going camping because I can go swimming and fishing on boats. I also like to cook and eat the food we bring. Then in the night I can take care of the fire and sleep in sleeping bags. Then in the mornings I like to take walks on the trails through the woods and go mountain climbing. Then we go to another camping spot and then go home.

Smells

Why is it that poets tell
So little of the sense of smell?
There are the odors I love well:

The smell of flowers all in bloom,
Or a freshly waxed and polished room;
Or even the smell of a new straw broom.

The aroma of freshly baked pies;
The odor of cooked french fries;
And the coming of spring bringing clear blue skies:

The piney scent of the Christmas tree
The flame of a candle burning free
The salty smell of the deep blue sea.

All these mean happiness to me!

The Spooky Night

Once upon a time I was out on Halloween night and I went up some crickety old steps to a real spooky mansion. I rang the doorbell and when there was no answer I opened the door and walked in. When I got in the house I looked all around. Then I went upstairs and opened another door and walked in. In that room I saw a bunch of skeletons and they all came to life. Then by mistake I pushed a button and I fell all the way down the stars. When I got downstairs I ran down to the basement and I looked into one of the corners and I snapped my fingers and saw the skeletons. I ran upstairs and tried to get out but I couldn't because the door was locked. Then I ran downstairs and tried again but it was still really bolted locked. Then I ran into a bedroom and looked out one of the windows and saw a ladder. So I climbed down, hopped over the fence and ran home. Then I never, ever, ever went back to that house again.

What Is Spring?

Spring is a season with flowers and birds. Because the birds come back from the south and the flowers grow. Some people plant seeds. The seeds grow into flowers or vegetables. The leaves on the trees grow back. In the spring the leaves on the trees are green. The grass comes back and turns green too. In spring it gets warmer, there are more sunny days, and we wear lighter clothing.

Quincy Couple Members Of Parents Advisory Council

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Ostrow, 167 Putnam St., Quincy, are members of the University of Rochester [N.Y.] Parents Advisory Council which held its spring meeting recently in Rochester.

Council members met with more than half-a-dozen faculty members, deans, and administrators to discuss subjects ranging from academic programs to extracurricular activities.

The Parents Advisory Council was organized in 1959 as a forum for the exchange of ideas between parents of undergraduates and the University.

Watson To Be Installed Library Assn. President

Quincy Library Director Warren E. Watson, will be installed President of the Massachusetts Library Association at its 81st annual conference today and Friday at the Colonial Hilton Inn, Pittsfield.

Louise Dinegan, North Quincy Branch librarian, and Mrs. Patricia Anderson, Acquisitions librarian.

Watson will be the third Quincy Librarian to achieve this distinction. Former librarian Galen W. Hill was president in 1928-29, and Miss Gertrude Callahan in 1955-56.

Also attending the meeting will be Miss Dorothy E. Newton, assistant librarian; Miss M.

Watson came to Quincy in March, 1968 from Framingham where he was director of the Framingham Public Library system. He holds a master's degree in political science from Boston College and a master's degree in library science from Simmons College. A Quincy native, his wife is the former Elizabeth Paul of Wollaston and his mother, Mrs. Alice Watson, is a resident of Botolph St., North Quincy.

Koch Club To Present $500 In Scholarships

The Koch Club of Quincy again this year will award a total of $500 in scholarship funds to graduates of North Quincy, Quincy and Quincy Vocational Technical High Schools.

One hundred dollar scholarships will be awarded a boy and a girl graduate of North Quincy and Quincy High Schools. A $50 scholarship will be presented to a boy and girl graduate of Quincy Voc-Tech.

This year's awards bring to $4,000 scholarship awards presented by the Koch Club since 1959, when the Scholarship Fund was started.

Although the Koch Club is largely involved in athletic and recreation programs, the prime purpose of the Scholarship Fund is to impress upon the boys and girls that the organization is also greatly interested in the education and scholastic ability of its members, notes Richard J. Koch, executive director.

Anthony T. Delmonico is scholarship committee chairman; Peter Cappola, vice chairman, Alexander V. Nihill, Mrs. Delmonico, Mr. and Mrs. Koch and School Committeewoman Ruth E. Scanlan, committee member.

Applications are available at the Guidance Counsellors' offices of each high school.

GOING TO PRESS - Adams Shore United Methodist Tuesday School students gather about Muriel Lyon at IBM typesetting computer system in the Quincy Sun office in downtown Quincy during visit to see how a newspaper is put together. At rear are teachers Hope Adamson, Mary Alice Morris, Laura Black, Drucilla Loud, Dorothy Kressler and Rev. Gwen Lurvey, co-pastor.

'Pop' Josselyn (86), Four Scouts Honored In Houghs Neck

Sunday was "Court of Awards" Night for Roland K. [Pop] Josselyn, 86-year old dean of Houghs Neck Boy Scouts, and four other members of Troop 6 at the Houghs Neck Congregational Church.

Mr. Josselyn was presented with an inscribed trophy in appreciation for his 32 years of Scouting, at a testimonial dinner attended by some 50 friends and associates.

Seated at the head table were William Shaw, District Commissioner of the Blue Granite District of the Boston Council BSA; Scoutmaster John A. Morris; Robert Gordon, troop committee chairman; and Robert Trubiano, treasurer.

Among those attending were Mr. Josselyn's grandson, William MacDonald, and four great-grandchildren, Boy Scout William MacDonald, Laurie, Annie and Joan MacDonald.

Thomas J. Regan To Be Installed QEA President On May 25

Thomas J. Regan will be installed president of the Quincy Education Association May 25 at the annual banquet. He succeeds Robert V. Garner.

Mr. Regan, a mathematics teacher at Broad Meadows Junior High School, is a graduate of Boston College with a master's degree from Boston State. He has taught in Quincy for the past six years. Prior to that he taught for eight years at Weymouth High School and also has taught at Boston Latin School and in Walpole. He is married and the father of two children.

J. Richard Comeau, a teacher at Central Junior High School, will serve as president-elect. He succeeds Mrs. Louis Schofield, who did not wish to become a candidate.

Mrs. Mary E. Curtin of Atherton Hough School will be secretary, and William A. Herman of Quincy High School is the new treasurer.

Directors are:

Mrs. Anna G. Robison of Beechwood Knoll School and Miss Mary Lou Glaman of Snug Harbor School from the elementary level; Mrs. Susan A. Greene of Atlantic Junior High School [retiring secretary] and Mrs. Margaret A. Sullivan, junior level; and Paul E. Milward of Quincy Vocational Technical School and Miss Margaret E. Flynn of Quincy High School, on the senior level.

Atty. Gen. Robert Quinn To Speak At Central Junior

Atty. Gen. Robert Quinn speaks today at Central Junior High School, a high point in a week-long "Step Into Society" which has "Youth Wants to Know" as its theme.

Atty. Gen. Quinn will discuss his views on the juvenile justice system, the role of the attorney general, and the importance of community involvement in the legal system.

"Friday will be unique," promises Miss Mary Catherine Iannoni, guidance counselor who has helped plan the week. Central and Atlantic Junior High School students will "swap" schools, by bus, for a series of panel discussions on "Human Relations."

Featured was an original drama, billed by Miss Iannoni as "Central's answer to 'Peter and the Wolf'" - but with four narrators. Broad Meadows Junior High School's "Dixieland Band" were guest performers.

The program was repeated Wednesday at Atlantic.

Tuesday organ demonstrations were presented at Central by Neil MacCallum. The Broad Meadows band gave a repeat concert at Atlantic.

Junior High that morning.

The entire week's program was considered to be "a real serious step" into the community, with the community invited to attend and view that "first step."

[This is the third in a series of articles telling of the experiences of 34 youngsters from the Cranch School area during a two-week visit to Leigh-on-Sea, Essex, England.

The articles are being written especially for the Quincy Sun by Miss Mary Murdock, a member of the Cranch School faculty who helped arrange the trip and served as one of the seven chaperones.]

By MARY MURDOCK
Cranch School Teacher

April 26 was the date of the most comprehensive British census in years. Because we were living in English homes on that date, we were all included. During the weekend we each sat down with our host family to supply the information necessary to fill in the six pages of questions. When the census figures are released, we will know that there will be 41 excess people listed.

On Monday morning we gathered again at West Leigh, again excitedly exchanging tales of weekend adventures. Unfortunately, our beautiful stretch of sunny, mild days was definitely over. We hadn't seen the sun since Thursday. This day was very cold and threatening. We had only a few sprinkles, but in Leigh it poured all day. Our first stop was Finchingfield, the most beautiful village in Essex. Fred Griffiths, a resident, met us and served as our guide. We visited the local church.

Next, we were to meet Sir John Ruggles-Brise, Bt. CB, OBE, TD, JP [Baronet, Companion of the Bath, Order of the British Empire, Territorial Decoration, Justice of the Peace] at his country estate, Spains Hall. Sir John is the Lord

Lieutenant of Essex and the Queen's representative.

We were quite awed at the prospect of meeting such an important person. We expected our meeting to be a formal one, about five minutes long, outside Spains Hall. This was not the case at all. We were met at the door of Spains Hall by Sir John's genuine English butler.

Sir John, who was standing in front of his fireplace, welcomed us with a huge grin and invited us to sit down. What a warm, delightful person he was! He talked to us for quite a while, telling us about his home and the history of his family. Next, he took us on a tour of his ancestral home, a beautiful and fascinating building. With his marvelous humor and wit, he shared stories with us of his childhood there, the murder of a little boy, ghosts, and his dealings with "the boss" [Queen Elizabeth II]. In the attic he let the children ride the enormous rocking horse which had been his boyhood toy, roll the balls on his pool table and view the beautiful grounds of his estate from the small balcony. Back downstairs, we saw secret passageways, the priests hole, and many of Sir John's treasured possessions. Sir John measured all of us as we came to a wall marked with the progress of many growing members of his family, going back many, many years. Our tour finished, Sir John walked to the gate with us and waved good-bye as our coach headed for American soil.

We had lunch at Wethersfield, an American Air Force Base with no planes. It was fun to have a taste of Americana in the midst of our English adventure. The base commander and the principal of the dependent school had lunch with us.

After lunch we were off to Cambridge University. At the University, we were met by members of the English Speaking Union. The children were divided into two groups. Half went punting while the other half, again divided in half, toured the University. Then the groups switched.

The punts are long, flat boats which hold about six people comfortably. The punter stands at the stern with a long pole which he uses to propel the boat forward. Two of the passengers have paddles to aid in steering. We had three Cambridge students who did the punting.

One of them was a handsome American named Somerset Waters, who is a Cambridge Blue. This means he is a member of the winning Cambridge rowing team. I gather from the English reaction that his punting for us would be akin to Carl Yastrzemski dropping by the Cranch School playground to toss a ball around with the children. We had such a good time in the punts. The punt I was in lost all races, but we were called upon to rescue another punt's pole which was stuck in the mud.

Our punter offered his pole to anyone in our boat and Jay Baker took him up on the offer. Jay shed his shoes, socks and jacket and did a beautiful job. He is now ready for the gondolas in Venice. The English Speaking Union had a beautiful tea [this time, tea plus pastry and cakes] laid out for us when we finished touring and punting. On our way back to the bus, we were pursued by a very friendly Cambridge horse. When we were finally able to say good-bye to him, we headed back to Leigh and the rain.

League Of Women Voters Study Results:

$70.62 'Model' Weekly Budget For Family Of Four

A "model" welfare budget for a family of four—father, mother, boy 13, girl, 8—is $70.62 a week.

That adds up to $3,672.84 a year.

In addition to this, the family receives an additional $104.60 four times a year which brings the total to $4,091.24 annually.

How is this money allocated? What about food surplus, food stamps, other services and finding recipients jobs?

Answers to these and other questions—some of which have long troubled hardworking working taxpayers—are included in this second in a series of articles entitled "The Welfare Mess: Fact and Myth" based on a two-year study of public welfare by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters.

The results of that study, prepared by the Quincy League of Women Voters, are being presented by the Quincy Sun as a public service.

Incidentally, Mrs. David B. Coletti, president of the Quincy League, notes that according to The Boston Globe, the total yearly cost of Massachusetts welfare is less than what is being spent every 35 hours in Vietnam.

But for those who think Massachusetts is spending too much for welfare—or perhaps not enough—the following should be of interest:

MODEL BUDGET BASED ON CURRENT AFDC ALLOWANCE IN MASSACHUSETTS
Father, Mother, Boy 13, Girl 8.

ITEMS	WEEKLY	YEARLY
Food	$31.10	$1,617.36
Shelter	25.22	1,311.12
House Furnishings	0	0
Household operations	1.80	93.60
Transportation	0	0
Clothing	8.98	467.28
Personal Care	2.46	128.28
Reading	0	0
Recreation	0	0
Education	0	0
Gifts	0	0
Insurance	1.06	55.20
	$70.62	$3,672.84

WHAT ABOUT THE FLAT GRANT? On September 16, 1970 the FLAT GRANT quarterly payment was initiated to cover special needs of furniture, household supplies and clothing for children for all AFDC families.

A family of four receives an additional $104.60 four times a year [$418.40 per year].

$3,672.84 + $418.40 = $4,091.24 [Which is $2,305.00 below the minimum level of living [$6,396.24] of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, December, 1970.]

CAN YOU FEED YOUR FAMILY ON 35 CENTS PER PERSON PER MEAL AND GIVE THEM A WELL-BALANCED NUTRITIONAL DIET?

NO. In the summer and fall of 1970 physicians examined 873 welfare recipients during five Diet Clinics sponsored by the Mass. Welfare Rights Organization.

*34% tested were anemic as compared to 10% in studies of the U.S. middle income population.

*70% of the adults were overweight due to starchy diet.

*7 new cases of tuberculosis were discovered. [Based on statistics of the Dept. of Public Health, the risk of contracting tuberculosis is more than 40 times greater for low-income residents of Boston than for high-income residents of Lincoln.]

*Twice the number of children tested for growth and development exhibited stunted growth compared to middle income children.

There is ample evidence to prove the relationship between poor nutrition stunted growth impaired mental development and poor school achievement. In turn these physical deficiencies may be one of the reasons for the burdensome costs of Medicaid.

WHY DON'T THE RECIPIENTS GET FOOD SURPLUS OR USE FOOD STAMPS?

In January almost one-third [121,000] of the 344,000 persons eligible for surplus foods in Massachusetts did not get their allotments due to poor distribution, lack of storage space and facilities and Dept. of Agriculture regulations that orders must be made four months in advance. These programs are not in operation in all communities because of limited manpower and space. For example, in one state the legislature approved two trucks for the food surplus program with only one driver. Furthermore, food surplus stores do not carry fruits, vegetables and other non-starchy foods.

It has been said that the use of food stamps, publicly identifying the consumer as a welfare recipient is an invasion of privacy. The food stamp program administered by the local community sometimes runs into difficulties when they cannot find a local bank willing to cooperate.

An increase in the basic budget for recipients to cover adequate dietary needs would eliminate the administrative costs of stamps and food surplus distribution.

DON'T RECIPIENTS ALSO GET MANY SERVICES?

No. Although the law states that many services should be available to recipients most social workers in the Department are too overworked giving financial assistance to provide services. Many cases are unattended [no social worker assigned] until a crisis arises. More services could be provided when needed if some of the paperwork were computerized. The social worker's value to recipients would be increased if they were given additional training. It has been estimated by the Department that if allowances were adequate to provide a decent standard of living, only 35% of recipients would need services.

WHICH WELFARE RECIPIENTS REALLY ARE EMPLOYABLE?

Only 1% of the total welfare population in 1969 were potentially employable men. Others were physically or mentally incapacitated. Employable males now receiving welfare are largely those whose jobs have been eliminated by the economic slump.

Of the 13% female heads of households: 8% were physically or mentally incapable of employment; 12.5% had full-time or part-time jobs which did not pay enough to get them off welfare. Most of the mothers not working were needed in the home to care for young children [78% had children under 12 years of age]. The educational level of the mothers on AFDC in 1969 was limited: 2/3 of the mothers had not graduated from high school; 2% had some college training.

LWV-Congressman Burke Hearing On Foreign Policy Saturday

Saturday at Curry College, Milton, at 8 p.m. the League of Women Voters is sponsoring a public hearing.

"A Time to Listen", theme for the evening, provides an opportunity for residents and organizations of the 11th Congressional District to give their views on American foreign policy to Congressman James A.

Burke.

Participants will be permitted to state their own views or, if they prefer, ask a brief question in the allotted time. Additional testimony will be accepted in writing.

Letters have been sent by Voter Service Chairmen of all Leagues in the 11th District inviting elected officials, veterans groups, civic organizations, community groups, and others to participate.

This is one of several meetings throughout the state designed to increase citizen involvement in the decision-making processes of government.

Warren Powers To Seek Ward 5 Council Seat

Warren Powers, 30, of 3 Grandview Terrace, a lifelong resident of Wollaston, today announced his candidacy for the Ward 5 City Council seat.

A legal assistant to Norfolk County Dist. Atty. George G. Burke, and active in the latter's drug abuse program, Powers declared:

"The city of Quincy and its elected representatives should make effective use of the existing tax dollars rather than continually raising the already burdensome taxes on the local homeowner."

"This can be achieved through a complete analysis of all expenditures, asking ourselves how much it will cost, why are we spending it and what return are we getting?"

"Wise spending and not more taxes is, I believe, the answer."

Powers lists "the ever-spiraling tax rate and the problem of revaluation" as major issues which must be faced.

Powers attended Wollaston, Central and Quincy High School. He graduated from Suffolk University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration and is a graduate of Suffolk University Law School.

He is married to the former Holly Grazioso of Wollaston, and with her, has been active in youth activities in the city.

He was a recreation leader in the Park-Recreation Department program for several years.

In the district attorney's office, he has served as a Law Enforcement Educator, lecturing to classes on the administration of justice, and working in the drug abuse program.

His interest and concern for the youth and their problems led him to become a founder of the Massachusetts Drug Advisory Council.

Ward 2 Civic Association Bean Supper Saturday Night

Ward 2 will have its annual Bean Supper Saturday from 6 to 8 p.m. at Fore River Clubhouse, 16 Nevada Rd., Quincy Point.

The bean supper each year provides a major part of funds for the annual July 4th celebration sponsored by the Ward 2 Civic Association.

The committee planning the event includes Keith McElman, president; Owen Eaton, ticket chairman; Mrs. Phyllis Bagen, projects chairman; and Mrs. Dorothy Martell, in charge of a cake sale.

The public is invited.

Richard Koch To Speak At Historical Society Meeting

Richard J. Koch, executive secretary of the Quincy Park and Recreation Board, will speak at the May 27 meeting of the Quincy Historical Society at 7:30 p.m. in the parish hall of United First Parish Church, Quincy Square.

Mr. Koch will describe and show slides of Quincy's beauty spots and recreational facilities.

H. Hubert Holly will preside at the business meeting, which will be an annual meeting with elections.

Bill Hutchinson To Be Honored May 24

Bill Hutchinson, hockey coach at Quincy High school for many years, will be honored at a long overdue testimonial Tuesday evening at Morrisette Legion Post given by former team members and friends.

A social hour will be held at 5 p.m. with dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Hutch coached hockey at Quincy from 1949 to 1962 and developed eight championship teams. He had only one losing season in all those years.

Bill never was publicly honored for his achievements and at a recent reunion of squad members it was decided to hold next week's well-deserved testimonial.

During his playing career at Northeastern University, Hutchinson was selected to the All-New England hockey team as a wing. He was a talented, fierce competitor and his former coach, Herb Gallagher, now director of athletics at NU, will be a speaker at the banquet.

Members of all his Quincy squads will be present to honor him along with Jack Costello, dean of Springfield College; Bob Laing, hockey coach at North Quincy for 18 years and now faculty manager there; Quincy High hockey coach Bob Sylvia.

Coordinator of Athletics Carl Leone, Quincy Principal Lloyd Creighton and Hutch's wife, four sons and two daughters.

Two of Bill's sons are presently playing hockey, one at Bowdoin College, the other at Boston College High and there is a strong possibility they may be Bowdoin teammates.

The committee for the banquet includes Don Salvucci, former Quincy player and now social studies teacher at Brockton High; Ralph Younie, former player and now teacher at Atlantic Junior High; Dick Storella, former player and member of the firm of Antonelli Iron Works; John Chrusciel, head of the Quincy High Science Dept. and former assistant football coach, and Bill Sullivan, former head coach of football and baseball at Quincy High.

Some former Quincy athletic greats will be present including Joe Valle, faculty member at Springfield College, and Dr. Gene Nattie, former Dartmouth star.

All former members of Hutchinson's teams are urged to attend. Tickets are available from Committee members or may be obtained at the door.

FIRST BASKETBALL BANQUET-Coaches Joe Amoyoun and Gary Keefe flank Grenham Youth Center members of winning teams sponsored by Most Blessed Sacrament Church in YMCA Leagues. Displaying trophies are Rick Cotter, 17; Charles McCormack, 17; Mike Guarniere, 13; and Martin Dunn, 13.

Quincy Trackmen Face North Today

Quincy's undefeated track team sought its fifth straight Greater Boston League win Tuesday against Medford, Thursday faces North Quincy, the defending champion.

The meet is scheduled for Medford but attempts were being made to hold it in Quincy. A third effort will be made to hold the league meets in Quincy next Tuesday with Quincy facing Everett and North meeting Chelsea. These meets have twice been rained out.

Saturday several members of both squads will compete in the state meet trials at White Stadium.

Tom Hall's high flying Quincy team with a 4-0 league record and three practice wins, clobbered Chelsea, 96-35, last week as Bobby Ciano, who already holds the league mile record, set a league mark in the half mile to remain unbeaten over a two-year stretch at whatever distance he has run. His winning time was 2:00.6, beating the old mark set last year by North Quincy's Paul Alfia.

Quincy swept this event with Joe Goguen, losing for the first time despite a great 2:02 effort, second and Paul Wahlberg third.

Quincy dominated virtually every event. Jim Dubois won the mile in 4:52 with sophomore Marty Swirko third. Brian Feeney won the two-mile followed by Peter Ciano. Jim Bucchianeri won the shot put with Roberto Volpini second. Bobby McDermott and Dave Coull were 1-2 in the high hurdles.

Quincy swept the discus with Wayne Richards first, sophomore Bob Besant second and Frank Aldoupolis third. John Johnson won the high jump with McDermott second. Art Giannotti won the javelin with a fine toss of 161 feet, second best in the league this year, and Rich Menchi was second.

Fred Antoon won the 220 with Jerry McCall, whose brother George is on the North Quincy team, third. John Provost remained unbeaten in the triple jump and Steve McCarthy was second, and Pte Daley won the 440 with sophomore Mark MacLeod third. Bob Gentry's North Quincy team was defeated by Medford, 82-49, but Kevin Henry remained unbeaten, winning the mile in 4:36, a school record. Lee Davis and John Panarelli also stayed unbeaten over a two-year span, Davis in the low hurdles and Panarelli in the javelin.

Richard Harrison had second net; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DiFederico, third net, Marie Corayer and Ski Ceriani with Mrs. Patrick Baile and Matt Smith, tied for fourth net.

Mrs. Anthony Spinello and John Donovan, with Jo Hinckley and Roy Christianson tied for fifth net.

North Quincy's baseball team hoped to retain a share of the Greater Boston League lead yesterday when it hosted Everett, one of three teams to defeat it.

Friday the Raiders will play at Revere, will go to Hingham for a 10 a.m. non-league game Saturday and Monday will be home to Somerville.

Last Saturday Charlie Bunker's North team hiked its overall record to 9-3 (7-3 in the league) with a 4-2 non-league win over Abp. Williams at Adams Field.

Scott Manson worked three innings for the Raiders, then sophomore Bob Pierce took over and pitched three-hit ball the rest of the way.

The day before Bob McKay turned in another fine pitching performance to top Medford, 5-2, in a league game, to run his record to 4-0.

"Bob is just too much," Bunker said. "He has come along better than expected and he has played a major role in making us a GBL contender."

Each of McKay's four wins was a complete game. He is a junior and, according to his coach, a pretty fair pitcher himself, "he is a pitcher, not thrower, with two curves and two fastballs."

Bunker also paid tribute to his catcher, Dave Nelson, who "calls a fine game and, by throwing about 25 balls in practice, overcame trouble with his throwing."

McKay kept nine Medford hits well-scattered, struck out six and walked five.

North had only six hits including a double by Tim Flynn. The Raiders won the game with three runs in the seventh to break a 2-2 tie.

Earlier in the week North's title hopes were handed a jolt by the Presidents avenged an earlier defeat.

"We didn't deserve to win this one," Bunker admitted. "We had three errors and walked too many batters. But give Quincy credit, they wanted to win and played a fine game."

Highlight of the game for North was Jim Driscoll's second home run over the Adams Field fence, this one going an estimated 400 feet. "It is 360 down the line in left and it went toward left center," Bunker said. "It was the second one that he has hit over the fence and he had a double off the fence against Chelsea. The thing about his hits are that they are solid line drives."

Bunker feels Tom Burke has more consistent power than Driscoll but quickly admits, "when Jim connects, it certainly does take off."

Driscoll's long blasts reminds the fans of the tremendous drives by Pete Varney, former North star and now the leading slugger for Harvard.

Driscoll had two hits against Quincy, while Jimmy Sarrauda had a double and two singles.

Quincy, North Golf Teams Look Good In League Action

The Quincy and North Quincy High golf teams are having good seasons in the Massachusetts Coast League.

Quincy ran its record to 4-2 last week with a 6½-2½ win over Hyde Park at Furnace Brook.

Quincy's first team of Don Connelly and Peter DePietro swept three points and the second duo of Paul DiFederico and Al Aimola also took three. The third tandem of Ken Pike and Scott Thompson lost 2½ points.

Meanwhile North, winner of the league crown for the last two years, took a day off from league competition and lost to Braintree, 5½-3½, at Braintree.

Quincy, North Join Soccer Assn.

The South Shore High School Soccer Association has split into two divisions with Quincy and North Quincy joining the Norfolk Association with Avon, Foxboro, Franklin, Sharon and newcomer Bridgewater.

The South Shore Association will comprise Hingham, Duxbury, Norwell, Plymouth-Carver, Scituate, South Shore Vo-Tech and newcomer Bridgewater.

Each association will be autonomous with its own budget and officers. This was necessitated by the requirement of the Mass. Principals Association to enable a team from each group to compete in the state tournament.

Marshfield will compete next fall on a junior varsity basis and will play jayvee teams from association schools.

The two associations will conduct a tournament involving the top two teams in each association.

Quincy Coach Ron Martin is North's Jeff Burrell and Tim O'Leary took 2½ points while Bruce Henrickson and Joe Tighe took the other point. Wayne Fick and Mike Tracey were blanked.

North plays its final league match June 1 against Boston Latin. Quincy hosts Latin Friday and finishes up at Hyde Park next Thursday.

acting president of the Norfolk Association and North Quincy Coach George Golding will arrange the schedules for both associations.

Morrissey-Spinello Winners In Mixed Scotch Foursome

Furnace Brook Golf Club's recent mixed Scotch foursome was won by Mrs. Dennis Morrissey and Anthony Spinello with a low gross of 42.

Atlantic-North Trackmen Eye City Pentagonal Meet June 2

The Atlantic-North Junior High school track team has pretty much dominated the city league and, although this year's team lost its first two meets, it has been improving.

Coaches Dave Hourin and Phil Garufi feel the team will be ready for the annual city-wide pentagonal meet at the Stadium June 2.

Hourin has been coach at North for 23 years and his North teams [and the combined North-Atlantic squads during the past 11 years] had won the city title nearly every year until last season.

In fact A-N had not lost a dual meet in 21 years until last spring.

Atlantic Junior High opened its doors 11 years ago and Garufi has been coach there for eight years.

"We are developing boys this year and it will show results in the next few years in high school," Hourin said. "We have some good individual performers and are improving all the time. We'll be ready to make a strong showing in the city-wide meet."

"There are some excellent boys in our league and we have had some great individual performances. The strong showing by the Quincy and North Quincy High teams in recent years is proof of the fine boys we are developing in junior high."

Members of the North ninth grade team are:

Atlantic's eighth graders are: Jim Ahern, Mark Canavan, John Costa, Michael Donaghey, Jim Doyle, Bob Furlong, Harold Hutchings, Michael Johnston, Al Kelleher, John Mackey, Robert Manheimer, Walter Perry, James Salenius, Danny Sullivan, Paul Tasselari, Bill Walsh, Joe Zdzankowski, Don Shaefer, Bob Kennedy, Lee Walden and Paul O'Donnell.

Seventh graders are:

Walker Sparkles On Mound

Presidents Up And Down Like Elevator

The Quincy High baseball team has been up and down all season.

When the Presidents have been sharp on defense and received good pitching, they usually have won.

But when the defense has collapsed, they usually have been defeated.

Going into yesterday's game at Revere, Coach Bob Basiliere's Quincy Club, runnerup in the Greater Boston League a year ago, had only a 5-6 league record [7-6 overall] but four of the wins were over league powers. The Presidents twice upset defending GBL champion Somerville, shocked Revere and handed North Quincy's title hopes a jolt last week.

Last Friday Quincy's pitching was sharp as southpaw Jimmy Walker pitched 11 shutout innings but the defense finally faltered and two big errors in the 12th enabled Medford to win, 2-0.

Although hampered a bit by wildness with seven walks, Walker gave up only six hits over the 12 innings and struck out 10. He has been outstanding throughout the season.

"It was a shame Jimmy had to lose the game, he really pitched one heck of a game, but so did [Mike] Quinn for them," Basiliere said. "Walker is an awfully good pitcher. He doesn't overpower the batters but he knows exactly what he is doing all the time. And he is only a junior."

Quincy had seven hits off Quinn, including two by Billy Maver.

In their previous game the Presidents pounded out 14 hits, their most productive output of the year, to outlast Chelsea, 9-7.

Basiliere used four pitchers with Walker the best in relief as he blanked the Red Devils over the last three innings. He was preceded by Bob Brill, Steve Sullivan and the winner, Bob Driscoll.

Peter Lucier had a triple, two doubles and a single, Maver three singles, Sullivan, Mike Orlando and Mike Marvelle two singles each.

Earlier in the week Quincy atoned for an earlier setback and upset league co-leader North Quincy, 6-3, with one of its finest efforts of the season.

A four-run surge in the fourth inning clinched the game as Walker pitched all the way and did another super job. He held the Raiders to eight scattered hits, struck out two and walked only one.

"Walker did it all today but that's nothing new," Basiliere said. "This was our first complete game of the year. He's been tremendous for two years as a reliever and has also done very well as a starter."

Lucier had two of Quincy's six hits and Walker had a triple which brought in two runs in the big fourth.

North's Jim Driscoll drove one over the Adams Field fence for the second time this year, the ball travelling an estimated 400 feet. "I've been coaching here for eight years and it was only the second time I've seen a home run over the fence here," Basiliere said. "This boy Driscoll is a great looking player."

Friday Quincy hosts Malden at Adams Field and Malden ends the season at Everett.

Hotspurs Strong In Youth Soccer League

The Quincy Hotspurs, made up for former and present Quincy High soccer players, are making a strong showing in the AA Division [under 19] of the Boston Area Youth Soccer League.

Coached by Jim McGuire, former Quincy High captain and now a freshman at Babson Institute, the Hotspurs comprise mainly seniors from last year's Quincy High team and a few who will still be playing for the Presidents next fall. Quincy High Coach Ron Martin is the team manager.

The Quincy club defeated Hingham, 8-1, and Foxboro, 6-2, while losing to Braintree, 6-0.

Bob Trubiano is the goalie. Fullbacks are Gus Dano and Scott Merlis, halfbacks are Tom Gibbons, Bob Curtis, Mike Prescella and Ron Iacobucci, and the forwards are Harry Meidanis, Harry England, Russ Barry, Al LaVoie, Nick Conderlos, Marty O'Toole, Lee Wardle, Massimo Ranalli and Mike Foley.

LaVoie is continuing where he left off in high school and is the top scorer with seven goals.

Spillane six, Maria Ciano and Jill Seamans five and Judy Foley four.

Miss Fruzzetti won the discus, Miss Congdon won the 50-yard dash with Miss Foley tied for second and Miss Ilacqua tied for third. Miss Congdon won the 220, Miss Robinson was second in the high jump, Miss Congdon third in the long jump and the relay team of Misses Foley, Robinson, Spillane and Congdon second.

In the non-meet events Quincy swept the half mile with Miss Seamans first, Sara Kane second and Betsy Witt third. Misses Ilacqua and Spillane were 1-2 in the 50-yard hurdles and Miss Ciano first and Kathy Glennan second in the mile.

League and had a little too much depth for the First Ladies.

In three non-meet events [the events are not part of the Old Colony League curriculum] Quincy scored 75 points to only two for Hingham. These events were the half mile, mile and 50-yard hurdles.

Debbie Congdon of Quincy was among the outstanding performers as she won the 50-yard dash and 220, took second in the 440-yard relay and third in the long jump.

Her 19 points were just one behind the meet's top scorer, Cindy Patterson of Hingham. Linda Robinson of Quincy had nine points, Karen Fruzzetti eight, Kathy Ilacqua and Debbie

Quincy Girls Hope To Rebound

After making an excellent showing, despite losing, in its first interscholastic meet, Quincy High's first girls' track team will compete at Attleboro Friday.

On Saturday the girls will participate in the Falmouth Invitational Meet, host Canton Tuesday at 3 at Veterans' Memorial Stadium and run at Needham next Thursday at 3:30.

The Quincy girls, coached by Pete Gallagher, were defeated by Hingham 37 $\frac{1}{2}$ -26 $\frac{1}{2}$, in their first interscholastic meet last week. Norwell placed third with 17 points.

The Hingham girls had already seen interscholastic competition in the Old Colony

Two Quincy Seniors Honored By Hancock

Two Quincy High School business education seniors have been selected for recognition by John Hancock Honors Awards for excellence in business education.

Marlena DiBona of 7 Plain St., South Quincy, entering Aquinas Junior College of Business in Milton, and Robert F. Kennedy of 461 Quarry St., who will become a Quincy Junior College student will have their names engraved on a five-year plaque displayed at the high school.

An engraved charm will be presented to Miss DiBona, and a tie tack to Robert Kennedy.

Announcement of the awards is made by Miss Marie J. Lynch, head of the business education department at Quincy High School.

Library Adds New Prints

The Thomas Crane Public Library has added recently many new framed prints to their collection, announces Carmen Ungar, art librarian.

The prints are now on display for loan in the "Picture Loan Gallery" at the main hall in Quincy Square.

The reproductions in all sizes and on varied subjects, may be taken out on a library card for a period of one month, and renewed for a second month, if desired.

Landscape, portrait and abstract prints are included by artists from Rembrandt to Wyeth.

Health High-Lights

By Jack Silverstein

NO LAUGHING MATTER

Colon-rectum cancer is nothing to joke about. It strikes 73,000 Americans each year - more than any other type of cancer except skin cancer - and kills over 45,000 annually. [Both men and women equally].

This loss of life is especially tragic, for colon-rectum cancer is highly curable when it is found and treated in time. Thousands of cured Americans live normal healthy lives.

The American Cancer Society urges that all adults over 40 have a proctoscopic examination as part of their annual checkup. [A small hollow tube which allows the doctor to examine the area of the lower colon and rectum.]

Chief symptoms of the disease are: change in the normal bowel habits, bleeding or pain. However, with the proctoscope, physicians can detect this cancer long before there are any symptoms - when it is most curable.

Money is meaningless without good health. So, even if you're a sick millionaire, have your chauffeur drive you to NABORHOOD REXALL PHARMACY, 406 Hancock St., No. Quincy or call PR 3-6426 for fast, prescription service. You can also pay your electric or telephone bills or use our notary public service. Hospital equipment and supplies for rent or sale. Prescription tax and insurance records kept plus 24 hour emergency service in North Quincy. Open 7 days a week from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

NEW PRESIDENT - Donald J. Hughes, Jr. of 12 Sherman St., Wollaston, accepts gavel of office from retiring Chapter President William J. Griffin of Quincy Jaycees.

Donald Hughes New Jaycees President

Donald J. Hughes, Jr. of 12 Sherman St., Wollaston, was installed as 1971-72 president of Quincy Jaycees, at the annual banquet for new officers at Walsh's Restaurant in North Quincy.

Hughes, of Boston State

Deposit and Trust Company, succeeds William J. Griffin of Hancock Bank and Trust Company.

New Board members include Dale A. Pedersen of South Shore National Bank, Internal Vice President, Charles J. Leonard of Employers-Commercial Union, External Vice President.

Raymond K. Ellis of Belle Steel Co., secretary; and David F. Mercier of Colonial Federal Savings and Loan Association, treasurer. Directors are Robert Calnan, Edward MacWhinnie, Robert Melchin and Peter Miller.

On The Screen

Nostalgia? How About 'Hopalong Cassidy'!

After an all too long lay-off from the celluloid wars, GLENN CORBETT returns to the screen in the action-western, "BIG JAKE". If his name rings a memory bell, it should. Many seasons ago CORBETT was a co-star in television's "ROUTE 66", one of the more popular series to ever appear on the little tube. With "BIG JAKE" under his belt, CORBETT may once again regain the confidence he once had and continue upward and onward to a big time movie career. DOM DeLUISE demonstrates every facet of his multiple comic personality in the upcoming "WHO IS HARRY KELLERMAN AND WHY IS HE SAYING THOSE TERRIBLE THINGS ABOUT ME?" With a title as long as that one, DeLUISE had no real choice but to be long on the funnyman bit. I wonder how they're going to fit all 14 words on the marquee?

DESI ARNAZ JR. film debuts in RED SKY AT MORNING with a so-so, rather blah impact. A film commodity he ain't... LEE GRANT signed on as the Jewish mother in "PORTNOY'S COMPLAINT"... MAXIMILIAN SCHELL, one of the finest motion picture actors alive today, was inked as one of the male leads in "POPE JOAN". The other male role went to FRANCO NERO, a good-looking no talent which movieland could very well do without. His performances have always struck this viewer as too dreary and wooden... ROCK HUDSON fans will be interested in the knowledge that they can see their All-American clean cut boy on television starting this fall in "McMILLAN AND WIFE". The series has a mystery-comedy backdrop which must be a first in itself. And oh yes, his better half is portrayed by SUSAN ST. JAMES...

"TELL THEM WILLIE BOY WAS HERE" was named the best non-European picture of the year by the Denmark Board of Film Review. To be precise the film was awarded a Bodil, the Danish equivalent of our Oscar. The retirement of SINATRA and GRANT make one wonder how long it will be till JOHN WAYNE rides off into the film sunset? The Duke has been at the business over four decades now, and you'd think he would want to get away from it all and just plain relax... Have you noticed how many motion pictures now being released just list the directors name and do not mention in the least a single actor? Could it be the director has replaced the actor as the box office selling point?... "MAD DOGS AND ENGLISHMEN" is a poor "WOODSTOCK" imitation, and further suggests that todays filmmakers have no flair for the original...

ROBERT LYONS and RICHARD THOMAS each hand in commendable debut performances in "SKIPPER". The picture is well worth the price of two admissions. WILLIAM WYLER's "THE LIBERATION OF L. B. JONES" was yanked off the European U. S. military circuit because it inflamed and made a rift in military personnel race relations. According to a EUCOM official in Stuttgart, Germany, "the film tended to undermine programs which strive to ease racial tensions and solve racial problems without resort to violence or illegal acts"... Films of the nature of "L. B. JONES", in the long run, do irreparable harm because they exploit the race situation. If producers such as WYLER were really interested in "bringing us together" they would place an emphasis on racial harmony, rather than dissent.

Unfortunately, too many filmmakers today are interested in sapping an explosive topic for all its worth economically, which is why we will in the future continue to have films which are slurred and biased against the so called "establishment"... Maybe self-censorship from within the industry itself is the answer to individuals like WYLER whom appear to creatively thrive on the ills of society. Something has to be done...

The American financed "JOE HILL" is Sweden's official entry in the Cannes Film Festival... The life and times of Nick the Greek is being readied to roll before the cameras. Appropriately enough the picture will be titled, "KING OF GAMBLERS"... SLIM PICKENS shares co-starring billing with JAMES COBURN in the upcoming "THE HONKERS". For PICKENS this is the first time in a two and a half decade career that he receives billing above character actor status. Couldn't happen to a nicer performer. PICKENS has a reputation of being one of the more pleasant personalities in filmland... The gay film scene is getting obnoxiously out of hand at the Barney Rossett Evergreen Theatre in N.Y.C...

"SATURDAY MORNING" is a documentary which will appeal to adolescents and psychology majors still in the teeny-bopper stage. As a psychological probe into the adolescent mind, the fic is 12 strides off base... FRANCOIS TRUFFAUT's next scheduled motion picture will be "TWO ENGLISH WOMEN". More than likely it will be in the can by mid-August and ready for distribution in March of 1972... CANTIFLAS is still Mexico's number one heart throb. His latest, "EL PROBO" is breaking records everywhere it's playing. A summer prediction: "LE MANS" will be the most talked about, favorable reviewed, and best audience received film of the season. The STEVE McQUEEN racing epic could very well place its star in a super category all his own... Now that nostalgia is in full bloom, I for one am just waiting for a "Hopalong Cassidy" film festival to materialize. The old WILLIAM BOYD oaters would seem to fit in well with the current mood of the film world.

Mayor Proclaims 'Week Of Young Child'

The Week of The Young Child is being observed in Quincy from May 16-22 by proclamation of Mayor James R. McIntyre.

In urging residents to observe the week, the Mayor noted: "By birth every child in this nation is entitled to have respect, love, security, health, nutrition for himself, protection, a wholesome place to live, a stimulating school and facilities, and guidance."

Health Dept. In 'Thank You' To Volunteers For Shoreline Cleanup

A "thank you" to volunteers who aided in the May 8 and 15 clean-up of Quincy's beaches and shoreline came this week from Arthur Perette, sanitary inspector of the Quincy Health Department who headed the project.

Some 350 volunteers worked on Saturday to complete the clean-up of Germantown, Houghs Neck and Squantum areas. Only a small amount of work by volunteers is needed this week to complete the Mound St. beach area in Quincy Point.

Two thousand plastic trash bags were contributed for the clean-up by Mobile gas. "We used them all," Perette said.

Others who helped were Quincy businessmen who, through the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce, provided lunches for May 15 volunteers; Pepsi Cola, Coca Cola, Sunbeam Bread, Wonder Bread, Dunkin Donuts, Burger King. Others included Boston Gas, Houghs Neck Community Council, Ward 2 Civic Association, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, parochial and public school students, City equipment workers.

"The Quincy Health Department wishes to thank all those who helped us in this worthwhile project," Perette says.

Houghs Neck Residents Commend Volunteers

Houghs Neck residents have joined in the general commendation of volunteers who worked May 8 and 15 to clean-up area beaches, and in at least one case, extended the project to a vacant lot.

Edgewater Drive Beach received its most thorough "going over" in more than 10 years, according to Robert F. Denvir, Jr., president of the Houghs Neck Community Council. Joining him and his family in the neighborhood attack on litter were some 60 volunteers, Sons of the Legion headed by Willard Timcoe, Jr. Girl Scouts, students, and a dozen adults.

At Perry Beach, Mrs. Grace Mellyn, a senior citizen who joined the housecleaning brigade, praised particularly City workers Paul Zambruno and Carmel Morreale.

She listed among the younger workers Ann Kenny, Tom Vecchione, David Manson, Laurie MacDonald, Jennie

Galloway, Thomas Shea, Donna Larson, Ted Lorenzetti, Brian Sutherland, Jim Donahue, Joe Wencek, Anthony Affanatto, Martin Sines, Keith Larson, Charles Shea, Kevin Mellyn, Carol Carpenter, Kathleen Mellyn, Chickie Caramanica, Sheryl Lundin and grandmother, Dorothea Lundin.

"They did a beautiful job," she added.

Mrs. Anna Back and Mrs. John Nigro of Winthrop St., expressed amazement at the vigor with which a group of teenagers and younger youth reduced the rubble in a neighborhood "eyesore", a vacant lot on Winthrop St. off Sea St.

Workers Frank Iacovino, Stephen Iacovino, Steve Murphy, Charles Stetson, Catherine and Howard Back, carted mattresses logs cans and bottles to a central pick-up spot. In fact, Mrs. Back became so carried away she joined the workers, too.

Navy Petty Officer Second Class Paul N. Bogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Bogan of 30 Casco St., Quincy, is aboard the anti-submarine aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga which recently completed a five ship anti-submarine warfare exercise in the Indian Ocean.

Following the exercise, he joined other personnel of Anti-Submarine Warfare Group Three in a memorial service at the Indian Ocean approach to the Sunda Straits honoring American and Australian personnel who lost their lives when the cruisers HMAS Perth and USS Houston were sunk in that area by enemy forces during World War II.

Units of Anti-Submarine Warfare Group Three participating in the exercise and memorial observance included the aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga and destroyers USS John S. McCain, USS Schofield, USS Meyerkord and USS Brownstein.

Dime Meters Would Make Many Shun Quincy

By FRANCES VAUGHN

Many shoppers apparently would shun downtown Quincy if parking meter fees are increased to 10 cents, as proposed, a Quincy Sun sidewalk survey indicates.

This inquiring reporter, stationed in the municipal Ross parking area asked shoppers at random:

"Would you shop in Quincy as often if the parking meter fees are increased to a dime?"

Of 19 persons who responded to the question, 11 said they would not shop as often — in fact some declared they wouldn't shop here at all — if it costs them a dime to park. Eight replied they would continue to shop as often.

The proposed increase seems to bother non-residents more than Quincy residents.

With non-residents, it was 5-4; they wouldn't shop as often.

But Quincy residents were 4-2; they would shop as often.

But four other shoppers who preferred to remain anonymous were flatly opposed to increasing the fees and said they would definitely shop elsewhere.

Responses to the question: ANTHONY BERARD, 358 Neck St., North Weymouth, plumber: "I don't think they should have parking meters at all because other areas don't. But, wouldn't let another nick stop me. My wife wouldn't know that."

EDMUND CUTLER, 3 Greenwood Ave., Wollaston truck driver: "I think would."

Scramble On For Senate Seat

Hannon Makes It Official: Hat In Mayoralty Ring

RED BAND BRIGADE — Carol Connolly adjusts symbolic Red Band on Jim French's arm as other ninth graders leading a "Fight Against Drugs" at junior high level look on. Seated are Rain Drohan, Terry Maloney, Janet Uhlar and Niki French. Standing are Steven Burke, Brian Mitchell, Michael Donovan, Michael Bohan, Robert Benn, Doris Spink, Thomas Perry and Paul Craig.

Red Bands Help Broad Meadows Students In Fight Against Drugs

By RUTH WAINWRIGHT

The Smart Set at Broad Meadows Junior High School wear Red Bands on Fridays.

"Displaying that means we are against drugs," explains Niki French. "The idea is to have red bands, and we can wear them on head, arms, anywhere, to show that we are against drug use."

Niki, Terry Maloney, Bob Benn and Steve Burke are among ninth grade members of a student-inspired task force from all areas of the peninsula waging an all-out preventive attack on drugs.

Now in its fifth week, the projects battle weapons include "rap" sessions, posters, banners, a visit to Project Turnabout in Hull. A search continues for even more convincing ammunition.

Two-inch wide red cloth symbols are sold for five cents each. This means the purchaser has a commitment.

"Every ninth grader and some of the eighth grade students wore them the first week," Steve lists. "It has dropped off a little bit, but it's still around!"

The drug prevention campaign began quietly. A group of students talked to guidance counselor James Sullivan about their concern for classmates who became sick in school, were frequently in the Health Office, were obvious drug users. He brought the problem to principal David Tenney.

"They wanted to do something themselves about drugs," Tenney comments. "They didn't know what they wanted to do, but they wanted to do something."

Ninth grade civics teachers John Walsh and Lawrence Maloney were recruited. They encouraged students to conduct a series of classroom seminars or

"rap sessions." The task force undertook this maneuver nervously.

"We talked to all ninth grade classes," Terry relates. "We split into two groups to rap with the kids, to get their opinions and give them ours. We went into the eighth grade last week. Some kids don't agree. We start seventh next week. They all know a lot about the dangers of drugs because of the science teachers in the school. It's just that they look up to ninth graders."

"We try to start an argument — put them on the opposition," Niki describes the strategy. "We put the finger on them. The kids get interested — they join in."

The message has gone to about 500 students, eighth and ninth graders, in ten separate sessions, five a day for two days. Some 250 seventh graders are this week's targets.

Councillor Walter J. Hannon sailed his hat into the mayoralty ring today in the latest major development in one of Quincy's most eventful political weeks in recent times.

Earlier this week:

James R. McIntyre resigned from the Senate to accept the $30,000-to-$40,000 general counsel post for which he had long been mentioned.

The move still left political observers wondering if he will seek re-election as mayor.

Council President-Rep. Arthur Tobin officially announced he would seek the vacated Norfolk District seat which comprises Quincy, Braintree and Holbrook.

Councillor-County Commissioner George B. McDonald took out nomination papers but said, "I am not making an official announcement at this time."

A special "quickie" primary election June 29 and final election July 27 were called in Quincy, Braintree and Holbrook to fill the seat.

The scramble was on by potential candidates to obtain the necessary certified 300 signatures which must be filed by 5 p.m. June 1—just four days from now.

Names being mentioned as possible contenders for the seat were:

Former Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti, Rep. Joseph E. Brett.

Atty. Richard W. Barry, former councillor and assistant district attorney; Braintree Selectman Carl R. Johnson.

Hannon is to formally announce his candidacy for mayor at a luncheon today at the Neighborhood Club of Quincy.

He thus becomes the third announced candidate for the city's chief executive post. The other two: School Committee Vice-Chairman James F. McCormick, Sr. and Mrs. Rita M. Anderson, 28-year-old West Quincy mother of four.

Hannon on April 29 announced he would not seek re-election to the Ward 5 City Council seat which he has held for eight years and broadly hinted then that he would run for mayor.

Today, he said he feels he is "well qualified by my service in city and state government to lead our city and I welcome the challenge it presents."

In a prepared statement today, he said his candidacy "means a commitment in several important areas" toward Quincy progress.

His statement follows: "I have served the citizens of [Continued on Page 2]

Rabies Clinic June 5 For Dogs, Cats

A rabies immunization clinic for dogs and cats six months or older will be conducted June 5 by the Quincy Health Department from 2 to 5 p.m. at the City Garage on Sea St.

Dr. Alan M. Morse will be in attendance.

Recently enacted Legislation provides that dogs shall be vaccinated with either killed or modified live virus vaccine, and must be revaccinated at intervals not exceeding 24 months.

A rabies tag and a certificate of vaccination will be provided by the Health Department.

There will be a charge of $1.50 to defray the cost.

Better Hurry If You're Running For Senator

You'd better hurry if you're thinking of running for James R. McIntyre's vacated Senate seat.

In fact, if you think about it much longer it'll be too late.

Deadline for filing nomination papers is 5 p.m.

June 1. That's next Tuesday—just four days away.

Between now and then you will have to obtain 300 certified voters' signatures on your nomination papers.

The special primary election will be June 29. The final election July 27.

problem we seem to be going in

Quincy for eight years as a State Representative and City Councillor. Now I would be proud to serve as mayor. I feel I am well-qualified by my service in city and state government to lead our city and I welcome the challenge it presents. Ours is a great city and I believe we can make it even better.

"We can make city government a more positive tool in Quincy-by making it work more effectively. Careful planning and prudent management, combined with a firm commitment to high quality growth can insure us of a balanced, vibrant community."

"Cooperation with projects such as State Street School, Kemper Insurance, and Jordan Marsh can help stabilize our tax rate. Quincy is recognized as a community committed to improvement. I want to continue and build upon that idea."

"My candidacy means a commitment in several important areas:

SCHOOLS:

"We must maintain the highest standard of quality education for our children."

"As a member of the Quincy City Council, I have consistently supported school building construction such as the new Voc-Tech High School the addition to the Squantum School, and the new Hancock-Lincoln School in South Quincy."

"Many of our elementary schools require additional space including Merrymount, Furnace Brook, and the Willard School and I would continue to support these expansions. As an immediate priority, I support the modernization and expansion of the North Quincy High School. This school was built to accommodate 1,500 students, and the present enrollment of 2,000 pupils in such antiquated facilities has brought education in the northern end of our city to the crisis point."

LIBRARIES:

"Libraries, an essential and vital part of our educational commitment need expansion. There is no library facility in either Quincy Point or South Quincy to serve the residents in these districts. An immediate solution would be rental space in these two areas with long-range plans calling for development of permanent facilities."

DRUGS:

"In attempting to solve this all different directions with both private and public agencies clashing for leadership and recognition."

"A solution to this problem may be an educational program conducted in the schools starting at the kindergarten level and continuing through grade twelve. I would support such a program if it were properly prepared and presented."

"Drugs and the problems they create cannot be arrested or relieved without the help and cooperation of parents and their sincere concern for their own children. This is a parent-neighborhood-city problem that can and must be beaten."

"We can spend a large amount of money trying to solve the problem but without this parent-school cooperation it would be wasted."

NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT:

"I also support efforts to keep our neighborhoods strong and viable. We must encourage and assist neighborhood programs such as in the Montclair-Wollaston area and a new program in Quincy Point. Federal assistance for home improvement grants and loans, street improvements, street lighting, and trees will help keep our neighborhoods in first-class condition."

"Blighted, run-down neighborhoods have a habit of spreading when people become discouraged and move out leaving behind the first phase of slum conditions. We must encourage neighborhood pride to keep our city clean and healthy. In this day and age we cannot tolerate such things as unaccepted streets and poor street lighting."

CONSERVATION:

"The preservation of our open space and recreational areas is a vital element in a desirable community. As Quincy grows so, too, must we provide better recreation facilities. One of the city council's finest hours was the acquisition of the Black's Creek marsh in Wollaston. I am proud of my leadership role in that action. The Black's Creek area will be preserved as open space land for our citizens, connected perhaps to the small islands for walks and picnicking."

"Why hasn't Faxon Park, located in South Quincy, despite its enormous size and unlimited potential ever been developed to its fullest extent to serve this heavily populated area of our city? Can we afford not to beautify this open space and recreation facility?"

"As mayor, I would be committed to preserving the Wollaston Golf course as an open space resource for residents of the City of Quincy. I support a program of joint ownership with the Town of Milton to make this area a municipal Golf course."

MBTA:

"In order to keep our city moving, we must make the MBTA work for us in Quincy. I view it as a new resource, providing better access to jobs, shopping, and schools. I recognize that there will be greater traffic problems and I feel we can deal effectively with them. I recognize also that the line must immediately be extended beyond Quincy Square, and I am prepared to see that accomplished."

"I served as chairman of the MBTA technical advisory committee, where our responsibility was to help make the decisions about the MBTA. I know the problems and how to deal with them for the best interests of our city."

"The opening of the MBTA represents an opportunity and a challenge for Quincy Center. The trains travel both ways so we must improve the downtown business center to lure more customers to other areas."

"We need better access by extending Upland Road to Capen's Bridge, more and better-managed parking facilities to accommodate shoppers, and an improved physical environment in Quincy Center."

SENIOR CITIZENS' HOUSING:

"The city has made great strides in its senior citizens' housing program. We should continue that momentum and give the West Quincy and North Quincy areas immediate priority attention. In Wollaston, we look forward to the initiation of the Housing Authority's Clay Street Project, and Fenn House, a private non-profit endeavor. I am firmly committed to provide housing to our senior citizens in each of these areas."

"The executive role in Quincy is a great task. I am ready to meet these challenges. Our only limits to the realization of the goals of tomorrow are the doubts of today. Let's move forward with strength and hope."

Sunbeams

By HENRY BOSWORTH

After all the action on Quincy's political front this week the big question still to be answered at this writing: Will James McIntyre seek re-election as mayor?

In resigning from the Senate to accept the general council post for which he has been mentioned the past several months, His Honor left the mayoralty question quite high in the air.

He indicated he would finish out his present term but also noted that there would be no conflict in his holding the mayor's job and the council post, too.

Observers, however, wouldn't be surprised to see him bow out as a mayoralty candidate in the next few weeks.

They believe he will come to the realization that he just cannot perform his desk duties in the State House during the day as senate counsel and run the city of Quincy, too.

It would seem that it would be easier to wear the two hats of mayor and senator than those of mayor and senate counsel.

As senator, he still travelled in virtually the same circles as mayor. But as senate counsel he's not going to do much travelling or cover the same area.

It will be interesting to see what decision he comes to. No doubt he's wrestling with it right now.

INCIDENTALLY, McIntyre got quite a pay raise. As Senate counsel he will start at $33,000 and reportedly will go to $40,000.

As Senate whip and senator he was drawing $17,000. Thus, he starts out with a pay hike of $16,000.

Between the council job and mayor, his combined salary is $43,000. And potentially $50,000 if the council pay goes up to $40,000 and he remains on as mayor.

TOOTING-OWN-HORN-DEPT: In this week's news are stories of Councillor Walter Hannon announcing for mayor and Council President Arthur Tobin announcing for the senate.

Back on April 8 you read here: "The Speculation Corps has been kicking this three-way move around for weeks: If McIntyre accepts an appointment and retires Hannon will run for mayor and Tobin for His Honor's senate seat."

Toot! Toot!

FORMER CITY Councillor David [Jim] Crowley who belonged to a more colorful political era of the 1940's and early 1950's, is being mentioned for a possible city appointment.

COUNCILLOR George McDonald who has nomination papers out for the senate seat-but has not yet officially announced-says if he runs and is elected he would resign his City Council seat and MDC job. But remain on as a county commissioner.

INSIDERS are pretty much convinced that School Committeewoman Ruth Scanlan will not seek re-election this year. Which would leave three definite vacancies and a possible fourth:

Vice-Chairman James McCormick is running for mayor. Alice Mitchell has already acknowledged she will not seek re-election. And if Atty. Paul Kelly is elected to the city council he would have to vacate his school committee seat. [He's not up for re-election this year. Thus, if he loses a council bid, he will still be a school committeeman. If he wins, he has to vacate that seat.]

MEANWHILE, two more potential school committee candidates reportedly are warming up to an announcement:

One is Planning Board Vice-Chairman George Smith who is also thinking about the Ward 5 council seat.

The other is William Grindlay, a tax consultant who ran for the Ward 5 seat two years ago.

GRINDLAY, incidentally, right now is helping to plan the Ward 5 campaign of Atty. William Delahunt. Which makes for an interesting political sidelight.

The pair were opponents for the Ward 5 council seat two years ago and became acquainted along the campaign trail. Delahunt defeated Grindlay for the nomination but lost to incumbent Walter Hannon by an eye-lash.

But out of it came a new friendship between Grindlay and Delahunt. Now they're political allies.

THERE MAY BE a new fresh young political face in South Quincy. Atty. Jeffrey LaPointe, 26, of Independence Ave., has his eye on the Ward 3 council seat. It would be the first political bid by him.

OBSERVATION via Jack Silverstein, the North Quincy druggist: "A lot of parents speak of the modern generation as if they had nothing to do with it."

SMILE DEPT: From the Quincy Kiwanis Club newsletter: "Let us all be happy and live within our means, even if we have to borrow money to do it."

"WALK" FOR A BUS - Quincy Point Congregational Church members, 90 strong and of all ages, leave for 10-mile walk Sunday to raise somewhat over $2,000 toward purchase of a $16,000 bus scheduled for fall delivery.

89 From Point Congregational Complete 10-Mile Walk, Raise $2,000

Ninety members of the Quincy Point Congregational Church began a 10-mile walk Sunday afternoon to raise funds for a new $16,000 church bus—and 89 completed the course, to raise a little more than $2,000. The first arrived back at church at 3 p.m.—two hours later—the last at 5:30 p.m. Walkers included three generations in two of the families: Alex, Bill and Donnie Knowles; Mrs. Mabel Poulos and her daughter, Mrs. Joyce Romer, pushing young Robert John Romer in a carriage.

A sum of $10,000 raised previously through pledges and gifts brings the total to $12,000 toward purchase price of the $16,000 bus, according to Rev. Elden Zuern.

Rev. Zuern paced walkers in his car, checking arrangements for lemonade, oranges and other refreshments provided by some 20 adults at checkpoints along the route.

"The spirit of fellowship and enthusiasm was really fantastic," commented Mr. Zuern. "We are planning to raise the rest of the money through various projects by groups as well as donations from the membership."

Tobin First Official Candidate For McIntyre's Senate Seat

City Council President Arthur H. Tobin has announced his candidacy to fill the unexpired term of State Sen. James R. McIntyre who resigned this week.

McIntyre has accepted appointment as Counsel to the Massachusetts Senate.

Tobin paid tribute to McIntyre's "experience, knowledge and ability in public life" and termed his resignation "a very real loss" to the Norfolk District which comprises Quincy, Braintree and Holbrook.

Tobin cited his association with McIntyre, serving since 1967 in the House of Representatives, and in the Quincy City Council since his 1968 election.

Tobin called the need for increased efficiency in government and relief for local taxpayers the most important problem of the district.

Born and educated in Quincy, Tobin received degrees from Boston College and his Juris Doctor degree from Suffolk Law School where he was class president.

He served in the Marine Corps from 1951 to 1954 and is a Korean War Veteran.

Prior to election to the City Council, Tobin was a city assessor in 1966 and 1967. He was elected Council President for 1970 and 1971, and has been chairman of the Democratic City Committee since 1968.

In the House, he served on the committee of public safety, was vice chairman of public service committee, and served on three special commissions.

In Quincy, he was chairman of the ordinance committee, vice chairman of the finance committee, first chairman of the youth committee, and instituted the first environmental control committee.

He is married to the former Shirley Straughn and the father of seven children.

In his statement, Tobin declared:

"For the past six years, I have been associated with Senator McIntyre both in the Massachusetts Legislature where I serve as the State Representative of the 1st Norfolk district, and in the City of Quincy where I am currently serving as President of the Quincy City Council.

"In both capacities, I have learned how important the operations of state government actually are to all the residents and taxpayers of our district, Quincy, Braintree and Holbrook.

Particularly, at this moment, when our cities and towns are faced with a financial crisis and our local property taxpayers are burdened nearly to the breaking point, our ability to solve our local problems depends to a very great extent on the cooperation and help we get from the state government.

"It is for this reason that I have decided to seek election to fill the unexpired term of Senator McIntyre. I have a very real, personal attachment to our area and am very proud of my service to the city of Quincy during my years on the Quincy City Council and in the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

"There are many problems yet to be solved, the most important one being our need for increased efficiency in government and meaningful relief for our local taxpayers.

"As a lifelong resident of our district, which means a great deal to me, I hope that every resident who is concerned with the progress of our area, who wants someone to work for greater efficiency in government and for relief for local taxpayers, will support me in my campaign to fill the unexpired term of Senator McIntyre."

Some 2,500 marchers will participate in the annual Memorial Day parade on Monday, with more than 30 units taking part.

The observance is sponsored by the Quincy Veterans Council. Mayor James R. McIntyre will give the keynote address in ceremonies at Mount Wollaston Cemetery following the parade.

The program will follow a three-division, 32 unit parade which will assemble at 9:30 a.m. on School St., and in Charles A. Ross Parkway. The route of march will be from School St. to Hancock, Washington, Coddington and Sea St. to Mount Wollaston Cemetery.

The parade will rest at Quincy Square while wreaths are placed on tombs of Presidents John Adams and John Quincy Adams.

City Clerk John M. Gillis is chairman of the Memorial Day observance. Commander Roy Miller of the Quincy Veterans Council is chief marshal.

Anthony M. Famigletti, senior vice commander is chief of staff. Co-chairmen for the observance are Junior Vice Commander Arthur McLean, Past Commanders Lawrence S. Butler and Thomas McDonald.

Past Commander Henry J. Williams will be officer of the day; Louis Simons, adjutant, Thomas B. Hanrahan, sergeant-at-arms, Ralph Paul, assistant, Rev. Frank J. Bauer of Wollaston Lutheran Church, Rabbi Jacob Mann of Beth Israel Synagogue and Rev. John McMahon of St. Mary's Church will be participating clergy.

Aides to invited guests will be William L. Villone, Director of Veterans Services; Joseph Dineen, Past Commander Quincy Veterans Council; Richard J. Koch, Quincy Amvets Post; and Irving Isaacson, Past Commander Jewish War Veterans.

Aides de Camp from the Quincy Veterans Council will be Walter Johnson, finance officer; Albert McKinnon, chaplain; and Herbert Bush, historian.

The staff includes Commanders John Houston, Spanish War Veterans; James Mulloy, George F. Bryan VFW Post; James M. Hewitt Quincy

AL Post; Ambrose Powers, Cyril P. Morrisette AL Post; Joseph Cuniff, Wollaston AL Post. Ernest Fitzgibbon, Houghs Neck AL Post; Arthur McIvar, Robert I. Nickerson AL Post.

Wilbert Stadig, Charles J. Cavanaugh DAV; Roger Whitcomb, Quincy Memorial Amvets Post; J. Irving Fletcher, Quincy Barracks WWI; George Swartz, Jewish War Veterans; James Laskey, William R. Caddy Detachment Marine Corps League.

Quincy Police will lead the parade with Memorial Day officials, State, National and City officials following. Music will be by the 215th Army Band.

Lawrence Carnali, Graves Registration Officer, is marshal for the First Division; Irving Isaacson, Judge Advocate of Quincy Veterans Council, adjutant.

Marchers will include 567th Air Force Band; Co. B, 109th Signal Battalion M.N.G.; North Quincy High School Band; Naval Reserve Division 1-25 [LI]; Quincy High School Band; 1st Battalion 25th Marine Corps Reserves of Boston; Coast Guard Reserves Color Guard of Quincy; John A. Boyd Camp USWV, World War I Veterans and Gold Star Mothers.

Allen Kofman is marshal and Walter Johnson Adjutant for the Second Division. Following GAR and USWV Colors will be the Bryan Post Band, Post marching unit and Auxiliary; Clan McGregor Pipe Band, Quincy Post AL and Auxiliary; Morrisette Post Band, Marching unit and Auxiliary.

Wollaston Post and Auxiliary; St. Joseph's Bag Pipe Band, Houghs Neck Post and Auxiliary; Nickerson Post and Auxiliary; Cavanaugh Chapter DAV; Quincy Amvets, WWI Barracks; Caddy Detachment; Central Junior High School Band and Jewish War Veterans.

Roger Whitcomb will be marshal and Albert McKinnon, adjutant, for the Third Division. Marching units will include Sir Thomas More Cadets Drum and Bugle Corps, Naval Sea Cadets, Civil Air Patrol, Sir Thomas More Squires Drum and Bugle Corps and Boy Scouts.

Barilaro, LaRaia Take Out Council Papers

Seven more candidates, including Councillor Albert R. Barilaro and former City Council President Joseph J. LaRaia have taken out nomination papers for this year's city election.

Barilaro, who lives at 55 Grove St., West Quincy, will seek re-election to the Ward 4 seat. He is the second incumbent to obtain papers. The first was Ward 1 Councillor Edward S. Graham.

LaRaia, who lives at 54

Grogan Ave., West Quincy, will run for a council-at-large seat.

Five new School committee candidates are:

Joseph J. Glynn, Jr. of 17 Mount St., Quincy Point.

Dean Paul Nicastro of 45 Edison St., Quincy Point.

Christopher F. Kennedy of 27 Barham Ave., North Quincy.

Leslie J. Molyneux of 42 Pilgrim Rd., West Quincy.

Annual Flea Market Set For Squantum On June 5

"Squantum's Thing," the annual Flea Market, will take place June 5 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in yards of Surfside Lane residents, sponsored by the First Church of Squantum.

Forty booths will be scattered throughout the yards, each one "like an attic of hidden or forgotten treasures."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hansen are in charge of a Sidewalk Cafe for coffee, snacks and lunch, in the MacMillan driveway at 10 Surfside Lane.

Fred Foye's yard on the ocean front is open for a rest area and sailboat watching.

The Squantum Women's Club and Decorations Committee of First Church of Squantum will be on the lawn of the Westerbeck residence with its panoramic view of the Boston Harbor Island.

Joseph Kirkbride's specialty will be his Bonsai Trees, whose culture dates to the Heian period of Japan [794-1191]. Their culture is now an international hobby.

Mrs. Alice Herbert will again offer for sale her oils and water colors on exhibit in the garden of her home.

Richard Williams' gardens and greenhouse will be open again, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abbe's yard will be a mall reminiscent of a Persian market.

In case of rain, this event will be held June 12.

Residents wishing booth space may call Mrs. Joseph MacRitchie at 479-2008.

Julie Johnston Graduates From Skidmore

Julie A. Johnston of 59 Aberdeen Rd., Squantum, is among 204 graduates of Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, N.Y., receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree at graduation exercises Sunday.

At the exercises, a dialogue between dancers Edward Villella and Violette Verdy of the New York City Ballet, broke tradition by replacing the customary Commencement speaker.

Silent Sentinels

Thump, thumpity, thump!
Drum beats echo from afar.
As the sound of military music draws

Closer, the parade makes its presentation.

The swinging motions of the tramping

Participants are in rhythm with the band:

While some scurrying feet.

Move along in skips and hops

Trying to follow the leader and

Keep the staggering lines in uniform.

Proud "salutations" are in order.

For today is May 30th - Memorial Day.

The "day" we pay homage to the Brave soldiers of the nation.

Asleep in the green midst

Their fellow-creatures lie.

For they too have won a "niche"

In a war-less life battle.

A totality of human sentiments are Brought to expression in decorative displays

Flags over war heroes' marble beds:

Bringing to mind, the Source of Freedom.

While floral wreaths and fresh

Flower baskets decorate the sodded grounds.

In a sweeping glance, you are enraptured,

With a spectacular vision of God's Acre.

As we stand on these dedicated grounds.

"...Of human harvest..."

We become aware of the voice in the Wilderness - crying out to us loud and clear,

That we can honor their memories best

By "living the righteous path."

Of love not hate - faith not fear,

Peace not War.

For every dead soldier,

A life has been saved and reborn,

For without salvation and freedom

Life wouldn't exist.

Also, let's not forget other silent members,

Whose contributions of daily sacrifices,

Have made it possible for us to Live in a world of betterment.

THE SPRING SHAPE—The bud vase silhouette — with tiny bodice, accented waist, and full skirt — is exemplified in this after-five dress worn by Maid of Cotton Pat Perry. Embossed cotton in a dramatic black and white print sets off the youthful shape of this J. G. Couture design.

SUBTLE—The understated look for evening is subtly expressed in cotton jersey printed in an Aztec motif of orange, lavender, brown, and beige on white. Smocking adds importance to the sculptured bodice and long flowing sleeves. By STJ, it's a natural for the spring wardrobe of 1971 Maid of Cotton Pat Perry.

Bowl Them Over With Spinach Salad

Seeking salad excitement? Find it in crinkly, crisp leaves of deep green. It's your old friend, spinach. If you've eaten spinach only as a green vegetable, you'll discover that it is sensational as a salad ingredient. There are good supplies of fresh spinach at your market now for salad experiments at table. Don't forget that this curly green is rich in vitamin A and vitamin C and high in iron and other minerals. Enjoy this friendly vegetable in a wonderful salad that includes raw cauliflower, red onion rings and avocado.

Spinach Salad

3 tablespoons wine vinegar	1 clove garlic, cut in half
6 tablespoons salad oil	1/2 pound (5 to 6 cups)
1/2 teaspoon salt	fresh spinach leaves
1/2 teaspoon pepper	1/2 cauliflower, cut into flowerets
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard	1 avocado, peeled and sliced
2 tablespoons chopped parsley	1/2 red onion, sliced and separated into rings

Mix together wine vinegar, oil, salt, pepper, dry mustard, parsley and garlic; let stand for 30 minutes. Remove garlic. While dressing is standing, wash the spinach and remove stems. Dry well and combine with cauliflower, avocado and red onion in salad bowl. Add dressing and toss lightly to mix well. Makes 6 servings.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of May 27 - June 3

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - The changes others are making should put you in a better position. Advice from an experienced person could prove helpful

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - By putting your plans to work, you may find that you have to give up more than you anticipated. Results will be slow GEMINI [May 21-June 20] - Accepting the temporary responsibility could start the ground work for something more permanent. Let an older person help you.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - If you can turn the actions of others to your advantage, it will have a very definite impact on your future.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - Even though it may be against your nature, following the line of least resistance would be your best policy right now.

VIRGO [Aug. 25-Sept. 22] - If you are bent on making changes, throwing out the good with the bad could prove costly - but it is to your advantage.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - Although you may not be ready to make your move, others are trying to stimulate you into action "for your own good".

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - If by chance you muffed your opportunity last January, you get another chance by July. This time grab it and hang in there.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec 21] - Your gift of adaptability helps you through this period of shifting tides. Everyone around you is making a change.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - A good shake up or a shifting of responsibilities could put you in a better position. Some of your ideas will work.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - Domestic trouble is uppermost on your list and while the difficulty lasts, it's hard to keep your mind on anything else.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Putting yourself in a position of trust and showing that you can shoulder responsibility will help secure your future.

Director, The Diet Workshop

Who says you can't take it with you. Of course you can!

I'm talking about what you're going to do about your diet this summer. Don't leave it home along with all good intentions to return to your diet when you return from vacation. It can go with you and you can enjoy your trip. If this sounds enigmatic to you, sit back and conjure up a dinner of prime ribs, salad, vegetables with luscious pale honeydew as a cool accompaniment to your tea or coffee. Not exactly related to the water torture is it? Nor is dining on roast chicken, steak, chops or grilled fish.

One thing I can promise—if you take it with you, you'll bring back not only happy vacation memories, but a slimmer figure too!

Third prize went to the North Quincy Senior Citizens' Club for their springtime floral display. Charles Edgerly is club president.

Second and third place awards were presented by the Quincy Council on Aging.

More than 100 persons were involved in setting up the day's exhibits which were attended by more than 2,500 Senior Citizens and friends.

Nearly all of the 33 agencies involved in working with Quincy's older citizens had displays, in addition to exhibits from five nursing homes, and all of the Quincy Senior Citizens groups.

Mrs. Marion Andrews, executive director of the Quincy Council on Aging, was coordinator for the event; Miss Geraldine Lynch had charge of posters; Mrs. Florence Gately, registrations.

Entertainment was by the Quincy High School Stage Band directed by Anthony C. Ferrante. Decorations awards were presented by Mrs. Arthur Tobin, wife of the City Council President, Theodore J. Fleming, resources coordinator for the Council on Aging, had charge of prize tables and special door prizes.

Mayor McIntyre was honorary chairman.

Hunting School Sixth Graders To Enjoy Special Events

The N. S. Hunting School's graduating sixth grade students will have an unusual closing experience.

Boys, with teacher Raymond Joyal and five chaperones, will leave Saturday for a three-day overnight camping trip at Myles Standish State Forest, Plymouth.

A program planned for the trip will include nature and ecology study, hiking, swimming and organized games.

Sixth grade girls will spend a day at Sturbridge Village at a later date.

Part of the expenses for the trip were raised at a cake sale, with the PTA providing the remainder of the money.

Morrisette Post Holds Delegate Election June 1

Morrisette Legion Post will hold a business meeting June 1 at 8 p.m. at the Post Home to elect delegates and alternates to the State Convention. Commander Ambrose Powers will preside.

Election will be from 7 to 8 p.m., with membership cards necessary in order to vote. The State Convention will be at Boston on July 8, 9 and 10.

Eastern Nazarene College Choir, Brass Ensemble Completes Tour

The Eastern Nazarene College A Cappella Choir and Brass Ensemble has completed a 1,000 mile concert tour of the northeastern states.

The group presented services of sacred music in 12 cities throughout the eastern educational zone of the Church of the Nazarene.

'What Our Flag Means To Me' Essay Contest Ends Today

A Flag Essay Contest being conducted in five peninsula area schools by the Houghs Neck Legion Post ends today.

"What Our Flag Means To Me" is the essay subject for fifth and sixth grade students. Each school will have one winner who will receive a Savings Bond.

The best essay of the five will earn for the school a trophy to be left on display until the next year. If a school has a winning essay three years in a row, the school will keep the trophy.

The annual contest is part of the Post's program on flag education and is under the direction of Mary Timcoe, contest chairman.

Winners will receive awards June 13 at a program in observance of Flag Day at the Post Home.

Rt. Rev. Frederick Driscoll, Fr. Michael Sullivan To Be Honored

A reception honoring Rt. Rev. Frederick G. M. Driscoll and Fr. Michael D. Sullivan will be held June 2 from 7:30 to 10 p. m. at the Quincy Neighborhood Club by parishoners of St. John's Church.

Monsignor Driscoll recently retired after serving nine years as pastor of St. John's. He has been a priest for 48 years and is currently residing at the Regina Cleri Residence for Priests, Boston.

Fr. Sullivan, a priest for 26 years, served as assistant curate at St. John's the past several years and was recently named pastor of St. Jude's parish in Norfolk. He will also serve as Chaplain at Pondville Hospital and the Massachusetts Correctional Institution.

Among the invited guests honoring Monsignor Driscoll and Fr. Sullivan will be Rt. Rev. Joseph F. Maguire, recently names as pastor at St. John's, other Quincy clergy and civic officials.

All parishoners of St. John's and friends of the two honored guests are invited to attend the reception.

Wollaston Professor To Assist In Contemporary Translation Of Bible

Dr. Harvey J. S. Blaney, Professor of Religion and Head of the Department of Religion at Eastern Nazarene College, has been asked to serve for six weeks with an Editorial Committee working on a contemporary translation of the Bible.

The New York Bible Society International is sponsoring the translation.

The invitation came from Dr. Edwin H. Palmer, Executive Secretary of the Translation Committee. During the past two years Dr. Blaney has done some editorial work on material sent to him by the Secretary.

Dr. Blaney received his A.B. degree in Philosophy from Eastern Nazarene College; B.D. from Yale University; S.T.M. from Harvard University and Th.D. in Theology from Boston University in 1960. He was named E.N.C. Alumnaus of the Year in 1967.

He has written a commentary on the Gospel of John and Revelation in the Wesleyan Bible Commentary, as well as a commentary on the Johannine Epistles in the Beacon Bible Commentary. His writings appear often in such denominational periodicals as the Herald of Holiness, the Nazarene Preacher, and the Sunday School Journal.

Chairman of the Graduate Division of Theological Studies at Eastern Nazarene College, Dr. Blaney was also the college librarian from 1952 to 1955, and was Dean from 1965 to 1967.

He has pastored Churches of the Nazarene in New Brunswick, Canada; Eliot, Maine; New Haven, Connecticut; and Everett, Massachusetts and has served as guest speaker for several different denominations. He is currently the interim pastor at the Covenant Church in Lexington.

Dr. and Mrs. Blaney live at 65 Phillips St., in Wollaston. They have two sons, David and Paul, who are both graduates of E.N.C.

Three Members Of Quincy Knights Honored For Outstanding Service

Three members of Quincy Knights of Columbus Council, Walter H. Carroll, Laurence J. Curtin, and Nicholas Cristiani have been cited for their outstanding contributions and meritorious service to the Knights of Columbus and the community.

Carroll received a special plaque for his dedication and service as financial-secretary for the past 30 years. He is a Past Grand Knight of the Council.

Curtin, also a Past Grand Knight, and Cristiani, were named Knights of the Year and received pins in recognition of their contributions to K. of C. activities.

Curtin serves as Chairman of the Catholic Activities Committee responsible for such programs as the Columbus Day observance and the annual Family Communion and Breakfast which was held at Morrisette Legion post last Sunday. Cristiani has been most active on many Council committees including the headquarters committee and the annual Communion breakfast committee.

Chancellor Philip A. LaBrecque is the overall Program Group Chairman responsible for all program activities including the communion breakfast which was well attended and considered one of the most successful in recent years.

Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn, guest speaker at the breakfast, reviewed three court decisions handed down recently involving obscenity, birth control, and abortion. He called upon his audience to make their views on these subjects known to their local representatives not only as members of an organization but as concerned citizens of the State. He said that as Attorney General he was bound to uphold those constitutional laws enacted by the General Court and that he represented all people of the Commonwealth.

Grand Knight Vincent Cristiani urged the members to take a more active interest in Council and community affairs. He deplored several instances where national attention was focused on incidents occurring in other parts of the country involving the commission of crimes of murder, assault, and rape in front of witnesses who failed to give aid to the victims.

The citations to the three members of the Council were made just before the close of the breakfast meeting Sunday.

'Ancient, Modern Necromancy' First Church Of Christ Subject

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 20 Greenleaf St., at 10:45 a.m.

The Golden Text is from I

Thessalonians: "We are all the children of light, and the children of the day; we are not of the night, nor of darkness. Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober."

Supporting commentary from

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include: "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil."

Dr. Donald Martin Elected Chairman UCS Southwest Planning Committee

Dr. Donald A. Martin of medical director of Norfolk Braintree, superintendent and elected chairman of the Southwest Region Planning Committee of United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston, the voluntary health and welfare planning council.

He succeeds Quincy businessman Gordon D. Carr, who continues as a member of the committee which works with both public and private agencies to provide needed services for individuals and families in 27 communities.

Come, Let Us Reason Together

By Dr. William F. Knox

'Breakage And Blow-Ups'

One of the circumstances which creates many blow-ups is the breakage in our own homes. Furniture and equipment do wear out...some was poor quality to begin with...but the careless use...misuse and waste are responsible for many of the breakdowns of our home facilities. Often...these result in costly...though temporary...emotional breakdowns as well.

Consider the appliances which we depend on for our everyday patterns of living...toaster...television...radio...oven...septic tank...refrigerator...coffee maker...lawn mower...washer...dryer...stereo. Add to your list...especially your equipment which is right now out of working order.

I raise this question because lately I've heard so many people...men especially...complain about the cost of maintenance in the home...often because of neglect and carelessness...sometimes because of "horseplay" by the kids who seem to have no appreciation for the cost of such items. One man blamed his wife severely because the two boys...twelve and fourteen...were wrestling in the living room when they fell on a chair and broke it. "I work two jobs to supply things for the house"...he said. "It's all I can do to keep up with the needs...and to have things broken up because they didn't think is just more than I can take. Every month something gets broken. It seems to me she could take care of the stuff while I'm at work."

He had just walked in the door that night when told of the broken chair. He blew up. He scolded. He raved. He threatened. He punished. There were tears...hot words...the silent treatment. Who knows how to act in such a circumstance? It lasted three full days...at last there were apologies...and family peace was restored. The man over-reacted...but a week later he was still resentful..."Only God knows what'll get broken next"...he flung at his wife.

One reason why middle-aged men in particular "blow up" at such breakage is that they grew up in the depression years of the 1930's when they knew only poverty...hard work...and learned great pride in earning and caring for a possession. Now in our great affluency of the 1970's when children get a "new thing" each trip mother takes to the shopping center...know little deprivation...have most of what they want...without working for it...without having to save for it...without having to wait for it...they do not know the value of possessions and consequently often are careless. If you doubt these statements look at the average boy's bicycle today...or a girl's clothes and her room. If your boy and girl take pride and care for their "stuff" it's because somebody has been doing something "right"...it doesn't usually just happen.

I have three suggestions which may save some breakage...and some emotional blow-ups. First...train children to care for their toys from the time they begin to play with them. My daughter has a cute little two-year-old girl. [I'm really a very young grandfather.] I watched her drink her orange juice recently and immediately toss the plastic cup into the sink. It might have gone on the floor...or on a varnished table. It went into the sink because she had been taught to put it there. [There may be a problem when she changes to a glass.]

I know a man who has a fine collection of tools...he tells his boys they are welcome to use them...but they must be replaced in their proper places. Now...they take as much pride in working with and caring for the tools as their father. Children need guidelines...that's positive discipline...not punitive emotional blow-ups. Discipline children to care for the home furnishings.

Second...budget for depreciation and reasonable replacements and service calls. Some are inevitable. You cannot escape some such expense...unless you are your own plumber...electrician...fix-it-man. The better the training of the family...the fewer the breakages and service calls...and emotional blow-ups.

Third...men...don't over-react to the breakage. Remember...if you didn't train 'em...you're really at fault. Don't create an emotional breakage with your boy...or your daughter...or your wife over a broken chair. If you do...your false sense of values is showing.

Dime Meters Would Make Many Shun Downtown Quincy

[Cont'd from Page 1]

Ave., Braintree: "Definitely not, because I live in Braintree."

CHARLES COSTELLO, Hughes St., Braintree, machinist: "Well, I usually go to the Plaza. I would come here if I had to."

MRS. RICHARD JANKINS, 61 Shelton Rd, Quincy: "I think I would."

MARY ANNE REARDON, 24 Belcher Circle, Milton, college student: "No. Parking is awful. Why pay more?"

CELINE HERNE, 71 Governor's Rd, Milton, college student: "No. Maybe if they made some improvements, because it's so congested, I'm always afraid I'll hit something."

RITA COLUCCI, Mattapan, nurse: "Another nickel doesn't really matter. I suppose some people might go to the Plaza, but a lot of these stores aren't at the Plaza."

JOSEPH CARUSO, 57 Curtis St., Quincy, inventory office worker: "I wouldn't mind because the rates in town are so high. Another nickel doesn't make that much difference. I live in Quincy; I might as well shop here."

BETTY ANNE KELLY, 86 Willet St., Quincy, telephone company employee: "Yes. I wouldn't mind the rate going up."

CONNIE BOTTARI, 20 Sears Rd, Milton, student: "No. I wouldn't come here at all. It's too hard to get a space. It's easier to go to Braintree and pay nothing at all."

LOIS MACLEOD, 21 Mellen St., Dorchester: "I think I would."

JAYNE PAMPLIN, 111 Bridge St., Weymouth, secretary: "Only if the parking lots were easier to get to. Did you ever try to get to one of these lots? It's a lot more convenient at the Plaza, and you don't have to worry about a parking meter running out."

MARGARET GHETTI, 97 Edwards St., Quincy Point: "No. A nickel is bad enough. All the other shopping areas have free parking."

CLAIRE FITCH, 97 Edwards St., Quincy Point: "No. Definitely not. It's ridiculous to even have parking meters, especially if you just want to run into one store."

Several persons simply refused to answer.

Again, there was an anonymous contingent, and they were unanimous. The unidentified included:

An elderly man who declared, "I will shop anywhere that does not have parking meters. No. I would not."

A middle-aged couple-the husband claimed, "No. I wouldn't even come back to the city."

An elderly woman replied, "No. I would rather go to the Plaza."

A middle-aged man who never stopped walking but said, "Nope. Nope. Nope."

Kennedy Candidate For School Committee Seat

Christopher E. Kennedy of 27 Barham Ave., North Quincy, Dean of Students at Northeastern University and father of eight children, today announced his candidacy for School Committee.

Mr. Kennedy, making his first bid for public office, has been a resident of Quincy for 19 years. He was graduated from Boston Latin School, Harvard College [AB] and Boston State [EDM]. He is chairman of the Board of Trustees of Newman Preparatory School in Boston.

Mr. Kennedy, whose children either attended or are attending Quincy schools, was president of the Montclair School PTA in 1960. He has been president of the Quincy Parent-Teacher Council since 1965, and is first and present chairman of the Educational Development Committee created by the School Committee in 1967.

As a member of the Educational Development Committee, Mr. Kennedy has visited all but three of Quincy's 30 public schools and has learned about both programs and school buildings.

"Because children are the most important natural resource of our city," he said he feels money spent for schools must buy the finest and most efficient education obtainable.

Of primary concern also is the problem of "educational communications" between teachers and parents regarding innovations to current curricula.

Kennedy pledges also to work hard toward establishment of a proper climate so that technical business and other non-college programs can command respect and attention they deserve.

Harold R. Davis Seeks School Committee Seat

Atty. Harold R. Davis of 1390 Quincy Shore Drive, Merrymount, 26-year old Quincy native, today announced his candidacy for the Quincy School Committee.

"It's time that the younger people in the community assumed positions of responsibility," Davis declared. "The youth of today are on the whole more open minded and willing to listen to all points of view."

Davis attended Quincy schools and Thayer Academy. He graduated magna cum laude from Bowdoin College in 1966, and in 1969 received his Juris Doctor law degree from Georgetown University Law Center. He is engaged in the practice of municipal and school law with the Boston firm of Ropes and Gray.

Davis has spoken before the City Council in support of his proposal that one member of the School Committee be elected from each ward by at-large elections. He favors the open campus program at Quincy High School, and has pledged he will meet students, teachers and parents in their neighborhoods.

Davis is a member of the Quincy Citizens Association, Quincy Heart Fund, Boston Legal Aid Society, and Massachusetts, Norfolk County, Boston and American Bar Associations. He has participated actively on the American Bar Association's Local Government Law Subcommittee on Individual Rights.

Broad Meadows

[Cont'd from Page 1]

"We told eighth graders they would be the ones to do this next year," Bob confides. "We asked them to give us some ideas that we didn't think of. We passed out papers to sign up, and a good majority of the kids we talked to signed."

"We centralized in the school because we know it is impossible for us to stop drug use all over the city," says Steve. "We're starting at home to clean out the house."

The 19-man force spearheading the drive represents a real cross section of students, according to Sullivan, -- not just the "brain trust".

After adoption of the Red Bands, the Student Advisory Board was asked to join the action to map new maneuvers. A poster campaign evolved, and the kids voted to put their names on their own posters, a really big breakthrough.

Tenney reports 35 posters on the first floor alone with slogans such as, "The Broad Meadows Smart Set Demonstrates Against Drugs." Plans call for changing posters every Friday to keep interest alive.

Last week Sullivan arranged a trip to Project Turnabout in Hull.

"Quite a few ninth graders and several eighth graders went," notes Terry. "It was really good, this big old house. We just sat there and listened to two boys and a girl talk about how they got on drugs and how they are doing. Then we took a tour of the house and met the people who lived in the house."

"We thought if we talked to these people we could talk to the kids here better," Steve adds.

Parents are kept in touch with what the students plan, says Sullivan, and they are "extremely pleased with what is going on."

"We are not saying that our kids are any different from kids in any other junior high, but we are recognizing the problem," Tenney declared. "We know we can't change the entire social scene, but we think we can control things in our school."

Red Bands are the students' "Red Badge of Courage" to do something about the drug problem.

It's the kids' battle!

Five From Quincy Members Of Youth Symphony Orchestra

Five music students from Quincy are members of the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra which will present a Concerto Concert Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in Boston University's Hayden Hall.

This is the final performance of the 1970-71 season for the 117-member senior orchestra conducted by Walter Eisenberg. The public may attend without charge. Eileen McBournie of North Quincy High School has been a member of the senior Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra this year.

Members of the junior orchestra are Darlene Harding of North Quincy High School; Joanne Ahola, Jeffery Dill, Rodney Dill and Alex Randall of Quincy High School.

COLOR TV RADIATION

Your color TV set is probably safe, but on the off-chance that it may be leaking radiation, here are a few tips from the Public Health Service. Don't get any closer than about six feet from the set while it is on - and stay away from the sides and back while it is operating.

Black and white sets present no radiation danger. But turning down the color intensity of a color set to produce a black and white picture does not reduce the possibility of radiation, say investigators. Attempting to improve the picture of a color set by stepping up the voltage above recommended limits can expose the set owner and his family to an unnecessary hazard.

It's known that some sets emit low dosage x-radiation, but its ultimate effect on the body is still not known. Until more is known about the problem, it's a good idea to be cautious.

Restrictive Zoning 'Artificial Barrier' To Decent Housing, Builders Told

William J. White, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency, in a recent speech before the Quincy Master Builders Association voiced his concern over local communities' efforts to block low and middle income housing through restrictive zoning and by referendum.

He urged builders to fight these "artificial barriers" to decent housing but denied that racism is the underlying deterrent to the building of subsidized housing. He said that "the public is fed up with inferior and ugly things... and it is your job and my job to produce housing that people will be proud to live in and others will be pleased to look at."

He cited the need for the construction of 250,000 housing units over the next 10 years and called on the building industry to make an all-out effort to prove to the residents of cities and towns that multi-family housing is beneficial to individual communities.

In the question and answer period that followed, the builders questioned White about interest rates and were informed that a rate of 2.9 to 4 per cent would apply in construction financing and permanent financing would be at a rate of about 6%.

Proposal Underway For Shorebank To Acquire Attleboro Trust Company

Stanley M. Gower, Jr., president of the Attleboro Trust Company, announces that the managements of that company and Shorebank Inc. of Quincy, have been authorized by their respective Boards of Directors to proceed with a proposal to have Shorebank Inc. acquire the Attleboro Trust Company.

It would be acquired through exchange of stock at the rate of 2.60 shares of Shorebank Inc. for each share of Attleboro Trust Company.

The proposal would require the approval of the stockholders of both companies as well as the state and federal regulatory authorities.

Shorebank Inc., a bank holding company, is the parent company of the South Shore National Bank of Quincy, with year-end resources of $192,000,000 and 34 offices in Norfolk County. Attleboro Trust Company had year-end resources of $29,000,000 and maintains offices in Attleboro, North Attleboro and Mansfield.

The Attleboro Trust Company is in its 60th year of operation and has shown a substantial deposit growth during the past decade. Under the proposed acquisition plan, the Attleboro Trust Company will retain its name, its present Board of Directors, and its management.

Gower said, "The new proposed banking relationship will enable the Attleboro Trust Company to broaden its economic and technical resources, thereby allowing the bank to progress in Northern Bristol County as a major financial institution."

Everett Bombs Quincy

Raiders' E-Mass Tourney Fate Up In Air

The Eastern Mass. Tourney fate of the North Quincy baseball team was still up in the air as it went into Tuesday's makeup game at Malden.

Everett clinched the Greater Boston League title Monday with a 14-2 bombing of Quincy and Medford also won to stay in the running for a second place tie with North.

The Raiders blanked Somerville, 4-0, Monday, behind the pitching of Scott Manson, to assure themselves of no worse than a second place tie. A win over Malden Tuesday would give North second place with a 10-4 record and a berth in the tournament. Coach Charlie Bunker's first. A defeat would tie North with Medford and necessitate a play-off for the runnerup spot.

Manson continued his remarkable pitching against Somerville as he pitched his second straight shutout and extended his innings pitched without an earned run to more than 30. In a recent relief assignment against Everett he struck out nine in 3 2/3 innings including seven in a row.

"Manson has been absolutely fantastic," Bunker said. "Against Somerville he gave up five hits struck out five and walked three.

With Bob McKay's arm bothering him, Scott will have that much more pressure on him if we make the tournament."

Tim Flynn sparked the Raiders with a triple, double and single and scored two runs.

"This was a really well-played game that took only two hours and 10 minutes, excellent for a nine-inning high school game," Bunker said.

In its previous game North rolled over Revere, 11-4, playing a near-perfect game. The offense was potent, the defense played errorless ball and Richie Carroll went all the way, pitching a four-hitter.

Sparking the attack were Tom Burke, four for four and four runs batted in; Dan Zink, four for five and Tony Alibrandi, also four for five.

Earlier last week North lost to league champion Everett, 4-2, as the Big Red scored three times in the fifth inning.

This was the game in which Manson, relieving McKay, had his seven successive strikeouts. McKay had trouble with his arm and left after 5 1/3 innings.

Burke had a double and single, Jack Flaherty and Dave Nelson two singles each and Flynn a long triple.

Quincy wound up in disappointing fashion, losing its last three games to finish with a 5-9 league record.

Following a 3-1 loss to Revere, in which junior Bob Brill pitched outstanding ball, the Presidents fell apart as they were bombed by Malden, 10-0, and Everett, 14-2.

Against Revere Brill pitched six-hit ball, struck out six and walked four. Roy DeChristofaro had three of Revere's hits and drove in two of the runs.

Quincy had only four hits, two by Mike Orlando.

Gentry Proud Of Raiders

Quincy Trackmen Taste Revenge

A year ago the Quincy and North Quincy track teams went into their meet, the last on the Greater Boston League schedule, unbeaten. North won with ease to finish 7-0 in the league and hand Quincy its only loss of the season.

Last week Tom Hall's Presidents gained sweet revenge and virtually clinched an unbeaten season and the GBL title with a 76-55 win over the Raiders at Medford.

Quincy had only weak Everett remaining Tuesday at Quincy Veterans Memorial Stadium and was heavily favored. Bob Gentry's injury-plagued North team hoped for its second win against Chelsea.

Hall and Gentry were both happy following last week's meet, Hall for avenging last year's defeat and practically assuring his team of an unbeaten year and the crown, Gentry for a fine showing by the weakened Raiders.

"They had us worried," Hall admitted after his team trailed at one point, 44-37. "Their record isn't good but it isn't indicative of the team. They lost a few meets by three or four points and were really up for us there's no question about it."

"Our kids were just terrific," Gentry said. "Quincy, on the records, should have swamped us, but we were up for them and the boys did a tremendous job."

The meet wasn't decided until Quincy swept the 100 and triple jump to pull safely away. Prior to that North had built its lead with strong events in the weights, their strong points all season long.

Ray Lawyer paced the 100 sweep as he was followed by Steve McCarthy and John Johnson. Undeclared John Provost won the triple jump, followed by Bob McDermott and McCarthy.

Quincy's other winners were Fred Antoon, 220; Joe Goguen, 880; unbeaten Bobby Ciano, 880; Dave Coull, high hurdles, and the relay team of Pete Daley, Ciano, Lawyer and Antoon.

North's winners were unbeaten Lee Davis, discus and low hurdles; John Panarelli, shot put; Jack Reynolds, 440; Dan Coughlin, long jump; unbeaten Kevin Henry, two-mile; George McCaill, high jump, and Jim deVarennes, javelin.

Hall paid tribute to Jim Buchianeri and John Bessant. "A pair of hard workers who took second and third in the shot and discus, respectively."

"Reynolds is going to be a dandy," Gentry said. "Bob McCormick gave us a second in the mile at 4:50, his best time ever, and deVarennes won the javelin with his best effort ever, 168 feet, 15 feet better than he had ever done."

Earlier in the week Quincy took over first place by itself by handing Medford its first setback, 74-57.

Ciano, unbeaten over two years in both track and cross country, won the mile for his 33rd win in a row; Provost again led a sweep in the triple jump, followed by Antoon and McDermott; Goguen won the 880, Buchianeri the shot, Antoon the 440, Bessant the discus, Art Gianotti the javelin, and Provost also won the low hurdles.

"I am very pleased with the desire of our seniors," Hall said. "Although they finished school a week ago, everyone was here today. No matter how we make out, you have to admire attitude like this."

North, which hasn't been at full strength at any time this year, dropped a heartbreaker to Malden, 67-64, as it cleaned up on second and third places.

Panarelli suffered his first loss in two years, being nipped by a half inch in the shot put Davis again won the discus and won the 100, to which he was shifted by Gentry in order to give deVarennes a chance to win the low hurdles, which he did. He had been second to Davis throughout the season. Henry remained unbeaten in the two-mile.

Quincy had four qualifiers for Saturday's state class meet at White Stadium. Qualifying in the class trials last week at White were Ciano in the mile, Lawyer in the 100, Antoon in the 440 and Goguen in the 880. Quincy also will have a relay in Saturday's class meet.

North's qualifiers were Panarelli in the javelin and Davis in both the discus and low hurdles. The Raiders will also run a relay team in the class meet. Qualifiers in Saturday's meet will compete in the state meet on June 5, also at White Stadium.

Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me. His time was 14.07.

A junior at Boston College, he is a graduate of Boston College High School.

Quincy Girls' Track Team In Memorial Day State Meet

Several members of the Quincy girls' track team, the first in the school's history, will compete in the state meet on Memorial Day at 10 a.m. at Blue Hills Regional High school in Canton.

Representing Quincy will be Kathy Ilaqua in the 50-yard hurdles and 50-yard dash, Debbie Spillane, hurdles and 100-yard dash; Debbie Congdon, 220 and long jump; Judy Foley, 50-yard dash; Linda Robinson, shot put, and Karen Fruzzetti, shot, discus and javelin.

The Quincy girls lost to a much more experienced Attleboro team 60-37, last week, at Attleboro.

Miss Robinson paced Quincy with nine points, first in the shot, second in the 440, and third in the high jump.

Misses Ilaqua and Fruzzetti had eight points each. Miss Ilaqua won the hurdles and placed second in the dash and Miss Fruzzetti won the javelin and took second in the shot.

Maria Ciano had five points, first in the 880, and Miss Congdon had four points, second in the 220 and third in the long jump.

Other Quincy scorers were Kathy Butler, third in the hurdles; Jean Macchi, third in the javelin; Mary Grant, third in the 440, and Kathy Glennon, third in the 880.

Miss Glennon was the only Quincy scorer in last weekend's Falmouth Invitational meet, taking fifth in the mile.

The Quincy girls met Needham today at Needham.

ENC Winds Up Season With 11-8-1 Record

Coach Jim Smith didn't expect much from his Eastern Nazarene College baseball squad this year with a green and inexperienced team.

However, led by the pitching and batting of Doug Sorenson, the Crusaders finished with an 11-8-1 record as they finished up with a doubleheader win over King's College at Briar Cliff Manor, N.Y.

Sorenson, who excelled at shortstop when not pitching, had 4 for 7 in the final twin bill in which ENC edged Kings, 3-1 and 3-2.

He had spent part of the week in the hospital with a head injury suffered in a home plate collision against New Hampshire College and the rest seemed to do him good.

In the opener he had a homer and single and the home run provided pitcher Dan Willis, who went all the way with a three-hitter, with an insurance run. Willis struck out eight and walked four as he finished the year with a 4-3 record and a fine ERA of 1.40.

In the second game Sorenson had a triple and single and the triple drove in the winning run. Howie Googins pitched all the way, giving up three hits, striking out four and walking one as he ended up 3-1 and boasted a 1.25 ERA.

Quincy Girls Bounce Back With Victories

Mary Pratt's Quincy High girls' softball team, unbeaten in its first season a year ago, bounced back from two straight defeats to top Weymouth South, 13-9, and North Quincy, 9-2.

Against Weymouth Karen Fruzzetti and Betsy Witt hit three-run homers while Lois McLean pitched her first win, allowing 10 hits and striking out five. In the First Ladies' second win of the year over rival North Miss McLean pitched a four-hitter and also had two hits herself. Miss Fruzzetti had another three-run homer and two singles, while Jean Macchi had two hits. Margaret Ryan, Miss Macchi and Miss Witt shone defensively.

Major League Clubs To Woo Varney

Pete Varney, former North Quincy catching standout and Harvard's top batter this spring, will be sought by several major league clubs at the approaching draft.

He undoubtedly will be offered another big bonus but right now he has his mind on the NCAA playoffs.

Pete, who batted .378 this year including a .500 average in the Greater Boston League, was named the most valuable player in the league. In the 1-0 win last week over Cornell which also gave the Crimson the Eastern League title, he had two hits and his double was a key blow in scoring Harvard's winning run. Harvard plays U. of Massachusetts in the NCAA sectional playoffs as it tries for a berth in the championship series at Omaha, Neb., June 11-18. The teams play a doubleheader at Harvard Sunday and if a third game is necessary, it will be played Monday at Harvard.

Varney, who has already been drafted five times but refused to report each time, preferring to finish his Harvard education, has everything a major league catcher needs.

He is 6-3 and 235 pounds, durable [he hasn't been injured in four years of college football and baseball], has a strong arm and can really hit.

"He's got a cannon," Coach Loyal Park said in referring to his arm.

Shoff Wins Bradley Award

The Carroll F. Bradley Award to the outstanding athlete at Eastern Nazarene College has gone to a North Quincy resident for the second straight year.

Last year Ron Bradley, a sophomore basketball star who averaged 30 points a game, won the award named for his father, long-time ENC coach. This year Steve Shoff was the winner.

Shoff, a basketball and soccer star, set a new school scoring record in soccer with 27 goals and 10 assists and was a starting guard in basketball, excelling especially on defense.

Broad Meadows Baseball Team Contender For City Title

The Broad Meadows Junior High baseball team is off to a good start with a 3-1 record and Coach John Walsh feels his team will be in the thick of the city league title race.

Following two wins, Broad Meadows lost its first to Coach John Walsh feels his team will be in the thick of the city league title race.

"We have some good ball players and I think we will be right in the championship fight," Walsh said.

The roster includes ninth graders:

Bob Benn, Frank DiSalvio, Tom Moriarty, Steve Drew, Tom Perry, Jim French, Bob Vecchione, Paul Craig, Jim Griffin, Walter Jacobs, Mike Donovan, Richard Meegan and Don Laukanen.

Eighth graders Ted Wiedemann, Bob Reardon, Carl Lamphere, Dan Connors and Rich Hennessey.

Seventh graders Paul Ferris and Kevin Donovan.

"DiSalvio is our best all-around player and is an outstanding pitcher and batter," Walsh said. "Benn has done a fine job at shortstop and I feel Manning is one of the best catchers in the league."

Quincy Bowling Little Loop Presents Trophies. Hears Hunt

The Quincy Bowling Little Loop heard Jim Hunt, all-star defensive tackle of the Boston Patriots, at its 17th annual awards dinner Friday at North Quincy Knights of Columbus Hall, during which awards were presented.

Quincy Lodge of Elks team won not only the championship, but had a perfect attendance mark for the 27-week schedule. Members are Frank Penzo, Kevin Cadigan, David Cobban, John Karaian and captain Andy Wilkinson.

Dist. Atty. George G. Burke's boys were runners-up only three points back. The team, Neil O'Donnell, Paul Andrews, Donald Cobban, John Brodie and Capt. Fred DiCarlo won 13 out of their last 16 points.

Montclair Men's Club, Mark

Thompson, Tom Barry, Dick Chaput, Dick Kelly and captain Nick Anastas received the team high three strings total awards.

Rep. Joe Brett's youngsters Dave Carr, Paul Cody, Paul Duggan, Paul Smith and captain Mike Martiniello took the team high single trophies.

Paul Peckham, captain of Atlantic Fuel Oil, repeated as high average winner, Dick Hirtle of Bryan Post and Dennis O'Sullivan of Wollaston Bowldrome tied for high three awards. Dick Magnarelli of Wollaston Lobster Co. won high single.

The Robert F. Murphy Memorial Award for "Good Sportsmanship" went to 13-year old Bruce Perry, captain of the Hutchinson Oil Co. team.

Dave Lorman of Granite

Lodge 1451, International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, received the Alden "Pop" Hatfield trophy for most improved bowler.

Head table guests included Mayor James R. McIntyre, Rep. Joseph E. Brett, Dist. Atty. George G. Burke, Andrew Orrock, William Perry, Richard Addonizio, Donald Noguera, Dick Morrissey, James Malloy, Jack Hennessey, Minard Smith, Joseph Brodeur, Thomas Morrissey, Richard J. Koch, Max Zides, and Richard Post.

League officers are Joseph N. Gildea, president; James Carey, treasurer; Elaine Brodie, secretary; John Gundel, John Mullaney, Stanley Kovalski, Max Zides and Richard Morrissey, directors.

North Golf Team Nears Title

Jack Donahue's North Quincy golf team neared its third successive Mass. Coast League championship with two wins last week, hiking its league record to 6-1.

The Raiders topped Quincy, 6-3, and blanked Boston Tech, 9-0.

Against Quincy Bruce Henrikson and Joe Tighe swept three points from Ken Pike and Dave Hutton, Tim O'Leary and Mike Treacy took two from Pete

DePietro and Al Aimola, while the Presidents' Dan Connolly and Paul DiFederico gave their team its lone win, taking two points from Wayne Fick and Jeff Burrell.

In the romp over Tech, Fick and Burrell, O'Leary and Treacy, Henrikson and Tighe all swept three points from their opponents.

Quincy also bowed to Boston Latin, 6-3, as Connolly and DiFederico swept three points in the first match but DiPietro and Aimola lost three and Pike and Scott Thomas did likewise. The loss dropped Quincy's league record to 4-4.

One day my friends and I found a thousand dollar bill. We gave it to the oldest, Maureen. Then we took it to my mother because we were scared that someone might have stolen it. My mother called the police and they came over. We found out that someone did steal it and the police went out and caught him.

A Snowy Dream

[With apologies to Robert Frost]

One snowy eve in middle winter,
Through the woods my horse did trot,
Until I pulled his reigns to stop.
And then: I sat and deeply thought.

My little horse looked up at me,
But far past him my eyes did see,
Past every tree and snowy leaf,
Into a land of make-believe.

A land where people laugh and sing,
And to each other peace they bring.
Where little children run and play,
And the sun shines brightly, every day.

For ever here I'd like to stay,
But in his dreams man cannot hide,
So I pull the reigns for my horse to go,
And past my dreams I slowly ride.

Jones County Bar Assn. President

Philip T. Jones of Weymouth was elected president of the Bar Association of Norfolk County at its recent annual meeting at The Neighborhood Club.

He succeeds James F. Reynolds, Jr. of Quincy. Other officers are Charles Schwartz of Walpole, vice president; Leon Rubin, secretary; John P. Concannon, treasurer; Charles George, Barry T. Hannon, Robert I. Kalis, P. Joseph Kenney, John W. Kickham, Willis A. Neal, Joseph R. Welch, L. Paul Marini and Paul Gay, Council.

Judge Walter H. McLaughlin, Chief Justice of the Superior Court, was speaker for the occasion. Head table guests included Judge Alfred L. Podolski of Norfolk County Probate Court, and Judge Robert S. Prince, new presiding Justice of Quincy District Court.

'Motley' The Rabbit Keeps Things Relaxed At Point Junior

"Motley the Third" is that little "extra" in Mrs. Helena Rayner's science classes which makes the difference between tension and relaxation.

"Motley the Third" is a pet rabbit who has been 'in school' at the junior high level for some six years, and is helping to educate students of Mrs. Rayner at Quincy Point Junior High School, where she has taught for the past eight years.

"If students get a little upset or frustrated, I ask them to hold 'Motley,' and after doing so, they go out 'sunnyside up' with a different attitude," Mrs. Rayner explains.

It works every time, she notes.

Mrs. Rayner, known for her unusual baking ability, often brings her oatmeal cookies to classes. These are relished by the pet rabbit - and others! Of course, during vacations "Motley" is taken to the Rayner home in his cage.

Mrs. Rayner, a former three-term treasurer of the Quincy Education Association, taught at both Atlantic and Broad Meadows Junior High Schools before going to Quincy Point.

"Junior High is a difficult age," she comments. "They outdo themselves, yet I feel they work with me 100%.

When you get them on an individual basis and try to understand their problems, you find them very warm and cooperative."

Mrs. Rayner is one of a family trio of teachers. Her husband, Russell I. Rayner teaches physics at Quincy High School, is a former soccer coach there and also coached football, basketball and baseball at North Quincy High School.

Robert Rayner, their son a teacher at Blue Hills Regional School in Canton, was on the North Quincy High's championship soccer team when in school. At that time, Mrs. Rayner was given a plaque by the squad for her efforts in their behalf.

Louise Forsyth To Take Part In Conferences

Miss Louise B. Forsyth, coordinator of Guidance Services, for the Quincy public schools, has been invited to participate in a series of conferences being sponsored by the Bureau of Curriculum Innovation of the Massachusetts Department of Education for guidance personnel in Southeastern Massachusetts.

The first program, for junior high and middle school counselors will be held June 1 at the Southeastern Regional Office of the Department of Education at Buzzard's Bay.

Miss Forsyth has been asked to discuss testing at the junior high school level. As one of her responsibilities in the Quincy Public Schools she coordinates the city-wide testing program.

Miss Forsyth is Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts School Counselors Association and a past president of the organization for counsels employed in Massachusetts public and private elementary and secondary schools.

She is the only Quincy participant. All other panel members are from the Brockton Public Schools.

Liquor License Under Advisement

The Quincy Licensing Board has taken under advisement the granting of an on-premise alcoholic beverage license to Quincy Shell, Inc. which applied for a license preparatory to opening a restaurant on Quincy Shore Drive at East Squantum St.

The application was made by owners of the Half-Shell Restaurant in Boylston St., Boston, who are owners of a restaurant chain.

Among those registering opposition with Chairman John M. Gillis, chairman of the Quincy Licensing Board, was Rep. Joseph E. Brett.

In requesting that the license petition be denied, Brett wrote: "This section of North Quincy is predominantly a high grade residential community and the establishment of a night club type of operation therein would be extremely detrimental to the character of the surrounding neighborhood."

Brett added that an enterprise of this kind would also be detrimental to the scenic beauty of Quincy Shore Drive.

Karen Maibach On Honor Roll At Atlantic Junior High

Karen Maibach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Maibach of 160 Holbrook Rd., North Quincy, is on the eighth grade honor roll at Atlantic Junior High School.

Her name was omitted through clerical error from the listing in last week's Quincy Sun.

Her brother, James, is on the honor roll in the seventh grade.

Nader's Raiders To Ride Against Television Next

RALPH NADER and his white knight "raiders" will soon be making the Hollywood scene in an effort to cleanse the television networks unsavory "pollution of the mind." According to NADER the networks are "anesthetizing the minds of the public and creating a nation of stoners through deficient programming"... This column couldn't agree more with his thinking, and hopes the Sir Galahad of consumer affairs is as successful in this new and much longed for endeavor as he was with General Motors... Students and lovers of the Medieval Age will find "THE LAST CRUSADE" an accomplished masterpiece of that era. Technically foolproof, the film boasts a cast of 50 international stars, and should more than satisfy action fans with five grand battle scenes...

For the curious, DeLANE LEA is the worlds largest dubbing language studio of foreign into English films in the business today... Another first from Denmark: "QUIET DAYS IN CLICHY" is being billed as the most "sexual" film of that country's long, but not so distinguished film distillery... JACK HAWKINS fans will get a chance to view this lion of the British motion picture industry in "DAVID AND CATRIONA", a late '71 release... Newcomer SIMON WARD has been tapped to play Sir Winston Churchill from the age of 19 to 27 in CARL FOREMAN's epic bio "YOUNG WINSTON"... TOOTS SHOR's famed show biz eatery is due to re-open any edition now... The EVERLY BROTHERS are in the planning stage of making a film, and also dicker with officials of the State Dept. in hopes of getting visas to perform in mainland China...

DONALD PLEASANCE should pick up a bushel of rave notices with his latest offering "OUTBACK". It's his best picture to date, a real gem of 4-star dimension... After seeing "WOMEN IN LOVE" for the third sitting, I still can't understand how GLENDA JACKSON's performance rated an Academy Award... Those wondering about BURT LANCASTER's pulling power at the box office have only to look at the "VALDEZ IS COMING" box score. Better than $2 million alone in continental receipts to date. Which isn't bad for an actor many wrote off as on the way out some four years ago... "VANISHING POINT" is doing a disappearing act on the nations screens. The film fared well in Boston, but didn't hold up strong enough on the national scene... Futuristic film buffs will find "THX 1138" satisfyingly eerie. One of the best of its' genre made to date...

MARTIN BALSAM swishes away with top acting honors in "THE ANDERSON TAPES". His portrayal of a homosexual antique dealer is not only flashy with zest, but biting with satirical humor to boot... MARIE WINDSOR makes a rare screen appearance in "SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL GUNFIGHTER". The picture is 92 minutes of fun and should be "supported" by G-starved family types... STERLING HAYDEN, though not the star he was in the early fifties is still active in character roles. You can catch him in "THE GODFATHER" and the French-made "COBRA"... Canada has a GILLES CARLE directed hit coming our way this summer titled "THE MALES". Watch for it!...

QUOTE, UNQUOTE: 1969 Emmy winner FREDERICK WISEMAN discussing his findings from "LAW AND ORDER": "I started out to make a film expecting to find incidents of police brutality. Instead, I saw little evidence of this but many examples of people being brutal to one another" DAVID SUSSKIND continues to set the pace with his bright, fresh and witty guest celebrities. Though some of his "guests" are on the off beat side, SUSSKINDS' vehicle is still, in this viewer's opinion, a showcase of up to date topics and issues, so often skirted by others in the Talk Show category... What is IMOGENE COCA doing these days?... PAUL NEWMAN and LEE MARVIN are teamed together for "POCKET MONEY"...

"ONE DAY IN THE LIFE OF IVAN DENISOVICH" is a depressing, realistic, hair-raising, nightmarish 24 hour peek into the life of a man living in a repressive society-Russia. The TOM COURTENAY starrer is based on the life and Siberian-prison-camp times of Nobel Prize winner IVAN DENISOVICH. This is one motion picture that should be seen by every one who has ever questioned the relevance of the word freedom... The picture is a shocking indictment of all Marxist regimes... "EAGLE IN A CAGE" gives one an insight into the other side of Napoleon-the exile years on St. Helena. The film boasts an all star lineup, with JOHN GIELGUD, BILLIE WHITELAW and RALPH RICHARDSON taking top honors...

YVES MONTAND and JANE FONDA do it all in "EVERYTHING'S FINE"... Cannon Films are press boasting "JUMP" as this years surprise "JOE". The producers of the surprise of 1970 believe that "JUMP" will have the seem viewer impact as the former. But, I doubt it very much. In the film industry lightning very seldom, if ever, strikes twice on the same viewer wavelength. And besides, "JUMP" doesn't have a PETER BOYLE to carry it over the rough spots...

Mrs. James Smith was elected president of the missionary society, replacing Dr. Robert Mann, Quincy pediatrician, who is moving to Texas.

Chosen delegates to the New England district assembly in June were James Cameron, Lowell Hall, Gerald Lashley, Merritt Nielson, Paul Pierce and Mrs. Gordon Wetmore.

Joseph Rapalje was re-elected superintendent of the Church school. Elected to the church school board were Mrs. Gerald Lashley, Mrs. Lowell Hall, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Charles Elosfon, Mrs. Paul Pierce, Lee McCleery, Mrs. Gerald Ostrander, Mrs. Ruth Cameron and Mrs. Billie Jean Melton.

Rhode Island Delegation To Address S.S. Assn. For Retarded

A delegation from the Rhode Island Association for Retarded Children will address the May meeting of the South Shore Association for Retarded Children tonight [Thursday] at 8 p.m. at the Weymouth Memorial School, 374 Main St. South Weymouth.

George Nazareth, President, will be accompanied by Arthur E. McCormick, Director of the Training and Placement Project and James V. Healey, Executive Director of the State Association. They plan to discuss some of the unique and successful programs which have been developed in Rhode Island.

As an added attraction, promptly at 8 p.m. Boy Scout Troop 51, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Quincy, will give a demonstration of Indian skills and arts and crafts. This troop consists entirely of retarded boys in the SSARC area with John and Buell Fuller as Scoutmasters.

New Car Service Equipment Saves Time, Money

Mechanical Technicians Now Use Electronic Instrumentation To Speed Auto Repairs

In automotive service, necessity has literally become the mother of invention. New developments in service equipment and techniques have been brought about by a growing shortage of mechanics.

In 1960, there was one mechanic for every 60 cars. Today the ratio is over one to 90 and conservative estimates raise that figure to one mechanic for 120 cars during the present decade.

How to handle the increased load? The automotive service industry has come up with several approaches to the solution, not the least of which is improved facilities, from building design to space-age equipment.

Electronic instrumentation, power equipment and specialized tools make it possible for mechanics to diagnose and correct car troubles in a fraction of the time it took just a few years ago. Imagine having four tires installed, wheels aligned and balanced . . . all during a lunch hour stop!

Some Repairs Routine

Accident repairs which would have been prohibitively expensive if not possible, now are routine, thanks to impressive new equipment which scientifically "de-crashes" the car.

Electronic testing equipment makes it possible for a technician to analyze an engine's condition with extreme accuracy, pinpoint potentially troublesome components and put the car back into optimum performance condition in much less time actually, than the old fashioned "guess and replace" tune-up used to take.

In the long run, such service is a true bargain, since the owner is paying for the parts and service he needs, yet no failure-prone components go overlooked.

The tremendous increase in the popularity of air conditioning in cars has added another dimension to automotive service. Whereas these units once were handled only by a limited number of specialists, many shops now offer air conditioning service.

Developments in tools and training techniques have made this possible.

New training facilities are being made available to service stations and repair shop personnel by car factories as well as by manufacturers of parts and services equipment. This promises to add to ranks of qualified service technicians needed today and in the future.

Easing the Load

Improved dissemination of information on new models, available to all service personnel, means that most routine maintenance operations can be handled by literally hundreds of thousands of service stations, garages and other outlets throughout the country. This helps to ease the load on franchised car dealers who then are able to accommodate customers with special problems requiring their service facilities.

CAR PICTURES

If a photo is to be taken from a car, it is always best to shoot from a stopped vehicle. If impossible to stop, it is best to shoot through the front window. If you shoot out of the side window, the foreground of the scene will be blurry. Hold the camera as steady as possible (a rule in all situations) without bracing it against the car, as the vibrations will blur the picture.

Never "bleed" a tire, even if pressure builds up an extra six or more pounds after the tire is heated from prolonged use.

Here's a Most Revealing Test

One of the most revealing tests an experienced mechanic can make for you is a compression test, in which all spark plugs are removed and pressure readings are compared with specifications. This procedure helps your mechanic determine if the problem is in valves, rings or both. Such a test usually is part of a major engine tune-up, or may cost about $5.00 or $8.00 when done as an individual operation. A compression test can be the first step toward putting new life in the old car.

Simple Steps Can Help Prevent Theft

While waiting for a special theft protection device to be installed on your new car or "old faithful," there are several things that can be done to prevent having your car stolen.

Keep your car doors locked at all times.

Never keep valuables inside your car.

Keep only necessary items in your trunk.

Another simple way to deter car theft is to keep your car parked under a light at night, if possible.

BANG!

The backfiring car almost seems a relic of bygone days. However, the modern car can backfire, too — especially when the fuel mixture is too lean and the engine cold. Other possible causes are sticky or leaky valves or ignition leakage. If your car backfires, take it to your favorite service outlet.

Anti-Pollution Devices Built Into '71 Cars

Starting with the 1971 models, all new cars sold throughout the United States feature fuel evaporative control systems to help reduce air pollution that may be caused by automobiles.

Unlike exhaust or crankcase emissions which become a factor only when the engine is running, the evaporation process is a continuing one and is a factor when a vehicle is at rest as well as when it is under power.

Evaporative emissions from the fuel tank and carburetor are believed responsible for 20 percent of the total emissions of hydrocarbons from cars that do not have controls. Hydrocarbons, parts of fuel not burned in the normal combustion process, are released into the air by both the exhaust system and by evaporation from the fuel tank and carburetor.

The evaporated fuel, which formerly was vented into the atmosphere, now will be eliminated by a system which stores the vapors in the crankcase or in activated charcoal canisters until they can be drawn into the engine and consumed in the combustion process.

Federal Requirement

Evaporative control systems were required for new vehicles sold in California starting with the 1970 models. Their introduction, under federal requirements, on a national scale is the third big step auto makers have taken in the past decade to eliminate emissions as a factor in air pollution.

The first two steps were eliminating emissions from crankcase ventilation and reducing pollutants that emanated from the exhaust pipe.

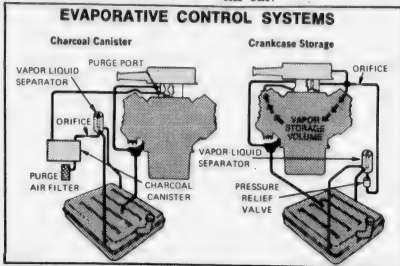

On cars built prior to the introduction of emission controls in the early 1980's, 60 percent of hydrocarbon pollutants were traced to the exhaust pipe, 20 percent to evaporation and 20 percent to crankcase ventilation.

Pollutant Reduction

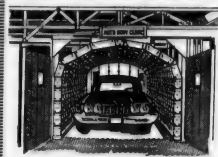

Improvements in the design of engine components and modification of many engine adjustments resulted in sizeable reductions of pollutants emitted through the exhaust pipe.

Hydrocarbons which were formerly released into the atmosphere from engine crankcases are now sealed and recirculated for burning in the combustion process.

The motorist can now do his share towards obtaining cleaner air by maintaining his car.

Labor Secretary Hodgson Keynote Speaker

Dr. Leslie Parrott To Be Inaugurated ENC President

Secretary of Labor James Day Hodgson will be guest speaker for the Inauguration of Dr. Leslie Parrott, seventh president of Eastern Nazarene College in Wollaston, Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

Ceremonies will be held on steps of Gardner Hall on the campus, or in case of inclement weather, in the College Chapel.

Prior to joining the Nixon administration, first as Under Secretary of Labor, Mr. Hodgson was corporate vice-president for industrial relations of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation. A former air combat intelligence officer in the Navy, he was Supervisor of Youth Employment for the State of Minnesota and has served also as Consultant to the State of California on manpower matters.

A native of Minnesota, Hodgson holds the A.B. degree from the University of Minnesota and has done graduate work there and at U.C.L.A. In May, 1970, he received the University of Minnesota's Distinguished Achievement Award.

Dr. Parrott, who began his duties at Eastern Nazarene College on Aug. 1, 1970, succeeded Dr. Edward S. Mann who had held the office for 22 years. Dr. Mann resigned to become executive secretary of the Department of Education for the Church of the Nazarene.

Dr. Parrott was pastor of First Church of the Nazarene in Portland, Oregon for seven years prior to his election as president of Eastern Nazarene College. He is a member of the Church Growth Committee, Department of Evangelism and the District Advisory Board, a trustee for Nazarene Theological Seminary and chairman of the District Church school board.

Dr. Parrott received A.B., M.A. and Th.B. degrees from Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., a degree in counseling and guidance from Willamette University, Salem, Oregon, and his Ph.D. from Michigan State University.

Dr. Parrott is author of several books including: "What is Sanctification," now in its 14th printing; "Perspectives in Bible Holiness"; "The Power of Your Attitudes"; and "Easy to Live With". His latest work, "Building Today's Church" will be available later this spring.

His wife, Lora Lee Parrott, has also written several books. Their children are Richard, 18, temporarily a medical assistant in South Africa; Roger, 17, and Leslie, 9.

Richard Schubert, president of the Eastern Nazarene College Alumni Association, is executive assistant to Secretary Hodgson. Mr. Schubert will be directing alumni activities during the day, which is also the college's official Alumni Day.

DANIEL WEBSTER SCHOOL sixth grade students spent a day at the State House viewing government processes as guests of Reps. Walter Hannon, Arthur Tobin Clifford H. Marshall and Joseph E. Brett, and Sen.-Mayor James R. McIntyre. With them were their teachers, Miss Irma Salvucci, Mrs. Alma Reis and Arthur Foster, and parents Mrs. Ricco Sandomato, Mrs. Anthony Friscella and Mrs. David Kerman. [Not shown is Rep. Brett who was attending a Legislative Committee hearing when photo was taken.]

School System Receives $126,838 Reimbursement

The Quincy School system has received federal reimbursement of $126,838 under Public Law 874.

This provides aid to areas where children of parents living on federal lands, or working at companies under federal contracts, attend public schools according to Stephen H.

Moynihan, administrative assistant for business affairs.

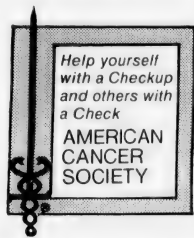

The reimbursement amounts to 50 per cent of the school system's entitlement for the fiscal period ending June 30, 1971, Mr. Moynihan said.

'Can No Longer Afford Luxury Of Dual Representation'

McCormick Makes 'Full Time Mayor' Issue

"SPACE TALK" -- Stacey Fernald, 5, of West St., West Quincy chats through space helmet with Mrs. Diana Gillin, graduate student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at Jack & Jill Nursery on Station St. This is part of an MIT research program aimed at a better understanding of the way children from 3 to 5 years learn to speak. Seven More Take Out City Election Papers

Seven more candidates—six of them for School Committee—had taken out nomination papers by mid-week for this year's city election.

The six school committee candidates bring to 16 the total number so far, running for three seats on that board.

Robert C. Preble of 27 Crosby St., Houghs Neck, who ran for mayor two years ago, obtained papers this week for the Ward 1 City Council seat.

The six new school committee candidates are:

Arthur Clark, 10 Colby Rd, North Quincy.

Joseph F. McConville, Jr., 29 Chickatabot Rd, Merrymount.

Harold R. Davis, 1390 Quincy Shore Drive, Merrymount.

William S. Grindlay, Jr., 90 Winthrop Ave., Wollaston.

Daniel G. Raymond, 16 Miller Stile Rd, Quincy Center.

Leo J. Hannon, Jr., 1220 Hancock St., Quincy Center.

$463,000 HUD Grant For Quincy Point Improvement

Congressman James A. Burke [D-Milton] announced this week that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has awarded a $463,000 grant to Quincy, under the Code

Enforcement Program

The funds will be used to substantially improve Silver, Mound, Harrison and Lawrence Sts., Quincy Point, by bringing properties up to code standards.

George N. Hurd, Jr. To Be Mass. Bar Assn. Secretary

Quincy Atty. George N. Hurd, Jr. of 1245 Hancock St. has been nominated for secretary of the Massachusetts Bar Association which holds its 60th annual meeting today and Friday in Harwichport.

Richard K. Donahue of Lowell heads the slate of officers proposed, all of whom are unopposed.

Highlight of the two-day convention will be Saturday's banquet when former Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court Tom C. Clark will speak.

Chief Justice G. Joseph Tauro of the Supreme Judicial Court will give his annual State of the Judiciary Address.

School Committee Vice-Chairman James F. McCormick, Sr., pledged today that he will be a "full time mayor" if elected in November.

McCormick said Quincy can no longer "afford the luxury of dual representation."

It was the opening shot in what political observers think may be a hot campaign issue this year.

Both present Mayor James R. McIntyre and his predecessor, Amelio Della Chiesa, have worn two political hats.

McIntyre as mayor-senator and now as mayor-senate counsel and Della Chiesa as mayor and state representative.

McIntyre last week resigned his Senate seat to accept appointment as senate general counsel. The job pays $33,000 and is expected to reach a salary of $40,000.

McIntyre has not yet announced whether he will seek re-election to a fourth term as mayor.

But McCormick, who is opposed by Councillor-Rep. Walter J. Hannon indicated he will make an issue of "two hats".

In a statement on his campaign views released today, McCormick declared:

"I want to emphasize that I firmly believe that the city of Quincy can no longer afford the luxury of dual representation and that I will be a full-time mayor if elected in November. "I make that a promise to the people of Quincy and it is a promise that will be kept."

"It seems appropriate at this time to make known my views on the coming campaign for the office of Mayor of Quincy."

"My qualifications for the office are:

"Twelve years as a member of the School Committee, four as Vice-Chairman.

"Six years as a member of the Park and Recreation Board, four as chairman.

"Chairman of the Mayor's Youth Committee, which has set a pattern for youth centers.

"Forty years as an investment broker has taught me the prudent man rule and to handle other people's money with care and most of all to make decisions.

A Fortnight In England

Quincy, English Youngsters In Tearful 'Goodbye'

[This is the fourth in a series of articles telling of the experiences of 34 youngsters from the Cranich School area during a two-week visit to Leigh-on-Sea, Essex, England.

The articles are being written especially for the Quincy Sun by Miss Mary Murdock, a member of the Cranich School faculty who helped arrange the trip and served as one of the seven chaperones.]

By MARY MURDOCK
Cranich School Teacher

On Tuesday morning [April 27] we visited various schools in Leigh. It was brief, but at least we did have a chance to see a little of English school life.

Tuesday evening all the Americans and their English families met at St. Clemente's Hall for a final gala farewell party. There was a quiz for the American children. Neal Gorin, Debbie Flate and Brian Taylor won prizes.

There was enough food to feed the 200 who were there for a week. Movies were shown and the American children each presented a gift to Mr. Keevil for West Leigh Junior School. The gifts were eight batteries, 20 tapes, a tape recorder [from the Quincy School Department], a picture of American and English children at the State House last spring, an honorary citizenship certificate for all the people of West Leigh from Mayor James R. McIntyre, a proclamation from the State House, three books and a painting of the Adams birthplaces done by Robert DelVecchio.

The painting was presented by Peter DelVecchio, the artist's son. After a raffle, we all stood and sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and "God Save the Queen." We then joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne." Then we sadly said good-night.

Wednesday morning, April 28, arrived much too soon. At 6 a.m. the troops began gathering at West Leigh. It was a beautiful, bright sunny morning. We were amazed at the number of people who turned out at that awful hour of the morning to say good-bye. Mr. Keevil arrived with his Boston Red Sox hat. We tearfully waved good-bye to our English friends and started our long journey home.

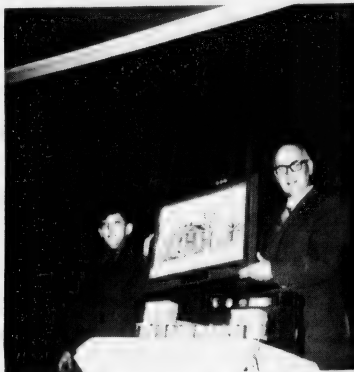

Our schedule was to take our bus to Heathrow Airport, a flight from Shannon to Boston. Everything had really gone much too smoothly for us on the trip, so it was only right that we should encounter problems on our last day, and that we did. We made Heathrow without any trouble. First we ran into baggage problems. The porters weren't allowed to take our baggage to the gate.

With the help of a few supervisors, that was straightened out. Next, they refused to process our luggage to Boston. A few more supervisors and we were in business again. Then came a two hour flight delay. When we finally took off, we found ourselves on our bumpiest ride of the trip.

We received wonderful news in Shannon. Our flight was delayed an hour, so we would have time to shop after REFRESHMENTS -- Mayoreess Beryl Scholfield entertaining Quincy visitors at "tea" is shown with Debra MacDonald, Beth Rice and Beverly Prescott.

PAINTING of John and John Quincy Adams birthplaces, by Robert DelVecchio is presented by Peter DelVecchio, the artist's son, to Headmaster Frank Keevil.

FAREWELL -- English students, parents and teachers rise early to bid a 6 a.m. "good-bye - until next year" to American students. It was a trip they will never forget.

all. That news was followed by an airline official who asked us to pick four of our oldest children to stay behind because there wasn't enough room for them on our plane. Supervisors didn't help this time, but a phone call to the airline officials in Boston did. Not only did we all return on the same flight, but nine of us returned first class.

Never did they have such an appreciative group of first class travelers. After our turbulent flight, Brian Taylor decided he needed airsick drills. With his white bag open in readiness, he found he could make it from a reclining position in a fraction of a second. Fortunately, the homeward flight was so smooth, the little white bags went unused.

Before the trip was over, most of our 41 had gathered in the first class section. It was no longer spacious, but it was fun.

Upon arrival in Boston, we were processed through passport control and customs with relative ease. Joyful reunions then followed and I don't think any of us really stopped talking about our trip since.

In a way, this was the end of a beautiful trip, but I don't think it really is the end.

The children learned a great deal educationally, but far more important is the love and friendship which developed among children and adults of two communities.

This will live for a long time to come.

By HENRY BOSWORTH

Rep. Joseph E. Brett is standing on the sidelines twirling his hat for a possible toss into this year's Quincy mayoralty ring.

Close sources report he is "seriously thinking" about running and expects to come to a definite decision within the next few weeks.

And, they say, if he runs it will be on a "full time mayor" platform. He would resign his House seat if elected mayor.

★★★

A "FULL TIME MAYOR" could get to be a big campaign issue this year.

School Committee Vice-Chairman James McCormick has said he will serve full-time as mayor if elected.

Walter Hannon, the other major announced contender for mayor has not yet indicated whether he would give up his House seat if he becomes Quincy's chief executive. It may be a little early for that. He just got into the race.

But there seems to be a growing feeling among many voters that Quincy has come to the point where it needs a full-time, not a part-time mayor.

It will be interesting to see what develops between now and election day. And, whether two hats are in or out of style by late fall.

★★★

THE SPECULATION CORPS, always looking ahead, wouldn't be surprised to see Atty. Thomas F. Brownell go after Arthur Tobin's House seat if the latter wins the special election for James McIntyre's Senate seat.

Brownell, a Democrat and special assistant attorney general, is the son of Deputy Sheriff John Brownell.

QUINCY taxpayers will shell out an approximately extra $14,000 this year to fill the Senate seat, vacated by James McIntyre to accept that $33,000 to $40,000 senate counsel job.

That is the appropriation request made to the City Council by His Honor this week to finance the special primary and final election June 29 and July 27.

The cost to Braintree and Holbrook where the special elections must also be held, has not yet been estimated.

Considering the time of year the two elections will be held, they could be among the most expensive on a per-vote basis in many years.

A lot of people are going to be away on vacation on those two dates. How many will be around to actually cast ballots? The candidates are going to have to be good campaigners to keep even their friends home to vote.

★★★

INCIDENTALLY, Tobin isn't leaving any grass grow under his feet in his bid for the Senate seat. He was the first to announce, the first to take out nomination papers, the first to file and now the first to open campaign headquarters: at 39 Washington St., formerly occupied by a driving school.

★★★

MILESTONES: Former Mayor and Mrs. Amelio Della Chiesa will mark their 47th wedding anniversary June 13... And, the Quincy YMCA's Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Willman, their 49th on June 14.

★★★

HERE'S ONE: Superior Court Judge Henry H. Chmielinski of Weymouth, former Quincy attorney, was sitting in Middlesex Superior Court recently on a counterfeit money case.

Secret Service Agent Richard Riley was on the stand testifying against a defendant accused of passing off phony $20 bills.

The question was: how can you tell a counterfeit bill from the real thing?

Judge Chmielinski pulled out his own wallet and handed Riley a $5 bill to be used to explain the procedure.

Riley examined it closely, looked again to be sure and said: "Your Honor, I hate to tell you this, but this bill is counterfeit. I'll have to keep it. We'll send you a receipt. The only comfort you may gain is that you can deduct it from your income tax."

Judge Chmielinski, after getting over the initial shock, laughed. But is still wondering who passed him the phony five.

Democrat Primary June 29

Only Four Bother To File Papers For Vacant Senate Seat

The open Quincy-Braintree-Holbrook Senate seat turned out not to be much of a coveted political prize this week as only four officially stepped forward as contenders.

Rep. Donald J. Laing of Braintree, the only Republican to file nomination papers, automatically became nominated, eliminating a Republican primary.

City Council President Rep. Arthur Tobin and Robert Furtado of 22 Lakeside Ave., Quincy police detective, were the only Democrats to file papers.

They are slated to meet in the Democratic primary June 29.

The fourth candidate is Walter H. Walker, III of Old Carriage Way, Braintree, running as an Independent. He won't be involved in a primary.

The quick called election, early nomination papers deadline and the Memorial Day holiday were seen by most political observers as the reasons for the small candidate turnout.

James R. McIntyre suddenly announced his resignation from the Senate seat May 24 to accept appointment as senate counsel.

Although he had been long rumored for the $33,000 post, his announcement came suddenly, catching many by surprise.

It left candidates with only a week to obtain nomination papers, gather 300 certified voters' names and file the papers by Tuesday's deadline.

The Memorial Day holiday with many away hampered the collection of signatures.

But it apparently was no obstacle to Tobin who said he obtained more than 4,000 signatures—an average of 800 a day.

Tobin was the first to announce for the Senate seat, the first to obtain papers and the first to file them.

The final election will be July 27.

Vincent Smyth To Seek Ward 6 Fourth Term

Ward 6 Councillor J. Vincent Smyth announced today he will seek re-election to the City Council for a fourth term.

Smyth, in his announcement said: "My five and one half years as a member of the City Council and its' elected President during the 1968-69 session qualifies me to serve the residents of North Quincy for another term."

"Our city will continue to face critical economic and social problems. Serious consideration and priority of money appropriations is absolutely necessary to check the spiraling cost of City government."

"My experience both as a business man for the past 25 years and service in municipal government will enable me to adequately represent the citizens of Ward 6 with continued integrity, availability and leadership."

Smyth is a graduate of Boston College High School and Boston College with an A.B. degree in Economics. He served with the American Division in the South Pacific and was awarded the Silver Star and Purple Heart decorations.

He is a member of the Robert I. Nickerson Post A.L., Bryan VFW Post, North Quincy Council Knights of Columbus, Quincy Lodge of Elks, Quincy Rotary Club, Star of the Sea Holy Name Society, 100 Club of Massachusetts and the Ward 6 Democratic Committee.

Smyth currently is Chairman of the Council's powerful finance committee.

Councillor Smyth is married to the former Anna Kelley and they reside at 184 Lansdowne St., Scituate with their seven children.

He is President and Treasurer of Smyth's Package Store, North Quincy.

St. Moritz 'Ecology Day'

An "Ecology Day" on June 5 will be celebrated in West Quincy with a massive community clean-up program sponsored by the St. Moritz Association with cooperation of Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of the area.

Albert Bena is general chairman.

Everyone is being asked to do his part to keep the area free of rubbish and trash.

Residents interested in helping are asked to report to the Skating Rink on Willard St. between 9 a.m. and 12 noon. Plastic trash bags will be distributed, and all who can, are asked to bring rakes.

Refreshments will be served for all taking part in the clean-up.

Working with Mr. Bena in planning the event are Harold Coose, St. Moritz Association president; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kelly and Bucky Zanardelli.

From Quincy To Tokyo

Quincy Sun 'Voice From Home' In Land Of The Rising Sun

By RUTH WAINWRIGHT

The Quincy Sun is "a voice from home" in the Land of the Rising Sun, according to Mr. and Mrs. Yoshiki Ohhata of Tokyo, Japan.

"Quincy is our city," they said enthusiastically during a recent visit to the Quincy Sun office in downtown Quincy.

The weekly newspaper has been making its way to Tokyo via "APO" since January, 1969. Mrs. Ohhata, the former Eileen Naughton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Naughton of 246 Newbury Ave., North Quincy, is serving in Japan as a captain with the Air Force Nurses Corps.

"I enjoy it," Mrs. Ohhata says of the Quincy Sun. "I keep track of my friends the girls at Quincy Hospital, [she trained there], and of what is happening. My husband reads about the local ball games and clubs."

Ohhata, a real estate broker, met Capt. Naughton when she was assigned to Tachikawa Air Force Base in February, 1969. They were married Feb. 8, 1970. This was their first trip to Quincy since their marriage and he found it was like "coming home" to him too.

"I had lived in Quincy close to 15 of my 25 years," Mrs. Ohhata explained, "and I had been away from home for three years. I graduated from North Quincy High School in 1964. Quincy Hospital School of Nursing in 1967, went into service in April, 1968.

"I was stationed with a casualty staging unit—what I learned in Quincy City Hospital was my entire background and it was enough. Of course, in Quincy Hospital I didn't see any gunshot wounds, but I see a lot of them now."

A member of the Career Reserves, Capt. Ohhata plans to complete her five years' service. Then she and her husband will decide which country will be their future home.

In spite of the changes Capt. Ohhata found in Quincy, the same old neighborly spirit is still here, she says.

The couple spoke particularly of Richard J. [Dick] Koch who is a neighbor of the Naughton family. He not only kept Mr. Ohhata busy playing ball with "the boys", but arranged for a visit with Mayor James R. McIntyre.

The couple had with them at the Quincy Sun office a framed "Honorary Citizens" certificate presented to them that morning by the Mayor.

They are now back in Tokyo, looking forward again to the Quincy Sun—their "voice from home."

54TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY - Still holding hands are Mr. and Mrs. James J. Mulloy of Weymouth, formerly of Quincy, who noted 54th wedding anniversary at George F. Bryan VFW Post Home, Quincy.

Mr., Mrs. James J. Mulloy Observe 54th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Mulloy, Sr., married at Quincy in 1917 and Weymouth residents for more than 50 years, noted their 54th wedding anniversary recently at a buffet reception at George F. Bryan VFW Post Home, Quincy.

Mr. Mulloy, born and educated in Boston, went to sea on sailing vessels for several years prior to his marriage, rising to master ocean going on all sail vessels up to three-masted ships. After marrying, he worked for the Boston Protective Fire Department, and later for 45 years was a house painter and decorator in Weymouth and the South Shore area.

Mrs. Marvel A. Mulloy, a Rosindale native, was educated there and in Maine. A former teacher, she became a nurse at St. Andrew's Hospital where she met her husband, a patient taken ashore from his ship with appendicitis.

Their children are James F. Mulloy, Jr., of 59 Waterston Ave., Wollaston, Past Commander of the Bryan Post; John F. Mulloy and Francis S. Mulloy, both of Braintree, and Mrs. Catherine E. Cummings of Laurel, Md. They have 25 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren.

Among those attending from Maine, Ohio, Maryland, Oregon and California were Mr. Mulloy's brother, Capt. Henry Mulloy, USN Ret., and his wife, and his sister Mrs. Albert Leonard with her husband, and their families.

In Johnny's Memory

Johnny was a much-loved boy
By friends and family;
Off to a foreign land he went
To unchain the unfree.

A little while he tarried there,
And then he was no more,
And the old world goes rolling on,
Just as it did before. . .

But not quite as it was before,
For each soul bears the mark Imposed upon its Author to Extend His divine task:

The lessening of suffering,
Through justice and redress,
The uprooting of enmity
Through love and forgiveness.

The lessening of misery
To bring more happiness
The abatement of bigotry
To make a world more best.

A little while Johnny stayed here,
Each day making his mark,
Caring, sharing and diligent,
True to his divine spark.

To Brooke:

A sister for you would be lots of fun
And plenty of work for your Mother.
But if it should be a "He",
not "She"
How nice to have a brother!

Whichever it is, could it ever be true
That it might, just might be as sweet as you?

THE LEAN LOOK—A long, supple tube of striped cotton terry creates a zip-front caftan for easy summer wear. A versatile addition to any wardrobe, it's by Koret of California.

KNITTING PRETTY—The mania for pants continues into spring and summer '71 with a fresh new look in cotton. Random-dyed cotton knit with a wide darby rib shapes a sleeveless jumper-cut tank top and flared pants. Both by Miss Ingenue.

Salad Magic

Yearning for a salad that echoes the spontaneity and surprises of the warm weather season? No one can deny that the spring-summer season is the time of year that entices you to create something different and exciting. Bring a bit of that sunshine and those warm breezes inside to the dinner table with "White Cap Fruit Mold."

This salad triumphs with refreshingly light and mellow flavor, brilliant color and the fascination of the delightfully "unexpected." Uniqueness reigns even in the ingredients for the "uncookable" salad dressing provides just the dash of sparkle and zest to tingle the taste buds. As you serve the salad, gleefully watch the faces of your family light up as you perform your baffling magic—that of ushering in a new season right before their very eyes.

White Cap Fruit Mold
3½ cups (1-lb. 14-oz. can) fruit cocktail
2 3-oz. pkgs. lime or strawberry flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
¼ cup Miracle Whip Salad Dressing
2 cups Kraft Miniature Marshmallows

Drain fruit cocktail, reserving syrup. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add reserved syrup and enough water to measure 1½ cups. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in fruit; pour into 9-inch round or square pan. Chill until firm. Unmold. Combine whipped cream, salad dressing and marshmallows. Spoon over gelatin. Chill thoroughly before serving. Garnish with mint leaves, if desired. 9 to 12 servings.

Week of June 3 - 10

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - This is a good time to put your ideas forward, especially if they involve travel, education, or literary efforts.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - Be ready to grasp an opportunity that's coming your way as partners or associates stir up a bit of excitement.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - A chance to learn or travel keeps you on your toes. Stay mentally alert so you can gain from the experience.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - The welfare of others is uppermost in your mind and by answering their call you will make new and interesting friends.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - Your partner puts you on the defensive and if you are right, present your case calmly - otherwise back down gracefully.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - Good judgment and a little fast foot work will be needed to get the existing conditions settled to your liking.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - This is such a busy time, physically as well as mentally, you may need some extra sleep just to catch your breath.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - Accusations, suits, or unpaid bills disturb you and it's difficult to concentrate. You can expect some relief later this month.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - Paying too much attention to those in trouble could cause more anxiety than you can handle. Some events can't be stopped.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - You will have to spend more than you anticipated, so make sure the changes you are making are worthwhile.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - Many things that have been pending now bear fruit, so some events leave a bitter taste. Look on the bright side.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Some of the things you were talking about in January can be put in operation now, with final touches due in September.

Director, The Diet Workshop

June is busting out all dilly

If the translation of this ditty means that you can't fit into last year's summer clothes, then it is time for you to start thinking about dieting. And when you think about dieting, please let me direct your thoughts to going on a well-balanced diet - one which you will be able to expand into a lifetime eating program.

These may be words that you have heard before. Only you can make it happen. Nobody is going to force-feed you the right foods - or the wrong foods either. No one is going to prepare the delectable dishes which you can eat and still be dieting correctly - or the wrong foods either. You can make it happen. It's all up to you.

D is for diet. Do it today. Do it for you!

If you have any questions regarding dieting, or wish a copy of our free fish folder, please contact me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York.

LaPointe To Seek Ward 3 Seat

Atty. Jeffrey C. LaPointe of 225 Independence Ave., South Quincy, today announced his candidacy for the Ward 3 City Council seat.

"I feel that there are many issues that confront the citizens of Quincy at this time," LaPointe declared in his announcement. "However, certain issues — the perennial problems of revaluation and property taxes, and the drug problem amongst our youth — must be faced now."

LaPointe attended St. John's School and Sacred Heart High School, and graduated from Boston College cum laude in 1966. In 1969 he received his Juris Doctor degree from Georgetown University Law Center in Washington, D.C.

He served as a labor economist for the United States Department of Labor where he worked on the 1966 amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act and as a VISTA lawyer in the Office of Economic Opportunity's Legal Services program. He was assigned to St. Louis, specializing in juvenile delinquency.

LaPointe has been admitted to practice law in Massachusetts and Missouri, and is a member of the American Bar Association's Young Lawyer's section. He is married to the former Elaine Bullock.

Harrington To Seek Ward 6 Seat

Dennis E. Harrington, 29, of 211 Billings St., a resident of North Quincy for 12 years, today announced his candidacy for the Ward 6 City Council seat.

Presently he is a practicing trial attorney in Quincy, and an Assistant District Attorney in the office of Norfolk County Dist. Atty. George G. Burke.

Harrington in his announcement, declared:

"The City of Quincy is undergoing and will continue to undergo major changes which will have great effect on the citizens for years to come. It is crucial that every elected representative be responsive to his constituents and advocate programs which will be of continuing benefit to those whom he represents."

Harrington listed the plight of the homeowner, revaluation, the drug problem, and urban renewal as major problems which must be faced by the City Council.

Attorney Harrington attended grammar school in Dorchester, and Christopher Columbus High School in Boston. He majored in History at Boston College and graduated in 1964. He received a Juris Doctor law degree in 1967 from Boston University Law School.

He was appointed a Special Assistant Attorney General by the then Attorney General Elliot Richardson, and is presently an Assistant Attorney General in the office of Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn.

His realization of drug abuse in this area and his concern led to his becoming a founder of the Massachusetts Drug Advisory Council.

He is also presently an instructor at Boston University Law School and a Director of the Student Prosecutors Program in Norfolk County.

His is married to the former Ellen Boyd of North Quincy. At present they are expecting their sixth child.

FIRST AIDS FOR BURNS

A surprisingly effective new treatment for burns is to immediately immerse the burned skin in cold water and leave it there until the pain ceases. For burns on the head or torso, apply towels that have been soaked in ice-cold water. Doctors have discovered that the cold water treatment makes burned tissue heal more quickly, usually without blistering, scarring, or becoming infected.

The medical case histories are astounding! A national magazine published a photo of an elderly woman who severely burned both of her arms. One was immersed in water. Several years later the photo showed the untreated arm covered with scars while the water-treated arm was completely scarless.

Medical authorities recommend cool water immersion first aid for burns.

both major and minor burns. The treatment should last until you can remove the burned part from the water without pain recurring. By all means get medical attention if the burn is the least bit serious.

First New Home In 75 Years

Salvation Army To Dedicate New Corps Building-Community Center

By RUTH WAINWRIGHT

The corner stone laying and dedication of the Quincy Salvation Army's new $700,000 Corps Building and Community Center will take place Sunday at 3:45 p.m. at Elm and Baxter Sts., Quincy Center.

This is the Corps first new home in 75 years' activity in Quincy.

Ceremonies will follow a colorful and symbolic march at 3 p.m. following a brief closing prayer service at the old Temple building at 150 Granite St.

Major William Bessant is inviting everyone who had an association with the Corps in its 70 years at the Granite St. building to join in the march.

Charles Peterson, president of the Quincy Cooperative Bank and chairman of the Salvation Army's Advisory Board, will preside at the cornerstone laying.

Rev. George Douglas of Granite Church of the Nazarene will lead opening devotions; Mrs. Myrtle Bennett, Corps treasurer, will read the Scripture; Rev. Bertil Hult of Salem Lutheran Church will give the benediction.

Col. John W. Baggs, Divisional Commander of Massachusetts, in charge of all Salvation Army activities in the State, will officiate at the cornerstone laying.

Brigadier William Hazzard will preside at dedication ceremonies following, with Col. Baggs giving the principal address.

Rev. Stephen Brown of First United Presbyterian Church will give the invocation. Dr. Donald Young of Eastern Nazarene College will read the Scripture. Greetings will be brought by Mayor James R. McIntyre.

Music will be by the Quincy Temple Band with assistance of other Salvation Army groups in the area; the newly-organized "Songsters' Brigade"; and Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Bettinson, who will sing a duet.

Major Paul Thompson, financial secretary for the Massachusetts Division, will give a dedicatory prayer. Rev. Joseph Connolly of St. John the Baptist Church will give the benediction.

Refreshments will be served by Church Women United in Quincy under direction of Mrs. H. Wallace Sylvester, president.

Bandsmen will be stationed at the entrance of each room in the new building to explain the function of the facilities for those interested in making a tour of inspection.

These include a chapel with seating capacity of 180 persons; three Sunday School rooms in the basement accommodating 50 each; five upstairs, with capacity of 25 persons; a gymnasium for teenage athletic activities and a choir room which will be part of one of the large rooms downstairs.

There will be a workshop with woodworking machines to train young people. Major Bessant is himself a "carpenter by trade," he says, and will supervise instructors. A ceramics room is yet to be equipped. Fall is the target set for these activities.

A lounge is planned for use by the Home League [women], and for a Senior Citizens' program which Major Bessant hopes to initiate.

A commercially equipped kitchen is also in the future.

Included in the 19-room building is an apartment for a janitor, and an emergency room for stranded women. Men are cared for in the Men's Social Service Centers in Boston and Brockton.

First program in the new gymnasium will be a reunion Saturday evening which will consist of a dinner and a 7:30 p.m. reunion program.

"Those who have any part in the Salvation Army's work during the past 75 years of operation in Quincy will be taking part in the reunion," says Major Bessant. "The band will play and there will be vocal numbers as well. We are building up the spiritual emphasis so that it will carry over in the new building."

Final worship services in the 150 Granite St. Temple will be morning Sunday School and worship, conducted by Capt. Bessant, who will deliver the last actual sermon.

In the evening at 7 p.m., Capt. Bessant will deliver his first sermon in the new chapel.

History of the Salvation Army goes back to sometime before the turn of the century, some 75 years, when the Corps met together in various places for worship and for service. Soon after 1900, the Corps became established at 150 Granite St., where it has remained.

A drive for $150,000 for the new Temple and Center was begun in 1968. Spiraling costs brought the total needed to some $700,000.

"We have had good results, but still are indebted for some $300,000 to the Division and other sources," Major Bessant notes.

Approximately $438,000 has been pledged to date throughout the South Shore area.

St. John's Holy Name Society Holds Family Communion Breakfast

St. John's Holy Name Society closed its season with an annual Family Communion Breakfast at Coral Gables, North Weymouth, attended by some 200 families.

Rev. Lawrence Poetz of Miramar Retreat House at Duxbury was guest speaker.

Also speaking was Right Rev.

Joseph Maguire, St. John's pastor and Holy Name Society pastor, and Jack Buonopane, president.

Fulvio Berini was breakfast chairman; Fred Fostello, honorary chairman; Arthur Davidson, treasurer; Harry Fifield, ticket chairman; Frank

J. Rusconi, publicity chairman. Other committee members were Joseph Ciccolo, and Vincent Vallard.

Officers serving with Mr. Buonopane are Mr. Fifield, vice president; Richard Calderera, treasurer; and John Noonan, secretary.

Boy Scouts To Clean Up Park Areas Saturday

Boy Scouts from more than 12 troops in Quincy will participate in clean up and educational campaigns Saturday, a part of the National "Keep America Beautiful" program and Project SOAR.

Through the coordination of the Quincy Conservation Commission and Quincy Park-Recreation Board, the scouts will concentrate their efforts in helping to clean up three of the city's largest and most popular park areas:

*Faxon Park

*Merrymount Park - Black's Creek

*Squantum Park

Litter bags obtained through Project SOAR and area businesses will be used to collect cans, bottles, paper and other small debris. In some park areas, scouts will assist park and forestry personnel in clearing away under brush and dead trees.

Several troops will also assist the Quincy Conservation Commission in distributing an educational flyer to residents adjacent to several important waterways and marsh areas such as Town Brook, Furnace Brook, Squantum marshes, Black Creek marshes and Rock Island Houghs Neck marshes.

Veterans News

Totally disabled service-connected veterans and their wives who wish to take advantage of more liberalized Department of Defense policies on their use of military commissaries and military exchanges may do so without obtaining new VA certification of their eligibility according to the VA.

The Department of Defense in April liberalized its policies on commissary and military exchange privileges in response to recommendations of a special subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee. Changes permit veterans to purchase certain tax-free items that formerly were barred, and allow dependents of eligible veterans to make post exchange purchases and to act as agents for the eligible veteran in making commissary purchases.

The new DOD policy also extend to unmarried widows of eligible veterans the right to retain their commissary and exchange privileges after the veteran's death.

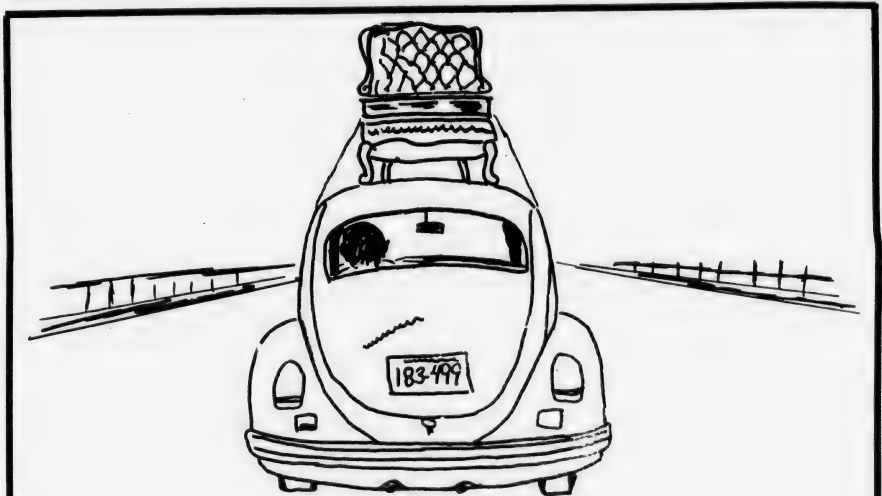

Those veterans who now have privilege cards permitting "limited" exchange privileges need not obtain new cards until their present cards expire.

Military exchanges have been notified to ignore the "limited" notation. But in order to obtain new privilege cards for his dependents, the eligible veteran must apply at a military facility. His original letter of certification from VA is the only authorization needed.

Eligible persons who do not have privilege cards should check with VA.

While some trucks and personnel will be provided by various city departments such as Park-Recreation, and Public Works, additional trucks and manpower are needed. Local business or residents desiring to aid the city-wide campaign may contact Bernard C. Moore at the Quincy South-Shore Chamber of Commerce.

The concentrated BOYPOWER campaign will save the city thousands of dollars in manpower and allow beautification of some areas that might not be possible for several years.

Don't
You Take It With You.

All our price tags here at Dudley carry the following words, "delivery and set-up free of additional charge". In these days when we all have to look for bargains yet we don't care to compromise on quality the words "additional charge" are disturbing and the word "free" is refreshing. Consider the alternatives to store delivery: You load and unload heavy furniture yourself. You take the risk of injury to yourself or your expensive new purchase. Most times you have to impose on a friend...but...the most important thing when you take that beautiful new piece home you've just voided all the store warranties. How can any store be expected to underwrite the condition of expensive furniture when they lose control of the quality when it leaves the store.

Look, when you make your next furniture purchase at Dudley, our men will take it up your stairs, place it where you want it, remove all the packaging debris and be sure that you find the furniture in satisfactory condition. 'Full Time Mayor' Becomes Campaign Issue or unpopular.

"The most talked about School Committee problem at present is the lunch program in the elementary schools. A law passed by the House of Representatives makes it mandatory to have lunches served in every school by 1972.

It was the wisdom of the School Committee by a vote of 6 to 1 to have a pilot program at the Snug Harbor School so that we would evaluate and have an idea of what to expect if forced to implement this law. I might add that no member of the House of Representatives from Quincy voted against this law and that an attempt to have it amended failed by a wide margin.

"With the coming of the MBTA, Quincy Square will have a traffic problem. Commuters from other South Shore towns using this facility will necessitate stricter traffic control than we presently have. I feel sure that this can be worked out.

"One of my main concerns will be the development of the City Center.

"At present we see shopping centers being built just outside the city limits. This is a bad situation. We must work with the business interests of Quincy to bring to our city the type of businesses and buildings that will attract shoppers. To do this our main streets, accesses and parking will have to be changed, with new buildings structures to fit the growing needs of the shoppers, with parking for all. Double and triple parking must stop, otherwise we will die as a shopping center.

"As chairman of the Park and Recreation Board, I have worked with the excellent and dedicated members of this board. With a limited budget we have through the fine efforts of Mr. Richard Koch and Mr. William Ryan improved all the playing areas, added new ones where needed and put to better use our open spaces particularly Faxon Park and Pagent Field where family picnics of all types are being held.

"As a charter member of the One Hundred Club I think it unnecessary for me to record my feelings to the Police and Fire Departments.

"I am concerned for the people of Quincy both those under 30 years of age who allegedly feel that anyone over 30 is old and out of it, and also for those over 30 years of age to which group I belong; and I can assure you still very much in it.

"I'm concerned for the older group because I feel they must be taken care of, be reassured that they will have the means to have proper housing, clothing, food, and medical attention for the remainder of their lives, and that those living on pensions, with fixed incomes will not be priced out of their homes by taxes they are unable to pay and forced to seek housing far below what they are now accustomed to and are now occupying. I believe it is a necessity that they be able to enjoy life and live it with dignity.

"I feel that those under 30 should be encouraged and helped because of their need for hope and to satisfy their ambitions, their proper desires and also a need to live in a city where they will be able to keep their ideals. I feel that I have kept myself acquainted with the thinking of the young because of my many years on the School Committee.

This experience also has given me a knowledge of the management of the affairs of the city.

For these reasons and because I want to do something more to aid the people of the City of Quincy who have honored me by electing me to public office and by helping me in my business and social life, I am now seeking to be elected to the office of Mayor.

I do this with the hope that if elected I will be able to make the City of Quincy a better place in which to live.

I am sure that all of you are aware that if I am elected Mayor, that no action of mine will ever cause you to regret any assistance you have given to me in the furthering of my ambitions.

I want to emphasize that I firmly believe that the city of Quincy can no longer afford the luxury of dual representation and that I will be a "full time Mayor", if elected in November. I make that a promise to the people of Quincy and it is a promise that will be kept."

When Natural Gas heat comes into your home it brings along a good friend

Of course Boston Gas and your independent Gas Heating Contractor appreciate it when you decide to change to Natural Gas heat. What we appreciate even more is the chance to show you what kind of people we are after you switch. That's when you can tell people care about you as a person, not as "just another customer." And that's when you can expect your contractor's personal installation work to be as dependable as Natural Gas heat itself. Because it is.

Your Gas Heating Contractor is easy to reach, reliable and efficient. Call and find out for yourself.

And if you change to Natural Gas heat now, there's even a little bonus: We'll arrange to remove your old oil tank at no charge. And we'll save you from the "Montreal Express."

League Of Women Voters Study Results:

Uncle Sam Must Provide Major Welfare Funds

The average person is convinced that the present welfare system is mired in fraud.

But the figures show there is actually very little fraud, according to a two-year study by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters.

Would you believe that nationally only four out of 1,000 were found to be fraudulent recipients?

But the welfare system overall is still considered "a mess" by many. How do we get out of that mess?

How about Uncle Sam doing more by allocating more to poverty. How about spending more on the needy and maybe less to fight wars and fire rockets into outer space?

The League of Women Voters comes to its own conclusions in this third and final in a series of articles prepared by the Quincy League of Women Voters and published by the Quincy Sun as a public service.

The information here and in the other two articles was compiled by Mrs. David B. Coletti, president of the Quincy League; Mrs. John Gougian, welfare study chairman, and Mrs. Albert Benzaquin, public relations chairman.

The League's two major conclusions:

- Current welfare allowances are not sufficient to enable those families receiving public assistance to sustain a decent level of living.

- The welfare system desperately needs change—but change generated by information and sympathy.

Not, says the League, by ignorance and fear.

The concluding information follows:

WHAT DOES THE LAW SAY ABOUT PUTTING RECIPIENTS TO WORK?

All able-bodied men on General Relief must report to the Division of Employment Security regularly, and all able-bodied on AFDC must report once a month to the Work Incentive Program [which is connected with the Division of Employment Security] for job counseling, training and employment. If employment is available it will be offered at that time. The penalty for not accepting a suitable job is cancellation of allowance. All AFDC mothers whose youngest child is fifteen or older must report to the Work Incentive Program [WIN]. All women over 21 on General Relief must report to the Division of Employment Security once a month. The same penalty applies to women.

WHY DOESN'T THIS WORK?

With unemployment as high as it is, there are not jobs available. 2,350 persons are in active training under the Work Incentive Program [March 1, 1971]. After completing training 245 cannot find jobs as of March 1, 1971.

WHY DON'T WE PROVIDE DAY CARE CENTERS SO MOTHERS CAN GO TO WORK?

It would be a wonderful idea if we could but day care is expensive. Tuition paid by the Department of Public Welfare for full-day care centers for pre-schoolers is $37-40 per child per week, or about $1,800 a year. Smaller family day care centers are somewhat less expensive. Day care centers are scarce, particularly after-school centers.

A mother who wishes to work and get off welfare must have a job that pays well enough to cover her family's living costs as well as day care for her children.

Day care centers are beginning to provide a new career for some recipients. If the Massachusetts legislature or the federal government would provide seed money for such centers, not only would new jobs be available but a new outlook for children and mothers could be realized.

CAN THE GOVERNMENT PROVIDE JOBS?

Yes. There is a good deal of discussion that the government should be the employer of last resort. However, wage scales should be at least federal minimum level [$1.60] or the proposed $2.00 in order to get the salary as near as possible to the national poverty level of $3,793 for a family of four.

WHAT ABOUT ALL THE FRAUD IN WELFARE?

*Four-tenths of one percent [4 out of 1,000] of welfare recipients were found to be fraudulent in a 1969 national study.

*Over 10 percent were found to be ineligible in the latest studies of redetermination by the Massachusetts Department of Public Welfare. Most of the ineligibility was in Medical Assistance and only 3% in AFDC. Ineligibility in many cases means that names are kept on the welfare books after payments have ceased because the recipient has moved or found a job.

For those cases which data shows to be fraudulent, a brief is presented to Attorney General's office by the Department's investigation committee. Anyone with data, [social workers, legislators, or private citizens] can ask that this committee investigate and upon sufficient evidence present the case to the Attorney General.

Concern would be shown to the 90% who are not fraudulent or ineligible.

WHAT CAN BE DONE ABOUT FRAUD?

Many steps can be taken to minimize fraud but they will require an initial investment of funds.

1 A fully operating quality control which would check samples of recipients regularly, much like the Internal Revenue System.

2 The enlargement of the investigation committee from the present six men to a group large enough to cover the state.

3 Computer systems to 100% audit the drug bills and all other vendor bills.

4 A fair and realistic operation to set rates for hospitals and nursing homes, doctors and dentists, etc.

5 An operating information retrieval system which would help the Department obtain up-to-date data.

HOW DO WE GET OUT OF THIS MESS?

The federal government must assume the major financial responsibility for public assistance programs. This year's federal public welfare payments accounted for only 1.9 cents on the federal tax dollar. Even an increase to $15 billion as proposed by some of the national welfare reform bills would be less expensive in the long run to the taxpayer than leaving the burden to the states.

Fiscal 1971 Federal Budget: 201 Billion Dollars

Public welfare payments including AFDC, OA, DA and Aid to the Blind 4.2 billion or 1.9%.

Military programs, 73.6 billion or 36.7%.

[Proposed $15 billion would be 7.5% of this budget]

Greater cost efficiencies could be realized by state or regional administration of public assistance programs. A federal program should provide an adequate standard of living adjusted to regional levels.

As a nation we must face up to the results of our present governmental policies. They reflect values and priorities which perpetuate poverty and impede the development of individual potential for too many Americans.

Disappointing For Bunker And Raiders

North Quincy's Charlie Bunker must rank with the most disappointed schoolboy baseball coaches of the year.

The North coach had high hopes of making the Eastern Mass. Tourney for the first time and his Raiders started off as though they not only would qualify but would win the Greater Boston League championship.

They won their first four league games in addition to handing Boston Latin its first loss in a non-league game, but then dropped two in a row.

They later lost two more games but, following a 4-0 win over Somerville, had only to defeat Malden in a playoff of a rained-out game last week to take second place and a tourney berth. Everett, incidentally, had clinched the league crown with an easy win over Quincy on the same day North blanked Somerville.

In that game Malden jumped away to a 5-0 lead in the first inning to apparently clinch things right off the bat.

But North, determined to make the runnerup position and a tourney slot, fought back until it trailed by only 5-4 going into the ninth inning.

In the top of the ninth Tom Burke led off with a walk, stole second and went to third when the throw to second went into center field. Dave Nelson reached on an error and Burke then stole home to tie it up. Jimmy Sarruda, two for four for the day, doubled home Nelson to put North ahead, 6-5, going into the bottom of the ninth.

However, Malden then pushed home two runs to win it on two walks and a double by John Campsmith.

The loss forced North into a playoff for Medford for second place and the Raiders again were foiled in the final inning.

The Raiders moved in front, 3-0, in the first two innings. In the first Sarruda singled and Burke tripled for a run. In the second Jim Driscoll walked and Dan Zink reached on an error. Both advanced on a passed ball and scored on Nelson's single.

Medford scored twice in the fourth and then jumped on the tiring Scott Manson for three runs in the ninth inning to win, 5-3, and end North's tourney hopes.

Manson, who had blanked Somerville, went all the way and gave up 15 hits, by far his most of the year. He struck out eight and did not walk a batter.

"I'm very disappointed and am especially sorry for the boys, as they worked awfully hard to make the tourney," Bunker said. "When we lost Bob McKay, one of our top pitchers, with a bad shoulder, it hurt tremendously and put a lot of extra pressure on Manson, who did a terrific job for us. I had to use him against Medford with only two days of rest after shutting out Somerville and he did well until he tired."

Manson and McKay were outstanding on the mound while North, which also shone on defense, received stout hitting, especially from Burke and Driscoll, and also from Tim Flynn, Sarruda, Jack Flaherty and Nelson.

North's final league record, including the playoff, was 9-6 and the overall mark 11-6, having defeated Latin and Abb. Williams.

North Netmen Top Quincy Twice To Take City Crown

Bill Willoughby's North Quincy tennis team last week won the city championship with 5-0 wins over Quincy on successive days, the wins gave the Raiders a 9-3 record.

In the first match Kevin McGinley blanked Scott Bakerman, 6-0, 6-0; Tom Bellhenna defeated Tom Chatterton, 6-1, 6-2, and Bob Parratt topped Bill Powers, 6-2, 6-2, in singles.

In doubles play Dave Duval and Bert Bray defeated Joe Caldarola and Jim Smith, 6-1, 6-2, and Larry Dyer and Gary Calhoun defeated Richard Leavitt and Paul Venanziano, 6-2, 6-2.

The following day McGinley defeated Powers, 6-1, 6-0. Bellhenna doubled Chatterton, 6-2, 6-2, and Parratt topped Scott Bakerman, 6-8, 6-1, 6-1.

In doubles Duval and Bray topped Leavitt and Venanziano, 6-0, 6-1, while Dyer and Calhoun defeated Caldarola and Smith, 1-6, 6-0, 7-5.

Quincy Softball League Action A.&T. Movers Pace South, Three-Way Top Tie In North

Currently pacing the Quincy Softball League's South Division is A. & T. Movers with a 6-1 record, while the North Division has a three-way deadlock for first place.

Three teams leading the North Division with a 5-1 record are the Alumni Cafe, Dee Dee's Cafe and Steve's Place.

In last week's action in the North Division, Wells Grille won its first game. Previously undefeated Alumni Cafe and Dee Dee's Cafe lost their first game of the season. Steve's Place has now won five straight games after an opening game loss to the newly formed China Lido team.

The South Division had its share of action as A. & T. Movers lost to Pete's Lounge in their only loss to date, and the Jolly Roger downed Bersani Bros.

This weeks games will be held at Welcome Young Field in North Quincy and Broad Meadows, due to the YMCA

The Broadmeadows Junior High track team wound up its regular season undefeated in dual meet competition to gain the unofficial city league championship.

Coach Mike Brophy's team finished up with a 73-61 win over Central, handing Central its only loss of the season.

"This was a fine squad and all the boys did an excellent job," Brophy said. "We had many individual standouts and I have a number of ninth graders who should help the high school next year."

Ninth graders are: Steve Burke, Bond Doucette, Mike Florida, Arnold Howard.

Kevin Kearney, Al Lamonica, Walter Lynn.

Dennis McDonald, Brian Mitchell, Stephen O'Day, Bob O'Neil, Dick Pacetti, Bob Preble, Steve Robertson, and Joe Simpson.

Eighth graders are: Ed Drohan, Dick Hebert, Terry Isleb, Bob Laneau, Bob McMahon, Mike MacKenzie, Ronald Monahan, Dave Munroe, John Ross and Terry O'Day.

The seventh grade squad members are:

Don Allen, Bob Biancuzzo, Bill Carroll, Larry Carvello, John Chudzinski, Tom Connolly, Pat Foley.

Walter Glendye, Jim

Grimmett, Scott Howard, Charles McDermott, Martin McDonald, Bill McGunagle, John Morrell.

Jim Quigley, Frank Shoemaker, Jeff Short, Scott Straughn, Alan Vachon, Ron Vecchione and Harold Whalen.

Brophy singles out Burke, Doucette, Kearney, Lynn, Mitchell and Pacetti as the top performers among the ninth graders.

The outstanding eighth graders were Hebert, Isleb and Terry O'Day, while tops among the seventh graders were Grimmer, Vachon and Joe McEachern.

North Golf Team Breezes By Boston English

Jack Donahue's North Quincy golf team attempted to clinch its third successive Mass. Coast League championship Tuesday when it wound up its season against Boston Latin.

The Raiders all but wrapped up another title last week with a 9-0 breeze over Boston English, to make their league record 8-1.

Tim O'Leary and Mike Tracey swept three points as did the second tandem of Jeff Burrell and Bruce Henriksen and the third duo of Joe Tighe and Bob Sullivan.

North's Wayne Fick, who did not play in the English match, was the only local golfer to qualify for Monday's 36-hole state schoolboy championships at Saddle Hill in Hopkinton.

Fick shot a 39-37-76 last week to tie for second place among South Shore qualifiers at Easton. The best of Eastern Mass. and Western Mass. will go for the state title Monday.

Prospects Bright Next Year For North

Quincy Wins GBL Track Title Undefeated

By TOM SULLIVAN

Hats off to Coach Tom Hall and his Quincy track team, which last week finished an undefeated season to win its first Greater Boston League championship with a 7-0 record.

This marked the third Quincy team to win a GBL crown this year. The football squad was 9-0-0 last fall and the hockey team won the league crown the past winter.

A year ago the Presidents lost only their final GBL meet of the year at North Quincy, the undefeated league titlist.

Quincy romped over Everett, 89-42, in the final meet at Veterans' Memorial Stadium to cap its great season.

"I think attitude made a big difference this year," said Hall, whose record at Quincy is 28-10. "The kids really wanted an unbeaten season after losing the final meet and the league title to North Quincy last year.

"I had some fine veterans but a few newcomers came through for us and did a great job. John Provost, in particular, was amazing in his first and only year of track as he went undefeated in the triple jump and did a terrific job in the low hurdles. Another newcomer who did well was Art Giannotti in the javelin.

The future looks great for Quincy, just as it does for North Quincy, as 19 of the 28 places captured in the final meet for the Presidents were taken by underclassmen.

Bobby Ciano completed his second straight undefeated season, the flashy junior again winning the mile. Bobby holds the league record in both the mile and half mile.

Fred Antoon, who holds the league 440 record, also wound up unbeaten with an easy win and Joe Goguen finished unbeaten for the year in the 880. Goguen also won the triple jump, in which Provost was unable to compete.

Other Quincy winners were Steve McCarthy in the 100, Pete Daley, 220; Roberto Volpini, shot put; Rich Menchi, javelin; Pete Ciano, Bob's sophomore brother, two-mile, and the relay team of Ray Lawyer, Goguen, Daley and Antoon.

With Provost unable to run the low hurdles, Barry Kessler ran in his first race of the season and took a point with a third place finish.

Quincy second places went to John Johnson, 100; Lawyer, 220; Gerry McCall, 440; Marty Swirko, 880; Paul Wahlberg, mile; Jim Dubois, long jump; Johnson, high jump; John Bessant, discus; Bob McDermott, high hurdles and triple jump.

Picking up third places were Provost, shot; McCall, long jump; Daley, high jump; Frank Aldoupolis, discus; Davis, javelin; Dave Coull, high hurdles;

Kessler, low hurdles; Brian Feeney, two-mile, and McCarthy, triple jump.

Antoon was voted Quincy's most valuable performer following the meet.

North Coach Bob Gentry, who saw his season shattered by a series of illnesses and injuries which prevented the Raiders from being at full strength in any meet this year, was wishing his season was starting instead of ending as North blasted Chelsea, 87-44. The Raiders hadn't won a meet since taking its opener.

"Things went well for us today and some of the boys who had been sidelined returned," Gentry said. "It was a frustrating season as four of my best scorers were out all season and others were out during the year. I didn't once have my full team available.

"But we had some fine youngsters and two of my best scorers were sophomores, Bob McCormick and Jack Reynolds. Things look bright for next year."

North's Kevin Henry was voted the league's most valuable performer.

Lee Davis completed his second straight undefeated season by winning the discus and low hurdles.

Henry also finished unbeaten for the second season in a row but, because of a foot injury, shifted from his regular two-mile run to the half mile, winning handsily.

Other North winners were McCormick in the mile, Dick Malloy, two-mile; John Panarelli, [beaten only once in two years and that by just a half inch in the shot put] won the javelin; George McCall and Reynolds, tied in the high jump; McCall, high hurdles; Reynolds, 100; Jeff Strungis, 440; Steve Little, triple jump, and Steve Leet, shot put.

Second places went to Jim Zinnetti, discus; Jim deVarennes, javelin and low hurdles; Dave Ashmanskas, 100; Joe Morrissey, shot, and Danny Coughlin, long jump. Taking thirds were Gary Cuniff, mile; John Murphy, two-mile; Coughlin, 220; Ed Ahern, 440; Jim Hurley, 880; and Vin Cameron, triple jump.

Little's 38 feet marked a school record in the triple jump, new this year. Forty-six of the points were scored by underclassmen, 41 by seniors.

Quincy's Bobby Ciano and Antoon last Saturday qualified for this Saturday's state championship meet at White Stadium; Ciano won the Class A mile in 4:23.3 in the class finals while Antoon placed fourth in the 440.

North's Panarelli in the javelin and Davis in the discus had qualified earlier for Saturday's state title meet.

QUINCY TRACK COACH Tom Hall and some of his standouts check clipboard line-ups before final meet which gave them an unbeaten season and first Greater Boston League title. From left are, Brian Feeney, Bob Ciano, Bob McDermott, Hall and Fred Antoon. Ciano is unbeaten for two years and holds the league mile and half mile records, while Antoon holds the 440 mark.

Mixed Scotch Foursome Winners Listed

Winners of the Furnace Brook Golf Club's recent Mixed Scotch Foursome are announced:

Mrs. Joe DiFederico and Roy Christianson had low gross of 38; Mrs. Dick Harrison and Mario Serafini, low net of 30.

Mrs. George Hodges and Tom Mulroy had third net; in a four-way tie for fourth net were Sandy Duane and Chandler and Dick Harrison.

Robbins, Joy Robbins and Tony Spinello, Joyce Robbins and Marty Healey, Mary Morrissey

Mrs. Matt Smith and John O'Neill had fifth net.

Quincy Girls Softball Team Rebounds For Three In Row

Mary Pratt's Quincy girls' softball team rebounded after its first two losses in its two-year history to win three in a row and boost its record to 5-2.

The latest was an 11-7 decision over Weymouth South which saw the Quincy lassies pound out 13 hits.

Karen Fruzzetti, Pat Doyle and Debbie Congdon paced the First Ladies' attack.

Miss Congdon picked up her second pitching win but was bombed in the final inning after allowing only one run until then. Lois MacLean relieved, retired the final two batters and earned a save.

Molyneaux To Run For School Committee

Leslie J. Molyneaux, 25, of 42 Pilgrim Rd., West Quincy, today announced his candidacy for the Quincy School Committee.

Molyneaux, a life-long resident of Quincy, attended Sterling Junior High and graduated from Quincy High School. He received his BA degree from Eastern Nazarene College, and is a candidate for the M.Ed. degree at Bridgewater State College and the M.N.S. degree at the University of Oklahoma. He has been the recipient of National Science Foundation grants for graduate study each year since 1968.

Molyneaux is a teacher in Hanover, where he has worked since 1967. He has taught in all grades from seven to 12, and has been active in the study of new curriculum programs.

Molyneaux is a member of several professional organizations, including the Ecological Society of America, the National Association of Biology Teachers, the American Institute of Biological Sciences, the Massachusetts and Hanover Teachers Associations.

In community affairs, Molyneaux is Vice-Chairman of the Republican City Committee, and Treasurer of the Young Republican Club. He is a charter member of the Quincy Citizens Association and a member of Rural Lodge, A.F. & A.M.

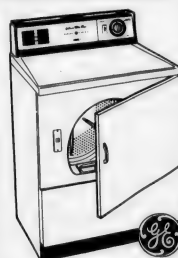

Molyneaux noted that:

"Our educational system should allow students to prepare for a useful, needed role in society. The demand for college graduates has diminished, if not disappeared, while the demand for technicians has skyrocketed. Quincy has been fortunate in having leaders with the foresight to build the Vocational-Technical School. I pledge to continue to expand the educational opportunities for Quincy citizens."

Molyneaux also declared that he "would bring to the School Committee the intimate knowledge of schools obtained from experience in education, as well as the realization that tax support for schools is burdensome."

Koch Club To Present Six Scholarships At Flag Day Ceremonies

Six Koch Club Scholarships for 1971 to be presented at the annual Koch Club June 14 Flag Day observance at Veterans Memorial Stadium at 8 p.m. were announced today by Anthony T. Delmonico, chairman.

Carolann Milani of 87 Madison Ave., South Quincy, and Jerome Morreale of 148 South Walnut St., Quincy Point, Quincy High School Seniors will receive $100 scholarships each.

Also awarded $100 scholarships are Deborah M. Felton of 575 Quincy Shore Drive and Michael Peatridge of 766 East Squantum St., of North Quincy High School.

Quincy Vocational-Technical High School seniors Linda Kislowksi of 26 Gladstone St., Squantum, and Jeffrey Shaw of 172 South St., Quincy Point, will each receive $50 awards.

The parade preceding the ceremonies is scheduled to leave Quincy Voc-Tech parking area at 6:30 p.m.

During the parade a flag flown over the Nation's Capital will be raised over the John F. Kennedy Health Center which, built in 1948, is a miniature of the Health, Welfare and Education Building in Washington, D.C.

The flag was presented to the Koch Club by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and will be raised daily over the Health Center in memory of the late John F. Kennedy, 35th President of the United States.

President Kennedy was the only honorary member of the Koch Club, a membership conferred in 1958 when the then Sen. John F. Kennedy visited Cavanagh Stadium in North Quincy, original home of the Koch Club Recreational Programs.

Richard J. Koch, executive director of the Koch Club, is general chairman of the Flag Day events.

Broad Meadows Honor Roll Students Get Treat

At Broad Meadows Junior High School 185 students who maintained Honor Roll standing for three successive quarters were honored Friday at a banquet.

Parents, teachers and school staff, in caps and aprons, prepared food and waited on table, along with Principal David P. Tenney.

Dallas Minor of the Massachusetts Audubon Society was guest speaker.

Other invited guests were Supt. of Schools Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, Central Office subject coordinators, and principals of Great Hill, Atherton Hough, Snug Harbor, N.S. Hunting and Merrymount Schools.

Parents of students attending were guests at a coffee hour following the banquet.

Erwin C. Adelberg of 479 Furnace Brook Parkway, West Quincy, was installed Chancellor Commander of Presidents Lodge Knights of Pythias Tuesday at the Jewish Community Center.

He succeeds Myer Riseman, who was installed as Master of Works.

Other officers are Harvey A. Kurr, vice chancellor; Michael Simbolist, prelate; Lawrence Smith, master of arms; Nicholas Adams, inner guard; Nathan Katz, outer guard; Stanley Needleman, secretary; Harvey Chofin, financial secretary; and Arnold Solod, treasurer. Deputy Philip Golob presided at installation ceremonies which were attended by relatives and friends.

June 11 and 12 will be Kiddie Kamp Tag Days in Quincy. Containers will be placed in stores in Quincy on June 5 and collected June 12. Harvey Kurr is chairman.

June 17 is the date scheduled for a Scholarship Dinner.

In the American Education Humane Society's competition, Mary Kilcommons of Grade 6 and Sheila McDonald of Grade 5 won top prizes for "Excellence in Quality and Content". Edward Malnati of Grade 8 won a first prize and Sean O'Sullivan of Grade 4 won a third prize.

At the Archdiocesan Art Fair, Archbishop Humberto S. Medeiros presented first prize awards to Kathleen Little of Grade 6 and Maryellen Riordan of Grade 5. Second Prize awards were given to Michael Vacca of Grade 8; Kathleen Buckley of Grade 6; Scott Gosselein of Grade 5; Winifred Bertrand, Eileen Marr and Sean O'Sullivan of Grade 4; Maureen Bythrow and Tina Kelly of Grade 1.

Clergy, faculty, parents and relatives, along with the entire student body, attended the program which closed with drama or musical selections by each grade.

375 Boy Scouts Take Part In Camporee

Some 375 Boy Scouts from 21 troops and posts of Quincy and Milton took part in the recent Blue Granite District Camporee at Camp Massasoit, Plymouth.

A feature of the weekend was the dedication of "Fuller's Bog," a memorial given to the Boston Council by veteran Scouters John and Buell Fuller in memory of their mother, Dr. Bradford E. Gale, former minister of First Parish Church Unitarian-Universalist, conducted dedication ceremonies.

Demonstrations in pioneering, conservation and woods lore, competitions in camping skills, and a campfire conducted by King Philip Lodge, Order of the Arrow members, were included in the Camporee program.

Henry Uthoff was Camporee chief; William Shaw, chief judge; John Murphy, Dan Peters, John Randall, Bob Fitzpatrick and Sam Walkama, judges; James Hagen, registrar.

Seven Quincy Youths To Receive Bibles At Maritime Academy June 26

Seven Quincy youth will be among 73 graduates of the Massachusetts Maritime Academy at Buzzards Bay, who will receive special bibles from the Massachusetts Bible Society at commencement ceremonies June 26, at 2 p.m. at the Bourne High School auditorium.

They include Robert W. Baker, Royal St.; Ralph C. Morse, Jr., Holbrook Rd.; James W. Gillespie, Jr., Clive St.; Ronald J. Pimental, Huckins Ave.; Robert E. Lorman, Gordon St.; Daniel A. Roman, Rock Island Rd.; and Kevin G. Ryan, Fenno St.

In keeping with a long tradition, Rev. Dr. Lawrence Almond, Executive Secretary of the Bible Society, will present a special bible to each graduate, according to his religious faith, and each one embossed with the graduate's name on the cover.

Bibles will include those for Catholic, Protestant, Greek Orthodox, Lutheran, Jewish and Polish Roman Catholic members of the graduating class.

The Massachusetts Bible Society is one of the oldest in the world and marking its 162nd year. The Bibles have been presented to graduates of the nautical school since its founding some 81 years ago.

A recent survey indicated that the Bible received at graduation becomes a life-time book for the deep-sea mariners. A graduate, class of 1919, was found to be using his well known Bible which was more than a half-century old.

$5,000 Resource Grant Awarded To ENC

A resource grant of $5,000 has been awarded to Eastern Nazarene College to enable the college to increase its holdings of books, periodicals, microfilms, and other learning materials in the area of environmental studies.

Criteria for selecting materials include contribution to departmental and interdisciplinary courses dealing with the environment, including Marine Biology, Field Biology, Biology Seminar, Consumer Economics, Community, Social Welfare, Social Psychology, Living Issues, and the NSF Institute course for secondary school teachers in Environmental Biology.

Priority will be given to primary materials in preference to secondary studies, to works that strengthen ENC's holdings in geography, public health, transportation, and government regulation, and to works that are relevant to the geographical setting of the College.

Any student or faculty member at Eastern Nazarene College may submit a title to the selection committee for consideration. Members of the selection committee are:

William J. V. Babcock, Professor of Biology; James R. Cameford, Professor of History and Head of the Department of History; Dorothy A. King, Librarian; Andrew F. Rankin, Associate Professor of Economics; Wilfred L. Winget, Professor of Religion; Donald L. Young, Dean of the College and Professor of English; and Gilbert Hunter, student member of the Library Committee.

Furnace Brook Stars In 'Oliver'

"Oliver", Furnace Brook School version, was presented at an evening performance recently by the fourth and fifth grade students of Mrs. Elsie Snyder and Miss Margaret Mahoney.

"Oliver" was portrayed by Michael Zieper, while Thomas Nolan had the role of Fagin. Leading characters were Jeffrey Gavin as The Artful Dodger; Stephanie Fisher as Nancy; Robert Goldberg as Betsy; Gary Wilcox as Mr. Brownlow.

Other principal roles were played by John Francis, Susan Swan, Pamela Rosenblatt, John Shea, William Murphy, Janice Dexter, Linda Gale, Peter Silverstein, Jeffery Borodzik, Rodney Haynes, Andrew Riddell, Margaret Scanlan, Michael Noone and Paula Laberge.

Workhouse children and Londoners were June Atkinson, Patrick Clifford, Michael Cutler, Jacqueline Dulkis, Belinda Foss, Rodney Haynes, Algis Karosas, Paula Laberge, Bruce Lampert, Daniel Leary, Kathleen McCann, Elizabeth Neville, John Nolan, Jean Palmer, Stephen Pastor, Andrew Riddell and Margaret Scanlan.

Fagin's boys included Andrew Atkinson, Alison Awed, Marie Burke, Adrienne Cocco, Carol DiBona, Dennis Djerf, Bernadette Federico, James Laberge, Cathleen Leary, Janine Mudge, Lawrence Rudnick, John Shea, Steven Sorkin and Kathryn Winget.

Joanne Bertoni was narrator. Helping behind the scenes were Robert Nikander, Steven Saluti and Mrs. J. Pierre Laberge. Miss Frances McDonald, music specialist, was pianist.

Scenery was made by the students, while Quincy Vocational-Technical High School students supplied the coffin.

'Evening Of Entertainment' June 9 At Atlantic Junior

"An Evening of Entertainment" will be presented June 9 and 10 at 8 p.m. by Atlantic Junior High School students.

In addition to variety numbers from vocal groups, jazz dances and group activities, there will be featured gymnastic routines, rhythmic exercises and bamboo dancing.

The Atlantic Band and members of North Quincy High School girls' gymnastic team will also take part.

Art Exhibits At Main, North Quincy Library

June art exhibits at the North Quincy branch and main hall gallery of the Thomas Crane Public Library are announced by Mrs. Carmen Ungar, art librarian.

Mrs. Jo Ray of Weymouth will exhibit her work, primarily linoleum block prints, in the North Quincy Branch. She has exhibited previously in galleries in Attleboro, Marblehead, Fitchburg Museum where she received two honorable mentions, Brockton Art Center;

Worcester Craft Center, Boston University, Boston YMCA, Boston Public Library, Hingham, in New Hampshire and Connecticut.

At the main hall Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Folsom, of Easton, members of the Brockton Art Association and Brockton Art Center, will have a display of oil and watercolors.

Mrs. Folsom, who has won numerous awards, is an art specialist in elementary schools in Easton, while her husband is art specialist in Stoughton Public Schools.

Mrs. Folsom attended the Museum of Fine Arts School and Carnegie Institute of Technology. Mr. Folsom received his degree from Mass. College of Art, and has done graduate work in art education at Boston University where he is enrolled in a doctoral program. Both have attended Pennsylvania State University.

Two Quincy Residents Accepted At Wentworth

Two Quincy residents have been accepted for admission to Wentworth Institute in Boston for the 1971-72 academic year.

They are Paul F. Hemphill, 125 Newbury Ave., Philip E. Luoma, 51 Garfield St.

Chamber Outing Planned For July 14 In Kingston

The Quincy-South Shore

Chamber of Commerce will hold its 46th annual outing July 14 at Nelson's Grove in Kingston.

Pine trees, sea breezes and a pavilion will replace the cement bleachers of the Weymouth Fairgrounds.

The fairgrounds are not available for rental this year which necessitated the change in location, reports Ronald Frazier, executive secretary for the chamber. The facilities at Nelson's Grove will allow the Chamber to expand its program to include new events, he said.

George C. Fay has been named chairman. The committee, events and schedule will be announced later.

On The Screen By Vincent Puleo

Norman Mailer--The Actor!

Singer KRIS KRISTOFFERSON makes his acting debut in "THE DEALER". The film centers around a down and out musician who as the title so indicates, becomes a "dealer" in dope in order to make ends meet. Doesn't sound like a real fun fic, but that's the type of material which an X-rated segment of the public want... As for KRISTOFFERSON, if he acts like he sings, "DEALER" will more than likely be his last film... For the curious in the goings on in Southeast Asian film, an energetic thespian by the name of SOMBAT MATHANEE is Thailand's number one adventure-heart throb. He is also that part of the globe's busiest. In the next two months he will be appearing in no less than 33 productions...

ZWY ALDOUBY's "THE SHATTERED SILENCE", a book dealing with the James Bond spy exploits of Israeli super sleuth ELI COHEN, will be made into a motion picture by the end of the year... The Rochester Film Festival will not be a happening this year. Last years fiasco, which took place in October placed the backers of the New York exhibition $80,000 in the red. Ouch!... JERRY LEWIS carries over his clean cut image even in his business dealings. LEWIS' Network Cinema Corp., consisting of over 1,000 mini-cinemas, has an explicit ban on all X-rated movies... RIP TORN makes another effort to place his see-saw, rather sporadic career into orbit with "PAYDAY". And for his sake we hope his latest film hits "paydirt". He is not only the star, but the producer as well... Come to think of it, I can't seem to remember when Mr. TORN last had a hit motion picture...

Would you believe NORMAN MAILER the actor? The famed Pulitzer Prize winning author, brawler tongue-lasher et al. has just inked a contract to co-star with none other than MICK JAGGER in "ISHTAR"... TROY DONAHUE gives it another try in the role of a bearded cult leader with his upcoming "SWEET SAVIOUR". For those too young to remember, DONAHUE was quite big with the youth set a short 10 years ago with his "HAWAIIAN EYE" television eye sore. Since then his career had de-escalated to the point where he "must" take any and all scripts which come his way. This explains why at age 35 he grabbed the chance to play act as a hip cultist...

Producer JOE PASTERNAK isn't one to rest on his laurels. His next endeavor will be "LALA SHE'S ONLY 16". His four and a half decade career began in 1928 with a German number "SWEE MANSCHEN". Since 1968 PASTERNAK has been in retirement. But as the old saying goes, you can't keep a good man down, and so his comeback... Soap opera fans may be interested in knowing that JOHN GERSTAD of CBS-TV's "AS THE WORLD TURNS", is set to make his film splash in the SOPHIA LOREN starrer "MORTEADILLA". This could be the start of bigger and brighter things for the talented and very day-time popular actor-director... Actor DAVID HEMMINGS has the directing itch. He is due to make his behind the camera bow with "RUNNING SCARED"...

British favorite ALISTAIR SIM will appear next in "THE RULING CLASS", in a supporting role, unfortunately, I could never understand why a man with his skill has always been relegated to character actor status. If only a producer would give SIM a chance to carry a film in a lead part, I'm sure SIM would do justice to all concerned. He has the talent and the charisma, but as of yet nobody has given this splendid thespian the opportunity. Well, maybe one of these days?... Talk about being busy with script offers ANNE HEYWOOD of "THE FOX" fame is just that with four films scheduled to be shot in the next 9 months...

QUOTE, UNQUOTE: SIR ALEXANDER BOYNE KING, Scotland's number one motion picture theatre impresario expressing his views on the social significance of "LOVE STORY": "This picture has come along at the psychological time for the well being of the cinema industry. It is good to know in this age of permissiveness and violence, there is still a very big public for a simple love story"... I couldn't agree more with his sentiments... What concerns me is the sudden withdrawal of the National Council of Churches and the National Catholic Office for Motion Pictures of its' support for the present Ratings system. The church-connected groups have as of the middle of May withdrawn all support from the Motion Picture Association's rating system. Their reasoning is that too much violence and sex are permitted to slip by with other than an X-rating.

In this respect they are correct. However, it is this colum's contention that they abandoned their committal to the public by rejecting the present set-up of the Ratings Board.

Front Wheels That Wander Like Dog That Won't Heel

Have you ever watched the owner of a poorly trained pup trying to walk his dog on a leash?

By the end of the stroll, they both are exhausted; the master from continually trying to pull his errant pooch back on the track, and the dog from tugging the other way and having walked at least twice the distance his master covered.

After a few sessions in a good obedience course, the pup heels comfortably and an evening's outing becomes a relaxing time for both.

This is not unlike the case of the car with faulty wheel alignment. The front wheels want to head for the gutter, while the rest of the car (under its driver's influence) tries to go straight ahead.

Tire Obedience School
By the end of a long day on the road, the driver is worn out and so are the wandering tires. They have been literally dragged sideways back on track every inch of the way.

Obedience training for wheels, of course, is accomplished in an alignment shop. A trained technician checks them for accuracy of toe-in, camber, caster and the other geometric factors that make the car steer and handle properly.

Part of this project is a close examination of all the linkage and suspension parts involved in the steering and suspension system. Loose parts cannot be kept in alignment.

Tire Life Reduced

If your car has power steering, which does a lot of the struggling for you, you may be unaware of misalignment. One finger on the steering wheel keeps you going straight ahead. But your tires know the difference.

You may be reducing the life of your tires by 30 or 30 percent just trying to pull them back on course. Their increased resistance will cause your car to use more gas, too.

Unlike the educated pup, your car needs a refresher course every six months in the form of an alignment checkup and, if necessary, adjustment.

You and your car both will be happier for it.

Biggest Step for Safety Is Always To Wear Seat Belts

American drivers are, in large number, fooling themselves into disregarding the biggest single step they can take to improve their own survival odds in case of an automobile crash, says the National Safety Council.

Harry Porter, Jr., NSC traffic safety director, pointed out that "the best estimates indicate at least 8,000 to 10,000 lives a year would be saved if every car occupant wore his safety belts, every time he got into a car."

"Beyond question," Porter said, "the full use even of the old fashioned lap belts would have a massive effect in saving lives and preventing injuries. And now that combination lap-and-shoulder belts are required on all cars sold in America, even greater protection is available."

Motorists who choose to sit on or beside their safety belts, instead of within them, in most cases are "relying on imitation excuses—not genuine reasons—to rationalize their behavior. Clear thinking will show that there aren't any real reasons."

Proper Tire Care

Proper tire inflation is essential. Underinflation causes extreme sidewall flexing, builds up excessive heat, and causes rapid wear on the tire tread's outer edges.

Overinflation causes tires to run hard, subjects them to damage and weakening of the carcass, and causes excessive wear in the middle of the tread.

Check your owner's manual for recommended tire pressure.

Inspect tire exterior regularly for excessive or abnormal wear, fabric breaks, and cuts. Remove imbedded foreign matter.

Add an extra three or four pounds of pressure to cold tires prior to long trips where you anticipate driving at sustained high speeds.

Survey Advises "Know Your Car"

If the results of a survey just released by the U.S. Department of Transportation are any indication, many motorists are deluding themselves about the safe mechanical condition of their cars.

Three quarters of the 14,500 motorists surveyed described their cars as "very safe," yet vehicle inspection reports show over half the cars on the road need repairs to restore them to safe mechanical condition.

Twelve percent of the motorists answering the D.O.T. questionnaire called their cars only "somewhat" safe.

The study, conducted by Intext, Transportation Research Division, Scranton, Pa., involved a representative sampling of car owners in 50 states. Purpose of the survey was to determine the attitudes and habits of the motoring public, as related to vehicle maintenance.

Safer Drivers Know More
Significant among the findings disclosed by DOT: people who are relatively knowledgeable about their cars report 1/2 to 1/3 fewer accidents or near-accidents due to mechanical trouble than those who are not. The report also shows that the more knowledgeable owner is more likely to be conscientious about car care.

How do people feel about car care as it relates to safety? Eighty-six percent of those surveyed believed that regular maintenance helps prevent accidents. Ninety-one percent agreed that all states should have compulsory vehicle inspection.

Women's Communications

When asked where they obtained information about keeping their cars in safe mechanical condition, 36 percent said they draw upon their own knowledge. Twenty-eight percent relied upon their mechanics for their information. Twenty-two percent said their primary source was their owners manual.

Eight out of ten correctly answered all questions related to mechanical knowledge of the car.

Women appear to be more conscientious about regular car maintenance than men, and they reflect more concern for automobile safety, according to Dr. Harold L. Henderson, Intext's Principal Investigator on the study.

"While female respondents reported having their cars checked more frequently, they did not rely on their own knowledge for these checks or for decisions on car maintenance. Their main source of expertise was service station and garage mechanics.

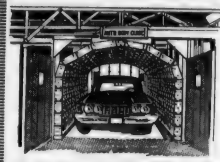

"If the general public could be successfully educated," he concludes, "then we could expect a considerable reduction in defect-related accidents among owners who, at present, lack adequate knowledge."

WINTER WEATHER WAX

After the winter's weather has gone, strong chemicals, used for melting snow and ice on roads, may still be on your car. A thorough paint cleaning and polishing helps prevent auto body deterioration.

McCauley Blocked In Attempt To Eliminate Housing Jobs

Francis X. McCauley of the Quincy Housing Authority was blocked in his attempt to have two new administrative positions reconsidered at the Authority's recent meeting in the Martensen Street project.

McCauley, treasurer of the five-member authority, contends that the position of assistant administrator at $17,500 and a project manager at $9,500 for the Germantown elderly housing project are "a waste of taxpayers' money."

McCauley made his motion to reconsider establishment of the positions during discussion of a letter from the Harborview Residents Association which noted they had not been consulted on the point. Mrs. Patricia Peers was spokesman for the residents.

"I think we should reconsider these positions so that we are able to work in harmony with the groups we have been working with," McCauley said in introducing his motion. "I move that we reconsider the board's action in creating the two specific positions of assistant administrator and project manager for 20-4." [Germantown]

Atty. Paul A. M. Hunt immediately ruled "You're out of order."

Chairman Dr. Peter V. Corea followed with, "Failing to hear a second, I say the motion is lost. I feel that the Housing Authority is a place where we should discuss matters pertaining to housing, and it should not be a place where we make it a political field. I don't think there is anything else to be said."

According to McCauley, he does not plan any further moves to have the positions reconsidered.

"It is now in the budget," McCauley stated. "The only possible change would be if HUD decided to have the thing straightened out or adjusted. I plan no further moves. HUD may approve the budget, or approve it with modifications."

10 Per Cent Increase In SS Checks This Month

Social security checks to be delivered in June to 736,500 men, women, and children in Massachusetts will be higher than the monthly amounts they have been receiving.

Frank Calkin, social security manager in Quincy, said the checks covering benefit payments for the month of May will include the general 10 per cent increase in benefits signed into law by President Nixon on March 17.

The payments are retroactive to Jan. 1. Separate checks, scheduled to reach social security beneficiaries on June 22, will cover the amount of the increases for the retroactive months of January through April.

Calkin said that the increase raises the monthly benefit rate of social security payments in Massachusetts by nearly $8 million -- to a total of about $88 million. Nationally, the new monthly benefit rate totals $2.9 billion, paid to 26.2 million beneficiaries.

The average monthly benefit for a retired worker goes up from $114 to about $126; for a retired couple, $199 to about $219. A widowed mother with two children will receive an average social security benefit of about $324, up from $295.

For a disabled worker with a wife and one or more children, the new average monthly payment will be about $296, increased from $269.

The special monthly payments that are made to certain individuals: age 72 and over who are not insured for regular social security cash benefits will be increased by five per cent, from $46 to $48.30 for an individual and from $69 to $72.50 for a couple.

Total retirement, survivors and disability insurance benefits paid to social security beneficiaries in Massachusetts are expected to amount to about $1 billion in 1971, Calkin said.

'In The Best Interests Of City'

Citizens Association Recommends Full Time Mayor, $20,000 Salary

More and greater representation by Quincy residents in state government rather than dual representation is the recommendation of the Quincy Citizens Association, according to Miss Dorothy Kelly, secretary.

Laurence J. Curtin is president of the Association which has a director and alternate from each of the 39 precincts in the City.

"We are recommending that voters consider the one man - one job concept for Mayor because we think we will have good government in Quincy," Miss Kelly told the Quincy Sun.

"We think that it might be to the advantage of the city to have more representation and greater representation through additional men all working together, rather than have just a few involved," she added.

The Quincy Citizens Association at a June 2 executive board meeting reaffirmed the position it originally voted on Sept. 3, 1969 -- that it is opposed to one person, holding more than one politically elected position. School Committee Vice-chairman James F. McCormick Sr., has pledged that he will be a "full time mayor" if elected in November.

"I firmly believe that the city of Quincy can no longer afford the luxury of dual representation," he said last week.

Both Mayor James R. McIntyre, whose political plans are not known, and Rep. Walter [Cont'd on Page 2]

Quincy's Class of 1971 which has known troubled social times since its kindergarten days, was hailed last night as "a generation with a sense of direction on the road to wisdom".

The tribute came from School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon during combined commencement exercises at Veterans Memorial Stadium for 1,125 seniors from Quincy, North Quincy High Schools and Quincy Vocational-Technical School.

In what may be remembered as a brief, simple yet eloquent address, Dr. Creedon traced "the most cancerous social calamities ever to face this nation", which he noted have come during the lives of the graduating seniors.

He said the young people of today are "rejecting despair", "embracing hope" and proclaiming: "Don't stop the world; I'm still on it."

He touched upon the Korean War, the Cuban missile crisis, the Vietnam War, student unrest, riots, and the tragic assassinations of John and Robert Kennedy and Martin Luther King.

Yet he saw optimism and hope for the seniors who have lived through these times and for mankind.

Dr. Creedon declared:

"My experience with the 1971 graduating class leads me to believe that they are a generation on the road to wisdom.

"It leads me to be confident that they have a sense of direction that is consistent with the American Dream. They have lived their public school careers during troubled times and have come to realize along with Piet Hein that:

"The Road to Wisdom, The Road to Wisdom

Well, It's Plain and Simple to Express:

Err-and Err-and Err again.

"But Less-and Less-and Less." "Following that road is difficult in that it has not been paved, and there are no infallible sign posts; yet those who travel it know that it leads to a better future for all mankind."

Jack Connors Elected Local 90 President

Jack Connors has been elected president of Local 90, AFL-CIO, International Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America.

Connors won a surprising upset victory, 258 to 175, over Arthur L. Fitzgerald, 20-year member and official of the Union.

Kenneth S. McVay was elected vice-president and Bernard C. Doherty, treasurer.

Charles M. Johnston was re-elected executive secretary, and Tom O'Brien, recording secretary.

Fred Murray was elected for a first term as trustee, while Tom Desmond and Richard Shea were re-elected trustees.

North Quincy Girl Receives Diploma At Hospital

Elizabeth Ann Rogg graduated Wednesday--about nine hours before her North Quincy High School classmates.

Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Rogg of 176 Marlboro St., Wollaston, received her diploma Wednesday morning in Room 307 at Quincy City Hospital where she is a patient. She is scheduled to undergo surgery Friday.

Scheduled to participate in the bedside ceremony were Principal John J. Walsh, School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, Mayor James R. McIntyre and School Committee Vice-Chairman James F. McCormick Sr.

Principal Whips Up Spaghetti For Willard School Graduates

Some 70 students graduating from Willard School's sixth grade into junior high school were guests of honor Tuesday at Morrisette Post Home at a dinner.

The menu included spaghetti, with a special tomato sauce prepared by principal Leo McKillop, and served by their teachers, Miss Barbara DeWolfe and Mrs. Regina Griffin.

Mayor and Mrs. James R. McIntyre were invited along with parents of the two groups

Two sons of Quincy School Committeemen were among the graduates: Bobby Sweeny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Sweeny, and Paul Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Kelly.

The Meanest Mother In The World

[The following is passed along by Rep. Joseph E. Brett [D-Quincy] who thinks Quincy Sun readers might find it not only interesting but a little thought provoking—especially in these days.]

Copies were distributed in the House of Representatives by Rep. William F. Hogan of Everett, past department commander, American Legion. Actual author apparently is not known.]

I had the meanest Mother in the whole world.

While other kids ate candy for breakfast, I had to have cereal, eggs or toast. When others had cokes and candy for lunch, I had to eat a sandwich. As you guessed, my supper was different from the other kids too.

But at least I wasn't alone in my suffering. My sisters and two brothers had the same mean Mother as I did.

My Mother insisted upon knowing where we were at all times. You'd think we were on a chain gang. She had to know who our friends were and what we were doing. She insisted if we said we'd be gone one hour that we be gone one hour or less—not one hour and one minute.

I am nearly ashamed to admit it, but she actually struck us. Not once but each time we did as we pleased. Can you imagine someone actually hitting a child just because he disobeyed. Now you can begin to see how mean she really was.

The worst is yet to come. We had to be in bed by nine each night and up early the next morning. We couldn't sleep till noon like our friends. So while they slept my Mother actually had the nerve to break the child labor law. She made us work. We had to wash dishes, make beds, learn to cook and all sorts of cruel things. I believe she laid awake at night thinking up mean things to do to us.

She always insisted upon our telling the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, even if it killed us—it nearly did.

By the time we were teenagers, she was much wiser and our life became even more unbearable. None of this tooting the horn of a car for us to come running. She embarrassed us to no end by making our dates and friends come to the door to get us.

I forgot to mention, while my friends were dating at the mature age of 12 and 13, my old fashioned Mother refused to let me date until the age of 15 and 18. Fifteen that is, if you dated only to go to a school function, and that was only once or twice a year.

My Mother was a complete failure as a Mother. None of us has ever been arrested, divorced or beaten by his mate. Each of my brothers served his time in the service of this country.

And whom do we have to blame for this terrible way we turned out? You're right. Our mean Mother.

Look at all the things that we missed. We never got to march in a protest parade, nor to take part in a riot, burn draft cards, and a million and one things that our friends did. She forced us to grow into God-fearing, educated, honest adults.

Using this as a background, I am trying to raise my three children. I stand a little taller and I am filled with pride when my children call me mean.

Because, you see, I thank God. He gave me the meanest Mother in the whole world.

By HENRY BOSWORTH

The issue of "two hats" which may be quite a political hot potato before November, isn't confined to the mayoralty race.

Robert Furtado, the Quincy police detective and senatorial candidate, says he doesn't believe in public officials holding two jobs.

In fact, says he:

"I definitely will take a leave of absence from the police department and be a full-time senator if elected."

FURTADO, of course, has his work cut out for him in trying to wrest the Democratic nomination from Rep.-Council President Arthur Tobin.

Tobin has the advantage of being better known as the result of wearing the two hats of state representative and City Council president. He also has the blessing of Mayor McIntyre.

But, you'd have to say that Furtado has one thing: political guts. Other Democrats—much more prominent—didn't want to take Tobin on in a primary. Some backed off with the excuse it would "create hard feelings in the party."

With that kind of attitude, the primary election should soon be a thing of the past. Why bother to hold them? Let's skip it and get into the main event. And save the taxpayers a little money.

POLITICAL observers, incidentally, wouldn't be surprised to see Tobin give up his City Council seat if elected Senator in July.

And, the Speculation Corps is wondering if George McDonald might decide to step down as a councillor this year.

If both he and Tobin bow out, it will mean two council at-large vacancies up for grabs this year.

MEANWHILE, Mayor McIntyre is still keeping 'em guessing on whether he will go for a fourth term. Insiders say he "really isn't sure". While he's mentally wrestling with the question, some of the so-called experts are leaning to the announcement that he won't run again.

WHILE IN City Hall the other day to confer with City Solicitor Harry Pavan, Atty. William Delahunt who is running for the Ward 5 council seat, plopped into one of the City Council chamber chairs to wait. And, guess whose seat it was? Yep, Ward 5 Councillor Walter Hannon's.

"Just trying it out," Delahunt mused.

Political observers figure he is the man to beat for the seat being vacated by Hannon to run for Mayor.

He came within 40-something votes of upsetting Hannon last year.

This year, Hannon is out of it. And Delahunt now has four of the other 1969 Ward 5 contenders in his corner: William Grindlay, Dennis Toland, John Brady, Atty. George Litif.

Incidentally, Delahunt's campaign manager is Atty. Joseph Killion, law partner of Richard W. Barry, former city councillor and assistant district attorney.

MILESTONE: Eddie Scolamiero, the West Quincy tonsorial artist, and wife Ann will mark their 44th wedding anniversary Saturday. Eddie was once considered Rudolph Valentino's look-alike when he and Billy DeWolfe were ushering together at the old Quincy Theater.

HAIR, YE! City Clerk John Gillis has abandoned the crew cut ranks after many years for a full head of hair... But it's just the reverse for City Assessor John Comer. After letting his grow back he's returned to the crew cut ranks.

LOOK ALIKES: Leslie Molyneux, Quincy School Committee candidate, and the late actor, Leslie Howard. [Remember Howard in "Gone With The Wind" and the "Petrified Forest"?]

TYPO TERROR DEPT: In The Springfield Union: "Betty is a dark-eyed mess from Atlanta."

SMILE DEPT: Good friend Hector Pelletier secretary treasurer of the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Assn. tells about the housewife who complained to her husband:

"Just look at me, my clothes are drab and shabby. If anyone came to the door, he'd think I was the cook."

Replied the husband: "Not if he stayed for dinner."

Citizens Assn. Favors Full Time Mayor

[Cont'd from Page 1]

J. Hannon, a mayoralty candidate, have criticized McCormick's statement.

Pointing out that he will complete his two-year term as state representative if elected Mayor, and decide later whether to seek re-election in 1972, Hannon said,

"If Mr. McCormick knew and understood the relationship between city and state government, and it is obvious from his statement that he does not know, he would appreciate the 'luxury' of a senator and mayor or representative and mayor."

McIntyre defended his six years as mayor and state senator, noting, "Mr. McCormick's remarks show an appalling lack of appreciation of the accomplishments in Quincy under the dual representation of both Mayor Della Chiesa and Mayor McIntyre, and a frighteningly inadequate understanding of the present city's problems and solutions to them.

"It is unfortunate, but Jim McCormick just doesn't understand the intimate relationship between state and city government."

The Quincy Citizens Association has reaffirmed also a recommendation that the Mayor receive a salary of $20,000, double the present salary.

"The best way is to have a full-time Mayor, just like any big company," Miss Kelly noted. "We think a million dollar budget, [almost $40 million] merits a full time executive at the head, not underlings running the business while he is here part time."

So far as McCormick's position is concerned, Miss Kelly said:

"We are not political. We only take a stand in the best interests of the City, and we think it is the principle involved in this case rather than the man. It is not our position to support any candidate. Our interests are confined to issues rather than politicians."

"We are not planning to endorse Jim McCormick, nor are we opposed to McCormick, but we think it is in the best interests of the City and we are recommending that voters consider the one man-one job concept."

HN Legion Post Announces Flag Essay Contest Winners

BEER AND PIZZA - Group of patients at Quincy Nursing Home enjoy a new type of therapy -- "A beer and pizza party". Chef Dominic Eno does slicing honors at right.

'Just What Doctor Ordered'

Beer, Pretzels, Pizza Party For 75 Nursing Home Patients

Beer, pretzels and pizza were "just what the doctor ordered" for fun and enjoyment therapy at a recent party attended by 75 patients on the patio at Quincy Nursing Home.

With the approval of attending physicians, beer was served to patients in limited amounts, and non-alcoholic beverages were also available.

Norman Daley of Gateway to Music in Wollaston provided organ music. Representatives of the Quincy Council on Aging and Quincy Senior Citizens groups entertained in a program of singing and dancing. Beer was provided by Rheingold Breweries, Inc. Mrs. Betty. Ceurvels of Weymouth, activities director at Quincy Nursing Home, was in charge of the party.

Many experts in geriatrics have been advocating an occasional drink of beer or wine to improve the appetites of the elderly, help them relax and make them happier, according to Nydia R. Lopez, Occupational Therapy Consultant at the home.

Canvas Creates Right Mood

From the terrace, by the swimming pool, over the patio . . . versatile canvas creates exactly the right mood.

Canvas is so traditional, yet so contemporary; so sturdy, yet so stylish. That's the charm of decorating with this distinctive cotton fabric — anything goes!

Because of its firm body, wide color range, and unique design flexibility, canvas can be adapted to suit the most exacting need, the most fastidious taste.

Attach a side curtain to hooks around the edge of a big beach umbrella and you have a portable canvas cabana. Detach the curtain and it doubles as a sunning mat.

Pastel-tinted canvas petals supported by metal pipes embedded in flower pots create a colorful garden pavilion of pure delight.

A vaulted canvas roof can make apartment balcony living a comfortable, private affair.

Canvas comes in a wide variety of weights, finishes, and weaves. Army cotton duck is the top-grade, all-purpose canvas. It's specified most for awnings, canopies, outdoor curtains, sun and wind shields, furniture, and other exterior-interior uses.

Generally, canvas is treated for mildew-resistance and for water repellency during manufacture. It also can be treated to meet government specifications on fire resistance.

New finishes, such as acrylic paints and vinyl coatings, make canvas last longer, keep its color and resist soil. And what clear and true colors, from the sophisticated solid white that's so popular this season to bold shades of royal blue and peacock green . . . or the warmer ranges of hot orange, pale pink, and lemon yellow.

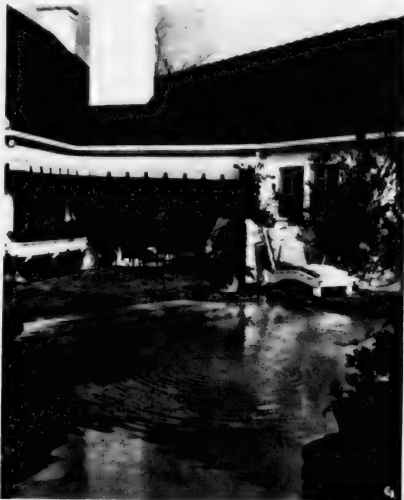

As for canvas patterns, you name it and your awning dealer can get it for you. Maybe wide stripes that give a festive flair or narrow, multi-colored ribbon stripes. How about rich solids that lend a note of elegance . . . or crisp checks and plaids for that jaunty look?

Position an old iron bedstead on the terrace. Place thereon a floral-designed canvas mattress and matching pillows. Voila!—a lounging couch.

Decorate the terrace entrance with a floor-length tieback canvas curtain and an overhead awning valance. Add a couple of giant plants, a coffee table, and director's chairs covered with canvas in flashing black and white zebra stripes. Hang up an abstract painting. Result: an "in" place to be.

A white valanced awning gives privacy and sun protection to the poolside area. For the large brick patio leading to the garden, striped canvas with tassels produces a glamorous setting.

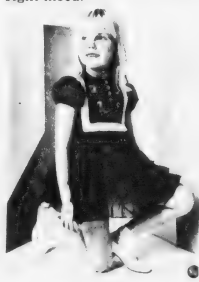

That's the thing about canvas . . . it creates exactly the right mood.

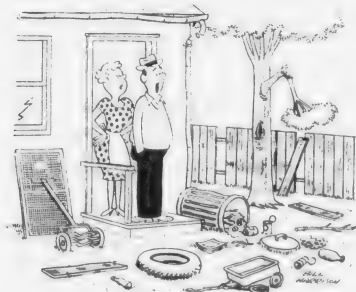

BY THE POOL—Here a snug, canvas-sheltered patio room has been added to the outdoor poolside area. The canvas canopy is one of the most popular and practical ways of providing protection from sun, rain, and wind. Because of its flexibility, cotton canvas adapts readily to many imaginative and artistic treatments.

FROM THE TERRACE—Cotton canvas strikes a stylish note on this unusual terrace. A converted iron bedstead fitted out with canvas cushions makes a conversation piece and adds seating and sunning space. Tieback canvas curtains topped by a Mediterranean awning valance frame the wrought iron double-door entrance, and zebra-striped canvas covers handsome director's chairs grouped around a refreshment table.

GIRLISH—For that first party dress, what could be more feminine than navy cotton voile . . . treated to dainty ruffles, delicate embroidery, and crisp white lace. Styled by Kate Greenaway.

"Now, what was it you wanted me to do?"

Week of June 10 - 17

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - A sudden change could bring about some astounding results either good or bad. Examine electric equipment and replace worn parts.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - The actions of others could spark off an event of far reaching consequence that benefits you in foreseeable future.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - If your efforts have been well directed, this is an outstanding week for achievements. Travel, law, and study are well favored.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - The revealing of a hidden factor could bring about a separation. You may have to keep what you know to yourself.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - Any work that is original or creative brings sudden good fortune. New friendships widen your circle of influence.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - If you got off the ground on time, the work you have been doing should now begin showing some startling results.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - A separation brings an unexpected gain or chance to travel or study that will alter your future and bring new friendships.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - There are still problems that need delicate handling to avoid disputes. Use honey, not vinegar when dealing with superiors.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - A change that's taking place will put your future on a more even keel. Develop your interest in advanced thought.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - Something you hadn't counted on makes you irritable. Since some things can't be avoided, make the best of it.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - Things taking place now puts you in a happy frame of mind. You should seek to improve financial and social standing.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Someone may be trying to take advantage of you so watch out for misrepresentation especially if it involves a "good buy".

Of course you can. There are many ways in which you can decolorize your favorite recipes, so that you don't feel as if you are a martyr replete with sackcloth and ashes.

Have you ever fried mushrooms, eggs or onions in a small amount of consomme? Try it for slimming goodness. Or have you ever thought of substituting sugar substitutes in your favorite chicken or meat glaze? Part skim yogurt makes a good substitute for sour cream [not over potatoes of course—life isn't that good to diet!], but over cut up bananas or vegetables, it is a refreshing treat.

Make yours a test kitchen—not a test of your willpower. 'Cause I don't think we dieters have much of that, but a test to see just how many calories you can subtract and still come out with a plus figure for you.

COCKROACH AND FOOD POISONING

The cockroach has long been suspected of being a disease carrier, but now, after 12 years of extensive tests at the University of Minnesota, it has been conclusively proven that cockroaches are capable of acquiring, harboring and spreading Salmonella food poisoning. It's symptoms involve acute diarrhea, abdominal cramps, vomiting, prostration and sometimes death.

Many outbreaks attributed to rodents may actually have been caused by roaches. Even when a roach is dead, his evil may live. While walking over food and dishes, he may have contaminated these objects. It was found that Salmonella bacteria can remain viable on glass dishes for 34 days, on corn flakes for 62 days and on soda crackers for 88 days.

Advice: Make sure all food in cupboards is tightly covered and at the first indication of cockroaches, call the exterminator. ***

Fred D. Murphy, 74, of 59 Lynnfield St., Holbrook, formerly of Quincy, unexpectedly at South Shore Hospital, Weymouth, June 7.

Services Today For Arthur I. Burgess

Funeral services for Atty. Arthur I. Burgess, 77, retired state legislator, city official, former Quincy Savings Bank president and first Kiwanis president, will be held today at 1 p.m. in First Baptist Church of Wollaston.

Mr. Burgess died Sunday at his summer home on Lake Thompson, Me., of an apparent heart attack. Burial will be in Mount Wollaston Cemetery.

Former Mayor Thomas S. Burgin, a friend and associate for nearly 50 years, said of him:

"A gentleman in its highest sense, he earned the respect and admiration of those who were privileged to know him, both in the business world and in the many civic and community activities to which he gave so generously of his time and effort.

"... Arthur was not a native son of Quincy. He loved his 'adopted city' however and dedicated the greater part of his life towards making it a better place in which to live and work. In public life we served together in the Massachusetts House of Representatives during the years 1929 and 1930 and in our city government several years later. His record stands as one of honor, dignity and sincerity of purpose."

"To Mrs. Burgess and the members of the Burgess family, I express personally and as a former Mayor of the City of Quincy the sincere sympathy of the entire community. May he be comforted in this hour of bereavement in knowing of the high regard and esteem in which Arthur I. Burgess was held by those who knew him."

Mayor James R. McIntyre said of Mr. Burgess, "He was a distinguished former city solicitor. I am going to miss him personally as a man for whom I had great admiration and respect."

Flags on municipal buildings in Quincy were flown at half mast in his honor.

Mr. Burgess is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eleanor L. (Benson) Burgess; two sons, Arthur I. Burgess Jr. and Donald W. Burgess, both of Braintree; a daughter, Mrs. Marthur Bumgardner of Kingston; and six grandchildren.

Living, Today

By Dr. William F. Knox

'A Spoiled Brat Can Change'

"I don't know how I could have been so stupid to have married this guy"...the wife was saying. "He's so immature. He's an emotional cripple. He wants his wife to be a mother to him. He doesn't know how to treat a woman...he can't relate to me or the children. He can't make decisions. He isn't really a man. What am I going to do? I just feel trapped."

Her husband objected to some of her allegations...but he confirmed that basically what she had said was true. He wasn't a violent man...just a dull immature man. There are lots of marriages that are existing in a state of immaturity and dullness. Many of them can be restored...but chances are that the individuals must first change their immature behavior.

As an adult you have the freedom ..and the ability to change those immature behavior patterns in your life which are making you miserable...and which are preventing you from being happy within yourself and with your partner.

Here's the slob...the poor housekeeper...the partner who won't enter into dialogue...the wife who competes and resists her husband...the husband who always has to win every argument...the wife who is more concerned with pleasing her mother and father than her husband...the man who puts his mother before his wife...the compulsive drinker...the tightwad...the spoiled brat...the mama's boy...[these fellows are hard to live with]...all of them immature. But...THESE PEOPLE CAN CHANGE THEIR IMMATURE BEHAVIOR PATTERNS. When these conditions prevail in a home...it's no wonder that the romance has gone from the marriage.

Whatever we learn we can unlearn. Early life conditioning doesn't have to be permanent...patterns of life that don't fit...which make you an unhappy person and partner...CAN BE CHANGED. HOW? First...by becoming truly AWARE OF WHAT YOU FEEL. Many people are bogged down because they've quit feeling...or never learned to recognize their feelings. Often I say in counseling...“What are you feeling right now?” I get answers such as...“I don't know”...“Not much”...“Nothing”...indicating that many of us do not know ourselves. We don't seem to know what we really feel. We're living so glibly...so shallowly...that we are even insensitive to our own feelings...therefore we are insensitive to the feelings of other people. We need to become AWARE...to start feeling...even though it's disturbing to bring our feelings to the surface. Be aware of your feelings. If you feel hurt acknowledge it. If you feel anger recognize it and find useful ways to express it. If you feel love show it. If you feel empathy don't be ashamed of it.

Secondly...WANT TO CHANGE. Sometimes the best motivation to changing one's immature behavior is to have the situation get so unbearable that one is forced to change it. It's nice to read a good article on one's shortcomings and be able to say..."That's my problem...from this day forward I'll be that mature...new...nice self." But more often we have to be forced to change by a painful situation. It's so much easier not to grow up...to resist change. We are prone to hand on to our immature unworkable patterns learned in earlier days...and to rationalize away the need to change. Get rid of that which isn't working for you. You learned it. you can unlearn it...and bring into your life new and more mature patterns.

Finally...GET A NEW IMAGE OF YOUR SELF. Close your eyes [when you finish this article]...sit there and envision the new YOU...free of the old immature behavior pattern which has caused you to be dull...depressed...hurt...lonely. See yourself in the new clothing of new positive feelings...being expressed in new ways of life. If once a slob the new image can be one of order and neatness. If once a poor conversationalist the new image can be one of give-and-take in true dialogue of sharing pleasantries...deep talk...chit-chat. Rather important to a marriage. If once you were a spoiled brat...or a mama's boy...the new image can be one of being responsible for your own actions and decisions. Images of the new mature YOU.

Dr. Abrahamson in his book "The Road To Emotional Maturity"...suggests that you are emotionally mature when you understand yourself realistically...accept your assets and liabilities and live happily within them...feel and show enthusiasm and spontaneity...give and receive love without fear...form adult emotional relationships...are able to express anger constructively...make sound decisions and follow through on them...are able to grow emotionally...intellectually...and spiritually...plan your future with realistic goals in sight...and are able to face trouble and rebound without loss of faith in yourself."

That's the emotional maturity...that might also be a good definition of happiness.

Dawes Estate To Get Free, Fast Paint Job On June 19

The Dawes Estate Recreation Center on Quincy Shore Drive is the target of a volunteer project of the Painting and Decorating Contractors June 19.

Some 25 men from Painters District Council No. 35 are contributing their time to paint this house in an estimated four to five hours, weather permitting.

Tools, paint and staging material will be donated by association members and local paint manufacturers and suppliers.

The Dawes cottage, a bequest to the City of Quincy, is used for outings by patients from local nursing homes. A ramp has been built for their convenience there. The Quincy Recreation Department also uses the building for training sessions.

City officials and officers of the Painting & Decorating Contractors of Eastern Massachusetts, Inc. are expected to view the fast-moving paint job, held as a part of National Painting & Decorating Week, June 12-19.

Two Quincy Men Participate In U.S. Army Field Band, Concert

Two Quincy men participated in Wednesday's concert by the internationally-famed U.S. Army Field Band and Soldiers' Chorus at the MDC's Hatch Memorial Shell on the Charles River, Boston.

They are Specialist 5 Brian J. Coughlin, son of Jerome Coughlin of 16 Poplar Ave., and Sgt. 1/C Frederick A. Stearns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Stearns, Sr. of 274 Washington St.

Sgt. Stearns, public information and public relations specialist, has been with the Army Field Band since February, 1963. He graduated from Medford High School and attended Northeastern University's School of Fine and Applied Arts. Before organizing the Field Band's information office he performed for four years as its solo French horn player.

Specialist Coughlin has been a vocalist in the Soldiers' Chorus since November, 1970. He graduated from Quincy High School in 1966 and attended Lowell State College where he majored in applied voice. Before entering the Army he performed with the Lowell State College All-College Chorus and Concert Choir, was soloist at the Atlantic Methodist Church in Quincy, assistant choir director at the Plymouth Congregational Church in Framingham, and assistant choir director and soloist at the First Parish Unitarian Church in Concord.

Joseph Nicastro Accepted As Candidate For U-Mass Doctorate

Joseph S. Nicastro, Research Assistant to Quincy School Superintendent Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon, has been accepted by the University of Massachusetts as a candidate for the Doctorate in Education.

Nicastro has been granted a one year sabbatical by the Quincy School Committee so that he may participate in the program. He has also been informed that he is the recipient of a doctoral fellowship under a special Ford Foundation Grant.

Earlier this year, Nicastro was sponsored by Dr. Charles Buzzell, Massachusetts Associate Commissioner of Occupational Education and was selected by the U. S. Office of Education to be a Doctoral Candidate under a federal program for developing Vocational leadership.

However, he has elected to attend the University of Massachusetts program because of the potential benefits to the Quincy Public Schools. Under the program, he will be allowed to work on projects at the University and in Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicastro reside at 45 Edison St., Quincy. Their four children, Joseph, Dean Paul, Susan and John, also have an active interest in education. In fact, Dean Paul Nicastro has announced his plans, to be a candidate for the Quincy School Committee.

$157,409 HUD Grant

Congressman James A. Burke (D-Milton) announces that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has awarded a $157,409 grant to Quincy, under the Code Enforcement Program.

This will supplement the release of May 27 for the amount of $463,000.

The funds will be used to substantially improve the area bounded by Newport Ave., West Squantum St., and Evans St., by bringing properties up to code standards.

Firefighters To Hold Memorial Exercises

Annual memorial exercises of the Quincy Firemen's Relief Association will take place Sunday at 10:30 a.m. at the Quincy Fireman's Memorial Monument in Mount Wollaston Cemetery.

Formal exercises will be preceded by a parade starting at 10 a.m. from Central Fire Station at 40 Quincy Ave., proceeding down Hancock St. to the cemetery.

Fire Chief Edward F. Barry will preside at the exercises.

Mayor James R. McIntyre will speak.

Also participating will be Americo Speranzo, association president; Joseph Lemieux, vice president; and Joseph Malvesti, treasurer, who will place a wreath at the monument; and John Bille, secretary, reading the Roll of Honor.

In the event of rain, the program will be held at United Spanish War Veterans Memorial Hall, 24 High School Ave.

Young People 'Rejecting Despair, Embracing Hope', Says Creedon

was host for the traditional cap and gown ceremonies with a large attendance of parents, friends and relatives looking proudly on.

The graduates took home with them more than 200 scholarships and other awards of distinction.

The text of Dr. Creedon's address follows:

In 1970, Janis Joplin, a famed rock singer, took her own life. Seemingly, she had lost hope in mankind and confidence in herself. In a final rejection of society she remarked:

"Things aren't going to get any better, so stay stoned and have a good time."

A scant year ago Miss Joplin's neo-epicurean epithet seemed to epitomize the thinking of millions of America's young people, but conditions are beginning to change and the young men and women of today are rejecting the despair of the Janis Joplin and are embracing the hope of Peter Yates as they raise their voices to proclaim:

"Don't stop the world; I'm still on it."

The world that tonight's graduating seniors entered nearly two decades ago has not been as any of us would have had it.

Many members of this class were born in the year that the United States was once again bringing home its fighting men from an Asian battlefield. Hope warmed the hearts of man. Once again, the new Establishment, but then young people called out:

"Don't stop the world; I'm still on it."

However, within a few short years, and at about the time tonight's graduates were to enter kindergarten, Americans began to live a decade that harbored a succession of the most cancerous social calamities ever to face this nation.

Year in and year out as tonight's graduates progressed through school they were inundated with a litany of lament and despair.

While they were learning the rudiments of reading, writing, and arithmetic in the primary grades, the Soviets provoked incidents that resulted in this nation mobilizing for war, the Berlin Wall was erected, and Castro conquered Cuba.

Again, and while still in elementary school, they struggled to grasp the full meaning of the nation's discovery that the Soviet Union and Cuba had erected missile sites 90 miles off the shore of Florida. The threat of war once again preoccupied us all.

Then, somewhere around the time of their tenth birthday, America suffered one of its darkest hours as President John F. Kennedy was assassinated.

As they were about to leave elementary school, war did come. It still goes on, and some of them will fight it.

During their days in junior high school our nation was under attack from within, and the ugly cry of insurrection and civil war was heard as race riots ran rampant all over the land.

As our honored graduates entered high school, the world they were on didn't get any better -- it continued to deteriorate as Dr. Martin Luther King and Senator Robert F. Kennedy were felled by assassins.

During their high school days tonight's graduates witnessed riots and civil disobedience descend upon colleges and high schools throughout the land.

For most of their young lives tonight's graduates have lived in a world that Fred Wilhelm described when he wrote:

"Some men die of shrapnel
And some go down in flames
But most men perish bit by bit
In play at little games."

Obviously, all of us are tired of men dying of shrapnel and going down in flames, and today's young people, through a renewed and emerging idealism, spoken to by our three student spokesmen--Miss Carolyn Trout, Mr. Robert Saltzman and Mr. Timothy Hart--reject the notion that most men must perish bit by bit in play at little games.

My experience with the 1971 graduating class leads me to believe that they are a generation on the road to wisdom. It leads me to be confident that they have a sense of direction that is consistent with the American Dream. They have lived their public school careers during troubled times and have come to realize along with Piet Hein that:

"The Road to Wisdom, The Road to Wisdom Well, It's Plain and Simple to Express: Err - and Err - and Err again, But Less - and Less - and Less."

Following that road is difficult in that it has not been paved, and there are no infallible sign posts; yet those who travel it know that it leads to a better future for all mankind.

And now on behalf of the entire faculty of the Quincy Public Schools, it is my pleasure to inform the members of the Quincy School Committee--Mayor McIntyre, Mr. McCormick, Mr. Anselmo, Mr. Kelly, Mrs. Mitchell, Miss Scanlan, and Mr. Sweeny--that the candidates for high school graduation assembled before you have fulfilled all the requirements laid down by you and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

I recommend that they be graduated from the Quincy Public Schools and receive their high school diploma.

Idealism, Responsibility, Education Student Themes

Three student speakers at graduation exercises were Timothy B. Hart of Quincy Vocational Technical School whose topic was "Without Technology"; Carolyn Trout of Quincy High School, discussing "Idealism: Fake or Genuine"; and Robert Saltzman of North Quincy High School who related an "Epic" on "Community Responsibility".

Hart extolled the value of vocational education, pointing out that without technicians, "today we would be uncivilized."

Carolyn Trout's presentation dealt with the idealist and his role in a prejudiced and changing society.

"It's not enough to say what we mean! Society demands much more of us! Our Idealism MUST be genuine!" she declared.

Saltzman, relating the story of "Sam Student" in pseudo-Biblical style, brought him through school and college to his ultimate goal -- entering the community.

"A continuing process," he said, "education, community, responsibility, education again, a new community..."

Alan Colby, Quincy High School Senior Class president, introduced Mayor James R. McIntyre as head of a city where "student activism" had produced changes benefiting all involved in its educational processes through "the learning experience of encounter."

Atlantic Junior Graduates 'Say It With Flowers'

Eighth grade students at Atlantic Junior High School "said it with flowers" this week when they presented each member of the school staff, teachers, secretarial and custodial help, with a corsage or boutonniere.

Along with the flowers were "thank you" notes for two years of dedicated service to youngsters at Atlantic.

The occasion was "Teachers Day", recently designated by Gov. Francis Sargent.

109 Receive Degrees At Eastern Nazarene College

Some 109 graduates from Eastern Nazarene College received degrees at the 49th annual Commencement held on the college lawn in front of Gardner Hall, the college's administration building.

Dr. Samuel Young, senior general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene and former president of Eastern Nazarene College, was the commencement speaker.

In his address entitled "A Whole God for the Whole Man" he stated that "It is easy to be pessimistic about any age." He also pointed out that "every generation is an authority on its own needs and sins."

"Whatever else you do, he concluded, don't try to be your own God, for you may wind up as Dostoevski described some in his day, 'Man wanting to be God and acting like the devil.' Let the half-gods go—they are cheap—but no bargain. Give the God of the Christian revelation your full allegiance."

Awarded were 98 Bachelor degrees, seven Associate degrees and four Masters degrees. An additional 26 students were congratulated who will receive their degrees following their summer study.

The academic procession was headed by Junior Honor Students Susan Watkins of West Farmington, Ohio and Kim Richardson of Easton, Me., who carried the American and Massachusetts flags respectively. The Christian flag was carried by Mark Bromley of West Chazy, N.Y., Student Council Vice President-elect and Janet Simonson of Oceanside, N.Y., Student Council President-elect, carried the College Banner.

Music was by the A Cappella Choir and the Brass Ensemble under the direction of J. Gregory Larkin, Jr., Associate Professor of Music at ENC.

Joseph Gray of Boston, was valedictorian and Mrs. Nancy Johnson Keen of Wollaston, was salutatorian.

This was the first commencement for Dr. Leslie Parrott, president of Eastern Nazarene College, since he assumed his duties as president last Aug. 1.

Degrees conferred were:

Varney Key Man For Harvard In College World Series Friday

When Harvard's baseball team opens its quest for the College World Series championship Friday at Omaha, Neb., the key man for the Crimson will be North Quincy's Pete Varney.

Varney, who was expected to be drafted early Tuesday in the major league's college draft, led Harvard to the Greater Boston League, Eastern League and NCAA District 1 titles this season.

Pete, one of the top catchers in the country, drove in one run with a double and scored another last week as Harvard swept a twinbill from U. Mass., 2-1 and 4-2, to win the NCAA District 1 crown and a berth in the NCAA finals at Omaha. In the 1-0 win over Cornell which gave the Crimson the Eastern College title, Varney's double was a key blow.

This spring the former North Quincy star batted .391, had 27 runs batted in and hit several home runs.

Last year Pete batted .375, drove in 37 runs and had 10 homers and two years ago as a sophomore he batted .377, had 17 runs batted in and had two homers.

Although one of the top college catchers around, the 6-3, 235-pound Varney last year played first base and two years ago played mostly in the outfield. He made the All-Eastern team last year.

"Catching is his best position but he is so versatile that I used him in the outfield and at first base as we had other good catchers," Coach Loyal Park said.

Varney has been drafted five times by major league teams but refused to sign each time in order to complete his Harvard education. Now, with college over, he admits he is interested.

There is no doubt the big receiver will receive a healthy bonus to sign.

There is another promising catcher in the Varney family, incidentally. Paul, a sophomore at Milton Academy, is a 6-1½, 225-pound catcher who is a fine batter and has a great arm. He may be following in Pete's footsteps.

And Pete's sister was an outstanding basketball player at North Quincy High last winter.

Cardinal Cushing Award Winner

Baiorunos Catholic Leagues Outstanding Scholar-Athlete

Jack Baiorunos, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Baiorunos of 69 Andrew Rd, Wollaston, was this week named the winner of the 1971 Cardinal Cushing Memorial Award as the outstanding scholar-athlete of the Catholic Leagues of all sports.

The 6-5, 225-pound Boston College High senior is headed for Penn State, then probably to pro football and a career in dentistry.

The ceremony at CYO Headquarters in Boston, where Rt. Rev. Robert W. McNeill, CYO and Catholic League director, also revealed the names of 14 other finalists, was attended by John Rosenberg, as assistant football coach at Penn State.

The principal speaker was Thomas E. Moran, newly-appointed Associate Director of Physical Education for the Boston Public Schools.

Rev. Joseph E. Mullen, S.J., Director of Guidance at B. C. High, wrote of the winner, "John is a remarkable young man, sincere, responsible, mature, ambitious, a leader. He is president of the student council and has been an asset here. He will add much to Penn State."

Jack's father is a former football captain at Brockton High and later was an all-New England guard for Holy Cross. A brother, Barry, 21, an Abp. Williams graduate, is a senior at Northeastern where he rowed with the crew.

Mrs. Baiorunos, the former Mary Dobbins, is a dental hygienist. "That is perhaps the real reason Jack wants to become a dentist," she said. "He has been most interested in my work."

Jack was talented enough last fall to win all-scholastic first team honors as a tackle with two Boston newspapers. He was regular center in basketball and a shotputter in track.

He was sought after as a football prospect by many colleges and had full scholarship offers from Harvard, Purdue, Notre Dame and Boston College. He chose Penn State because it has a highly-regarded pre-dental course and because, as his mother put it, "he wanted to get away from the home area."

The young giant is so great a football prospect that he has been wooed and scouted by pro football perhaps as much as the colleges. Pro experts have him labeled as certain to make it to the pros.

The pros have made arrangements for several current pro stars who are presently studying law or medicine while playing with pro teams to talk with young Baiorunos on the phone with encouragement as to how he can plan to do both after graduating from college.

Mrs. Felix O'Connor, John Donovan Pace Furnace Mixed Foursomes

Mrs. Felix O'Connor and John Donovan, with low gross, led the Furnace Brook Golf Club's recent Mixed Scotch foursomes.

Mrs. John Wilson and Quentin McCaffrey had low net; Mrs. Harold Sager and Matthew Smith tied with Mrs. Joseph DiFederico and Robert Roche for second net.

Mrs. DiFederico and Henry Berry, Mrs. Ray McPeck and Anthony Spinello, Mrs. Dennis Morrissey and Joseph Baranco, Mrs. Dolph Aimola and Harold Sager had a four-way tie for third net.

Mrs. Pat Bailee and Mario Serafini, Miss Joy Robbini and Dolph Aimola, Mrs. Pat Bailee and Lloyd Williams tied for fourth net.

In the Tournament Medal Play of 18 holes, Mrs. Richard Hoag was gross winner with 92; Mrs. Joseph DiFederico, first net of 72; Mrs. Freddy Lufty, second net of 76; and Mrs. Felix O'Connor, least putts with 35.

Eagles, Flamingos Lead Lady Birds Bowling Loop

Eagles and Flamingos with standing of 20 wins and four lost each lead the Lady Birds Bowling League in their summer schedule of Tuesday night bowling at the Merrymount Daylight Alleys.

Close behind are the Hawks, 18 to 6, under captain Gail Dillon. Carol Joyce and Marylou Crisp lead the Eagles and Flamingos.

Dru Loud held the night high three of 311, while Marcie Hurley had high single of 121.

Dru Loud with average of 99.4 has high average to date, followed by Claire Mitchell, 98.9 and Gail Dillon, 97.8. Others of the top ten are Judy Kressler, Marian Keefe, Jane Field, Marlene Brigitte, Millie Payne, Joan Ranieri and Rose Cunningham.

Ciano Only Quincy Trackman In New England Meet

Quincy's Bobby Ciano, unbeaten in the mile in the Greater Boston League for two years, will be the only city trackman in Saturday's New England schoolboy championships at Salem, N.H. High School.

Bobby, outstanding junior who won the Class A mile two weeks ago in the state class meet, finished third in the state championships last Saturday with a fine 4:23.5 effort.

It took a record breaking 4:18.5 by Lawrence's Jim Kent to win the mile run.

"Bobby's performance pleased me because he wasn't feeling well," Coach Tom Hall said. "I think he will make a good showing in the New England."

Hayes Elected President Quincy Youth Hockey League

Robert Hayes has been elected president of Quincy Youth Hockey League for the 1971-72 season.

Other officers are Harry Messina, vice president, Bob Fitzpatrick, treasurer; Fred Murray, clerk.

Directors will be Ed Mitchell, three years; John Murphy, Tom Hefferan and Gerry McGrath, two years; John Lynch and Frank Lapierre, one year.

A shakeup in the Quincy Softball League's standings found A & T Movers dropping into second place behind Pete's Lounge in the South Division while Steve's Place defeated Dee Dee's in the North Division.

Hofbrau's 7-4 defeat of A & T Movers placed Pete's Lounge in the lead after downing the Jolly Roger 8-1 in the South Division. Currently Beau's Place [last year's league champs] is the South's hottest team with five straight wins after dropping their opening two games. They are now tied with Bersani Bros. for third place, both with 5-2 records.

In the North Division Steve's Place and Dee Dee's, two of the top three teams, met head on with Steve's place emerging victorious 12-5 to become league leader. Steve's Place had lost their first game to the China Lido 15-11, but have run up the leagues' longest winning streak to date with six straight victories.

Barry's Deli could possibly be the league's most improved team. After three straight losses they have now pulled themselves up to a 500 win-loss percentage, as they turned it on at the expense of South Shore National Bank by a 27-0 score.

June 11 Round 1 of the league's three rounds will be completed. The teams so far have played only in their own divisions, but in the second round the two divisions play each other exclusively. This appears to be the moment everyone has been awaiting and promises to be extremely interesting to both players and fans.

Interest has been building in both divisions as the long unanswered question of whether the old Merchants League or the Acme League was the better will be decided by actual competition.

Quincy Girls' Track Team Still Winless But Improving

Although Quincy's first girls' track team is still having its troubles and has yet to win a meet, the girls are gaining valuable experience against veteran teams.

"Every school we have faced has had girls' track for several years and they have some real standouts," Coach Pete Gallagher said. "Hingham, Attleboro, Needham and Canton are all experienced and Canton and Needham have two of the finest teams I've seen. We are inexperienced but are coming along and our day will come."

Quincy has received some excellent individual performances and two of them come from girls still in junior high school.

Maria Ciano, sister of Quincy's sensational Bobby Ciano and sophomore stickout Pete, has made a habit of winning the mile run and Jill Seamans has done well in the half mile. Both are Central Junior High students and helped Coach Gerry Hurley at the Central boys' meets, performing various chores.

In a recent 77½-46½ loss to Canton, Quincy's winners were Debby Congdon in the long jump, Kathy Ilacqua, 50-yard hurdles; Karen Fruzzetti, 100; Kathy Ilacqua, 50-yard dash, and Miss Ciano, mile.

Second places were taken by Miss Fruzzetti, javelin and high jump; Miss Seamans, 880; Miss Congdon, 220; the 440-yard relay team and the 880-yard relay team.

Taking third places were Miss Fruzzetti, shot put; Margaret Ryan, hurdles; Jean Macchi, 100; Miss Congdon, tied in the 50-yard dash, and Kathy Glennon, mile.

In a 93-31 loss to Needham Miss Ciano in the mile and Linda Robinson in the shot put gave Quincy its lone wins.

Second places went to Miss Macchi, javelin; Judy Foley, long jump and high jump; Miss Glennon, mile; and both relay teams.

Taking thirds were Davelyn Ross, javelin; Miss Ilacqua, 50-yard dash, and Miss Robinson, 220.

"Judy Foley was outstanding as she had never tied the long jump or high jump before but took second in both," Gallagher said.

Irish Feis June 13

The Second Annual South Shore Irish Feis will be held June 13 in Quincy Veterans Memorial Stadium, Hancock St. commencing at 11 a.m.

Purpose of the Feis is to encourage continued interest in Irish Cultural activities among children and adults.

There will be competitions in Irish step dancing for all age groups, with minor junior and senior championships, and a teachers' choreography. Competitions will be judged by qualified out-of-town adjudicators.

There will also be singing and accordion competitions with judges for each.

Refreshments will be available.

John P. Foley is committee chairman, assisted by John H. Derwin, secretary, and John R. Powers, treasurer.

Spotlight On Junior High Sports

Central Junior Wins Pentagonal Meet

Broad Meadows was undefeated in Quincy Junior High dual track meets this spring but Central again won the annual Pentagonal meet last week at Quincy Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Gerry Hurley's Central team edged Mike Brophy's Broad

Meadows club, 55 to 52½.

Sterling finished third, followed by Atlantic-North and Point.

During the league season Broad Meadows handed Central its only loss in the final dual meet of the year.

Central To Send Another Ciano To Quincy Track Team

Quincy High's track opponents will have to put up with a Ciano for several years to come.

Bobby, brilliant junior distance runner, is unbeaten over a two-year stretch in the Greater Boston League two-mile and holds the school and league record.

His sophomore brother Peter is an excellent miler improving all the time and could approach his brother's feats before he graduates.

And one of the top runners on this year's Central Junior High team is Joe Ciano, an eighth-grader who excels in the one-lap run.

Bobby and Pete also got their starts at Central and Coach Gerry Hurley feels Joe will follow right in his brothers' footsteps.

"Joe is a very determined youngster and I suppose having such fine high school runners for older brothers gives him that much more incentive," Hurley said. "He is a fine runner and by next year should be one of the best in the city-wide junior high league." Central is off to another fast start in track and Hurley sees a good season in the offing. A year ago his team uneated North-Atlantic as city champs and also upset N-A in their dual meet.

"This is a very well-balanced league and I think the city-wide meet, pitting the best of each school against each other, should be a corker," the Central coach explained.

The roster includes ninth graders Jim Boc, Teddy Catino, David DiBona, Stephen Dostie, Robert Gordon, Gerry Mullen and Sam Salomaa.

Also eighth graders Richard Avery, Brian Bray, Robert Bryan, Robert Carroll, Joseph Ciano, George Condos, Arthur DiLoreto, Buzzy Djerf, Brad Doten, Frank Goldberg, Dominic Ilacqua, Timothy Kane, Robert Lingoes, Gordon Mattson, John McLaney, Stephen Player, David Potter, Joseph Rice, John Rice and James Timmins.

There is a large group of seventh graders, Kenneth Beagle, Michael Brubaker, Eric Bergstrom, Kevin Bradley, John DiMattio, Kenneth Drain, Richard Flores, Samuel Gravina, John Hatfield, Walter Hannon, Robert Hacunda, Richard Hocking, Dominic Ignagni, Steve Johnson, Paul Keenan, Mark Kimball, Michael Leith, Thomas Sines, Peter Orlando, Michael Sorkin, Joseph O'Connor, John McKenna, Brian McMahon, Edward Mahoney, Michael Mahoney, Martin Mulvey, John Norton, Bryan O'Sullivan, Paul Sullivan, Robert Thorne, Francis Yee and James Zero.

Hurley lists as tops among the ninth graders Mullen, who has done a 2:17 half mile; DiBona in the long jump and Terry Egan in the shot put.

Among the best eighth graders are Ciano and DiLoreto, a fine high jumper.

The top seventh grade performers include Hatfield, high jump and dash, and Ignagni who has done 16-10 in the long jump and is also a good dash man.

Three girls who work out with the boys' team and are really interested in track, Maria Ciano, Jean Seamans and Diane Dunn, act as the team managers and, in Hurley's words "are a big help at the meets."

Atlantic-North Wins Junior Baseball Crown

The Atlantic-North Junior High baseball team has won the city championship for the second successive season.

Coach Mike Hurley's team clinched the title with an 8-7 win over Central to finish with an 8-0 record.

"This was a fine team with a lot of experience," Hurley said. "Most of the boys were ninth graders and most of them played last year as eighth graders. Everyone played and did his part and I feel our second infield could have been starters for most other teams in the league."

The team is made up mainly of ninth graders including:

Frank Shuler, outfield; Paul Rooney, outfield; Andy Gill, third base; John McKinnon, pitcher; Bill BeBearn, outfield; Mike Devine, catcher; Glenn Milner, outfield; Jimmy McCabe, second base; Bert McMahon, shortstop; Co-Capt. Steve McLaughlin, outfield-first base-pitcher; Co-Capt. Mike Martinelli, second base; Phil Robinson, outfield; and Rick McCue, first base.

Bill Connolly is manager.

Others are eighth graders:

Tim Clifford first base-pitcher; Bill Driscoll, pitcher; Steve McKinnon, catcher and Paul Peckham pitcher; and seventh graders Paul Messina, shortstop, and Warren Jordan, third base-pitcher.

"Gill was an outstanding all-round player and McLaughlin was a fine first baseman and our best pitcher," Hurley explained. "Martinelli was a standout at second base, Clifford, an eighth grader, did a fine job as did BeBearn in the outfield. Devine was an excellent catcher, handling the pitchers in fine style and calming them down when they tended to get a little bit excited."

North Golf Team Loses Title By Single Point

Although Jack Donahue's North Quincy golf team, seeking its third straight Mass. Coast League title, defeated Boston Latin, 5½-3½, in its final match to tie Latin for first place with a 9-1 record, the Raiders lost the crown by a single point.

The two teams split their two matches and Latin was ruled the champion by virtue of its greater over-all point totals. 74½-73½.

In the final match North's first team of Tim O'Leary and Jeff Burrell took two points, the middle tandem of Mike Tracey and Bruce Henrickson took only a half point while the final duo of Bob Sullivan and Joe Tighe swept three points.

Betty Grable And--Geritol!

Quote, Unquote: Columbia executive LEO JAFFE bah-humbugging the X-rating handed "DRIVE, HE SAID": It was a picture of great significance while neither pornographic nor obscene"... What a line of bull. The way this column sees it any picture that displays, and plays up, male frontal nudity, and throws in erotic sodomy for good measure is both pornographic and obscene. And as an ed note to JAFFE's out of place statement the films' director JACK NICHOLSON was lustily booed by an audience of foreign filmmakers when said film was previewed at the Cannes Film Festival a few weeks back...

BETTY GRABLE enthusiasts can catch the fabled sex queen of the forties blurring the merits of "Geritol", on the boob tube of course. My, but how the mighty have fallen!... How they still do things in Hollywood Dept: The much publicized "KOTCH" isn't even in the can, and already the pictures' PR men are churning the ink out to the affect that it's star, WALTER MATTHAU, is a shoo-in for next years Oscar. And to that, this critic yawns ho-hum... HORST JANSON makes a more than impressive film debut in "MURPHY'S WAR". Too bad the features' star, PETER O'TOOLE, doesn't as well...

Former footballer FRED WILLIAMSON's can't-miss-as-an-actor career has pulled up lame. Since the cancellation of "JULIA", WILLIAMSON has found it difficult scoring even so much as a character role in any major production. As this column has so often mentioned in the past, hot shot, overpriced athletes are not guaranteed motion picture success because of their on the field exploits. Like you've gotta have talent... Hard to believe, but thus far this year not one rumor to the effect that GRACE KELLY is coming out of retirement, has made the newspaper rounds. Then again the year still has seven months more to go...

Nostalgiaorists might be interested in knowing that one of the late WALT DISNEY's first film endeavors, "TOMMY TUCKER'S TOOTH", was not an animated cartoon. However the 1922 production proved a boon to DISNEY's early career for a few years after its' release, he was on his way onward and upward to film fame... In the tradition of the old Hollywood, a takeoff of the "GODFATHER" is now being readied. And natch' it's to be called "THE GODMOTHER". The comedy-spoof will star none other than PHYLLIS DILLER... ROBERT VAUGHN is in London discussing script changes for his upcoming "MAN IN THE MIDDLE", a picture dealing with an assassination attempt on Josef Stalin. VAUGHN portrays the hero, would-be-assassin...

Spanish actress CARMEN SEVILLA has been selected to play the role of Octavia in the film "ANTHONY AND CLEOPATRA". This will mark Miss SEVILLA's debut in an English film, and could be the pivotal point of an international career in film. For years she has been rated one of Spain's five more popular actresses... And yes, VAN JOHNSON is still appearing in motion pictures, though not in lead roles. He was in Rome recently for a cameo role in "WITH HIS BACK TO THE WALL"... Filipino President FERDINAND MARCOS is threatening all makers of that country's pornographic film with heavy fines and possible imprisonment if the situation doesn't improve. Sex films, or as they're known there, "Bombas", are more in circulation than here in America...

MALCOLM McDOWELL Proves himself one of the best of Englands younger actors with a spellbinding and extremely sensitive performance in the soon-to-be-released "FIGURES IN A LANDSCAPE". If he continues to improve in character depth, with selected future roles, McDOWELL could possibly be this generations answer to LAURENCE OLIVIER. He has that much raw talent and inner capacity for self expression... Since its' inception three years ago, Israeli television has been torn with strife and personality clashes. The latest casualty in a long list of firings and resignations is YORAM RONEN, the former director of news and documentaries...

And whatever became of GARDNER MCKAY?... CHARLIE CHAPLIN was awarded the Legion d'Honneur at the recent Cannes Film Festival. The presentation was made for his contribution to film in its' earlier years... Funny how societies change: England, once the home of ultra "puritanism" is now the den of "permissiveness". Certain elements of that country are so hungry for the bizarre in entertainment that "male strippers" are not only the vogue, but are in demand at some of London's more prominent womens' clubs... JOHN PHILIP LAW, known for his wooden portrayals, leaves one flat with "VON RICHTHOFEN AND BROWN". What gets me is, here you have a man who can't act his way out of a paper bag, and yet he continues to receive his choice of the best available roles.

Council Commends Two For Attempted Rescue Of Mother, Infant

Two men who tried to prevent a young Squantum mother and her infant daughter from plunging 70 feet to their deaths from a water tower were commended by the City Council this week for acting "in the highest realm of a human being."

The men, both New England Telephone Co. employees, are Peter J. Wallace, 40, of Furnace Brook Parkway, Quincy, and Robert M. Flaherty, 23, of Park St., Dorchester.

Mrs. Linda Brown, 29, of 32 Brunswick St. and her 11 months old daughter, Emlyn Kate, were killed May 21 when Mrs. Brown plunged from the Squantum tank clutching the child in her arms.

Mrs. Brown climbed 70 feet up the tower and Wallace followed her, trying to talk her down and to physically keep her and the baby from falling.

Meanwhile, Flaherty had gone to notify police and firefighters.

The commendation in the form of a resolve co-sponsored by Ward 6 Councilor J. Vincent Smyth and Council President Arthur H. Tobin was passed unanimously.

It reads:

"Whereas, the dignity of a human being is held sacred and, whereas, society by nature protects those who jeopardize their life and, whereas, man casts aside thoughts of his own safety to aid a person in distress, therefore be it resolved that the mayor and members of the Quincy City Council publicly and officially commend Peter J. Wallace and Robert M. Flaherty for their acts of heroism on May 21, 1971.

"These two employees of the New England Telephone Co. were working in Squantum when they observed a woman with an infant in her arms on top of the water tower. Robert rushed to seek help.

"Disregarding his own personal safety, Peter immediately climbed the tower to rescue the young mother. His supreme effort was in vain. Thus by Peter's bravery and tenacity of purpose and Robert's teamwork, these men acted in the highest realm of a human being."

RETIRING - Kenneth G. Gardner [second right], retiring personnel director with 30 years' service to the city of Quincy, is feted by co-workers. Mrs. Mary McGinty, acting personnel director; Mrs. Rebecca Sholler, acting head clerk; James J. Ricciuti, executive secretary to Mayor James R. McIntyre. At right is Mrs. Gardner. Gardner had been personnel director since 1958.

2,000 Youngsters To Carry Flags In Koch Club Parade

Some 2,000 "flag-carrying" youngsters from five to 15 years old will be marching in the Koch Club's Flag Day parade on Monday, estimates Richard J. Koch, executive director.

And the youngsters will get to keep their flags - after the parade.

The flags are donated by a committee headed by Frank Nestor, school attendance officer, and includes Police Lt.

Paul Nestor, Asst. City Clerk Thomas Burke, Joseph Donovan, Philip Gacicia, William Morrissey, Thomas Morrissey, Louis Simons and Atty. Thomas Byrnes.

The parade will start at 6:30 p.m. from the Quincy Vocational Technical School parking area and proceed to Veterans Memorial Stadium for ceremonies.

and democratic country. The laws are passed to protect the people from unjust persons who vandalize the country. These laws must be enforced to obtain peace.

When you are tried for something you are judged by a jury of twelve who have sworn to pass fair judgment, taking all into consideration.

Another thing this country can be proud of is its trained armed forces, the Navy, the Army, the Marines and other such military organizations that can be on hand in any emergency. With so many trained forces our country has become the strongest nation in the world.

Everyday groups of people and organizations such as Vista, Peace Corps, Hope and missionaries are going to other countries to administer medical, physical, agricultural and spiritual help to needy people throughout the world.

Space travel is another wonderful thing. Every day men and women are being trained to find out more about this universe we live in.

Every year astronauts are going into outer space to explore new and different planets.

To make our country a better place in which to live, we must make improvements.

Pollution is a subject that is everyone's concern. If we want to live longer and healthier lives, we'll have to do without some of the finer, extra things that aren't necessary. The next generation and the next are counting on us to pull through. Science and progress got us into this, so I think they can get us out.

Police and Lawmen, I pity them. If police were given more rights and were able to defend themselves maybe rioters and unlawful demonstrators would back off instead of throwing stones and bottles thinking they'll get away with it.

Welfare can be a good and helpful thing for people who really need it, but people who don't try to get jobs or help themselves I have no pity. It's just a waste of other people's money.

There are so many things about this country that I love. How people can degrade it the way they do is beyond me. Maybe they haven't read the constitution or the Declaration of Independence lately.

Freedom such as we have shouldn't be taken for granted.

Freedom is a wonderful thing, to know you can think and feel anything you wish without being questioned.

If we don't straighten out and help each other we're going to lose it. Let's do our best!

Parents Council For Action Criticizes QEA On Lunches, Autonomy

Editor, Quincy Sun:

It is difficult for us as citizens to understand the position of the Quincy teachers on the subject of school lunches for needy children. The Quincy Teachers were the only group of educators who testified for the repeal of the School Lunch Law at the State House hearing. In fact the Mass. Teachers Association spoke for the Lunch Programs.

Repeal of this law would have deprived the millions of needy children throughout the Commonwealth of the nutritious lunch which they now receive. At the present time 75% of the states public schools are participating in lunch programs.

It is also difficult to understand why, while the majority of educators in this state believe strongly in fiscal autonomy for school committee, the QEA has not responded publicly to the claim that the law is a "myth". We assume that the QEA will uphold "autonomy" only when the item cut from the budget directly affects the Teachers and/or their interests.

School lunches for needy elementary school children is opposed by Quincy Teachers therefore "no comment" on the fact or fiction of autonomy.

What reaction can we anticipate from the QEA if the Quincy City Council is allowed to set a precedent of cutting items from the School Budgets.

The QPCA feels that it is unjust and unfair for Quincy Teachers to only support "autonomy" when they favor the budget items. QEA silence on this issue can only be regarded as agreement with the City Solicitor H. Pavan ruling that fiscal autonomy is a myth. Sincerely, Latest "whether" report from City Hall is that Mayor McIntyre is still playing mental ping-pong with the Big Question.

He is still undecided whether or not to run for a fourth term.

Meanwhile, the pressure is being put on from political circles and business interests for him to say "Yes", one more time.

Reports are that His Honor is leaning in that direction at the moment.

JAMES [PETE] RICCIUTI, the Mayor's executive right arm, was seriously injured the other day in a fall down a flight of stairs at his home.

He suffered fractured ribs cuts and bruises, and a shaking up. By mid-week he was still a patient at Quincy City Hospital but expected to be released any moment.

Also at the hospital was his 12-year-old daughter, Janice, parting with her tonsils and adenoids.

While Ricciuti is sidelined, City Purchasing Agent George Riley is pinch-hitting for him in the Mayor's office.

GOOD FRIEND Max Zides of Hum 'n Strum fame, is a patient at University Hospital, Boston, Max, since retiring from the entertainment world, has been public relations director at Wollaston Boulevard Bowladrome.

His former partner, Tom Currier, is now in Florida, doing an occasional solo and dabbling in real estate.

If you'd like to drop Max a card his address is:

Room 15; Evans Building, University Hospital, Harrison Ave., Boston, Mass.

And if you're wondering, Max was Hum and Tom was Strum. A real good harmony team, too.

QUINCY KIWANIS Club will be represented at the International Convention in San Francisco June 27-July 1 by William O'Connell and Walter Martinson. [Some guys get all the good assignments]

PROUD POP nomination of the week would have to go to Fred Lane, chief engineer at WJDA. His son, Douglas, was appointed to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

GOV. SARGENT'S office reportedly tried to get Councillor-Rep. Walter Hannon to run for the vacant Senate seat. But he declined—preferring to make his run for mayor.

FORMER grid star Dan Raymondi now attending Boston College Law School, will serve as an aide in the office of Dist. Atty. George Burke this summer. Dan, son of Fred Raymondi, Quincy highway superintendent, is running for the school committee.

THE BUSINESS COMMUNITY and friends will honor retired Quincy Police Detective Warren Corbett at a buffet June 23, 7 p.m., at Montello's Massachusetts Ave., Quincy Point.

Warren has closed out a 33-year career with the police department, a good part of it nabbing bad check artists. He's now with the South Shore National Bank security force.

LEO KELLY, Houghs Neck barber and civic leader long active in youth activities in that area, reportedly will make a bid for the Ward 1 City Council seat.

Plans To Run For School Committee

Miss Muriel Goudey Retiring After 43 Years As Teacher

By RUTH WAINWRIGHT

Miss Muriel Goudey, head of Quincy High School's English Department for the past 10 years, retires next week after 43 years as a Quincy school teacher.

But that doesn't mean she's through with Quincy schools or planning to take things easy.

The next day she will be at City Hall taking out nomination papers to become a candidate for the Quincy School Committee.

And Miss Goudey, who says, "I have never applied for a job in my life," will have to ask a lot of citizens: "Will you vote for me for School Committee?"

She will ask, too: "Who is closer to the classroom than one who has taught 43 years? Who can 'rap' with kids as I have? Who knows as much about present-day teaching?"

"Maybe I don't stand more than a 'snowball-in-hell' chance of getting it," Miss Goudey comments. "But maybe without pushing a political lever, and maybe with just integrity, I might get on that ballot - I don't know."

Miss Goudey was born in Quincy - her parents lived on Greenleaf St. then. Today she lives less than two blocks away in the family home at 24 Edgemere Rd. In the interval between 18 months of age and a return to eighth grade at Coddington School, the Goudey family were Somerville residents.

Miss Goudey is a Quincy High School graduate, received both her bachelor's and master's degrees from Boston University and did practice teaching in Quincy. This qualified her for her first teaching job at Central in 1928 at $1,300 per year.

At Central for one semester, she was told on a Friday to report to Quincy High School on Monday. She has been there ever since, leaving with an accumulated 215 days of sick leave. She has missed a total of only 15 days because of family deaths and a "gift" of five days' extra vacation.

Among Miss Goudey's 4,500 students were: Homer Jenks, formerly of the Quincy Evening News and now editor of the Boston Sunday Herald; Columnist and conversationalist Paul Benzaquin; Henry Bosworth, publisher-editor of the Quincy Sun; Paul Salters of the Herald; author Robert Rimmer; Dr. William Ames Coats of the University of Kansas; Richard Carlisle, news editor of the Patriot Ledger.

Ret. Brig. Gen. Philip Alacin; Capt. Forest Pease who served on the Pueblo inquiry; Frank Delear, Class of 1932 public relations man for Sikorsky Aircraft who recently published a 300-page "Life of Igor Sikorsky - Three Lives in Aviation", which Miss Goudey will present to the Quincy High School Library.

Sister Louisella [the former Mary Walters], head of the art department at Regis College; Quincy lawyer Mel Thorner; Quincy Cooperative Bank president Charles Peterson; developer Peter Kanavas, who built "Executive House."

Miss Goudey recalls her most recent experience with former student William Szathmary - now Bill Dana also "Jose Jimenez". Last year at the Shepherd's Hotel in Cairo, she turned on the television to hear that familiar voice - with dubbed in subtitles.

Miss Goudey planned her "retirement" to begin last year - she took her world cruise, as planned. Then fearing an accusation of "cop out" from fellow teachers because of 10-year evaluation studies due in 1971, she stayed on another year.

Whether she becomes a school commiteewoman or not, remains to be seen. She certainly has a built-in bloc of votes among her former students.

And, they really think the world of her.

As one noted:

"She's one of those real dedicated teachers you wish your own children would have in school. After 43 years of teaching she still has that dedication, enthusiasm, zip or whatever else you want to call it.

"There aren't many like her. She's a real sweetheart. I had a crush on her years ago. I still do. We all do."

Don't Invite Burglars

'Lock It Up Week'

Don't invite burglars to your home.

That, briefly, is the purpose of "Lock It Up Week" to be observed in Quincy June 21-27.

The Quincy Police Department, through its planning and research division, hopes to alert residents to the fact they are potential targets of burglars.

Through flyers to be distributed to every home, a special taped message and window displays, police will make residents aware of effective means of protecting their homes.

Special emphasis will be placed on periods of absence-like vacations, weddings, other socials-and even during funerals when burglars often strike.

The flyers will contain a checklist of tips such as:

- Before going away on vacation stop deliveries such as milk, newspapers, mail.
- Have someone mow your lawn.
- Keep a light burning.
- Don't keep shades fully drawn.

drawn.

In other words, according to police, try to make your home appear as though someone is still there.

A taped message [like a weather report] with more information and tips will be set up at police headquarters with a special telephone number to be assigned. Just dial it, and learn how to protect your home.

Mayor James R. McIntyre has officially proclaimed "Lock It Up Week" and notes:

"The alarming increase in the incidence of various forms of burglary is of vital concern to every lawmaker, law enforcement official and resident.

"The costs of such illegal activity to property owners and to taxpayers of the city of Quincy runs into the hundreds of thousands of dollars annually."

He pointed out that many potential thefts could be averted if residents were aware of and followed basic property-protection measures.

Free Summer Clinics At Quincy Health Department

Summer clinics, all conducted without charge by the Quincy Health Department at the John F. Kennedy Health Center, are announced by Dr. Alfred J. Mahoney, Health Commissioner. Children's and Babies' Clinics from 9:30 to 11 a.m. will be held June 23, July 14, July 28, Aug. 11 and Aug. 25.

Adult immunization clinics will be held the same days from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

The adult clinic will maintain its regular schedule for chest

X-rays, and electro-cardiograms, with Papp smears by appointment only.

The Health Department recommends strongly that adults be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus and polio, or if they have been immunized, that they receive booster shots.

Any school child not immunized against German measles should take advantage of the clinics and receive immunization.

Dr. Crendon Commends Actions At Point Fire

School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Crendon at Wednesday's School Committee meeting reported on the June 9 two-alarm fire at Quincy Point Junior High School, and commended those responding to the emergency, preventing a major fire disaster.

These included:

Kathy Bruno, ninth grade student who discovered the fire; Senior Custodian William Quinn; Principal Theodore R. Silva and Paul Breslin, assistant principal; Miss Theresa Harcourt, media specialist; faculties and students of both Daniel Webster and Quincy Point Junior High Schools.

He also commended through Robert A. DeRamio, president of Quincy Public Schools Custodians Association, 17 men from Quincy High, North Quincy High, Central and Broad Meadows Junior High who worked on clean-up; Fire Chief Edward Barry, Lt. Joseph Malvesti, Lt. Charles Sacchetti, Lt. John Mahoney and Capt. John Menz.

Three More Take Out Nomination Papers

Three more candidates had obtained nomination papers by mid-week bringing the total number of City Election contenders to 41 so far.

Twenty of the 41 are seeking School Committee seats.

Taking out papers were:

George H. Mitchell of 176

Holbrook Rd., North Quincy, candidate for the Ward 6 City Council seat.

William J. Hurley of 24 Lunt St., North Quincy, and Joseph M. Collins of 43 Pleasant St., South Quincy, candidates for school committee.

25TH ANNIVERSARY -- Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Daly of 81 Taffrail Rd., Germantown, note 25th wedding anniversary. [Photo by Don Newell]

Mr., Mrs. Joseph W. Daly Observe 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Daly of 81 Taffrail Rd., Germantown, were guests of honor at a surprise 25th wedding anniversary party at George F. Bryan Post Home, given by their children.

More than 100 friends and relatives attended.

The couple were married at St. Joseph's Church, Quincy Point, and have been Quincy residents all their married lives. Mrs. Daly is the former Miss Celia Veno. Mr. Daly is employed by Schraft's in Cambridge.

Among those attending were John Daly, best man at the wedding, and Mrs. Theresa [Veno] Worrell, then maid of honor.

Their children are Mr. and Mrs. William Daly of Braintree; Miss Joanne Daly and Miss Susan Daly, at home. There is one grandchild. They were parents also of the late Michael Daly, who took part in the plans for the party but was killed in a recent fall from a ship at General Dynamics Shipyard.

Quincy Red Cross Observes 50th Anniversary At Dinner

The Greater Quincy Red Cross Chapter held its 50th Anniversary and Annual Dinner meeting at The Neighborhood Club of Quincy last week.

Raymond C. Warrington was general chairman, with Herb Fontaine of WJDA as Toastmaster.

A special certificate was awarded to Patrolman John A. Malvesti, Sr. for saving the life of his son Joseph on July 25, 1970.

This is the highest award given by the American National Red Cross to a person who saves a life by using skills learned in a Red Cross First Aid, Small Craft or Water Safety Course. Several members of the Malvesti family were present.

The program for the evening was a discussion on drugs and their use, by a panel from Survival, Inc. Among the participants was Dr. Charles Dierf, President, Survival, Inc. Miss Andrea Schneider, director of Public Affairs, Steve DiMatteo, assistant manager of the Walk-In Center and Mrs. James Burke, President of the Supporters of Survival, Inc.

The 50th Anniversary Cake was cut by Irving Boyes, out-going Chapter Chairman, and Stephen T. Keefe, Jr., in-coming Chapter Chairman and Mrs. Keefe.

A Child's Prayer

Father! Of Heaven!
On my bended knees,
I pray to Thee,
Because You love me,
And I love You.

Send your guardian angel
By my side, to watch over me.

Leading the right path.

Thank you God:-
For giving me, Mom and Dad,
To love and care for me.
For my brothers and sisters,
Friends and everything.

Mom says, "Someday, I'll see Your smiling face up-above."
So happy ... I'll be ...
To live with You,
Forever and ever, Amen!

Reach Out

If ever your road is too hard to climb,
If ever you stumble along the way,

If ever your sun refuses to shine,
If ever dark clouds and rain fill your day,

Reach out to a FRIEND!
Reach out to me!

If ever you are sad and alone,
If ever the stars do not fill your night,

If ever you are lost and begin to roam,

If ever you need a warm guiding light,

Reach out to a FRIEND!
Reach out to me!

SUMMER PEASantry—Cotton in a bold black and white patchwork print makes for a very peasant spring. Brightened with yellow rick rack and ribbon sash, the ankle-length dress is a favorite with Maid of Cotton Pat Perry. It's by Beeman Street of Dallas.

LADYLIKE—The dress suddenly looks new for spring. And on 1971 Maid of Cotton Pat Perry it also looks fresh and feminine. Styled with long sleeves and a perky bow at the neck, this Jeunesse design makes use of novelty woven cotton in crisp brown and white. For pleasing contrast, colors are used in reverse for the bodice and skirt.

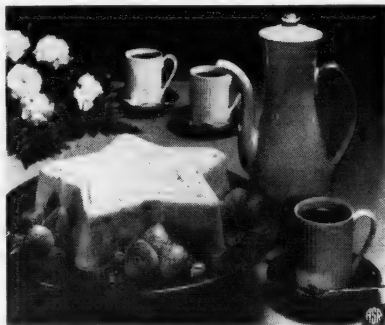

HEARTS AND FLOWERS—Decidedly feminine is this ankle-length dress of navy and white cotton—all done up in hearts, flowers, and lacy trim. Deep scallops outline the fitted bodice and lace-trimmed skirt. From Oscar de la Renta's Boutique collection, it's in the spring wardrobe of 1971 Maid of Cotton Pat Perry.

THE LONGER LOOK—Designer Geoffrey Beene chooses double woven cotton in a neat blue and white motif for a stylish mid-length dress and short cropped jacket. Worn by 1971 Maid of Cotton Pat Perry, the smart ensemble is accented with navy ribbon trim.

New Dessert Star For Your Diet

Even if you're on a diet you can have desserts, provided you have special recipes that are low in calories. Strawberry Chiffon is made with a diet-designed recipe that makes you forget you're dieting. It's a fluffy dessert that is molded and held firm with unflavored gelatine. Because it has no flavor, this gelatine lets all the natural flavors of low-calorie, fresh fruits come through for delicious diet desserts. Enjoy Strawberry Chiffon—delightful party dessert, too.

Strawberry Chiffon

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Non-nutritive sweetener equivalent to 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 pint strawberries, washed and hulled
- 2 egg whites
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

Sprinkle gelatine over cold water in saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatine dissolves, about 3 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in salt, non-nutritive sweetener, lemon juice and vanilla. Mash berries, or puree in electric blender; add to gelatine mixture. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until stiff. Fold into gelatine mixture. Turn into 4-cup mold. Chill until firm. Unmold.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of June 17-24

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - People with authority will now come to your aid and help to further your ambitions. Their ideas contrary to yours.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - If you're not taking a trip, then those from a distance will visit you. Either way, you enjoy a sense of freedom.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - The things you have worked toward are coming true for better or worse. Some will have to revise their ambitions.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - A change of surroundings gives you a fresh outlook and prepares the way for the new developments you're seeking.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - You can now invest your efforts or money to secure a better future. Advice from sincere people is helpful.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - You are entering a period of results when past efforts count. Time to gear your aims toward new accomplishments.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - A sound investment helps secure the future and a new friend may change the pattern of your life for a long time to come.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - The opposition you have had is disappearing so turn your thoughts to health matters. You or someone near needs check-up.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - Some of the difficulties you are having can be laid on your own doorstep. Stop pushing and take people as you find them.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - You are probably feeling the cobwebs in your mind and will need to use extra care to avoid making mistakes.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - Living from crises to crises is about over and you can begin to improve finances and establish a secure future.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - During the next few months, many of you will make a new start. This may require the breaking off of old ties.

It's In To Be Thin By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

Fashions come and fashions go, but to me there's nothing like our fashion show ...

Can you envision a trim woman walking down a ramp, marching proudly in one leg of a pair of shorts which used to fit her quite snugly. Think about a man and wife who stride down the aisle confidently confiding that they have lost a whole person in bed with them. And then think about a twelve year old beaming as she tells you of the forty pounds she has shed.

All this I have seen and more. I have seen faces which bring tears to eyes, to think that they, with the help of our diet, have brought to themselves a new life conceived in obesity, but now dedicated to the proposition that everyone can be thin.

If all of them can do it, why, then, so can you.

If you have any questions regarding dieting, or wish a copy of our free fish folder, please write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York.

"OH, THAT THIRTY-SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS..."

TIPS ON QUITTING CIGARETTES

1. Pick a Q (Quit) Day.
2. Switch to a low tar-nicotine brand, and begin to cut down BEFORE Q Day.
3. Keep a supply of substitutes handy: mints, gum, celery, carrot sticks.
4. Quit on Q Day; use substitutes when the urge to smoke is strong; keep busy; pamper yourself with special meals; drink plenty of water; exercise.
5. Renew your resolve daily. Think over the health hazards of cigarettes.
6. Plan a treat for yourself with the money you used to spend on cigarettes.

Rt. Rev. Joseph Maguire Honored As B.C.'s 'Most Distinguished Alumnus'

Rt. Rev. Joseph F. Maguire, pastor of St. John's Church, Quincy, was awarded the Boston College Alumni Association William V. McKenney Medal as the most distinguished alumnus of the year at the Alumni Association's annual meeting last week.

The McKenney Medal, named in honor of its first recipient, has been given each year since 1936 to an alumnus "who has contributed to Boston College through exemplary and outstanding work, Christian principles, and praiseworthy service to the benefit of the Catholic Church which reflects honor and glory on Boston College."

Monsignor Maguire, who received his A.B. from Boston College in 1941 and was ordained in 1945, has held a variety of positions in the Boston Archdiocese.

After assisting at four parishes and serving as Chaplain in the U.S. Army National Guard, he became Secretary to His Eminence, Richard Cardinal Cushing, in 1962. In the following years he was Archdiocesan Master of Ceremonies, Diocesan Consulor, a member of the Priest's Personnel Board, and Secretary to Archbishop Medeiros.

Prior to his assignment as pastor of St. John's, he was Director of the Human Development Campaign.

Congregational Hymns Sung At Adams Shore Methodist Youth Service

The tune was "Jamaica Farewell" with tambourine accompaniment. The words were those of the Doxology.

Congregational "Hymns" at the Adams Shore United Methodist Church Youth Service were "Tell It All Brother", "Like a Bridge Over Troubled Water", the Beatles' "My Sweet Lord", "Give a Damn", and "New World Coming". "He Ain't Heavy, He's My Brother" was the solo.

The program was directed by Rev. John Lurvey and Rev. Gwen Jones Lurvey, co-pastors, and carried out by six junior and senior high and one college student.

Tapes, contemporary slides, movies and live music in rock style brought the story of creation from total darkness to a "New World" of light, from Genesis to Revelations. Food contributions for the needy were collected by basket, along with the regular offering. A progressive handclasp of peace and fellowship was the benediction.

Taking part were Janet Kressler, Stephen Kressler, Helen Jaffarian, Gail Jaffarian, Linda Jaffarian, Nancy Ahonen and Laurel Wainwright, with assistance of the chancel choir directed by Miss Marjorie McAllister.

'Your Angry Feelings'

I've been watching people who suffer from the disease of hate...watching its consequences to themselves...and to their relationships. By hate and hostility I'm including all those negative emotions and behavior which hurt ourselves and others...bitterness...resentments...stubbornness...accusations...bickering...nagging...sadistic humor and taunting...acts of violence. You don't have to look far to see such behavior...maybe you're a victim of the disease.

Recently...a wife said..."I just can't stand to be the victim of John's anger any more...two drinks and all his resentful feelings seem to be unleashed on me. Look at these bruises." I thought when she first came in that she'd been in a car accident. It wasn't the first time. It was obvious that two people were sick...he for his uncontrolled anger...she for continuing to take it. Now she's seeking help.

What's behind such uncontrolled angry violence? Probably not the immediate events or words which triggered the attack. Probably the anger had been lying there beneath the surface all the time. Men who hate and abuse women often have had domineering...neurotic mothers...or rigid overbearing fathers...and therefore never learned how to love. Many children have been mistreated...deprived of love and affection by a parent...leaving deep seated feelings of insecurity and fear.

It's needful that we understand the cause of our hate to be able to deal with it. Why are we showing hostility and resentment to the person we live with?...to ourselves?...to other people? Usually it stems from childhood. We're not born to hate. We learn to hate...we learn to live with a clenched fist attitude...the chip on the shoulder...a way of life of people who have not been taught to love...who nurture angry feelings starting with the fears and rejections of childhood.

But...does this mean that if we're not taught to love as children that we're doomed to live lives of hate...hostility...resentment...mistrust...suspicion as long as we live? NOT AT ALL. It's entirely up to you. What you have learned you can unlearn...even to controlling your angry feelings...emotional reactions to ego-insults...injuries...or injustices to one's self or to others...or just because you're not getting your own way.

So...how do we handle our angry feelings? Jesus once took a whip and drove the money-changers out of the temple. There is such a thing as "good anger"..."righteous indignation" some call it...a swinging into action against an injustice. This is what lots of young people feel today...and since their pleas are met with deaf ears...or the militia...they are more frustrated and more angry. We need some way to express anger...or it can become an explosive thing...a destructive force. One way to handle anger is with action...doing something constructive to correct the injustice we feel.

Some people deny that they have anger...hate...resentment. So they bury these feelings. They're not nice...not gentlemanly...not ladylike...refuse to talk out their angry feelings. Such people may suffer with migraine headaches...ulcers and psychosomatic ailments. Burying or denying feelings isn't a healthy solution.

Verbal abuse...yelling...swearing...accusing...blaming...releases pent-up anger for some...but the cost to the relationship is usually too high because most people don't like being a verbal punching bag any more than a physical punching bag.

There are laws against wife-beating...so acts of violence lead only to assault and battery charges for those who've not learned to handle their angry feelings.

The best way I know for angry immature people to express hostility is to pound a pillow with the fist. This hurts nothing...accomplishes nothing...but if one imagines he/she is hitting the wife/husband he/she is angry at it's much easier on the wife/husband...and may drain off some anger.

The best way I know for angry mature people is to REASON...to use one's minds...to understand the cause of his/her anger...which is probably fear...inferiority...and feelings of rejection...of not being loved. Understanding anger as a symptom of fear means that one seeks to remove the cause of whatever one fears.

There may be other ways to handle your anger...but until you're able to handle it with your brain...please keep a pillow handy.

FOR YOUR COMMENTS. Call Dr. Knox at 326-5990 or 545-5947, or write him at 628 High Street, Dedham, Mass. 02026

LIFE CHOIR of Wollaston Church of the Nazarene, comprised of 30 high school teens, prepares for summer tour of the Canada's Maritime Provinces.

Wollaston Church Of Nazarene LIFE SINGERS Begin Concert Tour

By RUTH WAINWRIGHT

This week a group of 32 high school students, LIFE SINGERS of Wollaston Church of the Nazarene, begin the first of a series of partially self-financed summer tours.

They leave June 18 for a nine-day Maritime tour through Maine, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island where they will sing in churches and high school assemblies.

Each teenager, who has spent the school year in a specialized program of music, is required to raise $50 toward his own expenses. They are doing this by hiring out at odd jobs and babysitting. Other fund-raising projects include a car wash, bake sale, and a "dime-a-dip" dinner.

In "Miracle Miles", another project sponsored by the group, miles can be "bought" at $1 each. The goal is $1,200.

Since the Singers were organized in September, 1970, they have presented the musical LIFE by Otis Skillings in more than 25 churches and school assemblies throughout southern New England. They have been enthusiastically received wherever they have performed, according to a spokesman.

Last week they gave performances at the Ministers' and Laymen's Spiritual Enrichment Retreats held on the campus of Eastern Nazarene College for the Eastern Educational Zone.

LIFE, a musical in the folk-rock style, is a hand-clapping, finger-snapping presentation. Singers are accompanied by the LIFE stage band of organ, piano, bass, brass and drums. Lighting, costuming and sound track all add to the effect.

The musical speaks of God as the creator of and answer for life. It presents Jesus Christ as man's only hope for real Life-Eternal life.

Merritt Nielson, director of the group, is an associate pastor and a member of the Eastern Nazarene College faculty. Before moving to Wollaston, Mr. Nielson was minister of music and youth at Ferndale Church of the Nazarene in Detroit, Mich. He holds an A.B. degree from Eastern Nazarene College and the M.R.E. degree from Nazarene Theological Seminary, Kansas City, Mo.

The singers are:

Bill Bradley, Jo Ann Walton, Roy Caley, Kathy Hedberg, Lee Cubie, Sue Caley, Brian McCleery, Richard Parrott, Harland Bradley, Nina Caley, Sue Johnson and Charlotte Roberts.

Over 500 To Attend Outing Sunday For Cerebral Palsied

More than 500 cerebral palsied children and adults and members of their families, will attend the 12th Annual Summer Outing to be held at the South Shore Plaza Twin "Drive In" Theatre, Braintree Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

The event is sponsored annually by the Quincy Lodge of Elks headed by Thomas V. Morrissey, Jr., Exalted Ruler, and George C. Fay, Chairman of the Elks Cerebral Palsy Committee who is a member of the CP Board of Directors.

Entertainment will include singing, professional acts, clowns and amusement rides. Hot dogs, hamburgers, tonic, milk, candy, watermelon, cookies, potato chips, popcorn, ice cream and other goodies will be served promptly at 12:30 as the guests arrive.

A highlight of the outing will be the presentation of a hand drawn testimonial to former state senator and Mayor James R. McIntyre who is also second vice-president of the Cerebral Palsy organization. He will be cited for submitting and shepherding through the Legislature laws favorable to multi-handicapped children which provide opportunities in the area of early childhood education, attendance in public schools and day care centers.

Dr. Charles D. Merrill, President of Cerebral Palsy of the South Shore Area, Inc., and Arthur Ciampa, Executive Director, will officially represent the organization at the Outing. Any CP child or adult who resides in the South Shore Area is invited to attend the picnic.

In addition to the Outing, the Quincy Lodge of Elks sponsors the annual Christmas Party which provides social and personal experiences for the extremely handicapped victims of Cerebral Palsy and their families and furnishes campships for needy victims of Cerebral Palsy.

Merrymount Association Drive Underway For July 4th Events

The Merrymount Association's annual drive for July 4th funds is now underway. Twenty-seven street collectors have been appointed by Paul Hussey, general chairman. They are:

Arthur Boyle, Paul Kelly, Mrs. Ann Cerino, Mrs. Beatrice Blake, Mrs. Jackie Dunn, Mrs. Jane Wallace, Stephen Needel, Dan McCluskey, Mrs. Regina Hussey, Mrs. Katherine Bishop, Mrs. Matthew McDonnell, Mrs. Fred Swanton, Martin Tolson, Dan Gorman, Mrs. Sally McCole.

Robert Clarke, Mrs. Maureen Roche, Terri McPherson, Mrs. Ann Cosgrove, Don Murray, Louis Rizzo, Joseph Cunniff, Mrs. Virginia Barry, Mrs. Marion Petrillo, Bernie Coleman, Al Morris and James Mulcahy.

James Mulcahy has been appointed by Mr. Hussey as chairman of the beauty pageant, the pie eating contest and parade grand marshal.

John Molloy and Gerard Kelly are sports co-chairman; Bernard Coleman, in charge of water sports; Joseph Garity, Jr., flag-raising chairman; Mrs. Humberto C. Neves, publicity chairman.

Girls interested in entering the "Miss Merrymount" beauty pageant should call Mr. Mulcahy of 107 Assabet Rd. Judging will be on personal characteristics, general activities and interests.

Early plans call for a program at Merrymount Beach by the South Shore Concert Band July 3, followed by the "Miss Merrymount" pageant. There will also be music by a Rock Band of Merrymount youth, Dave and Mark Flynn and Bob Mafera.

July 4th activities will start with a morning schedule of activities for Merrymount boys and girls from five to 16 years. These will include 25-yard dashes, buddy and wheelbarrow races, water sports and a pie eating contest.

The annual parade will assemble at 1 p.m. at Merrymount School and will include a police escort, VFW Color Guard of George F. Bryan Post, City and State Officials, Merrymount greeters hospitality committee, officers and directors; the Braintree Braves, Milton AL and St. Peter's Bands; St. Thomas More Squires; Girl and Boy Scout groups, antique autos.

Parade competitions will include doll carriages and bicycles, miscellaneous costumes and horrors, and street group entries. Prizes will be awarded at 3 p.m. at the beach.

Flag-raising ceremonies will follow the parade, with clergy, Merrymount Association officials, City and State representatives taking part.

N.E. District Missionary Convention At Wollaston Church Of Nazarene

The 52nd annual Missionary Convention of the New England District of the Church of the Nazarene will be held in the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene June 22-23.

Nearly 200 delegates will be representing the 65 churches of the Nazarene which last year listed 3,692 members in the Nazarene World Missionary Society. [282,443 members worldwide]

Guest speaker and singer will be Rev. Donald H. Davis, missionary on furlough from Argentina, who has been attending the Nazarene Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Mo., this past year.

He will be assisted by his wife and three children, Steve, 18, Garth, 16 and Martha, 10. Rev. Davis graduated from Eastern Nazarene College in 1951 and has served as pastor of Churches of the Nazarene in New England before going to the mission field.

Mrs. Albert D. Stiefel, who has been elected New England District President of the Nazarene World Missionary Society for the past two years, will preside at the convention. Mrs. Stiefel is Director of the News Service and Secretary to the Director of Development at Eastern Nazarene College as well as a member of the Board of the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene and the Norfolk Chapter of the American Cancer Society. Rev. Albert D. Stiefel is Director of Counseling Services at Eastern Nazarene College. They reside at 43 Greene St., Wollaston.

The convention will begin with an evening service at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday with Rev. Davis as speaker. Included will be the presentation of the convention theme "The Light of the World is Jesus" under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Pearsall whose husband, Rev. Kenneth Pearsall, is Superintendent of the New England District of the Church of the Nazarene. Following the service a film on the denomination's Spanish Broadcast entitled "A Cup of Warm Ink" will be shown.

Business sessions will be held Wednesday morning and afternoon and will include the election of district officers and four delegates to the General Nazarene World Missionary Convention of the church to be held in Miami, Fla. in June of 1972.

A President's Luncheon for local church presidents and district and zone leaders and guest missionaries will be held in the President's Dining Room at Eastern Nazarene College on Wednesday noon.

Rev. Armand Doll, missionary on furlough from Mozambique, Africa, will be present to introduce the District Project for the year. Two years ago the project was to raise $4,500 for a vehicle to be used by Rev. Donald Davis in Argentina.

Last year the Missionary Societies combined with the local churches to raise over $15,000 for the New England District Urban Project, an inner city ministry in Boston.

Local delegates include the following district officers: Mrs. Kenneth H. Pearsall, Vice-President, 180 Adams St.; Mrs. A. Gordon Wetmore, Treasurer, 12 East Elm Ave.; Mrs. George Delp, Box Work Secretary, 21 West Elm Ave.; Mrs. Paul Pierce, Membership Secretary, 29 Dunbarton Rd; and "Other Sheep" Secretary, Wilfred Duckworth, 22 Ebbett Ave.

George C. Smith Seeks School Committee Seat

George C. Smith Jr., 48, of 16 Anderson Rd., Wollaston, today announced his candidacy for the Quincy School Committee.

Smith declared: "I plan to campaign for the office of School Committeeman as the father of five children in Quincy public schools, as a taxpayer as an individual concerned with the future of his city and its people, and on the basis of a long record of public service to the people of this City."

"The School Committee should provide the leadership toward the solution of problems such as lack of adequate educational space and ancillary facilities, insufficient counseling both from the standpoint of the teacher as well as the student, and the development of a more meaningful curriculum."

"We have been fortunate in having fine members on the School Committee in the past. I hope to continue in their tradition. We can learn from the past and we can and should do better."

"I have 23 years of business and administrative experience and my public service has given me an understanding of municipal operations. I want to work for the parents, their children and the taxpayers of this city as a School Committeeman. I will campaign throughout the City to carry this message and meet the people."

Smith is vice chairman of the Quincy Planning Board and was appointed to that board by Mayor James R. McIntyre in 1967. He is also a member of Local Draft Board 123 to which he was appointed in 1968.

He previously served on the Old Colony Transportation Commission and the Quincy Traffic Commission, and in 1965 was appointed by then Mayor Amelio Della Chiesa to the Board of Managers-Public Burial Places.

In 1969, Smith was nominated for School Committee in the primary and was unsuccessful in the final election.

A lifelong resident of Quincy, he is a graduate of North Quincy High School and Bentley College. Employed by the New England Telephone Co., in Boston, he has been an accountant and tax consultant for 23 years.

Smith is a member of the North Quincy Knights of Columbus and the Quincy Democratic City Committee. He is a former manager in Quincy Little League and past Vice President of the Quincy Babe Ruth League.

He is married to the former Jeanne Daley.

Registration For Summer Programs At Adam Shore

Registration for summer programs at Adams Shore Branch of the Thomas Crane Public Library opens this week and will continue through June 25.

CHOKING ON FOOD

Hundreds of people die each year from choking on food. Many of these deaths can be avoided if the problem is recognized and quick action taken. Time is vital. If the air supply is completely shut off, the victim will be dead in about eight minutes. So you can't wait for medical help.

If, say, your child starts choking on a piece of food - do not hit him on the back. This might lodge the particle deeper into the windpipe. Let him continue coughing and use his own body mechanism to dislodge the food. This takes willpower, but works most of the time.

If it doesn't work - reach far back into the throat and get hold of the substance. Be careful not to push it further back into the throat. Keep your finger to the side and try to hook the food, flipping it up and away from the danger area. Also, a small child should be held upside down to let gravity help dislodge the object.

Money is meaningless without good health. So, even if you're a sick millionaire, have your chauffeur drive you to NABORHOOD REXALL PHARMACY, 406 Hancock St., No. Quincy or call PR 3-6426 for fast, prescription service. You can also pay your electric or telephone bills or use our notary public service. Hospital equipment and supplies for rent or sale. Prescription tax and insurance records kept plus 24 hour emergency service in North Quincy. Open 7 days a week from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Quincy Hospital To Graduate 34 On June 22

Themistocles P. Vulgaris, Class President, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vulgaris of 271 Farrington St., North Quincy, applied science degree for aeronautical technology.

HN Legion Post Wins State Community Service Award

Houghs Neck Legion Post has been named first place winner in the annual Community Service and Post Activity competition of the Department of Massachusetts.

In the four categories of Youth, Americanism and Patriotic, Community Service, and Service and Welfare Activities, the Post received a score of 97 1/2 points.

The post will receive the Claudius G. Pendill Trophy and Banner for one year, and a plaque for permanent possession. In addition, the Houghs Neck Post will head the Department Convention parade to be held during the July 10-12 convention at Boston.

Ernest T. Deveau is Post Community Service Chairman, and also holds the same position for Norfolk County, District 6. Documentary evidence was prepared in book form by Mary Timcoe, Post historian.

Robert Leo Eng, of Quincy, Department Vice Commander heads the 14-member Department Community Service Committee which judges reports at the State House.

Carol Nashe Offers Special Course To Prepare For Jobs

A six-week limited enrollment program to help students prepare for fall employment interviews and auditions will be conducted by the Carol Nashe School in Boston.

The reduced rate special summer course in personality development includes effective speaking, the interview, what to wear, putting your best foot forward, makeup and grooming for girls, grooming and clothes for boys, good manners for work or play.

The director of admissions at the Carol Nashe School should be contacted before June 30 for further information by those interested.

$19,984 Head Start Grant

Congressman James A. Burke announces that HEW has approved a full-year part-day Head Start Program to Quincy Community Action Organization, Inc.

The amount provided is $19,984. The program will consist of 40 children and will continue for eight months, effective June 1.

Russell O'Connell is CAP director.

Three Quincy Residents Receive Suffolk Degrees

Three Quincy students received degrees at Sunday's commencement exercises of Suffolk University at John B. Hynes Civic Auditorium, Prudential Center, Boston.

Christine M. Curtin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Curtin Jr., of 378 Belmont St., Wollaston, was awarded the degree of bachelor of science summa cum laude. A North Quincy High School graduate, she was a Dean's List student at Suffolk University.

She was elected to 'Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges', a member of Phi Beta Chi Honors Society, and president of both the Science Club and Sigma Zeta Honor Society. Miss Curtin plans to attend graduate school.

Bryan J. Stevens, son of Edward K. Stevens of 51

Chickatabot Rd., Merrymount was awarded the degree of Juris Doctor. A graduate of Archbishop Williams High School and St. Anselm's College, he was a member of Suffolk's Voluntary Defenders. He served in India as a Peace Corps volunteer from 1965 to 1967. He is married to the former Marilyn R. Amstute, and plans to practice law on the South Shore.

Henry J. Dondero of 436 Palmer St., Germantown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Dondero of 67 Manet Ave., Houghs Neck, was awarded the degree of bachelor of science.

A Quincy Trade School graduate, he was vice president of the Psychology Club at Suffolk. He is married to the former Joanne Kasper of Quincy, and they have one daughter.

PO John R. Best Awarded Meritorious Commendation

Navy Petty Officer First Class John R. Best, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Best of 77 Avalon Ave., Quincy Point, was presented the Meritorious Unit Commendation Ribbon at the

Pete Pickles One

White Sox Pick Varney

By TOM SULLIVAN

Although the Red Sox, as expected, didn't get a crack at North Quincy's Pete Varney in last week's player draft, they did well for themselves and wasted no time in signing five of their 38 draftees, including their number one choice.

Red Sox officials admitted they were interested in Varney, outstanding Harvard catcher who last week was named to the All-American team.

However, they knew they had no chance because of the number of teams choosing before them and they realized he would be a first choice of some team.

They were right as the Chicago White Sox made the former North Quincy High star their first pick.

Pete had been drafted six times before but refused to sign each time in order to complete his Harvard education. But now he admits he is ready to try pro ball.

"I would like to give pro ball a try," Pete said. "Now that I have completed my college education, I'm very interested. I hope I can work out a suitable agreement with the White Sox." It is expected he will be offered a sizeable bonus.

Pete admitted his first thought, however, was the College World Series in Omaha, Neb., in which Harvard represented District 1 of the NCAA.

Varney wasted no time in showing why so many pro teams are interested in him as he belted a 400-foot two-run homer to pace the Crimson to a 4-1 win over Brigham Young in the opener. It was one of the longest homers ever hit in Omaha.

The Red Sox made Jim Rice, 18-year old outfielder from Anderson, S.C., their first pick and three days later he signed with Scout Mace Brown. Rice reported to Williamsport of the New York-Penn League.

Also signing soon after being drafted were Tom Cassell of Harrisburg, Pa., number five pick; Terry Stokes of Pittsburgh, number six; Clyde Zimmerman of Catawissa, Pa., number 13, and John Seymour of Kings Park, N.Y., number 22. Seymour is a catcher, the other three shortstops.

Zimmerman and Seymour joined Rice at Williamsport, while Cassell and Stokes reported to Winston-Salem of the Carolina League.

The Red Sox drafted 17 pitchers, 10 right-handers and seven lefties, 11 infielders, six catchers and four outfielders.

Three players were drafted on the recommendation of Scout Jack Burns, remembered by oldtime area fans as a hard-hitting first baseman for Jeppie Saunders' Fore River team.

They are Paul Flanagan of Dorchester, number seven pick; Paul Smith of Framingham, number 11, and Jim Barrineau of South Boston, number 14. Flanagan is an outfielder, Smith a catcher-outfielder and Barrineau a southpaw pitcher.

Ron Frongello of Hingham former North Quincy pitcher star and now area scout for the Milwaukee Brewers, signed Paul Minton, southpaw pitcher from Roslindale, to a contract soon after he was drafted. Minton, Northeastern University star, reported to the Brewers' Newark club of the New York-Penn League.

Bomb Stoughton, 13-0

Morrisette Strong Zone 6 Contender

Morrisette Legion baseball team, which had won seven Zone 6 championships in nine years, had only a 10-8 record a year ago under new coach Ray Cattaneo, himself a former Morrisette star, but this year's team should be right in the running for the title.

Cattaneo has 15 returnees from last year's club, which lost some hard-luck games including some of the best players from both Quincy and North Quincy High schools.

From all indications, Morrisette has everything needed for another title, pitching, batting and defense.

Although Nick Malvesti, Morrisette's manager and former coach for many years, feels it is a mistake to label the team as the favorite, and that Morrisette needs another right-handed pitcher, the club must rate as one of the zone favorites. Cattaneo has some outstanding pitchers this summer.

The Zone 6 teams.

Morrisette, Quincy, Weymouth, defending champion Braintree, Milton, Randolph and Stoughton, will play only among themselves this year instead of also facing Zone 6-A teams. Each will meet the other teams three times each making an 18-game schedule.

Morrisette opened its zone season Sunday and clobbered Stoughton, 13-0, behind the four-hit pitching of Anthony Knasas, who struck out 11.

Russ MacDonald had four for four, Nelson three for four, Tom Burke two for two, Kevin Ryan two for two and Knasas two for four to spark the high-powered attack.

Saturday, Morrisette defeated Milford, N.H., 12-7, in a non-league contest. Paul Whelton, Bobby Malvesti and Jimmy Walker split the pitching chores.

Pete Luckner drove in six runs with a grand slam homer a double and single.

Morrisette will host Milton

Friday at Adams Field, play at Weymouth Sunday, go to Randolph Monday and will face Quincy next Wednesday at Adams Field.

The only newcomers are Jim Driscoll, outstanding first baseman for North Quincy High this year who hit two homers over the left-center field fence at Adams Field; Artie Boyle and Mike Marvelle, both of whom did well for Quincy High.

Returning from last year's team are Nelson, outstanding catcher from North; second baseman MacDonald from Quincy; shortstop Ryan, Quincy star a year ago; third baseman Lucier of Quincy; pitchers Whelton and Walker of Quincy; shortstop John Alberti of North, outfielder Burke, North's top batter this spring; Steve Sullivan, pitcher-first baseman-outfielder of Quincy; Connie Driscoll, Malvesti and Dom D'Olimpio of Quincy; Joe Marani and Knasas of Boston College High and Len Pepe of Abp. Williams.

Eight Quincy Track Girls In Olympics

Eight members of this year's Quincy High girls' track team, the first in the school's history, will represent the Quincy Athletic Club in the Junior Olympics Saturday in Falmouth.

They are Cathy Ilacqua, Kathy Butler, Debbie Congdon, Karen Fruzzetti, Jean Macchi, Betsy Witt, Sara Kane and Judy Foley.

Although the Quincy girls, coached by Peter Gallagher, won only one of seven meets this spring, they improved each week and in their final two meets lost by close scores to Attleboro, 61-55, and Jeremiah Burke, 51-46. Attleboro earlier had romped to an easy win over Quincy.

Winners against Attleboro were Miss Fruzzetti in the javelin, Miss Ilacqua in the discus and the hurdles, Miss Foley in the high jump, and Maria Ciano in the mile.

Against Jeremiah Burke the winners were Miss Fruzzetti, shot put; and Miss Ilacqua, hurdles and 50-yard dash. Quincy had many seconds and thirds in each meet.

"We should improve next year with Karen Fruzzetti the only senior this year," Gallagher said. "We had three juniors and 10 sophomores as well as two girls from Central Junior High who did well."

Among the returnees next year will be Co-Capt. Ilacqua, Linda Robinson, Miss Congdon and Miss Foley, all sophomores.

Miss Ilacqua was awarded the Most Valuable Trophy based on performances, sportsmanship and contribution to the team. She also had the most points for the year.

Miss Ciano, unbeaten in the mile, received the Outstanding Performance Award.

She and Jill Seamans were in junior high this year, but, because Quincy was not in a league, they were allowed to compete. They are outstanding prospects, especially Miss Ciano, following in the footsteps of brothers Bobby, Peter and Joe.

Letters were awarded to Co-Captains Ilacqua and Kathy Glennon, Misses Ciano, Fruzzetti, Robinson, Foley, Congdon and Macchi, Nancy Cappodona, Nancy Bernstein and Sue Tosches.

Mrs. Walter Phelps Wins Tournament

Mrs. Walter Phelps was winner of the Furnace Brook Golf Club Women's Tuesday "Tombstone Tournament" of nine holes.

Mrs. Thomas Mulroy had first net; Mrs. Freddy Lutfy, second net, and Mrs. Richard Hoag, third net.

In the Mixed Scotch

Foursome, Mrs. John Eramo and Mario Serafini had low gross; Mrs. Joseph DiFederico and Richard Corbin, low net; Miss Helen Kelly and Quentin McCaffrey, second net; Mrs. Dolph Aimola and Matthew Smith, Mrs. Thomas Mulroy and Dennis Morrissey, Mrs. Joyce Robbins and Robert Roche, three-way tie for third net.

James McGuire Receives Babson Sports Award

James P. McGuire, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McGuire of 108 Baxter Ave., Quincy, received the Colin "Chop" Brown Award at the annual Babson College Sports banquet.

The award is given annually to the freshman athlete who displays "the greatest desire and team spirit." McGuire is a member of the Babson soccer team. He is a Quincy High School graduate.

The award was established in 1969 in memory of the late Colin H. Brown, a member of the 1968 Babson College varsity soccer team.

Quincy Eyes Winning Record

Doug Fleming, in his fourth year as coach of the Quincy Legion baseball team, hopes to finally come up with a winning record this year.

"Although we had only a 6-12 record last year, we lost some real tough games and we ended up in fine fashion by overcoming a 6-0 deficit and defeating Norwood, 7-6," Fleming said. "We have nine returnees from that team including most of the pitchers and I honestly think we should do well this year."

Quincy opened its season Monday night at Weymouth, which barely missed the Zone 6 title a year ago.

Quincy was walloped, 10-0 and was held to five hits, all by different players. "At least the boys were hitting the ball and only three struck out," Fleming said. "Weymouth looks very strong and we were just out-classed."

Quincy received a tough blow when starting pitcher Bob Brill was hit on the pitching arm by a line drive in the first inning. Dave Murphy went the rest of the way.

Quincy will host Randolph Sunday at Adams Field and will be home to Milton Monday.

Pitchers back from last year are Scott Manson and Murphy of North Quincy High; Brill and Bob Driscoll from Quincy High. Other hurlers are Peter Joyce from North and Bill Desher.

Quincy has three excellent catchers in Bob Morton from North, Ed Panasi of Quincy High and Paul Varney of Milton Academy, brother of Pete Varney, Harvard standout, recently drafted by the White Sox. Morton and Varney will see infield service when not catching.

Other veterans are Infielders Joe Marini, Jack Flaherty and Tim Flynn of North Quincy and Outfielder Dave Drew from Quincy.

Other players are Bob Torino, infielder from North; Tony Alibrandi, North infielder; Jay Caron, Quincy infielder; Outfielder Mike Orlando of Quincy and Outfielder Bill Shea of North.

Spotlight On Junior High Sports

Two More Carreras On Way Up From Sterling Junior

Steve Carrera was one of the finest hitters Quincy High boasted in many years. Also a fine football player, Steve went to Brown University and has been one of the Bruins' leading batters for two years.

Two more Carreras are on their way to the high school and are currently playing with the Sterling Junior High baseball team.

"Robin is our best pitcher and also a good batter," Coach Steve Fishman said. "And Eric, only a seventh grader, is a fine player and by the time he gets into high school he should be an excellent player."

Fishman also singled out Preston Carroll. Bob Gilbody and Mike DePolo as outstanding batters.

Sterling lost two of its first three games, but one was a 1-0 heartbreaker to Atlantic-North which won its first four games.

"I think we will win our share of games," Fishman said. "The boys have good attitude and a lot of desire."

The squad includes:

Robin Carrera, pitcher. Rich Praetsch, catcher. Bob Gilbody, first base; Peter DiBona, second base; Roy Pettinelli, shortstop; Tom McKinnon, third base; Preston Carroll, outfield.

Ken Kelly, outfield; Greg Aimola, outfield; Jim Hearn, outfield; Mike DePolo, outfield; Steve Thibault, outfield; Mike Dunphy, catcher; Ed Nardone, outfield.

Jack Kenney, outfield; Bob Ponder, first base; Don Venturini, infield; Bob Kinan, outfield; Charles Park, outfield; Dave Gosselin, catcher. Eric Carrera, infield and Paul Vespaziani, infield.

Hawks Take First Place In Lady Birds Bowling

Hawks, with a 24-8 record, have forged to the top of the Lady Birds Bowling League, led by captain Gail Dillon.

In a 22-10 tie for second place are the former first place Eagles captained by Carol Joyce.

Flamingos with Marylou Crispo as captain, and Sparrows headed by Marian Keefe.

Dru Loud, with 101.1 average, tops the league bowlers, and had high three of 306 for the night. Vicki Chapin had high single of 119.

Other top 10 bowlers are Claire Mitchell, who holds both the year high three of 331 and year high single of 125; Gail Dillon, Marlene Briggette, Vicki Chapin, Marian Keefe, Lucy Daru, Judy Kressler, Rose Cunningham and Elaine Spooner.

Two Long Winning Streaks Snapped In Softball League

The close of the first round in Quincy Softball League action saw the two longest winning streaks snapped.

Sagamore Grille combined timely hitting and a good defensive game to break Steve's Place seven-game winning streak, dropping them into a first place tie with Dee Dee's in the North Division.

In the South Division, Beau's Place five-game winning streak was halted by the Jolly Roger's early five-run lead which led to their 8-7 victory.

Beau's first baseman, Richie Bryan, walloped what is possibly one of the longest home runs ever at Welcome Young Field. The ball cleared a 50-foot tree some 240 feet from home plate, then cleared a five-foot fence and landed across the street. Jolly Roger pitcher Tom Morrell earned his team's fifth win, as they climbed into a fourth place tie with Beau's Place.

The League has produced several upsets, making first round standings in both divisions anything but a runaway for any one team. Wells Grille, Barry's Deli and Sagamore Grille in the North Division have started to jell. Better fielding and heads up play have been shown by every team and regardless of win-loss records, no team can be taken lightly.

The Jolly Roger, Furnace Lounge, Beau's Place, Mr. Kelly's and the Bocce Club in the South Division have improved steadily. Teams that started slowly because of inexperience and lack of practice time are now solid ball clubs. Overall team improvement has been remarkably rapid and the games are tighter.

This week's action saw the Jolly Roger improve their record from 2-3 to 5-3 as the Bocce Club, Louis' Cafe and Beau's Place all fell to the Jolly Roger. Joe's Hofbrau defeated Bersani Bros. and the Bocce Club to climb into third place.

Dee Dee's played a tight 2-2 game with the Alumni Cafe until the sixth inning when they exploded for seven runs to knock the Alumni out of first place by a 9-2 score.

The Burke Club trailing the China Lido 5-1, came up with a big 12-run fifth inning to win 13-5, and they went on to defeat South Shore National Bank 20-3 as the Burke Club settled in second place tie with Sagamore Grille.

LaPointe Named Asst. Dist. Attorney

Dist. Atty. George G. Burke has appointed Jeffrey C. LaPointe of Independence Ave., Quincy, as a Special Assistant District Attorney.

LaPointe, who is 26 and married, is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School. He graduated Cum Laude in 1966 from Boston College receiving a B.S. degree in economics.

In 1969 he graduated from Georgetown University Law Center, Washington, D.C. with a Juris Doctor Degree. He is a member of both the Massachusetts and Missouri bars.

He has been employed as a labor economist with the United States Department of Labor; Legal Research Assistant with the Georgetown University Law Center; Volunteer Lawyer with VISTA; Staff Attorney with the O.E.O. Legal Services.

Raymond To Seek School Committee

Daniel G. Raymond of 16 Miller Stile Rd., Quincy Center, today formally announced his candidacy for the School Committee.

He is a graduate of Quincy High School, College of the Holy Cross and is presently attending Boston College Law School.

A lifelong resident of Quincy, he was a two-year All-Scholastic and a high school All-American at Quincy High School. He captained the Holy Cross Crusaders attaining All New England honors.

Raymond said he strongly feels there should be a greater rapport between the students and the school committee. He mentioned that a classic example of the breakdown in communication between the two occurred recently when the Quincy High School students called a strike to protest the action of the School Committee on the open campus issue.

Raymond feels that rather than segregating these resources efforts must be made "to re-establish unity and mutual understanding in order that the potential of our youths may be realized within the designs of the Quincy public school system."

Troop 27, Boston Gas Team In 'Project Soar'

Boston Gas, in conjunction with Troop 27, North Quincy, participated in "Project Soar", a national clean-up campaign sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America, Saturday.

With the aid of a Boston Gas-donated dump truck and driver, approximately 50 scouts, under the direction of Scoutmaster Henry Leschmier, cleaned Squantum Park of accumulated debris.

Lending a hand in the cleanup was Bernard C. Moore, executive secretary Quincy South Shore Chamber of Commerce.

This is the fourth community cleanup campaign in which Boston Gas has participated. In May, the company assisted in the Sudbury River, Charles River and Quincy Beach cleanup campaigns with donations of equipment and manpower.

Veterans News

Grieving widows of recently deceased veterans are all too often dealt a second emotional blow when they learn that they are not covered by their husband's government life insurance, according to the Veterans Administration.

Cause of the problem is clear. Usually the veteran simply never got around to naming his wife as beneficiary. The veterans' agency can't help because the VA is obligated by law to pay the proceeds to the beneficiary of record.

In a typical case, the veteran named his mother as beneficiary when he first took out his insurance policy upon entering military service. Then, when he eventually married, he forgot to tell the VA to change the beneficiary. When the veteran died, the policy still designated his mother to receive, say, $10,000 in insurance.

In another kind of case, the name of a former wife may still be listed as the beneficiary on the policy. Thus, a widow, who often assumed she was the beneficiary, learns for the first time that the $10,000 does not go to her, but to her husband's mother or former wife. In many cases, this results in a substantial hardship for the widow and young children the VA said.

Every veteran who wants to change his beneficiary, or to ascertain whom he has listed as beneficiary, is urged to contact the VA insurance center to which he pays his premiums, in Philadelphia or St. Paul. If possible, a veteran should include his insurance number, as well as his full name and address.

Rita Hayworth In Comeback

RICARDO MONTALBAN was recently elected to the prestigious board of governors of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences... Australian actress KAY KIMBERLY grabbed off the coveted femme lead in the soon-to-be lensed "A MAFIA KISS"... Remember the SPENCER TRACY starrer of two decades back, "NORTHWEST PASSAGE"? MGM is planning a belated sequel to that one with a follow-up which they hope will star GEORGE C. SCOTT... JACKIE COOPER fans get a chance to see their favorite in the upcoming "LOVE MACHINE". And no, "MACHINE" is not one of those boy meets girl "love stories"...

MELVIN VAN PEEBLES is up tight over the fact that his "SWEET SWEETBACK" isn't getting much of a press buildup in magazines, and is being avoided by name reviewers. The Black producer-director-writer-star of "SWEETBACK" believes his film has an important Black message for White America, but is afraid his picture may never reach a large white audience without the proper media exposure... Thus far the motion picture has grossed close to $2 million in continental sales, but has been seen by a close to 65 per cent Black viewership... Having seen the film I would have to rate it a 3 star message picture of dynamic impact...

QUOTE, UNQUOTE: English producer TONY GARNETT expressing his views on the motion picture business: "It is an industry which is corrupt, self congratulatory, shallow, wasteful and pathetic. It whistles in the dark and believes its own publicity"... ALEC GUINNESS returns to the wide screen in "BROTHER SUN, SISTER MOON". In this one the 1957 Best Actor Winner tackles the complex job of bringing the personality of Pope Innocent III to the screen... And, oh yes, GUINNESS is still campaigning for possible knighthood... JOHN GAVIN was lured out of retirement with a lead role in "ONE IN THE MORNING"...

RICHARD BURTON is the arch fiend of the year in a flick appropriately called "VILLAIN". This one is recommended for those with strong stomachs... JOAN BAEZ does little to enhance her public image with the overdone rock exploiter "CELEBRATION AT BIG SUR". The film is so bad, that if there were any justice at all, they would pay people to see it... After too numerous to count pictures about the life of famed outlaw Billy the Kid, producer CHARLES MOSS has decided to set a film on the Kid's younger years before he turned to bank heist et al. Sort of a psychological probe into the mind of a child in his pre-criminal years...

ROBERT WALKER JR. is pinning hopes for a rejuvenated film career in the just released "ROAD TO SALINA". And in that respect he's not alone. The pictures' star, RITA HAYWORTH, would like nothing better than to have her performance raved reviewed by the critics. This film marks something like her third comeback in the past 10 years... Ballet artist RUDY NUREYEV is dickering with producers in Rome over a possible motion picture debut... SAM SPIEGEL, producer of the Xmas holiday release "NICHOLAS AND ALEXANDRA" is one gent who believes in drumbeating a film to the hilt. SPIEGEL claims "N and A" is bigger in scope and power than "LAWRENCE OF ARABIA", to name a few. With an $8 million plus tag it had better be.

DAVID WOLPER must be all smiles these days. His documentary, "THE HELSTROM CHRONICLE", won the French Award for Technical Excellence at the recent Cannes Film Festival... With an estimated 7 million motorcyclists in the country "ON ANY SUNDAY" would seem to have a built in consumer market. The BRUCE BROWN cyclemontary about the sport, and the men who pursue it, will premiere sometime mid summer... Despite its somewhat downtrodden image of a manufacturer of pot smokers and anti-establishment rioters Boston University must be doing something right in its Theatre Arts Dept. KITTY WINN, who was a best actress winner at Cannes, once graced that tabernacle of higher learning... And oh yes, keep your eye on this talented, lovely young lady. She could prove to be one of the "finds" of the decade. You'll see what I mean when you catch her in the much discussed anti-drug film "PANIC IN NEEDLE PARK"...

"ALEX IN WONDERLAND" failed to pass the scrutiny of Italian censors, and has been indefinitely barred from that country's screens... PETER FALK, who was quite commendable in "HUSBANDS", is still searching for the elusive star of thespian security. Since his last film, he has been shut out of a potential television series, and has had nibblings in the way of film offers come his way... Funny how one successful motion picture can turn things around. Until "PATTON" came along GEORGE C. SCOTT was just another hard-working, not so famous actor.

Police Picket City Hall For New Salary, Other Benefits

Members of the Quincy Police Betterment Association picketed City Hall Tuesday seeking a $12,500 maximum salary for patrolmen and other benefits.

The placard carrying pickets including 24 association members, three Boston officers, one from Cambridge and one from Melrose patrolled in front of City Hall after negotiations with the city reportedly had broken down.

The association, headed by Patrolman Carmen DiRamio who also led the pickets, seeks in addition to the new maximum salary:

- Seniority.
 - A "Bill of Rights"
 - A revised work schedule.
- The pickets carried placards with inscriptions such as:
- "Model City Quincy is the City of Broken Promises"
 - "Seniority Before Political Influence", "Quincy, the Anti-Police City", "Mayor! You Voted Raises for MDC, State and Capital Police - Why Have you Turned Your Back on your City Police?"

Police picketed to draw attention to alleged delaying tactics of the City in bargaining with the group.

In a letter, DiRamio noted that a meeting scheduled for June 14 with the Association was "abruptly cancelled by the City of Quincy for no apparent reason."

He noted two "unfair labor practices".

"While bargaining with the Association, an ordinance was passed giving 2 $1,000 pay increases to two police officials without bargaining procedure.

"While bargaining for sick day allowances upon retirement of 25 percent, an amendment was filed at a City Council meeting to offset this proposal without proper bargaining procedure.

First official "act of resentment" against the City was the three-hour picket-line, made up of off duty police officers.

Persons doing business with the City of Quincy were asked to honor the police picket-line and refuse to cross it to complete their business with the City.

Italian Education Officials Tour Quincy Vocational-Technical

Ten Italian Education Commission officials toured the Quincy Vocational-Technical High School and the Blue Hills Regional Vocational School in Canton Tuesday, as part of their trip to schools in six states to see representative examples of advanced high school centers.

The officials, who make up an ad hoc advisory committee of the Milan Province Education Commission, arrived in Washington, D.C. May 30. The committee was set up "to begin a brief program of observation and study of some representative examples of our most modern and advanced high school centers and structures", according to Kenneth W. Wood, Education Program Specialist for the U.S. Office of Education.

"After their return to Italy, the Committee will be expected to submit plans for new, modern scholastic structures for secondary education to be built in Milan Province in implementation of the school reform in Italy", Wood said in a letter to Maurice Daly, Director, Quincy Vocational-Technical High School.

After a brief meeting with Quincy School Supt. Dr. Lawrence P. Creedon and other school officials this morning, the group was taken on a two-hour tour of the facilities of the Vocational-Technical High School by Joseph Nicastro, a research coordinator with Project Able.

Following the tour of the school each member of the group was presented with a honorary citizenship certificate, after which they left the city to tour the Blue Hills Regional Vocational School in Canton.

Accompanying the group in their visit to the Quincy School System were Charles Giugno and Robert Padovano, both language interpreters with the U.S. State Department.

Besides Quincy and Canton, other school systems selected for the groups tour were Alexandria, Virginia; Baltimore, Maryland; Wilmington, Delaware; New York City; Greenwich and New Haven, Connecticut.

Visiting officials included Siro Brondoni, a journalist with Rai-television in Milan, Italy and his wife; Erasmo Chiappa, Chief Engineer Milan Provincial Administration; Gian Stefano Frigerio; Ercole Cassamagnago, Enrico Pedenovi, Fernando architect and planner of Milan secondary schools and Guido Trioni, lawyer and Milan Provincial counsellor.

Furniture is a major investment. When you make a purchase it usually involves a substantial amount of money and for your money you want something over and above the furniture itself. You want confidence that the price was reasonable, the quality high and confidence that the store you bought it from will stand behind that quality.

You will be confident Dudley will stand behind your purchase. Our 32 years in the business assures you of that. We have had thousands of customers here over the years. We have treated each one as though our entire business relied on their satisfaction. In fact it does.

Our reputation for service to the "Nth" degree is our best advertising. We rely on our customers to recommend us to their friends. You see, we only carry furniture by manufacturers who have proved to us that they will consistently provide us with quality goods. Kroehler and Bassett are two of these companies. We insist on store delivery and set up (for which we make no extra charge). We insist our people do not exert any pressure on the customer at the time of the sale. We also insist that our delivery men get your OK on each piece before the men leave your home.

The Dudley sign has been hanging around for 32 years and if you need to call us months after your furniture purchase with a question . . . we will be there to answer. Give Dudley a try. It costs you nothing to look.

That should make you feel good.

Promises To Be Full Time Mayor If Elected

Brett Enters Mayoralty Ring As Fourth Contender

Rep. Joseph E. Brett tossed his hat into the mayoralty ring today to become the fourth candidate and third major contender for the city's chief executive post.

Brett said, if elected, he would be a full-time mayor, pledging to resign from his House seat at the end of this year.

He said his campaign "will be based on the theme of austerity", and promised his administration would have "no place for waste, inefficiency and unnecessary services".

Brett also said that his entry into the mayoralty race gives the voters of Quincy "a real choice as to the kind of government they want to have in City Hall for the next few years."

Brett, a former City Councillor, thus joins three other contenders in the scramble for the mayor's office:

● School Committee Vice-Chairman James F. McCormick, Sr.

● Councillor-Rep. Walter J. Hannon.

● Mrs. Rita M. Anderson, 28-year-old West Quincy mother of four.

Meanwhile, by mid-week Mayor James R. McIntyre had given no indication as to whether he will seek a fourth term or not.

McIntyre last month resigned as senator to accept a $33,000 post as senate counsel. The current mayor salary is $10,000.

Sources close to the Mayor say he is still undecided about whether he will or will not seek a fourth term.

"My campaign will not be of the 'Madison Avenue' variety," Brett declared today. "I have no campaign fund nor do I have the resources or the sources of political contributions to carry on that kind of campaign."

"My campaign will be based on the theme of austerity, a theme which I will carry into the office of mayor if the voters choose to elect me."

"A principal theme of my campaign for the office of mayor is that, if I am elected to that office, I shall resign my seat in the House of Representatives, effective as of the end of the current year."

"I have never believed nor do I now believe, that one person can effectively and efficiently perform simultaneously, the office of mayor of the city and representative at the state house."

The text of Brett's statement follows:

'A Vital, Necessary Service'

Civil Defense Anything But Hoax Says Roberts

"Civil Defense is anything but a hoax" in Quincy, says Civil Defense Director Edward Roberts.

Without naming him, Roberts took issue with Sharon Civil Defense director Adolf W. Arnold who, recently recommended that his town get rid of its $250,000 emergency hospital and detach special police from his agency.

He termed Civil Defense "a big hoax" with regard to a nuclear disaster.

"Civil Defense is a year-round, day by day activity," Roberts responded. "Even if there never is a nuclear attack, Civil Defense is a worthwhile and much needed function of local government.

"Civil Defense prepares us for other catastrophes, such as hurricanes, floods, fires, other storms and other tragedies such as lost children, drownings, etc."

"As far as we in Quincy are concerned, Civil Defense is anything but a hoax. It is a vital, necessary service."

In the 1970 Annual Report of the Civil Defense Department total manpower of 470 volunteers accounted for more than 20,101 manhours of services.

This would have cost Quincy

$136,950 if the men were not volunteers, Roberts estimates.

Included in the services were assistance in fires, emergency communications, Auxiliary Police, school vandalism patrols, training and education, emergency lighting, storm emergencies, ecological clean-ups, community service, maintenance of equipment and underwater rescue.

"Services rendered and preparation for emergencies are hard to put a monetary value on but the total of $194,998 is another factor of evaluation of the program," Roberts adds in his report.

"I certainly would be the first to welcome a review of our local program if it would in anyway materially help us to improve our capability of assisting others," he noted in a letter of June 16 to The Quincy Sun.

"Nevertheless we will continue to serve the community wherever and whenever needed within the means of our capability permitted by the community," Roberts says in closing.

The 20,101 manhours of service in 1970 broken down by units, were:

● 18 men - Fire support assistance - 3,000 hours.

● 10 men - Emergency communications - 340 hours.

● 56 men - Auxiliary Police duties - 4,875 hours.

● 86 men - School vandalism patrols - 3,625 hours.

● 78 persons - Training and education - 2,917 hours.

● 18 men - Emergency lighting - 161 hours.

● 77 men - Storm emergency assistance - 280 hours.

● 32 men - Ecological clean-ups - 240 hours.

● 12 persons - Community service - 140 hours.

● 60 men - Maintenance of equipment - 3,988 hours.

● 53 men - Underwater rescue - 535 hours.

Open House July 1 At Quincy, Wollaston North Quincy Post Offices

"Postal Service Day", July 1, 1971, will mark the inauguration of the new United States Postal Service. In Quincy and throughout the country,

Supt. Thomas F. O'Neill of the Quincy Post Office and all of his employees are inviting Quincy residents to visit their local post office on July 1 when there will be an "open house". Superintendent Frederic E. Sterritt of North Quincy and Supt. Paul Fanning of Wollaston Post Offices are also planning tours, refreshments and displays with the public invited as guests of the employees.

Visitors to the Post Offices will be given a souvenir envelope imprinted with the old and new insignia of the Postal Service. This envelope will also be made available in limited numbers as a first-day cancellation - for just the cost of an 8 cent stamp - by stamping and cancelling half of the souvenir envelopes in advance. This will be the first time First Day Covers have been available in all U. S. Post Offices.

A photographic display of modern Postal Service jobs and functions will help visitors learn more about the men and women of the Postal Service and how each mail user can help them to serve the community.

At Quincy, a ribbon cutting scheduled for 9:30 a.m. will open the day's events. Mayor James R. McIntyre and William A. O'Connell executive vice-president of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce, along with a representative of Cong. James Burke's office, are expected to attend.

"We hope that everyone will come, and we hope that everyone will see their new Postal Service," officials say.

Brett Tosses Hat Into Ring

soul-searching for the past several weeks as to whether to become a candidate for mayor in the coming fall election, I have decided to respond to the urging of many fellow citizens who have appealed to me to enter the contest.

"I am therefore officially announcing my candidacy for the office of mayor of the City of Quincy for the term commencing in January, 1972.

"Actually, this has been a difficult decision for me to make as I have enjoyed my service to the people as a state representative during the past 13 years and I have greatly appreciated their confidence in me as exemplified by their votes for my re-election on six different occasions.

"Another point I have had to consider carefully is that the salary of a representative is somewhat higher than that of the mayor and this adds to the complexity of the decision I have had to make.

"However, the die is cast and I will be available on the campaign trail for the next several months to answer any and all questions put to me as relative to my plans for the future of Quincy and its 90,000 citizens.

"My campaign will not be of the "Madison Avenue" variety. I have no campaign fund nor do I have the resources or the sources of political contributions to carry on that kind of campaign. My campaign will be based on the theme of austerity, a theme which I will carry into the office of mayor if the voters choose to elect me.

"A principal theme of my campaign for the office of mayor is that, if I am elected to that office, I shall resign my seat in the House of Representatives, effective as of the end of the current year. I have never believed, nor do I now believe, that one person can effectively and efficiently perform simultaneously the offices of mayor of the city and representative at the state house.

"I do not propose to issue a categorical statement that I am going to reduce taxes if I am elected mayor of Quincy. I am well aware of and fully appreciate the difficulties and municipalities faced with ever-rising costs and the constant demands for better living standards for our municipal employees.

"I do promise, though, that under my administration, there will be no place for waste, inefficiency, and unnecessary services and that I will insist on a dollar's worth of value for every dollar expended.

"As I have indicated earlier in this statement, my decision to become a candidate for mayor is due largely to the appeal of literally hundreds of my fellow citizens from all walks of life and all parts of the city feel sincerely that the candidates who have declared their candidacies thus far do not represent the political and philosophical views of large portions of our citizenry.

"By my entering the contest for the office of mayor, the voters of Quincy will have a real choice as to the kind of government they want to have in City Hall for the next few years.

"I have perhaps become best known as a champion of the "little people" of the community, the homeowners and the taxpayers, rather than a knight-errant of the rich and powerful vested interests both within and without the city whose only interests are in getting richer and more powerful, oft-times to the utter disregard and discomfort of those who have chosen to make Quincy their homes and a place in which to raise their families.

"This is not to say that I am unalterably opposed to any expansion of business industry, and other commercial development within our city but only that it should be regulated to best meet the needs and desires of the residents and the general welfare of the entire community.

"So, on with the campaign and may the best "vote getter" win!"

By HENRY BOSWORTH

Political observers are wondering if Councillor John Quinn may yet toss his hat into this fall's mayoralty ring.

Quinn reportedly has been giving the possibility considerable thought. At one point he was close to getting in, then changed his mind.

Now, according to close sources he's tempted to make the run after all.

HIS ENTRANCE would certainly give Quincy voters one of their most interesting mayoralty races in many years.

Three major contenders are already off and running: Rep.-Councillor Walter Hannon, School Committee, Vice-Chairman James McCormick and, today's entry, Rep. Joseph Brett.

Quinn would make it quite a quartet.

Meanwhile, things have quieted down so much on Checkerboard Sq. that people are beginning again to call it City Hall.

And the man on the second floor still has 'em guessing as to what he's going to do. Latest report: Still undecided.

BUT with McCormick and Brett both running on a "full time mayor" platform, incumbent James McIntyre no doubt will have to face one inevitable question if he decides to seek a fourth term:

Do you really think you can run the city of Quincy from a desk in the State House?

TOOTING-own-horn-dept: Rep. Brett formally announced his candidacy for mayor today. On June 3, we noted here:

"Rep. Joseph E. Brett is standing on the sidelines twirling his hat for a possible toss into this year's Quincy mayoralty ring.

"Close sources report he is 'seriously thinking' about running and expects to come to a definite decision within the next few weeks.

"And, they say, if he runs it will be on a 'full-time mayor' platform. He would resign his House seat if elected mayor." Toot! Toot!

IT WOULD BE interesting to attach a pedometer to Dr. Charles Dierf and Joseph Whiteman. They're clocking off a lot of miles around town, walking from one business, professional firm or store to another, trying to raise funds for Survival, Inc.

Everywhere you go, one, or the other, or both are there.

If Survival had a few more like them the drug rehabilitation program would be in full swing now.

IT'LL probably be mid-July before the Quincy tax rate is set. Guess still is that it'll be a $10 to $15 jump.

SPECULATION CORPS thinks William Dwyer, the oil company owner, will make a bid for Arthur Tobin's House seat if Tobin is elected Senator.

YOU'RE a young old-timer if you can remember your father and mother brewing home-made root beer. Up until 1936 most of it was still made at home. Then commercial firms began manufacturing it. Still a popular drink. Last year, for example, Americans consumed 422 million gallons of it - up 50 million gallons over 1969.

NICE-GESTURE-DEPT: Some 264 volunteers assist in the many programs put on at the Senior Center at 1000 Southern Artery. Among those who wait on tables are Alexander Warrington, president Quincy Kiwanis Club, Win Bettinson, program director for WJDA who is also a Kiwanian and their wives Anna and Jean. [If you'd like to join the volunteers, call 471-1000].

OBSERVATION via Jack Silverstein, the North Quincy druggist: "A nickel goes a long way these days. You can carry it around for days till you find something to buy."

FLAG ESSAY WINNERS -- $25 savings bonds were received by winners of the Houghs Neck Legion Post Flag Essay contest by James Buchanan of Atherton Hough School; Bill Ross of N. S. Hunting School; Patrick Youngie of Snug Harbor School, Kathy McDonough [Quincy Sun newsgirl] of Great Hill School and Scott Needel of Merry Mount School, shown with Commander Ernest Fitzgibbon. The contest was conducted by Mrs. Mary Timcoe, Post Historian, and presented in her absence by Post Commander Thomas Hurlbaeus, Post Chaplain. Subject was "What The American Flag Means To Me."

Small Voter Turnout Seen For Primary

A small turnout is predicted for the June 29 Senate primary election.

City Council President-Rep. Arthur H. Tobin and Quincy Police Detective Robert Furtado seek the Democratic nomination.

Two -- possibly three -- sticker candidates is the only hope for Republican primary action.

Jens Thornton, 47-year-old Squantum conservationist has announced he will run as a sticker candidate in the GOP primary.

Atty. Richard Rogalin of 29 Mt. Vernon St., Braintree, also announced this week he will seek the Republican nomination on stickers in the primary.

Rogalin, who has an office in Quincy, declared:

"I am irritated at the dwindling efforts to maintain a two party system in this area.

"My motivation for running is a deep conviction that sound, responsible government rests on attractive opposition which gives all citizens a choice."

Rep. Donald J. Laing [R-Braintree] obtained the necessary signatures on his nomination papers but did not file the papers.

His decision, he said, was due to a lack of funds to run a proper campaign.

He said his party had offered him people and encouragement but not enough money to wage a campaign.

However, since his decision not to run, a sticker campaign in his behalf has been talked up.

Walter H. Walker, III of Old Carriage Way, Braintree, who had hoped to run as an Independent, did not obtain sufficient nomination paper signatures.

The Democratic primary is being held in Quincy, Braintree and Holbrook which comprise the district.

The seat was vacated by Mayor James R. McIntyre who resigned May 24 to accept appointment to the $33,000 senate counsel post.

The final election is scheduled for July 27.

Veterans of three wars will take part in the annual Houghs Neck Memorial Day on Sunday, sponsored by the Houghs Neck Legion Post.

Frank Moran of 103 Darrow St., returned Vietnam veteran, will speak on the war in Southeast Asia.

Department Adjutant John Swift, World War II veteran, will be the principal speaker.

Three veterans of World War I will be presented with Life Memberships in the Houghs Neck Legion Post. Their names will not be released until time of the presentation by Commander Ernest Fitzgibbon.

A parade is scheduled to start on Sea St. at The Willows at 1:30 p.m. to proceed along the usual route to the end of Houghs Neck and return for exercises at the Granite War Memorial on Sea St. at Manet Ave.

Commander Fitzgibbon will be chief marshal; Vice Commander Willard Timcoe, Chief of Staff; Thomas Hurlbaeus, chairman and chaplain; Ernest Deveau, officer of the day; Elinor Forsyth, adjutant; Alexander Crombie, in charge of a firing squad and flag-raising.

Boy Scout and Girl Scout groups are invited to take part in the parade which will march to music of the Milton Legion Post Band. Bellingham Post will be represented by their 100-member girls' drill team. City officials and members of other Posts are also expected to take part.

In exercises at the granite war memorial, devotions will be led by Rev. Robert Sawyer, representing Dr. Peter V. Corea of the Houghs Neck Congregational Church, and Rev. James Hart of Most Blessed Sacrament Church.

Mayor James R. McIntyre will represent the City of Quincy, and Department Commander Leo Barry of Hyde Park will attend.

President Mary Timcoe of the Houghs Neck Legion Auxiliary will present corsages to Gold Star Mothers and women veterans.

Refreshments will follow at the Post home.

In case of inclement weather, exercises will be held in the Atherton Hough School auditorium.

Flea Market Saturday At St. Chrysostom's Church

A Flea Market on Saturday at St. Chrysostom's Episcopal Church, Wollaston, will provide an opportunity for parishioners to help themselves financially - and to help the church at the same time.

Mrs. Horatio Holland, Mrs. Edward Webby, Mrs. Carroll McTeer and Mrs. Wade Burnhauser have "rented" to parishioners display space where surplus items may be sold by church "vendors".

Suggested items are china, glass, aprons, knitting, clothing, antiques, perennials, second-hands, picture frames, paintings, furniture, attic treasures, food, etc.

Youngsters have been invited to earn their own money, too, by "unloading" used comic books, games, toys and clothing.

Persons not desiring to sponsor a table may donate articles to be sold by the church chairmen with proceeds going to the church.

Refreshments will be available, and admission is priced for adults and children.

YOUR PERSONAL PHARMACY

There are important reasons why the American Medical Association suggests that you have one personal pharmacy from which you obtain all the medicines and health aids needed by your family.

When one pharmacy fills all your prescriptions, the record file contains all the information needed for the pharmacist to help protect you. Some people are allergic to certain drugs. Others may be getting prescriptions from more than one doctor and the medicines could conflict with each other.

Your own personal pharmacist is also aware of your own special medical insurance or medicare coverage and can be extremely helpful in assisting you in record keeping and advice.

We hope that you will choose us to be the personal pharmacy for your family.

Money is meaningless without good health. So, even if you're a sick millionaire, have your chauffeur drive you to NABORHOOD REXALL PHARMACY, 406 Hancock St., No. Quincy or call PR 3-6426 for fast, prescription service. Flag Day

The flag flies high over our great land,

It shows we're free, I understand,

Through many great wars, it has helped us through,

Now, may it wave even stronger, the red, white, and blue.

Our boys are fighting in a land far away,

To bring them home soon, we all hope and pray.

But finish the job is first in their minds.

To keep the world safe, for all mankind.

So wave on Old Glory, behind you we stand,

Though troubled we are, in this great land,

Peace will come, some day we know,

For all who work to make it so.

Tribute To Papa

I know I am dreaming it's torture to say

If you could return to us just for one day.

The tiny boy's you left have grown into men

The little dainty girl's are lovely women.

The house is the same and the soil you loved too

As if you'd cast a magic spell the way the plants grew.

Some neighbors have passed on, there are a few that are new

The old ones remember the kind things you would do.

If you came back I wonder if you would say,

What has happened since I went away?

The mini skirt, the long hair, the attitude.

Does anyone care?

We will have to let it be

You can't return to our world you see

What God has willed and whoever he has called, shall be so

For it is our consolation, that into your world,

We, one day, must go.

TONE-ON-TONE—Shadow-striped cotton keeps its cool in this subtly shaped suit, highlighted by patterned accessories. In all-cotton, it's by Peters Sportswear.

For the Barbecue-Minded:

The Towel Trick Of the Season

The outdoor barbecue is taking women out of the kitchen faster than instant pudding.

And, while few women like

FOR OUTDOOR COOKS—A colorful barbecue apron that's easy to care for can be made from cotton terry towels. Simple to sew, it's made from two Cannon bath-size towels in a handsome counterpoint design. Cotton ball fringe and bias tape add a bright finishing touch.

to be chained to a stove even for an instant, most are delighted to spend long hours cooking in the backyard or out on the balcony.

If you're one who does, you'll want to be dressed for the occasion in a colorful barbecue apron that's not only attractive but easy to care for.

The solution: stitch up an apron from two handsome cotton terry bath towels. In the original no-iron fabric, the towel apron can be popped in the washer and dryer and it'll come out fresh and new looking again.

The apron's so easy to put together, you'll want to make several in different colors. Besides the towels, you'll need a yard of cotton bias tape and 3½ yards of cotton ball fringe.

Here are simple step-by-step instructions:

1. Cut off solid color borders of the towels and then measure to desired length for the apron. Allow an extra inch for seams and cut.

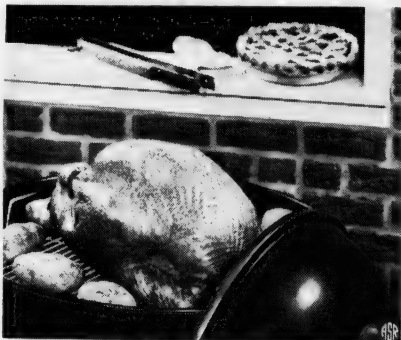

2. Cut out a 12-inch scoop-neck opening for front and back, and bind neck edges with bias tape.

3. Stitch sides together at selvages up to the armholes, and then stitch across the shoulders.

4. Trim edges with ball fringe—including neckline opening, sides, armholes, and hemline.

Banquet From The Grill

by Martha Logan

It is banquet time on the patio when you cook a turkey on the covered grill. The cooking is easy and outdoors where everyone likes to be in the summertime. The roasting time is shortened and the tender, juicy, golden brown turkey is a delicacy to be enjoyed.

Open the vents on the bottom and the cover of the drum-style grill for even cooking and browning. Arrange 25 to 30 briquettes on each side of a heavy duty foil drip pan in the center of the grill. When the briquettes have burned 15 to 20 minutes and are white in color, put the rack in place.

Prepare the turkey for roasting as usual by thawing and removing the neck and giblets from the body cavities. The cooking time is less if you choose to cook the turkey unstuffed. Stuffing may be cooked in a disposable foil pan on the rack beside the turkey. Retuck the legs. Brush the turkey with melted fat for beautiful browning and place it on the rack. Cover the grill and your work is over except to add 8 to 10 briquettes for each additional hour of cooking. No basting is necessary when you use a Deep Basted Butterball Swift's Premium Turkey because special juices placed deep inside baste the turkey as it roasts.

Be sure to check a 14 pound unstuffed turkey for doneness in about 2½ hours. The roast meat thermometer inserted into the thickest portion of the thigh next to the body cavity should register 180° to 185° F. for the turkey to be done. Or, pinch the thigh. If it is soft, the turkey is ready to remove from the grill for the patio banquet.

Director, The Diet Workshop

IF... If more of you reaches the eye than could reasonably be expected, now is the time for all good men and women to be reaching for the best diet to help you trim away your extra pound of flesh.

Many diet plans abound and are proliferated through books, magazines, etc., including those diets which would have you dining on martinis and whipped cream or imbibing eighty ounces of water daily. I personally, and I think your doctor will agree, am not in favor of plans which encourage you to float your fat away. Nor one which urges you to give up on all carbohydrates. Your body needs carbohydrates to function properly - to give you energy - to think clearly.

Keep this in mind in selecting the best plan to help you to get in shape.

If you have any questions regarding dieting or wish a copy of our free fish folder, please write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York.

Sweet Adelines Seek New 'Home Sweet Home'

The Quincy Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc. is a group of 49 harmonizers looking for a new home, preferably in Quincy.

Last week the Chapter, which notes its eighth anniversary on July 9, met for the last time at East Braintree Methodist Church. The congregation has already moved to new quarters and the building is scheduled to come down.

New headquarters are necessary if the four-part harmony girls are to continue their weekly Wednesday night rehearsals regularly throughout the summer, as in previous years.

When the Quincy Chapter received its charter in 1963, there were 27 members on hand. Seven of the original number still continue, while membership is drawn not only from Quincy, but surrounding towns.

Quincy residents include Agnes Barilaro, Adeline Corcoran, Rita Corcoran, Myrtle Galligan, Marjorie Nicholson, Louise Simmons, Lynn Gately [recording secretary], Florence Halabien, Marilyn MacDonald, Sigrid Malaguti, Eleanor Rubino and Ruth Warner.

Weymouth singers are Margaret Brady, Peg Broderick, Roberta Curran, Theresa Kenely, Natalie Marshall, Jean Ouellet and Alice Pizzano.

During the year the Sweet Adelines sing for many charitable organizations, and also at "sing-outs" where they receive a donation.

Once a year they enter into friendly competition with the 37 choruses of Region I, which is comprised of Chapters from Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, New York, Nova Scotia, Ontario, Quebec, Rhode Island and Vermont.

"This is always a busy time of year," says Edna Nitzsche, 1971-72 president - "Polishing our songs and making a new costume as we are all dressed alike when we perform".

This year a "Roaring '20's" theme, with appropriately styled straight-line dresses of light green, Roman striped ties and berets, along with spirited renditions, gained the Quincy Chapter a 10th place spot among the 31 choruses who competed at Chicopee. They were gratified to be in the "top ten". William Rochford of Scituate is their director.

International Offices of the Sweet Adelines are in Tulsa, Okla.

The Quincy Chapter has a 12-member board of directors elected each year. The board elects officers. This year's officers include, along with President Edna Nitzsche of Scituate; Iva Dix, vice president, Ruth Walkama, corresponding secretary; Lynn Gately, recording secretary; and Barbara Fitzgerald, treasurer.

They were installed in June by Mrs. Patricia Malone, a former Wollaston resident, who is director of the Arlington chorus and a new member of the Quincy Chapter. Arrangements for the event were made by Dorothy Garrett, retiring president.

This is the Sweet Adelines' gala event of the year with catered dinner, corsages, special guests including the Mayor and his wife, speeches - and good, four-part harmony by chorus and their quartets.

NEW OFFICERS of St. John's Junior League are Mrs. Roy Goggins, treasurer; Mrs. Ferdinand DeNicola, vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Forte, president; Mrs. Anthony Aimola, secretary; and Mrs. Frederick Walsh, auditor.

Installing Natural Gas heat means more to us than warming up a "cold house."

To Boston Gas and your independent Gas Heating Contractor, this is a chance to show you the kind of people we are. People who treat you like a person, not as "just another customer."

So you can expect your local Gas Heating Contractor's personal installation work to be as dependable as Natural Gas heat itself ... because it is.

Your Gas Heating Contractor is easy to reach, reliable, and efficient. Call and find out for yourself.

And if you change to Natural Gas heat now, there's even a little bonus: We'll arrange to have your old oil tank removed at no charge. And we'll save you from the "Montreal Express."

Carnival Saturday First Fund Raiser For Trinity Lutheran 75th Anniversary

A carnival on Saturday will be the first of several fund-raising events planned to benefit Trinity Lutheran Church's 75th anniversary program in October.

The carnival will be at the Roberts St. tennis court in Kincaide Park from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. There will be candy striped canvas covered booths, games of skill, amusements, prizes for everyone, plus a bake sale and refreshments.

Edward MacDonald is chairman of the carnival. The committee includes William Tuori, Rev. James Kimmell, Sulo Soini, Rev. Hugh Rose, Miss Helen Heikkila, Mrs. Harry Maki, Dr. Ensio Ronka, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robinson. In case of rain, the carnival will be cancelled.

Gifts toward the observance have already been received from Trinity Church Women for a total of $300, and the Tri-Nytes, $100.

In addition, on Sunday the former "Catering Committee" presented a gift of $500 toward the furnishing of "Trinity House", the former parsonage, which should be open in time for the observance. Plans are to convert the former parsonage to a lounge, library and activity center.

Catering committee members included Miss Helen Heikkila, Mrs. Harry Maki, Mrs. Donald Robinson, Mrs. Christy Peters, Mrs. William Tuori, Mrs. Phillip Savard, Mrs. Hugh Rose and Mrs. Edward Johnson.

Church School Sunday Conducted By Students At Union Congregational

"Church School Day" at Union Congregational Church in Wollaston was conducted by students and included presentations of a scholarship, Bibles, promotion certificates and appreciation awards.

The Church scholarship award was presented to Miss Glenda Lombard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leavitt S. Lombard of 45 Lunt St., a North Quincy High School graduate who will attend Aquinas Junior College.

A special appreciation award was given to James Hinman, a teacher for three years, who is graduating from Eastern Nazarene College and will not return next year.

Bibles were presented to third graders Kenneth Hall, Julie McLean, Alana Thomas, Doreen McTiernan, Allyssa Tatttrie, Karen Thompson, Colleen Simmons and Deborah Sherlock.

Awards went to Debbie Benson for perfect attendance; to David Adams, Danny S. Thompson, Gary Ball, KelliAnn Penniman, Melissa Penniman, Kenneth Hall and Karen Thompson, faithful attendance; Robin Menz, one absence.

Taking part in the program were:

Susan Benson, Patricia Lombard, Marianne Murphy, Gary Ball, Cindi McTiernan, Grace Murphy, Ryan Tatttrie, Bonnie Thompson, KelliAnn Penniman.

Gustafson, Mary Kari, Gail Lombard.

Presentations were made to high school seniors John Campbell, Karen Hall and Jill Larsen, in addition to Glenda Lombard.

Ushers were David Ham, Edward Menz, Warren Jordan and Robert Benson, while Gail Lombard and Debbie Benson were acolytes.

Mrs. Ottilie Scales is Church School superintendent; Miss Susan Graham, secretary; Judith Faragher, Barbara Faragher, Mrs. Leavitt Lombard, Glenda Lombard, James Hinman, Carl Benson, teachers.

Rev. Stuart C. Haskins' meditation was "The Best Book of All."

Living, Today

By Dr. William F. Knox

'Too Busy To Be Married'

It may come as a surprise to many people when I say... "You may really be too busy to be married." I said this recently to a young couple who sat in my office. He was a teacher...and was working on his Master's Degree at nights. He always wanted to be a fireman...so he was a member of the auxiliary fire department. She had a government job...and worked many evenings and occasionally went out on speaking tours. They were a busy couple.

This may be an extreme situation...but it is no secret that our men are so busily engaged in business...profession...or job...that they may have no time left for a wife...or children. Men want to succeed. Why shouldn't they? They've had success drilled into them since they were little boys playing Little League. Now the game is making money. You win the game if you make money. You lose if you don't. You're more apt to win if you concentrate on your job...less apt to win if you play around. So...we work hard...often two jobs...or overtime...arrive home physically fatigued...emotionally spent...too weary to be very much of a husband to his wife...or much of a father to his children. If he's a responsible man he "makes ends meet"...but he seems too busy to be married.

Now...on the other side...Mrs. Housewife is very busy with the children. She likes her home and is meticulous about keeping it nice...and clean. In her spare time she takes an office in her club...or takes a part time job. So her concentrations during the day are upon the children...the house-keeping...the club office...the part-time job. The last thing on her mind is her husband...just as the last thing on his mind is his wife. Such marriages provide legitimate parents...tho...ineffective for children...a housekeeper...a meal ticket. But so far as the needed emotional factors in the home there may be great dissatisfaction. Gradually such husbands/wives grow further and further apart...the children are raised...educated...married...gone. Now...Mr. Workolic and Mrs. Housewife are left alone in a house too big for them...unhappy...but with no practical way to escape at their ages.

How do people who are busy avoid such catastrophes? Try these suggestions. First...Let the wife make the atmosphere of the home her primary concern. Let there be singing...flowers...smiles...laughter...love. These are contagious. If she has time left over...then do the club work...but put that man and his home first.

Secondly...Let the husband make it a point to spend some time daily with his wife...morning time over coffee...meeting for lunch...even if he's late at night let there be pillow talk about the cares...concerns...children...mixed in with caresses of each other's tired bodies.

Thirdly...Let this couple put into their schedule...and their budget...frequent...and inexpensive "get-away week ends". It can be as close as a nearby Motel...even a single afternoon and evening together ALONE...being busy only with each other...will help to avoid the catastrophic "too busy to be married" marriage.

More marriages die of dullness than violence. You may not be able to romance your marriage all the way through...but being "too busy to be married" wastes some mighty wonderful husbands and some lovely wives.

New England District Assembly At Wollaston Church, Nazarene College

A delegation of Nazarene church members from Quincy, Massachusetts and New England will take part in the annual New England District Assembly being held Thursday and Friday at Wollaston Church of the Nazarene and on the campus of Eastern Nazarene College.

Preceding the Assembly, the Annual Missionary Convention on Wednesday had Rev. and Mrs. Donald Davis of Argentina as guest speakers. Mrs. Janet Steifel of Wollaston, District World Missionary Society president is to make her annual report.

Rev. Kenneth Pearsall of Quincy, district superintendent of the New England District

Church of the Nazarene, will make his third annual report to the Assembly.

Dr. V. H. Lewis, general superintendent for the Church of the Nazarene will preside at the business sessions. District officers will be elected along with delegates to the 18th Quadrennial General Assembly to be held in Miami Beach, in June, 1972.

Dr. Lewis will be in charge also of the annual ordination service on June 15 when several young men will receive their elder's orders for the ministry.

The District, in addition to World Mission giving, has donated more than $20,000 for the Boston Chapel in Boston's southend, and on Massachusetts Ave. for renovation of their new building. A new church in Great Barrington has been added to the roster, and their delegates will be seated for the first time in a District Assembly.

Thursday evening, Rev. Floyd Fleming, former associate pastor of the Wollaston Church of the Nazarene, will be guest speaker. Now district superintendent of the 100 churches of the Akron District in Ohio, his subject will be "Home Missions Today". This service is open to the public.

Healing Power Of Christ Subject Sunday At First Church Of Christ

The healing power of Christ will be explored Sunday at 10:45 a.m. services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, at 20 Greenleaf St.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" include these words of Christ Jesus: "Verily, verily, I say unto you,

He that believeth in me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father."

This passage will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth's immortal idea is sweeping down the centuries, gathering beneath its wings the sick and sinning. My weary hope tries to realize that happy day, when man shall recognize the Science of Christ and love his neighbor as himself, - when he shall realize God's omnipotence and the healing power of the divine Love in what it has done and is doing for mankind."

Once upon a time there was a bad boy named Danny. He was the worst boy in school. He put frogs' legs in the teacher's desk and crabs on the kids' seats.

The Little Leprechaun

One day I was looking out my window, and I saw a short little man in a green suit looking all over my yard for something. Since it was St. Patrick's day and I was a believer in leprechauns I thought it was one. I went outside and asked him what his name was. He said that it was Larry the leprechaun and that I had 3 wishes. He asked me what my 1st one was going to be. I said I would like 800 shamrocks for good luck. My 2nd wish was that I got to go someplace for my summer vacation. My third wish was for as many wishes as I ever wanted, except for the silly ones. I did get all my wishes. The next year I saw Larry the leprechaun and thanked him over and over again. He said it was nothing.

She No Longer Cried In Pain

There was a musty smell in the old room. The shades were pulled down. The room was set with very old antique furniture. The bed had an afghan folded along the edge. And although the room was handsome, it was dark. Sadness had fallen over it. For in the great bed lay a woman very pale and sick. Her face was wrinkled from age. She had the eyes of a wise woman that had probably been quite beautiful in her youth. She was moaning and calling the name of the young man sitting in a chair at the side of her bed. She reached out and grasped his hand.

He was a tall man probably in his twenties. He had a worried look and his eyes were red with sorrow. She cried once more. He held her hand tighter. Her hand fell from his. Her face was calm and she no longer cried in pain.

Hurley Insurance Agency Takes Over Boit, Dalton & Church Quincy Office

The Hurley Insurance Agency at 1247 Hancock St. is expanding its offices in the Munroe Building to accommodate some 2,000 customers formerly served by Boit, Dalton & Church, Inc.

Early this month Boit, Dalton & Church decided to combine operations of its Quincy office at 1424 Hancock St. with those of its Boston Headquarters.

In a letter to its customers MacGregor H. Hill, former manager of the Quincy office, wrote, "In the best interests of our many customers who would be better served by a local agent we have arranged with the Hurley Insurance Agency, Inc. to assume this responsibility."

The 30-year old Hurley Agency, headed by Paul E. Hurley, president; and Richard P. Garvey, is on the street floor in the same building as Quincy Cooperative Bank.

Heading their staff of four girls is Miss Margaret Twomey, formerly associated with Boit, Dalton & Church who has been with the Hurley Agency for four years.

Joining the firm on June 1 was Mrs. Marianne Twigg and Mrs. Jessie Boddie, Quincy employees of the Boston-based firm until its consolidation.

All Quincy records of the Boit, Dalton & Church firm have been transferred to Hurley Insurance Agency, so that there is no change or lapse in insurance coverage.

The Hurley agency is expanding into space vacated by the closing of the Quincy Fur Shop, next door to its present offices. Renovations are expected to be completed by the end of the summer.

Old And New Ways To Help Reclamation Effort

McFetridge, 14, and Jeanne Stokinger, 13, as they drop tin cans into one of two Whirlpool "Trash Mashers" loaned by South Shore Television & Appliance to flatten 30-40 cans for reclamation within seconds.

Six Seniors From Quincy Receive Grossman Foundation Awards

Six Quincy seniors are among 33 from 18 South Shore high schools selected to receive the 16th annual Reuben A. and Lizzie Grossman Foundation Awards for outstanding school leadership and community service. It has been announced by Nissie Grossman, foundation trustee.

The winners, chosen as candidates by principals, guidance directors and teachers in their respective schools, were unanimously approved by the board of South Shore educators and community leaders on the foundation's administrative council.

The 1971 Quincy winners are:

Vincent Peruzzi and Susan Carlisle of Quincy High School; Jane Roberts, Woodward School for Girls; Damaso Gomez, Quincy Vocational-Technical High School; Nancy Amrheim and Steve Murray of North Quincy High School.

Each will receive a $50 Savings Bond and an inscribed plaque. In addition, their names will be added to the permanent honor roll of Grossman award winners on display in each school.

A total of 375 students have received awards since they were initiated 16 years ago by the sons and daughters of the late Reuben A. and Lizzie Grossman of Quincy in commemoration of the couple's 50th wedding anniversary.

New officers of the administrative council are John W. Walsh, principal of North Quincy High School, president; and Donald C. Wilder, editor of The Patriot Ledger, secretary. Nicholas Meleones, principal of Hull High School, is immediate past president.

J. Thomas Mullaney Seeks School Committee Seat

J. Thomas Mullaney, 36, of 115 Standish Ave., Wollaston, today announced his candidacy for the Quincy School Committee.

Mullaney, whose campaign slogan is, "Put a finance man on the School Committee," said he is running for office "as a parent interested in education and school activities and as a taxpayer worried about the rising tax rate."

"I feel the time has come to elect school committee members who have the same dedication to 'cost control' that they have for 'quality education'," Mullaney said.

He pointed out that the tax rate has doubled in 10 years despite "sincere efforts" of city officials to keep it down.

A lifelong Quincy resident,

Mullaney attended Quincy public schools and is a 1952 Quincy High School graduate. He is a graduate also of Bentley College of Accounting and Finance, and received his bachelor's degree in business management from Northeastern University, graduating with honors.

For 11 years he has worked for Polaroid Corp. Finance Department as senior cost analyst in the film division at Waltham.

Married, with two children, Mullaney served with the Army, is precinct director and membership chairman of the Quincy Citizens Association; a member of Sigma Epsilon Rho Honor Society at Northeastern University and Bentley Alumni Association.

Roger Whitcomb Elected Quincy Amvet Commander

Roger Whitcomb of 35 Lafayette St. has been elected commander of Quincy Amvets Post No. 7 for 1971-72.

Other officers are:

John Daniels and Edward Roberts, first and second vice commanders; Phillip Singer, adjutant; Henry Williams public relations officer; Walter Johnson, finance officer; Anthony M. Famigletti, service officer and membership director.

Richard Koch, judge advocate; William K. Mayer, provost marshal and Owen Eaton, chaplain.

Adams Heads Monclair Men's Club

Edward P. Adams of 95 Bayside Rd., North Quincy, has been elected president of the Montclair Men's Club.

He succeeds Andrew A. Orrock, who was elected treasurer.

Adams, a 12-year Quincy resident, is a graduate of Weymouth schools and Bentley College and is an assistant controller of Jordan Marsh Co.

A Korean War veteran, he is a member of Robert I. Nickerson Legion Post, coach of the Squantum Boys' League, vice president of the New England Controllers Association, and a member of Orphans Hope Lodge.

Other officers elected are James Locke, vice president, Thomas Martin, trustee for three years.

Re-elected were Charles Conway, recording secretary; Richard Post, financial secretary;

George Hatfield, corresponding secretary; and John O'Reilly, sergeant-at-arms.

Herbert Baker and Raymond Cunningham are other elected trustees. Installation of officers is planned for September.

There will be a family outing on Sunday at 9 a.m. at Pappas Grove, Braintree. Orrock, Bob Rice, Ed Adams, Herb Baker and Joe Gildea comprise the committee.

McLelland Ward 3 Candidate

Theophilus McLelland III, 31, of 63 Payne St., South Quincy, has announced his candidacy for Ward 3 Councillor.

McLelland is concerned about the "ineffective use of city monies for recreation for the young and aged, for youth development and the revitalization of streets and sidewalks in Ward 3."

Problems of tax increases and revaluation need attention now, McLelland declared.

A lifelong Ward 3 resident and graduate of Quincy Schools, he attended Northeastern University and is a scientist for the Polaroid Corp. at Cambridge.

He is a member of the Society of Photographic Scientists and Engineers, the Sons of Italy, the Adams Heights Men's Club and Adams School PTA.

McLelland, a homeowner, is married to the former Barbara Ann Lombardo and they have three children.

Rebecca Doing Her Part

College student Rebecca Ross of 29 Brook Rd., South Quincy, is working on a plan to have trash bins similar to those used at Quincy Fire Stations installed at several parking areas in Quincy.

She has already received promise of full cooperation from Curtis Farms, Star Market and Stop & Shop. Bins will continue to be used for collection of tin cans to be recycled if the plan meets with approval of Marinucci Bros., trash collectors.

At the present time, Rebecca reports, there is a large wooden box near the former Cashman's Quarry dump on Quarry St. where tin cans may be deposited.

While Rebecca regards recycling as her personal project for ecology, she is looking for persons interested in conservation programs to set up a South Shore Committee. Present members are Mrs. Gertrude Shawless of South Hingham and Rocco Juliano of Braintree. Prospective members may call her at her home, 479-0223.

Leo J. Kelly Announces For Ward 1

Leo J. Kelly, 39, of 29 Charles St., Houghs Neck, today announced his candidacy for Ward 1 Councillor.

"I plan to campaign as the man who will continue to involve myself in the community, and bring back representative government to the people of Ward 1," Kelly said.

"I feel that communication between the people of Ward 1 and their councillor is what is lacking, and if elected I will work to resolve this."

Kelly noted he was instrumental in bringing the drug situation at Broad Meadows Junior High School before the Parents Advisory Board. Through their efforts, along with those of school administrators, interested residents and concerned students a drugs prevention campaign was started.

Noting that the drugs problem is in schools all over Quincy, Kelly feels that more preventive programs of this nature should be set up.

More than 1,300 residents signed a petition favoring his plan for a joint youth center and multi-purpose building which would house the Serpos Clinic at Houghs Neck on a year-round basis. The plan is now before Atty. Gen. Robert Quinn.

Kelly was appointed to the board of directors of Community Action, Inc. by Mayor James R. McIntyre and serves on the planning committee.

He is President of the Sgt. Lawrence Grenham Youth Association and serves on the executive board of the Houghs Neck Community Council. He is a Navy veteran and a member of Houghs Neck Legion Post No. 380.

Married to the former Helen C. Callahan, Kelly has lived in Ward 1 for 36 years.

In Win Streak

Seems Like Old Times For Morrisette

The Morrisette Legion baseball team, after dominating Zone 6 and winning seven titles in the previous nine years, was an also-ran last year.

But this year, Ray Cattaneo's club looks like the Morrisette teams of old and going into last night's big game with Quincy, Morrisette had a 5-0 record and was leading the zone.

Friday night Morrisette plays at Stoughton and next Wednesday will host Braintree at Adams Field.

Cattaneo's club stretched its unbeaten streak to five Monday night with a 7-0 breeze at Randolph as Southpaw Jimmy Walker came within one out of a no-hitter. With two outs in the seventh he lost his no-hit bid on a line single to left. Walker struck out seven and walked three.

Pete Lucier led the attack with a home run and two singles. Russ MacDonald had a triple and single, Dave Nelson two singles and Walker helped his own cause with a homer.

"We have been putting everything together with fine pitching, solid hitting and strong defense," said Cattaneo, himself a former Morrisette star.

"I owe a lot to my pitching coach, Bill Corcoran [a former Morrisette pitcher]. He's really helping our pitchers."

Sunday Morrisette survived its biggest test with a 6-3 win over defending zone champion Weymouth. Tony Knasas pitched fine ball and Morrisette again had a good hitting day with 11 hits. Jim Driscoll had a triple and single, Tom Burke a homer and single, MacDonald two singles, Nelson two singles and Knasas, who won his second game with some last-minute help from Walker, had two singles. The score was tied at 3-3 after seven innings but Morrisette won it with a run in the eighth and two in the ninth.

In its previous game Morrisette overcame a 4-1 deficit to topple Milton, 9-4 as Len Pepe got the win in relief of Mark Whelton, who pitched well except for a tough luck third inning when Milton scored all its runs.

Three straight walks, one hit and two errors accounted for the Milton runs.

Morrisette bounced back with three runs in the fourth, three more in the fifth and two in the sixth to win going away.

Driscoll had a double and two singles and Nelson a triple and single to pace the offense.

Earlier in the week Morrisette had pounded Braintree, 10-4, rolling to a 10-0 lead before Braintree rallied for four runs in the bottom of the sixth and final inning.

Although touched up for 10 hits, Walker was in complete command while his mates took advantage of eight walks, combining them with six hits for the easy win.

Walker had a homer, Burke a double and single and Nelson two singles.

QUINCY POINT Junior High baseball squad includes from left [front], Bob Calvi, Mike Dunley, Bill Bennett, Bob Petzoldt, Mike Cullen, Mark Dwyer, Mark Oliverio, Don Jackson and Scorer Bob DeCristofaro. Second row, Manager Gerry Barry, Alfredo Donato, Henry Fitzgerald, Ed MacDonald, Frank Clarke, Mike Varrasso, Coach Dick Moran, Steve Keith, Ron Butt, Rich Nord, Frank Cogliano and John MacFarlane.

Spotlight On Junior High Sports

Point Baseball Team Small But Big In Competitive Spirit

Although the Point Junior High school baseball team had only a 1-7 record this spring, it lost some tough games and gave undefeated city champion Atlantic-North its toughest competition.

"We lost to them by scores of 2-1 and 8-7," said veteran coach Dick Moran. "We lost some other tough games. We had some good ball players but our small enrollment hurts us just as it hurts the track team."

Incidentally, the 8-7 loss to A-N clinched the second straight league title for the winners.

All players are ninth graders except for eighth grader Ed MacDonald, a first baseman-outfielder.

The other players are: Mike Varrasso, Kevin Satterthwaite, John MacFarlane, Don Jackson, Alfredo Donato, Dick Nord, Paul Smith.

Bob Petzoldt, Steve Keith, Henry Fitzgerald, Mike Cullen,

Frank Cogliano, Frank Clarke, Ronald Butt, Bill Bennett, Bob Calvi, Mark Dwyer, and Mark Oliverio. Gerard Barry is manager.

Moran had words of praise for some of his players, including Varrasso, the big catcher; Dwyer, a fine batter and a versatile player who pitched and played both shortstop and left field; Petzoldt, hard-hitting third baseman, and Cullen, an excellent shortstop.

Hosts Braintree Friday

Quincy Legion Bounces Back For Three In Row

The Quincy Legion baseball team, hoping for its first winning season for four-year coach Doug Fleming, absorbed a 10-0 wallop at the hands of defending Zone 6 champion Weymouth in its opening game.

The Quincy club, however, bounced back to win three in a row and take a 3-1 record into last night's big game with Morrisette, leading the league with a 5-0 mark.

Friday night Quincy will be home to Braintree at Adams Field, will host Weymouth Monday and will go to Stoughton next Wednesday.

Quincy made it three wins in a row Monday when it edged Milton, 4-3.

Bob Brill was the starting and winning pitcher but was relieved in the seventh inning by Dave Murphy, who has recovered from an opening day injury.

Pacing the winning attack was Jack Flaherty with three hits and Tim Flynn with a triple and single. Dave Drew, Bob Morton, Bob Torino, Joe Marini and Jay Caron all had one hit.

Sunday Quincy blanked Randolph, 2-0, behind Scott Manson's five-hit pitching.

It was the second shutout in a row for Quincy and extended its whitewash streak to 16 innings. Manson struck out nine and walked only two. Quincy was held to three hits.

A walk, sacrifice and fielder's choice gave Quincy the winning run in the third. In the sixth Flaherty tripled for the only extra base hit and scored the insurance run on an infield out.

The only other hits were singles by Paul Varney and Torino.

Last week Quincy rebounded from its Weymouth wallop to bomb Stoughton, 12-0.

Quincy backed up Bill Desher's two-hit pitching with an 11-hit attack and after a scoreless first inning, the winners scored two in second, four in the third, two in the fourth and four in the fifth. Desher struck out six and walked two.

Flynn had a long home run, Flaherty a double and single, Torino and Tony Alibrandi two singles each.

Quincy Track (Girls) Club Scores 36 Points In Junior Olympics

The Quincy Track Club, an AAU-affiliated club for girls between the ages of 9 and 19 and made up mainly of members of this spring's Quincy High team, the school's first girls' team, got off to an impressive start last Saturday when it scored 36 points to far outdistance several other clubs in the Mass. Junior Olympics in Falmouth.

All girls who placed in the top three in each event qualified for the New England Junior Olympics this Saturday in Natick.

The outstanding performance last week was turned in by junior high jumper Judy Foley, who took first place with a jump of four feet, four inches.

The biggest surprise was provided by Kathy Bennett, who took third place in the senior long jump with a jump of 14 feet, three inches. She was on the winning senior relay team and placed third in the junior 220. This was her first meet and the first time she ever long jumped.

Kathy Ilacqua paced the winning 440 relay team and took second in the 50-yard hurdles. Linda Robinson also ran with the winning 440 relay team, won the softball throw and took third in the discus. Kathy Bennett was on the winning relay team and took third in the long jump.

Rounding out the senior events, Betsy Witt was on the winning relay team.

In junior division events Judy Foley won the high jump and was third in the long jump, Betsy Witt was third in the discus, Kathy Bennett took third in the 220 and Linda Robinson was fourth in the 75-yard dash.

The Quincy team, coached by Peter Gallagher, will work out evenings during the summer at Veterans Memorial Stadium. A schedule of meets is being drawn up and it is expected that from five to 10 meets will be scheduled.

Any girl interested in joining should call Gallagher at 925-4807 or write him at 74 D Street, Hull.

On The Screen By Vincent Puleo

Warren Beatty Feuding Over 'Bonnie And Clyde'

Interested in a Japanese Film Fair? Beginning July 1, and continuing on a regular noon to midnight daily basis until Sept. 7 the Films of Japan Festival will be screened at New England Life Hall, 225 Clarendon St., Boston... In all, 38 features are scheduled, including the premiere of the epic classic, "CHUSHINGURA". All of the films will be shown in the original uncut versions and will display subtitles.

Of special interest to Oriental film lovers, are the exclusive New England premiere of a select 19 motion pictures. Included in this list, together with the above mentioned "CHUSHINGURA", are the celebrated "SUMARI" classics, "I", "II", and "III". Among the remaining 19 previously New England screened films, special interest should be made of the "SEVEN SUMARI". The AKIRA KUROSAWA directed epic proved the catalyst of the American western-drama, "THE MAGNIFICENT SEVEN".

The producers of the gala festival are to be congratulated for their unique policy of screening the films daily on a continuous noon to midnight basis... All in all, the Festival shows promise of being a gourmet of film viewing for the discerning buff, as well as for the average, but nonetheless, curious film goer...

"McCABE AND MRS. MILLER" could very well be the last motion picture which WARREN BEATTY will make under the Warner Bros. banner. Several weeks ago BEATTY filed a damage suit against Warners because the latter hasn't as yet given him a full and proper accounting of the profits from "BONNIE AND CLYDE" [released under the Warner banner]... What's really getting BEATTY uptight is the matter of how much loot he is to receive from television sales. Claims he's due $1.75 million, but Warners claims $1.25 is more in the "correct" range...

It was bound to happen and it finally did...lesbianism has come to Transylvania in the guise of "DAUGHTERS OF DARKNESS". And no, what many are hailing as the ghoulish shocker of the past decade is not X-rated. Only an R... Running for Presidential Office isn't what it used to be. In fact, it's becoming more absurd every four years. WILBUR MILLS, close-fisted chairman of the House and Ways Committee, is starting his campaign off with, of all things, a song titled "WILBUR". However, the song will have a familiar ring to it...the record will be sung to the BURT BACHRACH tune, "RAINDROPS KEEP FALLING ON MY HEAD"... My, but what originality! Seems MILLS, whose wife claims he closely resembles PAUL NEWMAN, wants to slice in on the youth vote...

GENE BARRY is dickering between starting in a package deal involving three films, or starting anew on Broadway... Isn't it about time DONALD SUTHERLAND adapted a clean, wholesome look to a movie that would help immensely... STACEY KEACH and newcomer JEFF BRIDGES team talents in "FAT CITY"... SHIRLEY MACLAINE's latest release, "DESPERATE CHARACTERS", is an official American entry in the prestigious Berlin Film Festival. An American motion picture hasn't grabbed the top film prize since 1963. However, the expert direction of Pulitzer prize-winning playwright FRANK D. GILREY could prove a plus and make this film a competitive vehicle. A win would also place Miss MACLAINE in star orbit again. If it's one thing her career could certainly use, is a box office hit...

The re-release of "20,000 LEAGUES UNDER THE SEA" is garnering not only rave reviews, but a whole new generation of fans for its star KIRK DOUGLAS... "BLUE WATER, WHITE DEATH" is one of the 10 best pictures released during the first half of this year. Has to be seen to be believed... Wasn't HOWARD COSSELL's "BANANAS" spoof ever in keeping with his image, whatever that might be?... "DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER" will be on the market a week before Christmas... French critic ROBERT BENOYOUN is readying a book on JERRY LEWIS. And to show his appreciation LEWIS will do a bit part in BENOYOUN's second film, "I WILL BE AS SERIOUS AS PLEASURE"...

Comedian GEORGE JESSEL was recently named chairman of the board of a prestigious New York corporate and financial relations firm... Vulgarly Dept: Underground "superstar" VIVA was asked to vacate the premises of a posh London eatery for breast-feeding her three month old baby in public. VIVA has about much class as she has talent that being nil... Remember the name of Italian director CARLOS TOBALINA! His "DOUBLE INITIATION" won 1st prize at the Cannes Festival. TOBALINA's more recently remembered as the director of "INFRASEXUM".

Whatever happened to BRANDO look-a-like RICHARD BRADFORD? The last we saw of him was as star of the 1968 summer television series "MAN IN A SUITCASE". Off that success, and viewer exposure, I for one thought he was on the way to fame in films. But three years later and no BRADFORD... Just can't figure it out. BRADFORD had everything going for him...looks, talent, charisma. Then again, maybe he wouldn't accept some of the nonsensical, nude look scripts thrown his way. The present climate is responsible for the ruination of more than a score of careers. I just hope RICHARD BRADFORD isn't a casualty. The big screen could certainly use the image of his virile magnetism...

Watch for the made in Italy "TRINITY" westerns to set a trend towards comedy in boots. In case you didn't know it violent, gore oaters are on the way out... Titles are not always indicative as to the true interpretation of a film as is the case with "RED, WHITE AND BLUE". A patriotic motion picture it ain't... See "LOVE STORY" yet? The last 10 minutes will leave you soggy-eyed...

Opposition To MDC Wollaston Beach Plan Mounts

Opposition to the MDC's proposal to expand recreational and parking areas along Quincy Shore Drive continues to mount.

The opposition centers on plans to fill in clam flats, marshland and relocate sections of Fenno St. and Quincy Shore Drive itself.

Cost of the project estimated at $900,000 in 1967, could now range as high as $1.5 million, according to one opponent.

The Quincy Citizens Association through Joseph A. Slattery, Shoreline Committee chairman, and Rep. Joseph E. Brett joins opposition forces which include the Wollaston Park Association, the Quincy Conservation Commission and Quincy students interested in ecology.

The MDC plan has been "strongly endorsed" by Mayor James R. McIntyre who, as state senator, sponsored an amendment in the Senate to "adequately coordinate, at minimal cost, the flooding improvements in the Black's Creek-Furnace Brook area with the MDC beach improvement between Black's Creek and Fenno Street."

McIntyre predicts that "the beach will be one of the most handsome recreational facilities in the entire metropolitan region."

The Quincy Planning Board and the Park-Recreation Board have also approved the MDC plan which calls for filling in about one and a half acres of Black's Creek marshland and Wollaston Beach clam flats.

In a letter to Commissioner Edward J. Riess, Slattery protested filling of the clam flats and relocation of Quincy Shore Drive and Fenno St. across Black's Creek marsh. He declared:

- Thousands of pounds of clams would be destroyed by sand fill, depriving many South Shore residents of their clam-digging income.

- Drains and culvert construction would tend to make Merrymount Beach stagnant and unhealthful for bathing.

- Ecologically-valuable acres of Black's Creek marsh would be destroyed by bulldozing and filling for road relocation.

- Straightening Quincy Shore Drive would make it a speedway and greater hazard to beach visitors and motorists.

- The cost is unwarranted.

"The Quincy Citizens Association believes the beach can be prudently developed without destroying the tidal flats, marshland, Merrymount Beach, or increasing traffic hazards to children particularly," Slattery said.

Brett takes exception to the $900,000 bond issue authorized for the proposed improvements, claiming the cost will reach $1,500,000.

"My primary objection to the proposed project is that the 'benefits' which may result from the project do not warrant the expenditure of more than $1,500,000 of the taxpayers' money," he said. "The projection of $1,500,000 is made on the theory that the $900,000 authorization of 1967 will be insufficient five years later and interest charges on a 20-year bond issue will boost the eventual cost to above that figure."

Brett added that the "suggested benefits" are very limited, are unneeded and states "to provide an additional artificial beach at such high cost is completely without common sense."

The demand for additional beach area would be for not more than a dozen days during the summer months, Brett said.

Cost of the project would not be warranted for such limited use, he insisted.

Brett suggested also that H. W. Moore consulting engineer for the City of Quincy and recipient of the contract to design the beach improvement project "appears to have some sort of dual interest in the development of this project which was first proposed by him."

At a hearing before the Department of Public Works, Jens Thornton of Squantum charged that Moore was "legally invalid" in representing the MDC on the project, as well as the City of Quincy as consulting engineer.

Miss Dorothy Kelly, secretary, who represented the Wollaston Park Association at the public hearing, said the Association is "greatly concerned that the year-round recreational value of Caddy Park as a family playground will be jeopardized by bringing additional speeding traffic closer to the Park and through a portion of its present parking area" through relocation of Quincy Shore Drive.

"For over 10 years residents of Quincy have been fighting to save Black's Creek marshland from destruction," she said. "Now we adjure the MDC, Division of Waterways and Department of Natural Resources to discard any plans to bulldoze and fill even one acre of this valuable ecological lin to the quality of our environment."

Decision on the proposed improvements is now under consideration by Commissioner John P. King of the State Department of Public Works.

QEA Nutritional Needs Committee Replies To Quincy Parents Council For Action

Editor, Quincy Sun:

In response to the letter from the "Quincy Parents Council for Action" [which appears to be none other than the same group of individuals who advocated the establishment of a pilot-hot lunch program at the Snug Harbor School nearly a year ago] published in the Quincy Sun of June 17, we are puzzled as to why they are having such great difficulty in understanding the positions of the Quincy teachers on the subject of school lunches in view of the fact that the leaders of this group have heard the teachers express their reasons for opposing the Snug Harbor Lunch Program on a number of occasions.

It would seem that the teacher's arguments have fallen on at least unresponsive ears, in their case.

For the record, certain points should be made clear. The Quincy Education Assn. [QEA] has gone on record as favoring a home-room amendment to the School Lunch Law and had indicated its position in letters to members of the General Court and in testimony at the State House. This does not mean that the QEA is opposed to all school lunch programs. The teachers merely wish each community to be free to make its own decision in view of its own special circumstances.

Admittedly the QEA was the only group of teachers testifying at the State House for a home-room amendment to the School Lunch Law [which was in effect the intention of Rep. Brett's bill] but rest assured the Quincy Teachers are not alone in their opposition to the present law. Many of our Massachusetts communities have not yet realized the full impact of the mandatory school lunch law and probably will not so realize until the mandatory implementation date approaches in September of 1973.

The QEA, as an organization, has not taken an official position on the statements of the City Solicitor, Mr. Pavan, in regard to the legality of the City Council's action in trimming the funds for the Snug Harbor Lunch Program from the school budget.

Speaking as an individual, the former President of the QEA, Mr. Garner, did respond to Mr. Pavan's statement relative to whether fiscal autonomy was a myth and his statement was published in the media. We, too, speaking as a duly-constituted QEA committee and after having read Mr. Pavan's opinion as reported in the media and listened to his explanation before the Quincy School Committee, would have to say that it is our impression that Mr. Pavan's ruling is essentially correct.

The school committee does not have fiscal autonomy! An autonomous body is one that has the power "to act independently without outside control." In matters of finances this is simply not the case with our school committees. The City Council has the right, even the obligation, to review the school budget and if it deems appropriate to make cuts where it seems necessary.

The law simply states that a city or town must appropriate sufficient funds to provide for the educational needs of the children in the public schools. The law further states that if in the opinion of the Mayor the Attorney General or ten taxpayers [no mention is made of the School Committee] this stipulation has not been met then any of the above mentioned individuals or groups may initiate a court suit and the courts will make the final determination.

In the case of the lunch program there is some question as to whether this falls within the province of an educational program or whether a cut in this area would mean that insufficient funds have been appropriated to provide for the educational needs of our children. Certainly if there are individuals in the community who feel strongly that an injustice has been done than they should make use of the recourses provided. It would seem that the final determination in the case of the Snug Harbor Lunch Program will be made by the courts and we will await that decision!

Efforts are underway to bring President Nixon to Quincy for the formal opening of the MBTA South Shore line.

Target date for the grand opening is mid-August and MBTA officials are hopeful they can get Nixon here then, for what they consider a major event.

They apparently are trying to woo Nixon through Transportation Secretary John Volpe.

RIDICULOUS would seem to be an appropriate word right now for the mayor's $10,000 salary.

Quincy firefighters and patrolmen have been offered a new maximum salary of $10,400-$400 more than the city's chief executive draws.

A pretty good guess is that there are already 300 or more subordinates bringing home bigger pay envelopes than the mayor right now.

Both former Mayor Amelio Della Chiesa and present incumbent James R. McIntyre have blocked attempts to increase the mayor's salary.

It makes for a good public image to reject a pay raise for yourself. But their bread and butter didn't depend on the $10,000. Both had two jobs: Della Chiesa as mayor and state representative, McIntyre as mayor and senator and now mayor and senate counsel.

His latter job pays $33,000 which, combined with his mayor's salary, gives him $43,000.

Thus, McIntyre is making considerably more than the $10,400 offered patrolmen and firefighters.

But the $10,000 mayor's salary -- not the combined salary -- is what Quincy residents should keep in mind.

By keeping the salary at $10,000, it "locks out" qualified potential candidates who aren't holding another elective job and can't afford to run for a $10,000 job.

It narrows down the number of candidates. In the long run, the city could be short-changed by paying it's mayor $10,000 and not getting a good variety of candidates.

It is kind of ridiculous, if you think about it.

RETIRED Detective Warren Corbett during his 33 years with the Quincy Police Department was a man of action--not words.

And he was quite in character at the testimonial dinner in his behalf at Montello's the other night. When all the bouquets and awards had been presented to him and he was called on to speak, he put it this way:

"I don't know what all the fuss is about. I had fun working. Thank you."

During a good part of those 33 years, Warren specialized in nabbing rubber check artists. And, he was excellent at it. He saved Quincy merchants many thousands of dollars.

In addition to plaques and citations presented him, the Merchants Division of the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce presented him--quite appropriately--with a $500 check.

One, a wag mentioned, that wouldn't bounce.

★★★

SPEAKING OF WARREN, reminds me of my early newspaper days just after World War II when I was covering the police beat for The Patriot Ledger.

Still fresh was that famed war-time saying: "Sighted Sub, Sank Same."

Warren and his long-time sidekick, James Ford, were a cruising car team in those days. One night they received a call from a West Quincy woman who said she had a rat trapped in the bathroom and needed help.

On their way to the house, Corbett and Ford stopped and picked up a stray cat. They then turned in this report to Capt. George Fallon:

"Threw cat in bathroom. Locked door."

We checked it out later to see what happened. The cat won.

"GOODNIGHT, Dorothy"... "Goodnight, Mabel". The next successful network TV newscasting team could very well be a pair of women.

So, at least, thinks Snelling & Snelling, the employment counsellors.

Women are getting into all kinds of jobs.

From 1961 through 1969, women and teenagers accounted for two-thirds of the nation's employment growth according to District Manager Burton Bartzoff.

Women now hold about 37 per cent of the country's jobs as compared with 28 per cent after World War II.

"We expect to see many women move up the traditional routes in business to top management posts, others to strike out as entrepreneurs creating their own businesses and, still more successfully, entering fields formerly considered man's domain."

"Goodnight, Dorothy".

'Peter Did A Lot Of Things'

Landry Family To Continue Collecting Clothing For Vietnamese Orphanage

By RUTH WAINWRIGHT

"Nothing Peter Landry did will be remembered longer than what he did for others," Rev. John J. Dacey, pastor of St. Boniface Church, said of war hero Lt. Peter J. Landry in ceremonies dedicating a flag and flagpole in his honor at Germantown.

Lt. Landry and his wife, Sabina, along with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Landry of 89 Doane St., Germantown, Fr. Dacey revealed, had led a drive to collect clothing and other supplies for children in a Vietnamese orphanage near his post.

"This humane effort will be continued by the Landry family, Fr. Dacey said.

"Peter did a lot of things," Fr. Dacey said. "And I do not think that anything will stand more to his credit than the work he did for those who were unable to help themselves.

"We have not forgotten that, and we shall continue to help, and to help Peter's family as long as it is possible for us to do so."

Lt. Landry was killed in Vietnam Nov. 5, 1970 when his plane was shot down while he was returning from a mission. This year

Germantown residents, where he lived until his marriage, collected funds for a flag and pole which were placed at the front of St. Boniface rectory.

Edward Grindie, chairman of the Harborview Residents Committee, presided at the dedication ceremonies.

Councillor Edward S. Graham, a close friend of Mr. Landry, Sr., described Lt. Landry as "an all-American boy," a "good son following the example of a good father."

Mayor James R. McIntyre noted, "It is significantly appropriate that the flag and pole be on church property at St. Boniface because he sacrificed his life for others, this young man laid down his life for God and country."

Attending were Lt. Landry's parents, his widow, Sabina Landry of Weymouth and their children, Vickie Ann, 7½ years, and Cindy Ann, 4½; Mrs. George Walsh, Mrs. Linda Cheney of Brockton, Mrs. Antoinette Beckwith of Braintree; Irma Landry; Joseph Landry, Angela Landry, Mark Landry and Lorri Ann Landry, all at home.

Unable to be present was Pfc. Charles Landry, a brother serving in Korea with the Air Force.

Representing the George F. Bryan VFW Post were A. Warren Steward, officer of the day; Commander-elect Manuel Halter and junior vice commander David Veno serving on the flag-raising detail; Anthony Pagnano, Russell Guppy, Robert Ahlsted, Frank Kiernan and Paul Farmer, uncle of Lt. Landry, in the color guard.

Raymond D'Angelo was bugler; Francis Hatch, Robert Jensen, William Jensen, Joseph Sullivan and Kenneth Kelliher, firing squad detail.

Boy Scouts, whose Scoutmaster is Mr. Landry, Sr., Cub Scouts under Mr. Grindie, and Webelos Scouts were led by Bart Gunning; Girl Scouts, under leadership of Mrs. Julie Morrissey, neighborhood chairman.

The public address system was provided by Richard J. Koch, executive secretary of the Quincy Park and Recreation Department through Police Lt. William Daley.

Working on the fund-raising efforts for the flag and flagpole were Mrs. Morrissey, Mrs. Marie Black, Mrs. Betty Walkama, Mrs. Rose O'Rourke, Mrs. Mary Duross, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Grindie, Fr. Dacey, girls and boys of Germantown.

The first Quincy link of the MBTA South Shore rapid transit line will be electrified Friday, with officials pushing for a mid-August opening.

Energizing of the entire Quincy line is expected to be completed within the next few weeks.

Mid-August is the target date for the first trains to run on the new line between Quincy and Boston.

MBTA General Manager Joseph C. Kelly and Mayor James R. McIntyre today jointly warned of the hazards of the electrified third rail.

To be energized Friday will be an additional one mile segment from Victory Rd, Dorchester to the Teanean substation over the George H. Anderson Bridge to the North Quincy station.

Next Tuesday, another mile from the North Quincy station to near the Wollaston station will be "live".

The remainder of the present line, from just north of the Wollaston station to south of the Quincy Center station is expected to be energized in the next few weeks.

Energizing the third rail to North Quincy and Wollaston stations will permit the MBTA to continue testing of rapid transit operations over a distance of 5.5 miles starting at the beginning of the South Shore extension at the Columbia interchange with the Cambridge-Dorchester [Red] line.

The first segment of the extension from the interchange from Victory Rd, was energized May 3.

"Electrified rapid transit is a totally new concept in transportation for residents of the South Shore," the Mayor and Kelly said.

"While this new transportation alternative will prove itself attractive to 'battle wary' expressway commuters, the people of Quincy must constantly bear in mind that there are certain dangers that they must avoid. The third rail will be powered 24 hours a day by 600 volts of direct electric current, and any unauthorized use of this third rail could prove to be fatal.

"The MBTA roadbed is for the exclusive use of rapid transit, and the third rail is to be used only for powering the trains. Public awareness of these hazards is extremely vital if the total benefit of electrified rapid transit is to be derived by the South Shore communities.

"Parents are particularly urged to warn their children of the hazards of electrified rapid transit, but everyone is urged to participate in the safety campaign to make all aware of the 'live' third rail dangers.

"We seek the cooperation of every resident of Quincy to insure the complete safety of everyone using electrified rapid transit."

The MBTA conducted a series of audio-visual programs throughout the Quincy schools to thoroughly acquaint each pupil or student with the lethal dangers of the third rail. In addition, a flyer, dealing with the hazards of electrified rapid transit, has been prepared and about 20,000 are being distributed throughout the entire Wollaston and North Quincy areas.

"Safe travel is the objective of both the MBTA and the City of Quincy, but it is incumbent upon you, the individual, to insure the unqualified success of rapid transit safety," Kelly and Mayor McIntyre said.

The flyers are being distributed through the Wollaston Business and Professional Association headed by Dan Barry and the North Quincy Board of Trade, of which Gino Marini is president.

Smyth Pushes For Quincy-Milton Ownership Of Wollaston Golf Course

Ward 6 Councillor J. Vincent Smyth today is requesting a meeting with the Milton Board of Selectmen to resume informal talks on joint ownership of Wollaston Golf Course.

In a letter to Francis F. Brooks, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Smyth said that members of the Quincy Park Board, the Conservation Commission and Montclair citizens are desirous of meeting with board members to present a "workable proposal to both communities" for joint ownership.

"The new Quincy Zoning Ordinance has retained the golf course property as residential A," Smyth pointed out.

"Over six months ago, I introduced a proposal in the City Council for the town of Milton and the City of Quincy to jointly purchase the Wollaston Golf Course property by floating a municipal bond issue and operate it similar to Ponkapog, which is situated in the town of Canton.

"This joint venture would enable the residents of Milton and Quincy to continue enjoying the facilities of a golf course, future planning of winter recreational activities and preservation of open space.

"A section of the property could be set aside for multi-recreational activities which could qualify for federal funding," Smyth suggests.

The Quincy Park Board and Conservation Commission have endorsed Smyth's proposal for joint ownership, Smyth said.

He calls the purchase by the two municipalities as "not only a sound investment, but also one of lasting appreciation by citizens of all ages now and in the future."

Today, "Postal Service Day" is being observed at Open House in Quincy, Wollaston and North Quincy Post Offices.

At Wollaston, Supt. Paul Fanning announces a special treat for youngsters. At 9 a.m. Johnnie Sisson, the clown, will entertain. Also, lollipops and candy with refreshments for older residents, will be distributed.

Special programs and refreshments are being planned for each of the three branches.

South Shore area girls, single and between the ages of 16 and 25, are eligible to enter the beauty contest and vie for hundreds of dollars in prizes and the honor of reigning over Quincy Bay Race Week Aug. 7-11.

The winner crowned by last year's queen, Virginia Pitchett of Quincy, during an evening pageant July 15 in downtown Quincy.

Charles Wood, owner of South Shore Beauty Supply, Inc., and Henry Bosworth, editor of the Quincy Sun, are co-chairmen for the Miss Quincy Bay Race Week contest.

Applications for entering the contest may be obtained now at the Quincy-South Shore Chamber of Commerce, 36 Miller Stile Rd.

A photo in swim suit pose should be enclosed with the application.

The applications are also available at:

South Shore Beauty Supply, Inc., 1612 Hancock St.; Quincy Sun, 1601 Hancock St.; South Shore Television & Appliance, 1570 Hancock St.; Marvel Beauty Shop, 5 Cottage Ave.; The Patriot Ledger, 13 Temple St. and at all Massachusetts Bay Yacht Clubs.

Deadline for submitting applications is July 10.

Historical Society's Annual Tea At Adams Birthplaces July 11

The Quincy Historical Society's annual tea and open house at the Adams Birthplaces will be held, rain or shine, Sunday July 11, from 3 to 5 p.m.

In addition to members and friends of the Society, special invitations have been sent to the presidents of other historical societies of the South Shore, and to members of the city government.

The latter is in recognition of the fact that the opening of the Houses to the public has been a joint enterprise between the City of Quincy and the Historical Society for more than 30 years. The traditional event falls this year on the birth date of John Quincy Adams.

As usual, the ladies on the Society's Board of Curators, and the wives of the men on the Board, will be the hostesses for the tea.

Miss Vera Call is Chairman for the event.

GLAUCOMA BLINDNESS PREVENTABLE

Most Americans believe that you don't need any eye examination until you have eye trouble. If fewer people thought that, fewer people would go blind. Most specialists are convinced that every adult should have an eye exam at least once every two years - yearly if there's a family history of vision problems.

For every person over 35, each checkup should include a tonometer test. This five minute procedure, involving no pain, can detect early stages of glaucoma, a disease that afflicts nearly a million Americans who are unaware that they have it. [4,000 a year are blinded by it]

In untreated glaucoma, liquid pressure builds up within the eyeball until it crushes nerve fibers and small blood vessels that feed the retina and optic nerve. If detected in time, eye drops or surgery can prevent damage to the nerves. But there is no making up for delay; vision lost to glaucoma is vision lost forever.

Money is meaningless without good health. So, even if you're a sick millionaire, have your chauffeur drive you to NABORHOOD REXALL PHARMACY, 406 Hancock St., No. Quincy or call PR 3-6426 for fast, prescription service. Poet's Corner

Why?

Why do people pollute the air,
And throw litter around
Don't they care?

Where is the world as it was born,
Where is the bright and sparkly morn?

The world is being polluted mile by mile,
Pretty soon people won't smile.

People will die and plants will too,
Don't the people give a hoot?

Garbage and dirt all around,
In this world anything can be found.

People are the polluters all around
So pretty soon people will be bound

Bound to pick up the papers all around
Bound to open their eyes and see the mess on the ground.

Some people don't care and some people do
So let that someone who does be you.

Pick up the garbage all around
Pick up the mess on the ground.

How Often

How often I've thought while walking the street,
Of you and I and a love so complete.

With your hand in mine, together we'd roam,
Drifting through life, to be never alone.

And how often I've wished to have you as mine,
Placed in a pattern of my own design.

To have you need me, the one you require,
To hear you say, it's me you desire.

Or how often I've seen us both in my mind,
Yet lost on a road, I wish would unwind.

The road is life and will never unfurl.
But could be made easy with you as my girl.

Yes, how often I've said, with you by my side,
I'd never lose pace, just quicken the stride.

A girl I could have forever to hold,
Wishful thinking for such dreams to unfold.

Yet how often in life things sometimes change,
When things appear set at times rearrange.

And so with some luck, they may change again,
When you'll think me more than merely a friend.

It's Fried Chicken For A Fun Fourth

HOLIDAY TIME IS CHICKEN TIME... Picnic Fried Chicken celebrates the Fourth of July in splendid fashion. Serve with crisp greens, follow with succulent watermelon slices, and you have the best possible festive fare.

Summer just isn't summer without fried chicken picnics filled with fun. Since the Fourth of July is traditional family picnic time, gather your group together, toss in balls and frisbees, pack the chicken dinner and head for the sun.

Here's how to make the best fried chicken you ever tasted. The National Broiler Council reminds you that chicken is high in protein so your picnic meal will be nourishing as well as delectable. Refrigerate the cooked chicken well before leaving for the picnic site. Tote it wrapped in foil or in plastic containers. If you have a long drive ahead and the day is hot, carry the chicken in an insulated bag packed with ice.

Best-Ever Picnic Fried Chicken

2 broiler-fryer chickens, cut in serving pieces	2 teaspoons paprika
1 1/4 cups all-purpose flour	1 egg
2 teaspoons Ac'cent	1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt	2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons dried leaf thyme	Vegetable oil or shortening

Wash chicken; do not dry. Combine flour, Ac'cent, salt, thyme and paprika in pie plate. Beat egg in another pie plate; add milk and lemon juice and mix well. Roll chicken pieces in seasoned flour, dip in egg mixture, and then roll again in seasoned flour. Let chicken stand at least 30 minutes for the coating to dry; roll in flour again if coating is moist. Have fat 1/4 inch deep in 1 very large or 2 medium skillets. Heat fat (if thermometer is used, heat to 375° F. for oil or 365° for shortening). Add chicken pieces, skin side down. Cook until golden brown on one side, about 10 minutes. Turn and brown other side, 5 to 10 minutes. Reduce heat, cover skillet, and cook 25 minutes, or until done. Drain on absorbent paper. Chill immediately. Take to picnic in insulated cooler.

YIELD: 8 servings.

MADRAS-PLAID—Cool cotton pique in red, white, and navy is the choice for a shaped jacket with two-button styling. The coordinated shirt of white waffle pique can be worn inside or out over matching slacks. The ensemble's by Larry Kane for Ruffles Wear.

CAREFREE—This comfy knit cotton terry jumpsuit has no buttons or snaps for Mother to fuss with. In sunny yellow and pink stripes, the Carter's toddler fashion can be machined-washed and dried and needs no ironing.

Sun Signs By Regina Russell

Week of July 1 - 8

ARIES [Mar. 21-Apr. 19] - Travel, literary work or a change of pace will revitalize you. Spread your activities so rest can be included.

TAURUS [Apr. 20-May 20] - A mistake in judgement will cause domestic trouble and unnecessary expenses. Peace you're seeking is just beyond grasp.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - The plans you're making will have considerable effect on your future so choose wisely. Consistent effort needed next 2 years.

CANCER [June 22-July 22] - Life is happier now and future prospects look brighter. Start planning on a busier future, more to your liking.

LEO [July 23-Aug. 22] - Travel or change brings peace of mind and pleasant experiences into your life. Domestic strife is now almost forgotten.

VIRGO [Aug. 23-Sept. 22] - If your affections have strayed, look to the future and see where you are headed. Accepting responsibility increases happiness.

LIBRA [Sept. 23-Oct. 22] - People you meet now bring a lot of activity into your life but its short duration so act with discretion.

SCORPIO [Oct. 23-Nov. 21] - The path your life is taking is clearly set before you. Common sense and good judgement will help put you on right road.

SAGITTARIUS [Nov. 22-Dec. 21] - The good fortune you are experiencing puts some of that good humor you have been lacking lately back into your life.

CAPRICORN [Dec. 22-Jan. 19] - If you go along with the plans others are making you can save yourself much aggravation. You call the shots later.

AQUARIUS [Jan. 20-Feb. 18] - You'll need to practice self restraint this week to avoid quarrels. Becoming over-excited doesn't help your cause.

PISCES [Feb. 19-Mar. 20] - Your new enterprise gets off to a good start and you adapt well to fresh surroundings. Future activities look good.

It's In To Be Thin

By Lois L. Lindauer

Director, The Diet Workshop

Look, you can have a drink, it's Saturday night.

Who says? If you have finally placed yourself on the rock of a good diet, don't let anyone shake you off this pedestal by giving you permission to indulge yourself-for your birthday, for their birthday, or for any occasion.

Don't look forward to the day you reach goal, as the day you can eat whatever is proffered either. Human nature, being paradoxical in nature, will find that the very people who urge you to lose weight in the first place will be the ones who try to shake your newly, garnered willpower and self discipline in the second place.

Remember too, in the third place, that these same friends and relatives who press food and drink on you, will be the very first to make snide remarks if you look as if you have gained a few pounds!!!

If you have any questions regarding dieting or if you wish a copy of our free fish folder, please write me in care of the Quincy Sun or at 28 Merrick Avenue, Merrick, New York.

Sons Of Italy Add 157 New Members

Quincy Lodge Sons of Italy, with the initiation of 17 new members in June, has reached a total of 157 new members in 12 months.

The total is the result of an intensive membership campaign by a committee known as the "Golden Lions of Quincy", headed by James Mastrantonio, responsible himself for enrolling 57 new members.

Others in the "top ten" are John Fantucchio and Alfred Del Cupolo, with 13 new members each; Nick Fantasia with 10; Edmund Mattes, John Bersani, Dr. Joseph Matarazzo, Nick Fantasia, Jr., Rocco Buonvicino and Dom D'Arcangelo.

McCormick In Plea For Harmony Between QEA, School Committee

A plea for a return to "harmonious" relations with Quincy school teachers has been made by James F. McCormick, Sr., vice chairman of the Quincy School Committee in a public statement.

"It is an unfortunate situation when the school committee is forced to resort to the courts for the third time in a week to operate the Quincy Schools," McCormick said.

"The court finding on our summer program is a clear indication that the negotiation team has misled their membership.

"It is well to be remembered that at a general meeting held this month the Association membership voted not to withhold their services this summer as requested by the negotiation leadership."

"It is now my hope that this will conclude any further court action and that we can proceed with the harmonious relationship that we have enjoyed with the teachers over the years and the school committee can put it to mind to the purpose for which it was elected -- providing quality education."

McCormick added that if the Quincy Education Association's negotiation team had succeeded in court, they would, in effect, have denied their own membership the right to voluntary work.

Health Department Survey Pamphlets Distributed

Starting this week, a group of 20 college and high school students will be distributing pamphlets throughout Quincy for the Quincy Health Department.

The pamphlets include a survey questionnaire on garbage and rubbish storage and disposal. Residents will be asked to check "Yes" or "No" answers, and space is provided for a brief description of the general condition of area surrounding rubbish containers.

Information includes regulations of the Quincy Health Department regarding rubbish and garbage disposal; on "Survival, Inc." and drug addiction; Police Chief Francis X. Finn's "Lock It Up" campaign, with a page for "Valuable Property Record" for the resident.

Teachers Turn Tables On Cafeteria Workers At Point Junior

There were some very worried student cafeteria workers at Quincy Point Junior High School the other day when after performing their regular duties for lunch they went to their next class only to be told to report back to the cafeteria.

But the worried looks and quizzical expressions dissolved in a burst of embarrassment as they arrived in the cafeteria to find out that the teachers were throwing a surprise party for them.

Each of the school's teachers had contributed $1 to buy ice cream and cake for the cafeteria workers and many volunteered their services to wait on the students and serve them the refreshments.

The student cafeteria workers include Gail Gorachy; Susan Barron; Sybil Grassi; Leona Rocuzzo; Sheryl German; Dawna Andronico; Fred White; Paul Nigro; Catherine Rowell; Dennis Connor; Diane Hall; Leo Barron; Debbie D'Olimpio; Marie Winquist; Stephen Lawlor; Mary Ann Ingegneri; Susan Pasquale; and Roberta Ferguson.

School Department With 'Lock It Up' Campaign

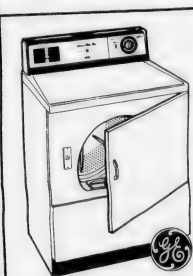

The "Lock-it-Up" campaign of the Quincy Police Department is receiving the full cooperation of the Quincy School Department, which is taking steps to be a 'good example' to the rest of the community.

School Supt. Dr. Lawrence

Creedon has ordered that all school department property of value be recorded by manufacturers serial number and etched with certain identifying marks.

This, he feels, should help curb the rise in burglaries within his department.

'GRADUATION' -- Holding their "Master of Rhymes" diplomas are four-year olds at the first graduation of the Roberts Street Child Development Center: [front] Stanley Johnson, Susan Grogan, Michael McCue, Alice Healey, Michelle Silvestro and Billy Heaney; [rear] Scott Brennan, Nancy Ruta, Mike Collins, James Van Bibber, Tricia Davenport, Cheryl Derbes. The Center is located at Trinity Lutheran Church, 65 Roberts St.

Roberts St. Child Development Center Holds First Graduation Programs

Two separate "graduation" programs were held by the first graduates of Roberts Street Child Development Center at Trinity Lutheran Church.

The three and four-year old students on consecutive days presented short programs of songs for their families and friends, received their "Master of Rhymes" diplomas, and enjoyed special refreshments.

The Roberts Street Child Development Center serves South-West Quincy with two programs. Tuesday and Thursday mornings are for three-year olds; and Monday, Wednesday and Friday for four-year olds.

The program is sponsored by Trinity Lutheran Church with Mrs. James L. Kimmell as director. It was made possible by the donation of funds from the 1970 Quincy Walk for Development and by Dr. Charles Djerf.

Adding to the enjoyment of children during their rest time is a television set donated by the DeNicola Brothers of South Shore Television & Appliance, Quincy.

A sliding fee scale based on ability to pay is used in determining the amount of tuition paid for each student.

Cooperative play, music, arts and crafts, and fun as well as pre-school learning activities are included in the program under qualified teachers.

A few openings are still available for the coming year. Applications can be received by calling 773-7287 or by writing to Trinity Lutheran Church, 65 Roberts St., Quincy.

Rights Of Man Topic At Christian Science Church

"What are the rights of man? What is the source of liberty?"

These questions will be discussed at First Church of Christ, Scientist, at 20 Greenleaf St. in services beginning at 10 a.m. "God" is the lesson-sermon.

"Discerning the rights of man, we cannot fail to foresee the doom of all oppression," is one of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Scriptural passages include: "Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty."

Atlantic Churches To Hold Union Services

The congregations of Atlantic United Methodist Church and Memorial Congregational Church will hold union services during the summer months.

Beginning July 4 through Aug. 1, worship will be at Memorial Congregational Church at 9:30 a.m. with Rev. Douglas M. MacIntosh preaching.

From Aug. 8 through Sept. 5 the 9:30 a.m. worship will be at Atlantic United Methodist Church with the Rev. Robert E. Bossdorf preaching.

Vacation School To Start July 6 At First Baptist

Community Vacation Church school will be held July 6 through July 16 at First Baptist Church of Wollaston, sponsored by Wollaston Methodist, Congregational and Baptist Churches.

Sessions for students from kindergarten through Grade 6 will be from 9:30 a.m. until noon each day.

Cost is $1 per child, with a maximum of $3 per family.

Guest Speakers In July At Union Congregational

At Union Congregational Church, Rawson Rd and Beach St., Wollaston, there will be guest speakers at the 9:30 a.m.

worship for the first three Sundays of July.

On July 4, Rev. Richard Borngen of Chelmsford will speak; on July 11, Rev. Baldwin W. Callahan of Newton; and on July 18, Rev. Lee McCleery of Wollaston.

21 CYO Units In Band Competition Here July 11

St. Ann's CYO Band Competition will take place July 11 at Quincy Memorial Stadium starting at 6 p.m.

Twenty-one CYO units will compete, including junior drill teams, junior bands, prep "A" bands, senior "B" bands and senior "A" bands.

There will be an admission fee of $1.00 with children under 12 years admitted free.

'The Time To Let Go'

As I removed the dead tree from the grounds of my Summer home in South Chatham I found three baby rabbits under the root. Princess...my Irish Setter...quickly picked up the scent and was eager to "play" with them. I retired my dog from the scene...disturbed the rabbits as little as possible and went on to finish my job. Just about sunset...I saw the mother rabbit nearby...she had returned to look over the situation. Next morning the little rabbits were playing hide-and-seek around the foliage.

There's a profound lesson here...viz...there's a time to let go. The mother rabbit knew it instinctively. She'd done her part...now her little ones must shuffle for themselves. Her interest continued...but her "mothering" was over. They didn't need her now...it was time to let go.

The role of parents is to encourage growth in children so that there is a gradual separation from their parents in a responsible manner. Wise parents recognize and enhance the process of separation. Whether we accept it or not this process is going on...from mother's womb...to breast feeding...to drinking from the cup...to toilet training...to first jobs...new friends...to going away to school...to living apart. In the process of separation...parents need to know the time to let go.

Many parents are distressed these days because son...or daughter...wants to leave home...get an apartment...and live by different standards than their parents! Many parents resist this "final" part of the separation process...enter into verbal battles...point out all the pitfalls...express doubt that they can make it on their own...threaten not to "take you back" if you leave...refuse to let him/her take his/her clothes...all of which serve to destroy the relationship...rather than recognizing this as a normal process of separation. Parental resistance is often based upon fear...fear that "we haven't done all we should have done"...fear that he/she will start using drugs...get pregnant...go hippy...or "I'll be so lonely if you leave me." So they fight against letting go.

So many parents have been using their children for companionship because they have such a poor companionable marriage themselves. Too often a father cleaves to his daughter...not his wife. A mother cleaves to her son...not to her husband. Such unfortunate parents have been possessing their child...using their child. While the child in younger years may have been the only thing which has kept this couple together...now that the child is grown...and wants to move out on his/her own some parents feel severely threatened. They can't seem to accept the fact that it's time to let go.

Since this process of separation seems to be a law of nature...whether little rabbits or our children...to thwart this process can only lead to disaster...strained relationships...dependency...resentment. Such an unhealthy relationship could continue child with parent until death unmercifully separates them.

Three suggestions for preventing the thwarting of the normal process of separation. First...Let father and mother draw closely together as husband and wife. Get rid of any old resentments...rediscover each other...recapture some of your earlier romance.

Secondly...praise yourself that you've done a good job raising your children. Recognize that to hold on beyond the time to let go shows lack of faith in what you've done...let go.

Thirdly...Encourage your children in the separation process. Help them to stand on their own feet...meet decisions...to be responsible...don't fight them. Let go.

The process of separation...whether little rabbits or children...is a law of nature. Best not resist the time to let go.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Six Bands, Veterans In Squantum Parade Monday

Again this year 9:30 a.m. flag-raising ceremonies on Monday and the placing of a wreath at the Daniel Gilbert Memorial by members of the Robert I. Nickerson Legion Post will open the Independence Day observances in Squantum.

Wreaths will be placed also at the Squantum Circle, Nickerson Beach and the World War I stone on Bellevue Rd. and at the John Wendall Moses playground, where Post members will distribute flags to those taking part in the annual July 4th parade.

The parade is scheduled to form shortly after 9:30 a.m. on Huckins Ave. and East Squantum St. where there will be a pre-judging of entries in the competitions. A second judging is scheduled as the parade passes in review on Bellevue Rd. and final decisions will be announced at the playground.

Mrs. Helen Lougham Clark, who in 1909 helped organize and marched in the community's first parade, will lead the 1971 parade.

Six bands providing march music will be the Senior and Junior Bands from St. Peter's in Dorchester; Milton American Legion Post Band, which will also take part in the earlier ceremonies; the Senior and Junior Golden Rays of Stoughton, Sir Thomas More Squires of Braintree, and the George F. Bryan VFW Band.

"Georgianna" will again have a prominent place in the parade, in which there will be at least six of the large trailer-type float entries, along with automobiles, costumed "horribles", and group contestants.

For the first time in Squantum, a 30-man honor guard military unit of volunteers from Fort Devens sponsored by the American Heritage Association will march in the parade.

Jeanne Thompson, recipient of the Nickerson Post's second annual scholarship, will ride in an open car.

Robert Connolly is general chairman for July 4th activities, assisted by Ross Crane; Janet Hickey, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Sheridan, secretary; Don Pound and Chandler Garland, in charge of street collections; and Alice Tobin, posters.

'Old Fashioned' Activities At North Quincy Saturday

Saturday is this year's "day to remember" at Welcome Young Playground as North Quincy Associates embark on their second annual "revival" of old-fashioned July 4th activities.

A "horribles" parade is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., led by the Morrisette Legion Post Band. There will also be doll carriage and bicycle parades, with prizes.

During the day ice cream and tonic will be distributed, there will be rides, foot races, softball throwing contests, a pie-eating contest, a talent show, a demonstration by the Quincy Police K-9 Corps, and the Dutch Erickson Marathon, named for the originator of North Quincy's July 4th celebration.

This past weekend a benefit softball game between the North Quincy Associates "girls" vs. Sweeney's Sagamores helped raise funds for July 4th activities. The girls, aided by "Harriet" Messina as pitcher, had a 5-3 victory over the men.

Among those taking part were Dan O'Leary, Bud Chase, Bob McKinnon, Harold Chase, Ronnie Stevens, Ann Egan, Audrey Hayes, Barbara Kelly and Mary Kelly.

Working on the July 4th program are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reinhart, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Mattson, Councillors Walter Hannon and J. Vincent Smyth, assisted by volunteers.

Two Days Of Ward 2 Holiday Activities

A two-day program of July 4th events has been announced by Keith McElman, president of the Ward 2 Civic Association.

A band concert Sunday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Fore River Field on Nevada Road will be presented by the 215th Army Band. The public is invited to attend.

Monday, July 5, field day events for Ward 2 residents of all ages will start at 10 a.m. Dashes, sackraces, two-legged races, are among contests planned.

At 1 p.m. the doll carriage, horrors and bicycle parade will take place.

Free tonic and ice cream will be provided for children.

Mrs. Phyllis Bagen is program chairman.

Carriage, Bicycle Parades Baker Beach Highlights

On Monday, July 5, the Baker Improvement Association will hold its 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. holiday program for area families.

The morning's annual horrible's, decorated doll carriage and bicycle parade will form at Grace Rd. and Palmer St., march to the Donald Moberg home at Northfield Ave. for a flag-raising ceremony, then proceed to Baker Beach.

Prizes will be awarded, there will be games and contests including a pie-eating contest, and refreshments.

Bernard J. MacAuley, president of Baker Beach Association, is general chairman, assisted by Fred Galanaro, John Cascarano, Kathy O'Rourke, Alfred Peterson and Bruno Lotti.

Adams Heights Men's Club Children's Outing Sunday

The Adams Heights Men's Club will hold its annual all-day outing for children of South Quincy July 4 at Faxon Park starting at 11:30 a.m.

There will be games, races and contests with prizes for all, and refreshments will be provided for all children attending.

Parents are invited to attend, bringing their own picnic lunches and refreshments.

Bob Foy and Ted McClelland are co-chairmen for the day's program.

Holiday Calendar

'Miss Merrymount' Pageant, Band Concert Saturday

A "Miss Merrymount" beauty pageant Saturday at 7 p.m. at Merrymount Beach opens the 48th annual 4th of July Celebration of the Merrymount Association, under Paul Hussey, general chairman.

James Mulcahy is chairman of the pageant. Judges include Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Feeney of Squantum, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Webb of Wollaston, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Donnell of Braintree, along with Miss Sandra DelDotto, last year's "Miss Merrymount", who will crown the 1971 winner.

Following the pageant, there will be a band concert by The South Shore Concert Band, featuring a selection of popular music. The band is sponsored by MDC Commissioner John Sears.

At 9 p.m. there will be Rock Music by Merrymount's own group, Mark Flynn, Dave Flynn and Bob Mafera.

Sunday, July 4, Junior Olympics with John Molloy, chairman, will begin at 9 a.m. at Merrymount Beach. Dashes, buddy races, wheelbarrow races and a pie-eating contest are scheduled.

Water sports under Bernard Coleman, chairman, are scheduled at 10:30 a.m. to take advantage of the tide, instead of the afternoon hour originally set. There will be contests for boys and girls under 10 years through age 16.

Bugle Call for parade assembly at Merrymount School will sound at 12:30 p.m., with the parade to start at 1 p.m. headed by marshal James Mulcahy.

The route will be from Merrymount School to Agawam Rd. to Narragansett Rd., Chickatabot Rd, Norton Rd, Algonquin Rd, Sea St., Samoset Ave., Longwood Rd, Moreland

Rd, Waban Rd, Maypole Rd, Squanto Rd, Victoria Rd, ending at Merrymount Beach.

Parade judges include Mrs. Maureen Roche, Mrs. Sally McCole, Mrs. Mary Bennett, Louis Rizzo, Dan McCluskey and Bernard Coleman.

Added to the original parade roster are the St. Thomas More Drum and Bugle Corps Juniors, a Civilian Defense Unit and Quincy Auxiliary Police unit.

Joseph Garrity will be chairman for flag-raising ceremonies following the parade. Clergy of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church will give the invocation. Greetings will be by Arthur Boyle, Merrymount Association president. City and state officials will be introduced, and parade prizes awarded.

Assisting Mr. Hussey with July 4th plans are Mr. Boyle, president of the Merrymount Association; Robert Clarke, vice president; Marge Gibbons, treasurer; Marilyn Flynn, secretary; James Sullivan, Joseph Cuniff, John Connelly, Bernard Coleman, Simon Tutunjian and Stephan Needel, directors.

A holiday program, open to all Germantown residents, will begin with a full day of events on Saturday, continue on Sunday, with tentative plans for Monday.

At Snug Harbor School on Saturday at 9 a.m. there will be races for youngsters, and the annual teenage boys' marathon.

This will be followed at 11 a.m. by a "Mothers' Marathon", with free tonic and ice cream distributed at 12 noon to all the children.

At 3 p.m. the Quincy Police K-9 Corps will present a demonstration, which will be followed at 4 p.m. by a gas airplane demonstration.

In the evening from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the open area at the front of the Germantown Multi-Service Center, there will be a concert by "The Techniques".

Sunday at 1:30 p.m. youngsters will assemble at St. Boniface Church parking lot for the annual doll carriage, bicycle and horribles' parade.

The popular "beauty contest" for men will be held at 2:30 p.m.

Again that evening at the Germantown Multi-Service Center area there will be music starting at 8 p.m. by the "Mocking Birds" from Bridgewater, a Country-Western group.

Monday's program is still tentative.

Frank Pace, president of the Germantown Community Council, is general chairman of events. Assisting are Mrs. Pace, Janice Snyder, Bruce Duffy, Walter Shermahorn and Charles Higgins, along with volunteers.

Funds for the program were made through collections by Germantown youngsters.

Mayor Proclaims July 4th 'Honor America Day' Here

Fourth of July, 1971, marks the 195th anniversary of the nation's first "Independence Day", and by proclamation, Mayor James R. McIntyre has proclaimed it "Honor America Day" in Quincy.

This year "our nation is faced with its greatest challenge; a burgeoning population, restless youth impatient for greater civil rights, and the sapping of our country's moral strength through increased crime, drug abuse and poverty," Mayor McIntyre notes.

"Honor America Day" is being declared throughout the country "to encourage an expression of appreciation for the blessings and greatness of our country," McIntyre said, and calls upon all to recognize the day through appropriate programs.

Band Concert, 'Miss Teenage' Houghs Neck Highlights Monday

On Monday at 11:55 a.m. flag-raising ceremonies at LaBrecque Field by the Houghs Neck Legion Post will open the Independence Day festivities sponsored annually by the Houghs Neck Community Council.

Commander Ernest Fitzgibbon will have charge of Post ceremonies, which will be followed by a father-son softball game under the direction of Jack Powers. Sons 12 to 16 years and fathers of any age may take part.

A decorated doll carriage parade is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.; horribles parade at 2 p.m. and bicycle parade at 2:30 p.m.

Prizes will be awarded in each group.

Races for boys and girls will take place at 3:30 p.m. with Leo Kelly in charge.

A band concert is scheduled for 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., when there will be a presentation of 1971 Houghs Neck Community Council scholarship awards by Robert F. Denvir, president.

The "Miss Teenage Houghs Neck" contest for girls 13 to 17 years will take place at 6 p.m. Prizes will be awarded for best "hair-do", best sports outfit and best casual outfit. To be eligible, all applicants must register by noon on Saturday at Pages Pharmacy or with any officer of the Houghs Neck Community Council.

Free ice cream for children will be distributed during the afternoon, and at intervals, there will be free rides on the Houghs Neck Legion Post's fire engine. Refreshments will be available, and there will be booths manned by the Grenham Youth Center.

Denvir is general chairman for the events, assisted by members of the executive board including Gerard Keefe, David Finlay, Frederick Kussman, Mrs. Shirley Jacques, Mrs. Denvir and Jack Nigro, in charge of preparations.

Elks Treat Disabled Veterans To Fishing Trip

Forty-five fish, mostly cod and pollack, were landed by 15 disabled veterans from Jamaica Plain Veterans Administration Hospital in the 14th annual fishing trip sponsored by Quincy Lodge of Elks.

The group aboard the fishing boat "Irene", captained by Richard Sutherland, included three hospital personnel: Ted Collagan, chairman, and Paul Bartoloni of the Elks' V.A. Hospital committee.

The boat left Hingham shipyard at 9 a.m. for the six-hour outing which included box lunches and cold drinks provided by the Elks.

Horribles Parade Sunday At Germantown Shores

The Germantown Shores Improvement Association opens its annual July 4th observance Sunday at 9:30 p.m. with a parade.

The traditional "horribles" parade this year will include a competition for decorated bicycles. It will form at the Robert Slowe home at 49 Bicknell St. and proceed to lower Germantown Beach off Prescott Terrace where parade prizes will be awarded.

Contests and races will be held at the beach with prizes for each child. There will be the usual family cookout with the program scheduled to close about 2 p.m.

Officers of the association planning the event are David Lavender, president, general chairman; James Cosgrove, vice president; Donald Sargent, treasurer; and Rudolph Schneider, secretary; assisted by Mrs. Lavender, Mrs. Lawrence Petrilli, Jr., and Louis Penzo.

Gull Point Yacht Club Costume Parade Sunday

The Gull Point Yacht Club's July 4th festivities will open Sunday at 4 p.m. with a costume parade led by Commodore Alice Callahan, head of the area's only all-woman Yacht Club officers' group.

The parade on Hodgkinson, Shed and Howe Sts. will be followed by a flag salute at the home of William Rodgers at 48 Howe St.

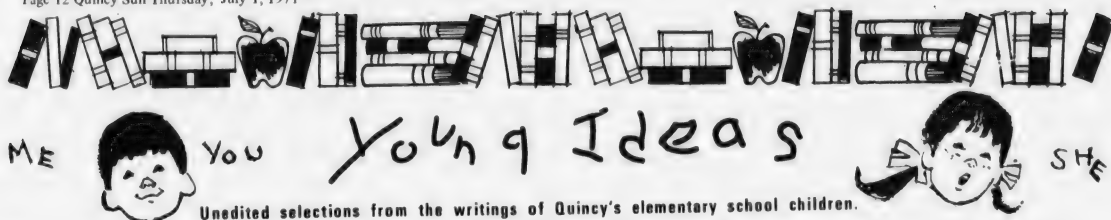

Most original, and most patriotic costumes, best group and best decorated bicycles will be judged and prizes awarded at the beach. Games and refreshments will follow.

Anthony Monteiro is chairman of the day's events.

An Orange

Here is an orange that looks good to eat
Maybe it's sour or maybe it's sweet

How would you find out?
Just take one big bite
Sweet or sour it's one big delight

But taste would make up for the bite that you took

I just took a bite and it's very sweet

You were right, it was good to eat.

Cecil And The Little Girl

Once upon a time, there was a little girl and her name was Katie. One day she asked her Mother if she could go to the beach. Her Mother said, "Stay near the stairs."

So Katie went down to the beach and she was digging in the sand. All of a sudden everyone started to go home and she said to herself, "Why is everyone going home?"

So she kept digging. There was a sea serpent but she was too busy digging in the sand that she didn't see it.

Then Katie saw it and he said, "Aren't you going to run away?"

"Why should I run away?" asked Katie.

"Aren't you afraid?" asked the serpent.

"No I'm not afraid."

"My name is Cecil the Serpent. What is your name?"

"My name is Katie."

Cecil said, "Can you come in the water?"

"No," said Katie, "I can only go in the water when my mother is here. Well I better go home now because it is getting dark now. Good-by!"

Katie told her mother all about Cecil. The next day she asked her Mother if she could go again to the beach to dig.

"Well, I guess so. But stay near the stairs, O.K.?" said Katie's mother.

Katie went to the beach the next day and the next day and the next day. Then it was raining out and she said, "Can I go to the beach?"

Her mother said, "But it is raining."

So the next day, Katie was getting ready to go to the beach and someone was knocking. So Katie's mother answered the door and there was no one there.

While Katie was putting on her bathing suit Cecil looked in her window. He said, "Why didn't you come to the beach?"

Katie said, "It was raining." Cecil said, "I was looking for you."

Katie's mother called her. And Katie said, "I will be there in a minute." Then to Cecil she said, "I will meet you at the beach."

"O.K." said Cecil. "I will be at the beach."

Katie went down the stairs. Her Mother said, "Do you want hard-boiled eggs?"

"Yes, Mother," said Katie.

She started to gather all the blankets and they left. Katie got a ride on him and there was one hard-boiled egg left. Katie didn't want it so Cecil had it. They had lots of fun. They went every day. They became good friends all of the summer.

Boston Gas Begins Third Summer Of Harbor Cruises For Children

To the command "Shove Off!" and the din only children can make, Boston Gas has begun its third summer of Boston Harbor cruises.

Some 200 children from Greater Boston were guests of honor during a one and one-half hour cruise of the harbor Tuesday.

Since beginning the summer cruises in 1969, Boston Gas has hosted over 8,000 youngsters from throughout the 32 cities and towns the company serves.

On Tuesday's cruise, children from the Shriners' Burns Institute, the Boston Fire Department's Junior Fire Marshall Program, APCROSS [Association Promoting the Constitutional Rights of the Spanish Speaking], the Mount Bowdoin YM-YWCA and Cub Scout Pack 384 from Watertown discovered the other face of Boston Harbor.

This annual event has been possible through the cooperation of Boston Gas and Massachusetts Bay Lines, Inc. As in the past two years, Dunkin' Donuts and White Milk Co., Inc. helped make the day something special for the children with free doughnuts and half-pints of milk. In addition to the refreshments, the youngsters received souvenirs from Boston Gas.

Through its community relations representatives, Boston Gas offers the harbor cruises to non-profit youth organizations throughout its franchise area. This year the program has been expanded to include cruises for teenage groups on Monday evenings. During the 10-week period beginning June 28, a total of 20 cruises are available for the youngsters each Tuesday and Thursday and 10 Monday evening cruises for teenagers.

Commenting on the cruises, Boston Gas President C. F. Machen, said, "The continuation and expansion of our summer cruise program reflects our concern for the young of our communities. While Boston Gas and those joining us in this venture realize the limitations of our efforts, we hope the proven success of this program will spur other members of the business community to positive action in their community."

On Thursday, July 1, Boston Gas will host children from the Greater Boston Boy Scouts and the Cardinal Cushing Spanish Speaking Center in Boston's South End.

YMCA Sailing To Begin 20th Year

Making seamanship "a breeze" is the aim of the 20-year old Sailing Program of the Quincy YMCA at Mason's Point.

The program for boys and girls 11 to 14 years includes swimming, sailing, racing, knot tying, water skiing, rowing and canoeing.

While enrollment is limited, openings are still available and additional information may be obtained by calling the YMC A at 479-8500.

Finn Thanks Survival For Aid

Police Chief Francis X. Finn today thanked participants in the Survival, Inc. program "for the cooperation you have shown in making 'Lock-it Up Week' a success."

The participants, Buddy Saunders, 19, and Judy Tomlinson, 21, both from Quincy, and Betzi Withington, 19 of Milton, helped the police department collate the five-page brochure which will be distributed to all Quincy homeowners.

Over 25,000 brochures will be sent out to explain to Quincy residents how to protect their property from robberies.

"The young people involved in the Survival, Inc. program valued the opportunity to rap informally with the police headquarters staff as they worked together," said a Survival spokesman.

Red Sox Tryouts Here July 16

The Red Sox began their annual series of tryouts throughout the New England area Tuesday at Cleveland Circle in Boston and will visit Adams Field in Quincy on July 16.

Following the nine tryouts, co-sponsored by the Boston Record American-Sunday Advertiser, those selected will compete in a doubleheader at Fenway Park July 29. The best in these two games will be picked for the tourney finals at Fenway on Monday, Aug. 2.

Conducting the series of tryouts and managing the all-star teams will be Quincy's Sam Mele, Jack Burns, Sox scout and former star of the old Fore River teams in Quincy; Scout Tommy MacDonald of Quincy and Scouts Frank Malzone, the program director, and Pete Cerrone.

Sox owner Tom Yawkey again heads the board of judges who will determine the most valuable player and winner of the Harry Agganis Trophy. Other judges will include Ed Kenney, minor league director and Neil Mahoney, director of scouting.

Boys must be between the ages of 16 and 18 and appear at the park in full uniform.

Peter's Paces South

Bocce Club Upsets Dee Dee's In Softball

The Quincy Softball League saw another upset at the Bocce Club turned giant-killer at Rotary-1 and slew Dee Dee's 5-3, upping their record to 2-10.

Bocce Club pitcher Bob Hermanson and shortstop Paul Mattes turned in stellar performances, with teammates backing up their efforts with flawless fielding and timely hitting.

Steve's Place now has a two game lead over Wells Grille and Dee Dee's, as Steve's downed Mr. Kelly's 9-4. Coach Bob Beniers knocked in what proved to be the winning runs with a line shot double to center field, and pitcher Bob Campbell got his eighth win against three defeats.

Wells Grille, led by former Quincy High School and Kansas City minor league pitcher Dick Taylor, Capt. Gus Andrews and Steve Verens, jumped into a second place tie in the North Division by lashing Beau's Place 7-3. Wells Grille now has the league's longest win streak with eight in a row, after their opening five straight losses.

The complete reversal of form had many guessing as to the validity of Beau's Place as a top flight power, but their solid thumping of Beau's Place has satisfied all skeptics. As Dee Dee's second baseman Johnny Player summed it up, "Wells is for real."

The South Division still has Peter's showing the way with an impressive 10-1 record. Right behind them is A & T Movers 10-2, and the Hofbrau 10-3. The Hofbrau has now reeled off seven straight victories after a disappointing 3-3 start. Captain and shortstop George Berard, pitcher Dave Tarbox and center fielder Gerry Pratt have been the main stays of this fast, fine fielding club.

Coach Al Saraddua's Alumni team took nearly two hours to turn the tables on the Bocce Club in a hard fought 12-11 victory at Welcome Young field, to go over .500 percentage with a 7-6 record.

Peter's, the South Division pacesetter, has perhaps the league's best all around club - few errors, a good fielding and hitting team, and a strong arm outfield - not to mention three-time All-Star pitcher Charlie Young. Captained by Terry Cullen, their only loss is to coach Brian Mahoney's A & T Movers, second place team 12-11 in 9 innings.

Last year's South Division champs, Beau's Place, has moved quickly up the ladder after an 0-2 start in is now tied with the Jolly Roger for fourth place [8-4]. Coach John Mariani's team features Tom Colclough in center, Bob Carroll in right, Richie Bryan at first and pitchers John Moran and Paul MacKinnon.

The Jolly Roger has one of the league's finest pitchers in ex-fast ball pitcher Tom Morrell, and a good fielding team.

The halfway point of the season is close at hand. As League play has improved, the games have become close with lower scoring games and upsets more common than expected.

Sparrows Still Fly High

Sparrows continue to fly high in the Lady Birds Bowling League with Captain Marian Keefe leading the girls to a 35-13 record. The Hawks follow with 34 wins and 14 losses.

Gail Dillon holds top spot with a 99.3 average, and also took the night high three of 325. Ann Ranieri had the evening's high game of 137.

Others of the top 10 bowlers are Dru Loud, Marlene Briggette, Vicki Chapin, Claire Mitchell, Joan Ranieri, Rose Cunningham, Jean Urbanus, Marian Keefe and Judy Kressler.

The League bowls Tuesday nights at Merrymount Daylight Alleys.

Spotlight On Junior High Sports

Sterling Track Team Members In Sparkling Performances

Although the Sterling Junior High track squad hasn't been having its best season, Coach John Hayes is pleased with the performances of several of his boys and feels his club will improve.

"We haven't been too successful, but have had some fine individual performances and I think we will make a good showing in the city-wide meet," Hayes said. "Sterling always sends some fine trackmen and baseball players to the high school and several of my boys will help the high school squad, I am sure."

Ninth graders are:

Jim Padula, John Ahola, Bob Pettiti, Dan McDermott, Gary Hawes, Kimel Derbes, Pete Ramponi, Paul Riggs, Walter Steinkraus, Bob Costello and Guy Volpe.

Eighth grade members are:

Tim Brown, Ed Coletta, Dave Buccini and Gerard Durante.

Seventh graders are:

Jimmy Coletta, Paul

Ramponi, Gary Prezioso, Peter Higgins, Bob Hanlon, Joe Harris, Bob Salvatore, Mike Sullivan, Roger McCarthy, Rich McGuigan, Nick Cyr and Don Paluzzi.

Hayes hailed the performances of Riggs, Ramponi, Steinkraus and Hawes. "All have been good consistent performers for three years and I know they will help out the high school squad in the next few years," Hayes concluded.

Six Quincy High Players In Agganis All-Star Game Aug. 7

Six members of Quincy's undefeated 1970 Greater Boston League and Eastern Mass. Class A championship football squad will play for the South squad in the annual Harry Agganis all-star game at Lynn's Manning Bowl Aug. 7.

Quincy Coach Hank Conroy, one of the south coaches, announced that the Presidents' John Provost, Wayne Richards, Steve Sullivan, Bob Sylva, Rich Menchi and Billy Maver, and North Quincy's Jimmy Saradda, will be among the 28-player squad which will face the North Shore All-Stars.

There will be three players from Braintree in addition to Rick Barnard of Scituate and Gary Little of Hanover on the South squad.

Conroy, who will be joined by Braintree's Ed Beck, Brockton's Armond Colombo and South Boston's Carman Scarpa as coaches, announced that practice sessions will be held at Quincy Vo-Tech Field each evening from 6 to 8 o'clock except Saturday and Sunday beginning on July 28.

Proceeds from the annual game are used for the Harry Agganis Scholarship Fund.

Quincy Girls Track Club Competes In Meet Tonight

The Quincy Track Club, made up of girls between the ages of nine and 19, will compete in a meet tonight [Thursday] at White Stadium.

Representing the Quincy club in the meet will be Judy Foley in the high jump and long jump, Kathy Ilacqua, 100 and 220-yard dashes; Kathy Bennett, 220 and long jump; Linda Robinson, 440 and shot put; Jill Seamens, 220 and mile; Maria Ciano, 220 and mile.

Miss Foley last week qualified for the Region 1 AAU Junior Olympics to be held July 17 in Buffalo. She qualified by placing second in the intermediate high jump in the New England Junior Olympics at Natick. All first and second place finishers in that meet qualified for the nationals.

Miss Robinson took third in the intermediate shot put and third in the high jump.

Miss Ilacqua was fourth in the senior 100 and 80-yard hurdles and fifth in the shot put.

The Quincy Track Club records are held by Miss Ilacqua in the 50-yard dash, eight seconds; 80-yard hurdles, 13 seconds, and 100-yard dash, 12.7 seconds; Miss Bennett, 220, 29.9 seconds, and long jump, 14 feet, three inches; Miss Foley, high jump, four feet, six inches, and Miss Robinson, shot put, 28 feet, six inches.

The QTC is still looking for members from the South Shore area. Any girl interested in joining should contact Peter Gallagher, 74 D Street, Hull, telephone 925-1807. It is hoped to have several meets this summer.

Furnace Brook Tourney Winners Listed

Furnace Brook Golf Club Women's Tuesday Tournament winners in a "best six out of nine" holes were won by Mrs. Joseph DiFederico and Mrs. John Eramo, tied for 28.

Mrs. Richard Hoag had second gross; Mrs. George

The Mixed Scotch Foursome winners were Mrs. DiFederico and Matt Smith, low net; Bill Mayer and Mrs. Hodges, second net; in a three-way tie, Mrs. Richard Harrison and Charles Kusser, Mrs. Robert Roche and Quentin McCaffrey, Mrs. Anthony Spinello and Bob Roche.

Tied for fourth net were Mrs. Patrick Baillie and Joseph DiFederico and Mrs. John Pagnano and Vin Sullivan.

Mother Nature Gets Assist

Morrisette Rolls Merrily Along In Zone 6

The Morrisette Legion baseball team, with a big assist from Mother Nature, keeps on rolling merrily along in Zone 6 and took a 7-0 record into last night's big game with Brantree at Adams Field.

Brantree was in second place with a 5-1 mark, losing only to Morrisette at Brantree.

Ray Cattaneo's league leaders will play at Milton Friday and next Wednesday will be home to Weymouth at Adams Field.

Morrisette won its seventh in a row last Friday with a 5-1 win at Stoughton as southpaw Jimmy Walker pitched his third straight victory with a five hitter, striking out nine and walking only two.

Stoughton took a 1-0 lead in the second but that was all Walker gave up. Meanwhile, his mates tied it in the third, scored the winning run in the fifth, added a run in the sixth and scored twice in the seventh.

Tom Burke had a big night with a home run and two singles, Pete Lucier drove in the last two runs with a two-run homer and Dave Nelson had two singles.

Earlier in the week Morrisette edged Quincy, 2-1, but was saved by darkness.

Quincy had scored three runs in the seventh for a 4-2 lead and had the bases loaded with one out only to have the game called because of darkness. The score reverted back to the sixth and Morrisette had its sixth win in a row.

"It was a tough way to lose a game," admitted Cattaneo, "but this is something that happens every once in a while in twilight ball. We were fortunate but Mike Marvelle had pitched excellent ball until that seventh."

Morrisette scored its only two runs off Bill Deshler, who lost a five-hitter, in the second inning on a hit by Lucier, a walk to Kevin Ryan and singles by Jim Driscoll and Bob Malvesti. Marvelle gave up the only run that counted in the fourth. He was credited with a three-hitter, struck out five but eight walks kept him in constant trouble.

Dave Murphy Shines

Quincy Whitewashes Weymouth, 5-0

The Quincy Legion baseball team made a fine comeback Monday after two heartbreaking defeats to blank Weymouth, 5-0, and avenge an opening day 10-0 walloping.

Going into last night game at Stoughton Quincy had a 4-3 record and was in third place in Zone 6. Tuesday Doug Fleming's team plays at Brantree and Wednesday will be at Randolph.

Dave Murphy, starting his first game since opening day when he was injured, was superb against Weymouth.

Not only did he handcuff the Weymouth batters but he also drove in two runs himself.

Last Friday Quincy, probably suffering a letdown after its heart-breaking loss to Morrisette when darkness robbed it of at least three seventh inning runs and an apparent win, was nipped by Brantree, 3-2.
